WITH PRAYER AND SONG WATCHED OLD YEAR GO

Impressive Watch Meeting Held in Trinity Reformed Church Monday Night.

BY ENDEAVOR SOCIETY.

OTHER LOCAL ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES PARTICIPATED ON INVITATION.

Rev. J. W. Richardson in Charge—Short Addresses by Other Pastors—Impressive Service When the Hour of Midnight Finally Arrived.

The Twentieth Century was ushered in at Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning in a most impressive and happy manner. The watch-night service was arranged by the Endeavor Society of the church and every society in the local union was invited to be present and join in seeing the old year out and the new one in. There was a generous response and by 11 o'clock the Sunday-school room was filled with earnest worshippers. A large and handsome American flag draped the pulpit and made an appropriate decoration. Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the Park avenue Baptist church, conducted the service, Horace J. Martin lead the singing, which was a strong feature of the service. There was a song service to open the meeting. This was followed by appropriate Scripture reading by Mr. Richardson, after which there were a number of sentence prayers and testimonies, expressing gratitude to God for what He had done during the past year. This was a very impressive part of the service. A great many responded, wishing to accept the opportunity to speak for Christ before the year closed.

Another interesting part of the service then followed, when several pastors spoke on appropriate subjects. The first to speak was Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. He spoke on "Past Year's Lessons," and what Christ teaches. He said that all are reminded of the brevity of time, how swiftly it passes. He impressed all with the fact that everyone is held to account for every word and deed and these things live on and enter into everyone's character, for good or ill. He spoke of the goodness of Almighty God, and the blessings received every day that nurtures, and gives all so much to be thankful for.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the next speaker. His subject was "The Use of the Present Moment." He urged all to accept the present time and make the best of it. "Unto Him That Loveth Us," that is in the present tense, as is also the words "He Careth for Us." Mr. Herring also spoke of the constant, watchful care of God, and referred to the Apostle John's words, "Now are we the Sons of God."

Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, spoke on the "Supreme Use of the Coming Year." His thoughts were to look forward to the new year and century. All have reason to thank God for a future and that they can start anew. "Seek first the Kingdom of God," is the supreme act that should engage the attention of all. Enter the new year with the determination to give ones time supremely to God and to seek the Spirit of God. The spiritual cultivation of the soul should not be neglected, and "Forgetting those things which are behind, we should press forward to the mark of the high calling of God."

Rev. Dr. A. E. Main, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, was the next and last speaker. His subject was "Sources of Strength to Execute these Plans." His first point was enthusiasm, hopefulness and plans for large things. The second point was unity, fellowship, more usefulness in the church, society, and a burning desire to know God's word. The third point was character, a desire to be like Christ, so that souls may be won. The last point was the Holy Spirit, who has promised to clothe God's children with power for living and service for 1901.

B. W. Hand offered a fervent prayer in which he invoked God's blessings upon the church, his children and the country in general. This brought the service within a few minutes of 12 o'clock, and these minutes were spent in solemn meditation. During this season one person expressed a desire to become a Christian. While in this attitude of meditation, the new year arrived, and was ushered in with the ringing of the church bell by Harry Crawford and George Bolsterli. At the same time the worshippers sang "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." After the singing of another familiar hymn the benediction was pronounced by Pastor Schenck. Then a social time followed when everyone wished each other a Happy New Year.

METHODISTS HELD SERVICE.

THREE CHURCHES UNITED FOR A WATCH-NIGHT MEETING.

Held in Vincent Chapel Monday Night and Addressed by Different Pastors—Love Feast Ended the Meeting.

The Twentieth Century watch night service in Vincent chapel Monday night drew a large attendance and the edifice was filled to its limit. The congregation was made up principally of the members of the three Methodist churches, who united for the occasion. The services were divided into two parts. The first part was given over to brief addresses.

The services were opened about 9:30 o'clock by Rev. A. E. Main, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, who offered prayer. After singing by the congregation Rev. John McMurray, pastor of the Monroe Avenue Methodist church, made an address, in which he briefly outlined the history for the past century. He was followed by Rev. George W. Gardner, pastor of Grace M. E. church, who also referred to the future of religion and the benefits to be derived from it both in a moral as well as physical aspect.

At about 10:30 o'clock there was an intermission of ten minutes after which there was a reunion and love feast. This service was in charge of Rev. Dr. G. W. Smith, presiding elder of the district, with Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, as assistant. The services were very interesting and much enjoyed by all.

FIRE BUGS ARE AT WORK.

FIRE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS BELIEVE BARN WAS SET ON FIRE.

Manning's Brick Barn Filled With Hay Made Trouble for the Firemen—Property Insured.

About 4:30 yesterday afternoon flames were discovered issuing from the upper part of the brick barn on South avenue owned by John Johnson and occupied by W. D. Manning, the coal dealer. An alarm by telephone and later from Box 28 summoned the fire department.

Three horses and a carriage were gotten out safely by William Alexander, who broke the door open with an ax, as he was unable to procure a key. The firemen were greatly hampered by the dense smoke from the burning hay of which there were over two tons stored in the upper loft. Soon after their arrival the entire roof of the structure fell in with a great crash, just missing three men who were about to climb through the upper door. The falling of the roof made the work of subduing the flames extremely difficult, and it was nearly 7 o'clock before the firemen were able to leave the scene.

This is the second time the building has been gutted within six months, and the department officials believe that yesterday's blaze was the work of incendiaries.

The loss on the building is estimated at $300. It is insured for $500 with E. M. French. Mr. Manning places his loss at $75, partially covered by insurance.

FARM HOUSE DESTROYED.

Unoccupied Building on Terrill Road Was Burned to the Ground Yesterday Morning.

A large unoccupied farm house on the Bainbridge farm on Terrill road caught fire in some mysterious manner early yesterday morning and was burned to the ground.

The city fire department went to the scene in response to an alarm from box 28 sent in by Patrolman Saffron, but they were unable to procure a proper water supply and allowed the flames to die out.

The building was over one hundred years old and was owned by a New York party. The loss is not known. The last occupant of the house was John McDonald, who now lives at Garwood.

Held Short Service First.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the East Third Street chapel held a short service at the chapel Monday evening, after which they went to Trinity Reformed church and joined in the watch-night services held there.

Quarterly Meeting.

The quarterly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church will be held in the parlors of the church Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Interesting letters will be read.

To Disinfect the Schools.

Health Inspector Pangborn, of the borough, went to Watchung Monday and began the disinfection of the public schools at that place. It will take several days to complete the work.

ELDERLY WOMAN WAS KILLED ON RAILROAD.

Supposed to Have Been Picking Coal And Did Not Hear Approach of Train.

NEAR LIBERTY ST. BRIDGE.

WAS RUMORED THAT SHE THREW HERSELF IN FRONT OF TRAIN.

Two Small Boys Saw The Fatality—She Lived Alone on West Fourth Street—Was Sixty Years Old—Death Came Instantly.

Mrs. Mary Conway, widow of Daniel Conway, residing at 530 West Fourth street, was struck and instantly killed by a Central Railroad train Monday afternoon. The woman's body was found lying between the passenger tracks near the Liberty street bridge and brought to the North Avenue station on the 2:29 east bound train and later removed to Cole's undertaking parlors on West Second street. Mrs. Conway is supposed to have been killed by the train which reaches the North avenue station at 2:12

A rumor current in the West End soon after the accident had it that the woman deliberately threw herself in front of the train with suicidal intent. Two young lads, Adolphus Davis and Ben Hill, both of West Fourth street, claimed to have seen Mrs. Conway struck by the train, but they were so badly frightened no coherent story could be gleaned from them From what little they were able to tell it is understood that the unfortunate woman was picking coal, and, becoming careless, failed to notice the train's approach.

The body was not mangled, the only bruises being about the head and face. The right jaw was fractured and there was a cut on the side of the head.

Mrs. Conway, who was sixty years old, has lived by herself in the lower part of her own house since the death of her husband over ten years ago. Of late she has been very eccentric and at times appeared very much depressed. She was in very poor circumstances and earned a scanty livelihood.

She is survived by a daughter, Miss Catherine Conway, of this city, and James Conway, whose present where abouts are unknown, but who is supposed to be in a western city. The funeral services of Mrs. Mary Conway, who was killed Monday afternoon, will be held from St. Mary's church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Interment will be at St. Mary's cemetery.

MASS AT ST. MARY'S.

Held at Midnight and Attended By a Very Large Congregation.

Probably at no time in the history of St. Mary's church was so large a congregation present as that which attended the midnight mass Tuesday evening at the ushering in of the new century. The church was uncomfortably filled, many being compelled to stand during the long service, and numbers were unable to get inside. The privilege of holding the mass at midnight was granted by Pope Leo. The celebrant was Rev. Father Smyth, rector, assisted by Rev. Father McGeary as deacon, M. Glennon as subdeacon and J. Butscher as master of ceremonies. The sermon was preached by Father Symth, who spoke of the growth of this country in the last century. The musical portion of the services were very fine and were given under the direction of Miss Smith, the organist. Following was the programme:

| Processional | Baltniansky |
| O Salutaris | Weigand |
| Kyrie | Weber |
| Gloria | Farmer |
| Credo | Weber |
| Adeste Fidelis | V. Nevello |
| Sanctus, Agnus Dei, | Mercadante |
| Recessional | Nevello |

Services were also held at 7:30 and 9:30 a. m. Father Stafford was the celebrant of the former and Father McGeary the latter. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was observed at noon yesterday.

A New Year's Gift.

A. Lusardi, the North avenue fruit dealer, packed an orange box full of delicious fruit on Monday and sent it to the Sisters of Mary of St. Mary's church, with his compliments and best wishes for a Happy New Year.

Quarantine Will Be Relieved Tomorrow.

All cases of contagion in the borough that are now under quarantine will be relieved tomorrow.

MANNING'S DRIVER IS CHARGED WITH ARSON.

John Kenney Arrested This Noon and Police Say He Started Yesterday's Blaze.

OTHER OFFENSES CHARGED.

ALLEGED THAT HE THREE TIMES SET FIRE TO MANNING'S BARN.

Also Believed to Have Tried to Burn Up His Father's House—Has Been Employed By Manning as Driver For Over a Year.

John Kenney, who has been employed as driver for Manning, the coal dealer on South avenue whose barn was partially destroyed by fire yesterday, was arrested at noon today by Chief Kiely and Roundsman Flynn on the charge of arson. The police allege that Kenney set fire to the barn. He will probably be arraigned this afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon's fire was the third which has recently occurred at Manning's place. It started under circumstances which were considered very suspicious by the officials of the fire department. They reported the matter to Chief Kiely who started an investigation at once.

As a result of the investigation, the Chief and Flynn went to Manning's place this noon and put the suspected driver under arrest. He lives with his father on East Fourth street, is twenty-five years of age and single. He has been employed by Manning for over a year.

The police declare that they have the evidence to prove that he was directly responsible for the three fires which took place at Manning's barn and one that took place at Kenney's home on East Fourth street.

MIDNIGHT MASS.

Many Attracted to St. Joseph's Church Monday Evening by the Fine Musical Service.

Standing room was at a premium at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church on the occasion of the services of midnight mass, which was sung Monday night. Rev. Father Miller was the celebrant, Rev. Father Brennon the deacon and Rev. Father Francis, of Trenton, the sub deacon.

There were many persons present who are not members of this faith, attracted by the superb music which was rendered by the full choir with an orchestra accompaniment. The solos of Miss Smith and Mrs. Reilly were exceptionably fine, while the singing of Robert Clark, who gave "Beyond the Gates of Paradise," was favorably commented upon. At 12 o'clock the Sacrament was exposed and before which the entire congregation bowed in respectful reverence. A guard of fifty remained on duty until 1 o'clock yesterday noon. The services were very impressive.

GOOD PROGRAMME.

Y. M. C. A. Star Course Entertainment Attracted a Large Audience.

The cosy hall of the Y. M. C. A. was well filled last evening on the occasion of the second of the Star course of entertainments of that association. The feature of the evening was the clever work of Elmer P. Ransom, who delighted the audience with his feats of magic. A popular favorite was Frank O Bristol, who is well known to Plainfield audiences. Mr. Bristol's recitations and stories kept the audience in good nature and won deserved applause. The Herbert and White banjo team showed a proficiency on the banjo that served to please many in the audience.

Two Daughters Baptised.

A very pleasant New Year celebration took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Blair on Duer street, last evening, when their two daughters, Madeline Doud Blair and Marion Dezell Blair, were baptised. The event was in honor of the birthday of Marion, who was two years. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. After the ceremony dinner was served and a general good time followed.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. Chauncey Shaffer, of New York, announces the engagement of her granddaughter, Miss Amy Gertrude Burt, of this city, to P. Louis Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour B. Smith, of Hackettstown, N. J.

Working on Interior.

The exterior improvements about the new railroad station are about completed and the interior work is being pushed with all possible speed.

"MR. BOB" RECEIVED A CORDIAL WELCOME

Large and Fashionable Audience Witnessed Performance at Casino by Amateurs.

CLEVER FARCE WELL ACTED.

VARIOUS PARTS WERE WELL TAKEN AND PERFORMANCE PLEASED.

Mrs. L. W. Serrell Made Great Hit as a French Maid—L. H. VanBuren Acquired Fame in a Difficult Part Well Acted.

"Mr. Bob" received a cordial welcome at the Casino Monday night and a large and fashionable audience was ready to overlook any little irregularities on the part of the local amateur talent which made up the cast for that clever little farce. But it really wasn't necessary. The whole performance passed off smoothly and with much credit to those who took part in it. Local society accepted the affair as one of the chief events of the holiday week and turned out in such numbers that the Casino was inadequate to accommodate all who desired to attend.

The play itself was a funny little two-act farce from the pen of Rachel E. Baker It was all supposed to happen at the Newport home of Miss Rebecca Luke. Her niece, Katherine, has a visitor, Miss Marion Bryant, familiarly known as "Bob." By way of a joke, Katherine pretends to her cousin, Philip, who is studying medicine, that "Bob" is a man and requests him to give "Mr. Bob" a cordial welcome. Philip is also expecting a friend. Aunt Becky has a passion for cats and sends for Mr. Brown, an architect, to suggest plans for an addition to the house for the express benefit of numerous pussies. She desires to keep this fact a secret from the rest and is abetted in the act by the maid, Marie, and Jenkins, the man.

Into this household walks a meek and innocent young man, Robert Brown, clerk for Miss Rebecca's solicitors, with some papers for her. This poor young man is promptly taken for everybody but himself and finally believing himself in a mad house he still further complicates affairs by agreeing to everything.

In the part of the solicitor's clerk, Laurens H. Van Buren made a decided hit. He was pounced upon, dragged about, and all with that same resigned expression. His work as the fearful young man, who was thus buffetted about in a lively sea of experiences, was capital.

Frederick W. Goddard, as Phillip, the nephew, was very satisfactory. It was not Mr. Goddard's first appearance on the local stage and he won fresh honors. As Jenkins, George S. Ring was the very proper and sedate butler and he pleased the audience.

Undoubtedly one of the greatest hits of the evening was made by Mrs. Lemuel William Serrell as Marie, the maid. Mrs. Serrell is an amateur actress of much cleverness and made a very ideal maid. Mrs. Serrell was perfectly at her ease and took the difficult part gracefully and with success. She was new to Plainfield audiences.

Miss Maud VanBoskerck, as Katherine, was bright and lively and cleverly impersonated the young society woman of the household. Her friend, the real "Bob," Miss Florence Huntington, was altogether charming and took her part with success. Mrs. E M VanBuren made a most properly elderly lady, as Aunt Becky, and filled the part to the satisfaction of all.

Lemuel William Serrell acted as business manager of the affair and had his hands full. His efforts were successful, however, and a goodly sum will be turned over to the Woman's Exchange and the Children's Home. Previous to the play and during the intermission there were vocal solos by Mrs. George T. Bing and Mrs. Wm. L. Saunders. Miss Cornelia Hyatt rendered a violin accompaniment.

Impressive Service.

A very impressive service was held at Grace P. E. church New Year's Eve at 11:30 o'clock and continued until 12:15 o'clock. Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector, conducted the service. There was appropriate music by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Freeman, organist.

Discharged From Hospital.

Howard Warnock, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warnock, who has been at the hospital under treatment for pneumonia, was discharged Monday.

SHOT WOMAN BY MISTAKE.

WILLIE CONNETT AIMED AT WHEEL AND STRUCK MRS. EMORY'S FACE.

Did it With a Flobert Rifle—Colored Lad Was Arrested—Feared Mrs. Emory May Lose an Eye.

Willie Connett, a colored boy, was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Winzenreid, charged with shooting firearms in the city. The boy's arrest grew out of the fact that he had fired a Flobert rifle at a horse and wagon containing Mr. and Mrs. Clement B. Emory who were driving on West Third street, near Liberty, about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The boy told a companion that he was going to see if he could hit the wheels of the wagon. Instead of hitting the wagon as he intended the shot struck Mrs. Emory at the side of the left eye, inflicting a small wound. Officer Winzenreid immediately began an investigation, with the result that the young shooter was arrested. This morning in police court the matter was adjourned by City Judge Runyon to await the result of Mrs. Emory's injuries. Young Connett is about 11 years old.

Mrs. Emory was taken to a physician, where she received medical attendance. It is feared she may lose the use of her eye. Mr. Emory is employed upon the farm of Frank E. Woodruff in the town of New Vernon, Morris county.

RANG IN THE NEW CENTURY.

EXEMPT FIREMEN HELD CELEBRATION NEW YEAR'S EVE.

President Barkalew Read an Interesting History of Plainfield Since 1835.

The Exempt Firemen's Association kept open house on Monday night at their rooms in the Coward building. Louis E. Barkalew, the president of the association, was master of ceremonies. Coffee and cigars were passed around, while there were also plenty of clay pipes and tobacco. A handsome silk banner was displayed which was presented to the association by Auguste Saltzman, a former president of the association, who brought it from Switzerland.

A half hour before the close of the old year Mr. Barkalew read from notes a brief history of Plainfield, and incidentally mentioned the volunteer fire department. The history dated from 1835. It was voted to have the history published in the city papers.

In connection with this history Mr. Barkalew exhibited an advertisement of a hand bill, which told of the new stage line between Plainfield and New York via Elizabethtown-point. The stage line was owned by Vincent Barkalew, father of the president of the Exempt Firemen's Association. The bill was printed by "Isaac Cole, printer, near Plainfield, N. J."

As the old year died and the New Century dawned the old fire bell, which formerly hung in the first fire engine house in Plainfield, was tolled nineteen times as a death knell to the departing century.

Then the members and guests listened to recitations, stories, etc., by L. E. Barkalew, Alex Titsworth, Surrogate H. N. Spencer, John Becker, T. J. E. Flannery, J. K Arnold, M. F. Elderton and others, interspersed by phonograph selections furnished by S. Frucht.

FIREMEN CELEBRATED.

Had Entertainment and Then Welcomed New Year With Blast of Fire Alarm.

The members of Warren Engine Company and their friends in the borough gathered in large numbers Monday night to watch out the old year and to welcome the new century. There was plenty to eat and enough fun to last the boys for almost another century. During the evening the guests were entertained by a vaudeville team of colored young men, who sang and told jokes. About an hour before midnight refreshments were served in the shape of oyster stews.

Just as the old year passed into obscurity nineteen strokes were given on the fire alarm gong, denoting the death of the old year and the Nineteenth Century. The latch string was out to all who wished to call and many citizens dropped in during the evening to wish the boys a Happy New Year.

Family Gathering.

One of the many pleasant family gatherings yesterday was the one at the home of G. M. Rittenhouse, Sandford avenue, where relatives from New York, Morris Plains and Frenchtown, gathered to enjoy the festivities of the day. A dinner was served and a delightful time had by the twenty-eight persons present.

SOCIETY'S BIG ENDING OF HOLIDAY ACTIVITY.

Second Assembly Held at Casino Last Night on Unusually Elaborate Scale.

NEARLY 200 WERE PRESENT.

DOUBLE MUSIC WAS A NOVEL AND POPULAR FEATURE.

Many Out-of-Town Guests Were Present—Banjo Music by Brooks and Denton—Elaborate Decorations—Red and Green the Colors.

A week of continual activity for Plainfield's society set culminated last evening in the event of the Christmas tide, the Assembly, the second of a series of society's formal dances at the Casino. Nearly two hundred guests, including two score out-of-town young people, assembled for the affair which was conducted on a scale more elaborate than that of any previous dance.

Most important of the new features of the Assembly was the music. The regular orchestra, furnished by a well-known Brooklyn leader, was present. Then there were also Brooks and Denton, the well-known banjoists, with a quintette of the instruments. These two orchestras alternated, thereby having continuous music. At every fifth dance the two united and played together. This novel feature proved very popular.

The decorations of the Casino were unusually elaborate. Roping of evergreen and wreathes and stars of holly covered the walls and ceiling in pretty design. The electric lights were all shaded with red. The stage was banked with palms and was occupied by the orchestras.

There were a number of new subscribers for the series of Assemblies and, in addition, a number of out-of-town guests who were visiting at Plainfield homes for the holidays. The attendance was the largest present at any local dance. Among the out-of-town guests were the Misses Clauson, Roe, Russell, Hartley, of New York, Kelley, of Cleveland, Munson, of New Haven, Johnson, of Washington, and Fisk, of Trenton. The Messrs. Ireland, Black, Clauson, Manning, Lefferts, Opdyke, Hartley, of New York, Frelinghuysen, of Somerville, Carhart, of Brooklyn, and Spear, of Trenton.

Complete supervision of the affair rested with Lewis E. Waring, who was kept very busy arranging all the details. His complete success was amply shown. It was undoubtedly the most successful dance of its kind ever held in Plainfield.

The patronesses of the Assemblies are Mrs. Charles A. Brooks, Mrs. M. E. Edgerton, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Frederick G Mead, Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. Harry G. Runkle, Mrs. S L. Schoonmaker and Mrs. Henry P. Talmadge.

The subscribers are Mr. and Mrs. Marion S. Ackerman, Miss Lydia P. Ackerman, Miss Edith Arens, Seigfried Arens, C. Westley Abbott, Dr. F. C. Ard.

Curtis Beard, of Hillside avenue, leaves this week for an extended business trip through New York State and the south. He will be absent several weeks.

Edwin G Crowdis, of the Hartford Theological Seminary, the well known Princeton football player, was the guest over Sunday of Gilbert Lovell, of Crescent avenue.

The Misses Maggie O'Connor and Anna Flatley, of Seventh street, and Thomas J. O'Keeffe, of West Fifth street, have returned to Plainfield after spending a week at the home of Miss O'Connor, Norwalk, Conn.

—This season there is a large death rate among children from croup and lung troubles. Prompt action will save the little ones from these terrible diseases. We know of nothing so certain to give instant relief as One Minute Cough Cure. It can also be relied upon in grippe and all throat and lung troubles of adults. Pleasant to take. L. W. Randolph.

Llewellen Bull, a cadet at West Point, has returned after spending a short time with relatives in Plainfield.

Samuel Boss, who has been traveling in Pennsylvania and the Southern States in the interest of a New York commission house, returned home to spend New Year's with his family.

—The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. L. W. Randolph.

Edward D. Graw and wife, of Philadelphia, are spending a few days with Plainfield relatives.

Miss Sallie Wilson, of New Brunswick, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Miss Louella Clawson, of West Fourth street.

—When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Symonds, of East Third street, has about recovered from a recent illness.

Charles Wengenroth and family, of Brooklyn, have taken up their residence at 729 East Sixth street.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Patrolman Morris Higgins, of West Front street, is now able to sit up after his recent attack of pneumonia.

Miss Georgia Chamberlin, of Chicago, who has been visiting her parents on Madison avenue, is now visiting relatives in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dunham and daughter, Miss Ara Dunham, of Clinton, Iowa, are visiting Mr. Dunham's mother, Mrs. J. L. Dunham, of West Fifth street.

NEW YEAR'S IN MANILA.

General MacArthur's Reception a Great Success.

MANILA, Jan. 2.—If President McKinley's New Year reception was greater than that of General MacArthur, it was not the fault of the people of Manila.

This reception was the first official social function at which the Americans and Filipinos have mingled in a social way. For three hours a stream of vehicles wound through the grounds of the governor general's residence and discharged the callers, official and civilian, most of them natives, though there was a sprinkling of foreigners. The American flag branches of nipa flowers and vines predominated in the decorations throughout the mansion.

Admiral Remey received the callers by the side of General MacArthur, and the wives of several generals assisted.

The introductions were made by General MacArthur's staff, assisted by members of the staff of Admiral Remey. The callers after having been introduced passed out upon a broad balcony overhanging the Pasig river, and a majority of them lingered about the mansion until the ceremonies were finished.

Archbishop Chapelle, the apostolic delegate to the Philippines, and other church dignitaries were received first. The members of the Philippine commission and the judges appeared in black frock coats, and their attire formed a decided contrast to the white and gold uniforms of the officers of the army and navy. The Filipino women wore elaborate native costumes and conversed affably in Spanish.

The use of carriage numbers was not understood by the hackmen, and much confusion occurred outside.

NEW YEAR IN PEKING.

Elaborate Celebration at the Chinese Capital.

PEKING, Jan. 2.—The advent of the new year and the new century was celebrated in Peking on an elaborate scale. The discharge of numerous guns at midnight created a scare, and many troops were sent to discover whether the city had been attacked or whether it was a Boxer rising.

General Chaffee held his reception in the morning, and Mr. Conger received in the afternoon.

A feature which caused considerable comment was a review of the British troops in honor of Queen Victoria and of Australian federation, to which all the nations were invited to send representatives. The French were conspicuous by their absence, not a single Frenchman being present at the review.

Lieutenant Colonel Wint has returned to Peking. He says he does not believe the stories that Boxers have been operating in the country which his troops covered.

Sir Alfred Gaselee, the British commander, is better.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Northern Colorado coal miners struck.

The Rhode Island general assembly convened.

Diamonds have been discovered near Capitan, N. M.

The new comet was observed at the Lick observatory.

A lace smuggling scheme was discovered at Del Rio, Tex.

The Wells-Fargo company opened reference libraries for its employees.

Forty-six tons of gold and silver were received at the Seattle assay office in 1900.

Insurance Companies Consolidate.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 2.—A deal in which about $50,000,000 of accident insurance capital is involved and which is considered one of the largest consolidations ever effected in this country has been consummated here. By its terms the Railway Officials and Employees' Accident association of this city, the Metropolitan Accident Insurance company of Chicago, the Northwestern Benevolent society and the Continental Insurance company are consolidated under the terms of the Continental Casualty company, which was incorporated under the insurance laws of Indiana some time ago. Headquarters of the new company will be opened in Chicago. The Continental Casualty company has a capital stock of $300,000, and in addition to this it has $361,000 in other assets. The Railway Officials and Employees' Accident association has confined its business to insuring railway employees against accident, but the new company will go into the general field of health and accident insurance.

A State Board of Pharmacy.

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—The law creating the state board of pharmacy went into effect yesterday, and all druggists of the state come under its jurisdiction. The state board's control is substituted for the control of local boards. It has power to issue licenses to druggists and to enforce regulations. It can make and enforce the rules for the practice of pharmacy, the sale of poisons, the character and standard of drugs and medicines dispensed in the state and the number of hours drug clerks shall work in cities of 1,000,000 inhabitants or more.

Patti's Estate to Be Sold.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The beautiful estate Craig-y-Nos, upon which Mme. Patti has expended upward of £130,000 during the 20 years of her residence there, is about to change ownership. It is understood that Sir George Newnes, the London publisher, is the purchaser of the estate.

Kidnaped Boy Sent Home.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 2.—Charles Kerschner, the 10-year-old son of Oliver Kerschner of this place, who was kidnaped Monday, returned home shortly before midnight. He is in bed, a sick lad, from the effects of chloroform. The kidnapers have escaped.

An English Loan.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The government has authorized the Bank of England to receive bids for £4,000,000 of local loans stock, redeemable in 1912. The stock will bear 3 per cent interest, and the minimum issue price will be 98.

Populists Join Democrats.

DENVER, Jan. 2.—All the Populist members of the state senate, eight in number, entered the caucus of the Democratic members yesterday and announced their intention to join the Democratic party.

Wreck In West Virginia.

WAYNE, W. Va., Jan. 2.—West bound passenger No. 3 on the Norfolk and Western railway, en route to Columbus, O., ran into a rock near here yesterday. Half a dozen persons were injured.

UNANIMOUS FOR QUAY

Republican Caucus Names Him For Senator.

MARSHALL CHOSEN FOR SPEAKER.

Result of Caucus Insures Quay 126 of the Necessary 127 Votes, and His Followers Are Jubilant. Antis In Secret Session.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 2.—Colonel Quay was the unanimous choice of the joint convention of Republican senators and members held last night in the house chamber to nominate a candidate for United States senator. The caucus was attended by 123 legislators, or four less than the number necessary to a choice in the joint convention of the senate and house which will be held Jan. 16.

On the balloting Mr. Quay received the votes of 20 senators and 93 members of the house. Before the result was announced the names of Messrs. Dalzell and Stewart were withdrawn, and the nomination of Mr. Quay was made unanimous, and he was thus given a total of 123 votes.

M. S. QUAY.

With one present and not voting, two absent on account of illness, all three of whom, it is claimed, will abide by the caucus decision, a vote of 126 for Quay on joint ballot is indicated. As the names of certain men who had been counted in the anti-Quay column were called and they announced their vote for Mr. Quay there was a demonstration of great approval on the part of the great crowd present.

The Quay people are jubilant over the result of the caucus, as the number present exceeded their expectations, and they claim that before the vote is taken on joint ballot for senator they will have many more than the number necessary to elect.

While the caucus was in session in the house chamber a secret meeting of the anti-Quay Republicans was held at their headquarters at the Commonwealth hotel. At the close of the meeting the pledges of the anti-Quayites binding themselves together to oppose Mr. Quay's reelection was made public. The pledge contains 68 names.

Both branches of the legislature met at noon yesterday, and the feature of the occasion was the battle between the Quay Republicans and the allied forces of the anti-Quay Republicans and Democrats for control of the house of representatives, resulting in a victory for the Quay forces.

William T. Marshall of Allegheny was the choice of the Quay forces for speaker, while the Democrats and anti-Quay Republicans were lined up for General William H. Koontz of Somerset, anti-Quay Republican. The membership of the house is 203, there being a vacancy in the Sixteenth Philadelphia district. Of these 154 are Republicans and 49 Democrats.

Senator Snyder of Chester county was the choice of the Quay faction for president of the senate and was elected by a vote of 36 to 13 over Senator Nidler (Dem.) of Cumberland.

After passing the usual routine resolutions and appointing committees to wait on the governor and the house with the information that the senate was organized and ready for business a recess was taken.

In the house the proceedings began with the formal swearing in of the members, after which the roll call showed three absentees. Nominations for speaker being in order the names of Mr. Marshall and General Koontz were presented.

As the voting progressed it was seen that the vote would be close, and it was announced as 100 for Marshall and 99 for Koontz. Four Democrats voted for Marshall.

Miss Hanna Comes Out.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 2.—The coming out party of Miss Ruth Hanna, the youngest daughter of Senator Hanna, last night was a pronounced social success. The reception and dance were held in the Chamber of Commerce, which was engaged for the occasion because of the distance of the Hanna home from the center of the city. The guests included all the leading society people of Cleveland, 1,500 invitations having been issued.

Happy New Year for Trainmen.

UTICA, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Superintendent Moon of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg division of the New York Central railroad gives notice that, taking effect Jan. 1, an increase of pay will be made which gives passenger conductors an increase of about 13 per cent, the baggage men about 12 per cent and the trainmen about 9 per cent.

Bank's Large Profits.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The First National bank made a net profit of $739,832 for the year 1900. Statements were mailed to stockholders last evening showing the results of the 12 months' operation. A year ago, when a similar statement was given out, it showed the bank's net profit "after providing for all bad and doubtful debts."

Gain In German Exports.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—The German papers note with satisfaction that Germany's exports to the United States last year showed a large increase upon those for 1899. United States Consul General Mason's figures for the year reached 6,677,355 marks, or an increase of 43,472 marks upon those of the previous year.

Native Uprising In West Africa.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The colonial office is in receipt of news of a native rising in the Gambia river region of West Africa. The dispatch conveying this information adds that a punitive expedition is being organized.

A GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

Cape Town Situation Gives British Little Comfort.

A YEAR'S FIGHTING WITH SMALL GAINS

Boer Invaders Said to Number Five Thousand—Their Fugitive Tactics Over Vast Territory Render Kitchener's Task Difficult.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—"The aspect of affairs is scarcely less gloomy," says the Cape Town correspondent of The Times, "than at the beginning of 1900. The invading Boers are numerically fewer, but they have penetrated farther south, and their presence in such centers of hostile Dutch feeling as Graaf Reinet constitutes an element of danger which did not exist last January.

"The proclamation calling for volunteers comes very late. The invaders have been enabled to obtain fresh horses. All the horses in the colony ought to have been commandeered or bought at the first sign of invasion."

The correspondent complains of the inertia and reticence of the authorities.

General Kitchener has telegraphed to the war office as follows from Pretoria:

"General Knox, who has been following up De Wet, reports that he has captured some horses, five wagons with supplies and 6,000 rounds of ammunition.

"He has released and allowed to go to their farms 76 Boer prisoners who were taken at De Wet's laager and who were being forced to fight.

"General French recently captured 12 prisoners and a large quantity of carts and cattle. Among the prisoners was a dispatch rider bearing a letter from Beyers for Smuts."

Johannes Smuts was formerly private secretary to Sir Gordon Sprigg, governor of Cape Colony. He served on the staff of V division in Natal in 1899-1900.

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, who dwells upon the gravity of the position in Cape Colony, says:

"The Boer invaders now number 5,000. The western invasion gives the most concern. It has split into two divisions, which are marching like the prongs of a fork, one by way of Sutherland toward Malmesbury and the other toward Beaufort West.

"The enemy are now ranging over immense tracts of territory, necessitating the employment of an army corps to deal with them. Lord Kitchener has poured troops into the disturbed areas, but the fugitive tactics of the Boers have to a large extent neutralized his precautions.

"It was felt that the only means of excluding the invaders from the rich districts in the western part of the colony was to call out the farmers. Today's telegrams promise a splendid response from the eastern portion, but the western is doubtful, not 30 per cent of the population being regarded as loyal. Hence the Boer concentration in that direction.

"Letters are arriving here detailing damage and robbery by the invaders and beseeching military assistance. Any action on the part of the colony will not abate the urgent need of large re-enforcements."

Martial Law to Be Extended.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 2.—A special meeting of the cabinet was held yesterday, at which, it is understood, a decision was reached to make a further extension of martial law. A telegram from Carnarvon reports that the Boers are looting every farm along their route for supplies.

British Horse Captured.

COLESBURG, Cape Colony, Jan. 2.—Two hundred and fifty Boers captured 14 men of Nesbitt's horse 50 miles southeast of Colesburg. The enemy, since increased to 800, has appeared near Weltevreden and is driving off stock.

Massachusetts Legislature.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—Thirty Republican members of the senate held the usual caucus last evening at the state house and nominated without opposition Hon. Rufus A. Soule of New Bedford as president, Henry D. Coolidge of Concord clerk and Rev. Edmund Dowse of Sherborn as chaplain. David W. Remington, the efficient doorkeeper of the senate for many years, was then nominated as sergeant-at-arms, but he immediately declined, and in the ballot which followed Major C. G. Davis, the present incumbent, through the appointment of the governor, was nominated.

Blast Furnaces Reduce Wages.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 2.—Notices of a reduction in wages that will affect about 4,000 men were posted yesterday at all of the blast furnaces in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. What is known as the base price is $1.90 per day to bottom fillers and helpers, and the notices state that after Feb. 1 the base price will be $1.65. The reduction will place the wages of the furnace men on the same basis as in March, 1890. The employees refuse to say now whether they will accept the reduction.

Lost on Mount Washington.

BERLIN, N. H., Jan. 2.—A searching party has left here for Mount Washington in an endeavor to find William H. Bodwell, correspondent of the New York Herald, who was lost on the mountain Monday while attempting to make the ascent with two other men. Bodwell, with Chester Stiles of Cambridge and Ray Evans of Gorham, went up the mountain on foot for the purpose of taking views.

Cleveland Party In Luck.

GEORGETOWN, S. C., Jan. 2.—The White Lily, the steam yacht which ex-President Cleveland and party occupy during their hunting expedition at Murphy island, near this city, came up to town to replenish stores. The captain of the yacht states that there is an abundance of game in that section, and the party are having great sport. They will remain a week longer.

Crisis In Spanish Cabinet.

MADRID, Jan. 2.—It is said that the resignation of Rear Admiral Ramos, minister of marine, is imminent owing to the recent rejection by the chamber of deputies of the government's scheme for increasing the navy. The crisis is becoming general, and an official announcement will be made today when the cabinet meets.

Argentina's Crop Good.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 2.—The minister of agriculture, Dr. Martin Garcia Meron, in his annual report estimates that there will be 1,700,000 tons of wheat available for export this season. He says also that the corn crop is good.

WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION.

President and Mrs. McKinley Inaugurate Social Season.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—In the long line of New Year's receptions at the White House which each year inaugurate the social season at the national capital none perhaps was more brilliant than the one which ushered in the twentieth century, and perhaps no feature of it was so universally gratifying to the distinguished throng which came to extend the greetings of the New Year to the chief executive of the republic as the fact that the mistress of the White House was able to participate and with the president receive the felicitations and well wishes of all.

The Marine band, stationed under the stairway, discoursed national airs and lively marches throughout the ceremony. The members of the cabinet and their wives, together with the ladies of the receiving party, were the first to arrive. They laid aside their wraps in the state dining room and ascended to the private apartments of the president, where they exchanged greetings with President and Mrs. McKinley. The ladies of the receiving party entered the red and blue parlors and took their places behind the line.

Meantime the embassadors and ministers of foreign countries, with the attaches of the various legations, in their gorgeous and resplendent court uniforms, had gathered in the state dining room.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the bugles sounded the approach of the presidential party, and, led by Colonel Bingham, the master of ceremonies, and Major McCauley of the marine corps, the president and Mrs. McKinley descended the main staircase, followed by the members of the cabinet and their wives.

After the receiving party had taken their places the long line of guests began to move. First in the line came the embassadors and ministers from foreign courts, accompanied by their full staffs.

After the embassadors and ministers came the chief justice and associate justices of the United States supreme court, the judges of the court of appeals, senators and representatives in congress, former cabinet officers and ministers of the United States.

At 12:30 the general public was admitted, and about 5,000 people had been received up to 1:30 o'clock, the hour set for closing the reception, but as the crowd still stretched four abreast beyond the outer gates the president directed that the reception proceed, that all might come in. Mrs. McKinley endured the trying ordeal with much composure, remaining alongside the president throughout. At one time, as a dainty little girl stepped through proudly carrying a huge doll, Mrs. McKinley not only greeted the little girl, but also shook hands with the doll to the infinite delight of the little mother. Later, when a negro "mammy" held down a tiny baby, Mrs. McKinley chucked the tot under the chin and tucked a rosebud amid its laces.

It was 2 o'clock when the end of the line appeared, and the president, waving a final salutation to the lingering guests, escorted Mrs. McKinley to her apartments.

Nebraska Legislature In Session.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 2.—The Nebraska legislature convened at noon yesterday for its twenty-seventh session. Permanent organization was effected in both houses according to the programme outlined by Monday's Republican caucus. William G. Seers of Burt county, the caucus nominee, was made speaker of the house by unanimous vote on motion of the fusion minority after they had given a complimentary vote to D. W. Hamilton of Butler county, Populist. There was no opposition to Senator C. F. Steele for president pro tem. of the senate. The house appointed a committee on privileges and elections to take up contest cases as early as possible. Today the legislature will canvass the vote of the November election.

Saved From Electrocution.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Jan. 2.—The jury in the case of Leonard Stevens, charged with the murder of Clarence Warrick, brought in a verdict, with a recommendation for mercy, of murder in the first degree. The recommendation saves him from electrocution. Last April the Warrick residence at Somerton was burglarized, and young Warrick, who offered resistance, was shot and killed by the intruders. The crime was fastened upon Stevens and Barney Devine, both of Zanesville, O. Devine will also be tried for the crime.

Famine Threatened In Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 2.—A dispatch received here from Vladivostok reports that famine threatens the Amur and maritime provinces. The crops there are bad and the railways, being almost wholly engaged for war purposes, cannot be used for the transportation of food to the inhabitants. In addition the prohibition of foreign coastwise trade has prevented importations into the threatened provinces. The situation is deplorable and becoming worse.

Shot by a Burglar.

PUEBLO, Colo., Jan. 2.—Walter C. Casley, a druggist, was shot through the head and instantly killed in his store by a burglar. The body was found by a clerk in the employ of Casley. The cash register had been rifled and every pocket in the murdered man's clothes had been turned inside out. The murderer escaped.

Rhode Island's New Capitol.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 2.—The $3,000,000 statehouse just erected by the state of Rhode Island was occupied by the legislature for the first time yesterday. The event was signalized by a display entirely different from anything ever before attempted at the opening of the legislature.

Fire at Asbury Park.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—An early morning fire practically destroyed the Hotel Vendome, one of the oldest hotels at Asbury Park. The guests who were asleep in the hotel narrowly escaped, some of them in their nightclothes. Two firemen were injured.

Saw Three Vessels Founder.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The captain of the bark Idun, which has arrived at Cardiff, reports that during the gale Friday he saw three vessels founder in the Bristol channel, and he believed that as many as 25 lives were lost.

Heavy Snow In Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—Snow is falling heavily over central Germany, greatly interrupting railway traffic.

Weather Probabilities.

AUSTRALIAN FEDERATION.

Great Celebration In Progress—Governor General Hopetoun Sworn In.

SYDNEY, Jan. 2.—The city was brilliantly illuminated last evening with unique and appropriate designs, and the shipping in the harbor was all aflame from stem to stern. The crowds gave every sign of rejoicing.

Melbourne, Brisbane and the other capitals have all been celebrating the federation on a smaller scale and swearing in the local governors.

The Earl of Hopetoun was sworn in as the first governor general of the federated Australian colonies amid scenes of pageantry such as never before had been attempted in the antipodes.

Scores of thousands of people participated in the demonstration, and a general joy marked the occasion. The rejoicing of the commonwealth was intensified by a message which Queen Victoria sent through the colonial secretary, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, and which was read by the Earl of Hopetoun.

Shortly after noon the procession entered the park, into which thousands of the public followed, swelling the multitude that had already assembled on the hills which formed a vast amphitheater overlooking the pavilion which had been erected for the ceremonies connected with the inauguration. A magnificent sight was presented by the teeming humanity on the surrounding eminences.

The governor's arrival at the pavilion was announced by artillery salutes and the pealing of the cathedral and other bells. The various chief justices and cabinet officers were awaiting him, and as soon as the Earl of Hopetoun took up his position a choir of 1,000 voices began to sing.

Three cheers were given for the governor general, and another salute was fired. Ten thousand pupils of the public schools sang the hymn "Australia Fair," and the proceedings were concluded by the choir singing a Te Deum, the "Halleluiah" chorus, and "God Save the Queen."

PAT CROWE CAPTURED.

Supposed Abductor of Young Cudahy Reported to Have Been Found.

SIOUX CITY, Jan. 2.—A special to The Journal from Chadron, Neb., says:

"Pat Crowe, the supposed abductor of young Edward Cudahy, has been captured near the state line between Nebraska and South Dakota.

"Three detectives following Crowe's trail came upon him on the Pine Ridge reservation near Oelrichs, S. D., and captured him after a wild chase. Crowe was driving a team and buckboard. He whipped the horses and tried to outrun the horsemen, who soon brought him to a halt with their six shooters.

"John Delfelder, a cattleman, has just reached town with the news and says the posse had stopped at a ranch about 30 miles out for lunch and to feed their horses."

Emancipation Celebrated.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—The thirty-eighth anniversary of the emancipation of the slaves by President Lincoln was observed yesterday by a mass meeting in Faneuil hall. There was a very large gathering. Rev. William H. Thomas, D. D., of the Charles Street African church presided, and the oration was delivered by Right Rev. Alexander Walters, D. D., bishop of New Jersey. Dr. Walters reviewed the history of slavery and its abolition, showing the condition of the colored man at the time of the emancipation proclamation. He then quoted statistics at great length to show the progress of the negro since that time. He said: "In 1863 we possessed nothing. Today our personal and real estate is valued at more than $700,000,000. We have 175,000 homes, 150,000 farms, school property valued at $12,000,000 and church property valued at $37,000,000. Our intellectual progress has been greater than our financial growth."

Dying After a Prizefight.

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 2.—Frank Welch of Philadelphia, who participated in a prizefight with "Paddy" Donovan at Cedar Park, across the Delaware from this city, is lying at the point of death from the effects of the beating he received. Welch collapsed in the ninth round and has not been conscious since. The doctors says he has concussion of the brain and do not think he will recover. Donovan, one of his seconds, William Casey, and one of Welch's seconds, "Kid" Stein, all of Philadelphia, were arrested and are held awaiting the outcome of Welch's injuries.

Sugar War Developments.

TOLEDO, Jan. 2.—Very substantial reports are current that the coffee and sugar war which has waged so long and bitterly between the Arbuckle and Havemeyer interests is nearing an adjustment satisfactory to all parties. For four years the Woolson Spice company has not made an advance in the price of roasted coffee. It is now understood that, following an understanding with and with the assent of the Arbuckles, the Woolson people will order an advance of one-half cent per pound on their roasted product.

McMillan's Re-election Sure.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 2.—Senator James McMillan of Detroit was yesterday afternoon nominated by the joint Republican caucus of the Forty-first legislature, which will convene today in the state capitol, to succeed himself. Senator McMillan's re-election to his third term in the senate is assured, as the legislature is overwhelmingly Republican. The senator appeared at the caucus after he had been notified of his nomination and in a brief speech thanked the legislators for the honor.

Ignatius Donnelly Dead.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 2.—Ignatius Donnelly is dead. Deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, having been born in Philadelphia in 1831. He located in this state about 40 years ago and was subsequently honored by being elected lieutenant governor. He was also a representative in congress from 1863 to 1869. Mr. Donnelly gained his fame as an author rather than as a statesman. He was the candidate of the middle of the road Populists for vice president at the last election.

Rockefeller Gives $90,000.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 2.—A short time ago John D. Rockefeller of the Standard Oil company offered to duplicate the amount which the officers of the Rochester Theological seminary could raise by Jan. 1, 1901. The seminary officials have succeeded in raising $90,000, so Mr. Rockefeller will send a check for a similar amount, making a New Year's gift of $180,000 for the seminary.

ODELL IS GOVERNOR.

Brilliant Inaugural Scenes Witnessed at Albany.

THE EXERCISES IN ASSEMBLY HALL.

Military Parade One of the Largest Known In Albany—Inaugural Address of Empire State's New Executive Chief.

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—The exercises attending the inauguration of Benjamin B. Odell as governor passed off without a hitch.

Mr. Odell met the members of his staff and Major General Charles R. Roe and the members of his staff at the executive mansion at half past 9 o'clock. Governor Roosevelt was in the executive chamber at the capitol at 10 o'clock and at 11 o'clock received the members of his staff for an official farewell.

The military escort formed in State street at half past 10 o'clock, under command of Major James L. Hyatt, marshal of the parade. The column moved at 10:40.

More than 1,500 national guardsmen, comprising two battalions and three separate companies of infantry, and a mounted signal corps were in line in the escort column, and in addition civilians who have been the lifelong friends and neighbors of the new executive and who had come to this city to attest their friendship.

The inauguration ceremony was most impressive. The assembly chamber never presented a more beautiful appearance and never contained a larger, more representative or more enthusiastic audience.

The chamber was filled to overflowing. On the platform were seated Mrs. Odell, wife of the governor elect; Mr. B. B. Odell, his father; Albert Odell, his son, and other members of the governor's family, the wives of the state officers and members of their families, the heads of state departments and their wives, daughters and friends.

The Right Rev. William Croswell Doane opened the ceremony with prayer.

There was an enthusiastic outburst

GOVERNOR ODELL.

when Governor Roosevelt rose to extend formal greeting to Governor Odell.

Governor Odell remained standing while Governor Roosevelt addressed him, and at the conclusion of the latter's remarks he delivered his inaugural address.

The oath of office was then administered by Secretary of State John T. McDonough on a new Bible purchased for the occasion.

Governor Odell's inaugural address was in part as follows:

"With the assumption of responsibilities come doubt and uncertainty which even the applause and good wishes of our friends cannot entirely dissipate. Especially is this true of him into whose keeping is placed the administration of the affairs of our commonwealth. New York, an empire in itself, with its vast population, its many and diverse interests, demands from its chief executive the greatest conservatism, wisdom as to its needs and that its business affairs shall be transacted with economy and good judgment.

"Under our form of government, when the will of the majority has been expressed, we should forget our partisanship in our desire to uphold and strengthen the hands of those whom for the time being we have clothed with authority and upon whom the responsibility for the proper enforcement of our laws is placed.

"The burdens of taxation should be so adjusted as to fall lightly upon those who can ill afford to bear them and be borne more generously by those who have received from the state protection and rights which have given to their vast business interests the success that they deserve.

"Combination in restraint of individual rights should be curbed and a welcome extended to all whose energy and genius will add to the luster and fame of the Empire State and aid us in upholding our business and commercial supremacy.

"If in the performance of these duties I shall in a measure be as successful as have so many of my predecessors; if upon the threshold of a new century, with all of its possibilities, the positive and affirmative action of the incoming administration can aid in solving those great questions which so much interest us, I shall feel as much pride in the contemplation of such results as you do, sir, as you look back upon the success which has attended your administration."

New York Legislature Organized.

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—The Republican members of the assembly in open caucus selected the following officers to serve for 1901, whose names were presented and balloted upon at today's session, which convened at 11 o'clock: For speaker, S. Fred Nixon of Chautauqua; for clerk, Colonel Archie E. Baxter of Chemung; for sergeant-at-arms, Frank W. Johnson of Erie; for principal doorkeeper, Henry W. Pollock of New York; for first assistant doorkeeper, William H. Hines of Albany; for second assistant doorkeeper, Frederick A. Atkins of Livingston; for stenographer, Henry C. Lammert of Kings. James T. Rogers of Broome, as chairman of the caucus committee, called the caucus to order.

The senate caucus elected the Hon. Charles R. Houghtaling of Albany sergeant-at-arms of the senate over the Hon. Garret J. Benson by a vote of 17 to 16. There were two absentees, Senator Brown of Watertown and Senator Marshall of Brooklyn.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., JAN 2 1901.

Leader of the Senate.

As the New Jersey Legislature will convene at Trenton next week, it is nearly time for the members of the Upper House of the Legislature to hold their caucus to select their presiding officer and leader. There is not the interest in the action of the Senate on that subject that there was in the Assembly's caucus as there is no prospect of a fight in the Upper House. It is a foregone conclusion that Senator Mahlon Pitney, of Morris county, will be made President of the Senate. Senator Charles A. Reed, of North Plainfield, is generally considered the probable man for leader in the Senate and, as there is no present opposition to the Senator from Somerset, it seems very likely that Senator Reed will be thus honored by the Jersey Legislature of 1901.

Since the Republicans of Somerset chose Mr. Reed to represent them in the State House at Trenton, he has taken a prominent place among the legislators of the State. When in the Senate, he was made president of that body. This year, he is slated for the position of leader. The Somerset leader is now considered a prominent figure in State affairs. Already his name has been mentioned for the Republican nomination for Governor. While the present course of events points to the nomination of either Franklin Murphy or Mahlon Pitney, the day may not be far distant when Mr. Reed may be honored by the Republicans of his State with the chief nomination they can offer.

Although the new year is here, the Common Council of 1900 is not ready to turn over the city's affairs to the new Council. The last meeting of the old Council will be held Friday night.

Society has had a particularly lively holiday week. Plainfield has not seen such a varied list of attractions at Christmas time for many years.

The passing of the old century and the birth of the new one was not marked in Plainfield by anything particularly startling.

The New Jersey legislators will assemble at the State capital next week for their annual attempt to increase the statute books.

The Twentieth Century is here but the world seems to move along as usual.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

"Speak of angels, and you will hear their wings flutter," is a common expression. But in this connection the writer wishes to tell readers of The Daily Press of an angel—at least the representation of one—that has been doing duty for the past seven years at the Muhlenberg Hospital. Of course it is well understood that the kind hearted and patient nurses are themselves often referred to as "ministering angels." But the angel in question is none other than the handsome figure of one of these mythical creatures that has done duty these many years upon the annual Christmas tree at that institution. As in years past, this particular figure did duty last Tuesday. Of course, to the patients the figure was a handsome ornament, but to some of the officers of the hospital it caused feelings of mingled admiration and disdain. When all suggestions fail as to what ornaments to choose by way of decoration, the hospital people invariably fall back upon the faithful figure of the angel, which, like the Little Boy Blue, "is waiting the smile of a little face, the touch of a little hand."

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

NUMEROUS NEW BUILDINGS.

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED DURING THE PAST MONTH.

Several Handsome Residences Are Now in Course of Construction in the City.

Although the building business is practically at a standstill the number of new dwellings that have been erected in this city during the past season shows that Plainfield is steadily growing. This growth is a healthy one, too. From the plans filed with Building Inspector T. O. Doane the following new buildings are in course of erection:

A new store and dwelling is being built on West Third street, near Plainfield avenue, by Araham Kunzman. E. V. French is the architect, W. H. Paugborn the mason, and Byron E. Young the carpenter.

Two new frame houses are being built on Belvidere avenue by John Bornman. They are to cost about $4,500. John Lloyd is the architect and builder.

One of the finest frame dwellings on Hobert avenue, near West Seventh street, is the one being built by J. D. Loizeaux. It will cost $6,000. The architects are Oakely & Son, of Elizabeth. Seaman Williams will do the mason work and J. C. Manning the carpenter work.

George W. Phillips is having a handsome frame dwelling constructed on West Front street, near Manning avenue, which is to cost $3 000. The architect is Fred L. Lancaster, while James L. Stryker will do the carpenter work.

A very handsome residence being constructed on Hillside avenue is the $10,000 frame dwelling being built by R. H. Depew, Tracy & Co., of New York, are the architects. The carpenter work will be done by John Abbott and the masonry by Seaman Williams.

The first stable for the storage of automobiles ever built in this city is being constructed by J. P. Benson, at 137 Hillside avenue. In connection with the "auto" stable Mr. Benson will have a studio constructed at considerable cost. Titus & Pope will do the carpenter work.

Two houses to cost at least $5 000 each are to be erected at once on East Front street near Netherwood avenue by A. E. Park. They will be frame structures and will be for rent. Seaman Williams is to do the mason work and J. C. Manning the carpenter work.

Dr. Marcus L. Clawson is having a double frame dwelling constructed on West Third street that will cost about $3,500. E. V. French is the architect, William Price the mason and Kain & Kiron the carpenters.

A frame dwelling is being built by Messrs. Woolston & Buckle on East Second street, near Netherwood avenue. Seaman Williams will do the mason work and J. C. Manning, the carpenter work.

Some of the more important improvements to buildings about town are a substantial addition to the Imperial Hotel on North avenue where a brick addition has been built to be used as a kitchen. T. H. Lowry is the builder.

A frame barn is also being built on South avenue by Charles L. Stanley. Frank E. Hale is the builder.

Not the least of the handsome dwellings which are in course of construction on Netherwood avenue is a substantial frame house being built for Mrs Kate Noel. Lewis Willet will do the carpenter work.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE.

Large Gathering at Hope Chapel for Service Monday Night.

The watch night meeting at Hope chapel Monday night was in charge of Rev. G. Kennedy Newell and was probably one of the largest attended of any in the city. It opened at 10 o'clock with a prayer and song service in the old chapel building at the conclusion of which refreshments were passed and a short time was given up to sociability. At 11:15 all present adjourned to the new church, where an interesting watch service was held while the old century passed away and a new one took its place.

Died From Pneumonia.

Mrs. Tilda Scribner, wife of Egbert A. Scribner, of 166 Duer street, died yesterday morning of pneumonia, after about a week's illness, aged about 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. James Penny, of Easton, Pa., have returned home after a two weeks' visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Cose, of Grant avenue.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan. 2.—The Twentieth Century was ushered into Dunellen with but little out of the ordinary enthusiasm, the citizens being content to watch its approach quietly or else participate in the celebrations in other places. A large number from the borough took the trip to New York for the purpose of witnessing the display at which they were greatly pleased. At home the only watch meeting held collectively was that of Court Dunellen, I. O. F. By various means the members whiled the early hours of the evening away and greeted the new year and Twentieth Century with great enthusiasm. It was long past midnight before the celebrants retired to their respective homes after renewing vows for keeping the new year.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wynkoop was the scene of a pleasant gathering Monday evening at which the hours were whiled away in whist playing. At the conclusion of the games refreshments were passed and the remainder of the time before midnight was spent in sociability.

Walter Brokaw has resigned his position with Henry Wiedenhaupt and taken a similar one with Charles Thorp in the Liable building. His place at Wiedenhaupt's has been taken by N. B. Snell.

Charles Davis and family left today for Pittsburg, Pa., where they will make their home, Mr. Davis having business interests in that city.

Mrs. William Winnes, who recently recovered from a long illness, suffered a relapse Monday and is again confined to her bed.

George Doty, of Greenbrook, and Herbert Moore, of the borough, are two of the latest sufferers from the grip.

Mrs. Josephine Dunham and Wm. Dunham and family spent yesterday with Alexander Hunt, of Westfield.

H. L. Terry and family, of Westfield, were the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Terry, yesterday.

Arthur Giddis, of Port Richmond, S. I., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Giddis, yesterday.

Miss Lizzie Hunt has gone to Brooklyn for a few days' visit with friends.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, Jan. 2—Emile Bobonritch, an employe of Adam Greeser, met with a painful, if not serious, accident while gunning Monday morning. Armed with a double barreled muzzle loading gun, he sallied out in search of a rabbit he had seen in the rear of the Greeser place. The rabbit was discovered and taking aim Bobonritch pulled the trigger. As he did so the charge exploded and his left hand was nearly blown off. Three fingers were badly mangled while the palm was filled with pieces of steel and grains of shot. He hurried to Dr. Nelson's soon after the accident and had the injury dressed. The hand is so badly torn that it is a question whether the fingers or the hand itself can be saved from amputation.

The G. E. Club turned out in full numbers Monday evening at the home of Miss Mamie Garretson, where, with songs and music, the hours were whiled away until the new year came in.

Alexander Herlick and Miss Katie Herlick, of Warrenville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers, Monday.

John Wood, of Dunellen, has resumed his position at the Hotel Nelson after several months absence.

Z. P. Osmun and son, Alfred, attended a family gathering at South Orange yesterday.

James Day, of Elizabeth, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Day, Monday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 2—While no regular programme had been arranged in town to see the passing of the old century, still the boys celebrated the affair in their own particular way. At the strike of midnight, guns, horns and everything that could make a noise, were brought from there hiding places and it is needless to say the quiet living residents of the village did not enjoy much sleep until after 1 o'clock.

The clay bird shoot held in the rear of Lee's Hotel yesterday afternoon was a success in every way. Quite a number of the trap shooters participated in the shoot and some very good scores were made by the amateurs. No prizes were offered, as the affair was arranged for pleasure only.

Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., will entertain their friends at a farewell sociable in their rooms tomorrow evening at the close of a short business meeting. Admission will be by invitation.

The storm of Monday spoiled the skating on the lakes in the valley much to the regret of those who had anticipated a day's pleasure on the ice for New Year's.

Landlord Anderson held raffling for turkeys, ducks and chickens at the Scotch Plains Hotel, New Year's Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Stewart Hest, of New York, were the guests yesterday of the Misses Hayes, of the borough.

Mr. Graff, who has been spending New Year's with his parents at Elizabeth, has returned home.

Horace Hand, of Plainfield, spent New Year's with his grand mother, Mrs. Jacob V. Coles.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, Jan. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brantingham's home was the scene of a New Year's party Monday night. Those present were Miss Gussie Clawson, Harvey Clawson, Miss Hattie Elliot, Howard Elliot, Lewis Randolph, Miss May Bunting, Miss Nellie Manning, Harry Manning, Miss Georgie Brantingham, the Misses Carry, the Misses Edna and Nellie Van Nest, Adam Dilter, Miss Carrie Dayton, Jessie Dayton and James H. Cubberley. Refreshments were served and games indulged in until an early hour.

Jack Dorgan has secured the agency for a news-stand to be placed at the Lehigh Valley railroad depot. The stand will be built next week.

A shoot, which took place yesterday near Samptown, was attended by some of our local sportsmen. Clay pigeons served as targets.

Raymond Randolph, of Metuchen, spent yesterday at the home of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Riley are rejoicing over the arrival of a son.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

It has been conceded that "Hearts of the Blue Ridge," which will be at Music Hall Monday of next week, is an excellent play and has made a decided success, but the credit must not be all given to the play. Dorothy Lewis, the charming "Missy" of the play, is entitled to a great deal of credit because of her almost perfect rendition of a difficult part. "Missy" is the daughter of old Sim Carter, a typical mountaineer, and between the Carters and the Reynolds there exists a feud, one of those terrible customs of the locality, which involve the whole family. "Missy" is in love with Bob Reynolds, the son of her father's enemy, and the trials she undergoes in endeavoring to choose between love and duty are of absorbing interest. Miss Lewis in the exacting role is a revelation, giving a flawless portrayal of a simple hearted high minded child of the mountains who accomplishes the termination of the feud by her own trust in love.

AT BOY'S CLUB.

After an Enjoyable Entertainment the Members Watched the Old Year Out.

New Year's Eve at the Boy's Club was observed with the usual entertainment which the boys always look forward to with great pleasure. The talent was drawn from the club. There were a large number of the friends of the members on hand and they were witnesses of one of the finest vaudeville and gymnastic entertainments the boys have yet produced.

The vaudeville part of the programme included Ernest Chatelain, black face comedian; Frank Shepherd, baton exercise; Ira Pangborn, vocalist; Condit and Hill, buck and clog dancers; O'Loughlin and McCue the jolly comedians; Bert Hansen, contortionist. The gymnastic performers were Pope, Chatelain and O'Loughlin, trapeze artists; Hansen and Snediker, acrobats; Hermann and Boyd, swinging ropes.

Every number on the programme was rendered in a most creditable manner and the performers were greeted with frequent applause.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments were served to the club members after which a roaring fire was built in the large open fire place and, reclining on rugs, the boys watched the embers and the old year die out simultaneously.

OUR RESOLUTIONS---NO CHANGE.

The commencement of a new year—and especially that of a new century, as Father Time noted yesterday, and the whole world pays heed to—stirs the mind to consider the past, and to try and fathom the future. It is a job that ends with considering the past. What the future will bring forth no one is able to tell. And yet, in business the tradesmen may say that "as we have done in the past so shall we do in the future." That is where we stand today—just over the threshold of the new century. We have no new resolutions to make, for our business methods in the Twentieth Century will be the same as the days of the Nineteenth Century witnessed us practicing. Briefly summarized they are: Careful judgment in the purchase of stock—quality the best, style the latest and price the lowest; study of the needs and desires of our patrons; courteous treatment of our customers by our employes, and a constant effort to keep in touch with all the latest ideas that prevail in the lines of goods we handle. We believe we have accomplished this in the past—in fact, our success is an emphatic endorsement of it—and it is our firm determination to pursue the same policy as long as we are in business.

Clearing Sale of Winter Garments.

The first week in January of every year always finds us inaugurating a clearing sale of our winter garments—goods that must now be disposed of in a short time to keep our stock clear of unseasonable articles. The winter has been a mild one, but the prophets predict that we will see several weeks of extremely cold weather yet. For the buyer who desires to take advantage of this condition of affairs we offer some splendid inducements. Here are some of them:

Sixty of one lot of all-wool melton jackets, black and other colors. These garments are substantially made in the prevailing shapes—styles that will be popular for several seasons. Lined with mercerized sateen. A quality that have been costing $7.50. Our price for this sale is - - 4.98

The swellest thing a lady can wear this year is an automobile jacket. We have sold many of this line this winter, but still have a few that must go at greatly reduced prices, as follows:

13.98 reduced from 20.00
8.98 reduced from 14.00

A desirable selection of misses' and children's auto jackets and reefers are on sale at mark-down prices. Also a selection of walking coats that have been reduced one-third in price. These garments, in many instances, are being sold by us for less than the manufacturers' price.

Rainy-Day Skirts

The rainy-day or walking skirts are considered an almost indispensible garment by every woman who has worn one. In winter weather, particularly, they are most serviceable. We have a special line of these skirts that cannot be excelled by any store in the State, or in New York either. For instance:

An all-wool rainy-day skirt, of stand the-wear cloth, excellently made, for - - - 2.98

An all-wool double faced cheviot skirt, deep facing, with ten rows of stitching, for - - 5.98

A new line just put on sale, large number to select from, made of all wool shrunken cheviot, heavy weight, deep facing, with eight rows of stitching, for - - 3.75

A double-faced golf suiting skirt, deep facing and stitching, for 5.00

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Schweiz.

Bern. Dr. E. Brenner von Basel, der Vizepräsident des Schweizer Bundesrathes, ist zum Präsidenten der Schweiz für das Jahr 1901 gewählt worden, als Nachfolger Walther Hausers von Zürich. Auf Dr. J. Zemp von Luzern, Departementschef für das Post- und Eisenbahnwesen, fiel die Wahl als Vizepräsident.—Der durch seine praktischen und deshalb viel gekauften Milchwagen für Käsereien bekannte Schlossermeister Friedrich Tenner in Langenthal ist gestorben.

Zürich. Das Schwurgericht in Winterthur erklärte den Dienstknecht Johannes Wellauer aus Kalthäusern schuldig, die Scheune der Pflegeanstalt Rheinau angezündet zu haben. Das Urtheil lautete auf sechs Jahre Zuchthaus und zehn Jahre Einstellung im Aktivbürgerrecht.

Basel. Das Ehepaar Dr. Martin Burckhardt in His feierte seine diamantene Hochzeit.

Graubünden. Beim Bau des neuen Konviktgebäudes bei der Kantonsschule in Chur wurden Gletscherschliffe, Spuren von Gletschermühlen und Moränen entdeckt, ein Beweis mehr für die Hypothese, daß einst das Rheinthal vergletschert war.

Thurgau. Der Strike der Schifflistickerei der Firma Heine in Arbon wurde nach fünfwöchentlicher Dauer beendigt. Die Firma acceptirte die Lohnzahlung von 65 und 70 Rappen.

Tessin. Zwei in einer Kiesgrube bei Morges beschäftigte Arbeiter, Charles Garin und Louis Zahlen, wurden von einer herabfallenden Sandmenge verschüttet. Während es gelang, Garin noch lebend unter dem Sande hervorzuziehen, war Zahlen bereits erstickt.

Waadt. Die Sektion Waadt der Gesellschaft für Verbreitung guter Schriften hat den Beschluß gefaßt, zum Andenken an den Waadtländer Philosophen Charles Secretan ein Monument zu errichten. Ein Komite wurde mit den Vorarbeiten betraut.

Provinz Posen.

Bromberg. Der aus dem hiesigen städtischen Lazareth ausgebrochene Fahrraddieb Moses hatte sich von hier nach Berlin gewandt, wo er aber wieder festgenommen und dem Gefängniß zu Plötzensee einverleibt wurde.

Meseritz. Anläßlich der Wahlen im hiesigen Kreise waren allerhand Wahlkuriosa zu verzeichnen. In einem Dorfe bei Meseritz hatte der Wahlvorstand den Wahlakten eine auf 7 Mark 50 Pfennige lautende Rechnung für Speisen und Getränke beigelegt, die bei der Wahl vertilgt worden waren. In Tirschtiegel hatten die Antisemiten das Gerücht ausgesprengt, daß jeder für ihren Kandidaten stimmende Arbeiter von Staatswegen ein Stück Ackers erhalte.

Provinz Ostpreußen.

Liebemühl. Die Sattlermeister Kleinert'schen und Rentier Groß'schen Eheleute feierten das Fest der goldenen Hochzeit. Bei der Feier schilderte der Vorsitzende des Kriegervereins, Oberförster Wiebecke, in einer Rede die Betheiligung der Jubilare an den Kämpfen von 1848 und ihrer Söhne an dem Feldzuge von 1870 auf 1871, aus dem der eine nicht mehr, der andere als Krüppel heimkehrte.

Pillkallen. In der Generalversammlung des Vorschußvereins wurde der Geschäftsbericht pro drei Quartale veröffentlicht, woraus hervorgeht, daß das Geschäft sich wiederum vergrößert hat, indem der Gesammtumsatz von 15,500,000 Mark im gleichen Zeitraume des Vorjahres auf 16,500,000 Mark gestiegen ist. Die Mitgliederzahl hat sich von 1303 auf 1373 erhöht.

Provinz Westpreußen.

Danzig. Die Stadtverordneten nahmen einstimmig eine auf Grund längerer Verhandlung mit der Staatsregierung eingebrachte Magistratsvorlage an, welche aus städtischen Mitteln 1,900,000 Mark bereit stellt zu einem größeren Hafenerweiterungsprojekt, für welches der Staat, das Reich und die Gemeinde je ein Drittel der Kosten übernehmen, während die Eisenbahnverwaltung auf eigene Kosten eine Bahnverbindung mit den neuen Anlagen, auf 2,000,000 Mark veranschlagt, herstellen wird.

Graudenz. Aus dem Graudenzer Zuchthause sind neulich Abends zwei schwere Verbrecher, Franz Woiczichowski und Martin Mukowski, nach Durchsägung der Eisensprossen mit Hilfe einer selbstgefertigten Leiter entwichen.

Marienwerder. Der Minister hat die zum Umbau der Weichselstädtebahn in eine Vollbahn erforderlichen Mittel nunmehr bereit gestellt. Die Danziger Eisenbahndirektion hat mit den Vorarbeiten bereits begonnen.

A Pennsylvania farmer, living in Walker township, Juniata County, recently underwent a pretty severe ordeal. "I was bothered with sick headache," he says, "so bad that I used to have to quit work and lie in bed for a day at a time." He believes that dyspepsia was at the bottom of the trouble; but whatever it was he declares: "I must say of Ripans Tabules that they cured me. Since I used them I am not bothered with headache or dizziness any more. I would not be without them. They made me feel like a different man."

THE NEW WOMAN
BY ELISA ARCHARD CONNER

If a poor young woman wishes to pay her own way through college by her work, the United States is the place to do it. When I have told people in England that it was not at all uncommon for both young women and men to earn the money to send themselves to college, these persons were very much surprised. They told me the thing would not be possible in Great Britain. There the poor are so very poor that the prospect of rising in the social scale by their own exertion is practically hopeless. I asked several persons if they had never known over there a young woman to work her way through college. They said they never had. Then with true Yankee pride I told them of the instances I had known of that kind in my country. Years ago I was very well acquainted with a brainy, well born girl who raised a crop of tobacco to foot a year's bills in college. It was in a middle northern state. Her father was a great landowner, but he would not give his daughter money to get a liberal education. She resolved to get it herself and did so. All the work on that tobacco patch except plowing up the ground she did with her own hands, which were all the stronger and more capable for it, and not even silly people thought any the less of her. In this instance at least tobacco was a good thing. I have lately read of a girl who is paying for her college course by bee keeping. She has studied the habits of the bees and found they are not apt to sting persons who are not afraid of them. In summer she gives up half her time to this fascinating work. She makes her own frames and boxes, thus showing that a woman can use carpenter's tools and use them well. She has the improved hives and machinery for her business and is making a good thing out of it. It will not be surprising either after the young lady shall have thus ingeniously wafted herself through a college course by means of her bees and honey that she will find there is more profit in still sticking to the business than in becoming a doctor or otherwise entering on a professional course. Mankind likes honey better than medicine.

Did you ever hear of the woman who made a fortune in the restaurant business by placing at the front door of her place a sign bearing in large letters the words, "No Home Cooking Here?"

A new profession for woman has sprung up. It is that of love editor on a daily newspaper. The love editor takes charge of all affairs of the heart for sentimental young women in distress. Since nearly all young women are sentimental, the profession must be a lucrative one. Lately one of these mourning young female souls wrote and asked the love editor what to do in the case of difference in theology between sweethearts. One was Catholic, the other Protestant. The young man would not marry the girl unless she adopted his faith, which about broke her heart, for she did not wish to change her religion because, mark you the reason, "because my folks would object." That religious faith which is dependent on one's "folks" must have struck very deep indeed. It is like that of the cook who said in regard to her theology, "I changes my religion to suit them as I lives with."

And now it has been discovered that a woman wrote one of the books of the New Testament, the epistle to the Hebrews. Professor Harnack of Berlin, one of the most distinguished Biblical scholars of the time, gives it as his unqualified opinion that this epistle was written by Priscilla, mentioned as a gifted and holy coworker even by Paul, who in general seems not to have had much of an opinion of women.

Three hundred schoolboys were asked for a written answer to this question, "Would you rather be a man or a woman and why?" Of the entire 300 only two preferred to be women, one because "the female sex is good without any trouble, but it is hard for the male sex to be good." The second boy wanted to be a woman because "women have more sense than men." Both these answers are to be commended to the attention of the masculine sex. On the other hand, of 300 girls who were asked the same question 35 per cent wished to be men. One of these desired it because "men can vote and talk politics."

A young woman medical student, Miss Grace Norris, has discovered the bacillus of the "pip" chicken disease. Well, of course! There is and always has been a peculiar sympathy between women and hens.

Did you know there is no law anywhere compelling a woman to work? A Chicago judge in a recent case calls attention to this fact and decides from it that a woman cannot be punished for vagrancy. The prisoner in the case was therefore discharged. She was defended by a woman lawyer, Kate Kane Rosso. So that a woman cannot be a vagrant. Furthermore, have you noticed that no one ever calls a woman a scamp, a scoundrel or a rascal? These choice epithets are applicable to men only.

THE YOKUT INDIANS.

Once They Were All-Powerful on the Pacific Coast.

Now Only a Few of the Race Are Left, and These Are Being Cared For on the Tule River Reservation.

[Special Los Angeles Letter.]

THE recent census has already shown that California has made marvelous advances in population during the last decade. But no census that can ever be taken at this day can reveal the numbers of the aboriginal population that once owned the Sierras and other mountain ranges, the foothills, the banks of the many rivers, the fertile valleys, the seashore and the islands of the Land of the Setting Sun. The figures that the most conservative estimates afford of this population 50 or 75 years ago are simply astounding to those who are familiar only with the aboriginal population of the cold and bleak eastern regions, or the wide stretches of arid desert in the heart of the continent. There can be no question but that at one time California had an Indian population of upwards of a million souls, and they were abundantly provided for in the fertile valleys, the well-stocked rivers and lakes, and the forests and plains where roamed deer, antelope, rabbits, "coons," and the sage hen, quail, dove, wild turkey and other game birds abounded.

Bt as civilization advanced the Indian was driven backwards. The California Indian has nothing to thank the white man for. The latter has given the former no new virtues, but has educated him in many vices which have demoralized and slain him. Of the teeming thousands of happy Indians which the white man found here in the "days of '49" none but a few scattered remnants exist, and many of these are degraded, drunken, besotted wretches, who, thank God, will soon be unable to perpetuate their species.

The major portion of the remaining Indians are gathered together on reservations set apart for them by executive order, and during the past summer I have been visiting those reservations that are located south of San Francisco, down as far as the Mexican line.

TULE RIVER INDIAN GRAVEYARD.

Riding out 20 miles from Porterville, which is in Tulare county, the Tule River Indian reservation is reached. Here dwell the few families that remain of the once powerful and populous Zokut nation. This nation, a hundred years ago, owned all the land from the Fresno river on the south to the Tehachapi range on the south, and from the summit of the Sierra Nevada on the east to the western portion of the great San Joaquin valley.

About that time their territory was invaded and their nation divided into two parts by an encroachment as historically interesting as any that is agitating the minds of the nonexpansionists of to-day. The struggle for existence is often felt by wild savage peoples as much as by civilized races, and the Apaches and Paiutis, of Nevada and Arizona, were, at this time, under that dreadful pressure. The arid wastes, sage-brush deserts and alkali plains failed to afford them even the most meager sustenance, and they sought a new country where food could more surely be obtained.

AN OLD YOKUT INDIAN.

Hitherto they had deemed the mighty barrier raised by the majestic Sierra Nevada sufficient to deter them from encroaching upon the territory of the happy and thriving Californias, but now, urged on by that dread demon, hunger, and whipped by the reckless spirit of despair, they sought the passes north and south, and soon gained entrance to what was to them, as much as to the pioneers of '49, a veritable "land of promise, flowing with milk and honey." Pouring in through Walker's and other passes near Mount Whitney, they gradually gained a secure footing, and won for themselves King's river, Kern river, Kern lake, Poso creek and other favored spots in the heart of Yokut territory. Thus, in a few years, was found the singular spectacle of the two portions of this once-powerful Yokut race, kept apart by the presence of an alien and foreign tribe—the Paiutis—who from that day, until they succumbed to the vices of the whites, held securely to the territory they had gained. So that now, as one wanders from Fort Tejon on the south to Fresno river on the north, he finds Yokuts and Paiutis, now living in peace and concord, occasionally intermarried, the days of former conflict between them almost entirely forgotten.

Strange and peculiar people are the remnants of these two tribes as found to-day on the Tule river reservation, still chinging to many of their old habits, customs and superstitions. Walking up the creek the other day I found a number of their bird traps, left over from last year, and, therefore, in a dilapidated condition. But enough remained to show how the birds were snared. I got one of the Indians to come to show me. A small level spot is made, by building it up, if necessary, by the side of an attractive piece of water where doves, quail and such like birds are in the habit of coming. Just in the rear of this level spot of ground willows are arched over so that a man can crawl underneath them and be perfectly hidden from view. Then, scattering a quantity of grain on the level spot, the hidden Indian thrusts out from his lair a stick, on the end of which a string of gut or sinew is tied. This string is looped and so fastened to the stick that its other end is in the hand of the Indian. Now he waits, as silently as only an Indian can. By and by the birds, seeing the seed, alight and begin to feed. One of them places his foot in the loop. In a moment the watchful Indian draws the string tight. The foot is imprisoned. The bird flutters, but cannot escape. Soon it settles down. The other birds, frightened away for a moment, seeing their companion still at the feeding place, return. Another stick is put out and another bird caught, and once well started, the hunter draws them in, one by one at a satisfactory rate of speed, and soon secures enough for his family's table for a week.

Their burying ground is the strangest I have seen in the state. The graves are marked with crosses, but each cross is perched up high on a stick, so that they seem to be on stilts. Each year—on All Soul's day—all these crosses are taken from their stilts and placed in a certain house. The people gather from all parts of the reservation, and at a certain hour one of the men, who acts as a kind of lay minister, takes one of the crosses and brings it to where the people are assembled. Everyone seems to recognize it, but, whether they do or not, all join in a sad and wild wail which continues for several minutes. Then the cross is laid aside and another one brought. It is wailed over in the same manner and placed aside. Then, in turn, all the crosses are wailed over, and when night comes they are carried back to the graveyard to be renailed to their stilts in the morning.

G. WHARTON JAMES.

MADAME BONAPARTE'S SCORN

She Preferred Hiding Under an Eagle's Wing to Hanging from a Gosling's Neck.

Writing of the romance of Elizabeth Patterson and Jerome Bonaparte, after the annulment of their marriage by Napoleon I., William Perrine, in Ladies' Home Journal, says that "toward her expatriated husband Elizabeth exhibited nothing but contempt—a contempt which in part she expressed for all Bonapartes, whom she condemned as a "mean family," excepting always the one who had ruthlessly torn Jerome from her. But of Napoleon she never ceased to speak reverently as a man of genius, whose relatives were unworthy the blood of the brilliant conqueror. She refused to accept from her husband as king of Westphalia the title of Princess Schmalcalden and a dower of 200,000 francs, and when Jerome professed not to understand why she rejected his offer and yet allowed a smaller pension to be bestowed upon her by his brother, the emperor, she sarcastically exclaimed: 'I prefer to hide under an eagle's wing rather than hang from the neck of a gosling.'

"Again Jerome exposed himself to her sneering reproach when, having proposed that she might have a home in Westphalia, she sent back the reply: 'Your kingdom is large, but not large enough for two queens.' It was only once that the disunited couple saw each other again, and then no word passed between them. One day Jerome was walking with his new wife in the gallery of the Pitti Palace, at Florence, when Mme. Bonaparte came upon the scene. When he recognized her Jerome hurriedly whispered to his Catherine, as Elizabeth silently walked on: 'That lady is my former wife.' He took care not to tarry in the gallery, and the next morning left the city."

The Passing of the BIG TREES of California

Some Facts About the Giants That the Government Is Now Trying to Save

A SENATORIAL committee is now investigating the subject of the big trees of California and their rapid destruction by lumbermen. These giants of the forest are a distinctive American species and are found only along the Pacific coast, where they constitute one of the sights for which tourists travel hundreds of miles. But without government protection they will soon have passed away, for the woodman's ax is wreaking destruction among them, and the massive trunks that have stood for centuries are being rapidly turned into lumber to meet the demands of commerce.

Residents of California trust that a way of saving them may be found; that the groves in which they are located may all pass into the hands of the government as national parks. There are but ten of these groves, and the trees they contain are the oldest living things in the world, and of these ten groves but one is fully protected by government ownership. The majority of the others are owned by private interests and the great trees are being cut into lumber by 40 sawmills. Even the lumbermen are not averse to the saving of the trees, though they desire pay for their holdings. From a commercial point of view they are not profitable timber because of the enormous waste in cutting them. When one falls it is sure to break because of its great height and weight, and even after it is down the waste has but begun, for it must be worked in transportable shape by the use of dynamite, and this again destroys much of the timber by splintering it.

The people of California are anxious that the noble giants should be allowed to stand and that the government should own them, and that seems the only solution for the problem if they are not to be destroyed by the woodman's ax.

Before the glacial period the genus of big trees called sequoia flourished widely in the temperate zones of three continents. There were many species, and Europe, Asia and America had each its share. But when the ice fields moved down out of the north the luxuriant vegetation of the age declined, and with it these multitudes of trees. One after another the different kinds gave way, their remains became buried, and when the ice receded just two species, the big tree and redwood, survived. Both grew in California, each separate from the other, and each occupying, in comparison with its former territory, a mere island of space. As we know them now, the redwood lives only in a narrow strip of coast ranges 10 to 30 miles wide, extending from just within the southern border of Oregon to the Bay of Monterey, while the big tree is found only in small groves scattered along the west slope of the Sierra Nevada mountains, from the middle fork of the American river to the head of Deer creek, a distance of 260 miles. The utmost search reveals but ten main groups, and the total number of sizable trees in these groups must be limited to figures in the thousands. It is, moreover, the plain truth that all the specimens which are remarkable for their size do not exceed 500.

The big trees are unique in the world—the grandest, the largest, the oldest, the most majestically graceful of trees—and, if it were not enough to be all this, they are among the scarcest of known tree species and have the extreme scientific value of being the best living representatives of a former geologic age. It is a tree which has come down to us through the vicissitudes of many centuries solely because of its superb qualifications. Its bark is often two feet thick and almost incombustible. The oldest specimens felled are still sound at the heart, and fungus is an enemy unknown to it. Yet with all these means of maintenance the big trees have apparently not increased their range since the glacial epoch. They have only just managed to hold their own on the little strip of country where the climate is locally favorable.

At the present time the only grove thoroughly safe from destruction is the Mariposa, and this is far from being the most interesting. Most of the other groves are either in process of, or in danger of, being logged. The very finest of all, the Calaveras grove, with the biggest and tallest trees, the most uncontaminated surroundings and practically all the literary and scientific associations of the species connected with it, has been purchased recently by a lumberman who came into full possession on the 1st of April, 1900. The Sequoia and General Grant national parks, which are supposed to embrace and give security to a large part of the remaining big trees, are eaten into by a sawmill each, and by private timber claims amounting to a total of 1,172.87 acres. The rest of the scanty patches of big trees are in a fair way to disappear—in Calaveras, Tuolumne, Fresno and Tulare counties they are now disappearing—by the ax. In brief, the majority of the big trees of California, certainly the best of them, are owned by people who have every right, and in many cases every intention, to cut them into lumber.

The Calaveras grove was the first one discovered, having been found in 1841 by John Bidwell, afterward candidate for member of congress from California. Just how and when the other groves of big trees were found is difficult to determine. As early as 1864 Prof. Brewer, of Yale, and a party from the California geological survey visited the Calaveras and Mariposa groves and also several big tracts in the region of Kings river, and by 1870 the majority of big trees had been located.

THE WORK OF THE AX ON ONE OF THE CALIFORNIA GIANTS.

The extreme age attained by the big tree is still an unsettled question. Statements on the subject vary considerably, some appearing to be exaggerations. One great difficulty, however, in settling the question of age, at least for existing trees, is the lack of a proper number of trunk sections on which to count the rings of annual growth, thus giving unquestionable data on age.

Ring countings from prostrate and burned or decayed trunks and sections of trees felled for other purposes than ring counting have largely furnished the basis of the age estimates made so far, and from these countings age estimates have been made for trees of other sizes which could not of course be cut down.

These generalizations not being based on ring countings from a series of trunk sections representing the full range in diameter of all trees now known, the statements as to the extreme age possible for these trees are necessarily approximate. It is the opinion of Mr. Hutchings that the average rate of growth is one inch in diameter for every 12 years, which would make a tree 25 feet through 3,600 years old. Mr. Muir's observations also roughly corroborate this theory.

The ownership of the big tree timber lands of California is divided among the state, the federal government and private individuals.

Private holdings include by far the greater part of the big trees, and, except some groves in Tulare county, they are held by sawmill or logging companies.

MARRIED LAST YEAR.

Pretty Ceremony Took Place in Borough During Last Few Hours of Old Century.

Miss Ethel, eldest daughter of Mrs. Mary Conkey, of 79 Summit avenue, and William T. French, Jr., of this city, were married at the home of the bride's mother at 8 o'clock Monday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Dorwood, pastor of the Baptist church of Stelton, in the presence of the relatives and a few immediate friends.

The bridal couple stood under a floral bell of evergreens and roses. Miss Georgie Clark, of Roselle, was bridemaid and Lovergne Conkey, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride's gown was white nun's veiling, trimmed with lace. She carried bridal roses. The bridemaid was dressed in pink organdie with overskirt of pink silk. She carried pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. French received many handsome presents. The groom is employed at the cash register works at Bound Brook.

After the ceremony and a wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. French left for a wedding trip to New York city.

Pure Milk.

It is very desirable and essential that you know that the milk used in your home is absolutely pure and wholesome, from cows that are kept in well-ventilated and clean stables, fed on wholesome feed. Such milk is advertised by William Lindsay & Son, of Mountain avenue. They deliver milk direct from farm in bottles or tin cans. A postal card will be answered promptly.

Song Service at Hospital.

A half-hour song service was held at Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the local union of Christian Endeavor. Miss Ernestine Smith, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church society, was in charge and there was a goodly number of Endeavorers present. They were given a cordial greeting at the hospital and the patients enjoyed the service very much.

Department Officers Expected.

The installation of the officers of the Woman's Relief Corps will take place next Friday evening. Several Department officers are expected to be present, also the Sons of Veterans and G. A. R.

Grand Dictator to Be Present.

Tomorrow evening Senate Lodge, Knights of Honor, will receive a visit from their grand dictator, George E Tooker, who will bear an important message to the members of the lodge.

PASTOR RECEIVED.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Richards Gave Reception to The Congregation of Crescent Ave. Church Yesterday.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Richards, of East Front street, gave the usual New Year's Day reception at their home yesterday from 4 to 7 o'clock to the members and friends of the Crescent Avenue church, and it was largely attend. The affair was very informal. The home was prettily decorated with a profusion of flowers, roses and pinks.

Dr. and Mrs. Richards were assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. W. Howland, Mrs. D. N. Groendyke, Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney, Mrs. H R. Munger, Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman, while those who served in the dining room were Miss Richards, of Orange; Miss Wood, Miss Goddard, Mrs. H M. Humphrey, Mrs. Lucius Ryce, Miss Halloway, Mrs. Innerarity.

Danced Old Year Out.

Friends to the number of thirty from this city, New York, New Rochelle and Somerville met at the home of Miss Gertrude Tier on Bank place Monday evening and danced the old year out. Besides dancing the occasion was made still more enjoyable by vocal selections from the O. B. Joyful quartette, and piano selections by Herbert Hokey, of Cranford. At midnight all present partook of a bounteous collation after which the young people exchanged New Year's greetings and departed for their various homes.

Senator Kean's Reception.

United States Senator John Kean gave a reception at his home in Elizabeth yesterday at which were present many of the prominent Republicans from all over the State. Plainfield was well represented. Among those present from this city were Senator Charles A. Reed, Ernest B. Ackerman, Robert Rushmore, Andrew McCardell, City Collector Frank H. Smith, William Newcorn and Former Assemblyman Roger F. Murray.

Odd Fellows Elected Officers.

Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I O. O. F., met Monday evening and elected the following officers: Noble grand, A. L. Case; vice grand, H. DeMott; recording secretary, R. J. Neal; financial secretary, J. D. Brown; treasurer, J. P. Allis. There was a large attendance including visiting brothers from Whitehouse and Philadelphia lodges. The installations will be made early next month.

Blown to Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. Only 25c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

To Light New Bridge.

Through the efforts of Mayor Smalley an electric light is being placed at the north end of the new Duer street bridge, the poles for the same having been erected Monday. Boroughites declare that the city should also have an electric light suspended from the Madison avenue side.

Midnight Services.

The midnight services at St. Stephen's Episcopal church Monday night were attended by a large congregation. The music was excellent and much enjoyed. Rev. Floyd Appleton, curate at Grace Episcopal church, delivered the sermon.

Will Install Next Week.

The newly elected officers of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will be installed next week Tuesday evening. There will be an entertainment and the Sons of Veterans and Woman's Relief Corps will be invited.

MAYOR JENKINS.

Formally Assumed Office of Mayor of Plainfield Yesterday at Noon.

It is now Mayor Jenkins. The keys of the office were delivered to Plainfield's new executive yesterday at noon, when he entered upon the duties of the office at once. During the day the new official received the hearty congratulations of his many friends and all wished him a happy New Year.

Former Mayor Rockfellow, who turned over the keys, was among the first to extend congratulations, and the new Mayor thanked all for the kind expressions offered.

As yet Mayor Jenkins has had no official duties to perform and he has not yet decided just what course he will pursue concerning city matters. No doubt his course will be outlined in a message to the new Common Council.

Funeral of Mrs. Trust.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. August O. Trust were held from the residence of her sister in Third street, Brooklyn, last evening, and interment took place this morning in Greenwood cemetery. Several Plainfielders attended the service, including A. M. Griffin, J. G. McLaughlin, W. L. Smalley, Jr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Smalley, William Trust and several others.

Voehl's Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Voehl, of Somerset street, tendered a reception to their children and grandchildren last evening. Dancing was the feature of the affair. Prof. Frazee and Tony Creiger furnished the music. At midnight refreshments were served, after which the guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Voehl a happy New Year.

Last Christmas Entertainment.

The last of the Christmas entertainments to be held will take place in the First Church of Christ this evening. In addition to old Santa Claus himself, Mrs. Santa Claus and the Misses Santa Claus will be present and assist in the festivities. There will also be recitations and dialogues as usually given at such affairs.

Will Remember It.

Monday evening will be a memorable one to Harry G. Adams, of East Front street, as he was given a complete surprise by thirty friends who called to assist in his birthday anniversary. Mr. Adams was equal to the occasion, however, and regaining his composure joined heartily in playing parlor games. The evening passed very pleasantly.

House Party at C. J. Fisk's.

There has been a house party of young people at the home of Former Mayor and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk over New Year's. The sons were home from college and entertained their friend, Mr. Black, of New York. Other guests were Miss Clauson, of New York, Miss Johnson, of Washington, and Miss Fisk, of Trenton.

No Meeting on Account of Holiday.

On account of yesterday being a holiday the Sons of Veterans did not hold a meeting last evening to install officers. This will be held on Tuesday evening, January 15, when a good time will be provided for the members and friends. Invitations will be extended to the G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps.

Hand Was Crushed.

Caspar Stadley, an employe of the Scott Press Works, caught his right hand in a piece of machinery while at work last Monday and the first finger and small portion of the hand was crushed before assistance could be rendered. A local physician treated the injury and hopes to save the hand.

Sudden Death of Relative.

M. C. Dobbins, of Elmwood place, received word Saturday from Indianapolis, telling him of the sudden death of his cousin, Mrs. Mary Elster. Her death was due to contagious disease, and burial was made the day following her death, which was last Thursday.

Lively House Party.

A party of young people were guests at the home of O. T. Waring, of Park avenue, for part of the holiday week. The house party included Miss Roe, of New York, Miss Kelley, of Cleveland, Augustus Ireland, of New York, and Raymond Lefferts, of New York, besides the young people of the family.

Entertained Zeta Psi.

Israel C. Pierson, of Watchung avenue, entertained members of the Zeta Psi fraternity from this city and New York at his home Monday evening, when the departure of the old year and the arrival of the new was watched in pleasant fashion. It was a stag affair.

Funeral of Mr. Hughes.

The funeral of the late Thomas J. Hughes took place at 9 o'clock this morning from St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, where a requiem mass was said. The interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Long Island.

School Begins Tomorrow.

The public schools of the city and borough will open for the winter term tomorrow morning. Nearly all the teachers who have spent their vacations at home have returned, ready to again assume their duties.

GOOD SHOW AT MUSIC HALL.

GREAT CROWDS SAW BENNETT-MOULTON CO'S. PERFORMANCES.

Company Which Is In Plainfield This Week, Is Very Satisfactory—Good Actors and Fine Specialties.

Never in the history of the Stillman Music Hall have so many people turned out to witness any theatrical company as have to see the Bennett-Moulton Company. At every performance extra chairs have been necessary and every bit of standing room has been at a premium, while many turned away who were unable to gain admittance.

Too much praise and flattery cannot be accorded this very fine company. Nothing is lacking and every one who has attended this entertainment has left the theatre with perfect satisfaction.

"Darkest Russia," the initial performance, was presented in a grand and sumptuous manner, and every play since has received the same attention and rendered as adequately. Of the company every member is an artist in his or her respective line. Lawrence Brooke is a manly and forcible actor, who leaves an impression on everyone. Charles Landie is a comedian of unction and does a singing act, that calls forth vociferious applause. Cliff C. Storch, Thornton Friel, Arthur A. Griffin, Jos. H. Thayer, Geo. K. Robinson, all do fine work.

Marion Frances is especially clever doing a line of characters that would tax the versatility of any actress. Laura Thomson also shows the same amount of ability, and Adelaide Nye is a lady who has won the hearts of all. Of the orchestra and specialties too much praise cannot be bestowed. Madam Flower, the Bronze Melba, is a great favorite, and renders several songs in a style that stamps her an artist of the first water.

The acrobats, who do the house act known as the Partellos, do an act that is interesting from beginning to end and keep the audience in good humor all the time. Other specialties are done by Herbert Powers, Charles Landie and Beatrice Lavigne which are also good.

On Thursday night a grand amateur contest will be given when any amateurs in Plainfield will have a chance to show what they can do. A prize of five dollars in gold will be awarded to the best act. Matinees will be given every day. On Friday evening a grand combination photo of every member of the company will be given to every lady. Tonight "Wicked London" will be given and tomorrow "Darkest Russia" will be repeated at the matinee.

AN OLD ORDER.

Howell Division Celebrated Its Thirty-Second Anniversary.

One of the merriest gatherings that assembled Monday evening to see the old century out and the new century in was that of Howell Division, No. 97, Sons of Temperance, who in conjunction with Mizpah Lodge No. 1, U. O. of I. O. L, met in their rooms in Washington Hall. In anticipation of the long wait an excellent programme had been prepared. It also served to celebrate Howell Division's thirty-second anniversary.

After the opening address by S. B. Scribner, the following programme was rendered: Address, Grand Worthy Patriarch J. A. Murray, of East Orange; vocal solo, Miss Beaulah VanWinkle; address, W. B. Ayers; recitation, Miss Beaulah VanWinkle; recitation, Miss Try Mattox; address, B W. Hand; recitation, W. R. Mattox; duett, Mrs. Cox and Miss Try Mattox.

Interpersing the programme, phonograph selections were given under the direction of William Newcorn. The meeting closed with a song by the order appropriate to the occasion, after which refreshments were served by the members of Mizpah Lodge. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. Mattox, Mrs. Bush, S. B. Scribner, M. Armstrong and W. B. Ayers.

Bitten By Dog While Wheeling.

Lawyer Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., was severely bitten by a mongrel cur last Sunday. The dog is owned by "Count" VanNest, and Mr. Hetfield was riding along West Front street on a wheel when the canine jumped at him and planted his teeth in the calf of the rider's right leg. Mr. Hetfield sought a physician at once and had the wound cauterized. He apprehends no serious results, but the dog will probably have his lights put out as a result.

Map of the City.

A pocket folder map of the city of Plainfield and the borough of North Plainfield has just been issued by George Serrell, of this city. The folder also contains the locations of the fire alarm boxes, the ward and district boundaries and a year's calendar.

Junior Dance.

The junior subscription dance at the Park Club New Year's Eve was one of the many delightful events of the holiday season. There was a very large attendance of the younger society set from this city and the borough.

SOME FELL IN.

But a Big Crowd Steered Clear and Enjoyed the Skating on Tier's Pond Yesterday.

Tier's pond was covered with skaters yesterday afternoon. Men, women and children availed themselves of the fine weather and enjoyed the sport until late into the night. The ice was not in the best of condition, the recent mild weather having made it soft. At a point near the dam, on the south side of the pond, the ice melted away, leaving a large hole. Into this a number of the skaters fell. Among those to get an involuntary bath were two young girls.

Fortunately they were quickly rescued by some of the many skaters or by standers.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The merited reputation for curing piles, sores and skin diseases acquired by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, has led to the making of worthless counterfeits. Be sure to get only DeWitt's Salve. L. W. Randolph.

—When you drop a penny into a blind man's hat, do you ever consider how much care you should give your own eyes. Take no chances with them. Stiles & Co., eye specialist at 107 East Front street, tomorrow, Thursday; hours 11:15 to 4:30.

PERSONAL.

Miss Blanche Fellows, of Westervelt avenue, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Miss Debora J. L Corle, of Neshanic, is a guest at the home of C. V. D. Corle, of Elm place.

Will Close at Six.

Commencing this evening and continuing until further notice Woodhull & Martin will close their store every evening at 6 o'clock. The change is greatly appreciated by the clerks.

Mrs. Lowe's Dinner.

Mrs. W. E. Lowe, of Park avenue, gave a dinner last evening to several out-of-town guests, and the Misses Waring and Gertrude Andrews, of this city.

CHINESE HAND LABOR.

It Is Raising a New Problem in Asiatic Russia—Pay of Russian and Chinese Workmen.

According to a report presented by M. Levitoff to the Russian Society of Encouragment, it appears that Chinese hand labor has made its appearance in the Trans-Baikal region since the construction of the railroad, and the influx of the Chinese element is becoming more considerable every day. Hand labor, which has been scarce ever since the construction of the Trans-Siberian, is now more abundant, and its cost has been considerably reduced. On the Amoor river the unloading of boats, which was paid only a few years ago at the rate of $1.60 a ton, is now paid at 80 cents per ton, or one-half. In general, the Chinese workman, on account of his smaller productiveness, is paid only one-half the wages of a Russian workman. As an example, in the cement works of Siberia 80 cents per day is paid to a good Russian workman, and only 40 cents to the Chinese workman. Generally these are engaged for $2.50 to $3 per month by the Chinese contractors, who supply the food and loodging. Even on this small pay the workmen contrive to save money, and send their savings to China. The Chinese excel in certain kinds of labor, such as gardening, shoemaking, etc., where the Russian cannot compete in price, but, on the contrary, he is not good for all kinds of work, and especially refuses to work in the water or even in damp places. For masonry work it is estimated that a Russian workman, himself inferior to an Italian, equals four Chinamen. Among the Siberian industries it is the gold mines especially which have adopted Chinese labor. Formerly in the mines belonging to the czar it was forbidden to employ the Chinese; but when on account of the scarcity of hand labor the price had reached 25 cents per pound of gold, the government decided to let out the work to contractors. The Chinese were engaged by these for 13 cents per pound, which reduced considerably the price of the gold extracted. M. Levitoff remarks that the Chinese carriers in the region between Irkutsk and Khabarovsk have the habit of stealing the gold and sending it to China. Another thing to be deplored is the clandestine sale of Chinese brandy, called khanchine. In spite of the advantages enumerated the writer says that it is urgent to stop the invasion of the Chinese element, and he recommends emigration from the rural population of European Russia.

HOW THIS CITY LOOKED SIXTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Interesting Facts Concerning the Early History of Plainfield and Vicinity.

MANY HAT FACTORIES THEN.

L. E. BARKALEW'S SKETCH OF THE EARLY DAYS OF PLAINFIELD.

Was Presented at "Open House" of Exempt Firemen's Association New Year's Eve—Told of the Streets Then Laid Out—Old Landmarks.

Not the least of the interesting features of the "open house" held by the members of the Exempt Firemen's Association last Monday night was the brief history of Plainfield, prepared and read by Louis E Barkalew, president of the association. Mr. Barkalew's narative dated from 1835, when Plainfield contained but about one thousand inhabitants.

The principal street in the town was what is now Front street. The only street at that time diverging from Main street and extending for any distance was called Towtown road. This street is the present Plainfield avenue. Watchung avenue was then called Rahway road and Somerset street was known as Mountain road. At that early period Plainfield was in Essex county and Westfield township. The voting at that time was done alternately in Plainfield and Westfield.

With regard to the business of Plainfield, Mr. Barkalew recalls that in the way of manufacturing there was considerable carried on.

The principal business, however, was the making of hats, though tailoring and shoemaking were also carried on to some extent. At that time the number of hat factories in Plainfield was sixteen, nine of them being located on what is now Front street, four on Second street while three others were on cross streets. The hats were made mostly for the Philadelphia trade and were shipped to that city by horse and wagon, the wagons being built for that purpose.

Plainfield could also boast of having eight tailor shops for the manufacture of custom clothing. There were no clothing stores in town then. At this point Mr. Barkalew explained the crude methods employed by the average tailor in making a coat, and the number of times a man was compelled to try it on before being assured of a perfect fit.

With regard to the other industries of Plainfield he called attention to the business carried on by two grist mills, four saw mills and one distillery. There were but four general stores in town at the time. All groceries were brought to Plainfield from New York via Rahway, and from there drawn to this town by teams.

If a person wished to go to Philadelphia the most direct route was by carriage to Metuchen or Rahway and thence by the New Jersey Railroad, as it was then called.

Again referring to the streets, Mr. Barkalew said that Second street was opened from Towtown road to Washington street. Cherry street, or Park avenue, as it is now called, was originally Reuben's Lane. Old citizens will remember the swinging gate at the intersection of Park avenue and Second street that opened into Reuben Ayers' orchard and farm. At that time Mr. Ayers lived in his farmhouse that stood on the corner now occupied by the store of the Gayle Hardware Company. Mr. Ayers' large barn stood on the site of the Coward building.

Sixty years ago Plainfield had but two hotels and North Plainfield one. There was also one wagon maker, located at the west end of Front street, three blacksmith shops on this side of of the brook and two in the borough. Where the grocery store of J. Fred McDonald, at Front street and Watchung avenue was located, there was a tinsmith and a coppersmith shop. There was also one bakery, situated where Vohel's bakery now is on West Front street. Where Griffin's hardware store is located there was a good sized tannery. The principal building in town was owned by Jacob Thorn, father of Albert G. Thorn, the laundryman.

With regard to religious matters, Mr. Barkalew says there were five churches in Plainfield in those early days. The denominations were divided between the Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists and Friends, the latter having two places of worship. To-day there are about thirty churches in the city and borough. ## WOULD ABIDE BY CAUCUS.

FARMER ORATOR TALKS CONCERNING DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR SENATOR

Would Oppose Alvah A. Clark Before Caucus But Believes That Will of Majority Should Rule.

In response to a Daily Press reporter who asked James E. Martine, what would be his advice to those Democratic members of the legislature, who were opposed to the nomination of Alvah A. Clark as United States Senator, Mr. Martine said, "The members of the legislature have not asked my advice, nor won't ask it. But above all I am a Democrat—I believe in party methods and party disipline—and always acquiesence in the will of the majority. If I were a member, I should oppose Mr. Clark's nomination by all honorable means—both before the caucus and in the caucus. But I should stand loyal to the caucus majority decision."

"Personally are you friendly to Mr. Clark?"

"Yes! Again I say nothing personal prompts me. I only oppose Mr. Clark on past grounds and am only actuated for my party's welfare."

VETERAN UNION INSTALLED.

BIG TIME AT MEETING OF ANTIETAM CAMP LAST NIGHT.

Presented Asa Collier With a Seal Ring in Recognition of His Aid to the Order.

There was a jolly time last night at the meeting of Antietam Camp, Union Veteran Union, the occasion being the installation of the newly-elected officers. The installation was open to the public after the finish of the regular business. Besides the members of the order there were also present a number of women and some members of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R.

The following officers were installed by Col. A. G. Perry: Colonel, Charles B. Stephens; lieutenant colonel, Henry C. Drake; major, Edward E. Townley; surgeon, Dr. J. F. Berg; chaplain, John Goodwin; quartermaster, John R. Naylor; adjutant, Eugene Alexander; officer of the day, A. G. Perry; officer of the guard, John H. Wagner; sentinel, Fred Wenzel; picket, Edwin M. DeVine.

After the installation Past Commander Asa Collier, of Winfield Scott Post, was presented with a handsome seal ring, suitably inscribed with the insignia of the order, the gift being given in recognition of Mr. Collier's friendship to Camp Antietam.

After the ceremonies of the installation the comrades listened to music by Prof. Wentrick's orchestra. Remarks were also made by various members of the order and a social time enjoyed. Before departing all arose and sang "America."

SANTA WAS LATE.

But He Had a Good Time Prepared For Young People of First Church of Christ.

The last Christmas entertainment of the season was that held in the First Church of Christ on Grove street last evening. But although it was the last it was not by any means the least interesting as the members of the Sunday school had prepared a pleasing programme.

It was opened with organ selections by David Rockfellow, followed by an appropriate address delivered by John Goodwin. A recitation by John Shultise, a duet by the Misses Susie and Annie Ackerman and carols by the school were all greatly enjoyed.

As the last carol was sung, the ringing of sleighbells announced the arrival of Santa Claus who in addition to gifts for the children, brought the Misses Santa Claus to help distribute them. The pupils were given candy and oranges and the primary department received toys. Individual gifts were given the higher classes by their respective teachers.

The part of Santa Claus was admirably taken by David Bush while the Misses Santa Claus were Mrs. Bush and Miss Rockfellow. A pleasing feature of the entertainment was a handsomely decorated Christmas tree.

Public Exhibition.

The attraction at the Y. M. C. A New Year's Day was the physical department where the athletes gave a public exhibition all day concluding with a basket ball game in the the afternoon. A large number of visitors called at the building all day and were given a hearty welcome by Secretary Manning and his assistants.

New House in West End.

A handsome frame house has been built by David Arthur, Jr., on West Fifth street near Monroe avenue.

GAGHANITES WILL TEST THEIR DRAMATIC SKILL

Have Arranged to Produce "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at Gaghan's Hall in the Near Future.

PARTS WERE ASSIGNED.

PURSUIT OF "ELIZA" BY BLOODHOUNDS WILL BE THRILLING.

John Weizenreid Will Present "Uncle Tom" But Fears the Brutal Lash of Conroy as "Simon Legree"—Other Details Arranged.

The presentation of a play by local society folk and the announcement of another next month aroused all the professional jealousy of the Gaghanites, and at the meeting last night the members to a man voted in favor of giving a production in Gaghan's Hall.

For nearly two hours the members wrestled with the problem as to what standard of drama should be used as a vehicle to display the talents of the West Enders. After one of the stormiest debates on record, the preference was given to "Uncle Tom's Cabin," although Lou Dunavan insisted to the last that comic opera was the only thing, as he would then be given an opportunity to warble a few of his Somerville ditties.

The remainder of the projectors, however, thought the "Tom" show would be better appreciated, and beside the association already has a number of the "props" necessary for the production. As is well-known no "Tom" show is complete without Eliza crossing the icy river, pursued by bloodhounds, and enough material is now on hand to give this scene in a manner that will favorably compare with any like organization on the road.

First of all John Cose has in his possession a magnificent specimen of a Siberian bloodhound (at least, John says it is,) that could be taught in a short time to pursue an Eliza like an old veteran. The only difficulty, however, will be to stop him after he has crossed the imaginary river, as judging from appearances, the canine would not object to snatching a mouthful from the nether extremities of any Gaghamite who played the part.

At first it was thought that, with a proper makeup, Aleck Martin would make a capital Eliza. But after Aleck had given an exhibition of his running powers, it was discovered that he would be captured by the dog before he was half way over, and he was assigned to the more fitting part of a slave because all he would have to do would be to pick cotton and be knocked off at auction.

There was considerable good natured rivalry when it came to be decided who should play "Tom," but Winzenreid was given the preference mainly for his ability to depict the ascension scene in the last act. There were some who thought John's dialect would hardly stand comparison with the "Tom" of Mrs. Stowe's book but John said he wasn't afraid to try it.

Another discussion arose when the part of "Little Eva" was about to be given out. Several declared at once that they were the only ones who could handle the character properly and display the talent which it calls for. The choice finally dwindled down between Frank Hart and Pat Melvin, the latter at last securing the part. Pat seemed confident that when arrayed in a proper costume he could make a hit although he didn't like the idea of dying so early in the evening

Conroy fairly shook hands with himself when he was assigned the part of "Simon Legree," the brutal slave owner, who beats "Uncle Tom." He continued to chuckle to such an extent that Winzenreid became alarmed and declared that if "Legree" applied the whip too vigorously he would claim damages of the association. John was finally pacified with the assurance that a careful watch would be kept on Conroy's actions on the night of the production.

The other characters were carefully assigned to the various members, and all the details entailed were discussed and acted upon. If the production proves popular in the West End a tour of Hunterdon and other nearby counties will be made, using the famous barouche as a means of transportation.

The subject of complimentary tickets was about to be taken up when Sergeant Totten announced the hour of 10 had arrived and the crowd fled for the stairs before the lights could be turned out.

REED WILL BE THE LEADER.

SELECTED AT CAUCUS OF MEMBERS OF STATE LEGISLATURE.

Senator Pitney Will Be Presiding Officer—Only Fight Was Over the Secretaryship.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, January 3.—The fight for the secretaryship of the State Senate was the only excitement at the caucus of the Republican Senators, held at the Republican Club rooms last evening. As was expected Senator Mahlon Pitney, of Morris, was chosen for President of the Senate, and Senator Charles A. Reed, of Somerset, was made chairman of the caucus, the leadership of the Republicans on the Senate floor being tacitly understood as accompanying that office. Walter Edge, of Atlantic City, was successful in landing the secretaryship, defeating George Frey, of Camden, by a vote of nine to seven.

The other officers agreed upon were as follows: For assistant secretary, J. Frank Lindsley, of Morris county; journal clerk, Palmer H. Charlock, of Union county; assistant journal clerk, William H. Fischer, of Ocean county; calendar clerk, Robert E. Bustard, of Passaic county; sergeant-at-arms, John T. Garwood, of Salem county; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Arthur Bedell, of Camden county; supervisor of bills, Jesse R. Salmon, of Essex county, and assistant supervisor of bills, James Shoemaker, of Cape May county.

Senators Francis, Stokes and Hutchinson were appointed a committee to apportion the minor offices. These will be agreed upon at a conference next Monday night. Prospective legislation was only casually discussed at last night's caucus. The caucus adopted a resolution unanimously indorsing General William J. Sewell, of Camden, for re-election to the United States Senate. A similar resolution was previously passed by the Republican majority of the House of Assembly.

BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT.

North Plainfield High School Athletic Association Will Give an Entertainment at Y. M. C. A. Hall.

The Atheletic Association of the North Plainfield High School has arranged to give an entertainment in the hall of the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, January 21st, when the Musical Club of New York will be heard. Among the entertainers will be Miss Loretta Tappen Green, recitationist; Miss Edith Hirschmann, soprano and the Messrs. Willard and Bartlett, instrumentalists. This organization of musicians has considerable of a reputation in various cities where they have been heard. Reserved seats will be on sale at Leggett's drug store.

New Year's Dinner Party.

A large dinner party was given at the home of the Misses Lillie and Annie Weigman, of West Front street, New Year's Day, in honor of the Misses Edie and Florence Hannick, William Lohrmann and Edward Rogers, of Brooklyn. Features of the occasion were vocal and instrumental music, games and dancing. There were guests present from New York, Brooklyn, Bound Brook, Newark and this city.

Consecration Meeting.

The Park Avenue Baptist Christian Endeavor Society will hold its monthly consecration meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel. Topic: "The Old and New; Your Purposes"—a meeting for the forward look. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Delegates have been appointed by the president to attend the Good Fellowship Christian Endeavor meeting to be held in the First Baptist church at the same hour.

Saw Old Year Out.

In honor of his brother-in law, George Bogert, of Chicago, John Pool, of LaGrande avenue, gave an informal party to a number of relatives and friends Monday evening. Various amusements occupied all present until midnight when New Year and Twentieth Century greetings were exchanged after which the affair came to an end.

Other Societies Invited.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church will hold an interesting meeting tomorrow evening, to which the Epworth League of the First M. E. church, and the Endeavor societies of the Trinity Reformed and Park Avenue Baptist churches have been invited.

Hearing For Friday.

The hearing of Horace Washington, who is charged with stealing a bicycle, is set down for Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock before Justice Nash.

Off for California.

Edward White will leave tomorrow for California where he will spend three months in search of recreation.

NEW COUNCIL WILL RETAIN OLD OFFICERS.

Caucus of Members of Council of 1901 Will Be Held Tonight To Choose President.

WILL BE JOHN B. DUMONT.

CONTEST FOR PRESIDENCY HAS BEEN SATISFACTORILY SETTLED.

For Political Reasons Mr. Dumont Was Opposed, But His Claim is Now Conceded By All the Members of the Council.

There will be no change in the organization of the Common Council for 1901. Tonight a caucus of the members of the new Council will be held when it will be definitely decided who the President of the Council will be. There has been some quiet work going on previous to the caucus, however, and it is now practically assured that the present officers of the Council will be retained for another year without change.

A few weeks ago, there appeared every probability that there would be a contest for the Presidency of the Council at the approaching caucus. There were certain of the Councilmen who thought that common courtesy demanded the re-election of Mr. Dumont to the office of presiding officer. They refused to take other views. Others opposed his re-election on the ground that the honor should go to other than the Second ward for the reason that the Second ward was the only ward in the city to give Col. Tyler, the Democratic nominee for Mayor, a majority at the recent city election.

Two names were mentioned for the place, those of Mr. Lee and Mr. Corfell but the Councilmen who objected to the Second ward's candidate did not agree on any other candidate and finally decided to bury the hatchet and support the re election of Mr. Dumont. As a result the caucus this evening promises to be a very quiet one and free from all contests.

Although the committees of last year's Council were appointed by Collector Frank H. Smith, who was chosen President of the Council a year ago, it is generally understood that Mr. Dumont, if elected, will simply reappoint all the committees as they stand at present so as not to disturb the present satisfactory balance of the Council.

As all eleven Councilmen are Republicans, they will all be present at the caucus this evening and the choice of the caucus is therefore bound to be the unanimous choice of the Council when it holds its first meeting Monday evening

Now that the prospect or a contest over the Presidency is gone, the Councilmen will probably consider several other questions of importance at the caucus. While no action is certain, they will undoubtedly bring up the question of the advisability of making the three extra appointments in the police department and will also talk over the request of the Chief of the fire department for three extra men for his department.

FOR SEWING MACHINE.

Important Invention Assigned to J. Evarts Tracy, of This City.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 3.—The driving mechanism which Hubert P. Richards, of New Britain, Conn., has invented and patented, relates to an improvement in the operating mechanism of sewing machines. The patent has been assigned by Mr. Richards to J. Evarts Tracy, of Plainfield. There are fifteen paragraphs of claims in the specifications upon which the patent is based, and the patent may be regarded as of some value in connection with the use of a tiltably-supported sewing machine head in combination with an idle wheel, to hold the belt under tension irrespective of the position of one wheel relatively to the other.

On New Year's Eve.

An informal social was held Monday evening in the parish house of Grace P. E church under the auspices of the Girl's Friendly Society, of which Miss Adams is the president. The affair lasted from 8 until 9:30 o'clock, and everyone had a good time. Refreshments were served during the social.

Moved His House.

Frank Haulenbeck, of Johnston avenue, has moved his house to the side of his lot and built a shed to be used for the storage of rags.

INDIVIDUAL COMMUNION CUPS

HAVE BEEN ADOPTED BY PARK AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH.

System Will Be Introduced at That Church at Once—Was Decided on at Recent Church Meeting.

By an almost unanimous vote the members of the Park Avenue Baptist church have decided to introduce the individual Communion cups in that church at an early date. This action was taken a few days ago at a meeting of the members. Some time ago the members of the Seventh-Day Baptist church adopted the individual cup, they being the first in this city to make the change. It has been a matter for earnest consideration for many months as to whether it would be advisable to make a change. All objections were overcome, and now that the members have voted in favor of it, there is general rejoicing on the part of all.

It was contended by the members that in one's home one would not think of offering a guest a drink from a glass which they had already used, and it was considered entirely wrong to ask persons in a church to drink from one cup. The argument was so strong in favor of the individual cup that the argument on the other side was not sufficient to overcome it.

THIRTEEN YEARS WEDDED.

SURPRISE TENDERED MR. AND MRS LESLIE MATTHEWS NEW YEAR'S.

Was in Honor of the Anniversary of Their Marriage—Many Friends Gathered.

A pleasant event of New Year's night was the celebration of the thirteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Matthews, of 113 Liberty street. They have resided in this city just a year, having moved here from Newark, where they were married and lived since their marriage. Mrs. Matthews was a native of Dover, Morris county, while Mr. Matthews was born in Newark.

The celebrants entertained a number of friends and received many handsome and useful presents at the celebration. The evening was spent in games and dancing until midnight, when a bountiful turkey supper was served. The whole affair was a complete surprise to Mr. Matthews, who had not the slightest intimation of the visitation. Both he and his wife were the recipients of many hearty congratulations from their friends.

Among those present were Miss Emma Scott, of Boonton; Mr. and Mrs. Gano and the Misses Gano, of Annandale; Ray Matthews, of Raritan; Fred Mundy and the Misses Laura and Mary Mundy, of Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews, O. Matthews, Mrs James, Charles James, of Bound Brook; Miss Minerva Matthews, of Westfield; Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanMiddlesworth, Clarence Bye, Miss Lizzie Mobus, George Leland, Mrs. William Thompson, Miss Ada Thompson, Mr. Neuman, Miss May Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wooley and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. John Goodman and Miss Jessie Matthews, of Plainfield.

TO MAINTAIN RIGHT.

Charles Hyde is Building a Small Saw Mill on the Side of Green Brook.

Charles Hyde, who is the owner of the Hodkiss property on East Front street, is having a small saw mill constructed on the side of Green brook. The mill is to be used for cutting wood. Mr. Hyde's object in building the mill is for the purpose of maintaining his right and title to the water privilege at that point, which some years ago was used as a mill site. This movement of Mr. Hyde will give him the right to pass through the handsome grounds of John Taylor Johnston.

Last Meeting of Council.

The Common Council for 1900 will hold its last session tomorrow evening, when all accounts for the past year will be closed. The 1901 Council will hold its first meeting next Monday evening, when several important matters will be considered.

Family Gathering.

Among the many pleasant events of New Year's Day was the family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell MacKillop, of Oxford place. Among those present were A. E. Hoagland and family, Julius Williams and family.

Gone Into Real Estate Business.

Theodore French, formerly book keeper at the office of the Plainfield Water Company, has associated himself with Elston M. French in the real estate business.

UNION COUNTY COURTS OPEN FOR NEW YEAR.

No Cases of Great Importance to Plainfield Are on the Calendar.

GRAND JURORS FROM HERE.

TRIAL OF DOYLE FOR MURDER OF FARMER BALDWIN COMES UP.

Former Mayor Rankin is Foreman of Grand Jury—Licenses Granted—List of Supreme and Circuit Court Cases.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Jan. 3—There is little prospect of any cases of much importance to Plainfield that will come before the January term of the Union county courts, which opened at the courthouse here yesterday morning.

There was a large gathering of members of the bar, including a number from other counties. Among those present were Senator Charles A. Reed, of North Plainfield; Senator Cross, Judge Childs, E. A. S. Man, who was the Democratic candidate for Congress at the last election. There were pleasant interchanges of New Year greetings.

Justice VanSyckel arrived at 10:20 o'clock, and the court was immediately formally opened. The Grand Jurors were escorted into the court room by Sheriff Houston, and the oaths were administered by Clerk Howard.

Former Mayor John C. Rankin, of Elizabeth, is foreman. The Plainfield grand jurors are J. Frederick MacDonald, Gen. Wm. H. Sterling, Wm. T. Kirk, Edward Nelson.

Justice VanSyckel made no special charge to the jurors. He said it was pleasant to see a full panel of Grand Jurors. It was a recognition of the importance of the duty. He was happy to say there was no crime of magnitude to investigate.

The trial of Thomas Doyle, for the murder of Farmer Baldwin in Union township, was on the calendar for Tuesday next, but Justice VanSyckel said he would be at the Court of Errors on Friday, and perhaps an adjournment would be necessary. He therefore suggested a postponement of the trial until January 16, to which counsel agreed.

The first case called was that of Jane Ryan against the North Jersey Street Railway.

At Court of Special Sessions, held yesterday morning in the Freeholders room, the following applications for inn and tavern licenses throughout the county were granted:

Stephen G. Emmons, Union; William R. McCloud, Linden; Anna Warren, Union; Nancy G. Blodgett, Springfield; Terrence Dunn, New Providence; Fred Correll, New Providence; Nancy Doyle, Cranford; Nicola Orchietti, Westfield; Edward L. Hand, Fanwood: George J. C. Clark, Linden.

Remonstrances were presented against granting licenses to George V. Andelfinger, of Clark township, Lawrence Powers, of Westfield, and Helen M. Moffett, of Clark.

The applications presented by Frank B. Totten, New Providence, and Paul Britz, Westfield, were laid over until Saturday next.

The following Plainfielders are members of the Petit Jury: Humphrey A. Bodine, William W. Corfell, Charles C Lister, Henry B. Paul and Cornelius VanHerwerden.

The following Plainfield causes are set down for the January term of the Supreme Court: Benjamin W. Jones against Charles Chapot, et als, on contract. Codington & Swackhamer represent the defendant, while Corbin & Corbin represent the plaintiff. John T. Dunn, against Henry H. Isham on contract. Edward M. Collie for the plaintiff and Craig A. Marsh for the defendant. The First National Bank against Lewis A. Hummer, on contract. William M. Stillman for the plaintiff and W. K. McClure for the defendant.

Below are the Circuit Court causes of interest to Plainfield: Charles J. O'Brien against John Traynor, in tort. Craig A. Marsh for the plaintiff and George Holmes for the defendant. Thomas C. Bodine against David Hand, on contract. Isaac P. Runyon for the plaintiff and George Ball for the defendant. John Abbott against Anna B. Pond, et al, on contract. James P. Powers for the plaintiff and Codington & Swackhamer for the defendant. James O. Stiles against John W. Stiles, on contract. Nelson Runyon for the plaintiff and William R.

George Graves, who has been located at Somerville for some time past, is now stopping temporarily with his parents on Liberty street.

—When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. L. W. Randolph.

Lindsey Woolley, of West Front street, has gone to Connecticut on a business trip for ten days.

Miss Florence Symonds, of East Third street, has returned from a visit with relatives at Belleville, Essex county.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Justice Nash has returned to his office after being detained at home several days by illness.

Charles H Herring, of New York, has been visiting his son, Rev. C. E. Herring, of Watchung avenue.

C. L. Nichols, of Willow avenue, who has been detained at his home by illness, is greatly improved and will soon return to business.

A Simple Question.

Plainfield People Are Requested to Honesty Answer This.

Is not the word of a representative citizen more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

Mr. Robert Love, of 44 Duer street member of the firm of Love Brothers grocers, of 257 West Front street, says: I suffered from kidney complaint for eight or nine years; pain across the back and a lameness over the kidneys. Colds always settled there and aggravated it. At last my back grew weaker and any heavy lifting or too much standing or sitting gave me additional pain. In the mornings my back bothered me greatly until I moved about and took some exercise when it became better to a certain extent. I doctored and used different kinds of so called kidney cures but it was throwing money away. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in our paper, and being in bad shape at the time, I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. Before taking half of it my condition was greatly improved and continuing their use all the pain left me."

SEEDS AS VOTE GETTERS.

Annual Free Distribution to Farmers to Begin Soon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The annual distribution of seeds is about to begin, and Secretary Wilson said of it: "The distribution of garden seeds is not a matter of particular pride with the agricultural department, but it is one of our duties, and we endeavor to discharge it. All the seeds sent out will be tested for germination, purity and variety. Everything will be done to have the distribution made better and more expeditiously than previous ones."

The secretary's view of the seed business is shared by everybody connected with the agricultural end of the government, including the agricultural committee of the house. The seed distribution is beginning to be looked upon as a joke in congress, and in the last session one of the members embalmed in The Congressional Record a poem about "the seeds that never grow." Nevertheless the distribution grows every year, and the distribution which will begin this week will be the largest ever made by the government.

The value of seeds as campaign documents is proved by the fact that the appropriation was increased at the last session from $130,000 to $170,000. They are reckoned as the best vote producing campaign documents ever franked. Not everybody will read speeches on heavy subjects, but everybody can understand a seed, even if it does not grow. Even the congressmen from New York city have received applications for seeds from their constituents, and not from men living in the suburbs either.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN.

New York Clearing House Handles In a Day $427,903,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The clearing house exchanges yesterday amounted to the enormous figure of $427,903,000, breaking all records. It was the result of the heaviest interest payment in many years.

The previous high record was reached Thursday last, when the day's exchanges aggregated $364,013,290, comparing with $353,505,626 on Nov. 20 and $352,882,566 on April 11. 1899.

An officer of one of the largest banks estimated that 75 per cent of yesterday's periodical disbursements would remain in this city after the shifting about process had been accomplished.

It was believed in banking circles that $160,000,000 in dividends and interest payments of all sorts will represent the various disbursements.

Public Debt Decreases.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business Dec. 31, 1900, the national debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,099,191,310, a decrease for the month of $1,983,565. The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Reserve fund in gold, $150,000,000, trust funds in gold, silver and United States notes, $754,012,379; general fund, $130,559,478; in national bank depositories to the credit of disbursing officers and the United States treasurer, $96,699,694; total, $1,131,271,552, against which there are demand liabilities outstanding amounting to $841,164,215, leaving a cash balance on hand of $290,107,336.

Rubber Companies May Consolidate.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—The United States Rubber company will not make the threatened 25 per cent cut in prices as proposed. This is due, it is said, to the fact that the Hood Rubber company has agreed to consider a proposition for the sale of its business to interests friendly to the United States Rubber company. Pending these negotiations no change in prices will be made. The report was sent out yesterday that considerable progress had been made in harmonizing the various rubber interests, presumably through the meeting held in New York.

An Oysterman's Cold Bath.

STAMFORD, Conn., Jan. 3.—Clinging to an oyster stake in the middle of the sound for over an hour on New Year's day, with the thermometer below freezing point and the waves breaking over him frequently, was the frightful experience of George Collins of Greenwich. Collins is an oysterman and was planting seed oysters when his frail craft was overturned by the heavy seas. He swam a quarter of a mile to an oyster stake and clung there until rescued by John E. Patterson. Collins was taken ashore exhausted.

Wu Ting Fang to Visit Albany.

ALBANY, Jan. 3.—One of the most brilliant representatives of foreign nations, Mr. Wu Ting Fang, will be the guest of the State Bar association here on Jan. 15 and 16, during its annual meeting. His visit to this city is eagerly anticipated by men of letters and by members of the legal profession particularly, as he is to speak before them on a subject which promises deep interest. It will be "Chinese Jurisprudence."

Westervelt Enters Pleas of Guilty.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 3.—Charles R. Westervelt, former cashier of the Dime Savings institution of this city, entered a plea of guilty to two indictments for forgery and not guilty to two indictments of embezzlement. The amount he is charged with embezzling is $50,500. He will be sentenced next week.

Glass Works Shut Down.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The glass works at Cleveland, this county, have been shut down, throwing 300 persons out of work and practically stopping the business of the village.

WHAT WILL CUBA DO?

Future Relations With United States Discussed.

FRIENDLY PROMULGATION LIKELY.

Proposition to Allow Naval Stations on North and South Coasts and to Stand Ready on a War Footing to Aid Us In Case of Need.

HAVANA, Jan. 3.—The Cuban constitutional convention is considering two promulgations of the future relations between Cuba and the United States. One of these affirms, in the first place, an acceptance of the Monroe doctrine and the establishment of friendly relations with all nations together with a resolution to proceed in all cases in complete accord with the United States. In the second place it proposes to put at the disposal of the United States a portion of the shore of any bay on the north coast and of two bays on the south coast for naval stations, together with concessions sufficient in extent for the purposes of defense and sanitation. In the third place it declares that Cuba will place herself on a war footing to help the United States in case such assistance should be needed, while a fourth proviso is an amplification of the first, second and third. The other promulgation contemplates:

First.—That the convention is vested with authority only to convene.

Second.—Not having been granted legislative functions, the convention cannot arrange the basis of future relations.

Third.—Nevertheless, should Washington desire such a discussion, the convention is willing to discuss and agree upon an arrangement of mutual relations.

Fourth.—The aspirations of the convention are merely to consolidate the country for reconstruction. Its energies are directed toward supporting the avowed policy of the United States, to which Cuba is bound by indestructible ties of gratitude, said policy being based upon the unequivocal preservation of liberty and independence throughout the American continent.

The former promulgation embodies the desires of delegates friendly to the United States. The latter is a counter check to the extremists. It is considered that the former is likely to carry.

Jailed on Bigamy Charge.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—George W. Howard, who describes himself as the chief engineer of the Lexington avenue division of the Metropolitan Street Railway company, was arrested in his rooms in the New Amsterdam hotel about 6 o'clock last evening and locked up in the Adams street (Brooklyn) police station, charged with bigamy. The warrant for the arrest was issued yesterday morning by Magistrate Brenner of Brooklyn on affidavits made by Detective Hamburger and by Henry Hawkes, in which it is alleged that Howard, when he married Ella Philomena Hawkes, sister of Henry Hawkes, Jr., above mentioned, and daughter of Henry Hawkes, a prominent Brooklyn politician and municipal office-holder, was already a married man with a wife and family in Boston.

Mail Pouch Robber Caught.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 3.—It turns out that the thief who stole the two mail pouches from the New York Central station here and after ripping them open threw away and destroyed the letters they contained was Francis Murphy, 19 years of age, of this city. Two officers from this city arrested Murphy in a signal tower seven miles north of Poughkeepsie, and he is now in jail here awaiting instructions from United States Commissioner Shields, who has been notified of the arrest. Murphy is very illiterate and seems to have no idea of the gravity of his offense.

White House Reception.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The social season of the New Year at the White House was opened last night when President and Mrs. McKinley gave a dinner in honor of the cabinet and their ladies. The table set in the shape of a double T in the state dining room presented an attractive appearance. The prevailing decorations were pinks and begonias, with ferns. In the east room large wreaths of evergreen and holly were hung over the great mirrors, and garlands of the same were twined about the white pillars. The Marine band furnished the music.

A Plow Trust.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Within a few days, it is said, C. R. Flint will close a deal to form a trust in plows and cultivators. It is the plan of Mr. Flint and his associates to arrange the closing details before Jan. 15. Plows will be advanced in price not less than 10 per cent, it is said. From South Bend, Ind., word was received that the efforts of Mr. Flint had proved a success after negotiations that have lasted for nearly two years. It is said the capital stock will be $85,000,000.

Revolution In Venezuela.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 3.—Passengers who arrived here on the Red D line steamer Philadelphia from La Guayra Dec. 30 say a serious revolution has broken out in the Maracaibo district of Venezuela. They add that the government troops have defeated the rebels and arrested 20 of the leaders. Another rising is reported to have occurred in the vicinity of the Orinoco. The United States auxiliary cruiser Scorpion has left here to join the Hartford at La Guayra.

Buying Salt Abroad.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 3.—Twenty-five thousand tons of common salt purchased in Lisbon, Portugal, have been contracted for by the Armour Packing company of this city. "We found that prices have gone steadily up on account of the salt trust," said the company's purchasing agent, "and so we went outside of this country for our salt." Twenty-five carloads of the shipment are already on the road and 35 additional carloads will follow soon.

Found on Mount Washington.

GORHAM, N. H., Jan. 3.—W. H. Bodwell, the newspaper correspondent of Hyde Park, Mass., who was lost in a storm Monday on Mount Washington, was found safely sheltered in the stage house of the Summit House by a searching party.

First Trolley In Porto Rico.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 3.—Thousands of people witnessed the starting of the new trolley system, the island's first road of that description. The people were much astonished

SITUATION CRITICAL.

General Uprising of Cape Colony Dutch Likely.

GIVING AID AND COMFORT TO BOERS.

Parties of the Invaders Spreading Out In Every Direction—Danger Not Fully Appreciated In England.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 3.—The British battleship Monarch landed guns today as a precautionary measure. The situation is undoubtedly serious.

It is true that the Dutch have not joined the invaders in any considerable numbers, but a lack of arms is believed to be the true reason for abstention. In many places horses are freely offered and information readily supplied to the Boers.

The early proclamation of martial law in the Cape Town division is expected. This division does not include Cape Town itself.

The latest reports show the situation to be generally as follows: Kuruman if still uninvested probably soon will be. Griqualand West is filled with small parties of Boers who are working south toward Prieska for the purpose of co-operating with or supporting Commandant Hertzog, whose advance parties are in the neighborhood of Fraserburg.

The Boers are close to Graaf Reinet, where of late the Dutch have given many demonstrations of extreme sympathy.

In the eastern part of the colony the advance guard of Boers is close to Maraisburg, about 25 miles northeast of Cradock.

The general opinion here is that the position is not properly appreciated in England. The Worcester conference excited the Dutch throughout the colony. Many old residents who are by no means alarmists regard a general uprising of the Dutch as quite likely.

RECENT MOVEMENTS.

De Wet Headed Off by Pilcher—Boer Horses Captured.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—It is understood that at the conclusion of the operations in South Africa Lord Kitchener will become commander in chief in India. The Standard, commenting on the invasion of Cape Colony, says:

"The American civil war provides a useful parallel. The Confederate raids failed to achieve anything serious."

The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Kitchener:

"De Wet tried to move toward Bethlehem, but he was headed off by Pilcher and retreated toward Lindley or Reitz.

"One hundred and thirty Boer horses have been captured near Thabanchu.

"The railway has been damaged south of Serfontein.

"Williams engaged the Boers southeast of Middelburg, Cape Colony, and the British now occupy Graaf Reinet."

Lost Feet, Found Gold.

BAYONNE, N. J., Jan. 3.—John E. Baptie has returned here from a three years' trip through the Klondike in search of a fortune in gold. He comes back minus both of his feet, having lost them through frostbite, but he says he got his fortune all right. Baptie left Bayonne in February, 1898, with a party of prospectors. While traveling up Montana creek, in the Klondike region, months afterward in company with a Haverstraw man he suffered intensely from cold and exposure, and both of his feet were frostbitten. He brought back with him a large quantity of gold dust, the exact value of which he does not yet know. He says he has two paying claims in the Klondike and that he is going back to work them in a short time.

Starving Porto Ricans.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3.—Three hundred and eighty-seven thinly clad, starved out Porto Ricans from the interior of the island arrived on the steamer Arkadia from Ponce. They are en route to Hawaii under contract to work on the sugar plantations. It is understood that 10,000 more of them are to be brought here on the same mission. No more pitiful sight could be imagined than these poor immigrants as they stood on the deck awaiting inspection at quarantine. All are suffering from anæma due to lack of food, and many were too weak to stand up when the quarantine officers came.

Paper Warehouse Destroyed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 3.—Fire broke out in H. W. Pearl's large rag and paper storehouse in Worthington street at 10:30 last night. The building was a four story wooden structure with a rear annex of brick of the same height. Both parts were nearly filled with baled paper and sorted and unsorted rags belonging to H. Linderberg. There were also several hundred barrels of pitch in the basement of the wooden building. The entire fire apparatus of the city was called out and worked hard to overcome the flames but without success.

Senator Frye Renominated.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 3.—United States Senator William P. Frye was unanimously renominated by the joint Republican executive caucus held in the hall of the house of representatives. His name was eloquently presented by Senator Fernald of Androscoggin amid great enthusiasm. The warm eulogies of Mr Frye were all colored with expressions of sympathy for him in his great bereavement. The nomination was made by a rising vote.

Grip at Navy Yard.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—After the completion of a census of the grip cases at the Brooklyn navy yard it was announced there yesterday that ten new cases had developed during the morning, making a total of 85 at the station. Thirty-five of the patients are under treatment at the Naval hospital, 30 are on board the battleship Indiana and 20 on the receiving ship Vermont.

Not Crowe, but Dennis.

OMAHA, Jan. 3.—It was learned that the man arrested near Pine Ridge agency after a chase and who it was reported from Chadron, Neb., was Pat Crowe accused of being implicated in the Cudaby case, was a collector of specimens named Dennis of Boston. He was released.

General Batchelder Worse.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—General Richard M. Batchelder, former quartermaster general of the army, who is critically ill here, is much worse. He is in the sixty-ninth year of his age.

LORD ROBERTS RETURNS.

Greeted Warmly by the Queen and Made an Earl.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 3.—The steamer Canada, having Field Marshal Lord Roberts on board, anchored off Osborne yesterday. The ships in the roads were gayly dressed, the sea front was elaborately decorated with bunting and Venetian masts with festoons adorned the route to Osborne House, at the entrance of which was erected a unique tribute of the queen's appreciation of the field marshal's work in the shape of an arch of laurel. This was the first time such an arch had ever appeared there in honor of any subject of her majesty.

A large concourse of people awaited Lord Roberts' arrival at Trinity pier and landing. The field marshal landed from the royal launch at 3:30 p. m., which was the signal for deafening shouts of welcome. Princess Beatrice, in her capacity as governor of the Isle of Wight, and the Duke of Connaught, representing the queen, awaited Lord Roberts, whose arm was still in a sling as a result of being thrown from his horse in South Africa. He was warmly greeted, and the party started in royal carriages for Osborne House. The route was lined with troops and thronged with cheering sightseers.

When Lord Roberts reached Osborne House, he found that the queen was out driving, and he conversed with several of the princesses while waiting for her to return. His audience with her majesty was quite private and lasted a quarter of an hour. The queen bestowed an earldom on Lord Roberts, with a special remainder for his daughters. He was also made a knight of the Garter.

News From Dawson.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 3.—The steamer Victorian has arrived from Skaguay with 40 passengers and mails from Dawson. They left as late as Dec. 16, making quick time over the ice. A. F. Lauder of Seattle was the latest passenger, and he came out on a bicycle. Mrs. Ballinger, wife of Dr. Ballinger, who left Dawson on Dec. 6 for Skaguay and completely disappeared, also came out by the Victorian. She heard nothing of her husband, who, it is feared, met with foul play, and she is now on her way to seek assistance of relatives in Seattle. She will immediately return north to prosecute the search. There is no clew.

Daly's Daughter Weds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Miss Margaret Daly, the eldest daughter of the late Marcus Daly of Montana, was very quietly married at noon yesterday to Mr. H. Carroll Brown of Baltimore at the home of the bride's mother, 725 Fifth avenue. Because of the recent death of the bride's father only the immediate relatives of the couple were present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Powers of Baltimore.

Masonic Degree for Roosevelt.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The rooms of the Matinecock lodge, F. and A. M., at Oyster Bay, on Long Island, were crowded last night to witness the first degree conferred upon Theodore Roosevelt, the vice president elect of the United States. Every lodge in this Masonic district was represented. Grand Secretary Ehlers was present. The ceremonies were of the usual order.

Homes For Russian Jews.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Jan. 3.—The trustees of the Baron de Hirsch fund will now develop the town of Woodbine, Cape May county, for the benefit of the Russian Jews. They have given out a contract for the erection of 50 dwellings and a large factory. The fund now has progressive colonies at Carmel, Rosenhayn, Reliance and Woodbine, in southern New Jersey.

Attempted Suicide.

NORWICH, Conn., Jan. 3.—Patrick Reardon, an inmate of the Norwich town jail, attempted to commit suicide at that institution. He cut his throat with a knife which he took from the dinner table. He was taken to the Backus hospital. Reardon will probably die.

Railroad Shops to Be Enlarged.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The New York Central railroad shops here are to be enlarged and employment given to twice the present force. The wages of trainmen and conductors on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg division have been advanced 15 per cent.

Rockefeller's Grandson Dead.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The 2-year-old son of Mrs. Harold McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, is dead at his parents' home, Pocantico Hills, of scarlet fever. Another child of Mrs. McCormick is also dangerously ill from the fever.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Organization Perfected—Governor Odell's Message Read.

ALBANY, Jan. 3.—Both branches of the state legislature convened at 11 a. m. yesterday. The senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff and the assembly by Colonel Archie Baxter, clerk of that house. The feature of both sessions was the reading of the message of Governor Odell, which, because of the character of its recommendations, was listened to with great interest by members and visitors.

The organization of both houses was carried out in compliance with the determination of the caucus.

S. Fred Nixon was elected speaker of the assembly, the Democrats voting for Assemblyman Daniel S. Frisbie of Schoharie county. The latter becomes the leader of the minority of the house. The majority leader will be the man designated by the speaker as chairman of the ways and means committee.

Senator Timothy E. Ellsworth of Niagara county was elected president pro tem. of the senate, the Democratic members voting for Senator Thomas F. Grady of New York. They thus become the leaders of their respective parties on the floor of the senate.

Governor Odell's message declares for a single headed police commission, to be appointed by the mayor; abolishing of the fee system, which increases the income of county officials; consolidation of several labor commissions as the department of labor; rigid economy in all branches of the administration; more liberal treatment of corporations, which are being driven out of the state; corrective legislation for every department in the city of New York; an employers' liability law or forced insurance of employees; exemption of mortgages from taxation, and against the state constabulary plan as being valueless; the levying of a direct tax for state purposes; the consolidation of the elections bureau and the police department; the trial of divorces in secret session of court; divorce except when statutory causes have been clearly proved.

FIRST SIGN.

China Will Get No Information Until Note Is Accepted.

PEKING, Jan. 3.—The ministers held a meeting yesterday, at which it was decided not to answer any Chinese questions concerning the demands of the powers until the formal acceptance of the preliminary note. They will ask Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching to sign immediately. Meanwhile the ministers will prepare a memorandum of what must be done in the way of punishment and otherwise to carry out the terms of the demand note satisfactorily. A meeting for this purpose will be held today.

The Chinese commissioners have written to Field Marshal Count von Waldersee informing him that China has agreed to the demands of the powers and asking him to stop sending expeditions into the country. As yet no answer has been received to the note. The ministers will make a formal request of the generals to the same effect as soon as the note is signed by the Chinese representatives.

The Minnesota Senatorship.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 3.—The formal announcement of the senatorial candidacy of Chairman Tams Bixby of the Dawes Indian commission has been made, making four avowed candidates for the seat of the late Cushman K. Davis. The legislature convenes next Tuesday. Robert G. Evans of Minneapolis is now credited with 40 votes. The friends of General Moses E. Clapp of St. Paul will make no statement of strength, but appear confident. Congressman James A. Tawney of Winona is sanguine, but no claims will be made for him until the first district members have had opportunity to meet to discuss the situation. The present outlook is for no caucus on the short term, none of the candidates seeming willing to go into a caucus with the present strength. The re-election of Senator Knute Nelson for the long term appears almost certain.

The Year's Coinage.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—The work of destroying the dies of 1900 used for coining purposes has commenced at the United States mint. These dies range from double eagles to pennies and are not only those used here, but those used in New Orleans and San Francisco, which have been shipped here for destruction. During the calendar year just closed the total number of pieces coined in the Philadelphia mint was 139,312,886, representing $66,182,808. The gold coinage amounted to $48,674,983, including money for Costa Rica. The total silver coinage was $15,476,687.20 and the total base $2,031,137.39.

Broke Through Ice and Drowned.

HUDSON, N. Y., Jan. 3.—While Mrs. Herbert Shaw andd Mrs. Jonas Miller, daughters of William Browne of this city, accompanied by Miss Amelia Spencer, were returning from a visit to Athens across the ice in a sleigh drawn by Harry Hermance of Hudson and Michael Keyes of Troy the ice gave way and precipitated all five into the water. The two men succeeded in getting on firm ice and pulling Mrs. Miller out of the water, but the other two women were drawn under the ice by the swift current.

Could Not Identify Crowe.

OMAHA, Jan. 3.—Edward A. Cudaby, Jr., failed to identify J. J. Crowe as one of the men who kidnaped him. Young Cudaby appeared at the city jail and confronted Crowe. After looking at the suspect five minutes or more Cudaby remarked: "I never saw that man before He is not the one who stood guard over me, and if he had anything at all to do with the kidnaping I didn't see him."

Boiler Explosion Wrecks Building.

SENECA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 3.—A boiler exploded in the second story of the Sheldon block on the main business street blowing out the front of the building Several persons who were passing at the time were thrown on the ground and one of them badly cut by flying pieces of glass. The building took fire and before it could be extinguished was ruined.

A New Training Ship.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The board of naval construction has decided to recommend to congress the construction of a 3,000 ton training ship for the Naval academy in accordance with the plans of Superintendent Wainwright. It was decided that the Chesapeake is too small for the accommodation of the cadets.

Kaser Still Ahead.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Five hundred miles in the six day international bicycle race was covered in 25 hours 31 minutes 41 seconds, Kaser being in the lead.

OUR ACTION PRAISED

Returning French Embassador Commends This Country.

LEADER IN CHINESE SETTLEMENT

Secretary Hay's Note of July 3 Became the Basis of International Agreement—Representation at Paris Exposition Praised.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The French embassador, M. Cambon, is back after a visit of over five months in Europe. His stay abroad covered a most eventful period in international affairs, including the crisis in China and the arrival of Mr Kruger in Europe. M. Cambon spent considerable time in Paris, conferring with the high officials there on important questions under consideration. He also had an opportunity to visit many other points on the continent and especially Germany and gauge the prevailing sentiment. When seen at the embassy yesterday, the embassador looked hale and hearty as the result of his travels.

The Chinese question was in its acute stages while the embassador was at Paris and other European centers, and anxiety reached an intense pitch while the legations at Peking were in peril. M. Cambon highly praised the policy of the United States throughout this trying ordeal and spoke of the happy accord which was maintained at all times by the governments of France and the United States. He says the clear note of Secretary Hay of July 3, which was accepted by the other powers and became the basis of international accord, cleared the way of the most dangerous difficulties and established the essential principle that the territorial integrity of China shall not be disturbed.

In the course of an informal talk he referred to the splendid representation from the United States at the Paris exposition. The American exhibits, he said, were not only numerous, but they were so well chosen and elaborate in detail that they fittingly represented the remarkable development of the United States in all lines of industry and production. The United States government building was one of the most stately structures on the exposition grounds.

The reception given to Mr. Kruger in France, he said, was a natural expression of the popular feeling, but there was nothing in the official attitude of the government which did not conform in the strictest particulars to the disinterested position of France.

New Jersey Legislature.

TRENTON, Jan. 3.—The Republican state senators held a caucus last night at the Republican club and selected the principal senate officers for the session. Senator Charles A. Reed of Somerset county was made chairman of the caucus and will be the Republican leader on the floor of the senate. Senator Mahlon Pitney of Morris county was chosen for president of the senate. Walter E. Edge of Atlantic county was selected for secretary of the senate by a vote of nine to seven over George A. Frey of Camden. Resolutions were unanimously adopted pledging the support of the senators to the re-election of William J. Sewell as United States senator.

Killed at the Bridge Station.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—An unknown man was killed last night at the Brooklyn station of the bridge. The man was a passenger on a train which had just arrived at the Brooklyn station. He was one of the last to leave the car and staggered across the platform, falling off the right hand side directly in front of a train which was drawing into the station. Three cars passed over his body, which was horribly mangled.

To Lose Hands and Feet.

HONESDALE, Pa., Jan. 3.—William Carey of Waymart had both hands amputated, and both feet will also be taken off in a few days. On Dec. 21 Mr. Carey was leading a cow from South Canaan. The animal became frightened, threw him against a rock, and he was rendered unconscious. When found the next morning, his limbs were so badly frozen that physicians could not save him.

Round Up of Tramps.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 3.—The police made a round up of tramps here and arrested 19 men, all more or less dirty and ragged, on the charge of street begging. The city has been infested with tramps of late, and a number of persons have been held up on the streets and robbed. It is believed by the police that some of the men arrested have been concerned in these outrages.

Stabbed by a Woman.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Because the moving of furniture of apartment tenants made so much noise Alfred Roe went into the hall of the house where he lived and, after getting into a quarrel with Mrs. Josephine Eagan, who lives in the same house, was fatally stabbed by her in the neck and abdomen. He was taken to the Seney hospital, where he lies in a dying condition.

Saved by Skin Grafting.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The life of Charles Washer, a 4-year-old child of Matamoras, Pa., was saved by grafting 30 pieces of skin on the back to cover a wound from burns. The skin was cut from the arms of two neighbors.

Blizzard at Lyons.

LYONS, N. Y Jan. 3.—A blizzard from the northwest arrived here last night, snow falling an inch an hour. The mercury dropped to zero.

President Dumont.

While the caucus of the Republican members of the new Common Council will not be held until tonight, it is now a settled thing that President John B Dumont will succeed himself as presiding officer of that body. Considering the fact that Mr. Dumont is the oldest member of the Council, in time of service, and that he filled out the unexpired term of Frank H. Smith last year, it would seem but courteous to place him in the President's chair for 1901. The action will be approved by the Councilmen at the caucus tonight, and Mr Dumont will be regularly elected at the meeting next Monday night.

It was from political reasons that Mr. Dumont was opposed but the Republicans leaders are beginning to realize that an attempt to substitute any other Councilman in his place will cause considerable hard feeling in the Second and Third wards and would tend to make the feeling between the Republicans on the two sides of the railroad more bitter than ever. The last city election did not leave things in a singularly harmonious state as far as the Grand Old Party is concerned and any act like the defeat of Mr. Dumont would be apt to stir up renewed strife which the workers for harmony in the Republican ranks have been trying to reduce to a minimum.

Honors for Mr. Reed.

Another pleasant honor has come for State Senator Charles A. Reed, of this borough. At the caucus of the State Senators at Trenton yesterday, he was chosen as Republican leader on the floor of the Senate this winter. Mr. Reed has been President of that body for one term and now comes this other chief honor which the Republican Senators can confer. It only goes to show that North Plainfield's prominent citizen is appreciated by others than his towns folk.

There are still greater honors in store for Mr. Reed if his health permits him to remain in the political arena. He has assumed an important part in state affairs and the Daily Press reiterates its former statement that the day is not far distant when he will head the Republican ticket as that party's candidate for the Governorship.

An experienced advertising adviser, says the Philadelphia Record, considers the beginning of the new year a very good time to advertise. "The new customer who begins the new year with you," he tells merchants, "is likely to be your customer throughout the year. A bright aggressive advertisement will get more attention at this season than at almost any other, because there are so few advertisements to compete with it."

It is a matter for congratulation that the music lovers of Plainfield were sufficiently liberal in their promised support for the rendition of the oratorio of 'Elijah' as to make the giving of that great work a possibility.

The building of a trolley line from Princeton to Trenton Junction will greatly facilitate the means of transportation to that little college town for those who live along the line of the Jersey Central Railroad.

The war cloud still hangs over South Africa and shows signs of renewed growth.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and its Citizens.

The Board of Trade of Plainfield, N. J., at a recent meeting, broached the subject of advertising the city as a place of residence for New York and Brooklyn business men. The city council was asked to appropriate the sum of $1,500 with which to advertise the advantages of Plainfield in the New York and Brooklyn papers. If the amount be granted, it will immediately be doubled by popular subscription among Plainfield business men. It is said that a State law exists which empowers a city to appropriate money for self-advertisement.—Printer's Ink.

There is nothing to indicate that the coming session of the Legislature will be any better or any worse than the average of its predecessors. With its overwhelming majority, the Republican party has the power to indulge in all kinds of partisan legislation, but there is little reason to fear that it will abuse its opportunity. The danger of such a course is appreciated by the wise party leaders, and it has already been made clear that conservative counsels will prevail. Measures designed to further local partisan advantage, but which are likely to react disastrously upon the general welfare of the party, will be given scant courtesy. Corporation influence is likely to be much in evidence and to prove as potent as ever. There is no room to hope for the enactment of any laws which fail to meet the approval of the powerful corporate interests which practically own the New Jersey Legislature.—Newark News.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

It is the story that appeals to the heart that leaves the lasting impression and that which appeals to our better self is the most welcome. "Hearts of the Blue Ridge," which will be seen at Music Hall next Monday night, tells of a feud in the North Carolina hills that is interrupted in its deadly progress because the daughter of one family and the son of the other fall in love with each other, and while they have a great deal of trouble to maintain their position, love ever laughs at locksmiths, why not at a feud? It is a beautiful story of a class of people who know not subterfuge, but are as sincere and honest as the hills they live among, whose friendship is to be desired, whose hatred to be feared. Their simplicity cannot fail to interest nor their native humor to amuse, and "Hearts of the Blue Ridge" will long be remembered as an accurate chronicle of the people of a delightful locality.

* * * * * *

The four Cohans will head an unusually strong programme of vaudeville at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York, the coming week, beginning Monday, January 7. This will be the farewell appearance of the Four Cohans in vaudeville as they are to star in a new farce comedy by Geo. M. Cohan on January 21. The Cohans will be assisted by these star features: Papinta, who has become an established favorite on Broadway, will offer a new series of myriad dances; Lillian Burkhart and Co. in a new sketch, "Captain Suzanne," his initial appearance; Yorke and Adams, Carroll Johnson, Ethel Levey, Hawaiian Queens, Zeno, Carl and Zeno, Chas. F. Sweet, Johnny Johns and the Jean Marcel living pictures and bas reliefs, which have become the talk of the town.

Back to School.

After a pleasant vacation of nearly two weeks, the pupils of the city public schools assembled for the winter term this morning. At the High School the attendance was very large and everyone seemed prepared for a term of hard work. The extra day in the vacation this year was granted by the Board of Education on receiving a petition from the High School pupils and teachers. Their reason for doing so was that those who spent the holidays out of town would not be forced to return on New Year's Day.

Reception to New Members.

The members of the W. C. T. U. will hold a parlor meeting in their rooms next week Wednesday when a reception will be given to the new members. There will be several special features, including a talk on the convention. Tea will be served during the afternoon.

—The Wa chung Silk Company will hold the annual election on Monday, January 14th.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

A letter remains in the postoffice for Mrs. Margaret Duncan.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, Jan. 3.—While skating on the pond near the iron bridge yesterday afternoon, Paul Whitford broke through a thin part of the ice and sank into the water. The water at this point is about eight feet in depth and but for his presence of mind in grasping the edge of the ice, the accident would probably have proved fatal. The lad held on until Herbert Taylor procured a rope and drew him out. Beyond a wetting he was none the worse for his experience.

The New Market and Dunellen hockey teams played a game on the pond Tuesday. The latter were defeated by a score of 9 to 3.

George Penrose and Miss Sallie Penrose will leave tomorrow for school at Trenton after spending two weeks at home.

There are letters remaining in the postoffice for Miss Jeffry and Jim Williams.

William Stelle, of Raritan, passed Tuesday with friends in town.

DRAWING GOOD CROWDS.

Performances of Bennett-Moulton Company at Music Hall Continue to Be Very Satisfactory.

Yesterday's performances of the Bennett Moulton Company at Music Hall were well patronized. "The Mother," a pretty play of Irish life in dear old Ireland, was given in the afternoon, and the strong melo-drama, "Wicked London," in the evening. In both plays the entire company was seen to the best of advantage. Lawrence Brooke, Charles Landie, Arthur A Griffin, of the men, and Marion Francis, Adelaide Nye and Laura Thompson, of the women, are to be praised for their different performances.

"Darkest Russia" is being repeated this afternoon, and tonight "A Daughter of the South" will be given. After the regular performance tonight a grand amateur contest will take place. A prize of $5 in gold is offered for the best act. Among the entries are Wm. Munsells, cake walk; Jeanie Renaud, musical artist; Salter Sisters, songs; Collins and Lyons, Irish comedians. Some good fun is expected.

Friday evening every woman will be presented with a combination photo. of the entire company. "Shadows of a Great City" is the play for that night, being the only one ever written by Joseph Jefferson. This is making a good name for itself, and is deserving of the fine patronage it is having.

"ELIJAH" ASSURED.

Will be Given at Stillman Music Hall on Thursday Evening, February 14, by Plainfield Choral Society.

All music lovers will be delighted to know that it has been definitely decided to give the oratorio of "Elijah" at Music Hall Thursday, February 14. It will be given by the Plainfield Choral Society in its entirety, with a full orchestra and prominent soloists. It was a question for some time whether this oratorio would be given, owing to the expense attached to the production. This objection has been overcome and the financial part of the affair has been so arranged that the concert can be given.

Everyone in the city who loves good music will be glad to learn of the fact and they will no doubt give their earnest support to the efforts of those who have charge of the concert. The rehearsals for the oratorio will begin at once under the direction of E. J. Fitzhugh, who has been so successful in the past in training the choral for the several concerts they have given.

cemetery was the only place of burial in the town. This belonged to the Friends' sect and was located where it is at present, having been established there before the past century commenced. Some time later the other denominations secured cemeteries of their own, the Presbyterian burying ground being in the rear of the old Presbyterian church, and the Methodist place for the burial of the dead being on West Front street, where the First Methodist church now stands.

In those early days the worshippers were called to church by one bell—that which hung in the belfry of the old Presbyterian church. This bell did duty also for church, fire and school bell; in fact it was all the citizens had to depend on to summon them on any particular occasion.

In another article the Daily Press will give a further account of Mr. Barkalew's reminiscence and have something to say about the early days of the fire department—data that will be of interest to many of the boys who "ran with the machine" more than a half century ago.

AN IRISH JAUNTING CAR.

Odd Article of Transportation Met With in the City of Dublin.

A long line of vehicles, outside cars and cabs, some of them battered and shaky, others sufficiently well looking, was gathering on two sides of the green, says Kate Douglas Wiggin, in Atlantic, for Dublin, you know; is "the car-drivingest city in the world." Francesca and I had our first experience the other day. It is easy to tell the stranger, stiff, decorous, terrified, clutching the rail with one or both hands, but we took for our model a pretty Irish girl, who looked like nothing so much as a bird on a swaying bough. It is no longer called the "jaunting," but the outside car, and there is another charming word lost to the world. There was formerly an inside car, too, but it is almost unknown in Dublin, though still found in some of the smaller towns. An outside car has its wheels practically inside the body of the vehicle, but an inside car carries its wheels outside This definition was given us by an Irish driver, but lucid definition is not perhaps an Irishman's strong point. It is clearer to say that the passenger sits outside of the wheels on the one, inside on the other. There are seats for two persons over each of the two wheels, and a "dickey" for the driver in front, should he need to use it. Ordinarily he sits on one side, driving, while you perch on the other, and thus you jog along, each seeing your own side of the road, and discussing the topics of the day across the "well," as the covered-in center of the car is called. There are those who do not agree with its champions who call it "Cupid's own conveyance;" they find the seat too small for two, yet feel it a bit unsociable when the companion occupies the opposite side. To me a modern Dublin car with rubber tires and a good Irish horse is the jolliest conveyance in the universe; there is a liveliness, an irresponsible gayety, in the spring and sway of it; an ease in the half-lounging position against the cushions, a unique charm in "traveling edgeways" with your feet planted on the step. You must not be afraid of a car if you want to enjoy it. Hold the rail if you must, at first, though it's just as bad form as clinging to your horse's mane while riding in the Row. Your driver will take all the chances that a crowded thoroughfare gives him; he would scorn to leave more than an inch between your feet and a Guinness' beer dray; he will shake your flounces and furbelows in the very windows of the passing trams, but he is beloved by the gods, and nothing ever happens to him.

Hit in Head With Croquet Ball

A crowd of skaters on Tier's lake yesterday afternoon, playing hockey, were using a large croquet ball as a "puck." In the course of the game the ball rolled to one side of the lake, when a young girl picked it up and threw it back toward the crowd with considerable force It struck Charles Deal, a young lad, squarely on the head, rendering him unconscious. It was some time before he recovered sufficiently to go home.

The fame of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, as the best in the world, extends round the earth. It's the one perfect healer of Cuts, Corns, Burns, Bruises, Sores, Scalds, Boils, Ulcers, Felons, Aches, Pains and all Skin Eruptions. Only infallible Pile cure. 25c a box at L. W. Randolph's.

Quarterly Meeting.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the chapel of the church.

Good Skating at New Market.

A large number of young people from this city spent New Year's Day at New Market skating on the pond. They report the skating to be much better than that in this city.

Rheinprovinz.

Köln. Die von ihrem Manne getrennt lebende Ehefrau Schäben wurde in ihrer Wohnung Nachts ermordet. Als kurz darauf der Ehemann der Ermordeten vor deren Hause erschien, wurde er als der That verdächtig verhaftet; der Eigenthümer des Hauses kam auch in Haft.

Düsseldorf. Das Schwurgericht verhandelte gegen den Polizeisergeanten Gühmann, welcher angeklagt war, gelegentlich einer Verhaftung den Eisendreher Terspecken mit dem Säbel einen Stich in die Lunge versetzt zu haben, an dessen Folgen Terspecken starb. Gühmann wurde zu einem Jahr Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Essen. An einem Neubau der Krupp'schen Werke verunglückten durch Sturz in die Tiefe der Ingenieur Tobeler aus Bochum und der Monteur Brandsmüller aus Essen. Tobeler war todt, der Monteur schwer verwundet.

Biersen. Die Stadtverordneten beschlossen, zu Ostern 1901 das Progymnasium in eine Vollanstalt umzuwandeln.

Provinz Sachsen.

Halle. Das Landgericht lehnte die Haftentlassung des wegen Abdrucks des „Hunnen"-Medaille-Gedichts verhafteten Redakteurs des sozialdemokratischen „Volksblatt," Swienty, gegen eine von dem Verhafteten angebotene Kautionssumme von 10,000 Mark ab. Swienty ist der Schwiegersohn des verstorbenen Sozialistenführers Liebknecht.

Naumburg. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Bankier Richard Fromm wegen Verbrechens gegen das Depotgesetz und betrügerischen Bankerotts zu sechs Jahren Gefängniß.

Provinz Schlesien.

Breslau. Vom Kriegsgericht wurde der Hauptmann Walter Schuer wegen Unterschlagung, Betruges und Urkundenfälschung zur Entfernung aus dem Heere, fünf Jahren Gefängniß und fünf Jahren Ehrverlust verurtheilt.

Liegnitz. In Sachen des neuen Truppenübungsplatzes „Neuhammer" hat dahier eine Konferenz stattgefunden, wobei es sich um Enteignungs- und Gemeindesachen handelte. Das Kommando des Truppenübungs-Platzes kommt am 1. April 1901 nach Neuhammer in Station.

Radzionkau. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Postverwalter Springer wegen Unterschlagung amtlicher Gelder zu dreijährigem Gefängniß.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Kiel. Die Stadtvertretung hat, abgesehen von dem Ausbau des inneren Hafens, einstimmig beschlossen, schleunigst Schritte zur Anlegung eines Handelshafens in der Wieler Bucht zu thun.

Rendsburg. Ein zweites großes industrielles Unternehmen ist am Audorfersee im Entstehen begriffen, nämlich eine Cooksfabrik. Die Aufführung der erforderlichen Baulichkeiten ist der Firma Pütter in Düsseldorf für 900,000 Mark übertragen worden. Es werden vorläufig 60 Oefen eingerichtet. Die Eröffnung der Fabrik soll im Spätsommer 1901 erfolgen.

Provinz Westfalen.

Hamm. Anhier ist der frühere Apothekenbesitzer Dr. v. der Marck, 86 Jahre alt, gestorben. Wegen seiner wissenschaftlichen Verdienste, namentlich auf dem Gebiete der Geologie und Geognosie, war er seiner Zeit von der Universität Bonn zum Ehrendoktor ernannt worden.

Hombruch. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Bergmann Wroblewsky wegen Ermordung seiner Frau und seines Töchterchens zum Tode und wegen versuchter Ermordung zweier Söhne zu 15 Jahren Zuchthaus.

Werl. Das vierte katholische Lehrerseminar, das in Westfalen eingerichtet wird, erhält unsere Stadt. Die Stadt übernimmt die Baukosten.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Der vom Obersten Grafen Moltke im Namen des Kaisers dem König Albert überbrachte Interims-Feldherrenstab ist demjenigen ähnlich, welchen der Feldmarschall Graf Waldersee vor seinem Abgange nach China vom obersten deutschen Kriegsherrn erhielt. Diese Interimsstäbe gleichen einem Reitstock und sind mit Quastenschnüren verziert. An das braune Rohr schließt sich ein silberner Griff mit goldenem Bügel. Eine Platte trägt den Namen des Königs. Letzterer besitzt nunmehr vier Marschallstäbe.—Von den Theilnehmern des jüngsten Kurses zur Ausbildung von Turnlehrern hierorts unterwarfen sich 26 der Abgangsprüfung. Sämmtlichen Kandidaten konnte das Reifezeugniß zuerkannt werden.—In der Eisengießerei von Louis Paul u. Co. fand man den 23 Jahre alten Arbeiter Gommlich aus Serkowitz als Leiche zwischen der Kolbenstange vor. Durch Unvorsichtigkeit war er in die Maschine gerathen.

Chemnitz. Hierorts hat man beim Ausheben eines Kanals für das Fernsprechkabel einen versteinerten Baumstamm erschürft, der an seinem unteren Ende 20 Fuß im Umfang mäßt.

Lugau. Als die Frau des Bergarbeiters Rietzel in Gersdorf mit einem Handwagen in Lugau Kohlen holte, kam sie auf der abschüssigen Straße zum Fallen, und der Wagen fuhr über die Unglückliche hinweg, wobei dieselbe so schwere innere Verletzungen erlitt, daß sie denselben bald erlag.

Woman's Progress

What She Has Gained In the Nineteenth Century and What She Expects to Gain In the Twentieth

The girl of 1801. What a vision that calls up before us! A shrinking, timid creature with narrow shoulders and lily complexion, a girl who was sharply reproved if she held decided opinions of her own, a woman who was expected to shine as an ornament in her husband's drawing room, but when weighty matters were brought up for discussion was required to stay meekly in the background and hold her peace. True, there were some daring spirits who occasionally broke all bounds and spoke their minds, but we know from Napoleon's attitude toward Mme. de Stael how such women were treated.

Can you imagine a modern girl bursting into a roomful of these ultra genteel ladies? To make things as bad as possible, fancy her in a golf costume with her hair blown about by the wind and her cheeks tanned and perhaps a little dusty. How the mouths of our ancestors would have pursed up in disapproval at the sight of her mannish vest and her high collar and ascot tie. And if, thrusting her hands in her pockets and crossing her knees in a characteristic boyish attitude, she had regaled them with up to date conversation, don't you suppose that before she had been in the room five minutes the entire assemblage would have had a fit of the vapors, or fainted, or indulged in some other nervous performance fashionable at the time?

And would you blame them when you consider what the status of woman was in their time? Let me quote from the records of the National American Woman's association:

"In 1800 married women were not permitted in any country to control their property nor to will it away at death. To all intents and purposes they did not own it. The legal existence of the wife was so merged in that of her husband that she was said to be 'dead in law.' Not only did he control her property, collect and use her wages, select the food and clothing for herself and children, but to a very large extent he controlled her 'freedom of thought, speech and action.' If she disagreed with him or in any way offended him he possessed the legal right, upheld by public opinion, to punish her, the courts only interfering when the chastisement exceeded the popular idea in severity. At this time it was held by courts in England and the United States that a man in whipping his wife should be restricted to a stick no thicker than his thumb.

"All possessions passed into the hands of the husband at marriage. If a married woman worked for wages, she could not legally collect them, as they belonged to her husband. She could not make a will, sue or be sued. Few occupations were open to women.

"No college in the world admitted women. Men had so long done the thinking for the average woman it was universally believed that no woman was capable of mastering the higher branches of learning. The few women of genius who had appeared from time to time were pronounced the 'exception which proves the rule.' The convents and boarding schools wherein girls of wealth were educated taught nothing but the rudiments, while the girls of the poor received no education at all. Public schools were in many places closed to girls, and when admitted they were dissuaded from attempting the study of all branches except reading, writing and elementary arithmetic. Women were forbidden to speak or pray in the churches and, in many of them, even to sing in the choir.

"In 1803 a man sold his wife as a cow in the Sheffield market, England, for a guinea. Newspapers commented upon it as a common occurrence. The pulpits at this time gave frequent expositions of the necessary subordination of women, quoting from St. Ambrose as though inspired: 'Adam was beguiled by Eve, not Eve by Adam. It is just that woman should take as her ruler him whom she incited to sin, that he may not fall a second time through female levity.'

"It was upon such conditions that the curtain of the nineteenth century rose, the century which the prophetic voice of Victor Hugo proclaimed to be the 'century of woman.'"

We all know what she has gained. She works side by side with men, and her work is taken seriously. She receives the same education as her brother. She excels in nearly every branch of labor open to men. Marriage is not the only future open to her, but when she does marry it is no longer a slavery, but a partnership on equal terms. She refuses to be kept in ignorance of the world, and she faces it with clear eyes and keen judgment. She is healthy and athletic, as full of life and spirits as a boy, and above all there are no limits to her ambition.

Here are a few things, for instance, which she expects to gain by the end of the twentieth century:

She is going to vote.

She is going to insist that she shall be paid the same wages as men for an equal amount of work.

She will have the same privileges as a man after her day's labor.

She will be able to go alone to the theater and restaurant without the painful necessity of dragging a man with her. When this is brought about, men will find themselves much less sought after.

When the nerves of her employer become a trifle on edge and he lights a cigarette to soothe them, she may give herself the same comfort if she chooses. The fact that she ought not to smoke because she is a woman will seem a humorous rather than a logical point of view.

When she marries a man and she is the larger wage earner, she will be the head of the house.

Her clothes will be comfortable as well as artistic.

She will hold any or every office where political integrity is demanded.

In fact should matters become too bad she wouldn't mind becoming president of the United States.

Signatures Which Bring Money.

One beauty of being a queen is that your signature even on a scrap of paper is worth money, and if you have been dead some time—but this threatens to be an Irish bull. Here are three signatures. The first is not, as one might suppose, the scrawl of some uneducated "Mariar," but it is the work of the highly accomplished Mary, queen of Scots, and it fetches the sum of $250. The R stands for Regina. The second and highly ornamented specimen is that of good Queen Bess. It is worth $125. The third belongs to England's reigning sovereign, and although she has reached a ripe old age and must have signed her name thousands of times a good specimen brings $10.

Outlook for the Season in the Western FOOTBALL Field

PRELIMINARY skirmishes on western college gridirons indicate that the main contests of the 'varsity schedules are to be fought out on lines that reflect the strategy of the several coaches, each of whom will endeavor to mold his primary system taken from his alma mater into a distinctive system that will be named his "own and only." In this respect the football season of 1900 will differ little from that of last year. But the plans of the generals who lead the athletes are bound to have some variations. They, therefore, are of great interest to the followers of gridiron sports.

At this early date it is not vital to ask "What eleven will win the championship?" Not even Coach A. A. Stagg, who led his maroons to the western championship last season, has permitted himself to think about the championship. The greatest problem for the coaches is as to the availability of the timber at hand for the hard games that are to come.

Opinions differ about the matter of the most successful western football coach. Prof. Stagg is invariably given this distinction, but cunning "Phil" King, of Wisconsin, is the gridiron general that Stagg fears most. King has one slogan which he sounds for the benefit of his many big athletes this season, and this is "prepare to give the cardinal revenge for that humiliating defeat on Randall field last December by the University of Chicago eleven." Since 1896, King has directed the football ship of state at Madison, and in all that time he has not been more eager to build up a team that would be called champion eleven. It was King who agreed to meet the Carlisle Indians after the season had been closed, and it has been King ever since who has drilled his Badger warriors to never think of defeat until the whistle has blown and the game is over.

Quite naturally Coach King has injected a great deal of the Princeton idea of football into the work of the Badgers. Years of experience at Old Nassau made King a veritable tiger strategist. But for the last two seasons King had to make up a system to suit the exigencies. Capt. Pat O'Dea, playing his last years with the cardinal had to be utilized more especially for his kicking qualities, and the cardinal was open to the criticism that it played a game for ten men. Yet this generalship was not found wanting in the contest with Michigan. That it was proved to be founded on a bad basis by the great defeat of the Badgers by Chicago does not seem to fit the case, for hundreds who saw the Madison game will declare as long as they have speech that the maroons that day would have been more than a match for any eastern eleven—that they were simply irresistible.

Mr. King is now manager in full charge of athletics at Madison, and his plans this season will have no opposition. The old Princeton player has always been a friend of open and running plays, and it may be confidently expected that he will have some effective strategy for his big games.

Stagg, at Chicago, invariably manages to get together a great team, even after the flow of early "bear reports." The old Yale football and baseball player would have his critics believe this fall that he is "up against it," and certainly the way Stagg has lectured his men as "quitters" thus far indicate that he has despaired of getting such a perfect "team work" eleven as the championship team proved to be. It must be taken into consideration that Stagg, in addition to coaching his athletes, has to plan his campaigns for funds for athletics at the 'varsity.

While at the basis Stagg's strategy is Yale's, it must not be forgotten that he had to invent many forms of play to suit his own exigencies. What will he do this season? He brought out the tackle back play, and favored the direct pass from center to full back for a kick. It is football history that he was the coach who shattered gridiron precedent by playing a heavy man—Capt. Kennedy, who then weighed close to the 200 mark — at quarter. The same genius that has helped Stagg in the past may come to his rescue before the season is over, although it would seem that after his Purdue scare, the maroon coach might have time for more of the kind of work that he got out of his team last year. Coach Woodruff, however, writes from the east that Pennsy is watching the Stagg team, and will be prepared to meet the maroon with more strategy than the warriors from Phila. showed last year.

Dr. Knipe, at Iowa, will keep the other coaches guessing this season. The hero of the old days at Pennsy went to the Hawkeye 'varsity and in one case made such a favorable impression with his strategy that today, in the language of the college man, "he owns the state." It was Dr. Knipe who sat up nights reading the rules, and by the exercise of strategy nearly succeeded in besting Chicago. The famous tie game was a fitting climax to Knipe's first season with Iowa. The Hawkeye's did not have their goal line crossed last season. Everybody that follows football is anxiously awaiting the result of Knipe's generalship this season Iowa showed that it could not be held for downs by State normal, and piled up a monstrous score just to make the student body feel proud of the eleven. Iowa has the right spirit, and full support will be given Knipe. If the 'varsity does not soon get the greatest amount of consideration from the big institutions, the critics expect to see Dr. Knipe, aided by his husky men, compel the larger teams to admit that Iowa can play just as good football as any of the universities.

It was but the other day that I received a mailing card provided with the usual cut-out circles for the insertion of various coins, with an appeal from the alumni committee of Illinois. The Illini need money this season to conduct athletics on the scale that the material warrants. Alumni who shout loudest the "Hulla baloo hurrah," etc., of the state 'varsity are slowest in doing something for athletics there. I sometimes wish that the politicians would become suddenly prodigal and appropriate a lot of the state funds for football at Champaign. In Coach Fred Smith Illinois has one of the most successful eastern football tacticians. Like King, he was a fine quarterback at Princeton, and has shown in two seasons that he can impart his knowledge of football to the candidates in a masterly manner. In 1897 and 1898 Smith assisted with the backs and was very successful. Last year he was at Princeton burnishing up his alma mater's athletes for their victories. Smith has some decided ideas of his own, which he will include in the Princetonian system that he will use with the Illini.

Michigan, too, will have considerable of the Princeton tactics this season, if Coach Langdon (Biff) Lea follows his precepts that were so successful while he was the head coach at Princeton. To twice send his charges to victory against Yale was "Biff" Lea's good fortune. Michigan yields to no college in its wealth of good material. Lea is accepted as a grand coach. Of course the experiment of Lea working practically alone—he will have an assistant for the backs—will be watched by alumni with a great deal of interest. Lea at Princeton had a regular cabinet of advisers. The maize and blue has some mighty grads who will be ready to respond to Lea's call should the coach need assistance. Michigan's early game with Kalamazoo counts for little. The varsity was not made up as strongly as it will be, and the men doubtless followed the coach's instructions explicitly and the score was low. In full back Sweeley, Coach Lea has a valuable assistant—Sweeley may always be depended upon to execute plays suggested by the coach.

Dr. Hollister has the same trouble this year at Northwestern that was evident last year and the year before. He has ideas galore, is a successful coach, as Beloit can testify, but it must be disheartening for a coach to find the spirit that obtains at Madison, Iowa, Michigan, etc., lacking at the home of the purple. Northwestern will never regain her former rank in the football world until there is more spirit shown and until a training table conducted like that at Chicago and the services of a regular trainer are provided. Hollister naturally follows his alma mater, Pennsylvania, but he has discarded the famous "guards back" play, relying upon a tandem mass formations. As for Pat O'Dea at Notre Dame, he is in full sympathy with his men and the management, has a wealth of material there and should make a good coach. I think that O'Dea knows enough about football to impart his knowledge successfully, but he will have trouble in finishing a punter and drop kicker equal to himself.

A HISTORIC CORNER.

Occupied Once by Washington's Best Known Hotel.

In One of Its Rooms Andrew Johnson Took the Oath of Office as President of the United States.

[Special Washington Letter.]

THERE is a historic corner on Pennsylvania avenue which is now occupied by a hotel; and very few people now living know anything about the history of the locality.

For many years the building on the corner of Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue was occupied by the pension office, and then a dry goods and notions store built up a successful business there. Six years ago alterations were made which transformed the building into a hotel and cafe and now additions have been built along Twelfth street, completely obliterating all of the landmarks which were so dear to us old-timers.

Nearly 20 years ago "Boss" Shepherd, the man of energy and executive ability who changed the national capital from its condition of a sluggard southern town in a mudhole to a national city with broad avenues and concreted streets, built upon the corner referred to a six-story brick building, with mansard roof, and rented it to the government for the use of the pension office. It was so occupied until the architectural monstrosity in Judiciary square was completed, in 1885, and then the pension office was removed and the Shepherd building was taken by a prosperous storekeeper.

During the civil war the corner was occupied by the best known and most popular hotel in the city, called the Kirkwood house. Members of the cabinet as well as prominent senators and representatives resided at the Kirkwood house, and prominent officers of the federal armies were constantly coming and going as guests of the same hotel. Vice President Andrew Johnson was a guest of the Kirkwood house on the night of the tragedy at Ford's theater, when President Lincoln lost his life by the hand of an assassin. On the following morning it was in the Kirkwood house that Mr. Johnson took the oath of office and became president of the United States.

In the spring of 1864, when the successful general of the Mississippi valley, U. S. Grant, came to the national capital to receive from the hands of the president his commission as lieutenant general of all the armies he was a guest at the Kirkwood house. From time to time Gens. Sherman, Sheridan, Hancock, Logan, Meade and other eminent military men either had their rooms or took their meals at the Kirkwood house. It was not until several years after the war had closed, when the armies had been disbanded, the carpet-bag period had passed, and the unusual business incident to and dependent upon the civil war had ceased, that the Kirkwood house, being no longer the most popular hostelrie in the city, was closed.

During the latter part of March, 1864, while he was planning the offensive campaign which commenced with the battle of the Wilderness on the 5th day of the following May, a banquet was given to Gen. Grant in the Kirkwood house, which was followed by a ball, and in the festivities of both events Miss Kate Chase, the accomplished, brilliant and beautiful daughter of Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase, was the social leader. Although the celebrated hostelrie was a frame building of the olden style, it was an exceptionally large and roomy structure for those days. More than 200 men and women of distinction participated in the banquet, and, before the dawn of the morrow had dispersed the merry-makers, nearly 1,000 of the men and women of note in those days participated in the terpsichorean mazes.

For many years the best servant in the old Kirkwood house was a colored man named George Thornby. He acted as valet to Gen. Grant on that occasion and was subsequently detailed to look after the comfort of Vice President Johnson. So it happened that when the old house finally gave way to a more modern structure, Thornby, through the kind intercession of many men of prominence whom he had served, secured an appointment as messenger in the post office department, when Congressman Tyner, of Indiana, was made postmaster general. He remained there until a few years ago, when he died. Thornby was a very intelligent fellow and was made mail messenger to the first assistant postmaster general. During his latter years he took a great deal of pleasure in telling a story concerning John Schuyler Crosby, of New York, who was the governor of the territory of Montana for three years and became first assistant postmaster general when Frank Hatton was advanced to the position of postmaster general. Thornby opened all the envelopes and laid the smaller ones, which ostensibly contained personal letters, upon the desk of the first assistant postmaster general; but the big official envelopes he distributed to the clerks in charge of the appointments in the different states, and he always did his work intelligently and with good judgment.

Gov. Crosby had only been the incumbent of the office of first assistant postmaster general a few days when he rung his bell for which Thornby responded, and Gov. Crosby said:

"I want to know who it is that opens my letters every day before they are placed on my desk."

"That is my work, sir," said Thornby, bowing and smiling as one who knows his duty is well performed.

"Well, hereafter," said Gov. Crosby, "I do not want anybody to open my mail. Let the mail be placed upon my desk and I will open it myself. I do not wish to have my correspondence handled in this indiscriminate manner."

On the following morning, when Crosby entered his office he was amazed to see it transformed into a general delivery office and mail packing establishment. His desk was stacked three feet high with letters of every description, not one of which Thornby had opened. In a little space upon the desk before Crosby's chair were 150 or 200 small envelopes containing letters which might be presumed to be personal, but at least three-fourths of which must have been official.

Gov. Crosby was no fool. He simply lacked executive departmental experience. He saw at once that the colored man had a huge joke on him. He rang the bell, and when the polite Thornby appeared, he said: "Thornby, here is a five-dollar bill which belongs to you. Take all of this stuff off of my desk and say nothing about it to anybody."

The faithful and intelligent negro did as requested. But the clerks, who had been waiting for their daily work more than two hours that morning, had ascertained the fact that all of their mail was piled upon Crosby's desk, so that Thornby violated no confidence later when he told the story with many a hilarious smile.

The old Kirkwood house is merely a reminiscence in the national capital. Its disappearance was voluminously commented upon when it was obliterated; and the story of the old hotel is brought vividly to memory by reason of the fact that another old hotel, within a block of the treasury building, has been torn down this summer in order to make room for an immense modern structure.

The old hotel was originally built in 1836, for the use of the post office department. Within five years the Doric columns of the new post office department were erected, and the postmaster general took possession thereof. Then it was that the hotel was opened. It has been known by name to all who have visited the national capital during the past 60 years. It was what the proprietor hoped it would be, as he expressed it with his New England nasal twang, "a very likely tavern." The hotel which will take its place will be a credit to this great and growing city.

The department of justice is in temporary quarters because its historic building, opposite the treasury department, has been torn down this summer, to make room for another, a bigger and better building. The old Corcoran art gallery is about to be taken down, in order to make room for a hall of records of the executive departments.

These are only a few of the improvements which are being made upon Pennsylvania avenue; and they have come none too soon. The principal thoroughfare of the national capital has long been regarded as the best parade ground in the world; but the buildings along that thoroughfare have never reflected credit upon the city, nor upon the people of the republic. The improvements briefly outlined here really constitute a great stride in the development of the national capital as a modern city.

SMITH D. FRY.

Satisfactoy Definition.

An old Highlander, rather fond of his glass, was ordered by his doctor during a temporary ailment not to exceed one ounce of spirits in the day. The old man was a little dubious about the amount, and asked his boy, who was at school, how much an ounce was. "Sixteen drams one ounce," said the boy. "Sixteen drams," cried the delighted man. "Gawl, no so bad. Run and tell Tonal MacTavish to come doon the night."—Tit-Bits.

PUPILS REFUSED.

Over Crowded Condition of Borough Schools Will Not Allow Out-of-Town Pupils to Attend.

The public schools of the borough opened this morning with a full attendance. The teachers were in their places on time and all appeared to have received much benefit from their twelve days' vacation. Superintendent Wightman told a reporter for the Daily Press that he had been flooded with applications from out of town pupils, who were anxious to attend the North Plainfield public schools. Some of these applications come from the parents of children living in towns outside of the county; in fact some of the children who applied for admission to the schools live quite a distance from North Plainfield. All of these applications have been refused owing to the already crowded condition of the schools.

The training department will not be ready to open before January 28, when it is expected that everything will be in readiness for this work. It is expected that the manual training desk will be shipped in a few days, possibly next week. It is being made in a western city.

NO SLAUGHTERING IN BOROUGH.

Complaint Made Against Butcher Jacob Mintz on That Charge.

Complaint has been lodged with the authorities of the borough and with the Borough Board of Health against Jacob Mintz, a butcher, who, they claim, persists in killing cattle in the old Lewis slaughtering house on Somerset street.

Mintz keeps a butcher shop on West Third street and has been in the habit, it is alleged, of using the Lewis slaughter house, which is inside the borough limits and therefore contrary to a borough ordinance. The health authorities will take steps to abate at once the nuisance if Mintz does not stop the practice complained of.

"Stranger, how nigh did the bullet come to you?"

"Not within ten rods," I replied

"Shoo! She don't carry as fur as I thought fur."

"Did you aim at me?"

"Plumb fur your hat, sah, but I hope you won't feel put out about it. She's a new gun, and I was jest trying her range. Fine weather, sah, and mebbe you could git away with a drink from a jug?"—Chicago Daily News.

England Educating Gardeners.

Since the old system of garden apprenticeship has been abrogated some agricultural schools and other institutions have examinations and give certificates to those who successfully pass them. The London Royal Horticultural society is doing good work in this line. On April in each year they have examinations open to all. The questions are such as any first-class gardener should be able to answer promptly and on the spot. At the last examination there were 236 candidates. Three hundred were taken as high water marks, and only those who received 200 points and upward received first-class certificates.—N. Y. Herald.

Science's Alarming Strides.

In a recent lecture Dr. Hoffhauer claimed that the age of fishes can be told by their scales. These show under the microscope stripes similar to the bands in the cross-cut of a tree, which indicate the age of the fish. We are now able to approximately state the age of horses, fishes and trees. Tremble, oh, ladies, but some scientist will make a discovery enabling a lay observer to determine the human age at sight. ## ADELMANN RESIGNS.

Hereafter The Plainfield Line Will be Under Control of The Management of the General System.

John H. Adelman, who for the past seven years has been superintendent of the Plainfield Street Railway and who was lately reduced from general superintendent of the Elizabeth line has tendered his resignation as superintendent of the Plainfield division to the company officials. It is understood that Mr. Adelmann's action in doing so is in accordance with the plan of General Superintendent Smith who succeeded him in the Elizabeth Plainfield and Central New Jersey Railway, to concentrate the entire lines under one management having no division superintendents.

A temporary starter has been appointed by Mr. Smith who will assume control at once, until a permanent appointment has been made. As yet Mr. Adelmann has no definite plans for the future.

NEW STATION.

Work is Going Steadily Forward, But Depot May Not Be Ready Before Spring.

Improvements at the new North Avenue railway station are going steadily forward. The carpenters are at work upon the interior of the new station, which is well under way. The substantial sidewalk under the shed is completed and the new depot begins to assume an air of business dignity. The tunnel, connecting the stations, which runs under the tracks, is also completed, or nearly so. There are no electric lights yet in place, but they will be among the last of the work when the finishing touches are put on. This station is not only the handsomest but the most substantial of any on the line of the Central Railroad. It probably will not be ready to occupy before spring.

MORTGAGE FOR $2,500,000.

Given by Central Traction Company to Fidelity Trust Company

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Jan. 3.—In the Union County clerk's office was filed Saturday, the mortage given by the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Traction Company to the Fidelity Trust Company, of Newark. The mortgage is for $2,500,000 and is to run for fifty years, from December 1, 1900. Five per cent interest is to be paid.

The mortgage covers all the real estate, personal property and franchises which the company now owns or may acquire in the future. There is $1,250 in revenue stamps affixed to the document.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. Only 25c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Raised Up Chiefs.

District Deputy Charles L. Holestein and staff visited Baritan Tribe, I. O. R. M., last evening, and raised the chiefs. This evening they will raise the chiefs in Wetumpkah Tribe, and a week from tomorrow evening they will raise the chiefs of Miantonomo Tribe.

Believe Kenney is Insane.

John Kenney, the self confessed incendiary who was arrested yesterday, is still confined in the city jail. As yet he has had no official hearing, his confession being made to the police upon being questioned. This afternoon he will be examiued by doctors as to his sanity.

Will Build a Residence.

M. Abrams, the West Front street shoe dealer, has purchased of Mrs. D. S. Berry, the entire plot of ground on the southeast corner of Grove street and Craig place. Mr. Abrams intends building a residence for himself on Grove street next to Greenbrook.

Funeral of Miss Ford.

The funeral services of Miss Pauline Ford were held from the parents' residence on East Sixth street yesterday afternoon. They were in charge of Rev. E. E. Jackson, who preached a touching discourse. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery.

Death of a Young Woman.

Miss Agnes Boyd, daughter of Hugh and Martha E. Boyd, died at the home of her parents, 715 East Sixth street, yesterday, after a long illness. She was twenty-two years old. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Meeting of the Session.

A meeting of the Session was held last evening at the Crescent Avenue church after the prayer meeting. Another meeting will be held tomorrow evening after the preparatory service.

At Wednesday Cotillion.

Among the guests at the second Wednesday Cotillion of the season given last night at Delmonico's in New York was Miss Katharine Reinhart, of Netherwood.

MOTHER BURIED.

But All Efforts to Find the Son, James Conway, Have Met With Failure.

Very impressive funeral services were held in St. Mary's church this morning over the remains of Mrs. Mary A. Conway, who met instant death on the Jersey Central tracks Monday afternoon. They were in charge of Rev Father J. A. McGeary, curate of the church, and were largely attended.

At the close of the services the body was taken to St. Mary's cemetery, where interment was made. Those who acted as pallbearers were: John Kane, Patrick Moran, Thomas Muldowney, Patrick Muldoon, John Tobin and Thomas Lyons.

As yet no trace of James Conway, the dead woman's son, has been found. Telegrams have been sent to various cities in the west from whence he wrote at various times, but the police at these places have failed to locate him.

PHYSICIANS GATHERED.

Quarterly Meeting And Dinner of the Plainfield Medical Association.

The Plainfield Medical Association enjoyed the quarterly meeting and dinner last night at the Hotel Imperial. Owing to the fact that many of the members are very busy it was impossible for the full membership to be present. The customary paper was omitted and there was no discussion. At the meeting Dr. Dundon, of Grove street, was elected a member. The dinner was very fine and the physicians complimented the proprietors, Hibbard & Jones upon the excellence of the menu and the service.

Those present were Drs. A. F. VanHorn, Albert Pittis, J Hervey Buchanan, O. L. Jenkins, J. H. Carman, J. T. Fritts, W. Kempton Browning, Marcus L. Clawson and Arthur Hall Dundon.

DELIGHTFUL DANCE.

Miss Edith Fisk Gave a Dance at the Casino to Her Young Friends.

Miss Edith Fisk, daughter of Mrs. Pliny Fisk, of West Seventh street, gave a very delightful dance last evening at the Casino to the younger society set. There were about seventy-five people present. The decorations used for the Assembly were left and they looked just as pretty and attractive as on the previous evening. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Pliny Fisk, her daughter was assisted in giving the affair by Mrs Charles J. Fisk. The supper served during the evening by Steward Ivamy was very choice and thoroughly enjoyed.

PERSONAL.

The Misses Day, of Mercer avenue, are stopping for a few days with friends in New York.

Mrs. Brown, wife of Tax Collector George F. Brown, of Grove street, is convalescing from a hemorrhage of the nose.

The condition of Miss Blanche Fellows, of Westervelt avenue, remains unchanged. If anything the chances of recovery are not so good.

Craig A. Marsh and Mrs. Marsh, of West Eighth street, will leave tomorrow for Nassau, Bermuda Island, where they will remain for a time.

Mrs. James Houston, of Ann Arbor, Mich., with her daughter, Miss Ruth Houston, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Maze Edwards, at the Jackson building.

Wasn't a Real Chimney.

A colored family moved into the old Vail house on East Second street this morning and attempted to start a fire in the stove. The chimney was blind and the house was filled with smoke. The family thought a fire was in progress and notified fire headquarters. Chief Doane discovered the trouble after taking the stove out doors.

R·I·P·A·N·S.

December 30 1900.

I always carry RIPANS with me same as I do matches and a knife They are all very handy when needed. I am a florist and have to stoop a great deal and carry plants in boxes, and being in the heat of the greenhouses consume large quantities of water, which with the stooping and holding boxes against the stomach cause heartburn, especially if one uses tobacco as I do. Then's when the Tabules are handy and effective and do the work as nothing else I have ever tried did. I buy several boxes at a time so that I may not run short. I also find they are good after a fellow has taken a few sodas with the boys. He can get up in the morning minus the dark brown taste and with a clear head for business. L. H. Anderson, 1112 South avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

There is scarcely any condition of ill health that is not benefited by the occasional use of a RIPANS Tabule, and the price, 10 for 5 cents, does not bar them from any home or justify any one in enduring ills that are easily cured. For sale by Druggists.

Wrecked Rear Wheel.

A horse and phaeton in charge of William Douglass, of East Front street, met with an accident this morning in front of Frank Linke's bottling place on West Front street, where Mr. Douglass had tied the horse. The phaeton was standing close to the driveway adjoining Linke's place, when one of the latter's heavy wagons with a team drove out of the alley way. The heavy wagon collided with the light wagon and wrecked one rear wheel.

MARSHAL OPENED FIRE ON THE WRONG MAN

Officer Traynor Took Audsley Beardsley for a Sneak Thief and Chased Him Away.

BEARDSLEY DIDN'T LIKE IT.

AS A RESULT, THERE WAS A HEARING BEFORE POLICE COMMITTEE.

The Committee Couldn't Decide What to Do in the Matter, and So the Trouble Will Be Considered by the Fanwood Council.

Over zealousness in discharging his duties as the head of the police department of the Borough of Fanwood is causing trouble for Marshal Samuel Traynor, and proves to be a hard problem for the police committee to settle.

For several years the borough residents have suffered from many depredations and petty robberies, and the work has been placed to the credit of the many tramps who are passing by on coal trains and on foot. About a year ago Mr. Traynor moved from Scotch Plains to the borough and opened a blacksmith business on South avenue, near the station. Shortly after his removal the Borough Council offered him the position of marshal. He accepted, and from that time until the present trouble, has been a model officer and a terror to evil doers.

Several evenings ago while the officer was patrolling the streets in the discharge of his duties he saw a man sneaking around the side of J. H. Thompson's residence. Scenting trouble and remembering the many pretty robberies of the past he decided to make an investigation, and started after his man. In some way he missed the object of his search but when he arrived at the front of the house again saw a man passing. He decided that this must be the would-be robber and, it is said, started in to shoot.

As soon as he opened fire, the man started to run and the marshal was a close second until the residence of Mrs. George Kyte was reached, where the pursued man sought the protection of friends. He had no more that gained an entrance than the officer was at the door demanding his prisoner.

The marshal was told that he had made a great mistake and the man instead of being a robber or tramp was Audsley Beardsley, a well-known resident of Stony Hill and a prominent worker among the young people in All Saints Episcopal church. The officer was finally convinced that he had pursued an innocent man. Mr. Beardsley told him that he had run from him because he did not know who he was and as his bullets were flying a little too close for comfort he decided to seek safety in flight.

The matter was brought to the attention of the police committee. Marshal Taynor was called before that body Wednesday evening to answer to a charge of reckless use of firearms. The officer acknowledged his mistake, and claimed that before beginning to shoot he had ordered the man to surrender. Instead of doing so he had started to run. Then the officer said he had concluded to shoot his revolver off in the air. Mr. Beardsley claimed the bullets flew by his head too close for comfort, and unless the Board did something in the case he would seek redress in some other way.

The trial before the committee was an exciting affair. All agreed that the officer was guilty of the charge, but they could not agree upon the punishment. Some wanted to dismiss him at once while others desired to fine him only, as they claimed the Marshal's record in the past should be a recommendation of his efficiency. The committee were unable to agree upon the punishment to be meted out, so it was finally decided to bring the matter before a meeting of the Borough Council Saturday evening, when the Marshal will probably know his fate.

Eighteen Answers in One Day.

A few days ago a party inserted a advertisement in the cent a-word column After appearing one day eighteen answers were received. This shows that it pays to advertise in The Daily Press and the moral is plain. The advertisement referred to was for salesmen, clerks, etc., for a new grocery.

To Arrange Charity Ball.

Burritt H. Shepard, of "The Gables," Fanwood, is one of the committee of arrangements for the New York Charity Ball, to be given at the Waldorf-Astoria, January 20.

REFORM CLUB PROSPEROUS.

REPORTS RECEIVED AND RECENTLY-ELECTED OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Important Meeting of Reform Club Held Last Evening—Was Followed By Social Time.

In response to an invitation from the officers of the Reform Club a large audience was in attendance at the business meeting held last evening. The meeting proved very interesting to officers and spectators alike.

Various matters pertaining to the welfare of the club were discussed and reports for the past year were read. Of these, that of the treasurer was probably the most interesting. In spite of the expenses necessary to maintain the club, according to the report, there is now a balance of about $200 in the treasury, which speaks well for those in charge.

The officers for the ensuing year, elected some time ago were installed by retiring president, W. C. Smith. The new officers are: President, Michael Armstrong; first vice president, John Manly; second vice president, Charles Rice; recording secretary, Arthur Smith; financial secretary, Charles Stephens; treasurer, J. W. A. Bauersachs; chaplain, Eden Boice.

On assuming the office, President Armstrong presented his predecessor with a neat token of remembrance. He then appointed the following committees: Executive, W. C. Smith, chairman: Robert Gardner, Eden Boice, Charles Rice, W. R. Codington; finance, John Goodwin, W. C. Smith, Jr., B. W. Hand.

This concluded the meeting and all present then adjourned to the lower hall where refreshments were served in abundance. Cigars were also passed to the men present and the club members saw to it that everyone shared in the hospitality. Arrangements have now been perfected for a continuance of the club's Sunday evening meetings in addition to those held in the afternoon.

The one next Sunday evening will be led by James B. Murray, of East Orange, an excellent temperance speaker.

ICEMEN PLEASED.

If Cold Snap Continues For a Little While Longer, Ice Will Be Ready To Harvest.

The recent cold snap will be good news for the icemen. As yet but little ice has been harvested in this vicinity owing to the renewal of the mild weather which prevailed for two or three weeks. It needs a week or two of good sharp, zero weather to make and keep the ice of sufficient thickness to warrant harvesting. If the ice men do not obtain a supply of ice before the first of March the chances of securing it after that time are usually rather slim.

Thus far it has been rather an open winter; but there is yet time for plenty of cold weather and enough snow to make all humanity shiver. Of late years the most disagreeable part of the winter has come toward the end of spring.

Donations of All Kinds Received.

The North Plainfield Fire Department will hold a fair for one week commencing Monday evening, Feb. 4. To make it a success it is necessary to ask for donations of money or anything appropriate for the fair. The members trust that there will be a liberal response from their friends. There has been a misunderstanding of the circulars sent out, many people believing that only money would be received. Any suitable donation whereby cash can be realized from the sale thereof will be appreciated. Fancy work of any description, canned goods, etc., as well as cash donations, are included in the request of the committee.

Changes in Police Force.

The regular monthly change in the police patrolmen has been made. Officer Florence McCarthy, who has been doing day duty in the business portion of the city, has been detailed to do night duty and Officer Vanderweg takes Officer McCarthy's place. Officer Flannagan is at present acting as doorman in place of Officer McCue.

Brother of a Plainfielder.

Edward Bulkley Hazeltine, who died suddenly January 1, and whose funeral services were held yesterday at his late residence in Morristown, N. J., was a brother of Mr. Hazeltine of Westervelt Avenue. He held the position of Having Teller of the National Bank of Commerce, New York.

Will Soon Resume Meetings.

Several local card clubs will resume their meetings within the next two weeks. They suspended during the holiday season owing to the many events engaging the attention of so many people.

ALWAYS A DEMOCRAT SAYS ALVAH A. CLARK.

In An Interview, Tells Of His Present Political Position And Of Proposed Nomination.

IT WAS NOT SOUGHT.

FIRST HE KNEW OF MR. DAVIS' ACTION WAS NOTICE IN PAPERS.

In An Interview Published In Somerset Messenger Today He Says He Has Never Voted For Other Than Regular Democratic Nominees

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, January 4—In view of the widespread discussion of Robert Davis' proposed action to present the name of Hon. Alvah A. Clark, of this place, as the Democratic minority candidate of the Legislature for the place of United States Senator, a statement from Mr. Clark is, at this juncture, particularly interesting.

The Somerset Democrat, in its issue of today, will publish the following interview with Mr. Clark:

"As to the origin, I saw my name in the papers in that connection and that was the first knowledge of any such use.

"The various rumors touching party fealty I would not care to say anything about, excepting that there are those who seem to think it best to tell what they don't know as things which they profess to know for reasons unnecessary to state.

"It is well known that in 1896 I was not an advocate of free silver. I felt that it was like some other heresies which had attempted to fasten themselves upon the Democratic party, and that time would cure the ills. I desired the maintenance of the Democratic organization, and I contributed quite as liberally as any other private citizen of our county. Subsequently, at every election, State and local, I have never voted otherwise than for the Democratic nominees; likewise there has never been an election (including 1896 and since) that I have not contributed for the support of the party organization.

"In 1898, after considerable effort, Mr. Childs was induced to become a candidate for Assembly, and a clean field was made for Mr. Schoonmaker to take the nomination for Sheriff and taking an active part in the canvass the Republican majority of 1896 of about 1,500 or 1,600 was reduced to about 300, and the Democratic Sheriff elected.

"My hope was that after 1900 the party would cast off those things which are burdens and unite upon the common ground acceptable to the whole party. The New Jersey Democrats never were in favor of free trade, free silver, socialistic principles or populism, nor opposed to a recognition of the courts' construction of our laws—neither are they now. Let the Democracy unite upon the principles upon which the party was founded, join issue with the Republicans upon the new issues raised—opposition to subsidies, to monopolistic tariffs, to all forms of paternal government, to such legislation as is promotive of speculation at the cost of the many to the benefit of the few, under the specious plea that humanity requires it and success will crown its efforts."

MUST PAY BILL.

Suit by Gulick & Co. to Recover Amount of Alleged Grocery Bill.

Gulick & Co., grocers, brought suit on contract yesterday in Justice Huff's court against Mrs. Laura Farlee, of East Front street, for a grocery bill amounting to $185. It was proven at the trial that the contract for the groceries was made by Mrs. Farlee and it was held by the counsel for the plaintiff that Mrs. Farlee was liable inasmuch as she contracted for the goods. This point was maintained by the court and judgment was given the plaintiff for the full amount, interest and costs. W. A. Coddington, of the firm of Reed & Coddington, represented the plaintiff and Lawyer William G. DeMeza represented the defendants.

Lived Here Many Years.

Mrs. Addie Cary, widow of Moses Cary, who died Wednesday at her home on Manning avenue, was a native of Schenectady but has lived in this city for a number of years. Mrs. Cary is survived by two sons, Moses and John. She was 48 years of age. The funeral will be held Saturday morning from St. Joseph's church.

COUNCILMEN IN CAUCUS.

UNANIMOUSLY DECIDED TO MAKE MR. DUMONT PRESIDENT.

Members of New Council Gathered at Residence of Councilman Tolles Last Evening.

The eleven members of the Common Council for 1901 held their preliminary caucus last evening at the home of Councilman Ralph I. Tolles, of Westervelt avenue. As was predicted in yesterday's Daily Press, the caucus was a very harmonious one, and it was unanimously decided to name Councilman John B. Dumont as President of the Council. The caucus took on more of the nature of a social gathering of the Councilmen than a political caucus.

All the Councilmen were present. After a informal ballot as to the choice for President in which was shown that all were in favor of Mr. Dumont, there was a general discussion of various matters which are likely to come before the new Council this year.

Refreshments were served by the host and hostess and a very pleasant social evening was enjoyed. The general feeling was that the Council would work well together during the new year and the members were given to understand that the present committees would be re-appointed without change.

THE CASE WILL BE RETRIED.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED IN CASE OF CHRISTIANSEN AGAINST LAMBERT.

New Jersey Supreme Court Has Rendered a Decision on the Rule to Show Cause.

A decision has just been handed down by the Supreme Court in the case of George Christiansen against John Lambert on a rule to show cause, granting a new trial. The reason given by the court for granting the new trial is that the verdict as rendered in the cause was against the clear preponderance of evidence, and on account of new evidence for the defendant, discovered after the verdict had been given.

This case was tried one year ago at the January term of the Supreme Court at Elizabeth. The plaintiff recovering a verdict of $7,000 for damages sustained by him by reason of the loss of his leg which was amputated as a result of getting his foot crushed in a hay press, which was operated by the defendant. Joseph E. Stricker, of Perth Amboy, represented the plaintiff and Murphy & Blatz, the defendant

After the verdict, the attorneys of the defendant, secured Craig A. Marsh as associate counsel, and a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted was obtained, and was argued before the Supreme Court at the June term, Judge Gilhooley, of Elizabeth, opposing the motion. The effect of the decision is that the verdict is set aside, and the case must be tried again from the beginning.

German Society Elects Officers.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year at the Gesang and Turn Verein meeting held last evening: President, William Gardner; vice-president, Henry Meier; corresponding secretary, Paul Postler; financial secretary, Henry Bergen; treasurer, Henry Haurand; finance committee, Henry Rummel, Matthias Menzenbach, John Wirth; flag bearer, Lawrence Fahn; aids, Charles Meyer, Jr., Frank Traynor; marshals, Charles Meyer, Sr., Matthias Menzenbach; janitor, Joseph Haurand. Arrangements were also made for holding the annual masquerade ball on January 28.

Economy on Street Railway.

Reductions in all departments of the the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central New Jersey Railway, tending toward economy still continue to be made by Superintendent Smith. Beginning the fore part of the week, one car on the through line was taken off. Four men comprising the day and night crew were discharged. The through cars now run on a fifteen-minute headway making the total time consumed in a round trip two hours and thirty minutes.

First Basket Ball Game.

The first match basket ball game of the season at the Fanwood Clubhouse will be played tomorrow evening between the Fanwood Athletic Club and the Business Men's team from the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. The game will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

An Evening Sociable.

An evening sociable will be given in the Fanwood fire house Wednesday evening of next week under the auspices of G. Terry and P. Uhdal, committee of arrangements. Prof. Frazee will play, and it will be held rain or shine.

NEW YEAR RECEPTION TO PASTOR SNODGRASS

Pleasant Reception Given by Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. Church.

INTERESTING PROGRAMME.

AFFAIR WAS GIVEN TO REV. DR. AND MRS. W. C. SNODGRASS.

After a Programme, Refreshments Were Served, and a Social Hour Was Enjoyed—Committee in Charge of the Reception.

The annual reception of the First M. E. church to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Snodgrass was held last night in Vincent chapel. Many members of the church and friends of Dr. and Mrs. Snodgrass were present to extend greetings. The reception was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, of which Mrs. Henry A. McGee is the president. While the function was quite informal it proved to be a pleasant event in the history of the organization under which it was given as well as to the beloved pastor of the First Methodist church.

Henry A. McGee acted as master of ceremonies and made the announcements. There were piano solos by Miss Helen Weir, Miss May Whitney and Miss Jessie Utter, and singing by Miss Etta Raybert and Mrs. S. H. Tugwell.

Rev. Dr. G. H. Whitney, former president of the Hackettstown Collegiate Institute, delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the congregation.

The Doctor called attention to the excellent work that had been accomplished by Dr Snodgrass during his pastorate in Plainfield. He referred to the story fold of Plato and his two horses—a white and a black. He thought the white horses represented those who wished to help the church and attend the sociables and in every way advance the cause of Christianity. The black horses he believed were the ones that were pulling against everything that was for the benefit of the church as well as mankind. In closing Dr. Whitney said that he hoped that during the twentieth century there would be no black horses, but that all would be riding in handsome chariots drawn by white horses representing good deeds and good motives.

Dr. Snodgrass made a feeling reply in which he thanked the members of his congregation for the assistance they had given him and also for the compliment that had been tendered to him and Mrs. Snodgrass for the reception.

At the conclusion of the programme Mr. McGee, upon behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society, invited the guests to partake of refreshments which had been provided in the parlor. Then many came forward and shook hands with Dr. and Mrs. Snodgrass and offered congratulations. The rest of the evening was passed in social intercourse.

The committee of arrangements consisted of Mrs. L. M. French, chairman; Mrs. J. W. Jackson, Mrs. Harry Gee, Mrs. G. H. Whitney, Mrs. John Lewis and Miss Susie Jackson.

TO OBSERVE ENDEAVOR DAY.

Business Transacted at Meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist Endervorers.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist Christian Endeavor Society was held last evening at the home of Miss Mabel Treadwell, of First place, with the president, Miss Annie Wyckoff, presiding.

Reports were submitted by the several committees, which showed the Society to be in an excellent working condition.

It was voted to observe Christian Endeavor Day, February 2, using the special programme prepared by the United Society at Boston. Suggestions was made, which will doubtless be adopted, that one meeting night each month be given in charge of one of the committees.

Following the transaction of business, the committee discussed their individual lines of work for the coming month.

Lived Here Once.

John D. Brown, of Basking Ridge, Somerset county, died yesterday morning at his home after quite a long illness. Mr. Brown was a resident of Plainfield for many years and an active member of the old volunteer fire department, at one time being foreman of No. 2 Engine Company. His funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon.

LOCAL ARTISTS COMPETED.

NOVEL CONTEST HELD AFTER PERFORMANCE AT MUSIC HALL.

Prize of Five Dollars Was Divided Between Wm. Monsell and Taylor and Wilson For Best Turn.

Stillman Music Hall held a big crowd last evening to witness "A Daughter of the South" by the Bennett-Moulton Company. It proved to be one of the best plays of the week and showed the members of the company off to excellent advantage. Many specialties were given and Madam Flower as usual made a great impression. She is certainly a strong feature. "Darkest Russia" was repeated at the matinee to a good house.

A unique affair was the amateur contest that took place after the regular performance last evening, when several Plainfield amateurs amused the audience with their several specialties. A prize of $5 was divided between William Monsell and Taylor and Wilson. William Monsell gave an act that certainly was the limit.

"Wicked London" is being played this afternoon, and tonight "Shadows of a Great City" will be given. This is considered the best and strongest play in the repertoire, and from a scenic standpoint it is very beautiful. Tonight is also souvenir night when every woman will be presented with a large combination photo of the entire company. Tomorrow matinee, "A Daughter of the South" will be repeated and tomorrow night "The Yellow Perril." No doubt large houses will prevail at all the remaining performances.

GIFTS FOR JUNIORS.

Annual Christmas Tree at Meeting of Franklin Council Was Held Last Evening.

There were lively times among the members of Franklin Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., last evening at their lodge rooms in the Washington Hall building. The occasion was the annual Christmas tree for the members. The gifts were presented by Charles VanMiddlesworth and John Kriney. The fruit which that tree bore was of a miscellaneous character and the distribution caused much merriment. After the tree had been stripped of its fruit the members enjoyed themselves in a social way, music and impromptu speeches filling in the hours until time for adjournment.

SLIGHTLY ILL.

Sudden Changes in the Weather Make Things Lively for Physicians.

The sudden changes of the weather this fall and winter has been the reason assigned for the illness of many people. While there are no serious cases of illness, there are a number of persons in the city and borough under the care of physicians. A local druggist says that his business in the line of prescriptions had not been as good in several months. While the general business has dropped away somewhat since the holidays the sale of medicines has been on the increase. Nearly all the physicians are busy at present.

Noah Dove Elects.

Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F., met last evening and elected the following officers: C. P., S. Mantz; senior warden, Joseph Kingston; junior warden, Wm. Jimerson; H. P., S. H. Schleif; recording scribe, J. H. Williams; financial scribe, Wm. Wyckoff; treasurer, A. J. Woodruff; guide, A. G. Barber; sentinel, J. F. Kettering; first watch, L. C. Shepherd; second watch, A. L. Case; third watch, Nimrod Horton; fourth watch, A. Sargeant; G. T., F. M. Whitely; G. T., W. S Smith.

Lamp Exploded.

The alarm of fire from box 132 in the borough at about 6:30 o'clock last night was caused by a lamp exploding in apartments occupied by Martha Castles at 110 Jackson avenue. The lamp was on the dining room table when a small dog playfully pulled at the table cloth, throwing the lamp to the floor, where it exploded. One of the members of the family succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before any serious damage resulted. The house is owned by August Utzinger.

Hearing Postponed.

Horace Washington, colored, who is charged with the theft of a wheel, will be given a hearing tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock before Justice Nash. The time of the hering was changed to accommodate the principals.

Series of Teas.

Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, of 525 West Seventh Street, has sent out cards for her friends to meet her sister, Mrs. Wright, at two teas to be given Wednesdays, January 9 and 16, from four to seven o'clock.

SISSER HEARING WAS ADJOURNED TWO WEEKS.

Came Up Before Judge Schenck this Morning And Was Laid Over By Request.

SEVERAL MEN SENTENCED.

EXPECTED THAT SISSER WILL MAKE OTHER ARRANGEMENTS.

Senator Reed and Mayor Smalley Were On Hand To Represent North Plainfield. Other Licenses Laid Over.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, January 4—In the Somerset Courts this morning, Fred Duncan, who stole Christmas packages belonging to W. F. Clark from the United States Express wagon at this place, and who was caught with them at Elizabeth, pleaded guilty to larceny and was sentenced by Judge Schenck to nine months at hard labor in states prison.

William Dorsey, colored, pleaded guilty to assult and battery upon his wife. As he had been up before on the same charge, sentence having been suspended on tht previous occasion, Judge Schenck gave Dorsey one year at hard labor in states prison.

Upon agreement of counsel the hearing in the Sisser license application was postponed for two weeks, until January 18. This was done at the request of ex-Judge Bartine, counsel for Sisser. It is thought that Sisser will either sell out or get out of the business before that time. His counsel recognizes that there is very strong opposition and an easy method of getting out of the difficulty is sought. Senator Charles A. Reed and Mayor N. B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, were present to oppose the license.

Among the other lawyers present from Plainfield were ex-Judge W. R. Codington, Francis J. Blatz and Isaac P. Runyon.

The Fuer license application was postponed until January 18, upon application of Geo. V. Vanderveer, counsel for Fuer. Dungan & Reger represented the remonstrants. A large number of witnesses had been subpoenaed in this case, and considerable interest was manifested. The applicant, Wm. Fuer, keeps a saloon at Bound Brook, and desired a renewal for a new location next to a row of flats.

Celebrated Sixth Birthday.

Miss May Ayers, of Grant avenue, celebrated the sixth anniversary of her birthday yesterday and last evening a party in honor of the event was given. It was a complete surprise, being arranged by Miss Margaret Watson and Miss Edith Mague. Those present included the Misses Margaret Watson, Edith Mague, May Osborn, May Radford, Catherine Ayers, Josie Peterson, Agnes McInness, Nessie McInness, Mamie McInness and Frank O'Brien. Those who assisted in giving the affair were Mrs. Ayers and Mrs. Mundy.

Painters Elect.

Local Union, No. 57, of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America, have elected the following officers: President, Samuel Terry; vice president, N. S. Greves; recording secretary, Paul Breem; financial secretary, Geo. Farley; treasurer, Charles Conover; conductor, Calvin Sutton; warden, John Emory; trustee, 18 months, Jas. Huntington; delegates to Trades Council, Howard Woolston, Charles Conover, Charles Hall, N. S. Greves, Charles Trotter.

Condemned Wall Repaired.

The partition wall in the John H. French building, on West Front street, was condemned yesterday by Chief Doane, and the owner was notified at once to repair the same. Last evening B. W. Hand, who occupied the condemned part, moved next door, and the work of repairing was started this morning. The wall was found to be in a dangerous condition and liable to cave in, hence the action by Mr. Doane.

Enjoyably Entertained.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle of Mizpah Lodge, No. 1, U. O. of I. O. L., met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. W. R. Mattox, of Webster place. A very enjoyable time was had and refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Tesla Thinks That Planet Is Signaling Us.

GREAT ELECTRICAL ACHIEVEMENT.

As a Result of Recent Experiments With Eight Million Volts Pressure He Believes He Can Communicate With Other Worlds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—"I share the belief of other scientific men that the planet Mars is inhabited; that the inhabitants are intelligent and that they are trying to communicate with the inhabitants of other planets, including our earth."

Nikola Tesla made the foregoing statement when seen in his laboratory at 46 East Houston street and asked about a machine he hopes to construct to aid Mars in her supposed efforts to send us a message.

What results he obtained from his experiments in Colorado in 1899 were not made public by the electrician until yesterday. They were far beyond his expectations. Indeed, he is firmly convinced that while conducting his investigations one day certain strange electrical disturbances affecting his instrument were nothing less than signals from another planet.

Not only does Mr. Tesla believe with other scientific men that Mars is inhabited, but he believes it reasonable to consider the possibility of it or one of the score or more of planets in the solar system being even further advanced than us in telegraphy or other means of communication.

Mr. Tesla spent about eight months in Colorado from May, 1899. He wanted to conduct experiments in relation to the wireless transmission of energy at an altitude of several thousand feet. He built his laboratory about ten miles from Pike's peak and set out to ascertain the best conditions for transmitting power without wires and how to best develop apparatus for the transmission of messages across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, a problem with which he has labored for years.

"I desired," said Mr. Tesla, "to master electrical pressures of at least 50,000,000 volts, and electrical discharges were necessary, for some purposes, measuring at least 50 or 100 feet. In my New York laboratory I was able to go only to electrical discharges of 16 feet, and I had reached effective electrical pressures of about only 8,000,000 volts.

"In New York I had discovered the stationary electrical waves in the earth, and one of my first observations in Colorado was confirmatory of this result. This phenomenon, the significance of which has not yet been grasped by scientific men, virtually amounts to positive proof that with proper apparatus, such as I have perfected, wireless transmission of signals to any point on the globe is practical.

"After gradually learning how to confine electrical currents of a pressure of 50,000,000 volts and how to produce electrical movements up to 110,000 horsepower I succeeded in obtaining electrical discharges measuring 100 feet and more. I also perfected novel methods for detecting feeble electrical actions.

"Whereas in ordinary, finely adjusted Hertzian appliances a lightning discharge could be detected at a distance of only 300 miles, with my instrument it was easy to observe the effect in the receiving instrument at a distance of 1,100 miles.

"While investigating the instrument I was using recorded certain feeble movements that could be barely noted at times. Their character showed unmistakably that they were not of solar origin. Neither were they produced by any causes known to me on the globe.

"After months of deep thought on this subject I have arrived at the conviction, amounting almost to knowledge, that these movements must be of planetary origin. My transmitting apparatus has now been perfected so far that I can undertake to construct a machine which will without the slightest doubt be competent to convey sufficient energy to the planet Mars to operate some delicate appliance such as we are using here now, say a telegraph or telephone.

"Inhabitants of Mars, I believe, are trying to signal the earth. Who knows but what they are farther advanced than we are in the use of instruments for the transmission of messages? With improved means of investigation we shall soon be able to find out whether indeed these disturbances I have noticed are what I feel they must be."

Population In 2001.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Robert P. Porter, who was census commissioner when the eleventh census was taken and who has just visited Washington after an absence of several months, manifests a natural interest in the work of his successor in the census office. He has been looking over the returns and makes some deductions therefrom. "Taking all past records as a basis," said Mr. Porter, "the population of the United States at the close of this century ought to be at least 300,000,000, but no one can prophesy this with any particle of hope that it will be approximately correct."

Railway Bridge Burned.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 4.—The New York Central bridge one mile west of Knoxville, Pa., was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. All traffic was stopped Loss, $2,500.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; warmer; winds becoming south easterly; brisk on the coast.

A ROYAL WELCOME.

Lord Roberts Warmly Greeted In London.

LUNCHEON AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

Prince of Wales Personally Supervises the Reception Tendered the Field Marshal—Lady Roberts Also Honored.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Crowds flocked to points of vantage along the route followed by Lord Roberts from Paddington station to Buckingham palace during the early hours of the morning, but the numbers in no way compared with those present on the occasion of the demonstration in honor of the return of the city imperial volunteers from South Africa.

Lord Roberts reached Paddington station only 20 minutes behind the schedule time. As he descended from his saloon carriage to the platform of the elaborately decorated railroad station he was greeted by the Prince of Wales, the Princess of Wales, the Duke of Connaught and the Duke of Cambridge. The members of the royal family shook hands heartily with the field marshal, while the bands played the national anthem. The Princess of Wales engaged Lord Roberts in a conversation of some length.

The scene was altogether brilliant. Everywhere were masses of bunting, troops, women in bright costumes, cabinet ministers and staff officers.

The Prince of Wales, with Lady Roberts, soon left the railroad station in a royal carriage drawn by six horses and escorted by life guards, preceding Lord Roberts to Buckingham palace, where luncheon was served.

The five tables were beautiful with gold plate and flower decorations, chiefly begonias. In the center of each was a big gold cup. At the high table in the center Lord Roberts, looking fatigued but triumphant, sat between the Princess of Wales and Princess Victoria of Wales. The Prince of Wales sat between Lady Roberts and the Duchess of Argyll. At the same table sat the Duchess of York, the Duke of Connaught, the Duke of Cambridge, Lord Salisbury, Lord Wolseley and Lord Selborne. The second table, headed by the Duke of York, included Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain.

There were only two toasts, one to the queen and the other to Lord Roberts. The Prince of Wales, proposing the health of the field marshal, said in part:

"It is my pleasure on behalf of the princess and of all the members of the royal family in the queen's name to welcome Lord Roberts home from the distant country where he has commanded our gallant army in very difficult and trying circumstances."

Lord Roberts, replying, said:

"Your Royal Highnesses, My Lords and Ladies and Gentlemen: I am deeply sensible of the honor your royal highness, with the princess and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, paid me in coming to see me at Paddington station, and I appreciate very highly the kind and flattering words in which your royal highness has proposed my health. My heart is full of joy at the unexpected and magnificent honor with which her majesty the queen has been graciously pleased to reward my endeavors in South Africa and at the splendid welcome the public of England have given me.

"The only drawback to my happiness is that circumstances in South Africa have prevented more of my comrades from being with me, the comrades to whose valor and military skill I owe any success that may have been achieved in South Africa. I much wished that some of the representatives of the great colonies could have accompanied me here—the colonies which have given their bravest and their best to fight for the mother country in signal proof of the unity of the empire under one flag and one sovereign.

"Your gracious words, sir, and the kindness of this distinguished company in responding to them will, I assure you, never be forgotten by me."

The field marshal had another popular ovation in the early evening when proceeding to Portland place to dine with Mr. Brodrick.

Silver Scarce In Mexico.

AUSTIN, Jan. 4.—A dispatch from Monterey, Mexico, says that the scarcity of silver in Mexico is so great that many banks in the principal cities of the country are paying 1 per cent interest per month on silver deposits. The continued and unprecedented exportation of Mexican silver dollars to China, the Philippines and the far east, together with the heavy shipments of silver bullion from Mexico to England and the United States, is apparently bringing this country to the verge of a financial crisis.

A New Rubber Company.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—A rubber manufacturing company, with a capital of $1,000,000, will be established in Chicago to fight the rubber trust, according to Attorney Milton J. Foreman. Mr. Foreman says the company is to be known as the Western Rubber Shoe company and has as its directors and backers a half dozen practical shoe men in Chicago and one in New York. He also says that $1,000,000, the company's full capital, is all paid in.

Governors Born In Orange County.

ALBANY, Jan. 4.—Benjamin B. Odell, father of Governor Odell, denies the published reports that his son is the only governor of New York state born in Orange county. "That statement is untrue," he says. "George Clinton, the first governor of this state after the adoption of the constitution, was born at New Windsor, Orange county, and I was born in the house in which his birth took place."

Decapitated by a Fire Engine.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Louis Balboni, 67 years old, of 292 First avenue, was instantly killed last evening by being run over by fire engine No. 42 at Worth street and Park row. He was crossing the street when struck down, and the hind wheel, passing over his neck, decapitated him.

Herr Krupp's Charities.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—In addition to his donation of 500,000 marks to the workmen's invalid fund of the Krupp works Herr Krupp has given 500,000 marks each to the officials' pension fund and the fund for building laborers' houses, making a total of 1,500,000 marks.

Governor Odell's Economy.

ALBANY, Jan. 4.—A careful estimate of the amount actually saved by the state if all of Governor Odell's suggestions are carried out is over $805,500.

ARMY BILL TAKEN UP

Substituted For Shipping Subsidy In the Senate.

HOUSE CONSIDERS APPORTIONMENT.

Resolution by Olmstead of Pennsylvania Causes Sensation—Chairman Hopkins Confident of the Success of His Measure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Without a murmur of dissent and without a word of comment the senate yesterday displaced the shipping subsidy bill from its privileged position as "unfinished business" and substituted for it the army reorganization bill. Since the second day of the present session the shipping bill had been the unfinished business, with the understanding that it should not interfere with the consideration of the army reorganization bill or of appropriation bills.

When the senate convened in its first session of the twentieth century, the army bill was taken up with a view to pressing it to a final vote as soon as possible. Its consideration proceeded until o'clock, the end of the morning hour, when the subsidy bill was laid before the senate. Mr. Pettigrew of South Dakota then objected to a request for unanimous consent to continue the discussion of the army bill. By a vote of the senate the military measure was continued for consideration, thus making it the unfinished business and sending the subsidy bill back to the calendar.

During the discussion of the army measure the opposition senators indicated that their line of attack upon the bill would be against the creation of a large permanent standing army. There was intimation that objection would not be offered to a temporary measure to provide an adequate force to maintain the authority of the United States in the Philippines. Beyond this point the proceedings developed nothing.

The radical element among the house Republicans who favor cutting down the representation from the southern states in which the franchise is abridged suffered defeat because a number of their colleagues refused to act with them. The issue was precipitated quite unexpectedly. The leaders had decreed that the reapportionment bill should be taken up, but before it could be called Mr. Olmstead of Pennsylvania offered as a matter of privilege a resolution reciting the alleged abridgment of the suffrage in Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and North Carolina and directing the committee on census to investigate and report the facts to the house in order that a constitutional basis of representation could be established for those states. The resolution created a sensation. It was a surprise even to several of the Republican leaders. The leaders on the Democratic side sought in vain to head off the resolution with points of order, but the speaker ruled against them. They then began a filibuster, openly avowing that they would fight every proposition looking to the reduction of representation from the southern states to the bitter end. Several of the Republicans were secretly in sympathy with them, and their indifference to the fate of the Olmstead resolution in the end gave the opposition the victory. Many of them quietly paired with absent Democrats, leaving their absent colleagues unpaired. As a result when the question of consideration was raised against the resolution it was defeated by a vote of 81 to 83.

The situation with reference to the apportionment bill is greatly complicated as a result of the injection of the Olmstead resolution. Chairman Hopkins, however, is confident of victory for his bill. He thinks the Olmstead resolution may pass in a full house and that the investigation may be made, but that the matter will end there. Irrespective of the fate of the resolution, however, he will press the reapportionment bill and thinks it will pass on Monday.

Porto Rican Assembly.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 4.—By the decision of Mr. Griggs, the United States attorney general, the term of the Porto Rican assembly will expire Jan. 31, Mr. Griggs pronouncing in favor of a 60 day continuous session from Dec. 3. The delegates had been regarding Sundays and holidays as periods that would not be included and had expected to adjourn Feb. 19. The house is now holding two sessions daily, endeavoring in the time that remains to accomplish some useful legislation. Governor Allen started yesterday for the west coast of the island to inspect that section. He will be gone three days.

Scranton Councilmen Arrested.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 4.—Three more arrests of councilmen have been made at the instance of the Municipal league on charges of bribery—Select Councilman Thomas O'Boyle, John J. McAndrew and Edward J. Coleman. At the hearing given them yesterday afternoon they were examined generally in their participation in the passage of the Lackawanna telephone ordinance, the asphalt paving ordinance and the electric light ordinance. A number of the witnesses were councilmen who had been previously arrested, but who escaped prosecution by the compromise agreement.

Rumored Death of Waldersee.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—Le Journal reports under reserve the death of Count von Waldersee, the rumor being that he was killed by an officer of the allied troops, the circumstances not being related. It is said that the rumor is current in Berlin, where it is not confirmed.

Installment Plan For Funerals.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 4.—The Oliver H. Bair company of Philadelphia has been chartered at Dover, with a capital of $500,000, to conduct funerals. The company is to work on a plan by which a person can make all arrangements for his own funeral and pay expenses in installments before death.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Connecticut—Cobalt, C. W. Tibbals. Massachusetts—Charlton City, J. G. Hammond. New York—Hamilton Center, W. M. Knowlton. Vermont—New Haven Mills, F. P. Norton.

Ordered to Celebrate.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—Emperor William has ordered all universities, academies and other public institutions of learning in Prussia to celebrate Jan. 18 the bicentenary of the foundation of the Prussian kingdom, omitting to celebrate his majesty's birthday.

THE WORLD'S MONEY.

An Increase of Over 100 Per Cent In Recent Years.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—An increase of more than 100 per cent in the money of the world within less than a generation will be one of the most interesting exhibits of the annual report of the director of the mint, which is now going through the press. Nearly the whole of this increase is in metallic money, and much the largest proportion is in gold. The collection of complete statistics regarding the money supply of the world was only begun at the mint bureau within the past decade, but careful research has brought together some interesting figures of the supply of money in the leading commercial countries in 1873.

The total stock then reported was about $4,600,000,000, of which more than half was in paper money not fully covered by metallic reserves. The situation at the beginning of 1900 showed a total monetary stock of about $11,600,000,000, of which but little more than one-fourth was in uncovered paper.

A large proportion of the increase in gold has taken place within the short space of seven years, while the quantity of silver money, which was at its maximum of about $4,250,000,000 at the beginning of 1896, has since been somewhat reduced by the sale of silver by Germany and its retirement in other countries. The conditions of 1893 showed a total monetary supply of about $10,500,000,000, which has since been increased by about $1,100,000,000. About $940,000,000 of this increase has been in gold money.

George E. Roberts, the director of the mint, has made public his preliminary estimate of the production of gold and silver in the United States during the calendar year 1900. The aggregate of gold is given as 3,837,213 fine ounces, valued at $79,322,281, and of silver 59,610,543 fine ounces, which at the approximate average price of 61 cents for the year makes the value $36,362,431. During the calendar year 1899 the gold production was $71,053,000 and the silver production 54,764,500 fine ounces.

Aguinaldo Dead Again.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, who is now staying at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, has received information from secret sources in the Philippines to the effect that Aguinaldo is dead and that his death occurred no less than six weeks ago. The news has been kept secret by Aguinaldo's followers, it is said, for the purpose of prolonging the rebellion, since it was believed that the news of the chief's death would cause such discouragement and alarm that an utter capitulation would result. President Wheeler obtained this news, so he told a Tribune reporter yesterday, through several Filipino children who have been placed in his care by their parents.

Railway Telegraphers' Troubles.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Troubles that threaten the dissolution of the Order of Railway Telegraphers have arisen as an aftermath to the recent strike on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system. The telegraph operators who are still "out" as a result of their obeying the mandate issued by M. M. Dolphin, president of the order, are seeking official scalps, and President Dolphin and the directors purpose to punish those operators who refused to leave their keys by expulsion from the organization. The governing officials of the Santa Fe system have emphatically announced that they will not treat with the Order of Railway Telegraphers under the present administration.

Poisoned by Mistake.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Hattie Ford, 5 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Ford of Chicago and granddaughter of Warwick Ford of Chester Hill, Mount Vernon, N. Y., is dead after an hour of fearful agony following the eating of several pills containing belladonna and strychnine. The child, with her father and mother, came on to spend the holidays with Mr. Ford's father. On Christmas the little girl had a tree and ever since has been playing with the arrangements, which were put aside in a bureau drawer. She found the box of pills among the toys and accidentally swallowed some of them.

General Slaughter's Record.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 4.—Major General James E. Slaughter, the ex-Confederate leader, who died here Wednesday from pneumonia, aged 87 years, was a West Point graduate and commanded the Confederate forces at the last fight of the war between the states at Bonas San Jago, Tex. He was also a veteran of the Mexican war, having accompanied General Scott's army to this city as lieutenant. He first made known to the Mexican government the fraudulent character of the Weil and Labra claims.

Warships at Bermuda.

BERMUDA, Jan. 4.—The United States warships Annapolis, Frolic, Wompatuck and Piscataqua anchored in St. George's harbor shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning. They left Norfolk at noon Sunday last on their way to Manila, had very stormy weather that day and Monday, during which the Frolic lost her foretopmast. During Tuesday and Wednesday the warships had fine weather. They will stay here four or five days, as they have to coal and take on some fresh provisions.

Bank Cashier Arrested.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 4.—Edward C. Remme, cashier of the German National bank of Newport, Ky., was arrested here by United States Marshal Compton upon a warrant issued at the instance of Bank Examiner Tucker. Owing to the shortage of Frank K. Brown of $195,000 as assistant cashier and bookkeeper the bank was recently placed in the hands of Tucker as receiver. The whereabouts of Brown are unknown, and it was thought that there would be no prosecutions until he was found.

Jefferson Buys Chicago Realty.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Joseph Jefferson, the famous actor, has purchased real estate in this city valued at $87,000. Mr. Jefferson paid that amount for it, giving $47,000 in cash and assuming a mortgage of $40,000. The property consists of a three story brick apartment building on Forty-seventh street.

Noted Central New Yorker Dead.

UTICA, N. Y., Jan. 4.—The funeral of Erastus Clark, one of the oldest residents of Utica, was held here yesterday. Mr. Clark was for 16 years recorder of the city of Utica and was deputy secretary of New York state during the terms of Chauncey M. Depew and General Francis C. Barlow.

DEADLY FIREDAMP.

Several Lives Lost In a Colliery Accident at Miners Mills, Pa.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 4.—The Pine Ridge colliery of the Algonquin Coal company at Miners Mills was the scene of a terrible accident yesterday. Three men entered the mine to make some repairs. They did not come to the surface at noon. A number of rescuers went down to investigate. They, too, failed to come back. Then another rescuing party went down.

At 8 o'clock last evening they found the dead bodies of D. J. Williams, the foreman, and William Morgan, fire boss. The men were victims of firedamp. There are six other men in the mine, and it is believed they have perished too.

The mouth of the mine is surrounded by the relatives of the men entombed, and their grief is heartrending.

An explosion occurred in No. 2 mine o. the Delaware and Hudson company at Plymouth. John Redusky, foreman of a gang of laborers, entered an abandoned chamber with a naked lamp and ignited the gas. Redusky was instantly killed. The following were injured: Andrew Redusky, Joe Eustace, Joseph Lyonsdale, Philip Klein, Martin Duddy and Michael Kelly.

READY TO SIGN.

Chinese Ministers Await Completion of an Agreement.

PEKING, Jan. 4.—At a meeting of the foreign ministers yesterday it was announced that Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching were prepared to sign an agreement as soon as it is ready for signature.

Li Hung Chang desires to conduct the peace negotiations to a conclusion, and the physicians attending him think he might be taken to the Spanish legation, where the conferences have been held, if the weather is favorable.

The Germans are reported to be returning to San-ho with a number of prisoners.

Russian Press Skeptical.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—The Russian press either ignores the Chinese acceptance of the peace terms or affects skepticism regarding Chinese sincerity. Most of the papers emphasize what they regard as the evidences of dissension among the powers, an extract from one of Dr. Morrison's dispatches from Peking to the London Times supplying the text. The Novoe Vremya calls Count von Waldersee "a brutal old man."

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Governor of Nebraska Inaugurated.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 4.—Charles H. Dietrich was inaugurated governor of Nebraska before the joint session of the legislature in the hall of the house of representatives yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was short, being limited to the retiring message of Governor Poynter and the inaugural address of Governor Dietrich. Among other measures the new governor recommended the passage of a strong antikidnaping law. General Fitz-Hugh Lee of the department of Missouri and his staff were present at the governor's reception last night.

Strike at Cardenas Serious.

HAVANA, Jan. 4.—The strike of stevedores and sugar handlers at Cardenas is growing serious. Several hundred are out, and they refuse to allow others to work. The strike has extended to all classes of ship laborers, as well as to those employed in lumber yards and mills. Heretofore the stevedores have been paid $4.75 for a day of 12 hours, from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., in Spanish gold. They now demand 3½ cents per sack in the inner harbor and 4 cents per sack in the outer harbor, with hours from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Lawshe Report Withheld.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The president sent a message to the senate declining the request of that body made in a resolution passed on the 19th of December and addressed to the secretary of war for the transmittal of the Lawshe report in regard to the irregularities in connection with postal affairs in Cuba. The declination is considered exceptional, and it is possible it will create more or less discussion.

The Hannas Leave Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 4.—Senator Hanna has departed for Washington. Sunday Mrs. Hanna, Miss Mabel Hanna, Miss Ruth Hanna, Miss Egglestone, Miss Phelps and all the household employees will start. The house will be closed, not to be reopened during the winter and possibly not until next summer. In Washington the Hanna family will occupy the Hobart residence.

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE FOR DEFENSE

Large Force Recruited to Hold the Mountain Passes and Protect Property—A Second Rebellion In Bechuanaland.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 4.—The military authorities are preparing for all contingencies. It has been decided to transfer the Boer prisoners from the camps to transports.

Farmers coming into Carnarvon describe the Boers as traveling in parallel columns, with numerous flanking parties sweeping the country of horses, plundering loyalists and carrying off everything eatable. It appears that they are accompanied by strings of pack horses lightly loaded.

Colesberg telegraphs that Kritzinger's commando is crossing the Middleburg district, but is getting few if any recruits.

Here in Cape Town such business men as are unable to leave are organizing a town guard composed of the leading citizens. The commercial companies have asked the mayor to call a mass meeting to urge the government to suppress disloyal newspapers and to proclaim martial law.

The British battleship Monarch yesterday landed men and guns to relieve the troops for service northward. It is believed that the guns will be sent up the country.

Five hundred citizens enlisted, the enrollment being very active. It is hoped that the first batch of mounted men will leave within three days for Worcester. They are to hold the passes of the Hex river mountains and to protect the railway tunnel. The organization is rough and ready and not troubled with much drill or special uniform. Horses are scarce.

Six thousand five hundred South African irregulars have been recruited during the last eight weeks.

The Boers in the Transvaal have been exceedingly active for the last week or so, daily attacking trains, convoys and isolated posts. In most instances they have been repulsed, and the railways are now working more regularly.

A commando is supposed to be in the mountains dividing Middleburg and Graaf Reinet, but cannot be exactly located. The invaders in the west, who were expected at Fraserburg yesterday, have altered their course and are now moving in the direction of Williston to the northwest. The British have occupied Fraserburg.

The Boers in Bechuanaland have been again joined by the inhabitants, who once before rebelled.

Commandos are reported to be at Blikfontein, Boetap and Daniel's Kiul. Their objective is believed to be Griquatown, which is occupied by the British.

The Ivydene's Crew Destitute.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 4.—The crew of the British steamer Ivydene, Captain Millburn, from Hamburg, Dec. 15, for Wilmington, N. C., which went ashore Tuesday night during a snowstorm at La Manche, arrived here yesterday afternoon. One man, an Italian named Bracci, was drowned by the lifeboat swamping. Twenty of the 27 survivors are badly frostbitten, several of them so seriously that they will have to go into hospital. The steamer has broken up. Nothing was saved, the crew losing all their belongings save what they wore. Most of them are Italians or Swedes, and they were panic stricken. In their terror they neglected to put on heavy clothing when they left the steamer.

Collector McCullough's Shortage.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 4.—The bondsmen of the fugitive collector of taxes, McCullough, and the county commissioners have arrived at a settlement. The former will pay $25,000 in cash and transfer to the county a lot on Fourteenth avenue, Altoona, and 12 lots in Calverton, valued at $5,000, which were formerly owned by McCullough. In addition the bondsmen also forfeit a bond in the sum of $9,500 to cover any shortage in case the defalcation reaches $40,000. Judge Bull approved the settlement. McCullough is still missing.

Young Pettigrew Improving.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 4.—Frank Pettigrew, son of United States Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, who is ill at a local hospital, the result of being assaulted, is gaining strength rapidly and will, it is said, be able to resume his journey to Arizona within a few days. Mr. Pettigrew's right cheek bone, which was fractured, was reset.

Actress Dead In Denver.

DENVER, Jan. 4.—Miss West Temple of the "My Friend From India" company is dead of pneumonia at St. Joseph's hospital. She was taken ill when playing at the Denver theater two weeks ago. Miss Belle Tremont of the Bostonians, who is ill with pneumonia in this city, is in a critical condition.

Island Sale Opposed.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—"Reports from the Danish West Indies," says the Copenhagen correspondent of The Times, "show a strong opposition to the sale of the islands to the United States. The question will probably be determined in the near future in the islands themselves."

A Harmonious Caucus.

As was foretold in yesterday's Daily Press, the caucus of the Republican members of the Common Council of 1901 last evening was very harmonious. Any opposition which had existed to the re-election of Mr. Dumont to the Presidency of the Council for this year had entirely disappeared and the members were unanimous in their choice.

Since the existence of the Common Council in its present form, it has never happened before that exactly the same men continue in office in the Council from one year to another. It is particularly fitting under those circumstances that identically the same organization should be continued. The Councilmen have decided to do their share by returning to the President's chair the same man who occupied it for the major portion of last year and Mr. Dumont will do his part by appointing the same committees which served during the year of 1900.

With a year of experience, the Councilmanic committees should be particularly fitted to accomplish their duties during the coming year and the Council itself will be expected to work with unusual effectiveness during the first year of the new century.

A Wise Suggestion.

The street committee of the Common Council has made a wise recommendation when it suggests that the posting of bills or signs on telephone or electric light poles be prohibited. Nothing is more unsightly and one that gives to a city a slovenly appearance than to see hand bills tacked or pasted indiscriminately on these poles There is a place for such notices; but it is not on the electric light or telephone poles. The poles themselves are an eye-sore. But if we must have them in the streets by all means keep them as free as possible from posted notices.

Through the courtesy of the Somerset Democrat, of Somerville, The Daily Press is enabled to publish today an interview with Hon. Alvah A. Clark which will appear in the issue of the Democrat this afternoon. The interview concerns the proposed minority nomination of Mr. Clark for the United States Senate by the Democrats in the State Legislature. It is the first authoritive statement made by Mr. Clark concerning the subject and will be read with particular interest by all who are at all conversant with the political situation in New Jersey.

The incoming Common Council will do well to remember the immediate need of street signs for Plainfield. It does not require a great deal of investigation to reveal the entire lack of those signs throughout the city.

The Common Council of 1900 will settle up its affairs at its last meeting this evening The annual report of City Treasurer Arnold will be the most interesting document presented.

The New Jersey Legislature will convene at the State House Tuesday evening for the session of 1901. There are several important problems for the legislators to solve.

The young people and the icemen are rejoicing together over the return of the cold weather.

The new year has opened very auspiciously as far as Plainfield is concerned.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and its Citizens.

A man has just been discharged from the Middlesex County Jail because nobody could decipher the commitment papers issued by the Justice who sent him to prison. That Justice should either hire a secretary or buy a typewriter.—Newark News.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Many commuters, when they saw carpenters cutting a hole in the floor of the ladies' waiting room at the North avenue passenger station were much surprised. Until told, they did not understand that a stairway was to be constructed that would lead into the subway that connects the new with the old station. But such is the case. This leads a friend at the writer's elbow to remark, "How little one knows of other people's business." It has been the general opinion of citizens that the tunnel leading to the new station was not to have an entrance from the interior of the North avenue station. Many comments were made regarding what was considered an oversight on the part of the railroad officials in this respect. Now that the fears of the public have been allayed in this particular everybody should feel satisfied with what Plainfield is to have—the handsomest and most costly station on the line of the Central railroad between New York and Williamsport.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

In "Hearts of the Blue Ridge," at Music Hall, Monday night, a feud between the Carters and the Reynolds is the keystone that supports the story. Both families reside in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina, where the custom of the feud still prevails, and when Miss Carter and Bob Reynolds fall in love and propose to call the feud off they are met with an array of protests from both sides that is hardly surprising in a country where diplomacy is unknown and a bullet the only convincing argument. It is very disconcerting to a man who wishes to carry on a deadly feud to have his daughter fall in love with the son of his enemy, and old "Sim Carter" handles the situation without gloves. "Hearts of the Blue Ridge" is a play that depicts actual life among the North Carolina hills, and it has the "one touch of nature that makes the whole world kin."

* * * * *

We herald with pleasure the coming to Music Hall Thursday night of next week of the Klaw & Erlanger's grand production of "Jack and the Beanstalk," which has won for itself the undisputed right to be classed among the most important of the season's offerings. Many excellent artists represent the various characters, and will be assisted by a carefully chosen chorus of fifty. Brilliant costumes, brilliant scenes and many marvelous effects are among the several features, and many novelties delightful to look upon will be shown. The coming is one that should suit all classes, for there is more real merit in "Jack and the Beanstalk," it is said, than can be found in any half dozen other attractions.

Expensive Work.

Rudolph Weurgler, of Webster place, was taken very ill last week with quinsy sore throat. Dr. Pittis was called in and lanced the throat. His foreman at the Aluminum Press and Plate Works sent for him Monday and he returned to work. He worked a half day, when he was taken much worse and was obliged to return home. He is now suffering with an attack of erysipelas.

New Year Greeting for Manager Ball.

John F. Dryden, president of the Prudential Insurance Company, sent a pleasant New Year's greeting to C. E. Ball, superintendent of the local division last Monday. He complimented Mr. Ball and everyone of the agents and assistants for their excellent work, all of which helped to make 1900 the banner year for the company, breaking all previous records.

In Honor of Birthday.

In honor of her birthday, Miss Dorothy Lunger, of North avenue, entertained ten little friends at her home yesterday afternoon. Several hours were spent in playing games and before leaving for home refreshments were served to all.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan. 4.—During the absence of Edward White, who leaves today for a three months' trip through California, his place on the Bound Brook road will be in charge of Edward Taylor.

The first public reception of the Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club was held in Apgar's Hall last evening and the large audience present attested to its complete success. In honor of the occasion the hall was prettily decorated with potted plants and the club's colors, yellow and white. The work of the club members was very good, the individual work showing careful preparation. The outside talent consisting of Messrs. Wilcox, Wetton, Martin, Wilson and Townsend gave excellent selections, their work being that of professionals. Miss Fulper's recitations were well rendered and her efforts were rewarded with long applause. At the conclusion of the entertainment dancing was commenced and by reason of the excellent music furnished, was kept up until after midnight. The members of the club may justly feel proud of their success and it is hoped a similar affair will be given in the near future.

The Epworth League members of the Methodist church will give a dime sociable this evening at the home of Miss May Apgar. An interesting musical and literary programme has been prepared.

An "Angle" lamp in the shop of Bernard Sirisky is attracting considerable attention by its unique form and the unusual brilliancy of the light.

The next meeting of the Borough Council will be held January 8, at which time several matters of importance will be considered.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Merrill, who have been visiting in Philadelphia for the past two weeks, returned to the borough today.

Mrs. Sutphen, of Washington avenue, is confined to her home by illness. Dr. Brakeley is in attendance.

George Hoffman and family are removing to Plainfield today where they will reside in the future.

The first meeting of the new dancing class will probably be held in Apgar's Hall this evening.

David Olmstead, of East Millstone, was the guest of friends in the borough yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell have gone to Brooklyn for a week's visit with relatives.

Mrs. Theodore Day is entertaining her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denton, of Brooklyn.

Victor Castner, of Rockford, Ill., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Sanford Staples.

Mrs. O. A. Douglas is the guest of relatives at West New Brighton, S. I.

Miss Ethel Jamison, of Raritan, is the guest of friends in town.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, January 2.—Randolph Giles has returned to the Brooklyn navy yard after a visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Giles. He will shortly enter the academy at Annapolis having been promoted to sergeant.

Beginning with next Sunday evening the First Baptist and Seventh-day Baptist churches will combine in a week of prayer at the latter church.

The excellent skating on the lake still continues to draw large crowds of young people from Dunellen and Plainfield.

The Friendship dancing class will hold another reception January 15. No meeting will be held next week.

The Township Committee will meet in Hotel Nelson next Tuesday afternoon.

William Harris, of Rahway, is visiting his brother, Lewis Harris.

W. B. Smith is entertaining William Thornton, of New York.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 4—The closing event in the history of Goodwill Lodge, No. 101, K. of P., was an event of pleasure and not of sorrow. There were present the old and loyal members of No. 101, who had fought so hard to maintain during the past three years the prestige they had enjoyed in the past. And while the festivities of the evening were in progress, they could not help but show that while they were happy with the arrangement of consolidation with the staunch Perseverance Lodge, of Plainfield, they were sorry to see the old lodge cease to exist. The members gathered in business shortly after 8 o'clock, but the end of the evening's programme was of short duration and as soon as the necessary routine business could be transacted the rooms were thrown open to the friends who had gathered. Dancing was the event of the evening and was kept up until a late hour. About midnight refreshments were served and a short intermission given for social intercourse. Friends were present not only from the village but from Plainfield and other neighboring towns.

The Westfield and Elizabeth trolley company on January 1 made a Twentieth Century resolution to make money, so now it charges a fifteen cent fare instead of ten cents from the village to Elizabeth. It is needless to say the residents put up the usual kick against these little changes the company insist on making every little while. But it does no good as the conductor tells you it is a case of pay or walk.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., held their first meeting in their new quarters in the Library Rooms last evening. The newly elected officers were installed. Under the good of the order a very pleasant hour was spent by the members.

The official board of the Methodist Church met in the church on Wednesday evening to arrange for plans in church work and to talk over a number of intended improvements about the church building.

Miss Nancy Wade, who has been spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wade, has returned to her duties as teacher in the school at Mahwah, this State.

Miss Addie Johnston who has been spending her Christmas vacation with her parents, returned yesterday to her studies at Hightstown Seminary.

Mrs. Augusta Millar and daughter, Miss Cora, of Front Street, are spending a few days with relatives and friends in Newark.

The Bennett-Moulton Comedy Company at Music Hall this week has been libarally patronized by the residents of the village.

Mrs. Cass Ackerson and son, of Hazlet, this State, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark.

A regular meeting of the Township Committee was held in the town rooms last evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, January 4.—The P. O. S. of A. have received a new flag which they are going to present to the Board of Education for use upon the new school building. The schoolhouse is not expected to be ready before the last of this month.

Miss Marjorie Voorhees, of Metuchen, is making a few days visit at the home of Mrs. Manning.

Skating in this vicinity is almost perfect, yet there are but few who are taking advantage of it.

A. Brundage has finished the painting of R. B. Manning's house and barn.

ROOT LIKES CORBIN.

An Official Friendship That Is the Talk of Washington.

Secretary of War and Adjutant General of the Army Spend Much of Their Time in Taking Equestrian Exercise.

Since Elihu Root came to Washington as secretary of war, 14 months ago, he has acquired the habit of an inveterate equestrian, although he had probably not ridden on horseback more than 100 miles altogether in the other 54 years of his life. It is seldom that a man of his age develops such enthusiasm for an exacting form of exercise when seductive golf links are on every hand, and its only satisfying explanation involves the great fancy he has evidently taken to Adjt. Gen. Corbin, who has been his preceptor in military as well as in other mysteries of Washington life. No more notable exhibition of intimacy between public men at the national capital is recalled in recent years than that popularly referred to as the "conspicuous lobnobbishness of Root and Corbin," upon whom about equally the president is supposed to depend for the conduct of that department which has practically become the most important and powerful of the government's great establishments.

The offices of the two men, constituting part of a suite, are separated by a single door that swings almost constantly, while the headquarters of all other army officers are scattered along other floors of the big building devoted exclusively to fighting and foreign affairs, those of the general commanding being situated at the extreme distant limit of the structure. This neighborliness is undoubtedly as the secretary would now wish to have it, although it was none of his making, for he found the arrangement when he came just as it had been under half a dozen of his predecessors. The duties of the civilian director of the war office, as it is still officially designated upon its great seal, and of its real military head are closely complementary and interdependent; and, their business hours being sharply synchronous, nothing is more natural than that the period and pursuits of leisure of these two men should be strictly coincident.

TWO OFFICIAL FRIENDS.
(Secretary Root and Gen. Corbin After a Ride to Mount Vernon.)

Every evening between six o'clock and eight, and frequently in the early morning hours, before officialdom is awake, the clattering canter of two fine horses which bear him and his chief of staff is heard in one part of the district and nearby states or another, and on half-holidays or dull days, and sometimes on Sundays, very distant points are reached. Virginia battlefields are visited and the surrounding country beyond the sight of the tall marble shaft of the Washington monument is thoroughly explored.

During these long journeys, often exceeding 40 miles from start to finish, perplexing problems of policy and administration are solved under congenial influences, with utter disregard of the exasperating red tape tangles fastened upon the army through long inaction and congressional apathy. With clear heads from the exhilaration of purer atmosphere than ever penetrates the war department building, the two men are often credited with reaching conclusions of inestimable value to the president—conclusions deeply affecting the domestic and international relations of the republic and the welfare of the people.

The picture reproduced from the New York Tribune was taken at Mount Vernon, the home of Washington, where Secretary Root and Gen. Corbin spent an hour or two to rest their horses during a 46-mile ride one day last month.

White Dove Dotes on Music.

A Newton (Mass.) young lady saw a peculiar feature in a church in a Maine town which she visited last summer. Hearing the cooing of a dove she looked around and saw a white dove perched on the organ and listening to the music with great appreciation. She learned afterward that the dove had been a regular attendant at church for eight or ten years, being attracted by the music, of which it was very fond. It was 12 years old and was the pet of a lady who lived near. After church the dove was taken to the Sunday school class by a boy and seemed to enjoy the proceedings. Unlike many churchgoers the weather made no difference to the dove, but every Sunday, summer and winter, he was at his post on the organ.

Tabloid Cafe in Paris.

A restaurant for concentrated food is to be started in Paris by an enterprising French chef. The happy diner will enjoy a menu of tabloids. From the hors d'oeuvres to dessert his entire meal will be presented to him in a few square inches.

A PRICE-SAVING CHANCE.

The prudent housewife and head of the family anticipates their needs and buy when prices are low. Sometimes they do not require articles at once, but when they do need them they have the satisfaction of knowing that they bought them at rock bottom prices—lower than they could have bought them at the required moment. This is the policy that many of our patrons have brought into play this week—taking advantage of the cutting in price that has distinguished our annual January clearing sale. Today we tell you of a few articles that must be closed out at once to meet the exigencies of our trade, but this does not mean that the time is short for practical service to the buyer. In fact, it is to the contrary—lots of suitable weather in prospect for their use. Tomorrow night we keep open till 10 o'clock—the only night in the week that the early closing rule does not prevail.

WOMEN'S HOSE.

Good values in women's hosiery are to be found in this department. We display lots of hosiery, but one brand that we call your particular attention to is a fleece-lined stocking—just the thing for this nipping weather, and more of it for several weeks yet. These are full regular make and fast black. They are worth, in fact, sell in many stores, for 29c. We sell them for ..... 19

An all-cashmere wool stocking, full fashion, merino heel and toe, slight seconds of a regular 35 cent line, for ..... 17

And the boys—how they do go through their stockings. We can fit them out with a full fashion, fast black bicycle hose, for ..... 15

ERECT FORM CORSETS.

The correct form for women who are buying new corsets. They make new dress effects show erect and give style and an air of being up-to-date to the wearer. No. 701 W. B. is sold for $1. No. 702, $1.50. The B. & G. Erect Form sells for $1, and Her Majesty Erect Form for $1.50—all reliable brands.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

A lot of striped children's outing flannel night drawers that are so good and so cheap that it is an unwise housewife who would bother making them herself. Sizes for children up to 8 years of age, for 50 cents; from 8 to 12 years of age, 60 cents. Also striped outing flannel night gowns, full and well made, for children up to 8 years of age, 50 cents; 8 to 14 years of age, 60 cents. In this same department we are showing a woman's outing flannel night gown for 98 cents that is, indeed, a bargain. Also an elaborately trimmed night gown for women, splendidly made, for.... $1.25

Children's Tam O'Shanters that are very serviceable for the little people we are selling for twenty-five cents. A good assortment which must be sold quick. On the next table is a lot of children's skating caps—just the thing to frolic in on the ice—for 50 cents each.

ODD BARGAINS.

Just three of them that we call your attention to today. The first is a bale of short lengths of Domet flannels, worth 16 and 17 cents, that we have marked down to 12 cents to dispose of quickly. Another is a bale of short lengths of plain colored outing flannel, cheap at 12 cents, but we are selling them for 8 cents. The last is a small lot of Marseilles bed spreads, full size with pearl hems. They are slight seconds of the $1.50 grade, and are practically as good as anything that can be bought for prices even a third higher. To dispose of them we offer them for $1.19.

Proceedings of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, Dec. 6, 1900, at 2:30 p. m.

All members were present except Freeholder Miller.

The minutes of the previous meeting, reading of bills being omitted, were on motion approved as read.

No communications, petitions and reports of committees were presented.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Robinson:

Resolved, That the bill of W T Kirk for $362 25 for building of line bridges at Jefferson avenue, between the counties of Middlesex, Somerset and Union, be paid when properly audited by the committee.

Freeholder Farrell moved the adoption of the resolution and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell, the Board took a recess of fifteen minutes.

Upon reassembling after recess, roll call showed all members present except Freeholder Swain, excused, and Freeholder Miller, absent.

By Freeholder Farrell:

Whereas, It has been brought to the attention of some of the members of this Board that, by reason of the largely increased population of the county, and the large increase of public business necessitated thereby in the courts and public offices of the county has and does constantly create a demand for more convenient and larger rooms for the transaction of necessary public business of the county; and

Whereas, For the ten years last past this county has necessarily expended from $5 000 to $6,000 per year in repairing and maintaining the present public buildings, and

Whereas, The maintaining of the present public buildings will necessitate a constant increase of expenditure and the building of a new court house by some is deemed advisable at this time owing to the necessity in the near future of so doing, and the present low rate of interest upon which money may be borrowed, therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the Director of this Board to investigate the above referred to matter, and report to this Board as to the advisability of the building of a new court house and the probable cost thereof.

Freeholder King moved the adoption of the resolution, which was duly seconded.

In support of his resolution, Freeholder Farrell said in part, that the present buildings were inadequate for the transaction of the public business of the county.

The business of the courts was interfered with, and the various county officers were cramped for rooms in which to properly conduct public business.

It was not deemed advisable to expend more money on the present buildings, and to attempt to enlarge the same would be money poorly spent.

Funds for the construction of a new court-house could easily be obtained at a low rate of interest in view of which it seemed that the present time was most appropriate to consider the matter.

Freeholders King, Brucklacher, Adams and Woodruff, also spoke in support of the resolution, after which it was adopted on roll call by an unanimous vote.

The Director appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Farrell, King, Krouse, Bruchlacher and Swain.

By Freeholder King:

"The work having been fully completed on both the roads built under the act known as the State Road Act, Approved March 22, 1895, the one in Fanwood Township and the other in New Providence Township, and the contractors having complied with the terms of their contracts, and said roads having been examined by this Board, therefore be it Resolved, That the same be approved and accepted, and that the same be paid for in compliance with said contracts and the law under which said roads were built."

Freeholder Robison moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll-call it was unanimously adopted.

The following bills properly audited and approved were read, and on roll-call unanimously ordered paid, viz:

The Mischief-Making Mosquito.

Representatives of the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine who went to Nigeria recently to study the causes of malaria have sent home word that a new indictment must be framed against the disease-breeding mosquito. According to this information, not only malaria but the terrible disease called elephantiasis, which is characterized by enormous swelling of the glands, is conveyed to human beings by their gray-winged tormentors from the swamps. This disease not only affects millions of inhabitants of tropical countries, but also frequently attacks European residents in those lands.—Youth's Companion.

Remarkable Misprints.

In Huxley's "Life and Letters" two amusing examples of misprints in the proofs of an article he had written for the Nineteenth Century are given. "You have a reader in your printer's office," Huxley wrote to Mr. Knowles, "who provides me with jokes. Last time he corrected, when my manuscript spoke of the pigs as unwilling 'porters' of the devil, into 'porkers.' And this time, when I, writing about the Lord's prayer, say 'current formula,' he has it 'canting formula.'"—Academy.

Boiled Fowl Par Excellence.

After the fowl is trussed for boiling wrap it in a clean white floured cloth and put it into a stewpan. Cover it well with hot water, bring it gradually to a boil and skim it as the scum rises, then let it simmer as slowly as possible; when done put it on a hot dish, remove the skewers and pour over it a little parsley and butter sauce. A large fowl will take an hour to cook.—Chicago Daily News.

THE WINTER'S MODES.

A Wide Range of Choice In the Fashionable Wardrobe.

Cloth is incontestably the material of the season. Charming tailor made costumes of the more elaborate class are composed of it, having a bolero with large revers and a medici collar opening over a full vest of white mousseline de soie or taffeta embroidered in colors.

This winter's fashions are so varied that hardly any two hats or gowns are alike. There is an immense diversity of form, style, color, fabric and decoration, so that the maintenance of originality or at least of individuality is comparatively easy, and everybody can be dressed becomingly.

The cut shows a street costume of chamois zibeline cloth. The skirt is laid in box plaits, which are stitched at the top. The bodice has a short basque and is ornamented with stitched plaits in the same manner, a line of brown velvet buttons following the middle plait in front, beneath which the bodice fastens. There is a pelerine collar of cloth, stitched at the edge, and a valois collar lined with brown velvet. The sleeves have large cuffs of brown velvet, below which are full puffs of coral silk. The Louis Quinze hat of brown velvet is trimmed with a gold buckle and coral plumes.

HOW TO DRESS.

Advice to Women of Too Well Developed Figure.

Corpulent women are undoubtedly at a great disadvantage in matters of the wardrobe. It is possible to so dress a too attenuated figure that it will appear reasonably full and round, but it is impossible to disguise or suppress superfluous flesh. Much can be done, however, by good taste and management to make a too bulky form seem less in size. Dark colors should be chosen instead of light, subdued tints instead of brilliant, dull surfaces instead of glossy and small, inconspicuous designs or none instead of large, noticeable patterns. The clothing should not be very scant and tight, but should veil the figure and leave its precise outlines vague, since they are naturally too exuberant. Flat decorations should be chosen, and those of a sober character. A long skirt is always more suitable for a stout figure, as it gives an impression of greater height and consequently greater slenderness.

The picture illustrates an empire wrapper of empire green cashmere. It has a watteau back and a loose front and forms a short train. There is a short bolero with open, pointed fronts and a large collar. The foot of the gown, the collar, bolero and pagoda sleeves are all bordered with wide white and gold galloon. The full undersleeves are of cream silk, gathered in to form a frill at the wrists, and there is a cravat of cream satin ribbon.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 6, "A Forward Look"—Text, Phil. iii, 12-14.

"Is greatly wise
To talk with our past hours.

But 'tis very foolish to waste vain regrets over prizes not won and lose the chance of future gain.

Paul gives us a glimpse of his inner life in this chapter. He had been a model formalist, blameless in all the routine of religious duties prescribed by the most exacting sect of religionists the world ever held. He had come to see its hollowness, heartlessness, godlessness, and as He caught the import of the self sacrificing love of Jesus Christ, soulful, hearty, godlike, it captured him completely. He accepts and adopts it as the inspiration of his own life. He throws aside as worthless all his previous profession of personal merit and all pride in his own human attainments in religious routine and form. One deep, all absorbing heart longing fills him—"that I may know Him, know the power of His resurrection, the fellowship of His sufferings."

How different all this from the common shrinking from suffering and execution we see so clearly in the ordinary Christian experience! How it shames our indifference and indolence and challenges us to rouse and share the toil, the pain and glory of Christ!

What a change in him since the day the young men laid their clothes at his feet while stoning the Christian Stephen! Never will he forget the burning zeal of that heroic soul, never escape the flawless logic of his arguments in the synagogue, which filled the soul of Saul with rage because they were unanswerable and overthrew all his refuge of pharisaical works of piety. Never will he lose the memory of that fact, that voice on the Damascus road when the risen and glorified Jesus halted him.

But steadily, persistently, he sets his face to the future. Let the past be past. It can never be recovered, never relived. Learning it, he reaches forward as a racer at full speed stretches down the track in the Grecian games. Heedless of all clamor, all applause, all competitors, he runs eagerly, hopefully, determinedly.

He values the prize. He runs to win, "that I may know Him!" One glimpse of His face long years ago—what a change it made in this life! Now he runs that he may obtain a resurrection that shall bring him the eternal presence and companionship of that Christ face to face. He has seen the face of Stephen glow as the face of an angel when talking of his Master. He will learn the fellowship of suffering which transfigures the human and makes it divine.

What are you doing—watching the race or running yourself for the prize? If you are in the contest, how are you running—listlessly, heavily, sorrowfully, complainingly, joyously? Shake off that spirit! Look to Jesus! Look until the sight shames all the old spirit into forgetfulness! Rouse yourself for the race!

Awake, my soul, stretch every nerve
And press with vigor on;
A heavenly race demands thy zeal
And an immortal crown.

Providential Preparation.

Spread before you the map of the Pacific ocean and give a little time to the study of events by which God has been preparing the great region embraced in its boundaries for the twentieth century. Lay out a little course of reading and study.

First.—Put a mark on San Francisco. Go back only to 1849 and become familiar with the story of Fremont, the discovery of gold, and then outline the progress since. It's a fascinating romance of reality.

Second.—Put a mark on Puget sound. Study the "Oregon trail" and learn how this empire was saved to the United States. Familiarize yourself with the natural resources, expanding commerce and strategic importance of the region.

Third.—From the purchase of Russian America to the Klondike and Cape Nome days follow the growing value of Alaska, land of glaciers, gold and timber.

Fourth.—Spend a little while in the romance of missions. Here as nowhere else we shall be fascinated with the story, which reads like a fairy tale, of the conversion of Tonga, Fiji and the beautiful isles of the south Pacific. Most surprising is the rise of Hawaii. This century, just closed, has seen it rise from savagery to civilization. Read the story of Hawaii. Note its peculiar position as key to all the Pacific lines of communication and consider its importance to the republic and the world in the coming time. Learn how God prepared it by New England missionaries for its place in the world of men.

Fifth.—Have you read of the awakening of Japan, all in the last half century?

Sixth.—Turn to Australia and New Zealand. Fifty years have peopled this southern continent with English speaking folk. Do you catch the significance of the changes on the Pacific shores in the last half century? What does it all mean?

Ruskin, in his "Modern Painters," was the first of art critics to direct particular study to the clouds. He complained that no artist but Turner had ever closely observed them. What is true in art and nature is equally true in religion. Study the clouds! There is more in the things which have cast their shadows over your life than you have yet perceived. The stormclouds, the great masses of the thunder heads, the cyclones, the feathery, faroff, pleasant day, fleecy fancies of care and doubt—all these will pay you to note. Study their meaning, their portent, their beauty and all the messages they bear of Divine justice, love and forbearance.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

TOPIC.—A forward look.—Phil. iii, 12-14.

The month of January derives its name from Janus, an old Italian god that had two faces pointing in opposite directions. The month is well named, for it also points two ways, for at the beginning of the year, while we look forward, we also look backward. It is well at times in our lives to look both ways. Paul realized that, as we can see from the reference which we have before us, and at no time in life is it more fitting and appropriate to follow Paul's example in this respect than at the beginning of the year. Let us, then, carefully and prayerfully take a backward and a forward look, with the hope and prayer that the future may be a constant improvement upon the past.

1. A backward look. "Forgetting those things which are behind." Paul recalls the past and concludes that the best thing to do is to forget it. He was probably influenced to this decision by reason of the fact that too much contemplation of the past would be injurious to future advancement. The man who lives in the past makes no progress. The man who keeps his face toward the radiance of the setting sun does not receive the inspiration that comes to the one who beholds the beauty and glory of the rising sun. Past attainments are well forgotten, lest they fill us with pride and self satisfaction and deprive us of the ambition to go forward to still greater deeds of sacrifice and of love. Past sins and failures are to be forgotten. Many dwarf their present usefulness by idly dwelling upon the failures and mistakes of the past. They are gone, and gone forever. No voice can call them back again, no cement of human device put them together again. Let them therefore be buried with the past, lest they impair future usefulness, and let our only anxiety be for that we do not repeat them.

2. A forward look. "Reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." This figure of the runner is an inspiring one. He looks forward. He has the goal and the prize before him. But he not only looks forward, but he presses forward with all his powers and energies that he may reach the goal and obtain the prize. So should every Christian and every Christian Endeavorer. We should look forward. "The eye must precede the foot. If our hearts are not already in heaven, our souls cannot be traveling thither." But we must also press forward. A forward look is suggestive of a forward movement. We cannot stand still, for that is stagnation; we dare not turn aside, for that is danger and delay, and we cannot go back, for that is treason and destruction. We must then go forward—forward to Christ, who is both our goal and our prize. Let us make a fresh start at the beginning of this, another new year, and let us keep steadily on in face of all temptations until, like Paul, we shall have finished our course and have in view the crown of righteousness which is to be our reward.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Arrange a special New Year's service that will be fitting. A personal consecration meeting would be most appropriate.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. lxvii, 1-7; cxxi, 1-8; Prov. iv, 25-27; Math. v, 48; vii, 21-29; Luke ix, 62; I Cor. ix, 24-27; II Cor. iv, 18; Titus ii, 11-15; I Tim. iv, 7, 8; Rev. ii, 10.

Confession Before Conversion.

I never knew any man to be converted until he confessed. Cain felt bad enough over his sins, but he did not confess. Saul was greatly tormented in his mind, but he went to the witch of Endor rather than to the Lord. Judas felt so bad over the betrayal of his Master that he went out and hanged himself, but he did not confess—that is, he did not confess to God. He came back and confessed to the priests, saying, "I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood." It was of no use to confess to them. They could not forgive him. What he should have done was to confess to God, but instead of that he went right away and hanged himself.—Moody.

Coming to Love People.

We come to love people through what we do for them rather than through what they do for us. God has gone far beyond our thanking in what He has done for us, but we take His gifts as a matter of course until He can induce us to do something for Him.

This is why He throws on us the burden of working where He might have wrought and giving where He might have given. It is for our sakes that we thereby may learn to love the Doer and Giver of all good.

And so a wise mother instead of doing everything for her child herself teaches it love by setting it to do for her.—Sunday School Times.

Faithful Unto Death.

John Eliot on the day of his death, in his eightieth year, was found teaching the alphabet to an Indian child at his bedside.

"Why not rest from your labors?"

"Because," said the venerable man, "I have prayed to God to make me useful in my sphere, and He has heard my prayer, for now that I can no longer preach He leaves me strength enough to teach this poor child his alphabet."

After such an example of obedience to the command, "Be ye faithful until death," who can plead inability to serve the Master?—Lutheran Observer.

Obeying God.

Man loses nothing by obeying God. Providence and grace work in conjunction for the good of those who keep God's commandments.—Presbyterian.

Some People Who Are Talked About Around the World

Yerkes in London.

Charles T. Yerkes came back to America from London a few days ago with the charter for a London underground railway in his inside pocket, and a broad and genial smile on his face. He believes he has a good thing, and the underground railway, into which he expects to put from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000, is but the beginning of his schemes for the solution of the rapid transit problem in London.

CHAS. T. YERKES, Street Railway Magnate of Two Countries.

The municipal government in Chicago never profited to any great extent in a financial way from the street railway lines which Yerkes built in that city; the ordinances that turned over the streets to the street railways brought but very little in return, but Mr. Yerkes proposes a more liberal policy for London. In a recent interview in London he said:

"The city as well as the individual would profit by the introduction of electric traction. Not only would cheap and comparatively rapid transportation be provided, but the public revenues would gain a new and substantial source of income. The omnibuses pay but a trifle for their privileges. An electric line would not only pay a fair proportion of its receipts to the local treasuries, but it would light the streets as well. The central poles would also carry electric lights, as is already done in many London streets, but the company would pay for the light instead of the public."

He proposes to build an underground system as a trunk line for surface roads that he expects to build as soon as London can be educated to the point of granting the necessary franchises.

Charles T. Yerkes is one of America's self-made men. During the 63 years of his life he has struggled upward from a clerk in a grain commission house in Philadelphia to the owner of millions. He was a Philadelphia banker and was forced to the wall in 1871, but he profited by the Jay Cooke failure in 1873, and in 1886 began his career as a street railway magnate in Chicago.

An American Historian.

The complaint that comes from a number of students of American literature that the name of Francis Parkman is not, for the present at least, to be included in the New York Hall of Fame, is a well grounded one. There is probably no American historian who has more admirers than Parkman, and these admirers will leave nothing undone that will help to place his name among the list to be selected for the Hall of Fame in 1902.

FRANCIS PARKMAN, The Late American Historian.

Francis Parkman was more typically American in many ways than any other of our American historians. While he was a great traveler, and made frequent trips through Europe, it was America and American scenes that he loved best. Not the scenery of the city but the more rugged pictures from the mountain and forest. All his life he suffered physical disablements that caused him to shun the companionship of his kind to a great extent. His eyes failed him while yet in college, and never recovered sufficiently to perform their usual service; his brain was affected by some disorder that limited, and often entirely prevented, intellectual activity; his senses were imperfectly developed so that he was always more or less insensible to delicate impressions of sound, touch, taste and colors. Yet despite these things he has left a wonderful work for posterity, and whether his name appears in the Hall of Fame or not his fame as an American historian will not die.

Francis Parkman was born in Boston in 1823, the son of a minister. After his college course at Harvard his father desired him to study law, and this he did, but later gave it up for the more pleasurable task to him for writer and historian.

The New German Chancellor.

Count Bernhardt von Buelow, the new German chancellor, is by no means a stranger to the diplomats of the world, and among them he ranks high as a statesman of unusual ability. His ability, far-sightedness and calm counsels have saved the impetuous German emperor a number of embarrassing situations within the past two or three years. He has a mind of his own, and is not afraid to express his opinions, whether they are asked for or not, and in these things he favors his predecessor, Prince Hohenlohe, though he is by far a more progressive man than is the prince.

COUNT VON BUELOW The New German Chancellor.

Count von Bülow is by no means an old man, being but 53 years of age, and 26 years of his life have been devoted to the German service in diplomatic positions. His first service was in 1874, when he began his career as one of the assistants in the foreign office. Soon after he was made secretary of legation and served with credit in that capacity in Rome, Vienna and Paris. Afterwards he was appointed minister at Bucharest and again minister to Rome. He was called from the latter place to enter the German cabinet as minister of foreign affairs in 1897, and for the past three years has been the right-hand man of the German emperor, in many ways supplanting Hohenlohe, who was by no means progressive enough to suit Emperor William.

Von Buelow got into the German foreign office just in time to begin upon the solution of that little but puzzling problem presented by the Samoan difficulty. He mastered it and brought order out of chaos in a way that made him an idol of the German people and was yet satisfactory to the other nations concerned.

He has always been an ardent admirer of Prince Bismarck, and attempts to emulate his example in every way possible.

Britain's Colonial Secretary.

Aside from Lord Salisbury the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain is the biggest man in English politics today. The vote of confidence which the English people have just given the Salisbury ministry was above everything else a vote of confidence in Chamberlain as the secretary for colonial affairs, for his policy as the head of the colonial office has made the policy of the ministry. He wanted to annex the two Boer republics as crown colonies, and the people have said they believe that is the proper thing to do.

JOS. CHAMBERLAIN, The English Colonial Secretary.

The English colonial secretary is a commoner who first began his public career in municipal politics in much the same way that many American politicians do. During the 64 years of his life he has been three times mayor of the city of Birmingham. He has been a member of the British parliament for more than 20 years, has been president of the board of trade, president of the local government board and lord rector of Glasgow university. He has not only been a successful politician but a successful business man as well, and has carried his business methods into the government service to such an extent that he is not classed as a statesman.

Much of his success in English politics he credits to his American wife, a daughter of Hon. W. C. Endicott, secretary of war in President Cleveland's cabinet. Her knowledge of American political campaigning methods has proven of assistance to her husband on several occasions, and he has not hesitated to follow her suggestions.

To Search for the Pole.

"There is no commercialism in this expedition. I simply have faith in Baldwin and am confident he can get to the pole, and I am enough of an American to put up the money so that this nation can have the glory of making the discovery."

EVELYN B. BALDWIN, Who Will Try to Reach the North Pole.

That is what William Ziegler, the New York millionaire who is furnishing the money for the Baldwin arctic expedition, says of the man that he is backing and his reasons for backing him, and those who know Evelyn B. Baldwin believe that he is worthy the trust reposed in him.

In the scientific world Baldwin is attracting a great amount of attention just at the present time. Not since the days of the ill-fated Jeanette expedition has any attempt to reach the north end of the earth aroused so much enthusiasm as has the one that will leave New York next spring under the direction of Mr. Bladwin. Whether there is any special reason for the belief or not it is the generally accepted theory that Baldwin will bring back with him some valuable souvenirs of the much sought for sticks and that he is very likely to nail "Old Glory" to the top of it.

The leader of this new expedition into the cold regions of the north has had considerable experience in the regions which he is going to explore. He was with Peary in 1893-94 and again with Wellman in 1898. He had expected to go with Andree, but was disappointed at the last moment and left behind because the balloon would not carry all that desired to go.

Mr. Baldwin is some 38 years of age, and by profession is a meteorologist, being connected with the United States weather bureau for a number of years and stationed at different points throughout the south.

DESERVED PROMOTION.

Grandson Of Plainfielder Made Head Draughtsman Of Big Shipbuilding Concern at Richmond, Va.

Charles Burton Ford, son of Mrs. Hariot Burton Ford, and grandson of Charles W. Burton, both of Watchung avenue, has just been appointed chief draughtsman of the engineering department of the W. R. Trigg Company, of Richmond, Va. The Trigg Company possesses the most complete ship yard of its size in the country, and is now building a protected cruiser and five torpedo boat destroyers for the government. Concerning Mr. Ford's promotion, the Richmond, Va., Despatch says:

"This position is a very responsible one and a proper recognition of Mr. Ford's ability. He is well fitted for the place, having graduated from one of the prominent technical institutions and has successfully gleaned his experience from the Cramps, Harland and Hollingsworth, John H. Dialogue and Son, and the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. His success at these places was in the same proportion as at the Trigg Company, and is a deserved reward of his hard application in the engineering profession."

Blown to Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. Only 25c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Cutting Ice in the Valley.

The cold weather has been the means of making plenty of fine ice, which is about ten inches in thickness. Some of the local dealers are preparing to make the annual harvest. Among the first dealers to cut ice in this vicinity is James Y. Wilson, who is gathering a crop of the congealed liquid at his ponds near Watchung.

New City Nurse on Duty.

Miss Olive DeLany, the city nurse, will leave the city in a few days for Montreal, to pursue a special course in nursing. The new city nurse, Miss Gwynn Evans, who comes from Massachusetts, is now on duty, and will remain while Miss DeLany is away.

Ring Was For Col. Perry.

It was Col. A. G. Perry, the retiring officer of Antietem Camp, Union Veteran Union, who was presented with a seal ring on Wednesday evening, instead of Asa Collier, as stated in the Daily Press. Asa Collier made the presentation speech.

Plainfield Young Woman in the Cast.

A number of Plainfielders have recently been to New York to witness a play at one of the theatres where Miss Clara Force, formerly of this city, is a member of the cast.

Meeting Postponed.

Owing to the prevalence of the grip, it was impossible to hold a meeting of the City Union, King's Daughters, yesterday, and the meeting was postponed for one month.

Annual Business Meeting.

The Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school will hold its annual business meeting tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Runyon, of East Sixth street.

WILL BE CONFINED.

Doctors Decide That The Mind of John Kenney, Alleged Fire Bug, is Affected.

John Kenney, who was arrested Wednesday charged with setting fire to the barn of W. D. Manning, for whom he worked, was examined last evening by Drs. Fritts and Carman as to his sanity. The physicians, after a careful examination, were of the opinion that Kenney's mind is in a condition bordering upon insanity.

Although the unfortunate man is not considered dangerous it is thought best to have have him taken to some institution where he will be cared for. It has not yet been decided to what institution Kenney will be taken, but probably it will be to the New Jersey State Hospital.

DATE ANNOUNCED.

"The Private Secretary" Will be Given at Music Hall, Saturday Evening, February 16.

Former Mayor William L. Saunders, who is in charge of the business arrangements of the production of "The Private Secretary" by local talent for charity, announces that the date for the performance has finally been fixed. It will be given at Music Hall Saturday evening, February 16. On the evening preceeding, the dress rehearsal at Music Hall will be held. A rehearsal will be held at Mr. Saunders' barn this evening and others will follow at rapid intervals. Mr. Young, the coach, is much pleased with the showing already made and believes that the play will be the most successful one ever given in Plainfield.

Grand Officers Visited Senate Lodge.

Senate Lodge, Knights of Honor, was honored last evening by an official visit from the Grand Lodge officers. Among those who were present were Grand Dictator George E. Tooker, of New York; Grand Vice Dictator Farrier, Assistant Grand Vice Dictator Stockler, Past Grand Dictator Burke, Grand Reporter John Mayhew, Past Grand District Deputy Wm. Mayhew and several of the grand dictator's staff. A collation was served after the meeting and a pleasant hour followed. At the next meeting of the lodge the installation of officers will be held.

Young Folks Party.

A pleasant event of the week was the young folks party given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Burtis, on Fairview avenue, for their son. There were about thirty young people present and all had a good time playing games, etc. Before the close of the happy event all were served with refreshments.

Marconnier Chapel.

There will be a special song and praise service at Marconnier Chapel Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Song service led by Messrs. Martin, Runyon and Hummer. Praise service will be in charge of Rev. B. W. Hand. All are invited.

Officers For the Legion.

At a regular meeting of the Loyal Temperance Legion held recently the following officers were elected: President, Amy Moore; vice-president, Henrietta Walsh; secretary, Emelie Garfield Bye.

$48,000 in Taxes.

George F. Brown, the borough collector, received $48,000 in taxes during the year 1900. This amount is about $4,000 in excess of last year.

Borough Council Meets.

The regular meeting of the Borough Council will be held this evening, when matters pertaining to the license question may come up.

IS RICH ONCE MORE.

Lucky Baldwin Reputed to Be a Millionaire Again.

Through Pluck and Good Business Management This Unique Western Character Gains Fresh Supply of Wealth.

"Lucky" Baldwin is the title by which E. J. Baldwin is known far and near in California. He used to say, however, that it was pluck and not luck that brought him millions. Though to the public, wealth seemed to easily flow into his hands, in reviewing the old man's history it appears that his remark had much of truth in it. Mr. Baldwin was born on a farm near Racine, Wis., and when a boy 18 years old, he took a fine little horse, of which he was very proud, to South Bend, Ind., and there his horse ran a winning race. With his cash capital and some credit he was able to open a grocery store, which prospered, and in time Baldwin bought several wagons and horses and started for California. By judicious trading on the ways he reached San Francisco in 1853 considerably richer than he was when he left home. Figuring that in the booming new town of San Francisco millions of bricks would soon be needed, he bought an interest in a brickyard. He learned the art of making bricks thoroughly, and then started a yard for himself, and out of this business there came to him a fortune. In a short time he bought a livery stable, which proved to be an excellent investment, and in five years Mr. Baldwin decided that he had done well enough to warrant his taking a trip around the world.

When he returned from abroad he brought with him a company of Japanese acrobats, who delighted the people of San Francisco and all the mining towns of the west, and finally their manager played them in New York at the Academy of Music. This tour was a success. After Baldwin's return to San Francisco from New York he bought mining stock, and in the course of a little time he discovered that there was a scheme on foot to "freeze him out." He heard of the plans of the other owners and did not approve of them. Half an hour before they were to put their plans in execution Baldwin and some friends invaded the place they were holding, and with fists, chairs, cuspidors and a revolver, made things lively for them for nearly half an hour, until his attorney arrived with an injunction.

After the burning of Baldwin's hotel in 1898 it was supposed that the old man was "flat broke," and, though he owned 50,000 acres of land in lower California, this was mortgaged, as was also the hotel. The hotel was not insured, and its unfortunate owner was obliged to sell his ground for $1,425,000. This went toward paying off mortgages and other debts.

Last Christmas Baldwin surprised his friends by announcing that he was going to Cape Nome, as he knew there was wealth there if a man only knew how to get it. In the ruins of his hotel Baldwin had some time before rigged up a sort of theater, and there had a company of Hawaiian dancers, who made him money. He engaged them to play a season in the mining camp. He gathered other vaudeville attractions also, fitted up a ship with provisions for eight months, put a theater ready to be nailed together in its hold, and sailed away to Cape Nome.

Now the news comes to San Francisco that "Lucky Baldwin" has struck it rich; that, not satisfied with the success of his far north theater, he took up pick and shovel and went out into the frozen wilderness and dug for gold, and gold he found.

Nothing but a superabundance of pluck could have made a man of his age determined enough to begin the battle of a search after wealth all over again. The annals of California bristle with references to the energy and determination of many of the rugged men who have made the state their home for years, but "Lucky Baldwin's" record holds place with the best of them.

Stout Lady Saves a Life.

A Massachusetts grandmother weighing 200 pounds climbed 15 feet down a well and rescued a neighbor's child who had tumbled into three feet of water at the bottom. Mrs. Philip Turner, of Newton Center, did this. She saw the child fall in and no other help was near. She seized a ladder and went down it, though the well was only 2½ feet in diameter and was still further difficult by reason of an iron pipe which went to the bottom. Mrs. Turner is more than 50 years old, and she has been the heroine of the village ever since the rescue.

Where Have They Gone To?

There are multitudes of old copper cents somewhere, but no one can locate them.

Have No Idea of Value.

The African native has no real sense of the value of money, and if he is in the mood for work will toil as readily for three pounds sterling as three shillings, but if he has once been paid a certain sum for labor he will never work for less, but will sooner starve: and a very amusing instance is given of a native who would not sell some fowl for 18 pence each because he had heard that a friend had been paid two shillings. He walked 130 miles to try and get the higher price, and still being offered one and sixpence tramped home again with the birds.—N. Y. Sun.

Not Up to Date.

"Oh, the disgrace of it all," wept the unhappy wife of the defaulting bank employe.

"Alas! Alas!" moaned her friends, not knowing what else to say.

"Oh, the disgrace," continued the sorrowing woman. "To think that Henry only got away with $8,000, when everybody else is taking all the way from a hundred thousand to a million."

Now, when it was too late, she realized her mistake in marrying an old-fashioned man.—Baltimore American.

PRESENT STATE OF THE CITY'S FINANCES

Report of City Treasurer Ends The Career of Council For Year 1900.

INDEBTEDNESS IS REDUCED.

FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT SUMMARIZES THE SITUATION.

Decrease in Outstanding Obligations Since 1899, Amounting to $18,300 — City Indebtedness Reduced $32,830.94.

The Common Council for 1900 held its last meeting for that year last evening and closed up all accounts to date. All the members, except Councilmen Clifton and Randolph, were present. As there was not a great amount of business to transact little interest was taken in the meeting. There were a few matters of much importance, however, that engaged the close attention of all. The first was the report of the finance committee, which gives in condensed form the state of the city's finances. It was offered by Mr. VanHerwerden, chairman of the committee, and is as follows:

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

Gentlemen:

Your Committee on Finance begs to submit the following as its report for the year:

The change in 1898 making taxes become delinquent in November instead of December, has proven to be of great advantage, saving a considerable sum in interest on money borrowed in anticipation of the collection of taxes, and facilitating the business of the city in many ways.

The Martin Act has demonstrated its effectiveness, and all real estate taxes previous to 1896 have been adjusted and collected on property sold. There is still a considerable amount due the city on personal and poll taxes, the collection of which should be vigorously pushed.

Delinquent taxes may now be collected under the Martin Act each year, and your committee, in view of the success which has attended our first experience, would recommend that future Councils pursue a similar course.

The whole amount of taxes apportioned by Commissioners under the Martin Act was $76,394 73, of this $52 532 31 was collected and apportioned proportionately to the various funds of the city; the balance, $23,862 42, is secured by property which was bought in by the city, and which, as soon as the necessary time has elapsed, may be disposed of as we may choose.

The indebtedness of the city has been reduced in the past year as follows:

|---|---|
| General Fund, Notes— Money borrowed in anticipation of taxes | $17,500.00 |
| Fire Fund, Notes— Money borrowed in anticipation of taxes | 800.00 |
| Street Improvement Bonds— Money borrowed in anticipation of assessments | 9,000.00 |
| Special Sewer Notes, amount raised by tax | 1,530.94 |
| Four Sewer Bonds, 4 per cent. amount raised by tax | 4,000.00 |
| | $32,830.94 |

A comparison of the outstanding obligations of this city for the past five years is most gratifying to this Council, and is as follows:

| | 1896. | 1897. | 1898. | 1899. | 1900. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Gen. Fund, notes | $19,000 | $19,400 | $30,500 | $26,500 | $ 9,000 |
| Fire Fund, notes | 7,000 | 4,000 | 11,300 | 6,800 | 6,000 |
| | $26,000 | $23,400 | $41,800 | $33,300 | $15,000 |

A reduction in the past year of $18,300.

Your committee would recommend that our successors make such provision in the tax budget for 1901 as will wipe out this $15,000 and leave the city at the end of this year without any outstanding obligations.

Respectfully submitted,
J. vanHerwerden,
George P. Mellick,
R. I. Tolles,
B. F. Coriell,
R. L. Lee,
Committee.

The report of City Treasurer William F. Arnold was then presented and at the request of President Dumont, Mr. Arnold read the report. Notwithstanding the length of the report it is an exceeding interesting report. It will be found in another part of The Daily Press. After it was read it was filed and a motion to have it published in the official papers was adopted. It will be noted in reading the report that the finances of the city are in fine condition, there being a reduction of $18 300 in outstanding obligations.

Councilman Mellick reported on a

WILL PAY HIS SHARE NOW.

FINAL SETTLEMENT OF NOTE INDORSED BY MORTIMER'S CREDITORS.

L. A. Hummer Confessed to Judgment of $6,852 in Union County Court Thursday.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Jan. 5.—Judgment for $6 852 was confessed to and entered up against L. A. Hummer, a North Plainfield meat dealer, in the Union County Court Thursday afternoon, as the result of Mr. Hummer refusing to pay $300 as his pro rata share of a note for $6,500, which he and a number of other creditors of John Mortimer, formerly of Plainfield, indorsed for the latter so that the creditors could realize on their claims.

Mortimer made a note for $6,500, which was indorsed by the creditors in the combination. Then the First National Bank discounted it, and the proceeds were divided among the creditors so that the bills were liquidated. To protect both bank and endorsers, Mortimer gave the power of attorney to the bank officials, who were to draw $2,500 a year of Mortimer's income until the note was paid.

After the bank had drawn the first year's installment of the income Mortimer revoked the power of attorney.

This prevented the bank from realizing on the note, and so they brought action against the endorsers, who, as creditors, had received the benefit of the money raised by the note. All in the combination paid their pro rata but Hummer, who refused to do so. The bank brought suit against him, but when it was ready for trial Thursday Hummer unexpectedly confessed judgment. According to law, the amount of the note and interest were recorded against him but he can wipe out the judgment by paying $300.

COLUMBIA'S BIG TIME.

Officers Installed at Last Night's Meeting and Prominent Visitors Were in Attendance.

One of the best meetings ever held by Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A. O. U. W., was that of last evening, at which time Deputy Grand Masters Fowle, of Irvington, and J. W. A. Bauersachs, of the borough, assisted by Grand Overseer V. W. Nash, of this city, installed the officers elect. After the installation there were interesting addresses by the officers and members of the lodge.

The members arranged for a reception to be given Friday evening, Jan. 18, to Grand Foreman Frank W. Tussey, of Camden, at which time there will be initiation of several candidates, an entertainment and a supper. Invitations have been extended to Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., of this city, and the lodges at Westfield, Rahway, Elizabeth and Elizabethport. The applications from those who will be initiated next week were received at the meeting last evening.

Second Subscription Concert.

The second subscription concert will take place Thursday evening at the Casino. The singers will be Mrs. Bennett Griffin, Miss Marguerite Hall, John Young and Gwilym Miles. Among the selections will be the following: Quartettes, "Blue Danube," "Marseillaise;" duet "Juanita;" solos, "Two Greadiers," "Thine Eyes So Blue and Tender" Lassen, "Danny Deever," "Du bist wie eine Blume" Liezt and Rubinstein, "Sands of Dee" and "Phyllis."

Can't Tell Who He Is.

An old man, apparently a German, with thin grey hair, and clad in a pair of brown overalls, new felt boots and plush cap, was found on the streets of Westfield early last Thursday morning nearly frozen. He was sent to the county jail at Elizabeth for fifteen days under the name of Christen Schlick on the charge of vagrancy. It is believed that he belongs somewhere in this neighborhood, although he cannot tell anything concerning himself.

Mr. Marsh Gone to Nassau.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh and Mrs. Marsh left last night for Nassau to enable the former to obtain a change of air and three weeks' absolute rest. Mr. Marsh has done a great deal of work officially and otherwise at his residence during the present week, but has at last decided to take his doctor's advice and wait three weeks' longer before going back to his office.

Funeral of Mrs. Scribner.

The funeral of Sarah, wife of Egbert A. Scribner, of Duer street, was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Warren chapel, Rev. J. O. McKelvey officiating. Mr. Scribner wishes to thank his friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness extended to him during his wife's illness and at the time of her death.

ROUTINE WORK FOR THE BOROUGH COUNCIL

Mayor Reported That Sisser Would Probably Go Out Of Business.

REPORTS WERE RECEIVED.

REV. W. E. HONEYMAN APPOINTED TO BOARD OF HEALTH.

Special Meeting Soon to Act on Report of Committee Regarding Widening of Somerset Street—Other Important Business.

Every member of the Borough Council, together with Corporation Counsel Reed, was present at last night's regular meeting.

The routine business was cleared away in short order and then the members discussed at some length the practicability of municipal ownership, to the effect that the borough should own and operate its electric light and water plants. After a full discussion and upon motion of Mr. Lee, a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Valiant, Roger and Lee, were appointed to look into the matter and report at a subsequent meeting.

The routine business consisted of listening to the report of Collector George F. Brown for the month ending December, 1900. The report showed the following amounts collected; Taxes and interest, $17,134 61; Board of Health, $244 65; special school, $7,369 11; Watchung avenue assessment, $1,282; Duer street extension, $20; Clerk, fines, $36; balance on hand, December 1st, $9 425 72; total receipts, $35 512.09; disbursements, $25 654 80; cash on hand, January 1st, $9,857 29; borough fund, $9,247 04; Watchung avenue, $610 25; County tax, 1900, $5,471 98; State, $2 585,37.

The report of Mr. Clark, chairman of the street commitee, showed that the following sums had been expended: Labor, $109 80; sprinkling, $2.62; F. J. Hubbard, services, $30.00; J. H. Wilson & Co., stone, $149.50, making a total of $291.92.

Mr. Valiant offered a resolution, which was carried, to the effect that the borough borrow $2,500, or as much as is needed to pay claims of the corporation. The Mayor was also authorized to draw and the Clerk to sign the necessary warrant.

The bonds of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, which had been returned for correction and also the bond of Francis M. Whiteley, a newly-elected constable, were approved.

Mayor Smalley notified the Council that he had reappointed Rev. William E. Honeyman as a member of the Board of Health to seave for a term of four years. The apointment was later confirmed by a resolution offered by Councilman Valiant.

The Mayor also said that there had also been a meeting of the committee on widening Somerset street and that a report would probably be ready in about ten days, when a special meeting would be called to take some action on the report.

In reference to the license of Wm. Sisser, the Mayor said that Corporation Counsel Reed and himself had gone to Somerville to appear before Judge Schenck yesterday in opposition to the renewal of Sisser's license, but that the matter had been laid over until January 18. Judge Bartine had given them to understand that as counsel for Sisser he would not press his client's claims further in view of the strong opposition there appeared to be in the borough toward having Sisser's place licensed again. It is understood that Sisser is going to dispose of his business.

Mr. Lee from the police committee reported that there had been eight arrests during the month, which did not include a number of young men who had been haled before the Mayor for skating upon Tier's pond. Clerk Rowley reported that $36 had been paid in fines.

Before the Council adjourned, it confirmed the election of J. C. Walker as a member of Warren Engine Company, and referred a number of claims to the proper committee.

The request of Mr. Swackhamer to have the assessment on a lot of the estate of the late Isaac Scribner, but now owned by the First National Bank, renuced to $30, which was correct, was placed on the table. Then the members fell to discussing municipal ownership an account of which will be found in another column.

JERSEY CENTRAL IS BOUGHT BY READING

J. P. Morgan & Company Announced the Deal in New York This Morning.

THEY ACQUIRED CONTROL.

OFFERED IT TO THE READING SYSTEM AND OFFER WAS ACCEPTED.

Interested Railway Stocks Made a Sharp Rise in Consequence—No Plans Following Consolidation Have Yet Been Announced.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New York, January 5.—J. P. Morgan & Company announced this morning that they had bought the controlling interest in the Central Railroad of New Jersey and had offered the same to the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, which had accepted the proposition.

The announcement caused considerable excitement at the Stock Exchange, and the stocks of the interested companies took a sudden bound.

Reading, first preferred, closed yesterday at 72 and rose at the news to 77. Jersey Central, which closed at 154, advanced immediately to 160.

No statement has been made as yet concerning the changes which the deal may make in the Jersey Central. The companies have been allied for some time.

Rumors that the Reading was to obtain control were circulated some time ago but denied by officials of both companies.

CHRISTIAN WORKER GONE.

MISS BLANCHE FELLOWS PASSED QUIETLY AWAY THIS MORNING.

Only Ill a Short Time With Typhoid Pneumonia—Was Well-Known in Plainfield.

Miss Blanche Fellows, of Westervelt avenue, died this morning about 8 o'clock after a short illness with typhoid pneumonia. For several days past she had been very low and it was known that she could not live.

Miss Fellows was the daughter of the late Dr. Harris I. Fellows, of Albany, and she was born in that city. About ten years ago she and her mother, Mrs. Abbey L. Fellows, took up their residence in this city, where they have lived ever since. She was a model Christian and an earnest worker in religious circles, especially at the First Presbyterian church, where she was a member.

She had a trained soprano voice, and for many years, was a member of the choir at the First Presbyterian church. It was from hard work, early and late, in preparation for the Christmas celebration, that she contracted the illness, which resulted in her death.

Miss Fellows possessed many lovable traits and she had a very large circle of friends who will mourn her death. Ever ready and willing to assist in all worthy efforts, she made a place that will be hard to fill.

Miss Fellows leaves a mother and a brother. The latter, Townsend H. Fellows, is the well known soloist at the Church of the Incarnation, in New York.

The funeral services will be held next Monday afternoon from the house and will be strictly private.

Stationed in South America.

Frank Fulton, apothecary of the United States Flagship Philadelphia, which has been stationed at San Francisco, Cal., is to be stationed at Valparaiso, Chili, South America. Mr. Fulton expects to return to Plainfield early next summer.

Partner of Mr Clark.

John Wharton, of Newark, who died at his home in that city yesterday, was president of the Wharton & Co. Hat Manufacturing Company, of Newark, of which Councilman Robert Clark, Jr., of the borough, is a member.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement is announced of Miss Martha W. Borsum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Borsum, of Woodland avenue, to William C. Fiedler, son of Hon. and Mrs. Wm. H. F. Fiedler, of Newark.

Purchased a House.

John Goodman, of Liberty street, has purchased a property on Manning avenue, and he and his wife will take up their residence there in a short time.

MET INSTANT DEATH AT HER OWN HAND.

Mrs. Edward H. Sebring Fatally Stabbed Herself in the Heart This Morning.

FOUND BY HER FATHER.

HAD BEEN AN INVALID FOR SOME TIME BUT WAS IMPROVING.

Was Stopping at Home of Her Parents on Somerset Street—Father Found Her Lying on Floor of Summer Kitchen—Was Already Dead.

Mrs. Maggie Sebring, wife of Edward H. Sebring, was found dead this morning in a small room used as a summer kitchen, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Voehl at 65 Somerset street. Lying beside the dead woman was a large knife which she had used to stab herself in the heart.

It was a few moments before 7 o'clock that Mr. Voehl found his daughter. He had just risen and was preparing to arouse the other members of the family when he noticed the door leading to the summer kitchen standing open. Mr. Voehl thought it strange and started to close it. As he did so he was horrified to see the dead body of Mrs. Sebring lying on her face near the stove. At first Mr. Voehl thought his daughter was lying in a faint and he started to pick her up. Then he discovered the awful truth that she was dead and that her death was without doubt due to herself. The unfortunate woman had stabbed herself near the right breast, inflicting a death wound in the heart.

Mr Voehl at once summoned the the members of the family, but there was nothing to to be done. The body of Mrs Sebring was still warm, showing that the deed had been accomplished but a short time before Mr. Voehl had found her.

Mrs. Sebring, was one of twin sisters. She was born with her sister, Gussie, now Mrs. John Kulp, of Montecello, N. Y., at Warrenville thirty-one years ago. For several years she has been an invalid and recently has been under the care of Dr. Adams. Mrs. Sebring's health has been so unsatisfactory that it has been thought best to have an operation performed

Until last October Mr. and Mrs Sebring occupied apartments in the same house with John H. Carney at 40 Craig place. Owing to the absence of Mrs. Carney, who has been in Bayonne for some time on business, Mr. and Mrs. Sebring have been living with the latter's parents on Somerset street.

Of late, however, Mrs. Sebring has been feeling a little more cheerful and last night attended the play at Music Hall. She retired soon after returning home and appeared to be in good spirits. That was the last the family saw of her until she was found dead on the floor of the summer kitchen.

As soon as possible Dr. Wagoner, county physician, was notified of the death of Mrs. Sebring as was also Dr. Adams, the family physician.

Mrs. Sebring is survived by her husband and one daughter 9 years old. Mrs. Sebring was a member of Grace M. E. church and was identified with the Ladies' Aid Society of that church.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral, but it will probably be held on Tuesday.

Installation Services.

The Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school will hold public installation services tomorrow afternoon. The pastor delivers the charge to the new superintendent, George E. Hall; Rev. J. S. Braker the charge to the school; Mr. Krause, of Cranford, the charge to the teachers. During the services Mrs. J. S. Braker will render a solo. There will be special exercises by primary department. Public is cordially invited.

Hearts at Park Club.

The entertainment committee of the Park Club has arranged for a card party to be given at the club next Tuesday evening. "Hearts" will be the feature, and there will be first and second prizes. Refreshments will be served.

Bank Elections.

The City and First National Banks will hold their annual election of officers next week Tuesday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock.

Annual Masquerade Ball.

The Gesang and Turn Verein will hold their annual masquerade ball Monday evening, January 28, in the hall on Somerset street.

THREE STRAIGHT DEFEATS.

PARK CLUB TEAM MET WESTFIELD CLUB IN PLAINFIELD LAST NIGHT.

Visitors Won Entire Series in Daily Press Bowling League—Some Good Scores.

Three straight defeats were chalked up against the Park Club in the Daily Press Bowling League last evening when team from the Westfield Club came to town to roll a series of games with the Park Clubites. Each game showed some improvement on the part of the local bowlers but the Westfield Club team made similar advances and won all three games without a great deal of trouble.

Ralph Willis was unable to roll on the Park team and his place was taken by George Worth. Laurens H. Van Buren was also unable to be present. The Westfield team was minus its captain, Chauncey D. Smith, and R. I. Townley, but the younger Townley and Harbison did excellent work after the first game.

On the start of the first game, the Parks were in the lead and stayed there until the fourth frame when the two teams tied. Then Westfield forged ahead and the Parks fought manfully in the rear but in vain. Westfield won by 43 pins.

Again the Parks took the lead when the second game opened and held it for three frames. They regained it in the fifth to fall six pins behind in the sixth. The rest of the game was close but Westfield won out by 27 pins, the Parks making a weak finish.

Both teams made a remarkable opening in the third game. The visitors rolled 113 in the first frame while the Parks scored 93 Westfield was 213 in the second but that pace was too hot and toward the close both sides returned to their former habit of splits and breaks Westfield led throughout the game although the Parks braced up in the finishing frames. Westfield's windup was strong and prevented the Park Club from reducing the lead to less than 35.

Faber and Laing were way off their usual form, while none of the Park Club team rolled a particularly brilliant game. Ball was steady, while Hibbard rolled the high score for the home team, making 190 in the second geme. For the visitors, W. C. Smith and Forster made the best showing. W. M. Townley did not show his remarkable form of last season and missed several easy spares. Splits were very frequent on both sides, Forster and Laing suffering the most from them. The score follows:

PARK CLUB.

| | 1st game. | 2d game. | 3d game |
|---|---|---|---|
| F. O. Ball | 163 | 147 | 161 |
| Faber | 132 | 134 | 146 |
| Hibbard | 123 | 190 | 179 |
| Laing | 157 | 144 | 129 |

May Change Date for "Elijah."

There is a possibility that the date for the rendition of the oratorio "Elijah" may be changed from February 14 to 19, on account of the inability to secure soloists. W. W. Howland, who has the matter in charge, has interviewed Manager Maze Edwards, of Music Hall, and the chances are that the date will be changed. This would be better for many reasons, chief of which is that it would not conflict with the performance of "The Private Secretary," which is to be given Friday and Saturday, Feb. 15 and 16. A final decision will be made next Tuesday evening regarding the oratorio.

Will Build a Synagogue.

M. Abrams, of West Front street, who recently purchased the large plot of ground corner of Grove street and Craig place, will have a handsome residence erected for himself on the Grove street side, adjoining Green brook. The members of the Jewish faith in this city have secured an option on the Craig place property with the intention of erecting a synagogue in the near future. If they succeed in certain plans the edifice will be a subetantial one and the only one of its kind in this vicinity.

Making Improvements at Armstrong's.

The interior of the drug store of T. S. Armstrong, at Park and North avenues, is being tastefully painted in white enamel and thoroughly renovated under the skill of some of the painters sent out by the well-known firm of Woolston & Buckle.

Funeral of Mrs. Carey.

The funeral of Mrs. Addie Carey, widow of Moses Carey, who died Wednesday at her home on Manning avenue, was held from St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church this morning. Rev. Father Brennan officiated.

WANT ELECTRIC PLANT OWNED BY BOROUGH.

Committee Appointed By Borough Council to Inquire Into Municipal Ownership.

SUBJECT WAS DISCUSSED.

SEVERAL COUNCILMEN WANT ELECTRIC LIGHT AND WATER PLANTS.

Believe That Borough Can Save Money By Owning These Establishments—Mr. Rogers Introduced Subject at Last Night's Meeting.

Before the Borough Common Council adjourned last night, Mr. Rogers called attention to the fact that the lighting of the borough was considered quite expensive. The present contract with the electric light company was so drawn as to be terminated at the discretion of the Council and he thought the time was approaching when North Plainfield should own not only its own electric light plant but also its water plant. Mr. Rogers was of the opinion that the borough could be lighted at a less cost than it is now and that the borough would also be able to supply the citizens with light as well. There was one citizen of the borough, Dr. J. H. Cooley, who was using a private plant and he did not see why it was not feasible for the borough to do likewise.

Mr. Valiant said he had the matter in his mind for some time and he was glad that it had been brought to the attention of the Council. He wished the subject to be thoroughly ventilated. At present, he said, the borough paid $15 50 a year a light. He said he believed that he could produce figures to show that it would be a great saving if a plant for both light and water could be established. At a future meeting Mr. Valiant said he would be prepared to give some figures showing what had been done in other places where cities owned their plants.

Mr. Clark said he concurred in what had been said with reference in owning an electric light and water plant if after careful consideration it was found feasible and practicable. He said he understood that in Birmingham, Eng., and also in one of the cities of Texas such plants were owned by the cities but that they had not been the success that they had anticipated. While it might be a wise move for the borough to own its plant, he did not believe in such an undertaking until the question had been fully investigated. He did not think that a municipality was in a position to operate an electric light plant as cheaply as a private corporation could owing to the fact that it was much more difficult to exercise a proper supervision in a public corporation. Mr. Clark suggested that it might be a good idea to appoint a committee to investigate and examine into the advisability of municipal ownership.

Corporation Counsel Reed expressed the opinion that it might not be so easy for the borough to establish and maintain a plant such as is desired. It was much easier, he believed, to run an electric light plant where the power was supplied to a single building than where it was distributed over miles of streets.

Mr. Rogers said the electric lights and water was now costing the borough about $5,000 a year, and he considered it too expensive. If a plant would cost the borough $100,000 he would not be in favor of its establishment, but if a plant, such as is desired, could be erected at a cost of about one-fifth of this sum he certainly should be in favor of it.

Mayor Smalley also spoke in favor of the borough owning both an electric light and water plant. In reference to former, he said, the methods adopted in recent years were much simpler than when electric light was first introduced into Plainfield, and he believed it would be found that the borough could build a plant that would be not only a saving to the citizens, but one that would also earn money for the corporation.

In this connection the Mayor took occasion to call attention to the wish citizens of the borough had expressed with regard to the borough owning Tier's pond and the brook as far as its course through the city. He wished that it might be straightened and placed in a more wholesome and cleanly condition. In summer it could be used for flushing purposes and in winter as a place of recreation. The Mayor claimed that some property owners had already encroached upon

TRADE CONDITIONS.

New Year's Business Opens Well and Promises Progress.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

In spite of the interruptions of the holidays and unusually heavy annual settlements in all lines of business, the new year opens with indications of further progress. It is a relief in iron and steel, as well as some of the textile markets, that tension has not developed with respect to labor. There is no lack of contracts offered at steady prices in the country's leading industry, and in some departments of cotton goods there is a better movement, though speculation has depressed the price of the raw material; otherwise, a decline in wheat is the only noteworthy movement in staples.

The ordinary measures of business continue to make gratifying exhibits. Railroad earnings reported for the month of December indicate a gain of 8.9 per cent over 1899 and 19 per cent over 1898. Bank exchanges for the leading cities outside New York show an increase of 10.4 per cent over last year and a gain of 18.2 per cent over 1899.

No alteration has yet occurred in quotations of iron and steel products, and this industry is on such a firm foundation that most large concerns have maintained wages at the old scale, instead of making the reductions anticipated. Iron ore prices are also unchanged.

The market for textiles has been featureless, as the holidays and stock taking reduced business to limited dimensions.

Local jobbing and retail trade is brisk in boots and shoes, and many manufacturers are behind with orders, yet uneven distribution of business has left some shops ready to make concessions.

Commercial failures in 1900 were 10,774 in number and $138,495,673 in amount, against 9,337 in 1899, with a total indebtedness of $90,879,889. Banking defaults numbered 59, with liabilities of $35,617,563, against 56 for $32,252,790 in the previous year. Although this exhibit is most unsatisfactory in comparison with 1899, there is a logical explanation for the greater number and larger amount of failures. Prior to the remarkable record made by 1899 failures were more numerous every year since 1892 than in the one just ended. Moreover, the average of defaulted liabilities to each firm in business was but $115.44, by no means a severe strain to bear, and only four years out of the previous 25 produced a lower ratio.

A Fifty Million Mortgage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—A mortgage for $50,000,000 was filed at White Plains, N. Y., in the Westchester county register's office and is one of the largest ever filed there. It has on it $17,500 worth of revenue stamps. The mortgage is given by the Third Avenue Railroad company to the Morton Trust company of New York and covers the following lines: Union Railroad company, Forty-second Street, Manhattanville, St. Nicholas Avenue, Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery, Kingsbridge, Yonkers, Westchester Electric, Southern Boulevard and Tarrytown, White Plains and Mamaroneck railways. The instrument is dated May 15, 1900, and is due May 15, 2000. It is signed by Levi P. Morton as president of the Trust company and Vice President Hart of the Third Avenue company.

Big Deal In Coal Lands.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 5.—The coal under the 37 farms surrounding Indiana, aggregating nearly 4,000 acres, has passed into the possession of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Coal and Iron company. The deal was closed at Indiana on Thursday, and the farms, which lie in White and Center townships of Indiana county, are from one to four miles from the county seat. The land is underlaid by veins of coal from four to seven feet in thickness. The price paid to the landowners was $115,500.06, and the holdings of the company are thereby increased to about 10,000 acres of coal land.

A Mouse In the Hash.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 5.—Private Edward Parker of Company A, Second infantry, now at Fort Thomas, near this city, an assistant cook, has been court martialed and fined $5 for "carelessness in allowing a mouse to be served with the hash." At supper the other evening Private Brown of the depot battalion found the mouse, and the whole company made a dive for the outside. It is thought the mouse crawled into the hash while Parker's back was turned.

Game Must Not Be Sold.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The board of fish and game commissioners has issued a circular letter to all fish and game wardens and deputies calling their attention to a provision in the laws of 1900 by which no game mentioned in that act can be lawfully held in possession for sale or otherwise after the first of this month.

Four Children In a Year.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Maria, wife of Matthias, surnamed Tomassi, of Unionport, has had four children within a year, and three of them came together on Thursday night. Of the triplets two were girls and one was a boy. The boy came six minutes behind his younger sister.

The Boston Six Days' Race.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The forty-ninth hour scores in the bicycle race were: McEachern, in the lead; Kaser, Walthour, Stinson, McLean, Downey and Fischer, all 909 miles 2 laps; Babcock, 908 miles 6 laps; Muller, 899 miles.

ROBERTS RESTS NOT.

On Duty at the War Office Already.

ENLISTING ACTIVE IN CAPE COLONY.

Three Separate Columns Pursuing De Wet With Little Success—English Desert Ficksburg, and Boers Loot the Town.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Earl Roberts of Kandahar and Pretoria is already immersed in his arduous new duties at the war office. He will take no holiday.

There is no further news from Lord Kitchener, who, according to a Cape Town dispatch, is calling for 5,000 men to guard the Rand mines. Enlisting in Cape Colony continues active, and 500 men will leave Cape Town for the north within the next few days.

Information regarding the invasion is scanty. Colonel Williams attacked the eastern invaders Jan. 1 near Middleburg, but failed to dislodge them. He has since been joined by Lieutenant Colonel Grenfell, and the Boers have retired.

General Brabant has arrived at Graaf Reinet.

Advices from Maseru, Basutoland, dated yesterday, say that three separate columns are still pursuing General De Wet, but with no success beyond taking 28 prisoners. Cannon firing is continually heard.

All the English have deserted Ficksburg, taking their stocks of grain across the border, and the Boers have looted the town.

According to The Daily Mail's correspondent at The Hague, the directorate of the Netherlands South African railway has applied to the Amsterdam courts for a suspension of payments.

The Daily Chronicle advises that favorable attention should be given to a movement reported by its Montreal correspondent to induce Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Dominion premier, provided the colonial office consents, to proceed to South Africa as a commissioner empowered to intervene with a view to the restoration of peace.

Boers Trek North.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 5.—Two hundred Boers have recrossed the Orange river, going north. The Russian commandants, Petrowsk and Du Plooy, were killed in the fighting at Utrecht Dec. 25.

Bride Had Smallpox.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 5.—Bourbon Sanford, who has been in Cuba since he was mustered out of the First Kentucky service, came to Kentucky to claim Miss Carrie Hall of Pleasureville for a bride. The marriage was to occur at 6 p. m. Sanford went to Newcastle, the county seat, and secured a license, returning to find that during the day his sweetheart had been taken with smallpox and that guards were posted around the house. Admission to the house was denied him, and even the hotels refused him lodging because he had been with the young woman for several evenings previous. Securing a preacher, the Rev. Mr. Demaree, and two witnesses that would go with him, he was married standing at the window.

College Men to Attend Inauguration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—It is proposed that one of the most conspicuous features of the forthcoming inaugural parade shall be a section composed of college men from all the leading universities of the United States. Arrangements are making to secure the attendance of a very large contingent of these men, and assurances have been received at inaugural headquarters indicating the presence in the parade of delegations of from 50 to 200 men each from 43 educational institutions. It is proposed that each body of students shall wear the distinctive colors or insignia of the college or university it represents.

No More Smallpox In New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Smallpox has been effectually stamped out in this city, according to the officials of the board of health. All danger of infection from the cases discovered during the last six weeks is declared to be past, and it is declared that New Yorkers may look on the situation with complacency. Although the disease was found in one of the most densely crowded blocks in the city, the energetic measures taken by the board of health, it is announced, completely stopped its spread. It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 persons have been vaccinated since the first cases were discovered.

Bishop Potter Makes a Discovery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—By means of the X rays Bishop Potter has discovered that instead of having the gout in his right foot he has been going about for 25 years with two bones broken. It was at the annual meeting of the New York Orthopædic hospital and dispensary that the bishop, in his address to the society women, who were present in large numbers, mentioned his injured foot to explain how thoroughly he was in sympathy with the work they were doing for crippled children.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Connecticut—Middle Haddam, Oliver H. Shepard. New York—Stacy Basin, Nettie Jurden. Pennsylvania—Beech Cliff, D. W. Pierce; Camptown, Annie L. Fuller; Challenge, Peter Soderstrom; North Bingham, D. T. Hauber; Sherman, George B. Arneke; Slate Lick, Milton S. Jack.

Library Building Opened.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 5.—The Thrall City Library building was formally opened here last night. It was built with $30,000 bequeathed by the late Mrs. S. Maretta Thrall of this city. She also established the Thrall City hospital here with endowments of $20,000 and gave to the city Thrall park.

To Stamp Out Tuberculosis.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The Saxon ministry has issued a decree requiring physicians, hospital managers and boarding house keepers, as well as undertakers, to report all tuberculosis cases. The decree directs also the disinfection of rooms in which persons suffering from tuberculosis die.

Gathering Ice Crop.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Jan. 5.—The Muchattoes Lake Ice company, of which Governor Odell is secretary and treasurer, began cutting ice on Muchattoes lake yesterday. The ice is ten inches thick. The company harvests about 25,000 tons annually.

ARMY BILL DEBATED

Senate Spends Five Hours With Small Result.

HOAR PROPOSES A COMPROMISE.

House Discusses Southern Suffrage Affairs In Connection With the Reapportionment Question—Olmsted Resolution Referred.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—For five hours yesterday the senate discussed the army reorganization bill. The debate took a wide range at times, but was confined principally to the question of the necessity for the increase in the regular army provided for in the pending measure.

The Philippine question was thrashed over at great length, but few really new points were advanced. It was urged by the supporters of the army bill that the situation in the Philippines demanded the increase of the army proposed. This was controverted by the opposition senators, who, while they were willing in a general way to provide for such temporary force as might be needful, were vigorously opposed to the creation of a permanent standing army of 100,000 men.

Speeches were made by Messrs. Carter of Montana, Teller of Colorado, Hoar of Massachusetts, Stewart of Nevada and Caffery of Louisiana. One of the sharpest colloquies of the session was between Messrs. Carter of Montana and Wellington of Maryland, and in the course of it the Alaskan boundary dispute was brought forward prominently, the Maryland senator charging that the president had relinquished sovereignty over the territory, the title to which, he maintained, was vested clearly in the United States.

Mr. Hoar advanced a proposition to create a commission, to be composed of all shades of political opinion, to investigate the entire Philippine question and report its findings to congress in order that a basis might be formed for intelligent action. Some slight progress was made toward the completion of the pending measure.

The house had another spirited struggle over the Olmsted resolution to investigate the abridgment of the suffrage in certain southern states with a view to reapportionment upon the actual basis of suffrage. It was finally referred to the census committee, where the opposition desired it to go originally. Some of the Republican leaders were not in sympathy with the resolution. Mr. Olmsted tried to get Mr. Hopkins to agree that the committee would consider the resolution within a week, but the chairman of the census committee declined to make any pledge to that effect.

Green Not Ill Treated.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 5.—A searching inquiry was held at the Naval academy by the senior medical officer the officer in charge of the ships and the commanding officer of the marines into the charges of ill treatment made by friends of Private Marine Hobart Green, who died on board the Santee on Dec. 14. The report has gone to the navy department. It was proved conclusively that there was nothing in the charges of ill treatment and neglect preferred by friends of the young man to which it was claimed Green was subjected while suffering from pneumonia. After the statements it was deemed unnecessary to appoint an investigation board. The facts showed that Green had the best of care, excellent medical treatment and every attention during his illness.

The Scranton Scandal.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 5.—It is now announced by the officers of the municipal league that the main purpose in view at present in the councilmanic bribery hearings is to secure evidence upon which to found prosecutions against the men who are alleged to have given the bribes. The men who practically confessed their guilt by resigning to escape prosecution for bribery are to be hauled up one after the other and asked to tell who bribed them. If they refuse, they will be prosecuted for perjury. Some of the city's wealthiest and most influential men are alleged to be connected with the scandal.

An Infernal Machine.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—A special to The Post-Dispatch from Paris, Ills., says that Thomas Coffman, an attorney and collecting agent residing at Hume, narrowly escaped being blown to atoms with an infernal machine received through the mails. The box was of wood with a sliding lid. It contained a pound stick of dynamite and several match heads, which, however, failed to ignite when the box was opened.

Colored Men Hanged.

MADISON, Fla., Jan. 5.—Two colored men, Jim Denson and a half brother, were taken Thursday night about 10 o'clock from the county jail here by persons unknown, carried into the woods about a half mile from town and hanged. The bodies were also riddled with bullets. A few weeks ago they were charged with killing Frederick Redding, a farmer residing in the northern part of this county.

Cold Weather Abroad.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A cold snap is appearing throughout Europe. There have been severe snowstorms in eastern Galicia and southern Russia, accompanied by gales. Considerable property has been destroyed near Odessa, where the trains are delayed by deep snowdrifts. Black sea vessels are overdue. The Danube is frozen over at Bucharest, and there is skating in north Holland.

Entire Class Suspended.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 5.—The entire senior class of the Georgia School of Technology has been suspended for the refusal of the members to attend recitations Dec. 31 and New Year's day. No commencement exercises will be held next June. The engineering students will be granted diplomas in November, 1901, and the textile students in December, 1901.

Fire In Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Jan. 5.—Fire gutted two five story buildings covering a quarter of a block in Washington street next to the Lyceum theater. The total loss will be about $150,000, nearly all of which is covered by insurance. A dozen firms were burned out.

Rear Admiral Kautz Retired.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The navy department has issued the expected order announcing the retirement of Rear Admiral A. Kautz, to take effect Jan. 29.

THE MOLINEUX CASE.

The General Will Appeal to Legislature In His Son's Case.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The World says that General Molineux has decided to appeal to the legislature to ascertain the cause of the delay in settling the case of his son Roland, convicted of murder in the first degree. He will ask, if necessary, that a committee be appointed to conduct an investigation and that a law be enacted limiting the time given to a trial judge within which he must pass on a case where the conviction was one of murder in the first degree.

General Molineux says that he had hoped that the question as to the guilt or innocence of his boy should have been settled ere this. He never dreamed that so many obstacles would be thrown in the way of the appeal. His son was convicted on Feb. 10, 1900. Weeks, Battle & Marshall, counsel for Molineux, completed serving their papers on appeal to the district attorney on May 4 of last year. On July 25 the district attorney completed his case, and the following day the papers were submitted to Recorder Goff. Shortly after that the recorder went on a three months' vacation. He returned to the bench on Nov. 1, but it was not until Dec. 8 that he took up the Molineux papers.

SHANGHAI RUMORS.

Stories of French and British Expeditions.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 5.—The French intend to send a force overland from Tonkin to Chen-tu should the Chinese court go there.

"It is reported on the best authority," says the Chinese newspaper Chung Wei Jih Pao, "that a foreign power, probably the British, will resort to force, first seizing Chu-ran, unless the persons guilty of the massacre of Christians at Chuenow are beheaded."

It is considered possible that Sir Ernest Mason Satow, British minister to China, is moving in the Chue-now affair.

Among the banknotes which the Chinese paid to the foreign consuls as indemnity for the missions destroyed at She-klung were £5 notes that had been raised to £15 notes and £10 notes that had been raised to £100 notes.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

A heavy gale has done much damage on the Pacific coast.

The recent snowstorm did little injury to California orange crop.

Embassador White was elected to the Berlin Academy of Science.

Grip is prevalent in New York city, but an epidemic is not expected.

Nineteen cases of plague are reported at Vladivostok, 15 of them fatal.

Reported settlement of French shore dispute in Newfoundland denied.

Three men were killed in powder works explosion at Thompson's Point, N. J.

Earthquake occurred at Nevada, El Dorado Springs and Appleton City, Mo.

Eight Turkish soldiers were killed in attempting to arrest suspected emissaries of the Macedonian committee.

Chased a Fox, Bagged a Wildcat.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 5.—The largest wildcat that has been seen in this part of the country in many years was killed after an exciting encounter by Jesse Adams of New Paltz and James Freer of Rosendale. The men, accompanied by three hounds, were hunting foxes in the wild country of Forest Glen, in Ulster county, when they unexpectedly came upon the catamount. There was an immediate mix up, and for several minutes it was impossible to distinguish dogs from wildcat. Then the animal broke away and took to the tree again. A shot brought him down. He sprang at Freer, when Adams with a well aimed shot killed him.

Real Estate Dealer Punished.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—Frederick T. Clark, a former prominent real estate dealer, who victimized a number of his clients, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment. There were 19 indictments against Clark, charging him with making fraudulent mortgages, ground rent deeds, etc., embezzlement by agent and the forging of certificates of record in the office of the recorder of deeds. He pleaded guilty to three of these indictments, the balance not being pressed. Clark's peculiar methods netted him many thousands of dollars. He is about 60 years old.

To Refit the Baltimore.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The naval board on construction has decided almost completely to rehabilitate the cruiser Baltimore, now lying at the New York navy yard. Her improvements will involve an expenditure of about $500,000 and take at least a year and a half. The Baltimore has been in commission ten years. She was built from plans purchased abroad. She took part in the engagement at Manila bay in May, 1898, and last summer brought Admiral Watson home from the Asiatic station upon his relief.

A Gift to Lehigh.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 5.—It is announced by Dr. Drown, president, that Warren A. Wilbur of South Bethlehem has given $5,000 to Lehigh university for the equipment of a mechanical laboratory. It will be installed on the first floor of the new physical laboratory building, and it will be furnished with the most modern instruments of measurement and research.

More Than Half a Million Came.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—William C. Moore, manager of the steamboats which transfer immigrants to Ellis Island, has compiled a tabulated statement which shows that during the year 1900 20 lines landed at the port of New York 37,852 first and second cabin passengers and 403,491 steerage passengers on an aggregate of 838 trips across the Atlantic.

Runaway Boy Found.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 5.—William H. Rockwell, a 15-year-old boy, who ran away from his home in Taunton, Mass., and for whom a systematic search was made by his millionaire grandfather, Charles H. Swan of New York, was found here selling lunches in a restaurant. He declares he will not return home.

Mr. Nation Wants His Wife Freed.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 5.—Mrs. Carrie Nation's husband, who is a lawyer, has begun habeas corpus proceedings to get his wife out of jail, where she has been quarantined since her temperance crusade in smashing bar fixtures.

Weather Probabilities.

BIG RAILWAY DEAL.

Three Northwestern Roads to Consolidate.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 5.—While no confirmation could be obtained here from an authoritative source of the reported combination of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, it is the general belief in well informed railroad circles that the deal, if not already an accomplished fact, is in process of consummation.

President James J. Hill of the Great Northern was naturally disinclined to talk upon the subject for publication, but in the course of an interview he had this to say:

"I have made no loan in Montreal. Does it not stand to reason that if I needed money I can get it without going to Canada? No deal by which we get control of any western line has yet been consummated. I will say, however, that some of the big lines hope by getting together to reduce working expenses. Any movement now on foot by the railroad is simply for the purpose of economizing."

It will be noticed that Mr. Hill does not state that there is no deal under way by which a western line (which is taken to mean the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul) is to be brought under the control of the two northern transcontinental lines.

The announcement was made semiofficially, and the information did not come from a New York source, that the big deal by which the Hill-Morgan-Rockefeller interests were to secure control of the Northern Pacific and St. Paul roads is practically consummated and that inside of a month the system will be in effect one.

Another Booz Investigation.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—The Booz congressional committee, which was recently appointed by Speaker Henderson for the purpose of making inquiry into the cause of the death of Oscar Booz at West Point and to investigate hazing in general at the Military academy, began the taking of testimony yesterday. Three sessions were held, covering a period of time from 9 o'clock in the morning until midnight. The committee, which consists of Charles Dick of Ohio, chairman; E. H. Driggs of New York, H. P. Wanger of Pennsylvania, B. T. Clayton of New York and W. I. Smith of Iowa, went to Bristol, Pa., the home of Booz's family, in the morning and heard the testimony of four members of that family. In the afternoon four physicians who attended Oscar Booz were heard. Last night in Philadelphia two more physicians and two other witnesses were given opportunity to tell what they knew of the case.

Bishop Ninde's Funeral.

DETROIT, Jan. 5.—Funeral services over the remains of Bishop W. X. Ninde, whose death occurred Thursday, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Central Methodist church here. So far as the arrangements have been completed they indicate that the services will be the most impressive and elaborate ever held in the Methodist church in this state, and they will be in keeping with the exalted position the deceased held in the church. The body will lie in state in the Central Methodist church from 10 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Many Methodist church dignitaries from Michigan and other states are expected to be present. Those who have already signified their intention of being in attendance are Bishop E. G. Andrews of New York and Bishop John M. Walden of Cincinnati.

Objected to Working In Chains.

BEIRA, Portuguese East Africa, Jan. 5.—On the arrival of the German steamer Hertzog at Beira with 136 Abyssinians and Somalis for the Rhodesian mines the "boys," as they are called, were informed by the firemen that they would be compelled to work in chains. Thereupon they refused to go ashore. Portuguese police and troops were summoned, and a big fight ensued, the "boys" barricading the fore deck. Victory rested with the police after an hour's fighting. One Somali was killed and 26 were wounded. Nine of the police force were wounded. Subsequently it was found that there were only 50 "boys" on the steamer, the remainder having jumped overboard.

The American Invasion Serious.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Daily Express, which continues to publish instances of English and other European contracts for iron works and the like going to the United States, announces the probability that an American syndicate will provide a summer steamer service on the Thames. "This American invasion," it says, "is much more serious than the Boer invasion of Cape Colony, but it serves the Britishers right for their discouragement of inventors and their neglect of the opportunities to progress."

Grand Trunk Improvements.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 5.—George B. Reeves, general manager of the Grand Trunk railroad, says that a new depot, new docks and a new grain elevator will be built here in order to increase the traffic at this terminus. Double tracks will be laid between this city and Montreal and every facility offered for the quickest possible transportation of express freight from Canada and the west to Portland.

Cutting Ice on the Mohawk.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Local ice men have begun to harvest the crop, and large numbers of men are at work on the Mohawk river and contiguous streams. If the present cold weather continues there is every prospect of an unprecedented harvest throughout the Mohawk valley.

Broke Through the Ice.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Jan. 5.—While traveling at the rate of 40 miles an hour in his iceboat Bert Sicklin of Barrytown broke through the ice into the Hudson river. A fleet of other iceboats came to his assistance, and he was rescued.

Miss Rockefeller's Wedding.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The Evening Journal says that it has been decided that the wedding of Miss Alta Rockefeller to Parmelee Prentice will take place on Jan. 17 at the Rockefeller residence in this city.

A Boy Train Wrecker.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 5.—Walter Wallace, a 14-year-old boy, is under arrest at Rensselaer Falls, St. Lawrence county, charged with attempted train wrecking. The lad is said to be a dime novel reader.

Bryan Lectures In Texas.

TYLER, Tex., Jan. 5.—William J. Bryan lectured here last night to a large audience. An informal reception was held during the afternoon. He left for Paris, where he will lecture tonight.

PHILIPPINE AFFAIRS.

Wheaton and Bates Report Many Small Captures.

MACARTHUR COMMUTES SENTENCES.

Federal Party Organizers Establishing a Daily and Three Weekly Newspapers — School Bill Enactment Deferred.

MANILA, Jan. 5.—Generals Wheaton and Bates report many small captures, the destruction of insurgent camps and the seizure of supplies, animals and other necessities. Among the captures in Smith's district was Colonel Techon, the insurgent governor of Tariac.

General Grant is personally in command of a mounted expedition in the mountains of southern Pampangas, which, he says, is the only locality where the insurgents are in force in his district.

Insurgents entered Gapan and San Isidro, in General Funston's district, during the night and burned a score of houses. Their firing was ineffective.

General MacArthur has commuted several death sentences of military courts to imprisonment.

The commission has authorized the department of public instruction to proceed with the business intrusted to its administration.

Many inquiries have been received here from the provinces concerning the Federal party. The organizers are establishing a daily newspaper and three weeklies, to be published in Spanish and Tagalog, in the provinces of Pampanga.

Judge Taft's written opinion on the San Jose college case was considered and indorsed by the Philippine commission. It was made public today.

The enactment of the school bill has been deferred on account of the desire of the Filipinos to be heard on the bill as completed. It differs radically from the one prepared by Superintendent Atkinson and indorsed by General MacArthur. The latter appropriated $1,650,000 outright to be disbursed through Mr. Atkinson under the supervision of General MacArthur. The completed bill directly appropriates only $40,000 and reserves to the commission authority over plans for schoolhouses and also requires Mr. Atkinson to report to both General MacArthur and the commission.

LOPEZ INCREDULOUS.

Aguinaldo's Death Doubted—Fight to Continue Indefinitely.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—"This is about the fortieth time Aguinaldo has been killed," laughed Senor Sixto Lopez, the Filipino envoy, when he was shown the report that the insurgent leader was dead, which had come through President Wheeler of the University of California and was based upon the statements of Filipino students in his charge.

"I think it would be very foolish to attach any importance to the prattle of these students," continued Senor Lopez. "I know the Buencamino family in Manila, and I am certain they are not in a position to be intrusted with great secrets by the Filipinos. Before the Americans came Buencamino was very loyal to the Spanish. Then he became a Filipino leader for a short time, and now he is an American.

"Do you think it is likely he could get information of this kind so long before it came to the ears of General MacArthur? All that I can say definitely about the matter is that Aguinaldo was alive when I received my last advices."

Senor Lopez thought the war likely to continue indefinitely unless some terms of settlement could be agreed upon. He described the organization of the Filipinos as very strong and their determination to win independence as unchangeable.

Express Messenger a Robber.

HALIFAX, Jan. 5.—W. H. McGowan, a Canadian express messenger, was arrested yesterday and confessed to a series of robberies extending back six months. About July last banking houses in Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto complained that packages of money transmitted from Halifax banks were arriving short of the amount they should contain. The packages appeared to be intact, and the loss at first was supposed to have occurred in the banks. Then large sums began to disappear. By accident it was found that the packages were being tampered with by cutting the end of the envelopes with a very sharp knife and cutting the string close to the seal. After the money was abstracted the apertures were cleverly sealed. The thefts were brought home to McGowan, who is said to have confessed to opening 20 packages and taking sums ranging from $5 to $100.

The Venezuela Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The controversy over the possession of the pitch lake deposits in Venezuela, first regarded as unimportant, has developed into a serious diplomatic incident that may make a radical difference in the relations between Venezuela and the United States. Advices received at the state department indicate that a clash of arms between American citizens and Venezuelan soldiers may come at any time. An attempt by the authorities of the republic to dispossess the New York and Bermudez company of part of its interests in the department of Sucre will probably be forcibly resisted by the company's employees.

Goeble Cases to Be Called.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 5.—The January term of the Franklin circuit court, at which the cases of ex-Governor Taylor, ex-Secretary of State Finley, W. H. Culton and others charged with complicity in the murder of William Goebel will be called, will convene Monday. There is little probability that any of the cases will be tried at this term, however, and chief interest will be as to whether any additional indictments in connection with the assassination are returned.

Ali Ferrouh Bey Reinstated.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—"Ali Ferrouh Bey, who was recently displaced as Turkish minister in Washington in favor of Mustapha Bey, has been reinstated," says the Constantinople correspondent of The Times, "because of the fear that he might join the Young Turkey party. He will receive £10,000 as commission on the new Ottoman cruiser to be built by the Cramp Shipbuilding company."

The Spree Freezes Suddenly.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—It is zero weather here. The Spree was frozen over so suddenly that the ice inclosed 13 of the city's swans, and the fire department was called out to release them.

City Finances.

The reports of the City Treasurer and the finance committee, presented at the meeting of the Common Council last evening, are very important documents and contain some facts which are of immediate interest to every taxpayer and citizen of Plainfield. No matter how well a city may be governed in other respects, the question of finances is, after all, the very important question and the excellence of a municipal administration is largely judged by the financial results of the year. If the city has been well cared for and the necessary drain on the pocket books of the taxpayers has not been excessive, then the government of a city is concerned successful.

The report of the City Treasurer, which is published in full in today's Daily Press, shows just where the city's money has gone. The report of the finance committee which is really drawn from the other report, presents briefly, the financial situation of the city.

Very important among the facts thus brought to light is the reduction of the outstanding obligations of the city as compared with the figures for last year and, indeed, for the last five years. The reduction from last year is $18,300.

Then, too, the indebtedness of the city has been largely reduced, the amount being $32,830.94. This has been made largely possible, perphaps, through the collections under the provisions of the Martin Art which have added over $50,000 to the various city funds.

An Efficient Official.

Plainfield has long been particularly fortunate in having many of its best citizens take an active interest in municipal affairs and hold office under the city administration. The report of the City Treasurer, published in another column today, is very clear and presents the present condition of the city's finances so that any citizen may understand it without trouble. It is the work of William F. Arnold, the City Treasurer, and the city is lucky indeed to have a man of the capabilities of Mr. Arnold willing to fill that very important office.

Mr. Arnold is not a politician in any sense of the word. He is a busy man but he still realizes the duty of every citizen to the municipality in which he lives. He has done his duty toward Plainfield and has made for her one of the most efficient city treasurers that can be found in New Jersey. When such men as Mr. Arnold are willing to take public office and fill their positions with the success that has met Mr. Arnold's efforts, the people of Plainfield need not worry over the fear of corruption and mismanagement in city affairs.

The need of more complete hospital facilities for Plainfield is generally recognized. The effort made by some of Plainfield's citizens to provide new and better quarters for the Muhlenberg Hospital is a worthy one. Of late, there has been a tardy recognition on the part of many of the excellence of this movement. Unless better support is given at this time, the proposed improvements will not be possible and so it behooves every good citizen to aid the plan as far as it lays in his power.

A writer in Printers' Ink whose business it is to give disinterested advice to advertisers, says the Philadelphia Record, has this to say: "Don't sit down and wait for the coming of a busier season, but hunt around the store for good things that you can offer at bargain prices and tell about it in your newspaper. You may not have to employ extra clerks to take care of the increased trade, but it will keep your present force busy and give you a profit."

The renewal of the discussion on the subject of municipal ownership in the borough will be watched with interest. It is a question with which municipalities all over the country are struggling and North Plainfield's efforts are on the same lines with countless other local governments. Plainfield will be greatly interested in the subject as a successful solving of that problem in the borough will mean that Plainfield may go and do likewise.

Basket ball has been revived in Plainfield and there is promise of good games here before the season ends.

The Park Club has managed to get at the wrong end of the Daily Press Bowling League.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Citizens of Hudson county, politicians included, are pleased with the selection of Senator Charles A. Reed, of Somerset county, as the Republican leader of the New Jersey Senate. According to popular opinion over there, Mr. Reed has been one of the best friends Hudson county has had in the Senate in recent years.—New York Tribune.

All who have occasion to use the trolley between Bound Brook and Plainfield hope that the time will soon come when cars will be run through without the change at Dunellen now required. The change is an inconvenience when the connecting car connects; but when a long wait is made, as frequently occurs, the tribulations of trolleying are trying.—Bound Brook Chronicle.

* * * * * *

The senate Republican caucus at Trenton on Wednesday night last, fully satisfied both political and popular expectation by naming Senator Pitney for president of the senate. Last year he was leader of the senate, and in this position as in all others he has occupied, he has evidenced the sound judgment, the quick perception and the broad experience which eminently qualifies him for his new honor. Mr. Pitney is a man to whom New Jersey cannot afford the luxury of retirement. His ability and political judgment are too valuable. Bright as has been thus far, the future is none the less promising and luminant.—Elizabeth Journal.

KLONDYKERS WON.

Exciting Bowling Match Between Teams From Aluminum and Pond Tool Works.

Five men teams from the Aluminum Plate and Press Works and the Pond Tool Works met on Conover's bowling alleys last evening and rolled a friendly game. The former team drew ahead in the first frame and their opponents were unable to catch them at any part of the game. The Pond team was defeated by 92 pins, but immediately issued a challenge for another game next week, which the "Klondykers" accepted. The scores were as follows:

| ALUMINUM P. & P. | | POND TOOL WORKS. | |
| Martin | 158 | Sneider | 138 |
| Whalen | 138 | Brokaw | 130 |
| Cole | 152 | Connelly | 129 |
| Surphen | 14 | Overbaugh | 158 |
| Muir | 172 | Hughes | 124 |

Sharpened His Finger.

Dennis Birmingham, of West Sixth street, an employe of Pond's Tool Works, met with a painful accident while at work yesterday afternoon. He was in the act of sharpening a tool on an emery wheel when in some manner two fingers on the right hand became caught between the wheel and tool rest and were nearly ground off. He went to the hospital immediately and had the injured members dressed. It is thought that with careful treatment amputation will not be necessary.

A Rothchild Keepsake.

The most valuable clock in the world is one made by the hands of Louis XIV of France. It is now owned by a member of the Rothschild family, who bought it for $18,000. Of course you cannot get a duplicate of that, but — as the drugger would say—you can get one just as good at Collier's for a song, and it won't have to be a cuckoo either.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused be catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan. 5.—Agnes Ellen, the four days old daughter of Michael and Barbara Granz, died Thursday evening. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, Plainfield, yesterday.

The new dancing class opened in Apgar's hall last evening under favorable circumstances. Indications point toward a large attendance in the future. Two young ladies from New Brunswick are in charge.

The dime sociable held at the home of Miss May Apgar last evening under the auspices of the Methodist church Epworth League, was well attended. Several hours were spent in a social manner.

A consultation was held yesterday by Drs. Brakeley and Endicott in regard to the condition of Mrs Frederick Wilcox who has been ill for some time past.

Charles D. Boice, Jr. left Thursday evening for Florida where he will spend the winter with his employer, William Flagler, of the Standard Oil Company.

Miss Lillie Warden leaves next week for St. Simon Island, Ga., where she will spend the winter as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wright.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church held a cottage prayer meeting last evening at the residence of John B. Doty.

Beginning with tomorrow evening, a week of prayer will be observed by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

Rev. L. E. Livermore will deliver the missionary address at the Methodist church tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Fisher, of Hopewell, has returned home after a few days' visit with her son, R. S. Fisher.

A vaudeville performance will be given in Apgar's hall next Wednesday evening.

Engineer Frank Wynkoop is suffering from an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Everitt Gordon entertained Elizabeth friends Thursday.

Mrs. William E. Terry spent Thursday in New York.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, January 5.—George T. Carter, ex-Consul of Costa Rica, and his wife are being entertained by R. Horton Batchelor, of West Dunellen. Mrs. Carter, who is a sister of Mr. Batchelor, was considered by the Costa Ricans the most popular American woman that had ever visited their country and particularly in the Legation society.

Mrs. Joshua Maris, of Trenton, has issued invitations for the double wedding of Miss Dela Howell Maris to Elmer Stelle Blackford, and Miss Elma Howell Maris to Herbert Irvington Benward. The ceremonies will be performed in Trinity church, Trenton, January 12, at 4:30 o'clock.

Rev. Samuel Fruder, a converted Jewish Rabbi, gave an interesting talk in the First Baptist church last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stout, of Jutland, are spending a few days with the former's aunt, Mrs. George Meckling.

Mrs. Bertha Moody is confined to her home by illness.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 5—Rev. J. S. Braker, of Waltham, Mass., formerly pastor of the Baptist church, is visiting at the home of the Misses Hayes in Fanwood. Mrs. Braker has been their guest since Christmas and will spend several weeks here and with friends in Philadelphia before returning to her home.

The Borough Council, of Fanwood, will meet in the borough rooms this evening to take action upon the case of Marshal Taynor, who is charged with being too hasty in using his revolver, as exclusively told in yesterday's Press.

The Baptist church will observe the annual week of prayer in the parlors of the church next week. Beginning Monday evening there will be service each evening during the week excepting Saturday. Services will begin at 7:45.

The subjects of Rev. G. M. Shott's sermons at the Baptist church on Sunday will be: Morning, "Revival of the Church," evening, "Consciousness of Sin and Fear."

The recently formed basket ball team of the borough will meet the Business Men's team from the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. in the Fanwood Club House tonight.

Stites M. Parse, who lost his pocket book several days ago with $70 in it, has fortunately found that the purse was only mislaid at home.

The public school, which has been closed for the holiday vacation of two weeks, will reopen again Monday morning at the usual hour.

Township Clerk Edward L. Hand is detained at home suffering from a severe cold.

petition asking for electric lights on Columbia avenue, and the report was adverse to the granting of the same. The Council concurred in the report of the chairman of the committee on lights.

At this time Mr. Coriell made a few remarks in which he expressed the thanks of the members to President Dumont for the able and efficient manner in which he had presided over the sessions of the Council during the year 1900. He then moved that a vote of thanks be extended to the president. The motion was adopted unanimously.

After George B. Wean, clerk pro tem, read the minutes of the last meeting and the same were adopted as read, the Council for 1900 adjourned.

Aside from the complimentary remarks made concerning President Dumont, there were no further incidents to mark the retirement of the Councilmen. The Common Council for 1901 will hold its first session Monday evening, and for the first time in many years, the members serving in the preceding year will also serve during the present term, and the probabilities are that the same officials and committees will also serve without a change.

the stream, forcing logs in such a position as to divert its course and in other ways doing more or less damage.

Mr. Swackhammer also spoke in favor of the municipal ownership of the electric light plant. He said he was heartily in favor of the project if it was found to be practicable. He thought a committee should be appointed to investigate the matter.

Before the subject was dropped Mr. Valiant said that he understood that several of the large department stores in New York had introduced the system into their establishments and it was highly satisfactory.

At Mr. Lee's suggestion the Mayor was asked to appoint a special committee to investigate the matter of the borough owning its electric light and water plants, Messrs. Valiant, Rogers and Lee being named

Bayern.

München. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den 22jährigen Redakteur Friedrich Benz vom „Freien Landesboten" wegen Beleidigung des Prinzen Rupprecht und seiner Gemahlin, Prinzessin Gabriele, zu einer Gefängnißstrafe von sechs Monaten.—Gestorben sind anhier der Mitbesitzer der Spatenbrauerei, Kommerzienrath Johann Sedlmayr, sowie der bayerische Reichsrath v. Poschinger.

Aidenbach. Nach einer Beerdigung in Amsham fand der übliche Leichentrunk statt, wobei Nachts ein Theilnehmer am Leichenschmause, der Bürgermeister und Schuhmacher Josef, in angetrunkenem Zustande auf die Straße geworfen wurde. Am anderen Morgen wurde Josef in der Nähe des Bräuhauses todt aufgefunden. Dem Manne war der Schädel eingeschlagen worden.

Aschaffenburg. Der bischöfliche Geistliche Rath und Dechantpfarrer Algheimer feierte sein 50jähriges Priesterjubiläum, aus welchem Anlaß die Stadt Aschaffenburg und die Gemeinde Glattbach ihn zum Ehrenbürger ernannt haben.

Augsburg. Der Tagelöhner Joseph Rau wurde durch das Schwurgericht zum zweiten Male zu lebenslänglichem Zuchthaus verurtheilt. Rau, der erst 25 Jahre alt ist, aber schon sieben Jahre in Gefängnissen und Zuchthäusern zubrachte, war im August 1900 aus dem Zuchthaus Kaisheim mit fünf anderen Sträflingen entsprungen. Am folgenden Tage verübte er einen schweren Raub in der Ortschaft Kreisbach und mißhandelte eine 65jährige Frau. Nach seiner zweiten Verurtheilung dahier unternahm Rau auf dem Wege zur Frohnveste einen Fluchtversuch, der aber mißlang.

Hof. Hier hat sich aus Bediensteten der bayerischen Staatsbahn eine Genossenschaft gegründet, die es sich zur Aufgabe macht, für ihre Mitglieder gesunde und ausreichende Wohnungen zu erbauen und diese zum Selbstkostenpreise abzugeben.

Kitzingen. Hierorts gründete eine Versammlung von 100 Weinhandelsfirmeninhabern einen fränkischen Weinhändler-Verband zur Vertretung der Weinhandelsinteressen. Der Verband verlangt striktes Verbot der Kunstweinfabrikation.

Nürnberg. Jüngst wurde zum ersten Male in Bayern der Versuch mit Legung eines unterirdischen Telephonkabels für eine größere Strecke im interurbanen Städteverkehr gemacht, indem ein unterirdisches Kabel für den Fernsprechverkehr zwischen Nürnberg und Fürth gelegt wurde.

Regensburg. In einer Magistratssitzung theilte Bürgermeister v. Stobäus mit, daß es demnächst 250 Jahre werden, daß das hiesige städtische Pfandleihhaus bestehe.

Reichenhall. Verschwunden ist seit einiger Zeit der Besitzer des Hotels „Zum Münchner Hof." Er hinterließ betrübte Gläubiger.

Schillingsfürst. Die hiesige Gemeinde, welche gegenwärtig eine Wasserleitung baut, deren Kosten auf 70,000 bis 80,000 Mark zu stehen kommen, erhielt vom Fürsten Hohenlohe einen Zuschuß von 10,000 Mark zur Bestreitung der Kosten.

Stockheim. Vor Kurzem erfolgte die landespolizeiliche Abnahme der neu erbauten Bahnstrecke Sonneberg-Stockheim.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Speyer. Die protestantische Pfarrtöchterklasse der Pfalz hatte im Jahre 1899 eine Einnahme von 17,242 Mark und eine Ausgabe von 17,409 Mark. Der Vermögensstand mit 195,986 Mark hatte sich um 3095 Mark vermehrt. Die protestantische Pfarrwittwenkasse hatte eine Einnahme von 160,666 Mark und eine Ausgabe von 150,002 Mark. Das Vermögen hatte sich um 9701 Mark vermehrt und betrug am Schlusse des Jahres 1899 976,463 Mark.

Annweiler. Im Gemeindewalde zu Wilgartswiesen wurde der Holzhauer Friedrich Würtz von einem fallenden Baume erschlagen.

Kaiserslautern. Die jüngste Volkszählung ergab für Kaiserslautern eine Einwohnerzahl von 48,029, das ist gegen die Zählung von 1895 eine Vermehrung um 7201.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Um 6000 hat die Wählerzahl Stuttgarts seit der letzten Landtagswahl zugenommen. Sie beträgt jetzt 33,000.—Das endgiltige Ergebniß der Landtagswahlen in Württemberg ist, daß die deutsche Volkspartei 26, das Centrum 20, die deutsche Partei 11, die Sozialisten 5 und der Bund der Landwirthe 4 Sitze erhalten hat. Die Zusammensetzung des Landtages vor seiner Auflösung war: Volkspartei 31, Centrum 18, deutsche Partei 10, Sozialisten 2, Konservative 2, Landespartei 3. Der frühere Ministerpräsident Freiherr v. Mittnacht wurde in seinem Wahlkreis geschlagen.

Göppingen. Der 51 Jahre alte Möbelhändler Robert Roth, der nach Verübung umfangreicher Wechselfälschungen das Weite suchte, ist in Paris verhaftet worden.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

"I live on a farm and keep house for my papa," says a young woman living in Panther, Ky. "My age is twenty-five. For ten years I have been afflicted with that dreadful disease, dyspepsia, and tried every kind of medicine that I could hear of, but found no relief in any of them until about two years ago, I tried a fifty-cent package of Ripans Tabules. Did I find relief? Yes, I did. I am no more a sufferer. Ripans Tabules did it. I can eat anything I want to. Before I commenced using them I could not eat highly seasoned food without suffering with my stomach. With truth I can recommend Ripans Tabules to any one suffering as I was. If they do not want to take my word for it let them try just one package and it will convince them what they will do, and then they will never consent to be without them for anything."

WANTED—A case of bad health that R·I·P·A·N·S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word R·I·P·A·N·S on the package and accept no substitute. ### UP TO DATE FURS AND HATS.

Craze For Tail Trimmings and Return to Lightweight Millinery.

To see the new furs one would think that the animals had devoted all the summer to raising tails and that every one of them had not been content until he or she had produced anywhere from two to ten. Every single cape, collar or stole has from two to a round dozen, and no one can say that they are not pretty, but the thought of those little animals with the wonderful array of tails will keep coming into one's mind. Several new kinds and designs of neck wear are shown this week, and they are unusually attractive. In one short ride in the park I saw as many different varieties and shapes of furs as there were women, from a superb Russian crown sable of great length to a shabby little collarette, evidently made over by the unskilled hands of the wearer, who was quite an old lady and who bore about her the look of one who had seen better days. There was a collarette of stone marten with a collar high enough to have been set on some fine, long coat, and yet the collar was all there was to it—that is, except the tails, and there were enough of them. This is intended to be worn with short jackets, Etons and tailor suits in general.

More dressy are the fancy capes which are bordered with fur of some contrasting color. One had a high collar and a short yoke reaching scarcely to the top of the shoulder, and this part was of seal. The whole was bordered all around with a band four inches deep of mink. From the front fell two long stole ends of the mink, and to the ends of these were attached four beautiful tails. By the way this was cut it made a scallop in the front, and the border sat up high at the shoulders. It is the newest idea I have seen this month. A very pretty fancy black marten stole collar had eight tails, four at the neck and four at the ends. This is especially adapted to young folks. Some handsome Persian jackets had deep revers and storm collars of mink. This is a favorite fur, and it is made so that the natural stripe comes right in the center of each rever. I saw a few capes with Persian, astrakhan and seal yokes and deep borders of glossy monkey fur. This fur has not been seen for some years, but it is a handsome one and for muffs is especially pretty. One very swell young lady had an Eton jacket of seal, and the collar, revers and bottom as well as the sleeves were scalloped and bound with black Persian. It only remained for the revers and facing of the collar to be made of sable to have produced the most sumptuous of all the street coats.

If any one should ask me what is the most popular style in hats or even what the newest millinery is, it would puzzle me to answer. Everything goes. Felt divides the favor with velvet and feather creations. I saw a very odd turban. Black crow feathers were sewed or pasted on to cloth and then made into a double bow. This was laid flat so that it covered all the brim, and it was fastened in the center with a large and handsome jeweled buckle. For a trimming there was a bow of many loops set so that it covered all the crown, and this was of fluorescent silk in three shades of soft old rose. The turban was therefore wide, but not high. The felt hats are shown in all the season's shades and colors.

The jaunty rikkitikki hats are much affected by the smart set, and really nothing could be prettier. The Aiglon and tricorne with its gold braid are both stylish, but not suited to every face. One rich hat for a dowager had a brim of mink fur, and the crown, which was plaited, was of black velvet and stood up at least five inches, like a basket. Around the upper part of the plaits were two rows of gold cords, and a lot more was twisted around the joining of the crown and brim. The brim was quite wide, and all in all this was a splendid hat. I have noticed one thing—that the natural revulsion of feeling in favor of smaller and lighter hats has begun to set in and that many ladies are appearing in hats not much more than half the size of those offered earlier in the season. Some of those certainly weighed heavily enough to warrant the wearer a headache in half an hour.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

What the Coming of Winter Means in a City Like Chicago

Do you wish that winter was here? If you do you are not alone in your wish, for there are many, perhaps a majority, of the people living in the temerate zone who, having tired of the pleasures of summer, how wish for the sports that winter will bring.

Winter Brings Them No Pleasures.

But in Chicago, as in every large city of the north, there are hundreds and thousands to whom winter represents all that is terrible, all that is hard and cruel. To the poverty stricken of the cities winter means long days and nights of the keenest suffering; it means the time when their needs are greatest and the chance of supplying them the smallest.

Disagreeable as the scorching heat of summer may be, with all the suffering it may entail to the tenement dwellers, winter brings many more. It is but little trouble for these poor to remove their uncomfortably hot garments in the summer days, but it is impossible for them to put on the heavy clothing that winter demands when they haven't it.

The summer season brings work to provide for the necessities of life, the winter season increases the necessities of life and oftentimes takes away what little work the summer has provided.

To the poor of the large cities the coming of winter does not mean the round of social festivities which the rich of the city enjoy, or the happy sleighing or skating parties which are a pleasure to those of the smaller towns and cities. It means hunger and cold, suffering and death. It means a need of coal when there is nothing to buy coal with; it means a need of stimulating food that it is impossible to get; it means a need of warm clothing with which they must go without.

Where Work Cannot Be Found.

To those who have never mingled or associated with the poor of the large cities "how the other half live" is an unsolved mystery. Every member of the family, men, women and children, must battle against the cold and hunger that winter brings.

When the Factories Are Closed.

In periods of financial distress, when mills and factories have closed their doors and caused a sadly congested labor market, the lot of a poor man in a large city like Chicago, with a wife and children dependent upon his exertions for their daily living, is by no means an enviable one. He may walk the streets for days and weeks vainly searching for work which cannot be found excepting in occasional small jobs. Such a man, if he be a tradesman, naturally begins searching for work at his trade. Not until he has tramped about the city and visited every factory where labor of the kind which he has to sell is bought, and has found them all either closed or filled, does he think of turning to other lines for employment. In time hunger and cold, and the cry of his little ones, will drive him to any employment that may be offered, no matter how low it may be, and during times of depression fortunate indeed is he who can find any employment, even of the lowest order.

To the man to whom employment is denied there are but few choices left; he must either beg, or steal, or starve, and the instinct of self-preservation is so strong that the latter is seldom accepted. For the independent American workingman to come down to begging is too great a fall, his pride will not always permit it, and he steals. Argue as you may the right and wrong of the question, point out the fact that it is more honorable to beg than to steal as often as you please, some cannot see it. As a result crime increases in Chicago with the coming of winter; hunger and cold and starving families drive men to it.

The Problem of Fuel.

On the basis of "a penny saved is a penny earned" it is well for the poor of the large cities that the coal strike of Pennsylvania has been settled, and a reduction of the price of coal is to be expected. To a part of them, however, the price per ton is of but little difference; they never purchase in such large quantities, and consider themselves fortunate when they can scrape together the needed pennies to buy a small basketful.

From Ten to Twelve Dollars a Ton.

Throughout the poorer districts there are hundreds of small merchants selling coal by the basket. Their patrons pay anywhere from $10 to $12 a ton for the coal they burn because it is bought by the basketful, and but one basketful at a time.

And how much that basket of coal represents to the poor; how they economize with it; it goes onto the fire almost one lump at a time, and there is no fraction of the warmth that it gives that is lost upon the shivering family surrounding the small fire. Many times it is bought at a choice between heat and food, when one must answer for both. It always seemed to me that a worthy charity would be the selling of coal to the poor in small quantities at the price it is bought for in large quantities.

Again there are thousands who have not the pennies to buy coal even by the basket, and they must get their fires, if they have any, by haunting the streets and railroad tracks and picking up such bits as are lost from the wagons, and oars and locomotives. This is an occupation given over almost entirely to women and children, and nothing of any value escapes their quick eyes, sharpened by the chill of winter and the pangs of hunger. They are trained to pick the crumbs from the tables of our boasted civilization.

Food from the Alley.

But more difficult than the question of fuel is the question of food. The coal that is gathered from the railroad track is uncontaminated by the filth of the garbage box, even though it is hard to have to search for it; it burns with as bright a luster, and gives forth as much heat, pound for pound, as that with which the rich man heats his palace.

Filth of the Alley Garbage Box.

But the food that is searched for when found comes mixed with the filth of the alley garbage box. How often, during the winters when hard times reigned throughout the city, have I seen children raking over the filth and refuse of the garbage boxes in the hope of finding a cast-off morsel from the tables of the rich and well-to-do that would make food for them.

I remember reading four or five years ago of an incident of this kind that well illustrates this point. It was a little story of a Christmas dinner, and the feast that was provided came from the carelessness of a servant girl in throwing into the garbage a half-eaten roast of beef. What a find that was for the hungry child; it was as though the kind old saint of the holiday season had not forgotten them, and how the family huddled into the basement of a tenement house, did enjoy the treat it gave them. The picture that little story painted was not an overdrawn one. I knew the writer and I knew the incidents, and the story but related the facts as they were.

Last winter Chicago was free from the worst of such scenes; let us hope that they will not have occasion to occur soon again.

A Home for Cats.

New York is not permitted to have a monopoly of the fad for aristocratic felines. Chicago has quite a choice collection of cats herself, and, what is more, arrangements have been made for their proper care.

A Friend of Mrs. Leland Norton.

No woman in the world loves cats better than Mrs. Leland Norton, of Chicago. She fairly dotes on the furry little pets, and it is not enough that she should have a fine collection of her own but now she is making preparations to care for all the other cats in Chicago and elsewhere that seek her protection.

Nor is it the aristocratic pussies alone that enlist Mrs. Norton's sympathies. While she is the proud possessor of such pedigreed animals as "Echo" and "Madge," charming Persian beauties; of "Royal," the prince of Angoras, who is lord of the kennel as well as Mrs. Norton's heart; of "Robin Hood," a tortoise shell Angora for which Mrs. Norton says she would refuse $2,000; Miss Willard's famous "Toots," which has found a good home with Mrs. Leland ever since the famous temperance worker first went to Europe to assist Lady Henry Somerset several years ago, and any number of others, she has a warm place in her heart for the waifs of catdom as well. For the friendless and stray pussies she has prepared sumptuous quarters for their entertainment while they are with her, and, while she will not attempt to provide a permanent home for all the friendless cats in the city, she says none shall ever be turned away without a bed and breakfast.

What a haven for the Weary Waggles of the cat family Mrs. Norton's place will be.

CHINA NEEDS HELP.

Present Invasion May Prove a Blessing to the Nation.

For Centuries the Common People Have Been Robbed by Corrupt Officials—How the Empire Is Ruled.

[Special Correspondence.]

MANY thousands of good people, both in this country and Europe, are wasting an abundance of sympathy on the Chinese government. Individually the Chinese may be entitled to thoughtful consideration, but the sooner his influence for mischief as a subject of a moribund civilization is destroyed the better for himself and mankind at large.

There is no reasonable doubt that China has for more than a century had the most corrupt government with which any country has ever been cursed. From the throne down to the local tax collectors, office has been used as a means to enrich individuals at the expense of the public; and the few brave men who have now and then dared to protest openly against this universal system of spoliation were executed without trial and in the most cruel fashion.

The cabals and intrigues in the imperial palace at Peking were followed by crimes too dark for comprehension by the western mind. The voice of justice was strangled by assassin or executioner, and true patriots were "removed" by seemingly occult means. The imperial family—Tartars by descent and disposition—was back of all this horrifying injustice and made tools of the avaricious nobles appointed to rule the several provinces of the empire. The advent of "foreign devils" was, of course, viewed with alarm by the fiendish and fanatical Tartar officeholders. They were quick to see that European intervention would sooner or later put an end to their tyranny and force them to safeguard, in a measure at least, the rights of the common people.

The fear of the judgment to come caused the reactionaries to organize and support the Boxer movement. The emperor, Kwang Hsu, an easy-going and not overly-smart young man of 30 or thereabout, was kept carefully in the dark. He was allowed to issue edicts, which were never obeyed. The famous dowager empress provided him with European toys, a wife and 12 concubines; and attended to all affairs of state herself. When it became evident that the emperor would have no issue, she assembled the council of state and had its members select the oldest son of Prince Tuan as heir presumptive. Prince Tuan—one of the most adroit as well as unscrupulous of Chinese leaders—placed himself at the head of the Boxer society whose purpose, the extinction of all foreigners and Christian converts, appealed to the bigotry and jealousy of the mandarins. The dismal failure of the plans of the Boxers and the subsequent invasion of China by the troops of the allied powers have placed Prince Tuan's head in jeopardy and may lead to a complete reorganization of Chinese methods of government.

IMPERIAL AUDIENCE HALL, PEKING, FROM A CHINESE PAINTING.

KWANG HSU, EMPEROR OF CHINA.

Inasmuch as but very few are familiar with China's governmental system as it has existed for hundreds of years, an outline of its various branches should prove of interest to every student of history as well as to all observers of current events.

Under the ancient Chinese constitution the absolute control of the empire is entrusted, nominally at least, to the emperor, who is the supreme legislator of the nation, commander in chief of the army and navy, chief civil administrator of the empire, lord chief justice, owner of all of the land comprised within the limits of the country, archpriest and everything else worth mentioning. His official title is "Tien-Si," signifying "Son of Heaven." Theoretically he rules over the whole of the earth, and, according to trustworthy reports, there are millions of Chinamen who devoutly believe that all the nations of the world acknowledge their emperor as chief lord. An anomaly it seems almost that in spite of the wide powers possessed by the "Son of Heaven" he is liable to be removed by popular vote on the appearance of any great scourge, such as a prolonged famine or drought or a severe visitation of the plague.

The "Keung-ki-chu" is a body which corresponds to the cabinets of western powers. It is composed of the leading statesmen and politicians of the empire, and its members visit the imperial palace every morning to confer with the emperor. The cabinet is controlled by an executive body, the "Ne-ko," composed of ministers noted for their sagacity, or wickedness. Other governmental departments are the "Tsung-li-yamen," which is the chinese foreign office, and the "Li-fan-Yuen," or colonial office, which looks after the rights of foreigners dwelling in China and governs the provinces and tributary states of Mongolia and Tibet.

The "Han-lin," or Sacred College of Learned Men, is an interesting body composed of the empire's best scholars, and to be elected to a membership in it is considered a great honor. The college controls the boards of works, ceremony, revenue, military and naval affairs, office punishment, etc. Incidentally it also examines candidates for office in their literary, artistic and scientific attainments.

From time immemorial the Chinese have been great sticklers for ceremonial etiquette, and it is consequently no surprise to learn that the board of ceremonies is one of the hardest worked departments of the "Han-liu." The board of ceremonies is subdivided into a committee of etiquette, which regulates all affairs concerning marriages, funerals and public celebrations; a committee on mutual intercourse, which has charge of the reception of illustrious strangers; a chamber for the management of festivities and imperial functions, and a committee on music and the drama.

An additional body—and one, too, that wields almost autocratic power—is the "Tu-char-Yuen," or the board of censors. Its special duty is to scrutinize the works of the mandarins throughout the empire, and its word is almost law.

Each province in the empire is, in addition to these national bodies, governed by a mandarin with the title of "Swuin-Fa," or viceroy. This official is a despot in his district, and possesses the sole right of approaching the throne on any matter connected with his province. The life and death of those under him are in his hands, and he is commander-in-chief of the local troops. As a sort of set-off to these immense powers his tenure of office is very insecure, and he is liable to be removed on the most trivial pretext, such as the outbreak of a riot or rebellion in his province. Suspension, moreover, is usually followed by his death at the hands of the executioner.

Under the mandarins is a horde of minor officials, such as local superintendents of taxes, provincial judges of the criminal court and educational examiners. Each of the provinces is split up into several large divisions, which are in their turn divided and subdivided almost to infinity.

The common people have no rights whatever. They are permitted to work so that they can pay taxes. In order to keep their places the local officials rob the day laborers and bribe the district authorities. The district authorities rob the merchants and bribe the provincial officials. The latter extort money from the landowners and hand over a part of the spoils to the mandarins. And that dignitary extorts contributions from everybody in sight and sends a fair percentage to Peking to propitiate the imperial authority there.

In many sections of China highway robbery is countenanced by the authorities. The police are given a tip not to catch members of certain gangs of highwaymen, and an officer who neglects to take such a hint finds himself without a job. Highwaymen not so protected are treated with incredible cruelty—surely a pointed lesson that it is unwise to engage in robbery without dividing the spoils with the so-called "guardians of the peace."

Nothing but a political earthquake can correct the abuses so faintly outlined here; and certainly no one who has the true interests of the Chinese at heart would argue against the introduction of reforms. Should the present occupation of Peking by the troops of Europe and America lead to a reorganization of affairs in China, the Boxer massacres, terrible as they were, would prove a blessing to civilization, not too dearly bought with the blood of scores of noble men and women.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Tonight will be the last time to see the Bennett—Moulton Company in Plainfield this season when they will bring to a close one of the most profitable engagements ever played in Music Hall. The company is composed of exceptionally good material, strong plays that are not all worn out, beautiful scenery, strong orchestra, and very superior specialties, Madam Flower being extra good. Tonight's play is one called "The Yellow Peril," a bran new up-to-date comedy drama, which has given fine satisfaction everywhere this season. A matinee is in progress this afternoon. Last night a crowded saw a nice presentation of the "Shadow of a Great City," which proved to be one of the best performances of the week.

In its advanced and chronic form a cold in the head is known as Nasal-Catarrh and is the recognized source of other diseases. Having stood the test of continued successful use, Ely's Cream Balm is recognized as a specific for membranal diseases in the nasal passages, and you should resort to this treatment in your own case. It is not drying, does not produce sneezing. Price 50c at druggists or by mail. Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York. Give up prejudice and try it.

Robinson Was Not Guilty.

The case of Peter Robinson, the ash gatherer, who was arraigned several days ago at the instance of Health Inspector Addis, who charged him with a violation of the ordinance, was dismissed by City Judge Runyon this morning.

Improvements at Power Station.

The extensive improvements that have been under way at the electric light station for some time past are gradually nearing completion. The new roof is finished and more room every way has been made by the improvements.

Wires to be Placed in Cables.

The telegraph wires near the new railroad station are being placed in a cable that will be placed along the upper part of the building, thus doing away with the two large unsightly poles that now stand near the station.

Big Attendance.

The average attendance at the men's meetings held at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoons for the month of December was 130. Increased interest is being taken in the meetings and the attendance grows larger each week.

Closing Up Thorpe Mantel Company.

E. M. Laing, receiver for the Thorpe Mantel Company, is busy taking inventory and disposing of the stock in the store of Curtis M. Thorpe on Park avenue. It will take some weeks before the affairs of the company can be settled up. The liabilities are said to be about $10,000, with assets a little over half that sum. The business of the company will be entirely up as soon as it is possible for Receiver Laing to do so.

One Fined; One Discharged.

The examination of Thomas Keefe and Daniel Kieley, who were arrested by Patrolman MacCarthy charged with fighting in the streets last Saturday evening, was heard this morning before City Judge Runyon. Keefe was discharged and Kieley fined $5 or twenty days.

Infant Daughter Dead.

Elizabeth V. L. Schultheiss, the infant daughter of Joseph T. and Caroline V. Schultheiss, of 99 Manning avenue, died at their home last evening. The child was four months old. The funeral services will be from the house tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mattox Very Ill.

Roundsman William Mattox was taken suddenly ill last evening at police headquarters soon after turning in the day's report. He was taken home in a cab and is still very ill. He has every symptom of a severe attack of pneumonia.

A Good Position.

Curtis M. Thorpe, of Norwood avenue, has secured a very good position in New York city, having been appointed treasurer of the Moody Fund, under the management of the Y. M. C. A.

Engine House for East End.

Among the important matters that may be considered by the 1901 Common Council is a fire house for the eastern end of the city. Chief Doane favors this improvement very much.

MANAGER EDWARDS HAS GOOD SHOWS IN VIEW

Three Strong Productions Booked For Stillman Music Hall Next Week.

DENMAN THOMPSON COMING

WILL APPEAR IN HIS GREAT SUCCESS, "THE OLD HOMESTEAD."

Successful Week For Bennett-Moulton Company Ends Tonight—"Hearts of The Blue Ridge" Appears Monday Night—Other Attractions.

The Bennett-Moulton Repertoire Company, which concludes its very successful engagement at Music Hall tonight, has endeared itself in the estimation of Plainfield theatre goers and their re appearance next season, will be hailed with much pleasure. Their performances are worthy of high praise and on a par with some of the best attractions seen here. "The Yellow Peril" is the play for tonight.

Two very interesting productions are offered by Manager Maze Edwards for the coming week, beginning Monday night, when Hal Reid's best and latest play "Hearts of the Blue Ridge," with Miss Dorthy Lewis in the leading role, will be seen for the first time here.

"Hearts of the Blue Ridge" tells the story of a feud, that terrible custom that prevails in the southern hills. It does not abound in shooting and bloodshed, however, but deals with the events that transpire in the course of this peculiar institution. In "Hearts of the Blue Ridge" a feud is the foundation upon which the story is built and that it is interesting goes without saying. Hal Reid is the author and he is an adept in the art of exciting sympathy and enlisting interest in the characters and incidents he so vividly portrays. In this play he has shown even more than his usual cleverness in the consistent blending of the intense dramatic interest with the delightful romance and delicious natural humor of the locality.

On Thursday night, the great Klaw and Erlanger's original production of the famous extravaganza "Jack and the Beanstalk," is announced to appear. It was originally produced by the Boston Cadets. The story idealizes the famous characters of nursery rhymes, gives human interest to them by the addition of a romantic story, infuses a comedy element by presenting humorous pictures of the world's famous road agents and highwaymen and is told to the tripping strains of sprightly music.

The pictorial element has been supplied in such a lavish and gorgeous manner as to win for the production the claim of having never been surpassed in this respect in the annals of the American stage. All the abundance of special features, the beautiful ballets, electrical effects, mechanical devices and what not that have essential parts of this production will be shown here intact. Nearly the same company that recorded superb triumphs in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other cities will be present.

The "All Star Vaudeville Alliance" is to appear Saturday night.

"Fogg's Ferry," a play by the author of "A Romance of Coon Hollow," is booked for the following week, with The Nashville Students. Denman Thompson with his own special company in "Old Homestead" and other novelties to follow.

Death of Mrs. Kline.

Mrs. Mary Kline, widow of Henry Kline, colored, who was sexton of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church for over twenty years, died this morning at her home on West Third street She has been very ill for the past week. She was the mother of William Kline, who has been active in local Republican circles and was doorkeeper at the State House one term.

Taken Seriously Ill.

Mrs. George Odiorne, of Central avenue, was taken severely ill yesterday with what appeared to be facial neuralgia. She was recently vaccinated, and it is not known whether it was this or the result of a tooth. Two physicians and a trained nurse were summoned. This morning Mrs. Odiorne is much better.

Blown to Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. Only 25c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Died at Hospital.

Joseph Riddle, aged 17 years, of Alton, died at the hospital yesterdey after an illness of a few days with pneumonia. He went to the hospital on Wednesday. He is survived by parents and two brothers. Undertaker Cole took charge of the body last evening.

HOW WILL BIG DEAL AFFECT THE CENTRAL?

Announcement of Purchase by Reading Causes All Sorts of Conjectures.

NO DETAILS ARE GIVEN.

GENERALLY BELIEVED THAT FEW CHANGES WILL BE MADE.

Plainfield Will Probably See But Very Little Change in Method of Running the Railroad—Officials Living Here May Be Affected.

The announcement that J. P. Morgan & Co. has purchased a controlling interest in the Central Railroad of New Jersey and had sold it to the Reading Railroad Company, which was exclusively told in this city by The Daily Press, was of great interest to all Plainfielders. As the Jersey Central is the only railroad which passes through this city, everybody wanted to know what effect the change will have on the practical operation of the Jersey Central's lines. Then, too, there are a number of the prominent officials of the Central, who have come into the company's employ since the change in management two years ago, that reside in this city. Whether or not the change in ownership will affect them is not known.

No details concerning the sale have yet been made public by the interested parties. Mr. Morgan made the announcement in New York Saturday noon that the sale had been made but refused to give terms or tell the probable changes which might be expected. Officials of the Jersey Central Railroad confirmed the report but refused to make any further statement. Officials of the Reading in Philadelphia also declared that the deal had been made and the only other information they gave was that a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Reading would be held today to complete arrangements for the transfer of the property and the payment for the same.

At the same time with the announcement of this great railroad deal, it is reported that the final control of the Lehigh Valley interests have passed into the hands of the friends of Mr. Morgan and that a further consolidation of that system with the Reading is probable.

As the Jersey Central has on two previous occasions been under the control of the Reading Company and no changes of any importance were made at that time, it is reasonable to suppose that the Reading officials will not greatly disturb the present order of things. The change is much more likely to affect the coal trade of the Central and so arrange it as to work in harmony with the trade on the Reading and the Lehigh Valley.

One of the great arguments in favor of the consolidation of railroad systems has been that the confined systems can be run on a far more economical plan. The number of officials in the different departments is considerably reduced when the combined departments can be controlled under one head. It is impossible to say as yet whether any of the present officials of the road will be removed or what changes will be made in the working force of the line.

Various authorities differ regarding the effect this deal will have on the relations of the combined companies with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. According to the New York Tribune, it is possible that the Baltimore and Ohio will sever its present relations with the Reading and Central and work in harmony with the Pennsylvania system. Such a change would undoubtedly mean that the present Royal Blue Line service between New York and Washington would be terminated. The New York Herald takes the view that the alliance between the B. and O. and the Reading will be all the closer, and that the former will take advantage of the purchase of the Central to use its terminal at Jersey City to an even greater extent than at present.

Within the last two years, since the change in management, the Central has adopted a much more aggressive policy and has been making many changes and improvements all along the line. The new station in this city is one instance. New locomotives and rolling stock of improved pattern have been ordered and only a month ago work was started on the erection of mammoth repair shops at Elizabethport. Of course, it is impossible to say with any degree of certainty how the change in ownership will affect this policy. It is to be supposed, how-

TICKETS SELLING FAST.

Prospect of Large Attendance to Hear Famous Kneisel Quartette at the Casino, January 19.

The sale of tickets for the Kneisel Quartette's concert at the Casino January 19, is progressing favorably. The seats are limited to 250, which, if the subscriptions continue at their present rate, will all be sold long before the day of the concert.

The Kneisel Quartette occupies the same relation to chamber music as do Calve and the DeReezke's to opera, or the Boston Symphony Orchestra to orchestral music. That is to say, it is the best of its kind in the world. The programme is beautifully combined and promises a rare treat to those who love music and to those who have still to learn to love it.

Subscribers are reminded that their tickets will not be mailed to them, but should be called for at Armstrong's pharmacy.

SCHOOL TICKETS LIMITED.

NEW RULE MADE PUBLIC BY THE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Hereafter All Pupils Sixteen or Over and All Teachers Will Have to Pay Full Fare.

A new order has been made by the Plainfield Street Railway Company which directly affects teachers and and pupils of the public schools. The new order has to do with school tickets which were heretofore sold to both teachers and pupils at 3 cents each. On and after this date tickets will only be sold to pupils under sixteen years of age and none to the teachers.

All pupils who now desire to avail themselves of this reduction in fare will be compelled to apply at the company's car barn on West Fourth street when they will have to show a card signed by the principal of the school which they attend indicating the right to buy these reduced tickets. It will also be necessary to purchase $1 worth, which will be thirty-three tickets. Previous to the new order, teachers and all pupils were allowed to purchase tickets of any school principal in any given quantity at a 3 cent rate. By the new order pupils who are over sixteen years of age will not be allowed to purchase the reduced rate ticket and the teachers will also have to pay full fare.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

Men Accused of Robberies at Lincoln Arraigned in Court at New Brunswick.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Jan. 7.—James Ryan and James Murray, the two men who were arrested at Lincoln on the suspicion of being the persons who had committed several robberies about that place, were arraigned before Judge Strong in court Friday. They were called to plead to three indictments, which charged them with breaking and entering the house of Lawrence Reedy, at Lincoln, on Nov. 10; burning a building of the Jersey Central Railroad at Lincoln; also entering the station house of the company and stealing a quantity of pens and pencils. They pleaded not guilty to all of the charges and their trial was set for January 16. Judge Cowenhoven was assigned as their counsel.

Slich Belongs in Roseland.

Warden Dodd, of the county jail at Elizabeth, received a telephone call Saturday from Roseland in regard to Christian Slich, the old man who was found nearly frozen to death at Westfield Thursday. Slich belongs at Roseland, and wandered away from home New Year's Day. His friends called for him yesterday and took him back home.

A New Lodge.

There will soon be formed in this city a lodge of Knights of Columbus. Fifty charter members have been secure a suitable place of meeting. The local name for the new lodge has not yet been adopted, neither have the officers been elected. This will be done after a meeting place is secured.

Prudential's Annual Dinner.

Arrangements are being perfected for the annual dinner to be given to the employes of the Prudential Insurance Company in this district, which will be given in the near future in this city. Superintendent C. E. Ball is in charge of the affair.

Chiefs to be Raised up.

Arrangements are being made for a large time at the meeting of Miantonomo Tribe, I. O. R. M., Friday evening, when the chiefs will be raised by Deputy Holstein and staff.

KANE'S BARN BURNED; WORK OF INCENDIARY.

Neighbor Saw Man in the Barn With a Light Just Previous to Starting of Fire.

KANE WAS AT HIS HOME.

BARN AND ADJACENT HENNERY WERE COMPLETELY DESTROYED.

Loss Will Amount to $700, Covered By $500—Buildings Were Brand New—Kane Offers Reward to Find Firebug.

Shortly after 9 o'clock last evening the large barn belonging to Alexander Kane, of Fillmore avenue, and situated in the rear of his residence, burst into flames. The fire is believed to be of incendiary origin.

Previous to the arrival of the fire department in response to an alarm from box 63, the neighbors attempted to save the contents of the barn. A horse, two wagons and a set of harness were gotten out in safety, but a phæton belonging to C. E. Hepburn, several sets of harness and numerous small articles of value were destroyed.

But for the prompt arrival of the firemen Mr. Kane's residence, which is less than one hundred feet away, would no doubt have been badly damaged. As it was the paint was blistered. Two streams were thrown on the blazing barn and in less than an hour the flames were entirely extinguished. A new building will have to be erected, however, as nothing but the charred frame and one side remains.

In addition to the barn, a large hennery was destroyed and out of one hundred fowls which it contained Mr. Kane has found but fifty. The burned buildings were entirely new having replaced the ones totally destroyed by fire last May. The loss is estimated at $700 on which there is insurance amounting to $500 held by J. C. Pope & Company.

The fire was unmistakably the work of an incendiary. A few moments before the flames broke out, William Douglass, who lives directly opposite Kane, was driving past. He saw the front door of the barn partially open and the figure of a man standing in one corner. The man held a light in one hand a whisp of straw in the other. All this Mr. Douglass saw plainly but thinking it was the owner attending to his horse, paid no futher attention. He had hardly entered his own yard when he was startled by a flash and on running back saw the barn in flames.

Mr. Kane himself had retired for the night and was first aware of the fire when a neighbor rapped on the door. He had been about the premises a short time before retiring and everything seemed all right. As he employs no help the man seen by Douglass must have been the firebug.

So positive is Mr. Kane of this that he has offered a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty party. As far as he knows, Mr. Kane has not a single enemy and is at a loss for the miscreant's motive in doing him harm. He was formerly a dealer in hay and grain but failed a short time ago. He has since paid every debt and is conducting business on a smaller scale on Richmond street.

Week of Prayer at Trinity.

The week of prayer is being observed in Trinity Reformed church and meetings are held nightly beginning at 8 o'clock. The subjects are as follows: Monday, "A Forward Look"; Tuesday, "Humiliation and Confession"; Wednesday, "The Church Universal"; Thursday, "Prayer for all Missionaries and all Missionary Organizations"; Friday, "Revival of God's Work in our Hearts and Church"; Saturday, "Private Prayer for Families." A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these meetings.

Many Fire Alarms.

Within the past seven days the local fire department has answered six alarms, four box and two still. Two of the former were on one day and in the extreme east end of the city but remarkably quick runs were made to both. This is more than has been received in the same length of time in a number of years.

Second Ward Republicans to Meet.

The annual meeting of the Second Ward Republican Association will be held in the Bryant School building, East Sixth street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, when fifteen members of the Board of Managers will be elected. The treasurer's report will also be presented.

FANWOOD IS WITHOUT ITS POLICE FORCE.

Council Decided Saturday Night to Dismiss Marshal Taynor From the Force.

FOR RECKLESS SHOOTING.

ALSO ALLEGED BY WITNESSES THAT THE MARSHAL WAS INTOXICATED.

Beardsley and Kyte Appeared Against the Officer at the Hearing Before Borough Council—Taynor Made No Defense.

If Chief Davery, of the New York Police Department, should lose his official head, he might find a position open as a chief marshal, borough constable, and in fact, be the whole police department, if he should drop out as far as the borough of Fanwood. That municipality is at present without its one-man police department, as Samuel Taynor, who has been holding the all round position for about one year, was dismissed from the position after trial before the Borough Council at their meeting held in the fire house Saturday night.

As exclusively told in The Press Friday evening, the marshal was brought before the police board Wednesday evening to answer to the charge of being drunk and disorderly and in being too reckless in the use of his gun upon Herbert Beardsley, a young man well known in the borough although a resident of Stony Hill, a little over a week ago. The committee held rather an exciting meeting but were unable at that time to decide just what to do in in the matter so they decided to have Mr. Taynor tried before the whole Borough Council at their next meeting which was held on Saturday night.

Mr. Beardsley was not present at the trial but his sworn statement, before a notary, was admitted, backed up by the personal testimony of George Dudley Kyte.

Mr. Beardsley charged that while walking peacefully along the sidewalk on Park avenue about 7 o'clock on the evening of Dec. 23, he had noticed a man staggering down the walk as though intoxicated. When the two were about to meet, the fellow braced up and pulling a revolver from his pocket, said, "Now I have got you."

Not knowing who the fellow was, he said he had started to run to the home of Mrs. Arthur Kyte on Midway avenue, where he could escape the fellow. The latter, as soon as Beardsley had started to run, had started in to shoot, and the bullets were flying uncomfortably close to Beardsley. The man followed him as far as the door when he was met by Mrs. Kyte's nephew, George Dudley Kyte.

Mr. Kyte was then sworn and said that he recognized the pursuer as Marshal Taynor. He had asked the officer to put up the revolver before he hurt some one. This the officer refused to do, but was finally prevailed upon to let Mr. Kyte have the weapon. As soon as he gained possession Mr. Kyte emptied the chambers of cartridges and gave it back to the marshal. He said the officer was drunk.

As there was no other evidence to offer the Council gave the officer a chance to put in his defence. He had defended the charges Wednesday evening, but much to the surprise of all Mr. Taynor said he had no defence to offer, but that he would let his case rest upon his reputation in the past, which had always been good.

A motion was then made that the accused officer be dismissed from the position as marshal and general head of the police department of the borough. The motion was carried 4 to 1, the ayes being Councilmen McKeown, Stevens, Palmer and Young, the one negative voice being Councilman Ellis.

Council Meeting Tonight.

The Common Council for 1901 will hold its first session this evening, when preliminary matters of a routine nature will be considered. The message of Mayor Jenkins will be read and the customary appointments made. Little outside of this will be done. The Council will probably adjourn to another date this month to finish up the business that of necessity belong to January.

Funeral at St. Mary's.

The funeral services of Joseph Riddle, of Alton, who died in Muhlenberg Hospital Saturday, took place in St. Mary's church this morning. Rev. Father J. A. McGeary officiated. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Official Visit.

The officers of the Grand Commandery of New Jersey will pay an official visit to Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., this evening.

MANY LOCAL BUTCHERS VIOLATED GAME LAW.

Didn't Know About New Statute Which Prohibits Keeping Game After Season Closes.

WARDEN HAWKINS HERE.

MERELY NOTIFIED OFFENDERS BUT WILL NOT ARREST THEM.

Under Old Law, Thirty Days Were Allowed in Which to Dispose of Game—Changes Were Not Noticed Until Few Days Ago.

C. M. Hawkins, fish and game warden, of Roselle, was in Plainfield Saturday afternoon on official business connected with his duties. The purpose of Warden Hawkins' visit was to acquaint all dealers and handlers of fish and game with the new law passed by the Legislature last winter regarding the possession of fish and game.

As has been generally understood the old law allowed thirty days grace after the close of the season on January 1. It has always been customary for dealers to avail themselves of the provisions of this law and to take the thirty days to dispose of any fish or game that they might have on hand. Many persons have been ignorant of the law enacted last winter. Saturday Officer Hawkins visited all the dealers and notified them of the provisions of the new law. While here the warden also made the discovery that nearly every dealer in game in this city was at present violating it.

At the market of John Goff, who is president of the local fish and game society, quantities of game was found, including rabbits, etc. Of course, Mr. Goff had the game in his possession in ignorance of the fact that he was violating the law.

Another man whom Warden Hawkins visited had a sufficient quanity to have caused fines which would have amounted to nearly $3,000. The purpose of Hawkins' visit was not to prosecute any of these dealers but simply to warn them of their liability in having in their possession game after the first of January, 1901.

It has always been the custom of Legislatures to extend for the benefit of dealers the season in which game may be had in possession. Formerly when the season closed early in December it was ten days, but this was extended to thirty some years ago at the request of dealers who wanted to supply game to their customers for the holidays. Amendments to the law were generally made by changing the wording of the section sought to be amended, but the last Legislature passed a supplement to the act, changing the seasons and repealing all parts of acts inconsistent with the new statute.

The 1900 law provides that it shall be unlawful to kill or have in possession any partridge or pheasant, quail, rabbit, English pheasant and squirrel except during the months of November and December, and as this supplement repeals all acts inconsistent therewith it does away with the privilege hitherto enjoyed by dealers in game. The point as to the effect of the repealer on the general statute was not raised until a few days ago, when the working of the law and its effect appeared so plain that the State Board at once issued the circular letter advising the subordinate officers of the Board of the real status of the law. The Board, however, does not think that dealers should be prosecuted, as the mistake was one which any person would be liable to make, and so simply instructs its wardens and deputies to call the attention of all dealers to the law, believing that it will be obeyed without hesitation.

The State Board has had prepared a draft of a new law to be submitted to the next Legislature, and if this passes the privilege of dealers to have game in their possession after the close of the season will be restored.

Mail Was Delayed.

Owing to an accident on Eighth avenue, New York, early Sunday morning, whereby a mail wagon was run into by a trolley car and the horses and driver were killed, the mail due in this city at 6 o'clock yesterday morning did not arrive until this morning.

Quarantine Removed.

The health authorities of the borough have removed the quarantine from the residence of H. E. Gayle on Vine street. All members of the family have fully recovered from the scarlet fever.

POLICEMEN ILL.

Local Police Force is Somewhat Crippled by Illness of Two Roundsmen and Two Patrolmen.

The police department is in something of a crippled condition at present owing to illness. Friday night Roundsman Mattox was taken suddenly ill, but is somewhat improved Roundsman Flynn has been detained at home by an attack of tonsilitis. Patrolman Higgins, who has been ill for some time, is still unable to report for duty. Patrolman Thomas McCue is also confined to his home and Patrolman Winzenreid has been off duty for a day or two owing to the serious illness of his wife. With the exception of Roundsman Mattox, who is still in a precarious condition, all the sick men are on the gain. In consequence of the crippled condition of the force, some of the patrolmen have been compelled to double on their beats.

THIRD CLASS CITY PROPOSED

AS ONE, NORTH PLAINFIELD WOULD HAVE NUMBER OF ADVANTAGES.

Electric Light Plant Once Existed in Borough But Was Sold—Said It Did Not Pay to Run It.

In reference to the proposition to establish an electric light plant in the borough, it is understood that some of the citizens favor the formation of a a city, say of a third class variety. It is claimed by some that if North Plainfield was a full fledged city benefits would be derived that the borough does not now enjoy.

This is true in respect to the license question, when the city of North Plainfield would be able to control its own affairs in this respect. As it is now, the borough is at the mercy of the county judge in respect to the granting of licenses. The citizens are therefore in a measure handicapped in regard to this very important matter.

With regard to the borough owning its own electric light plant it will be remembered that it is but a few years ago that there was a private electric light plant in operation in the borough and from which many of the residents obtained their supply of light. The plant and equipment was subsequently disposed of to the Plainfield Electric Light Company and the plant done away with in the borough. At the time of the disposal of the plant it was the general belief that it could not be made to pay as a private corporation. But that was some years ago. Then the lighting of streets by electricity was almost in its infancy as far as a success from a financial stand point. Today with the employment of more modern methods and the consequent knowledge of the practicable distribution of electricity, the idea of the borough operating its own plant might be found not only feasible but also prove of financial benefit to the taxpayers.

DISCOVERED IN TIME.

A small but very dangernous fire broke out in the store of the Plainfield Photo Supply Company on North avenue at 9:15 o'clock Saturday evening. No one was in the store at the time, the proprietor, George W. Wrennick, of Westfield, having closed up and left a half hour before. A man, passing by, detected smoke issuing from the front transom.

The fire department responded promptly in answer to an alarm from box 13. On breaking a door open, the flames were found to be in a small partition in the rear of the store used as a dark room. They were extinguished with one tank from the chemical engine. The damage will not exceed $25, covered by insurance.

The alarm was sent in with the key from The Daily Press office. The building is owned by Woolston & Buckle.

The fire was caused by the dropping of a lighted match into a box of waste paper early in the evening. The fire smouldered until after Mr. Wrennick had left the store and then broke out into flames.

Wheel Stopped But Pond Didn't.

David S. Pond, of Watchung avenue, was wheeling out Park avenue Saturday morning. He wanted to stop quickly and used his foot as a brake on the front wheel. The bicycle halted with much suddenness but Pond didn't. The bicycle landed on top of him. He was badly cut and bruised by the fall.

Important Meeting.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital will hold an important meeting this evening to consider matters pertaining to the new hospital building.

JURY DECIDED FOR EX-MAYOR SAUNDERS.

Damage Suit of W. R. Brokaw Against Saunders Tried This Morning.

SOMERSET COUNTY COURT.

BROKAW CLAIMED SAUNDERS STRUCK HIM AND KNOCKED OFF HAT.

Trouble Was Over Rental of a Piano—Judge's Charge to Jury—Jury Was Out Over an Hour and Decided No Cause for Action.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 7.—The $10,000 damage suit of Wesley R. Brokaw against William L. Saunders was taken up in the Somerset County Court this morning. W. S. Angleman represented Brokaw and Hon. James J. Bergen appeared for ex-Mayor Saunders. This was an action for damages based upon an alleged assault by ex-Mayor Saunders, of North Plainfield, upon Wesley R. Brokaw, a music dealer, of Plainfield.

On June 3, 1899, Mr. Saunders entered Brokaw's music store to see why Brokaw had not sent around a piano to Saunders' barn, for a charitable entertainment, as had been agreed upon. Brokaw had agreed to send around an upright, but having a square piano coming in thrt day he desired to send that, but Mr. Saunders held him to his agreement for an upright. Brokaw claimed that Saunders called him a "damned scoundrel," told him he hadn't an honest hair in his head, flourished his fist in his face and knocked his hat off. William H. Miller and Cora Brokaw corroborated Brokaw's story.

The witnesses for the defense were ex-Mayor Saunders, Chief Patrick Kiely and Walter C. Dobbins. Mr. Saunders said that he was only arguing with Brokaw for not keeping his agreement; that he had no intention of injuring Mr. Brokaw; that he knocked off Mr. Brokaw's hat with his finger while gesticulating, and immediately apologized for so doing. He said that Brokaw had put them in an awkward position at the last moment and he offered him ten dollars to send the piano, but Brokaw refused and he denounced him for not living up to his agreement.

In his argument before the jury Mr. Angleman said that Mr. Saunders deserved to be taken out in the back yard and thrashed, but unfortunately the law would not allow this.

Judge Garretson, in his charge to the jury, said that this was an action for assault and battery, and therefore the language used had no bearing. He said that no real damage seemed to have been inflicted on the person of Brokaw; that no loss to his business or earnings had been shown.

The law allowed exemplary damages to restrain others, and for indignity, the jury should not be extravagant in this. If no assault and battery was intended, but the movement that knocked off hat was merely from a gesture, no damages could be recovered. The case went to the jury at noon.

Shortly after 1 o'clock the jury came in with a verdict of no cause for action.

HOUSE WARMING SOON.

Enlarged House and Entertainment Committee Will Arrange For Affair at Casino.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Casino was held Saturday evening. It was decided to enlarge the membership of the house and entertainment committee from five to twelve. William R. ## ON CARE OF CHILDREN.

New and Important Series of Bulletins Now Being Issued at the Public Library.

A novel and important series of bulletins has been begun at the Public Library, one that is of interest to mothers primarily. It is called the Mothers' Bulletin on the Bringing Up of Children. The first number, now on the bulletin board, is on the "Physical Care of the Child." While all the books listed are simply written, being adapted to the home, many are by prominent medical authorities, and are of the best of their kind. Here will be found books on the care of the child from earliest infancy up to young manhood and womanhood. The list is appropriately surrounded by photographic reproductions of the Madonna. As the list will remain but one month, those interested should make an effort to see it in that time During this month the books listed will be found in the new bookcase. The next in the series will be on Home Training.

PERSONAL JOTTINGS COLLECTED IN CITY AND BOROUGH.

Daily Doings of Plainfielders and Their Guests Carefully Collected and Tersely Told.

Benjamin Eddy, of the West End, is confined to his home with a serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Green, of West Second street, spent yesterday with friends in New York.

Mrs. J. S King, of Passaic, has been spending several days with relatives in this city.

A. M. Runyon and Mrs. Runyon, of Madison avenue, are detained at home with the grip.

George B. Wean, of West Fourth street, has been entertaining his parents from Bloomsbury.

Elvin VanName, of Elmwood place, who has been confined to the home by illness, is able to go out.

Mrs. Case, of the borough, has secured a position as saleswoman at Boehm's dry goods store.

Rev. and Mrs. Jacob Craig, of Centreville, have been visiting Plainfield relatives for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Linbarger, of Red Bank, have been visiting Plainfield relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Fitch, of Westfield, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs John Darling, on Prospect avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dufford, of West Second street, have been entertaining relatives from Hunterdon county.

Charles Harris, of the borough, who fell recently and fractured two ribs, has about recovered under the care of Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan.

Lewis Lukens and family, of Conshohocken, Pa., are spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Luken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Clark, of Crescent avenue.

—This season there is a large death rate among children from croup and lung troubles. Prompt action will save the little ones from these terrible diseases. We know of nothing so certain to give instant relief as One Minute Cough Cure. It can also be relied upon in grippe and all throat and lung troubles of adults. Pleasant to take. L. W. Randolph.

—Trinity Commandery, No. 17. K. T., will hold a conclave this evening.

—Anchor Lodge, No. 149. F. and A. M., will hold a communication tomorrow evening.

—The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. L. W. Randolph.

—The Sons of Veterans will install their officers Tuesday evening, January 15.

—Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., will install its officers-elect this evening.

—When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. L. W. Randolph.

City Clerk J. T. MacMurray, of Westervelt avenue, returned last Saturday from New Haven, where he had been for several days.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Dr. Buchanan, of Pemberton, has returned after a visit with his son, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, of Duer street.

Edward S. F. Randolph and family have taken the flat in the Clifton building on Park avenue, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross.

Patrolman Morris Higgins, of West Front street, is gradually recovering from a severe illness of pneumonia. He will soon be able to go out again.

First Rank on Eleven.

Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., met last Friday evening and conferred the first rank on eleven candidates. The officers-elect were also installed by the district deputy, after which the Knights had a big time. Refreshments were served and several excellent addresses were made.

Did Not Install.

The members of the Woman's Relief Corps did not install their officers-elect Friday evening. This will be done at private meeting to be held later.

INGENIOUS BOATMEN.

Stone-Workers Cut in Oregon Devise a Boat Which Pulls Itself Up-Stream.

In St. Nicholas Francis Ellington Leupp describes an ingenious device by which certain Oregon stone-workers save themselves a deal of unnecessary labor.

Doubtless nearly every boy with a taste for out-of-door sports, he says, has made a boat which the wind or the current would cause to float over the surface of a pond. I have seen some lads rig up rafts on which they could themselves ride down a swift-flowing creek; and I knew one, even, who was clever enough to build a complete little steamboat. He could light a lamp under the little boiler, and the steam would form, and the piston would work, and the wheels would revolve, just as in a big vessel that carries passengers and freight. The trouble with all these toy boats, however, is that they will go only one way. Having made their trip, they have to be toilsomely dragged back by hand to be started again in the same direction.

While traveling in Oregon, some time ago, I discovered a boat which seemed to me the most ingenious thing of its kind I had ever seen. It was built by some stoneworkers to convey their stone from the quarry well up toward the head of a small river, down to the mouth. The stream is everywhere so shallow that it can be forded without danger; but it is broken at intervals by stretches of rapids, or "riffles," as they are called in that neighborhood, often extending as far as 150 feet. The men built a flat-bottomed boat, which they loaded with stone, and it carried its cargo down the stream admirably. But then arose the problem, how to get it back when it had been emptied. It was too heavy to haul up the stream by hand. Where the water was comparatively smooth there was no trouble, because one man could ride on the scow and make his way along with a paddle and a pole; but the difficulty was to get it up the rapids. The best of boatmen could not hope to propel it against so powerful a current, and uphill at that.

How do you suppose they accomplished the task, finally?

By making the boat work its own passage.

They made two large paddle-wheels, which they placed one on each side of the scow, and joined them by a thin but strong piece of wood, in the shape of a cylinder. This turned with the wheels, and served the double purpose of an axle and a windlass. Each end of the cylinder, near where it joined the wheels, played in a socket somewhat like the row-lock used with an oar, only stationary, and mounted on the top of a triangular truss. To the cylinder was fastened a rope about 200 feet long. When the boat reached the bottom of a rapid, it would be made fast to the shore. Then the man in charge of the boat would ford the stream and mount the opposite bank, taking with him the rope in a coil, and paying it gradually out as he walked, so as to keep it always taut. At the head of the rapid, or a trifle beyond, he would fasten the further end of the rope to a tree. The moorings of the boat would be loosed, and the current left to do the rest without assistance. The paddle-wheels, unable to resist the force of the water flowing against their sunken blades, would slowly revolve, and, of course, every revolution of the wheels would cause the rope to wind itself around the axle. With each turn of the rope the boat would necessarily be drawn forward and up the stream; so, by the effect of the continued winding, it would gradually rise and rise till it reached the place where the current ceased to exert so much power. There it would be made fast again, until the rope could be disengaged from the cylinder and coiled, ready for use when needed. Then the man would cut loose, seize his paddle or pole, and work away till the next rapid was reached, when he would start off with his rope and repeat the operation described above.

This process is wearisome with a heavy stone-boat but it struck me, as I watched it, that a bright boy could adapt it to a toy scow and get a deal of amusement out of it. If the experiment did nothing more, it would at least be a lesson in the art which every mechanic must learn—of making the forces of nature his servants, and compelling them to do for him what would otherwise require a good deal of labor at his hands.

WORK BEFORE CONGRESS.

Senate Considering the Army Bill House Discussing Reapportionment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The senate will continue to give practically uninterrupted attention to the army reorganization bill until that measure shall be disposed of. That the bill will pass no one doubts, and the general opinion is that it will get through some time during the present week. Senator Hawley, chairman of the committee on military affairs expresses the opinion that the measure will be in conference by Wednesday, but other senators postpone the date somewhat.

With the army bill out of the way the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill will be taken up and after it other appropriation bills if any are in shape to be considered.

The ship subsidy bill will be restored to the calendar as the regular order of business when the army bill is passed, and it will be pressed when no appropriation bills are awaiting consideration.

Next Saturday will be largely devoted to eulogies upon the late Senator Davis of Minnesota.

The consideration of the reapportionment bill was resumed in the house. The indications point to a final vote on the measure tomorrow, but the fight over the basis of apportionment is a bitter one, and the debate may be prolonged. The outcome is not clear. Mr. Hopkins is still confident that his bill will carry, but in order to pull it through he is now ready to concede an increase of three members to cover the major fractions of the states of Florida, Colorado and North Dakota. If his bill passes, it probably will be with this modification.

CHASING BANDITS.

Nebraska Has an Exciting Bloodhound Pursuit and Capture.

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 7.—This county has been the scene of some very exciting events growing out of the murder of Herman Zahn at Snyder. The bandits were pursued by bloodhounds all night and finally run to earth by Sheriff Kreader and posse near Scribner, 30 miles from the scene of the crime.

A dramatic climax to the man hunt then occurred. The hounds ran up to a haystack back of a stable and stopped. The sheriff called in a loud voice for the robbers to come out. Suddenly out darted a man, firing with two revolvers at the posse. So sudden was the man's exit that he disappeared in the brush and escaped before the sheriff started in pursuit. But he was captured after being shot twice by another posse.

Calls were then made upon the remaining bandits to surrender. Receiving no response, the sheriff fired the stack, and another robber bounded out and was grabbed and disarmed. The sheriff started back to the county seat with his prisoner and was met at Crowell by a mob of 50 neighbors of the murdered man. One of Zahn's sons accompanied the crowd and, with a pistol pointed at the sheriff, demanded the surrender of the prisoner that he might be lynched.

The sheriff hurried his man into a house and defied the mob. He swore in a number of citizens, and they fought their way to the station and brought the prisoner to Fremont, a badly scared man. He refuses to give his name or tell anything about his comrades. Bloodhounds are pursuing the third robber.

England to Build Big Warships.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The British admiralty has decided to build two battleships which are intended to be the largest in the world. The distinction of having the largest warships has hitherto been held by Italy, with the Lepanto and her sister ship, the Italia. Great Britain's two projected large warships, to be respectively named the Queen and the Prince of Wales, will be 2,000 tons heavier than the Italian ships mentioned, reaching the enormous displacement of 18,000 tons, which is 3,500 heavier than America's biggest armor clad vessel. These tremendous British vessels will carry nothing larger than 12 inch guns. Their batteries will chiefly be composed of these and of 7.5 inch and 6 inch guns.

The Manchsters' Southern Trip.

NATCHEZ, Miss., Jan. 7.—The Duke and Duchess of Manchester, accompanied by Lord Lambert and Mr. Eugene Zimmerman, father of the duchess, reached this city last evening at 7:30 o'clock. The ducal party was met at the depot by Mrs. Ellen Yznaga, grandmother of the duke. The ducal party proceeded to a hotel where apartments had been reserved by Mrs. Yznaga. They will remain here until Tuesday, when the entire party will leave on a steamer for L'Argent, La., whence they will go to Ravenswood, the plantation home of Mrs. Yznaga. The boat will be gayly decorated in honor of the party.

Last of a Famous Class Dead.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 7.—Former United States Senator James Ware Bradbury is dead at his home in this city of bronchitis. He was born in Parsonsfield in this state June 10, 1802. He graduated from Bowdoin college in 1825, the celebrated class in which were Henry W. Longfellow, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Jonathan Cilley, John S. C. Abbott, George B. Cheever and Horatio Bridge. He was the last survivor of his class and the oldest living graduate of Bowdoin college.

Skeleton Found In the Woods.

LOWVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The skeleton of a man has been found by two lumbermen near "No. 4." The skeleton was in the lee of a large rock and therefore was not covered with snow. The clothes that hung to the bones were so decayed that no clew as to the identity of the man could be gained from them. Near him lay a Winchester rifle, and it is supposed that it was some hunter who accidentally shot himself.

P. D. ARMOUR DEAD.

Chicago Millionaire Yielded to Long Illness.

NEVER RALLIED AFTER SON'S DEATH.

A Native of Oneida County, N. Y., He Laid the Foundation of His Great Wealth In California In 1849.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Philip D. Armour died at his residence in Prairie avenue in this city at 5:45 o'clock last evening. The end came after two years of illness during which time Mr. Armour visited German baths, passed the cold months in southern California and devoted himself largely to an attempt to restore his health, which, however, had been broken never to be regained.

For several weeks the millionaire had been living at the old family home in Prairie avenue, the usual trip to southern California not having been taken this winter. He came down to the office in the Home Insurance building but seldom, and as the cold increased he did not come at all. It was understood in the office that he had an incipient attack of pneumonia, but it was given out no later than a week ago that he was on the road to recovery. It was noted, however, that the constant attendance of Dr. Frank Billings, the family physician, at the bedside of the sick man did not corroborate the favorable reports at the down town office. For several days death had been feared as the outcome by the close associates of the great captain of industry. They realized that the decline from day to day did not cease. When death came, his grandchildren, who had so close a place in his heart, were at the family residence, as was J. Ogden Armour, the surviving son.

Mr. Armour had lost strength steadily from day to day since the commencement of the winter. The pneumonia was checked, but strength was not regained. The firm grip he had so long maintained upon the business of Armour & Co. whether at the office or thousands of miles away slowly relaxed. Reports no longer interested him as they were wont to do during the first months of his declining health. His treadmill of work and his firm grip on affairs were maintained until the spring of 1899. Then the machine began to show signs of breaking. Mr. Armour was reported to be a sick man, and these reports were confirmed when he sailed for Germany to take baths at Bad Nauheim. He spent most of the summer at the baths and was sufficiently restored in health to take a trip to Switzerland, where he remained a month among the mountains. When he returned to Chicago that fall, he looked well, and his friends hoped his recovery was complete. He went to Danforth Lodge, the summer home of his son, Philip D. Armour, Jr., at Oconomowoc lake, Wis., and remained there until nearly winter. Then he journeyed to Pasadena, in southern California, for the cold months.

The death of his son, Philip D. Armour, Jr., in southern California on Jan. 29, 1900, was a great shock to the health broken man. The son had gone on a visit to his father and was taken suddenly with pneumonia. His death followed with scarcely a day's warning. The son had largely interested the father and inherited the business ability of the Armours and was closely following the footsteps of the head when he was stricken down.

So carefully had the plans for the future been made that the death of Mr. Armour will have little effect on the outward working of the great enterprise with which he had been so closely identified. It is believed all the Armour properties will be held intact until the grandchildren come into their own.

Estimates of Mr. Armour's own estate run from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000. This of course does not include the $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 owned by the younger members of his family. For years every enterprise he was interested in had been making immense profits. His holdings of stock have all advanced largely during the last three years.

Philip D. Armour, who was in his sixty-ninth year, made his own life on lines unique and wholly original with himself.

From a not overrich Oneida county (N. Y.) farm to the position of paying more freight and controlling more provisions than any other man in the world were the two extremes of his life.

The ancestral Armours were Connecticut people, but Philip Armour was not born until after the family had moved to Stockbridge, Oneida county, N. Y. His birth date was May 16, 1832.

The California gold fever struck western New York in 1849, and young Armour was the first in Stockbridge to determine to visit the Pacific coast. He obtained the permission of his parents and at the age of 17 started, having three of four companions from the same neighborhood. The almost incredible part of it was that the party walked nearly the entire distance from New York to California.

The commercial sense, which always predominated in his life, indicated its presence as soon as he saw the goldfields of California. He made money from the start, and at the end of six years he returned home with a fortune. Becoming dissatisfied with the quiet life of his native town, he came west again and together with a brother-in-law established a large wholesale grocery house in Milwaukee. This venture was also successful, and in a year's time he purchased the largest grain elevator in Milwaukee. This led to more elevators and railroad stock. In 1866 he came to Chicago to take charge of the Chicago branch of a New York packing establishment. The result was that the Chicago house ceased to be a branch, and the west gained the largest packing and provision plant in the world.

The property interests for which Mr. Armour stood are estimated at $150,000,000.

In works of charity Mr. Armour's monument will be found in the Armour institute, to which but a short time ago he gave $750,000 in one remembrance. Asked once what he considered his best paying investment, he replied, "The Armour institute."

The institute today represents an investment on the part of Mr. Armour and his brother Joseph of $2,250,000 and a yearly expense for maintenance of $100,000.

Hungarian Miners Killed.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—According to a dispatch to The Daily Express from Vienna, 7 miners were killed and 40 wounded Saturday in an affray at Altgebirg, Hungary, between riotous miners and gendarmes.

MORGAN BUYS LEHIGH

Another Railroad Added to the Great Consolidation.

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL ALSO SECURED

Mr. Morgan and His Friends Now Completely Control the Anthracite Coal Carrying Situation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Just at the close of the market on Saturday Wall street received the startling news that J. Pierpont Morgan had bought the Central Railroad of New Jersey and sold it to the Reading railroad. When the market opened this morning, it was confronted with the additional news that Mr. Morgan had secured the controlling interest in the Lehigh Valley also, and this interest will probably be offered to the Reading at the meeting of the directors which has been called to complete officially the purchase and arrange for the formal transfer of the Jersey Central stock to its new owners.

Thus the two long strides which bring the Morgan following into practically complete control of the coal carrying railway situation in the east have been made in quick succession.

Other probabilities of the not distant future are an alliance between the Ontario and Western and the Delaware and Hudson. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western is also regarded by some as game for Mr. Morgan's basket. It is controlled by Vanderbilt and First National bank interests, which are both favorable to him.

Those who profess to see in these consolidations, both completed and projected, one definite, farseeing purpose say that purpose is rather national than local in its scope and looks to nothing less than joint control of all the railroads of the United States. Persons who take this view say that not only does the Morgan following already control the avenues approaching New York, but commands practically every means of access to Boston, Buffalo, Philadelphia and most southern points. Nor, they declare, is the movement toward consolidation confined to the east alone.

The next step in the syndicate plan is alleged to be the acquirement of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg system, operated largely in central and western New York, and providing a direct connection between the Reading and all the great trunk lines in the west.

The recent sensational absorption of St. Paul is taken as only a preliminary advance upon the far west, the middle west being already pretty well occupied by Mr. Morgan's friends, who already control, it is said, all the overland highways of commerce to Chicago and St. Louis with two exceptions.

Coming back to what Mr. Morgan has really accomplished, it is seen that by the purchase of Jersey Central and Lehigh Valley he and his associates now dominate the anthracite coal trade; for they are absolute masters of railroads that mine and carry about 33,000,000 tons of anthracite out of an annual production of something less than 50,000,000 tons. This total is approximated thus:

The Lehigh Valley railroad's main line extends from Jersey City 442 miles to Buffalo. Its branches and subsidiary lines bring the total mileage up to 2,178. It owns 3,619 acres of coal land and all the stock of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, which holds in fee or under leases about 35,000 acres of coal lands and collieries with a total daily capacity of 30,000 tons.

Collateral Inheritance Tax.

ALBANY, Jan. 7.—The collateral inheritance tax act has brought into the state treasury during the past three months over $700,000, which is above the average for a period of that length. The bulk of that sum has come from New York city, which has always contributed the major part of the taxes collected under this statute. The estate of Emma S. Schley, late of New York city, paid the largest amount of taxes during the three months. Its contribution to the state cash was $261,494. The second largest tax, $73,908, was paid by the heirs of Wallace I. Andrews, late of New York city.

Cardinal Gibbons' Views.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7.—Cardinal Gibbons yesterday delivered a sermon at high mass in the cathedral in which he reviewed briefly the events of the century just closed with special reference to the wars which have been waged during that period as a preface to an urgent plea for universal peace. He incidentally touched upon the subject of the proposed increase of the standing army in this country, pointing out the evil results arising from the maintenance of large bodies of armed men in Europe and expressed the hope that similar conditions may never obtain in this country.

May Come to America.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 7.—The Molokanen, a sect numbering 400,000, whose founders removed in 1840 from various parts of Russia to the Caucasus and whose delegates have just brought glowing reports from the Doukhobors, or Russian Quakers, in Canada, contemplate emigrating to America. The sect secured state lands in the Caucasus almost rent free, but recently the Russian government announced that the rents would be increased threefold or fourfold. Now the Molokanen are petitioning the government to restore the former rentals or to permit emigration.

No Orders Sent to Minister Loomis.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—It is said by the state department officials that no orders have been sent to Minister Loomis at Caracas, Venezuela, contemplating the use of United States marines in the existing difficulties over the rival asphalt company concessions. The department is making a careful inquiry into the controversy, and if the results warrant such action representations on the subject will be made to the Venezuelan government with a view to securing an equitable settlement of the matter.

Blown Up by Dynamite.

HYNDMAN, Pa., Jan. 7.—Michael Ferrin and a negro, name unknown, were blown to pieces today at Philson, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, by an explosion of dynamite. The men were thawing the dynamite when the explosion occurred.

EIGHT MEN SUFFOCATED.

Guests of a Minneapolis Hotel Perish In an Early Morning Blaze.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—Eight men lost their lives in a fire at 115 Washington avenue in an early morning fire which had its origin in the rear of the Standard Furniture company. The men were overtaken by an immense volume of smoke in the Harvard hotel, which occupies the second, third and fourth floors of the building, and death in every instance was due to suffocation. When the men were found in various parts of the house, a man named Erickson was dead and the seven others unconscious.

The fire was discovered by Charles Hanson, who immediately apprised the night clerk, George O'Connor, and the two men set about to awaken the lodgers. Hanson devoted his attention to the second floor, while O'Connor rushed up stairs. The men were all sound asleep, and in several instances it was necessary for O'Connor to break in the doors. In the meantime he gave the alarm, and the warning soon spread.

What took place in the dingy rooms and narrow, dark hallways will never be known. It was a case of every man rushing for his own life. Nineteen of the 27 lodgers were successful, but the others were unable to beat their way through the oil smoke and fell in their tracks, where they were found by the firemen. Many of those who escaped came staggering out on the snowy sidewalk like drunken men, barely making their way through the deadly smoke and heat and only partially clad. Several had the most narrow of escapes. The loss on the building and contents will not exceed $3,000.

No Chinese Atrocities.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The American board of commissioners for foreign missions has just issued a statement denying reports of atrocities in connection with the Chinese uprisings: "While forced to believe that our missionaries in Shansi and at Pao-ting-fu were put to death by the Chinese, we have never credited the published reports concerning atrocities connected with their slaughter. Captain Hutcheson of the Sixth United States cavalry says that the Presbyterian missionaries in Pao-ting-fu probably all perished in the flames of their mission compound. Miss Mary S. Morrill and Miss Gould were bound and taken from the house, but when outside Miss Gould was found to be dead. Miss Morrill was beheaded with the China inland missionaries. Captain Hutcheson states that there is no evidence of any peculiar atrocities committed upon the persons of those who were slain."

A New Shoe Combine.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 7.—R. F. Wolfe, one of the leading promoters of the National Shoe company, returned from the east today. "The new company is assured," said Mr. Wolfe. "It is not a trust, but is almost in direct opposition to the accepted idea of a trust. The factories which will be interested in the company will retain their independent existence, and the new company will act as a distributing agent for their produce. Our aim is not so much to put factories into the company as to keep them out. We want only those plants which have an established line of goods and those which are recognized by the trade as being the leading ones in their line. The factories interested in the new company will manufacture practically dissimilar lines of goods, and a dealer can fit out his entire store from one of our depots."

Blaine Club Gets Cold Shoulder.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—The Blaine club of Cincinnati, the largest political organization in Ohio, has officially abandoned its proposed trip to the inauguration at Washington next month, for which two special trains had been chartered. The committee that visited Washington reported that the committee did everything to bring about the trip, but it could not make arrangements for quarters such as the Blaine club members were accustomed to, so it was decided to recommend abandonment. To show what was offered the members for quarters several letters were read. One wanted the members to sleep in an armory, while another wanted them to sleep 125 in a room of a big warehouse.

Rebel Leader a Fugitive.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Jan. 7.—The British steamer Costa Rican, Captain Kelly, which arrived here last evening from Colon, Colombia, reports that a big battle was fought recently near the Venezuelan border between the Colombian government forces and 2,000 insurgents under General Uribe, assisted by sympathizers from Venezuela, the battle ending in the defeat of the rebels, who broke into small parties, General Uribe escaping. The government forces at the time the Costa Rican left Colon were scouring the country in the endeavor to catch General Uribe, who is regarded as the real leader of the revolution.

Strike Leads to a Shut Down.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 7.—The 800 employees of the Mount Pleasant colliery of the Elk Hill Coal and Iron company are again on strike, the third time in a year. They decided to strike Saturday night because the superintendent refused to give a driver boy the rate of wages the boy claimed he was entitled to. The company anticipated the strike by posting a notice that the colliery from this date would be shut down. This will save the officials from any dealings with the union. The company will keep the colliery closed until the men rescind their strike order.

Carnegie Home Burned.

FERNANDINA, Fla., Jan. 7.—The residence of W. C. Carnegie at Stafford Place, five miles from Dungeness, on Cumberland island, has been burned to the ground. The loss was almost total, very little being saved on the lower floor. The estimated loss is $50,000. Mr. Carnegie is a son of Mrs. Lucy Carnegie of Dungeness and of national reputation as an expert golfer.

Smallpox In Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 7.—James Troland and two children, the eldest about 10 years old, were yesterday discovered to be suffering from smallpox and were removed to the Isolation hospital. Mrs. Troland was also taken to the hospital, as she had been exposed to the disease. The family reside at 653 Seaview avenue. One of the children has the disease in a violent form.

Big Italian Mail Robbery.

ROME, Jan. 7.—Five bags of registered letters have been stolen on the railroad between Turin and Rome. Three of the bags came from New York. The loss is estimated at 200,000 lire.

ABOUT ULCERS.

Some Facts Regarding the Cause and Treatment of Annoying Sores.

An ulcer is a sore on the skin or mucous membrane in which the healing process is very slow or wholly at a standstill. It may be due to a number of causes, some constitutional, others local; but even when a local cause seems most evident, there is almost always some constitutional taint present as well. This may be consumption, diabetes, gout, and so forth; or merely a little impurity of the blood resulting from constipation or indigestion. Ulcers in the mouth, on the tongue, or at the union of the cheeks and gums, are very common and exceedingly annoying. They should be treated by frequent rinsing of the mouth with a solution of boric acid or borax, and can usually be prevented in great measure by reducing the sweets and starch food, such as bread, that enter into the diet, says Youth's Companion.

A common seat of ulcers is the shin. Sores occur here especially in the aged or those past middle life, and are commonly due to the presence of varicose veins. These are caused by pressure from tight garters, by congestive disorders of the liver and other abdominal organs, and by any occupations which require standing for many hours a day.

Ulcers of this kind are found more frequently on the left leg than on the right. They sometimes give little trouble, but may be exquisitely painful, and are often most rebellious to treatment, which must be both local and general, corresponding to the local and constitutional causes.

All disorders of the digestion must be corrected as far as possible, and the diet regulated. The food should be nourishing, but not stimulating, and all forms of alcoholic beverages are to be foregone. The patient should keep perfectly quiet, either in bed or with the leg supported on a chair.

The local treatment must be varied according to the necessities of each case. The sore must be kept clean by pouring over it twice a day a stream of boiled (not boiling) water, and in the intervals of washing it should be protected from the air. The leg must be kept snugly bandaged or encased in an elastic stocking, so as to prevent stagnation of the blood and distension of the veins.

A piece of silver foil applied smoothly over the surface of the ulcer and for a little distance beyond its edges, and kept in place by a bandage, often does good. Sometimes, when the extent of ulcerated surface is very large, skin-grafting is necessary in order to start the healing process.

THEY SEE HIS FINISH.

When the Great Duck Hunter Got Home He Must Have Had a Warm Time.

Duck hunting does not necessarily mean ducks. You may chase over thousands of acres of water, work yourselves far enough into the rushes to have lost Moses, scan the sky to the horizon, offer a sportsman's invocation, do all that can be done and yet get no ducks. This is especially true when you are having August weather in October and the birds see no reason why they should migrate southward until later in the year, says the Detroit Free Press.

With the opening of the season, the first day in the morning, a party of Detroiters with the latest guns, the choicest ammunition, and all the rest of the necessaries as well as the luxuries of a duck exterminating expedition, sailed gayly forth. With them was one man from the effete east. He could talk duck-shooting, duck-cooking and duck-eating faster than all the rest put together. He conveyed the idea that he always got ducks when he went after them, and that if any of them got away it was because of a precautionary care to keep out of range.

The man talked so much and so extravagantly that one or two of the nimrods became suspicious. Two days failed to discover the game they were after, and then they took to the open in Lake St. Clair, and solemnly went to knocking down sea gulls at short range. They got a barrel of them, the easterner always shooting in company, so as to lay claim to results. It was no trouble to make him believe them ducks. He was glad to have them turned over to him as the "champion shot." They were packed in ice and shipped east, he taking the next train and keeping track of his goods by wire. Anybody can see his finish.

Stuffed Loin of Veal.

To stuff a loin of veal, pass six ounces of lean veal through a mincing machine with two ounces of fat bacon and pound the meat well; then add by degrees six ounces of panad also pounded, season with salt, pepper and a little grated nutmeg and add two raw eggs. Spread out on a board about five pounds of loin of veal, from which the bones and as much of the fat as possible have been removed. Cover the meat evenly with the farce, scatter the latter thickly with finely minced truffles and champignons and roll it up neatly, tying it in several places to keep it in shape. Roast the veal and baste it well until it is done; let it get cold, then remove the string and coat it thickly with rich brown glaze.—N. Y. Tribune.

Baked Sweet Potato Slices.

Peel and slice raw sweet potatoes enough to fill a quart pudding dish three-quarters full. Pour on them one cup of boiling water, one-half cup of sugar, small lump of butter and a little grated lemon peel. Bake in covered dish for 30 minutes, then take off cover and let them brown. Serve with small squares of buttered toast.—Boston Budget.

SIAN-FU REBELS MUTINY.

Russia's Plans For the Acquisition of Manchuria Well Laid.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—"Reports have been received here fram Sian-fu," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Standard, "that General Tung Fuh Hsiang's 14,000 troops have mutinied at Kuyuen-chou, in the province of Kan-su, and that General Feng Tse Tsai's army has been sent from the province of Yun-nan to suppress the rebellion."

"The outlines of the Russo-Chinese agreement regarding Manchuria were settled with Li Hung Chang in December, 1899," says the Vienna correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, "and prior to that Russia had concluded treaties with the emirs of Bokhara and Khiva and the shah of Persia, arranging for neutrality or for military assistance in the event of difficulties arising between Russia and any Asiatic power. In fact, all the steps toward the practical acquisition of Manchuria had been carefully prepared."

"Chang Chih Tung, the Wu-chang viceroy, wired the Chinese envoys strenuously urging them to delay the signing of the note," says Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times yesterday from Peking, "until several clauses had been amended and that portion of the preamble had been expunged which charges the imperial court with the responsibility for the attacks upon the legations.

"He further urged the imperial personages not to return to Peking on the ground that the joint note permits the powers to maintain 10,000 troops between Peking and the sea.

"An imperial decree was issued to delay the affixing of signatures, but the Chinese plenipotentiaries replied that it was impossible to recall the assent already given."

Boxer Outrages Ordered In Korea.

VICTORA, B. C., Jan. 7.—Copies of The North China Daily News received by the steamship Tacoma have a long article on the plot by Korean Boxers to massacre foreigners and follow the recent Boxer programme in China in Korea. The Seoul correspondent of that paper says that without question there have been orders sent to every prefect to this end during November.

SEVERE WEATHER IN EUROPE.

Intense Cold and Tremendous Gales Cause Suffering and Death.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Severe cold has suddenly set in throughout Europe. In England it is accompanied by a northeasterly wind, amounting to a gale over the channel. At Dover a boat was capsized, four persons being drowned, and probably other accidents will be reported.

On the continent the weather is still more severe. Snow has fallen as far south as Naples, and in St. Petersburg the cold is so intense that the police in the streets have had to be frequently relieved and the schools to be closed. At Moscow the temperature is 30 degrees below zero. Tremendous gales are blowing over the Adriatic. Terrible blizzards are reported from Austria and southern Russia, extinguishing signal lights and resulting in the derailing of the Orient express at Altpazua. The storm caused a collision between passenger trains at Mikola, near Szatmar, Hungary, six persons being killed.

Nine people were frozen to death on a highroad in Transylvania. Odessa is completely snow bound. The harbor is frozen over, and trains are unable to enter or depart in consequence of the drifts.

To Dam the Mississippi.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—Thomas Lowrey states that unless some extraordinary obstacle should block the way the Coon creek dam in the Mississippi river, nine miles above Minneapolis, will be built. It will supply 10,000 horsepower, and Mr. Lowrey, who is at the head of the syndicate building it, expects that power will be furnished so cheaply in Minneapolis as to supersede steam. Power will also be furnished to the city of Anoka, and a big manufacturing suburb will be built up at Columbia heights on the northern border of the city.

Ocean Liner Has Rough Voyage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kaiserin Maria Theresia, which has just arrived, was in collision with a small schooner in mid-ocean and damaged the latter so badly that the crew abandoned her. All hands, the captain and five seamen, were brought to this port. The great liner left Bremen Dec. 27, Southampton on the 28th and Cherbourg on the 29th and had very stormy weather throughout the passage. Heavy westerly gales and high seas prevailed, with heavy snow and hail squalls.

Sale of Rathbone's Property Set Aside

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—Judge Thompson of the United States court has set aside the sale of property at Hamilton, O., involved in the suits against Estes G. Rathbone, late director of posts in Cuba. The property includes two blocks and was sold for $113,000. An affidavit was filed by Charles Sohngen, a brewer, who said that the property was easily worth $200,000 and that he was willing to pay that amount. Judge Thompson ordered that he put up a certified check for at least one-fourth of the amount.

A Victim of Grip.

BUFFALO, Jan. 7.—A short man about 35 years old was brought to the police station. He could not remember his name or where he lived. In his pocket was found a check for $400 drawn by Mrs. Creer on a New York bank and a number of letterheads bearing the name of Carrick & Co. The police surgeon examined the stranger and announced that he was a victim of the grip, which had left him devoid of memory.

Cape Colonists Call Loudly For Re-enforcements.

A DUTCH UPRISING IS FEARED.

Kitchener's Available Force Needed to Protect Lines of Communication and Protect the Rand Mines.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—This morning's news from Cape Town is again unsatisfactory. Martial law has been proclaimed at Malmesbury and would have been proclaimed in other districts but that the cabinet meeting called Saturday was unable to agree as to its advisability.

The vagueness of the information concerning the movements and position of the invaders has sent a fresh cold fit over the colonists, and Cape Town calls loudly for strong re-enforcements from England on the ground that the greater part of Lord Kitchener's available force is employed in protecting the lines of communication and the Rand mines, the latter extending for a distance of 50 miles.

It is asserted by one Cape Town correspondent that unless the forces in Cape Colony are increased a most undesirable state of affairs may result, as the success in arms of the invaders, however slight, might be the signal for a Dutch rising. As it is many British residents have had to leave the Dutch villages near Cape Town, their lives being unbearable.

According to a native report, 100 men, either Boers or local farmers, have just passed through Clanwilliam district in the direction of Malmesbury.

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, who calls for 40,000 fresh troops, says:

"Prominent Afrikander loyalists declare that the rebellious colonists will construe the colonial call to arms as a challenge and that the ominous silence of the prorebels, combined with the fact that members of the pro-Boer junta in Cape Town have been touring in the disaffected districts, emphasizes the necessity for martial law. The necessity was never more acute for dispatching re-enforcements. Already there is proof that colonials are leading one commando."

The military movements reported are quite unimportant, though Portugal is sending re-enforcements to Lourenco Marques. Dr. Leyds, according to The Hague correspondent of The Daily Mail, is recruiting in Holland, Belgium, France and Germany, and his recruits will be sent out to Namaqualand, ostensibly as emigrants, each man receiving £50 down on starting.

The Cape Town correspondent of The Times, who confirms the reports of the multiplicity of the Boer commandos, says:

"Nearly five-sixths of the British troops are employed to guard the lines of communications and to garrison towns, leaving a very small number, partly unmounted, to pursue the enemy. Large re-enforcements are advisable, and these would be cheaper in the end.

"The damage which the Boers did to the Kleinfontein mine is officially estimated at £210,000."

Noted Railroad Official Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—John C. Sims, secretary of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and well known in railroad circles throughout the country, died at the University of Pennsylvania hospital at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Sims was operated upon on Dec. 11 to relieve him of an acute attack of appendicitis. He stood the shock of operation quite well and was slowly progressing toward complete recovery until Dec. 28, when his heart began to fail him. He rallied slightly from this new danger, but again grew worse. On Jan. 1, 1876, he entered the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad company as assistant secretary. Five years later he was promoted to the office of secretary. He was also made secretary of the Junction Railroad company, the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad company and the Baltimore Central Railroad company. He was also superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad employees' saving fund.

Tobacco Workers to Be Ordered Out.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7.—President Henry Fisher, of the International Tobacco Workers' union has announced that within the next two weeks all the stemmers in the employ of the Continental Tobacco company, which makes the plug tobacco sold by the American Tobacco company, probably will be called out. This, he says, will affect the factories of the company in all parts of the country, including St. Louis. According to Mr. Fisher, the grievances of the workers consist of dissatisfaction with the amount of pay received and the system of docking said to be in vogue in the factory. It is estimated that the Continental Tobacco company in all its factories throughout the country employs not less than 15,000 persons who would be affected by a general strike.

Southern Pacific Blockade Broken.

ASHLAND, Or., Jan. 7.—The weather has been clear and cold in all the territory covered by the unprecedented snowstorm of the past three days in southern Oregon and northern California, and the blockade on the Southern Pacific railroad has been effectively broken. Five hundred men are at work clearing the road where the slides occurred south of Dunsmuir on the Sacramento division, and the rotary snow plow went south to clear all sidings between Ashland and Dunsmuir.

Governor Allen Well Received.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 7.—Governor Allen, who left San Juan Thursday to visit the towns in the western part of the island, has returned to the capital. He visited several places never before visited by any governor of Porto Rico. Everywhere he was most enthusiastically received. At Lares 250 mounted citizens turned out to provide him with an escort.

Many Ducks For Cleveland.

GEORGETOWN, S. C., Jan. 7.—The Water Lily, the mail and messenger boat of Mr. Cleveland's party, came up to the city from the marshes yesterday morning deep down in the water with ducks. The weather which has been so unfavorable to those indifferent to the sport caused the ducks to swarm in the murky atmosphere.

A Carnegie Library For Seattle.

The Council and the Mayor.

The control of the city government passes today from the hands of Mayor Rockfellow and the Common Council of 1900, into the hands of Mayor O. L. Jenkins and the Common Council of 1901. Although the change in the city administration is commonly supposed to take place the first of the year, it really does not go into effect, according to the city charter, until the first Monday of the new year. So it was that Mayor Jenkins, although he received the keys of office last Tuesday, does not exercise his official duties as Mayor until today at noon.

It did seem rather peculiar that the last meeting of the Common Council for 1900 should be held on January 4, 1901, but the fact that the first Monday in January marks the official beginning of the duties of the city officials, chosen at the city election in December, explains the seemingly irregular happening.

Tonight the new Council will hold its first meeting. For the first time since the present formation of the Council was started, the same men who composed that body will hold over without change. According to the decision reached by the caucus of the members of the Council, held last week, the organization will be the same in 1901 as it was in 1900.

Mayor Jenkins will present his annual message at this evening's meeting of the Council As it is the very beginning of his term, his recommendations to the Council are likely to be of a more general character than they will be a year later when he will have had the advantage of a year's intimate acquaintance with the municipal machinery There will probably be little delay in acting on such important questions as may come before the Council this year, as the members are all well acquainted with their duties and do not require any time to complete their working organization.

There is prospect of a bitter fight in the ranks of the Union county Republicans over the choice of a chairman for the Republican county executive committee. For several years there has been trouble rankling in the breasts of some of the county leaders and this is merely a continuation of the old fight.

During his stay at Trenton, Assemblyman Charles S. Foote, of this city, will make his headquarters at the State Street House with the rest of the Union county delegation in the Assembly. State Senator Reed will be found at the Trenton House.

It looks very much as if the strong protest of the Borough Council regarding the application of Mr. Sisser for a licensed place on Somerset street would have the desired effect.

What promises to be an important session of the New Jersey Legislature will begin tomorrow evening. Already the law-makers are beginning to gather at the State capital.

The Plainfield Board of Education will organize for 1901 this evening. Dr. J. B. Probasco will undoubtedly succeed himself as President of the Board.

The attention of the Common Council of 1901 is respectfully called to the immediate need of providing the city with proper street signs.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Six months in jail, instead of convicting Mrs. Henrietta Fingerhuth, the North Plainfield murderess, of the futility of resisting a rent collector's process, has had only the effect of making her an habitual delinquent. She is spoiling to be sent back to prison. She lately drew a gun on a constable.

As there is no other place where she can abide rent free so safely as behind the bars, it seems well that her wish should be gratified. It was a judicial oversight that she did not get a longer sentence in the first instance.—Newark Advertiser.

The Crosstown Trolley Editor says: "With a city government we could have such things as Plainfield and Summit have, and we lack namely: All the year work for carpenters, painters, masons and tinmen, and the crosstown trolley, the greatest of all blessings. During a large part of last year when our mechanics were idle because no building was going up in Westfield, buildings were going up in great numbers in the cities round about us. Plainfield and Summit were both smaller than Westfield until they became cities. Now Plainfield has twenty times our money and five times our population, and Summit already has several times as much money, and is rapidly beating us in population.

Why talk of laws and figures, and why imagine strange things? Plainly we have the better situation, but we lack a government to do business with. Plainfield and Summit have beaten us solely because they did not have an antique form of government to keep them back.—Union County Standard, Westfield, N. J.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Cossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Lovers of whist will appreciate the blunder of the poor scholars in her Sunday-school class who was reading the verse "Let not mine enemies triumph over me," and who blundered into this: "Let not mine enemies trump over me."

* * * * * * *

The amusement which the family of N. W. Rappelye, Westervelt avenue, have had for many months with several red squirrels that have been household pets, is well known to their friends. The squirrels, it appears, have finally turned the tables upon their owners by helping themselves to a quantity of pecan nuts that had been stored in the cellar. Like snow before the sun these nuts gradually disappeared. Each member of the family had a suspicion that the other member was giving them away, and one of the family mildly intimated his suspicions. Not long ago a hole was noticed in the earth near the cellar door. It was first thought to have been made by rats. For some days the so called rat hole was a mystery to the members of the family. But not more so than was the gradual disappearance of the pecan nuts. From a good sized box, containing some eight quarts, in a few weeks the contents of the box seemed to almost entirely shrink away. For a time each member of the family kept the others under a sort of surveillance, but held their own counsel.

A day or two ago one of the members of the family had occasion to go into the cellar. To her surprise one of the squirrels was seen to run rapidly across the floor and disappear through a hole near the cellar door. To prove the suspicion that the squirrels were the thieves, a quantity of black walnuts were placed in the box where the pecans had been. In less than an hour these, also, had disappeared. This explained the disappearance of the pecans. The squirrels had carried off every one of them. The members of Mr. Rappelye's family think it strange that they did not notice the squirrels helping themselves to the nuts before they had all been carried away. Since the discovery of the thieves, certain members of the family have relieved their minds of their misgivings with regard to the undue generosity of certain other members.

Resigned as President.

On account of his removal from this city to New York, Frank O. Bristol has resigned his office as president of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church. Miss M. G. Morse has also resigned as corresponding secretary of the society.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:
Dear Sirs.—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family; but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully yours,

NEWS OF NEAR NEIGHBORS.

INTERESTING NOTES FROM PLAINFIELD'S SUBURBAN TOWNS.

Daily Budget Of News Gathered By The Daily Press' Corps of Special Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Annie Abbott visited Brooklyn relatives Saturday.

The first meeting of the Borough Council this year will be held this evening when it is expected the questions in regard to the Madison avenue macadam and the matters at issue with the Watchung Water Company will be definitely settled.

Yesterday being the Feast of the Epiphany the Holy Communion was celebrated at Holy Innocents' church at the afternoon service. On account of the illness of Rev. C. E. Phelps, of New Brunswick, no morning service was held.

The coming week will be observed as one of prayer by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. The first meeting was held in the latter church last evening.

Mrs. Daniel Randolph and daughter, of South Plainfield, were the guests of friends in the borough Saturday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Bernard Sirisky is spending a few days with relatives at Somerville.

Mrs. Robert Giddis has been the guest of New York relatives.

Frank Smalley is suffering from an attack of the grip.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, Jan. 7—A party of seventy-five from Plainfield enjoyed the excellent skating on the lake Saturday evening until thoroughly tired, when adjournment was taken to Hotel Nelson where supper was served.

J. Y. Wilson has a force of men in readiness, and, if the conditions are favorable, has intentions of harvesting the ice crop tomorrow.

Patrons of the Lake House were treated to an excellent "roast pig" supper Saturday evening.

Miss Mabel Stutz and Miss Jeffries, of Plainfield, were visitors in town Saturday.

Miss Estella Sofield has been visiting Newark friends during the past few days.

Mrs. M. W. Casterline is slowly improving from a severe illness.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 7—The installation services at the Park Avenue Baptist church, Plainfield, Sunday afternoon were well attended by the members of the Baptist Sunday-school of this place. George E. Hall, a former superintendent in the school, was installed as superintendent of the Park Avenue Baptist. Rev. J. S. Braker, a former pastor and well-known Sunday-school worker with Mr. Hall while he was president of the State Sunday-School Association, made an interesting address.

School reopened this morning at 9 o'clock after an enjoyable two weeks' holiday vacation. The bright and happy faces of both teachers and scholars gave evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the two weeks, but were now ready once more for study.

The members of the Baptist church will observe their annual week of payer beginning tonight. Services will be held every evening but Saturday. Subject for tonight's meeting will be "Our Present Passing Duty."

C. M. Bettman, of Fanwood, led an interesting B. Y. P. U. meeting in the parlors of the Baptist church last evening. The subject was "A Forward Look."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston and child, of Plainfield, were the guests Sunday of Mr. Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Johnston.

Miss Florence Winslow Glover, who is spending the winter with her aunt, Mrs. A. Trope, of Dover, Del., will return in a few weeks.

Miss Nina Saber, who has been enjoying the holidays at her parents home at Cortland, N. Y., returned home yesterday.

John F. Miller is able to be around again after a severe attack of the grip which confined him to the house for a week.

John Cook has been busy for several days past filling his ice house. The ice is 9 inches thick and of very good quality.

Miss Sadie Bager has returned from a pleasant visit of two weeks with relatives at Succasunna and Morristown.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, Jan. 7—The ordinance of baptism was administered at the Baptist church yesterday morning. The candidates were Miss Nellie Gage, Miss Lucy Gage and Miss Emma Tappen. The pastor preached upon "Our Spiritual Guidance."

The Baptist church will observe the annual week of prayer in the lecture room of the church, this week. Beginning Tuesday night there will be a service each evening during the week except Saturday. The meetings will open at 7:30.

The Christian Endeavor society will hold a business meeting on Tuesday night. A full attendance is desired.

Philip Smith, of New York, was visiting old friends in town Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Gusie Brown, of Jamesburg, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. John Manning.

An unclaimed letter, addressed to J. H. Clark, remains in the postoffice.

Charles H. Breece has advertised for sale a lot near the coal storage.

Miss Grace VanNest will spend this week visiting friends in Newark.

Miss Emma and Lennie Faulks are confined at home by the grip.

Mrs. John Manning is confined at home by serious illness.

Jas. H. Cubberley is suffering with an attack of the grip.

HOW WILL BIG DEAL AFFECT THE CENTRAL?

ever, that the plans will be carried out, modified to a greater or less extent in the future as the new mangement shall see fit.

Plainfield will probably see little or no difference in the service here. Such was the case on the two former occasions when the Reading system obtained temporary control of the Jersey Central. This is too valuable a property to neglect to maintain the present efficiency of the local traffic system. The rates of fare are generally similar with those of competing roads. The Reading has a slightly different arrangement in providing a reduced rate of fare for regular travelers to suburban towns which may possibly go into effect here but it would not affect the present commutation system.

Every announcement concerning the plans for the new owners of the Jersey Central will be watched with much interest by all Plainfield. It is hardly likely, however, that the details of the change which would affect this city will be settled immediately.

TO BUILD TROLLEY ROAD.

Henry McCormick to Go to Chatham, England, to Superintend Building of Trolley Line There.

Henry McCormick, formerly employed on the local trolley line, but for some time past connected with the North Jersey Traction Company, will soon go to Chatham, England, where he will superintend the construction of a trolley line in that city. The city has a population of about 40,000 and no means of getting about, except through the ordinary 'bus. Mr. McCormick will be accompanied by his wife and they will devote some time to sight seeing before their return. At present Mr. and Mrs. McCormick are residents of the borough.

NEW CYCLE COMPANY.

F. L. C. Martin is Interested in New Concern With Factory at Buffalo.

Papers incorporating the Thomas Cycle Company have been recorded in the Essex county clerk's office at Newark. It is capitalized at $400,000, divided into 4,000 shares of the par value of $100 each and $1,000 has been subscribed by F. L. C. Martin, of this city, one share, and these men from Buffalo, N. Y.: Edwin R. Thomas four shares; Louis H. Bill, one share; Henry Pokorney, one share; Orion F. Thomas, one share; Louis Ohnhaus, one share, and J. MacAdam, one share. The object of the concern is said to be the manufacture and sale of bicycles, motors, automobiles and gas engines. The factory will be located at Buffalo and the headquarters of the company will be at the store of Martin & Kohler at Newark.

Report Denied.

A report current that ex Superintendent John Adlemann, of the street railway, is to take the mangement of Joseph A. Blatz's place, corner of Front and Somerset street, is denied by Blatz.

Card Party at Park Club.

A card party will be given at the Park Club tomorrow evening for the members under the auspices of the entertainment committee.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

At Music Hall tonight Miss Dorothy Lewis and her splendid company appear in Hall Reid's beautiful play, "Hearts of the Blue Ridge." The question has been asked why "Hearts of the Blue Ridge" please people? In the first place "Hearts of the Blue Ridge" was written for the people and that means a whole lot when you come to think of it. It has been tried and not found wanting. It does please and a few of the many reasons are, that it is healthy in tone and perfectly natural, not an improbable, let alone an impossible, incident in the piece; it tells a story of living, breathing, human beings who talk and act just about as anyone would do under similar circumstances, and the circumstances are not at all unusual in that locality, the hills of North Carolina. Ordinarily a "pure play of heart interest, etc," means a play about as exciting as a bowl of dish water, but if you can find anything tame in the story of a North Carolina feud—well, you won't find it in "Hearts of the Blue Ridge," for while the play is not boisterous nor absurdly dramatic, it accurately portrays all the intense human passions of a North Carolina feud.

* * * * *

Klaw and Erlanger's beautiful production of the extravaganza "Jack and the Beanstalk" comes to Music Hall Thursday night bearing the unstinted praise of the press in all the cities where it has been seen and the descriptions of the production conveys impressions of rare splendor. This extravaganza was written for the first Corps of Cadets of Boston by R. A. Barnet. It appeared as a work favorable of professional presentation and the rights were promptly secured. From the first night at the New York Casino, "Jack" has been conspicuously successful. Indeed it has acquired a record for attendance and receipts without parallel in the history of this country, at the regular scale of prices which are obtained at first-class houses. After the engagement at New York the production was transferred to Philadelphia and Boston successfully and so marked was the impression in these cities, its first tour was confined to them. The next season was inaugurated in the Columbia Theatre, Chicago, and later it was presented in all the large cities in the middle west with results in keeping with those gained in New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Funeral of Mrs. Sebring.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Edward H. Sebring, who died suddenly on Saturday morning, will beld tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from the home of Jacob Voebl on Somerset street. It will be strictly private.

Doing Regular Duty.

Special Officers Aaron Mattox and John Gallagher are now doing regular duty in the places made vacant by the illness of Roundsman Mattox and Patrolman Higgins.

Scott's Closed Down.

The Scott Press Works closed down Saturday to allow repairs to be made to shafting and the engine. The men will resume work Thurday morning.

Planning for a Sociable.

The Woman's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church is planning to hold a sociable at the church Wednesday, Jan. 16

An Unusual Opportunity.
SUBSCRIPTION PLAN FOR 200,000 SHARES of the Treasury Stock of the BROWNLOW MINING AND MILLING COMPANY.
THE BROWNLOW GOLD MINES.

DESCRIPTION
This property is located at the entrance to Mosquito Gulch Park County, Colorado, and comprises 83 acres mineral ground, and is equipped with a complete plant of heavy machinery for hoisting, pumping, drilling and milling. The development work consists of about 3,000 feet of shafts and levels, and the production to date has been about $150,000. It is three miles from Alma and twelve miles from Leadville, and is in the heart of one of the largest mineral producing regions, with a record of $260,000,000 in the past twenty years.

HISTORY
The ore chute on this property was discovered in 1878, and in the following years over $150,000 was taken therefrom and expensive buildings, machinery and development constructed. Owing to heavy operating expenses and high smelting charges, the net production was but $50,000; while the mill was found unequal to the task of reducing the very large bodies of low grade sulphide ore found with depth. The owners thus got into financial difficulties and the property was foreclosed on a mortgage, passing into the hands of the present owners in 1896.

PROFITS
The upper half of the property has been most thoroughly explored and it is estimated that at a profit of but $2 per ton this ground will yield a net profit of $709,600, sufficient to pay annual dividends of twenty per cent for over fifteen years. What the lower half will yield is unknown, but it will greatly exceed the above estimate.

TITLE
Of the 83 acres about twenty-six are patented and the balance are in process of patenting. There are two adverses involving about thirteen acres and a compromise has been offered by adverse claimants, which is favorable to the Company. There is an indebtedness of about $11,000 against the property.

SUBSCRIPTION PLAN
For the purpose of clearing up this indebtedness and providing working capital to operate this valuable mine on the scale it deserves, this Company will place in their treasury 45 per cent. of the entire capital stock, amounting to 450,000 shares, and of this they offer to the public by subscription 200,000 shares at thirty cents per share, in blocks of 5,000 shares each, at $1,500 per block. Terms of subscription, 10 per cent. to be paid down and the balance when allotted by the STANDARD TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK.

CAPITAL STOCK
The capital stock of the BROWNLOW MINING & MILLING COMPANY is one million fully paid and non-assessible shares, par value $1. The $600,000 realized from the sale of the 200,000 shares will be applied as follows:
To discharge indebtedness, $11,000 — Water power, $10,000
50 ton pyrite smelter, $25,000 — Working capital, $14,000
It is estimated that an expenditure of $5,400 for development will put the mine in pay ore in about thirty to sixty days from time of starting the air drills in fourth level, and that the mine will pay all further expenses of development from that time on; so that the above allowance of $14,000 seems ample for all requirements. In addition to this, however, the Company will have a reserve fund of 250,000 shares in its treasury, which, in case of necessity, can be sold to realize $75,000.

A GREAT FUTURE
The property is endorsed by the leading press of Colorado and every mining man, miner and prospector who is familiar with it or has worked in it believes it has a great future

OFFICERS
The officers of the Company are as follows:
President, EDWARD BARR, ex-Treasurer Brooklyn Bridge, Treasurer of the Storage Power Co., New York, and dealer in machinists' and mining supplies for the past twenty-five years at 78 John Street, New York
Vice-President, SAMUEL R. ZWETOW, for nine years of the banking house of Greenebaum Sons, Chicago, and now a wholesale jeweler of Denver.
Secretary and Treasurer, I. VAN BAALEN, a member of the firm of E. Van Noorden Co., metal workers, Boston, Mass., for thirteen years, and a resident of Colorado for the past nine years.

DIRECTORS
In addition to the foregoing, the following:
HENRY C. SPRAGUE, of Stetson, Jennings & Russell, New York. PAUL E. RICHTER, of National Advertising Co., Denver. THOS. J. LEITWICH, of Wolcott & Vale, Denver.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Letzthin beging das hiesige Lehrerseminar II die 25jährige Wiederkehr des Jahrestages seiner feierlichen Eröffnung. Diese Lehrerbildungsanstalt ist die einzige unter den fünf badischen Seminarien, die simultanen Charakter hat.—Die Strafkammer verurtheilte zwei internationale Taschendiebe, den 45 Jahre alten Eugen Moroge aus Audincourt und den 30 Jahre alten Wilhelm Griffin aus London, zu je vier Jahren Zuchthaus und Stellung unter Polizeiaufsicht. Sie hatten hier auf dem Bahnhofe einem Reisenden im Gedränge eine Brieftasche mit über 3000 Mark Werthinhalts gestohlen. Ein dritter Kumpan, Andre Gerard aus Port Said, konnte nicht ermittelt werden.

Wien. Der Besitzer der Kunstanstalt „Minerva," Konstantin Kapuscha, Urheber der neulichen großen Burenkundgebung im Sophiensaale und Schöpfer der Huldigungsadresse an Krüger, wurde wegen grober Kautionsschwindeleien verhaftet. Er hatte in seiner „Anstalt" rund 30 junge Leute mit unnützen Schreibereien beschäftigt und ihnen Kautionen abgenommen, von denen er flott lebte. Bei seiner Verhaftung fand man nur mehr 14 Heller bei ihm.—Der Schuhmacher Lunacer ermordete seine drei Kinder, verletzte ein viertes lebensgefährlich und schlitzte sich selbst den Bauch auf.—Das „Achilleion," das Schloß weiland Kaiserin Elisabeths auf Corfu, ist für 800,000 Francs an einen Amerikaner verkauft worden.

Budapest. Zwischen Dunakesz und der dortigen Donauinsel wurde ein Donautunnel eröffnet. Derselbe hat eine Länge von 530 Meter und befindet sich 8 Meter unter dem Nullpunkte des Donauspiegels. Der Bau dieses großartigen Werkes nahm sechs Monate in Anspruch. Durch diesen Tunnel werden der Budapester Wasserleitung täglich 225,000 Kubikmeter Wasser zugeführt, die eine 14 Meter dicke Schotterschicht zu passiren haben. Durch dieses neue Werk ist Budapest für Jahre hinaus mit ausgezeichnetem Trinkwasser versorgt.

Graz. Der bekannte Kirchendieb Franz Werdan, der unter Anderem am 27. Februar 1893 in der Kirche Maria am Gestade ein mit Edelsteinen besetztes goldenes Votivherz gestohlen hatte und dann wiederholt aus der Irrenanstalt Feldhof, wohin er als geisteskrank gebracht worden war, auf verwegene Weise und trotz der genauesten Ueberwachung entsprang, ist kürzlich abermals aus dieser Irrenanstalt entsprungen.

Isola. Ahier sind 37 Erkrankungen und fünf Todesfälle vorgekommen, welche auf eine Vergiftung durch die massenhaft im Meere gefischten Stachelschnecken, im Volke „Garruse" genannt, zurückgeführt werden. Es wurde eine Untersuchung eingeleitet.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

A ROYAL EXPLORER.

Prince Luigi Has Surpassed Feat of Fridtjof Nansen.

Has Just Arrived from Arctic Regions After Having Attained the Highest Latitude Ever Reached—Trip Lasted 15 Months.

A telegram from Tromsoe, Norway, reports the return of the Stella Polare with the duke of Abruzzi's arctic expedition on board, adding that the Stella Polare reached a point in latitude 86.33 north, thus penetrating farther north than Dr. Nansen did.

The duke of Abruzzi sailed for the north on June 12, 1899. The departure was made from Christiania in Norway, and the then crown prince and princess of Italy, now King Victor and Queen Helene, accompanied their adventurous cousin on his ship, the Stella Polare, as far as the North Cape. Some time before he sailed it was said that the prince announced that he would go farther north than Nansen or perish in the attempt. These stories the explorer indignantly denied, denouncing such a boast as altogether unworthy a scientific man. He said that he thoroughly appreciated the dangers before him, the mighty risks, and the uncertainty in all polar expeditions.

Abruzzi is a nephew of the late King Humbert, and is noted for his love of exploration and of geographical science. He is the only royal prince who has endangered his life in arctic travel and risky mountain climbing. A few years ago he paid a visit to Alaska and made the ascent of Mount Elias. He is brave, young, handsome, and a notable sportsman and yachtsman. When he began preparations for his record-breaking journey to the arctic regions the powerful influence of King Humbert was used to dissuade him from an experiment which was regarded as a most foolhardy attempt for a prince to make, but he rejected this advice and went on with his work.

When Abruzzi sailed Nansen saw the expedition off and was high in

DUKE OF ABRUZZI.
(Italian Prince Famous as an Explorer and Geographer.)

praise of the care which the prince had bestowed on his preparations. The famous Norwegian declared that this expedition was the best equipped that had ever started northward.

Nansen's expedition, which has been now eclipsed by the Italian prince, was begun in 1892, in which year he completed his ship, the Fram (Onward). With the Fram and a crew of 12 men he set out on July 21, 1893. On September 18 the ship stuck in the ice in latitude 78½ and remained frozen up for three years. In March, 1895, the Fram was in 84 degrees, and there Nansen and his friend Johansen began their journey northward.

On April 7, 1895, they observed 86 degrees 13 minutes and 6 seconds. Nansen then went on alone for a few miles until he reached 86 degrees 14 minutes, the farthest point ever attained up to that time.

Prince Luigi is 27 years old. He was born at Madrid while his father was king of Spain, and is the youngest brother of the duke of Aosta and the count of Turin. His aunt is dowager queen of Portugal and his stepmother is the Dowager Duchess Letitia of Aosta.

Previous to Nansen's attempt the following were among the records of arctic exploration:

1868—Van Otter (a Swede) reached 81 degrees 42 minutes N.
1874—Payer (the Austrian) reached 82 degrees 7 minutes N.
1872—Meyer (with Hall) reached 82 degrees 9 minutes N.
1871—Hall and Buddington reached 82 degrees 16 minutes N.
1876—Beaumont (with Nares) reached 82 degrees 21 minutes N.
1887—Perry reached 82 degrees 45 minutes N.
1876—Aldrich (with Nares) reached 83 degrees 7 minutes N.
1876—Markham (with Nares) reached 83 degrees 20 minutes N.

Next the honors for the furthest point north passed to America through the Greely expedition, when in 1882 Lockwood and Brainerd reached 83 degrees 24 minutes north. Now the duke of Abruzzi has gained the record.

Exports Show No Shrinkage.

Exports of American tools and machinery do not show the shrinkage in volume which recent reports would indicate. Some concern has been expressed by leading export houses by reason of a falling off in foreign orders due to the high prices of iron and steel. In this connection it will be interesting to note that the exports of builders' hardware, saws and tools during the fiscal year 1900 were the largest in the history of our export trade, being $9,646,017, against $7,842,372 in 1899, $6,627,466 in 1897, and $5,509,188 in 1896, prior to which year the exports in this line had never aggregated so much as $5,000,000. In exports of sewing machines, typewriters, electrical and other intricate machinery there are also gratifying increases.

FASHION HINTS.

New Ideas Regarding Decorations and Accessories.

Motifs cut from old lace and guipure are utilized by being applied on a ground of pale tinted taffeta and outlined by a tiny cord or galloon of the same tint. Taffeta thus treated is used for plastrons, yokes, revers and similar purposes.

A pretty idea is to pin a small cluster of velvet pansies or violets at the throat in place of a brooch.

Natural flowers worn upon the corsage soon wither, and various devices have been tried to lengthen the period of their beauty. One method is to allow the stems to stand in alcohol for ten minutes, then to put them in gum water for one or two minutes. After that they are to be taken out and kept in the shade until the gum water dries.

Materials with perforated designs of lozenges, etc., are prepared for trimming winter costumes and are to be used over very light or white garments of taffeta, satin or velvet.

The cut shows a gown of an old blue shade. The skirt of voile is gathered at the waist and embroidered around the foot with silk of a deeper blue. The wrinkled bodice of blue silk has draperies of embroidered voile in front and at the back and a yoke of alternate bands of plaiting and embroidery. A scarf of black mousseline de soie is fastened at the shoulder and waist by black choux, the long fringed ends hanging upon the skirt. The sleeves of voile are embroidered at the edge and terminate in a large puff of voile, which is gathered into a black band. Frills of lace fall over the band. The collar is of black mousseline de soie. The black velvet hat is trimmed with a black plume, blue velvet and a buckle.

SKIRTS.

They Still Cling and Are Longer Than Ever.

With skirts of cloth, wool or silk velvet boleros are effectively worn. Boleros of fur will also be used this winter, especially of astrakhan.

The skirt perfectly plain or buttoned at the back has disappeared, and now there are always gathers or plaits employed. The single or double watteau plait is most generally seen, but two or three plaits laid underneath are less stiff in appearance. The effect aimed at in all skirts is softness. No rigid lines are allowed, and the ample circumference trails upon the ground, even in the case of tailor made gowns. This is, of course, extremely inconvenient and has brought about a reaction in large American cities, where women who have much walking to do wear the short, rainy day skirt even when the day is fair, reserving the long skirt for less businesslike occasions.

Today's sketch illustrates a bolero of satin cloth. It is short and is cut in two points in front, the edges being ornamented by a braided pattern. The square revers and the collar are of panne. The sleeves, decorated like the bolero, are large at the base and are open at the seam, with full undersleeves of mousseline de soie gathered under a ribbon at the wrist. The wrinkled corselet and the full chemisette are of mousseline de soie. Small gold buttons form the additional decoration, and the ribbon cravat has gold ornaments at the ends.

CHILDREN'S FASHIONS.

Styles In the Attire of Little Girls. Plaits In Vogue.

Plaits are universally worn and are as much used for children as for grown persons. For little girls there are plaited skirts of all kinds, tucked, laid flat, with hollow plaits, and, in fact, with every variation known to the adult wardrobe. The short bolero, rounded and closed at the side by a single button, is much favored by children. The collar is of tucked muslin or guipure, with a little taffeta or mousseline de soie plaiting around the edge. The newest collar is one of guipure laid over a colored lining of silk.

Cloth, especially that with a pin point variation of surface, is a favorite material for children; also corduroy and velveteen. For nicer gowns there are bengalines, poplins and cashmeres. Tiny ruches, guipure and ruffles of mousseline de soie matching the goods in color form the decorations.

Today's sketch shows a girl's costume of gray goods. The skirt is plain in front and plaited at the sides and back. The bodice has a blouse front, with a plastron of black and white striped silk. The wide collar is of dark gray velvet, and the cravat, which passes under it, is of cream silk, with choux at the breast and waist. The belt is of plaited cream silk. The tight sleeves have dark gray velvet cuffs. The hat of gray velvet is trimmed with bunches of dark gray velvet loops and cream ostrich plumes.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE MODE.

Styles In Which Winter Costumes Are Made.

Separate linings for skirts are used chiefly under tunics, peplums or draped or slashed upper skirts, and the upper skirt is not lined. The separate lining skirt is completed at the foot by one or more circular flounces of the dress material. The lining is not invariably like the skirt, as it is permissible to choose a light, bright or contrasting color.

The princess gown is again to carry off the highest honors of fashion. Related to this is the redingote, which is also well worn, both as part of the gown and also as an outside garment. In the latter case it is to be very richly lined for winter and is to have a high collar and sleeves expanding toward the wrist.

The new bodices are plaited, stitched and corded in the same manner as skirts, and the junction between the two is hardly visible owing to the similar arrangement of the ornamentation.

An illustration is given of a winter sack of heavy beige cloth. It is of half length, and the breadths composing it fold over one another toward the base, the corners being rounded and the edges completed with rows of stitching. The valois collar is made in the same overlapping manner and is also stitched. The revers are faced with white satin and are covered with lines of beige stitching. The sleeves are fitted with stitched darts at the top, while at the wrist they are loose, the edge being slashed and stitched. The lining is of white satin.

What is the Future of Pugilism in the United States?

WHAT will become of the pugilists when all of the communities of the United States place a ban on prize ring exhibitions? This is a query that has been asked with great regularity ever since the Empire state killed the objectionable Horton law under which pugilism ran amuck and a great city of several millions was satiated with prize fights, both real and "faked." With many thousands of people it is a consummation devoutly to be wished that all the "bruisers" should be driven into other walks of life—that the fellows who earn large sums for pummeling other "athletes" should be compelled to work for a living.

But objectionable as the view must be to the law-abiding people, who are quite certain that prize fighting is illegal, there is no prospect of a millenium in the affairs of the prize ring. New York state has made it impossible for the politicians to promote fighting enterprizes, and a small army of pugilists, trainers and hangers-on has been deprived of a means of obtaining a living in Gotham. But the end is not yet. The fraternity that lived in the squared circle will never be found enriching the country in agricultural communities. The men of thick necks and brawny arms will not use their strength in factories or in producing wealth for the country. There will be prize fighting in the United States so long as men are willing to patronize the so-called sport. If the pugilist may not display his prowess in the ring in such a great public building as Madison Square garden where a recent alleged "fight" between former champion James J. Corbett and "Kid" McCoy drew a "house" of over $50,000, they will drift over the country to cities that permit "boxing bouts" of six rounds or more in length, and pick up a living on the purses offered by the small fight promoters.

As He Appeared in His Prime and When He Departed for His Home in Australia a Few Months Ago.

The prize fighter is the effect produced by the toleration which municipalities have shown toward the fighting "game." He is not the cause of the conditions under which he flourishes. Several years of bountiful purses and plenty of opportunities to evade the law so that monster throngs might be entertained—under police protection at that—have developed a species of aristocracy among the fighters that many seasons of adversity will not eradicate. The pugilist has become a philosopher. He has reasoned that there must have been a great demand for his work or there would not have been so many political arts used in circumventing the law and bringing about meetings between champion fighters. It will be difficult for the authorities to impress upon the fighting man the fact that the state will not permit public fighting.

It cannot be successfully contended that the laws against prize fighting in Illinois, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Ohio, etc., are too strict to prevent occasional appearances of pugilists in avowed prize fights. A championship battle under the elastic terms which obtained in the 25-round affairs in the east may be fought in six rounds under the restricted regulations of Chicago or other cities. No one doubted that "Terry" McGovern, "Kid" McCoy, Tommy Ryan, "Benny" Yanger and other champions in their classes would relinquish their so-called titles did they suffer defeat in a six-round battle.

But the financial side of the situation may eventually clear up the pugilistic muddle quicker and better than any number of crusades intended to execute the laws against fighting. If the public apathy continues, it will be impossible to get an attendance large enough to pay one-half of the purse demanded by some star fighter for his appearance in a ring. Take away the gate receipts, and the men who promote fighting exhibitions will soon quit the business. "Bob" Fitzsimmons, the recent conqueror of "Sailor Tom" Sharkey, has read the handwriting on the wall. The day of big purses for the heavy weight champions and their rivals has passed. He has been a frugal man since his advent into the money-drawing end of pugilism, and may not be affected by the stringency in the money market for fighters. "Bob" has turned his thoughts toward conducting a physical exercise resort, and teaching boxing, "pure and simple."

"There will always be a certain amount of prize fighting," said Former Champion Harry Gilmore, "but the field is growing restricted each season. When I was battling for lightweight championship honors there were no such purses as the game in New York and the vicinity produced. The promoters of the fights now permitted throughout many states have solved the problem. They have reduced the business to a science, and remuneration for fighters—who may or may not do much real fighting—has been placed at a basis that makes it merely a salary for those who follow the ring. The army of fighters driven out of the east will invade the west, and the same general programme of ring events may be expected west of New York with almost their former regularity."

"Jimmy" Barry, than who there never was a greater exponent of the "manly art" in his 105-pound class or 110-pound class, if another period in Barry's ring life is taken into consideration, naively remarked to me the other day that brick yards and shops would gain many recruits, of a necessity, were the wave of adversity to continue to sweep over the average follower of the prize ring. Barry has quit the business, and is ready to warn any young man who thinks that there is an easy living in being a pugilist, to take up work on a section of a big railroad miles from the firing line of civilization, in preference to breaking into the pugilist's domain.

After all, what does a career of great prosperity in the prize ring profit the majority of men? Champion Jeffries made a lot of money, but the critics have plenty to say about his "exaggerated capital." Constant training for big fights, and the associations of the life, leave their imprint on the dissolute fellows who seek the prize ring as a useful scheme for bringing in money. The case of Peter Jackson, the former colored champion heavy weight, now in Sydney, Australia, is a convincing one. He was a strong, quick fighter, who gained all sorts of ring honors, and who defeated his rival for Australian championship honors when he conquered over Frank Slavin abroad. Jackson's case might excite pity were he not a pugilist. The pictures of this colored Apollo when he was in his prime—this conqueror of George Godfrey, Joe McAuliffe, Patsy Cardiff, Jim Smith and a host of lesser lights—when he was a fighting machine with a great following and those taken when he was almost a physical wreck, point a moral to those who think that all is gold and health at the end of the route that a ring expert follows. When the pugilists who make large sums of money so easily become so prodigal in their expenditures that they give no thought for the future, common humanity dictates that they should have guardians. I have seen Peter Jackson playing Uncle Tom, and have seen him forget that he was the "old and infirm slave," when he picked little Eva up and sat her down to hear his story, as if she weighed but ten pounds. But the "strenuous life" of the winning pugilist tells on the man who will not heed. How great a change may be wrought in a strong man by sickness and defeat is shown by a glance at the accompanying pictures taken by Bushnell, of San Francisco, of Peter Jackson.

There is one pugilist, however—and the marvel of the ring followers of two hemispheres—who will not become a victim of the "strenuous life." He is "Terry" McGovern. This young man, not yet in his majority, finds himself the feather weight champion of the world and worth many thousands of dollars. He outclasses every man of his weight and inches, is married and enjoys the distinction of being a kind father and I fear no contradiction when I say that Terry is an anomaly. This boy has revolutionized pugilism, as it were. He has shown that a fighter may lead the life of a good citizen by refraining from drink, from the use of tobacco and profanity and by loving his home and its ties. He is a premier fighter, and a business man. He cares little about the future in store for the fighters. "When I can no longer enter the ring for purses—you know this is a business with me, just as the merchant's avocation is with him—I will devote my time to my property and my family," says Terry. Perhaps the influence of the "Brooklyn Whirlwind" will be felt by other members of the prize fighting profession, and we shall have a class of men who are brutal only in their appearance in the ring.

ART IN ARCHITECTURE

Designed and Written Especially for This Paper

THERE is great satisfaction in perfectly planned dwellings, where everything is properly arranged and contributes to the safety and convenience of the inmates. Here the charming client of the fair sex graces the office with her presence, but she is often very trying to the patience of the architect by insisting upon embodiment in her plans of unsuitable features she saw at B——, or her aunt has in her house, and she must have large closets for every room, if not more, in impossible places.

A COZY TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLAR HOUSE.

The convenience of the arrangement here offered is apparent on glancing at the floor plans, and the whole needs but little explanation. The entrance through the vestibule is into the parlor on the left. This room is quite large for a dwelling of this character. Back of this one reaches the dining-room and kitchen, both of good size. The passage from the kitchen to the dining-room is through a pantry well-fitted with shelves, pastry table and flour bins. The arrangement of the stairway is an especial attraction. Going up from the front vestibule or kitchen the two flights merge into one on a landing about three feet above the floor, landing on the second floor in a small hall, from which one may enter either of the three large bedrooms, all of which are provided with good closets.

PLANS OF FIRST AND SECOND FLOORS.

The house is set about 18 inches above the surface of the ground, with the lawn slightly graded to the front line and nicely terraced. Since the comfort and utility of a house depend so much upon the arrangement and relative position of the rooms, the success of a design may be said to depend largely upon the manner in which the planning is executed. This fact, unfortunately, is often overlooked, and features of elevation are allowed to predominate over essential details of the plan. In this design we have succeeded in getting a very satisfactory arrangement and at the same time a simple but pleasing exterior.

The foundation should be of good quality stone or brick, well laid and bonded. The frame should be of good sound pine or hemlock. The walls should be sheathed with a shiplap or flooring and building paper and sided with clear pine half-inch siding. The height of the first story is 9½ feet, of the second story 8½ feet. There is a cellar under the kitchen and dining-room, seven feet deep.

The interior finish on the first floor is of clear white pine, finished natural, and painted pine on second floor.

It all depends on the inmates of such a house whether it improves with age, or, on the other hand, from carelessness and indifference it is allowed to go to rack and ruin. A house can be built after the plan as here described for from $1,000 to $1,200.

E. A. PAYNE.

GERM-PROOF HOSPITAL.

There Will Be No Place in the Whole Building Where a Speck of Dirt Can Rest.

St. Louis is to have a germ-proof hospital, the first of its kind ever built. There will not be a crack or corner in the whole building in which a germ or speck of dirt can rest.

Bacteria, microbes and the other insidious agents of disease will be fought scientifically. The patients will find the institution stainless. This feature is new in hospital building, and very necessary. When it is necessary for attendants to go from one floor to another or for patients to be moved, gradual inclines will do away with the labor of climbing steps.

It will be impossible for dust to find lodgment in this institution. The floors, ceilings and corners of the rooms and halls will be coved or rounded at the ceilings and floors. There will be no friendly crevices for the dust to settle in. This, too, is a new feature. It expedites the cleaning of a room and insures the absolute removal of the most minute particle of dirt and dust.

Floors of vitrified tile and wainscoting of enameled brick will be used. The hospital will be absolutely fireproof. The ventilation will be such as to give the greatest amount of fresh air possible. There will be an abundance of sunlight. These features are to be pronounced.

The system of sterilization to be used will be extensive and complete. It will embrace even the laundry. Every drop of water, hot or cold, will be thoroughly sterilized. There will be the latest invention for the sterilization of the clothes of the surgeons and nurses, as well as for all bandages and instruments. Into a machine capable of having live steam at a temperature of 1,000 degrees turned on must make everything go. There will be absolutely no chance for any germ to live or be conveyed by contact.—Chicago American.

The Wheel in Many Tongues.

Here is an amusing linguistic consultation on the subject of the denomination of the velocipede in different languages: In French it is called celerifere and velosifere. Then came the words bicycle, bicyclette, veloce, and at last velo. The word became, which has also been given to it, is taken from the Argot. Its etymology is unknown. It signifies simply machine. In Italian it is called velocifero, velocipede and bicicletta. The same in Spanish. In Germany it is farrad or simply rad, just as in English they say wheel. The Chinese call it sometimes gaugma, which means foreign horse, and sometimes fei chai, flying machine. They also call it tzu tzun, carriage that goes without horse. But the palm must be given to the Flemish. In addition to the appellations snelwiel, voetwiel, etc., some of the wags on the banks of the Escault have baptized this winged contraption with the centipede name, Cewielsnelrijvoettrappendneusdrekergestel!

How Mexicans Make Ice.

In one of the highest valleys of Oaxaca, Mexico, at an elevation of 8,000-9,000 feet, there is a flourishing ice industry, which is based on the well-known principle of the reduction of temperature by radiation of temperature during the night. The ground is covered with a large number of shallow wooden troughs, which are filled with water, and during the winter nights a film of not more than one-eighth of an inch in thickness is formed. The ice is removed on the following morning, shoveled into holes in the ground, and then covered with earth. It rapidly solidifies and is then cut into blocks and sent by mules to the cities below, where it is readily sold.

Flow of Artesian Wells.

Artesian wells have a daily period of ebb and flow, as well as the ocean tides, only the process is reversed. The time of greatest flow of an artesian well is the period of low tide in the ocean.

OFFICERS WERE INSTALLED.

INTERESTING SERVICES AT PARK AVENUE BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Newly Elected Officers Were Publicly Installed—Classes Graduated From Primary Department.

The public installation services of the Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school yesterday afternoon attracted a good attendance. They were the most interesting of any held by this church in some years.

The election of officers took place Saturday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Runyon, of East Sixth street, when interesting reports were read showing the school to be in a good condition and evidences of much interest manifested. The newly-elected officers are: Superintendent, George B. Hall; assistant superintendent, Miss Florence G. Hawkins; secretary, Thomas A. Cuming; treasurer, Joseph M. Hawkins; librarian, E. Frank Vail; organist, Miss Elmira H. Runyon; superintendent of home department, Miss M. Adelaide Runyon; superintendent of primary department, Miss Elmira C. Runyon.

At 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon the installation exercises were held. A feature of the services was the sand map of Palestine, which the children of the primary department had been instructed in and with which they displayed considerable familiarity.

The installation of the newly-elected officers of the Sunday-school was under the supervision of Rev. J. W. Richardson, the pastor of the church, who delivered a short address in which he called attention to the importance of the duties which the officers had assumed and the responsibilities that accompanied them.

The address to the school was delivered by Rev. James S. Braker, of Waltham, Mass., a former pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church. Mr. Braker called attention to the importance of the members being punctual in attendance. He also congratulated the school upon the apparent increase in growth.

The charge to the teachers was delivered by George H. Krause, of Cranford. He impressed upon them the importance of faithfulness, enthusiasm and love for their pupils in the work that they had so willingly undertaken. He complimented the teachers on having secured so able a man as Mr. Hall to supervise the school work. The addresses of Mr. Braker and Mr. Krause were closely listened to by all.

Before the addresses two classes from the primary department were graduated into the main school with appropriate exercises conducted by Miss Elmira C. Runyon, who made a few remarks to Superintendent Hall to which the latter responded briefly. The classes were then conducted to the main school. The names of those graduated are: Martha Soper, Susie Whitney, Lillian Cuming, Arline Brown, Walter Van Winkle, David Smalley, Edgar Freeman. During the exercises solos were rendered by Mrs. J. S. Braker, of Waltham, Mass., and Miss Elsie Giles, of this city.

The exercises closed with an appropriate hymn by Miss Giles as soloist, and the school joining the chorus. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. G. M. Shott, pastor of the Baptist church of Scotch Plains.

Miss Lizzie Smalley, of Craig place, is visiting out of town friends.

LEAL'S SCHOOL WON.

Defeated Lincoln High School, of Westfield, in First Hockey Match of Season.

The first match game of hockey of the season was played on Holly's pond, Saturday morning, and resulted in a victory for the Leal's School team over the team from the Lincoln High School, of Westfield, by a score of 6 to 1. The first half was rather one-sided, the Leal boys scoring four goals, although they displayed very little team play. In the second half both teams showed decided improvement. The Plainfield boys kept together better, but clever work by Sherman prevented them from scoring but twice. Tilney played a particularly fine game for the local school.

The teams lined up as follows:

| LEAL'S SCHOOL. | | LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL. |
|---|---|---|
| Tilney | forward | Green |
| R. Schoonmaker (capt.) | " | Welch, (capt.) |
| W. Schoonmaker | " | Knight |
| Wright-H Rogers | " | L. Reese |
| Abbott | cover point | S. Reese |
| Corwin | point | Braiuard |
| Mellick | goal | Sherman |

Score—Leal's School, 6; Lincoln High School, 1. Goals—Tilney (5,) R. Schoonmaker. Welch. Referee—Storey Rowland, of St. Paul's School.

FANWOOD DEFEATED LOCAL BUSINESS MEN.

Opening Basket Ball Game at Fanwood Club House Saturday Night.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE.

FANWOOD A. C. TEAM WON BY SCORE OF 19 TO 12.

Business Men's Team From Plainfield Put Up a Strong Game—Great Goal Throwing by Smith—Very Little Team Work.

After a hard fought game the basket ball team of the Fanwood Athletic Club defeated the Business Men's team from the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. at the Fanwood club house Saturday evening by a score of 19 to 12. It was the first regular game for the new Fanwood team while the Business Men had only played one other game this season against a local association five. An enthusiastic audience watched the match.

In the fall the Fanwood A. C. was organized by a number of young men from Fanwood and this city, among the latter of whom were all but two of the famous basket ball team which represented the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. so successfully in past seasons. An active season has been arranged and Saturday evening's contest was the first of many which will be held at Fanwood this winter.

It was expected that the Fanwood team would win, as they had three of the old crack "five" playing, while three of the Business Men were entirely new at the game. The game proved closer than was expected.

At the start the Business Men forced the playing and put up a strong, offensive game. The peculiar arrangement of the goals handicapped them considerably, but they made an excellent showing despite that fact. There was considerable rough play, particularly on the part of the old players. Eric Moralier, one of the old Plainfield team, played with the Business Men and did some great work. He fouled five times, however, and George Proctor Smith, captain of the F. A. C., scored four goals on three throws.

There was very little team play on either side. In the second half the playing was really more even but Smith made some wonderfully accurate long throws scoring three times. The work of Eric Moralier at guard undoubtedly prevented many more as Smith was quick to take advantage of every chance and his accuracy was remarkable.

The two Fanwood players were new at the game but considering the short time they have played they made an excellent showing. The three new players on the Plainfield team also did excellent work, Peterson in particular, showing a wonderful aptitude for the game. With more practice both teams will play a clever game and a meeting between them later in the season will be very interesting.

The teams were as follows:

| FANWOOD A. C. | | BUSINESS MEN. |
|---|---|---|
| Bonney | right forward | Peterson |
| Hal-Smith | left forward | Doane |
| Kleb | centre | Browning |
| Smith-Hall | right guard | VanWyck |

Score—Fanwood A. C. 19; Business Men, 12. Goals from the field—Bonney (2,) Kleb, Smith (4,) Paterson (2,) E. Moralier (2) Goals on fouls—Smith (5,) Doane (4) Fouls—On Fanwood A. C. 7; on Business Men, 8. Referee—Walter L. Long. Umpires—Fred Cranston and Arthur Denton.

CUTTING ICE AT TIER'S.

ICE MARKED OFF WITH THE PLOWS THIS MORNING.

Cutting Will Begin This Afternoon—No More Skating Until Ice is Cut.

Ice cutting at Tier's pond began this afternoon and the young people who have daily gathered at that pond this winter to enjoy the skating, are now compelled to go elsewhere. As soon as the ice was strong enough to hold, Mr. Tier made an attempt to keep the young people off the ice but it was in vain. The combined police forces of city and borough could not have done it.

At last Mr. Tier gave up the attempt and allowed the crowd to skate there as much as they wished. Now, however, that the ice is being cut, no one will be allowed on the pond. It will require nearly all the week to cut the ice as far up the pond as the bend.

This morning the work of marking off the ice with the plow for cutting was done and this afternoon operations with the ice saw were begun. The ice will be stored in the big ice house as fast as it is cut.

INAUGURAL MESSAGE OF MAYOR JENKINS.

Dwelt at Length on Three Subjects of Importance to City's Interests.

PRESENTED LAST NIGHT.

RECOMMENDS MORE ACTIVITY IN COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Suggests That Council Try to Secure Legislation to Settle Present Troubles Over School Law—Concerning Sewer Beds.

The inaugural message of Mayor O. L. Jenkins was presented at the meeting of the Common Council last evening. The full text of the message is as follows:

Mayor's Office,
Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 7, 1901.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

Gentlemen—The city is to be congratulated on the fact that every member of the present Common Council actively participated in the important work accomplished during the year Nineteen Hundred, and that the experience of many of your members extend over a series of years. These circumstances might be regarded as affording good ground for omitting the usual inaugural Mayor's message; but it is my belief that the fine record of municipal action, legislative and executive, in this city, has been due in part, at least, to the full, free and public discussion of the more important matters that have arrisen, and for this reason, I beg leave at the present time to call attention to a few leading questions, reserving for special consideration other matters which from time to time may seem to call for executive action or recommendation.

FINANCE.

The report of the City Treasurer shows much reason for congratulation. During the past year, notes to the amount of $18 300 00 have been paid off, besides the $9 000 00 paid on street assessments and $5 500.00 on sewer notes and bonds. The entire report is interesting and will repay careful examination.

ALMS, FIRE AND POLICE.

The reports of the committees having these departments in charge show that all have been well managed during the past year, and that they are now in good running order.

I have no recommendations to offer in relation to them at present.

TREES.

The work of trimming up the lower branches of trees, as carried on under the direction of the Committee on Lights and Trees, has made a decided improvement in many of our streets. I submit for your consideration whether it is desirable that a commission be appointed as provided for in the laws of 1893, whose members, serving without pay, would have charge of all matters relating to trees on the public streets.

Some of our streets are in need of additional trees, while on others the shade becomes so dense in summer that it is a menace to health.

CITY OFFICE ROOMS.

With the transfer of the police headquarters and jail to the new and very satisfactory location on East Front street, and the moving of the Street Commissioner's office to the room in the Coward building formerly occupied by the Captain of Police, the necessity for a City Hall is obviated, for the present, at least.

The total rental paid by the city for offices and Council room, including police station and Board of Health office, is $1,340, which also includes cost of heating.

IMPROVEMENT OF STREETS.

Concerning the care and improvement of streets, many valuable suggestions will be found in the admirable report of the Committee on Streets and Sewers recently filed. The fullness with which these matters are there dealt with by those who have had wide experience, makes it quite unnecessary at this time to do more than to refer to their report.

TAXATION.

There was a considerable reduction in the tax rate during the last year, and, indeed, the tax rate in this city for many years past compares favorably with that of other thriving cities of similar size, whether in New Jersey or adjoining states. Moneys collected by taxation have been disbursed honestly and intelligently. Corruption, jobbery and misappropriation of public moneys happily have been unknown in this City; but the City has not yet done its full duty with reference to the enforcement of the collection of taxes against those who seek to shirk their

ANNUAL TURKEY SUPPER.

MEETING OF LADIES' CHRISTIAN WORK SOCIETY OF TRINITY CHURCH.

Received Gift of New Book Case—Interesting Papers on Work Among Mountain Whites—The Supper.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church met in regular monthly session yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. A great surprise greeted the members as they entered the parlor, when they beheld the gift of a beatiful polished oak book-case containing a volume on the subject of missions, entitled "Village Life in China." The unknown donor gave the book-case and volume with the idea that other members of the society would give books on the subject and that soon a complete library would be at the disposal of the members at all times.

A letter of heartfelt thanks was read from the minister's family in the west to whom the society had sent a large Christmas box containing clothing and many useful articles. The mountain whites, a class of people living in the south, are among those whom the society are interested in and two very interesting papers were read, the first prepared by Mrs. T. R. VanZandt and the other by Mrs. E. A. Paree, the latter being based upon personal observations during a visit among them last summer.

Another important matter taken up was the annual turkey supper which has been held for many years the latter part of January. Mrs. H. W. Marshall consented to act as chairman of the committee of arrangements and all the members present pledged themselves to assist her in her arduous labors. The event will be held Thursday and Friday evenings, Jan. 24 and 25, in the lecture room of the church, and from the interest taken at yesterday's meeting the affair will be a success, both financially and socially.

BEST SHOWING IN STATE.

TRINITY COMMANDERY WON HIGH PRAISE AT ANNUAL INSPECTION.

Was Held Last Night—Many Important Visitors Present—Was Followed by a Collation.

Knights Templar from all parts of the State invaded Plainfield last evening on the occasion of Trinity Commandery's annual inspection.

This occasion is always a memorable one in the annals of the order and last evening was no exception. The inspecting officer was Deputy Grand Commander Josiah S. Davidson, of Washington, N. J. As the inspecting officer reviews commanderies throughout New Jersey it behooves the knights to make an excellent showing to win his praise. The local commandery was equal to the occasion, however, and gave an opening that won the admiration of all beholders, of whom there were a large number present. The difficult manœuvres necessary in an inspection were given in a faultless manner and the participants were rewarded by being informed their showing was far superior to that of any commandery in the State. An especial compliment was paid to Eminent Commander Asa Collier, upon whom responsibility rests for the proper drilling of the commandery.

At the conclusion of the inspection all present were invited to the banquet hall where a collation had been prepared. There was plenty for everybody, including forty-three knights from Damascus Commandery, of Newark, who walked in unannounced.

Among the notables present from the Grand Commandery were: Right Eminent Grand Commander William B. Pugh, of Ridgefield; Grand Generalissimo Daniel Demarest, of Newark; Grand Captain General D. C. Adams, of Plainfield; Grand Junior Warden John J. Henry, of Newark; Grand Standard Bearer Jacob Kirkner, of Plainfield; Grand Sword Bearer William Carmen, of Metuchen; Eminent Commander Martin L. Force, of Temple Commandery, New Brunswick; Past Commander Leonard, of De Molay Commandery, Boston, and Past Commander Little, of Clinton Commandery, Brooklyn.

Dr. Hurlbut to Lecture.

"Pictures and Legends of the Rhine River" will be the subject of a lecture to be given at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church by Rev. J. L. Hurlbut, of New York, Thursday evening, Jan. 17. The lecture will be illustrated.

No Public Exercises.

The officers of the Women's Relief Corps will probably be installed at the meeting to be held Friday evening, January 18. There will be no public exercises.

SCHOOL BOARD WILL OPPOSE NEW RULING

Will Compell Street Railway, If Possible, To Restore Old System Of School Tickets.

ORGANIZED FOR NEW YEAR.

DR. J. B. PROBASCO RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD.

Other Routine Business Matters Transacted—Mr. Lounsbury Was Appointed Committee to Investigate Street Railway's Franchise.

The action of the Plainfield Street Railway Company in prohibiting the sale of school tickets to teachers and pupils over sixteen years of age, occupied the attention of the Plainfield Board of Education at the meeting held last evening. As the Board will not meet again before next February, the members took active measures to have the matter looked up at once and if possible have the old rule restored immediately.

Previous to this question, several matters of importance were taken up. With the exception of Rev. Dr. Richards all the members were present. Being the first meeting of the new year the election of officers was held, resulting in the re-election of Dr. J. B. Probasco as president. Owing to the arduous duties imposed by the new school law on the office of secretary, F. C. Lounsbury, who has held the position for five years, refused to be re-elected. His familiarity with the work which the office entails has made him a valuable assistant to the Board and the members asked him to reconsider his decision. Mr. Lounsbury finally accepted the office temporarily until the Board could select a suitable successor.

After the usual number of bills were read and ordered paid the Tax Collector's report was given and showed a total of $2,309.46 collected and deposited to the credit of the Board. The medical inspector's report for the month of December stated that 150 pupils had been examined. The custodian of school moneys reported receipt of $27,154 97 and the disbursement of $25,208 13, leaving a balance of $1,946 84, of which $4.11 belonged to the Martin act fund.

The petition of George S. Vail, of 1860 Dunellen avenue, that his four children be allowed to attend the Dunellen schools, the tuition fees to be paid by the Board, was granted.

The matter of school tickets was then brought up by Mr. Lounsbury. He called the attention of the Board to a similar action on the part of the railway officials a few years ago when the new lines made transfers necessary. These were refused to holders of school tickets until the Board examined the company's franchise and found it was compulsory. He thought the new rule was also in opposition to the franchise and that the officials were acting in a high-handed manner. If it were not compulsory to issue school tickets to pupils, regardless of age at three cents each, the rule would never have been started by the railway management.

The other members of the Board agreed with the secretary in his statement and decided the matter should be investigated at once. Mr. Lounsbury was appointed a committee of one to examine the company's franchise and act accordingly.

EPWORTH LEAGUE RALLY.

First of Week of Prayer Services Arranged by M. E. Churches Held in Monroe Ave. Church.

An Epworth League rally, the first of the week of prayer services of the local Methodist Episcopal churches, was held last evening in the Monroe Avenue Methodist church. There was a large attendance. The meeting was conducted by the Rev. John McMurray, the pastor of the Monroe Avenue church. Among the ministers present were Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E. church, Rev. Dr. G. W. Smith, presiding elder of this district, Rev. G. W. Gardner, pastor of the Grace M. E church, and Rev. W. C. Nelson, retired.

The services consisted of short addresses and sentence prayers by various members of the League, together with congregational singing. This evening the service will be held in Vincent chapel.

Big Poles Removed.

The three large telegraph poles located near the new railroad station have been removed, and the wires placed in a cable. The appearance is more sightly and attractive.

REVOKED MRS. LEWIS' LICENSE

MUCH ACTIVITY BY THE NORTH PLAINFIELD BOARD OF HEALTH.

Revision of Borough Health Ordinances—Will Start Action Against Milkmen—Other Business.

The regular meeting of the Borough Board of Health was held last evening at the residence of Rev. Wm. E. Honeyman. The Board decided to revoke the license of Mrs. Israel Lewis, who has maintained a slaughter house on Somerset street. The place has been used by Max Mintz and many complaints have been made regarding the place, which has become a nuisance. Health Inspector Pangborn has repeatedly notified Mrs. Lewis of the nuisance, which has been ordered abated. Saturday both Mr. Honeyman and Mr. Barkalew, members of the Board, visited the place and saw the evidences of the nuisance.

The Board also decided to cause the arrest of any person who uses the property of P. M. French on Grove street as a dumping ground for rubbish or garbage.

Many milk dealers having failed to comply with the law in regard to making a report of the number of cows and the places where they are maintained, etc., the Board ordered the Corporation Counsel to prosecute those who continue to violate the laws in this respect and collect the fines.

The Board also revised the health ordinances and passed them to the third reading.

NEW HOSPITAL IS ASSURED.

LAST EVENING'S MEETING SHOWED $16,000 HAS BEEN PLEDGED.

Board is Sure of $20,000, and $30,000 is Required to Meet the Expenses of New Quarters.

An important meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital was held last evening at the Public Library, when the question of erecting a new hospital came up for consideration. It can be stated that as a result of the meeting the new hospital is practically an assured fact. It was announced that the Board is sure of $16 000 toward the new improvement, and the chances are that this amount will soon be increased to $20,000. To make the plans a sure thing the sum of $30,000 is wanted, and the members present last evening felt reasonably sure that this sum would be forthcoming at no far distant date.

It is the idea of the Board to follow the original plans as regards the manner of building to be erected, but there may be a change in the location of the same. Several additional sites have been offered at much lower figures than the original site was offered at. Among these sites are some that are very desirable and comprise plenty and sufficient room for the institution.

POPULAR SCHOOL.

Excellent Year in Prospect for the Ruth School of This City.

The Ruth School in the First National Bank building opened the new year with an increased attendance at both sessions. This school is meeting with very encouraging success and offers an exceptionally thorough course in shorthand and typewriting. The popular Gregg is the system taught, and as it is very easily learned the time taken in other schools to drilling the student in position and shade is here devoted to typewriting, thus enabling the student to complete the course in the shortest time possible. They have had a number of calls for stenographers in the last two months, but were unable to fill them. Young men especially are in great demand, beginners receiving good salaries. To young men and women employed in the day, a course in the night school is of great value and will be the means of securing more congenial employment.

To be Wedded Saturday.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Eva Jenkins, daughter of Mrs. J. Newton Jenkins, of East Sixth street, to E. M. Vail, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Vail, of Orchard place. The event will take place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother.

Trustees Installed.

The following have been elected trustees of St. Peter's German Lutheran church: Augustus Harpner, Herman Hansen and Theodore Leusen. The new trustees were installed by the pastor, Rev. William Trebert, Sunday morning.

Many New Members.

Last Sunday morning at Grace M. E. church nine persons were received into membership by letter, one by profession and three were admitted on probation.

DR. MOSHER WAS NOT INDICTED FOR MURDER.

But Indictment For Assault and Battery on Mrs. Fisher Was Found.

GRAND JURY HAS FINISHED.

SUIT AGAINST MR. DRAKE IS ON IN SOMERSET COUNTY COURT.

Somerset County Grand Jury Brought in Sixteen Bills of Indictment Yesterday Afternoon—Gift For the Foreman From Colleagues.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, January 8.—The Somerset County Grand Jury, which has been in session five days, came into court yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock with sixteen bills of indictments. Former Surrogate Abram T. Hoff, foreman of the Grand Jury, was presented with a handsome silk umbrella by his colleagues. William H. Rogers, of North Plainfield, made the presentation speech in a graceful manner, and Mr. Hoff, though greatly surprised, replied in a neat speech. This Grand Jury had the distinction of sitting in both the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

Dr. Abram B. Mosher, of Griggstown, whose coachman, William Von Sheffler, met a mysterious death, was not indicted by the Grand Jury for his coachman's death but was indicted for assault and battery upon Maud A. Fisher, his wife's sister. The doctor, it is alleged, attempted to strike his wife when Miss Fisher interfered and the doctor struck her. Mrs. Mosher is suing for divorce. The doctor plead non vult upon the advice of his counsel, Hon. Alvah A. Clark, and was bound in the sum of $200 to appear before the court on January 18.

Regarding Von Sheffler's death, the Grand Jury was of the opinion that it was the result of an accident and was not murder.

The case of Charles Opdycke against James B. Duke, the millionaire president of the American Tobacco Co., was taken up yesterday afternoon in the Somerset County Courts.

Mr. Opdycke claims that he was employed on May 6, 1895, by Mr. Duke, for a year, at $1,200 a year, as trainer and caretaker of Mr. Duke's horses; that he continued to work for him until June 17, 1899, when Mr. Duke discharged him without a day's warning. Opdycke demanded wages for the balance of the year and 15 per cent. commission on outside horses which they had to train. Mr. Duke refused payment and Opdycke brought suit.

Opdycke was the only witness for the plaintiff and was on the stand nearly all the afternoon. Former Prosecutor N. Y. Dungan is Opdycke's counsel. Hon. Alvah A. Clark is defending Mr. Duke.

The defence claimed that Mr. Opdycke was only timed by the month; that when Mr. Duke found fault with him over the results of his work, he said that he would quit, and having repeated this Mr. Duke took him at his word; that Opdycke took horses from irresponsible outside parties and was paid commission on every dollar that Mr. Duke had received; that he did not keep the stables clean and the horses bred were a disappointment to Mr. Duke.

Mr. Duke was present yesterday afternoon and went on the stand this morning.

TWO TUMBLES.

Member of Press Staff Had Two Bicycle Accidents Yesterday But Still Lives.

Thomas Muir, of The Daily Press staff, yesterday had two narrow escapes from serious injury while riding his wheel. The first accident happened on West Third street yesterday afternoon when a good sized dog ran into him, the result being the almost complete wrecking of his wheel. Fortunately Mr. Muir landed on his feet and was not seriously hurt.

Last night while riding home on a borrowed wheel Tommy met his second accident by taking a header on West Fourth street, near Plainfield avenue. Mr. Muir was turning the corner into Plainfield avenue when Harry Emmett, returning from the car house, stepped directly in front of the rider, who was hurled into the street, rendering him partially unconscious and injuring his knee severely. The wheel was but slightly damaged. Mr. Emmett was not injured.

Miss Eva Wilkins, of East Fifth street, is detained at home with the grip.

AN EVENTFUL LIFE ENDED.

MRS. FERRIS PASSED AWAY AT HOME OF HER SON-IN-LAW.

Suffered From Stroke of Apoplexy New Year's Day — Was Native of New England But Traveled Far.

Mrs. Margaret J. Ferris, aged 76 years, died last evening at the home of her son-in-law, Frank O. Herring, on Park avenue. A week ago last Thursday she was taken ill with laryngitis and on New Year's Day she suffered from a stroke of apoplexy. From that time until her death she grew rapidly worse.

Mrs. Ferris was born in Woodbury, Conn., and was the daughter of John Leavenworth, who came to this country from England in the early days. Mrs. Ferris was married twice. Her first union was to L. A. Booth, a native of Connecticut. He died a few years after marriage. Her second marriage was to Judge Leonard W. Ferris, of New York.

In 1853, they went to California They crossed the isthmus by the aid of mules. While in that section of the country, they spent some time at Virginia City, Nevada, during the troublesome times among the miners. Judge Ferris died in the west, and his wife came to Plainfield in the summer of 1878, and she lived with her daughter up to the time of her death. Mrs. Herring is the only relative of Mrs. Ferris now living.

Mrs. Ferris was a woman of many stirling qualties. Very quiet in her nature and with a genial disposition, she won many friends. She was a member of the Episcopal church and held a membership in one of New York's oldest churches. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the late home and the interment will be in Hillside cemetery.

AT THRESHOLD OF MANHOOD.

PARTICULARLY SAD DEATH OF FRED T. ROSS THIS MORNING.

Was Married Last September—An Earnest Worker in Church and Endeavor Society—Was 23 Years Old.

Fred Talmage Ross, aged 23 years, died this morning about 4 o'clock at the home of his parent, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ross, 45 prospect place, after an illness of five months which developed into consumption and resulted in his death. Hope for recovery was not given up until quite recently, and everything possible was done to save life.

Mr. Ross was born at Newark and at an early age went with his parents to live on a farm near South Branch. He remained there sixteen years, when the family came to Plainfield to live. That was six years ago. Mr. Ross at once secured a position at the store of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, where his cousin, George R. Vanderhoef, is the manager. He was very popular and gained a host of friends by his pleasant manner and courteous ways. In September of last year he was married to Miss Charlotte Messersmith, a highly esteemed young woman of the borough. The marriage was a quiet one owing to the fact that the bride's grandfather had recently died.

The young wife, together with the bereaved parents, brothers and sisters, have the sympathy of the community in the loss sustained. Mr. Ross was converted at the age of twelve years, and he was an active and earnest member and worker at Trinity Reformed church and the Christian Endeavor Society, where he will be greatly missed.

A short time ago it was planned that Mr. Ross should go south for his health, and he and his wife gave up housekeeping in the Clifton building to live with his parents prior to the proposed journey. He soon grew worse and it was decided that he could not stand the journey.

The funeral services will be held from the home of the parents Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment will be at Hillside.

Word From Mr. Marsh.

Mrs. Kate Marsh, of Franklin place, mother of Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, yesterday received a telegram from her son announcing the safe arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Marsh at Miami, Florida. Mr. Marsh is improved and his trip appears to be of much benefit. They leave today for Nassau, in the Bahamas.

At Hope Chapel Tonight.

A special invitation is extended to all men to be present at the meeting to be held at Hope chapel this evening. While women as well as men are invited, the meeting will be of special interest to the latter.

NEW COUNCIL RENEWS OLD ORGANIZATION.

Nothing of a Startling Nature Brought Up at First Meeting of New Council.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE READ

SMALL DISAGREEMENT CONCERNING CHANGES AT SEWER BEDS.

Messrs. Lee and Coriell Objected to Binding Themselves in Favor of Sewer Committee's Proposed Improvement.

Plainfield's Common Council for 1901 held its first meeting last evening. A peculiarity regarding this is that the official body is identically the same as last year. The same president, J. B. Dumont, presides and the same committees will serve during the year.

The initial meeting was noted for the absence of any unusual proceeding. City Clerk MacMurray called the meeting to order, and on a motion offered by Mr. vanHerwerden, J. B. Dumont was unanimously elected president of the Council. He was escorted to the chair by Messrs. Randolph and Gloak.

President Dumont thanked the members for the courtesy in electing him to occupy the chair. He expressed the wish that the labors of the Council for 1901 be as reasonably satisfactory as they should be. He stated that several important matters have been under consideration to be brought up this year, and he said that the Council would have his co-operation in transacting all business in the interest of and for the welfare of the city, whose representatives the members are.

After Clerk MacMurray had been excused on account of illness, and Geo. B. Wean had taken his place, the Council elected W. V. Mundy janitor of the Council rooms for the coming year, on a motion offered by Mr. Coriell.

Mr. vanHerwerden moved that the rules for 1900 be adopted as the rules for 1901, after which President Dumont appointed the standing committees as follows:

Finance—J. vanHerwerden, chairman; Robert L. Lee, Geo. P. Mellick, Ralph I. Tolles, B. Frank Coriell. Streets and sewers—Ralph I. Tolles, chairman; James Craig, J. vanHerwerden, B. Frank Coriell, Robert L. Lee. Fire and buildings—B. Frank Coriell, chairman; Geo. P. Mellick, James F. Buckle, James Craig, J. vanHerwerden. Police—James F. Buckle, chairman; Wm. L. Gloak, Frank de W. Randolph. Lights and trees—Geo. P. Mellick, chairman; Chas. B. Clifton, Wm. L. Gloak. Alms—Robert L. Lee, chairman; Frank de W. Randolph, Ralph I. Tolles. Licenses—William L. Gloak, chairman; James F. Buckle, Charles B. Clifton. Auditing—Charles B. Clifton, chairman; Frank deW. Randolph, James Craig.

Mr. vanHerwerden gave notice that he will at the next meeting move that the rules of order for 1901 be adopted as the by-laws of the Council.

Mr. Lee moved that The Daily Press and the News be designated at the official newspapers of the city. It was so ordered.

Among the petitions presented was one from Frank W. Tallman who asked for a license for a delivery wagon. This was granted. M. Angelo Eliss, a New York attorney, representing Charles W. Endel, of New York, communicated with the Council regarding some property in this city which was sold under the Martin Act. The attorney desired to learn the whereabouts of the property and how much it would cost to redeem it. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Silas D. Drake asked the Council about his application for automobile licenses, which was made some time ago. He stated that the company would soon be ready to operate the horseless wagons and desired a license. The matter was referred to the license committee.

The bonds of Constables Gjettlesen, W. R. Mattox and Amos Moffett and Collector Frank H. Smith were received, approved and ordered filed.

J. B. Coward, attorney for Susan N. Dunham, asked for relief from assessment on certain property on Rose street, for which receipts are held for taxes paid on the same. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Mr. Tolles moved that $2,000 be appropriated for the use of the committee on streets and sewers, until such

LITERARY.

Jacob A. Riis is widely known to all American readers as the author of "How The Other Half Lives," and other books, and he has been identified with all that has been done in New York City toward improving life in the slums and the tenament districts. He is a warm, personal friend of Governor Roosevelt, and was one of his stauncheet supporters in the effort to reform New York Police Department. Apart from these well-known facts, Mr. Riis's life has been a singularly interesting, varied and adventurous one; for the first time its story is to be told in full in Mr. Riis's own praphic and simple way in The Outlook. This series of articles, which will be fully illustrated, will begin with the February Magazine Number. ($3 a year. The Outlook Company, 287 Fourth avenue, New York.)

A High Mark.

The New York Almanac for 1901, issued by Charles H. Fletcher, of New York city, has set a high mark for similar publications during the new century, and shows remarkable enterprise on the part of the publisher when one considers that it is intended solely for free distribution. The numerous publications of this character are usually gotten up with the single idea of cheapness, while the thought of expense has certainly been set aside in the case of the New York Almanac.

The artistic colorings of the cover, the accuracy of its calenders and its fund of information all go to make it well worthy of perusal and preservation. It has innumerable hints for mothers as to the care of children. A unique page is the "Baby's Record" page, which is in blank, to be filled in with baby's name, date of birth, cut first tooth, etc.

The whole is a very creditable piece of work and may be procured at any drug store or direct on request, free, c

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

Many of the watch meetings held throughout the county and State New Year's Eve were conducted by the Christian Endeavor Societies of the churches. A special significance was attached to the meetings, marking, as they did, a century-end, and most of the services were well attended and helpful.

The members of the First Presbyterian church, Cedar Rapids, Ia., conduct three weekly classes for the systematic study of the Bible.

The number of secular and religious periodicals which devote space to Christian Endeavor is constantly increasing. The last to introduce a distinctively Christian Endeavor department is the widely read and influential Sunday-school Times. Christian Endeavor and the Sunday-school are so closely allied that a department of this character in a magazine read by so many Christian Endeavorers is a welcome innovation. Robert E. Speer, so well known to the young people of this country, will edit the department.

The little state of Rhode Island is wide awake to the need of Christian Endeavor advancement within its borders. H. W. Pope, of the Northfield Extension movement, has been engaged to tour the state and hold Christian Endeavor workers' conferences at different points. Mr. Pope is a practical, earnest worker and will be assisted in this special work by Rev. J. M. Gray and others.

During the past year the six committees of the society in Dr. Joseph Parker's famous London church have been hard at wark. The home mission committee's record excels; it shows that these workers have made over 2,000 visits, distributed 1,000 books and magazines and given 200 garments. Drunkards have been reclaimed and family worship has been established in homes where there had never before been a Bible.

The "Jersey City, 1900" committee has turned over to the State treasurer the sum of $200, the amount remaining after all bills for the excellent State convention had been paid.

—Grand Overseer V. W. Nash will pay an official visit to Compass Lodge, A. O. U. W., Jersey City, this evening.

—Pepsin preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, that is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief for it digests what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

—George W. Smith, the tenor soloist at the First Baptist church, was unable to sing last Sunday on account of illness.

—The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. L. W. Randolph.

Raymond Cohen, assistant night operator at the telephone office, is detained at home by illness.

Mrs. Edward Mosher, of Elmwood place, is detained at her home by illness. Dr. Clawson is in attendance.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

PERSONAL.

Miss Edith Moulton, of West Fourth street, is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. William Pangborn, of Chatham street, is kept at home with an attack of the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews, of Liberty street, have been entertaining relatives from Boonton.

Mrs. Charles W. Runyon, of Park avenue, has been entertaining her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbertson, of Philadelphia.

Miss Clara Force, a member of the "Sweet Nell of Old Drury" Company, now playing in New York, has been spending a short time with Plainfield relatives.

The Misses Ella and Mary Cumberson, of Red Bank, have returned home after a visit of several days at the home of Councilman Robert L. Lee, of West Fourth street.

Miss Elbie Miller, of Savannah, Ga., who has been visiting at the home of Samuel Boss, of Craig place, left yesterday afternoon for New York, where she will visit friends for a few days.

Decide Yourself.

The Opportunity is Here, Backed by Plainfield Testimony.

Don't take our word for it.

Don't depend on a stranger's statement.

Read Plainfield's endorsement.

Read the statements of Plainfield's citizen's

And decide for yourself.

Here is a case of it:

Mr. Jos. VanArsdale, carpenter and contractor, living at 213 Spooner avenue, says: "For several years I suffered from severe pain in my back, hip and loins, so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it, and if I contracted a cold it always settled in my back and at such times my suffering was something intense. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape, and procuring them from L. W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses, when I found they were helping me, and completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so as to have a sure remedy close by if the trouble should ever return."

OUR ISLAND POSSESSIONS.

Suits Before the Supreme Court to Determine Their Status.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Solicitor General Richards in behalf of the government has filed in the United States supreme court a brief in the cases brought by Elias S. A. De Luna, Samuel B. Downs, Henry W. Dooley, Carlos Armstrong and George Crossman against either George R. Bidwell, collector of the port of New York, or the United States directly, all involving questions of the taxation relations between the United States and our insular possessions.

The cases cover the several cases of the dominion of the United States over the islands before and after the ratification of the Paris treaty of peace and after legislation by congress with reference to them. The feature of the brief is the direct notice it takes of ex-President Harrison's address at Ann Arbor and the response made thereto in behalf of the administration.

Ex-Secretary Carlisle, who appears as leading counsel against the government in the Porto Rican customs cases, the argument in which began in the United States supreme court today, will not file an individual brief, but will content himself with the verbal presentation of his views. His name, however, appears as of counsel in the brief in the Dooley cases involving the right to assess duties on articles brought into Porto Rico from "other parts of the United States" and also sent from Porto Rico "into other parts of the United States" before and after the Paris treaty of peace and also after congress passed the Porto Rican act.

Following is a summary of the argument:

First.—At all times since the ratification of the treaty Porto Rico has been a part of the United States.

Second.—As a consequence of the treaty the entire sovereignty over Porto Rico has become vested in the United States but the executive and legislative departments of the federal government have only such power in relation to Porto Rico as is granted to them by the constitution. The president had not the power under the constitution to make or enforce the order of Jan. 20, 1899, in so far as it imposed duties upon articles of merchandise brought into Porto Rico from other parts of the United States.

Fourth.—Congress had not the power under the constitution to impose the taxes or duties imposed by the act of April 12, 1900, upon articles of merchandise brought into Porto Rico from other parts of the United States or into other parts of the United States from Porto Rico.

The Booz Case.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—According to the testimony adduced before the congressional investigating committee which is inquiring into the charges of hazing at the West Point Military academy, Oscar L. Booz of Bristol, Pa., and John E. Breth of Altoona, Pa., had a rough time of it during their "plebe" year at that institution. The star witness of the day was former Cadet Anthony J. Burnam, Jr., son of Judge Burnam of the court of appeals of the state of Kentucky, who was Booz's tent mate while in camp. The committee also heard for the first time testimony in regard to the experiences of Breth from the lips of his father, brothers and sisters.

Work on Cup Defender.

BRISTOL, R. I., Jan. 8.—The work of bending the frames for the new cup defender progressed rapidly yesterday, there being a large force of men in the boiler shop on Burnside street as well as in the construction shop. The bulbed steel angles as soon as they were healed were placed on tables and bent into the required shape. Afterward they were taken to the construction shop, where they were trued up on the scribing board on which the lines of the sections of the bow, midship and stern are laid down. It is expected that by the end of the present week the form of the new boat will become quite prominent.

Erie Boiler Makers Strike.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Jan. 8.—About 150 employees in the boiler department of the Erie Railroad company's extensive locomotive shops at this place went on strike yesterday. For some weeks there has been dissatisfaction among the men employed on account of the introduction of the piecework system in the shops, and it is alleged that laborers have been doing the work of the regular boiler makers or apprentices. The local boiler makers' union unsuccessfully attempted to have their grievances righted, and the strike is the result.

Fire In Yonkers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Fire at Yonkers, N. Y., almost destroyed the large frame structure at 10-16 Palisade avenue. The fire started in the dry goods store of Mrs. D. A. Cordon and then spread throughout the center of the building. Two children of the Gordons were rescued unconscious from smoke. The damage to the building will amount to about $35,000.

Unknown Number Perish In Orphan Asylum Fire.

A MIDNIGHT HORROR IN ROCHESTER.

Twenty or Thirty Dead and Forty or More Injured, Some Fatally. Inmates Were Asleep When the Alarm Sounded.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 8.—Shortly after 1 o'clock this morning fire wrecked the Hubbel Orphan asylum, a three story structure at the corner of Hubbel park and Exchange street. There were in it 160 to 180 inmates. Between 20 and 30 are dead. It is impossible to get names or the exact number of the dead now, as the bodies have not been recovered, but the officers of the institution are certain the number of dead is not under 20 and may reach 30.

The bodies as recovered are being taken to neighboring houses. There are 12 dead in one house, 3 or 4 in another, a dozen injured in another. The number of injured is probably 40, and some of these will die.

The fire started in the furnace room and was followed by an explosion of gas. This caused the fire to spread rapidly, and in a few minutes the two west wings were in flames.

When the firemen who responded to a general alarm arrived, the inmates were jumping from the windows and the attendants were throwing helpless infants out regardless of where they might fall. The largest number of dead is among infants ranging in age from 1 to 3 and 4 years.

Shot While Attempting Arson.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Edward Eddy was shot and instantly killed at Trevett, a small settlement in Saratoga county near the Fulton county line, while trying to burn the home of Hiram Van Buren. Residing with the latter was a woman who formerly kept house for Eddy, and about 2 o'clock in the morning Van Buren awoke to find his house burning. He extinguished the fire and then sat up to await a return of the incendiaries. Between 5 and 6 o'clock he saw two men looking in a bedroom window, and, going out of the house, he saw the men standing under a tree. Eddy hid behind a pump as Van Buren fired and was shot in the neck. He ran about 15 feet and fell dead. A kerosene bottle was found outside the dwelling by the place where the men looked through the window. Van Buren gave himself up to a justice and at a coroner's examination was held, but was later discharged on the ground of justifiable homicide. Eddy was about 50 years old, and Van Buren is 70 years old.

Rockefeller Distributes Gold.

TARRYTOWN, Jan. 8.—Following his annual custom John D. Rockefeller yesterday distributed goldpieces to the men employed at the railroad station, the telegraph boys, expressmen and others who do work for him throughout the year. Mr. Rockefeller likewise remembered the men on his place and the minister and sexton of the Baptist church. The goldpieces were not distributed before owing to the death of his grandson. Mr. Rockefeller has also agreed to pay for some alterations in the First Baptist church, of which he is a member. The improvements will cost several thousand dollars. The child of Mr. Rockefeller's daughter, Mrs. McCormick, which has been ill with scarlatina, is able to sit up and play.

Mrs. Astor's Ball.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Astor gave her annual ball at her residence, 842 Fifth avenue, last night. This ball is perhaps the most regular and representative function of fashionable New York society. It has been given by Mrs. Astor on the first or second Monday of each recurring January for over a quarter of a century, save for a few years when the hostess was mourning. Some 600 acceptances from the thousand or more cards issued were received, and there were few absentees among those who accepted. Mrs. Astor's functions are famous for the perfection of their appointment and the beauty of their decorations, and last night's affair more than fulfilled the expectations of the guests.

Long Journey of a Little Girl.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The French liner La Bretagne, which arrived here yesterday, brought a little girl in the steerage who said she was Helen Van Allinen, 7 years old. A tag around her neck said she was to be sent to her aunt in this city. The girl could not tell her aunt's name or address, and she was sent to Ellis island. She thinks her aunt's name is on a piece of paper in her baggage. She is an orphan and came from Holland.

Roosevelt Goes Hunting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Vice President Elect Roosevelt left this city yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock for a vacation in the west. Colonel Roosevelt said: "I am just a plain citizen going on a little vacation, and I desire to do it in a quiet way. I want rest, and I am going to take it. This is all I will say to anybody, and if you see anything else in print you may know that it is a fake. I am not saying what my destination is."

"Omaha Kid" Knocked Out.

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—Oscar Gardiner, better known in the fistic world as "The Omaha Kid," was cleanly put out of consciousness by Tim Callahan of Philadelphia in the fifteenth round of the chief bout at the Isoteric club last night. The distance the lads had to travel for a decision was 15 rounds, and the knockout blow came just after this round started.

Iron Works Company Incorporated.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Jan. 8.—The Ames Iron Works company, organized in 1853, has been incorporated, with a capital stock of $100,000. The plant is one of the largest boiler manufactories in the country and recently shipped a large order to the Russian government.

Drowned While Skating.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Michael Hyde, 17 years of age, while skating on Rondout creek suddenly struck thin ice and fell through and was drowned before any of his companions reached him. His body was recovered.

Paper Mill Burned.

LITTLE FALLS, Minn., Jan. 8.—Fire destroyed the Hennepin paper mill; loss, $75,000; insurance, $63,000. The pulp mill was slightly damaged.

CAPE COLONY NEWS.

Editor Arrested Charged With Seditious Libel.

BOERS THREATEN SEVERAL TOWNS.

Appointment of Hutchinson to Succeed Milner as Governor Not a Popular One Among the British Loyalists.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 8.—Mr. P. H. Malan, editor of Ons Land, the principal Afrikander newspaper here, has been arrested on the charge of seditious libel, consisting of reflections upon the conduct of General French and his troops. He is a member of the Cape parliament, and his arrest has long been demanded by the extreme loyalists. The authorities accepted bail in the sum of £500.

At a meeting of Afrikander members of the Cape parliament yesterday it was resolved to send Messrs. J. X. Merriman, former treasurer of Cape Colony; J. W. Sauer, former commissioner of public works, and J. H. Hofmeyr to England to represent the state of affairs in South Africa to the government, parliament and people of Great Britain.

General Brabant has arrived here to complete the organization of the colonial forces.

It is reported that 1,500 Boers are nearing the town of Sutherland and that other parties are close upon Richmond.

The invaders have reached Calvinia and are expected at Clanwilliam within a few days.

Scouts report that the Boer commandos under Delarey and Steinkamp in the Bufferspoort district number 5,000.

The appointment of the Hon. Sir Walter Hely-Hutchinson, the governor of Natal and Zululand, to succeed Sir Alfred Milner as governor of Cape Colony is not a popular one among the British loyalists. Governor Hutchinson is not regarded as a strong man, and the attitude he took after the Jameson raid is still remembered against him. It would be hard, however, to appoint any man who would suit the Cape loyalists so well as Sir Alfred Milner, who has been appointed governor of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony.

The Cape Times, the British organ, is significantly silent regarding the appointment of Sir Walter Hely-Hutchinson as governor of Cape Colony.

Several contingents of the colonial defense force entrained Saturday night for the Picquetberg road. It is intended to utilize the services of the town guard as far as possible in garrison duty and thus release the regulars for duty at the front.

The naval authorities at Simons Town are busy making preparations for mounting big guns for the defense of the Cape peninsula. The dockyard men were busy all day Sunday on this work.

KNOX IN A FIGHT.

Three British Officers and Fifteen Men Reported Killed.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Lord Kitchener cables the war office as follows:

"A detachment of 120 men belonging to Knox's command came into contact with a superior number of the enemy near Lindley.

"Colonel Lang and two other officers and 15 men were killed and two officers and 20 men wounded. No details have been received."

In response to the appeal of the Princess of Wales for further contributions to the fund for the families of the men at the front Mr. William Waldorf Astor has contributed £5,000

Christian De Wet Speaks in Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—Christian De Wet, nephew of the Boer general, is making speeches in south Germany in behalf of the Boer cause and arousing great sympathy. The meetings which he addresses adopt resolutions protesting vigorously against the overthrow of the two republics, the resolutions being telegraphed to Count von Bulow and Mr. Kruger.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: New Jersey—Jenkins, George W. Thomas. Pennsylvania—Instanter, Robert McLaughlin; Kilmer, Henry S. Kilmer; Millwood, G. F. Austraw; North Towanda, A. R. Thompson; Standtsville, William S. Stahler; Vera Cruz, Wayne A. Kline. New York—Cranesville, Charles W. Robb; Glenwood, Lloyd Bement; Navarino, M. L. Gardner; Stuyvesant, Victor A. Frisbee; West Fulton, Morris J. Reynolds.

Auditor Lawshe Starts For Manila.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Auditor Lawshe received his final instructions from the secretary of war and left Washington last night for the Philippines, where he will enter upon his duties as auditor for the Philippine archipelago. One of his principal duties will be to re-examine the accounts of officers of the army who handle the government funds in the islands.

Emperor William Ill.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—Emperor William, who is slightly indisposed, was not able to visit the tomb of his grandmother at the Charlottenburg mausoleum yesterday, the anniversary of the death of the empress. His majesty will attend the funeral of the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar Friday, and the court will go into mourning for three weeks.

A Rare Fossil.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 8.—Announcement is made that during the Christmas vacation the Geological museum received from Germany a well preserved and extremely rare fossil of the extinct species of flying reptiles called pterodactyls. There is but one other specimen of the kind in the United States.

Snow In Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Snow is falling in Paris for the first time this winter. The temperature, however, has risen somewhat. Elsewhere in France extremely severe weather is recorded, accompanied by heavy snowfalls. Bodies of tramps frozen to death have been found at a number of places.

Gamble For Senator.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 8.—Congressman R. J. Gamble has been selected as the unanimous choice of the Republican caucus for United States senator.

Weather Probabilities.

Partly cloudy; probably snow; fresh north to northeast winds.

TRANQUIL AND PROSPEROUS.

Cubans Have Little Desire to Try Independence.

HAVANA, Jan. 8.—Mr. R. B. Hawley, who has just returned here from the southern part of the island, reports that tranquillity and prosperity exist there, that the people are satisfied with the American government of Cuba and that no desire is expressed for an experimental change. The crops of the section are large, the sugar crop now promising to reach 650,000 tons, the best known in many years.

The proposed constitution is not meeting with a favorable reception. The consensus of opinion is that it is top heavy, involving too many governments, assemblies, executives and other unnecessary officials. Moreover, it is believed that such a scheme as is proposed would mean an enormous expense. The feeling is that great confusion would inevitably follow the adoption of federalism. Business men fear the extortions of excessive government. Radical modification will be insisted upon, and if these are not made the commercial classes will urge the indefinite continuance of American intervention.

Son of Inventor Edison In Contempt.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Thomas A. Edison, Jr., son of Thomas Edison, the inventor, and William Holzer were yesterday adjudged in contempt of court by Justice Freedman in the supreme court for not complying with the terms of a judgment obtained against them last November by William McMahon, a promoter. This judgment was for them to turn over to McMahon stock to the amount of $400,000 which he alleged to be due him for forming a company in which Holzer and Edison were interested. The company was capitalized at $1,000,000, of which stock $200,000 went into the treasury, and of the balance McMahon was to receive one-half for promoting the enterprise. He obtained his judgment for this amount by default, neither Edison nor Holzer answering the complaint. In court yesterday counsel for Edison said it was impossible for him to comply with the terms of the judgment, as he held no stock, and that Holzer, who did hold the stock, was in England and out of the jurisdiction of the court.

The Armour Funeral.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The funeral of the late Philip D. Armour will be held at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the home, 2115 Prairie avenue. Those who desire to look upon the face of Mr. Armour will be given the opportunity prior to the funeral. The body will lay in state at the Armour home from 9 o'clock in the morning until noon. While the holding of the funeral from the house will necessarily restrict the number in attendance all of the Armour employees in Chicago, who number thousands, will be invited to view the body during the morning hours. Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus will preach the funeral sermon. The burial will be in the family lot at Graceland cemetery, and the pallbearers will be business associates of the deceased. On the day of the funeral all of the plants and offices of the Armour company in Chicago and other cities will be closed for the day.

Sugar Kings Still at Odds.

TOLEDO, Jan. 8.—Despite the persistent rumors that the Havemeyers and the Arbuckles have effected an adjustment of their differences, the local attorneys who are fighting the issues ranged themselves before the circuit court yesterday to contest the motion made by Arbuckle Bros. for an inspection of the books and business affairs of the Woolson Spice company. This motion for an inspection is an important cog in the wheel of the litigation. The plaintiff desires to see the books and papers of the company in order to secure additional evidence for their side of the case. The Woolson company strenuously opposes this move. This feature of the case does not affect the merits of the pending questions in litigation one way or another.

Stock Market Breaks All Records.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—All records were broken in the stock market again yesterday, and the 2,000,000 mark in sales was passed by a big margin. The total sales of stock for the whole day was over 2,260,000 and of bonds $3,718,000. The previous record was 1,873,600 shares, recorded last Friday. It was a remarkable day. The first hour saw the most reckless unloading of stock for taking of profits ever seen in Wall street. Big changes in prices resulted. The absorbing power of the market was extraordinary, and later prices advanced. Delaware and Hudson went up 14 points, and Baltimore and Ohio went up 5⅞, the latter reacting.

Famous Architect Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Frederick Clarke Withers, one of the most famous architects in America, is dead at his Yonkers home. He was born in England 73 years ago and came to this country in 1853. Among the buildings designed by him are the Hudson River State hospital, Poughkeepsie; the Deaf Mute college, Washington; the Jefferson market, New York city; rear building of Trinity church, the Chapel of the Good Shepherd on Blackwell's island, the Vassar hospital, Poughkeepsie; the New York Asylum For the Insane, Islip, L. I., and numerous churches.

Watch Your Kidneys!

They are Filters For the Blood. Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are blocked and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated

A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.

CHINESE COURT FICKLE.

Now Reported to Have Ordered Envoys Not to Sign Joint Note.

PEKING, Jan. 8.—The report that the Chinese court had instructed the Chinese peace envoys to refuse to sign the joint note of the powers to China is confirmed. The court referred to the objections of the southern viceroys, which are the same as the court has. Prince Ching, however, informed the court that it was too late, and a reply from the court is expected shortly.

Count von Waldersee says that China's request through her representatives at foreign courts that the expeditions should cease cannot be complied with at present. No expeditions, he asserts, are sent out without adequate cause. Where there are scenes of bloodshed or disorder troops are sent to interfere, this being the only means of preventing outrage. He declares that the expeditions are not for punitive purposes, but merely for police purposes, with a view of giving the necessary protection to life and property.

Proposed Commercial Treaty.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 8.—Sir Ernest Mason Satow, British minister to China, has proposed to the other foreign envoys the draft of a commercial treaty with China based upon the following conditions: First, freedom for all coasting vessels; second, freedom for all vessels on inland waters, especially the Yangtse Kiang; third, permission to import foreign salt; fourth, adoption of regulations encouraging Chinese investments in foreign concerns; fifth, steps extending China's exports and imports; sixth, protection of trademarks, and, seventh, protection of treaty ports.

The draft has not been accepted by the powers, and discussion regarding it has been postponed.

Bigoted court officials, it is reported, still raise objections to signing an acceptance of the joint demands.

Old Sweethearts Wed.

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—Alpheus B. Stickney, president of the Chicago and Great Western railroad, was quietly married to Miss May Crosby, daughter of Judge Josiah Crosby of Dexter, Me., at the home of Rev. Thomas Van Ness in Brookline last evening. There was no bridesmaid, maid of honor or best man. The ceremony was simple in every respect. The bride was given away by her father, Judge Crosby. Mr. and Mrs. Stickney will go in a few days to New York for a brief visit. After the New York sojourn a Mediterrannean trip is contemplated. Miss Crosby and Mr. Stickney were sweethearts in youth, for Mr. Stickney, then a young man, studied law in Judge Crosby's office. Miss Crosby then was a child. Mr. Stickney went west and became a railroad man. He married, but his wife died some years ago. He has a beautiful marble house in St. Paul, and he and his wife will live there after their honeymoon.

Colonel Whitside Honored.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Jan. 8.—The announcement of the appointment of Colonel Samuel M. Whitside to be a brigadier general of volunteers caused widespread satisfaction owing to his extreme popularity among Cubans, Americans and foreigners here. His staff prepared a surprise for him, and when he entered the palace yesterday morning he was greeted by the regimental band playing the "Colonel Whitside March." All the military and civil officers, the civil governor and his staff and the government employees in a body have heartily congratulated him upon a well deserved promotion, and the employees of the sanitary department have presented to him a handsome silver souvenir.

To Deport Insurgent Leaders.

MANILA, Jan. 8.—The action of General MacArthur in ordering the deportation to Guam of 26 Filipino insurgent leaders is enthusiactically indorsed by lawabiding citizens. It came as a thunderbolt to the insurgents, and their sympathizers feel that a climax is approaching. The average rebel leader dreads obscurity as much as he does death, and the families of the men condemned to exile until peace is established are preparing a petition to General MacArthur to reconsider his action. The indications are that there will be a general stampede to enter the American lines and take the oath of allegiance.

Governor McCallum's Successor.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 8.—Sir Henry Edward McCallum will leave early in March to assume the governorship of Natal. Report says that he will be succeeded as governor of Newfoundland by Sir John Bramston, who was chairman of the royal commission of inquiry into the French shore question in 1898. The weather continues unusually severe. Thus far the winter has been very trying. Snow is piled in tremendous quantities in many sections of the island, and enormous difficulty and expense are involved in moving trains, which have a constant struggle in order to combat the storms successfully.

British Trade.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The morning papers congratulate the country upon the continued buoyancy of trade. The December returns of the board of trade show an increase of 14 per cent in exports and of 7 per cent in imports, together with an extraordinary rise of £3,500,000 in the value of raw cotton. The returns show also that the closing year of the nineteenth century achieved a record in the country's foreign trade, which aggregated £878,000,000, imports being £38,000,000 and exports £27,000,000 better than in any preceding year.

Inauguration of Governor Lafollette.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 8.—Robert M. Lafollette was inaugurated governor of Wisconsin yesterday afternoon. The ceremonies were without display. Escorted by militia, the newly elected official drove to the capitol, where Governor Scofield introduced his successor and Chief Justice Cassidy administered the oath of office.

Mexican Gold Mine Bought.

OAXACA, Mexico, Jan. 8.—The famous Escuadra gold mine, situated near Oactlan, state of Oaxaca, has just been sold to New York city parties for $3,500,000. J. Sloat Fassett is said to be one of the purchasers. The mine is enormously rich.

Car Shops Burned.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 8.—The car department building of the Southern railway shops was destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is estimated at $50,000 the immense building and contents being a total loss. The cause of the fire is not known.

ARMY BILL DEBATE.

Brilliant Speech by Senator Lodge.

OUR ECONOMIC SUPREMACY ASSURED

The House Indulges In an Animated Discussion of Reapportionment. Hopkins Confident His Bill Will Pass.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A notable speech was delivered in the senate yesterday by Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts Addressing the senate on the amendment of the military committee striking out the provision in the army reorganization bill for a veterinary corps, he discussed briefly and principally in the form of a colloquy with Senator Bacon of Georgia the Philippine question and the necessity for an army of 100,000 men. In conclusion he drew a brilliant word picture of the commercial future of the United States, declaring that the trade conflict with Europe already begun could result only in the commercial and economic supremacy of this country over the entire world. In this industrial conflict he apprehended no danger from a material contest with any nation of the world, but he urged the necessity for a strong and scientifically organized army and a powerful navy in order that the United States might be prepared to defend its rights against any possible foe. The speech created a profound impression.

During the afternoon the senate ratified the committee proposition to eliminate the house provision for the establishment of a veterinary corps in the army. Senator Teller of Colorado gave notice of a substitution he will offer for the entire pending measure continuing in full force and effect the act of March 3, 1899, increasing the size of the army for three years from July 1, 1901.

SENATOR LODGE.

The animated debate in the house on the reapportionment of representation from the various states is nearing its close, it being unanimously agreed that the final vote would be taken before the session closes today. It was expected there would be a sequel to the exciting clash of Saturday between Mr. Littlefield of Maine and Mr. Hopkins of Illinois, but the latter made no effort at rejoinder and contented himself with the direction of the measure toward the final vote. He expresses confidence that the bill bearing his name will be passed today, although there may be a slight change giving an additional member each to Florida, Colorado and North Dakota, bringing the total membership up to 360. The notable speeches yesterday were by Mr. Crompacker of Indiana dealing with alleged disfranchisement in the south, by Mr. Hepburn of Iowa severely arraigning the present rules as annihilating the constitutional prerogatives of the house and by Mr. Grow of Pennsylvania comparing the old system in the house with that of the present.

Pneumatic Tube Service Favored.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The committee appointed by the postmaster general to examine the pneumatic tube service of the country has completed its work and submitted its report to the department. The committee has made investigations in the important centers of the country and, it is understood, has collected valuable data. The report recommends an appropriation of $500,000 for the service, and Postmaster General Smith has forwarded an estimate to congress for the appropriation of that amount.

Serious Charge Against Two Boys.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Annie Dowd, 9 years old, has just died at Florida, this county, as a result of injuries inflicted by two playmates a month ago. The girl made an antemortem statement, in which she charged Frank Palmer and Andrew Freisinger, about her own age, with kicking and beating her in a terrible manner.

Army Promotions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The senate has confirmed a large number of army nominations, of which the most important were Colonel Samuel M. Whitside, Tenth cavalry; Lieutenant Colonel James R. Campbell, Thirtieth infantry, and Major Charles Bird, quartermaster, to be brigadier generals of volunteers.

Wire For India.

ANSONIA, Conn., Jan. 8.—The largest foreign order ever filled in this city is now completed and awaiting shipment. It consists of 1,000,000 pounds of wire for a trolley road in India. A train of between 15 and 20 cars will be needed to ship it to New York to be placed aboard a steamer.

A Fatal Fall.

CORNWALL, Conn., Jan. 8.—While at work on the roof of a barn in process of erection at Cornwall Bridge Andrew Brazie, a carpenter, fell to the ground and was instantly killed. He lived in Sharon and leaves a wife and ten children.

Many Spurious Coins.

HUGHTON, Mich., Jan. 8.—The copper district is flooded with spurious small coins, chiefly 5 cent pieces, made of an alloy of lead, zinc and tin. Secret service agents are at work on the case.

The Rhine Frozen Over.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—The Rhine is frozen over, and navigation is temporarily closed.

The Mayor's Message.

The inaugural message of Mayor O. L. Jenkins was presented last evening at the first meeting of the Common Council for the year of 1901. It was an interesting document, carefully prepared and showing that the new Mayor has already realized the necessity of a careful study of the municipal problems now before the city of Plainfield.

While Mayor Jenkins touched slightly on all the chief departments of the city, he dwelt particularly on three subjects of interest in municipal affairs. First was the subject of taxation and the collection of taxes. Next he considered at length the present relations of the Council and the Board of Education and the questions, still unsettled, which the new school law has developed. The third and last subject was that of the proposed improvements at the city's sewage disposal plant.

On the subject of the collection of taxes, the Mayor expressed himself very firmly. He is in favor of the course of the recent Councils in the attempt to collect back taxes on real estate under the provisions of the Martin Act. What he did urge, however, was a corresponding activity in the collection of poll taxes and back taxes on personal property. He asked the Council to proceed under the provisions of one of the laws of 1890, which permits the seizure and sale of any personal property of the delinquent, or in case the delinquent has no personal property, the imprisonment of the delinquent until the tax has been paid.

To encourage the early payment of taxes, he advised the passage of a resolution, under the terms of the statutes of 1899, to allow a discount on taxes paid prior to the day on which they legally fall due.

Mayor Jenkins suggested that the Council would do well to seek the necessary legislation by the State Legislature this winter to definitely settle the questions which are now bothering both Council and Board of Education regarding the payment and control of school moneys. The subject of a new High School was not referred to but it is generally understood that as soon as the Board of Education emerges from the present general uncertainity, the movement to secure that new educational institution will be pushed with renewed vigor.

Although the question of improvements to the city's sewage disposal system was discussed at some length by the Mayor, he did not attempt to criticise the wisdom of the recommendations of last year's committee on streets and sewers. He carefully pointed out the need, however, of moving cautiously and accurately at every step to prevent as far as possible the city from having to revise these same acts in some future time.

An advantage of newspaper over other forms of advertising, says the Philadelphia Record, is that besides the direct returns there are accidental benefits. An American mine superintendent in Mexico received a copy of his home newspaper in which was the advertisement of an ice-making machine. He showed this to a wealthy Mexican, who ordered a machine, and later several were imported into the district.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

There was a rumor in Jersey City recently that notice would be served on those Democrats who contemplate, according to report, bolting the Democratic legislative caucus nomination of ex Congressman Alvah A. Clark for United States Senator that such action would be visited by isolation from participation in the councils of the party in the future. Whether this rumor has a solid foundation or otherwise, it is certain that the members of the Legislature who are said to be opposed to Mr. Clark's nomination will think two or three times before they vote in the joint meeting against him. Democratic pressure in New Jersey has effectively and collectively a way of making itself felt, especially when the old line Democrats are in sympathy with those of the new dispensation, which has come to the front in force since Bryan's defeat.—New York Tribune.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Among well regulated street railroads there is an iron clad rule prohibiting intoxicated people from riding on trolley cars. From observation, however, it would appear that such a rule is not in force on the lines of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company. If there is such a rule it is not enforced. Frequently passengers are annoyed by the conduct of drunken men, whom the conductors admit to the cars. A night or two ago a man, so much under the influence of liquor as to cause him to stagger and fall into a seat, was allowed to board an Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey car at a point along the line. Besides being grossly intoxicated the man's clothing was covered with grease and his hands were black with coal dust. He was taken by a companion into the smoking compartment, but after riding a few miles he refused to stay there, insisting upon his right to a seat in the department where smoking is prohibited. There the fellow made himself a nuisance to the passengers, being particularly obnoxious to the women. On one or two occasions he fell from his seat and it was with difficulty that the conductor was able to compel the inebriate to mind his own business.

There was an exciting time at the home of Frank N. Marcley, of 131 New street, one night last week. About midnight some of the members of the family heard a noise in the vicinity of the hennery, where some choice fowls are zealously guarded. An investigation was made and by the aid of a lamp the dim outlines of a man were discernable near the residence of the fowls.

Mr. Marcley slipped on his trousers and went forth to investigate, being armed with all the courage he possessed and the stove shaker. By the time he reached the yard the midnight prowler was seen to hasten from the premises and was lost in the darkness. When the excitement was at its height a young brother of Mr. Marcley joined in the search for the supposed thief, who had designs upon the family's choice hens. Out of the yard the young man dashed only to run plumb into the arms of a well dressed stranger making his way up the street. Before the stranger realized it he was taken by the collar.

Then the elder Mr. Marcley came up and explained matters. In the meantime the real intruder, a roughly-dressed man with African features, had made good his escape. Since the little comedy the hennery at the Marcley residence is closely watched. Strangers detected prowling about in its vicinity are liable to meet with a warm reception if apprehended.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

Daily Budget Of News Gathered By The Daily Press' Corps of Special Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan. 8.—The third prayer meeting of those to be held this week will take place in the Presbyterian church this evening, as will the one tomorrow evening also. After that the remainder will be held in the Methodist church. There will be no meeting Saturday evening.

The holders of the goods taken from the Hayes residence have had replevin papers served upon them prohibiting disposal. As soon as the claim of Mr. Haynes, of Philadelphia, who purchased the goods of Col. Hayes, is established, they will be sold at auction.

Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan, of New York, have returned home after a visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Milligan.

Mrs. Clarence Oakley, of New Brunswick, has returned home after a visit with her parents, Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer.

Herbert Bruch is the latest victim of the grip, having been confined to the house for the past few days with the prevalent malady.

Miss May Taylor still continues to improve slowly and her complete recovery is now looked for.

Harry Zimmerman, of Elizabeth, has been visiting friends in town for the past few days.

The regular monthly meeting of the borough Board of Education will be held this evening.

Mrs. Hattie Vliet, of Bloomsbury, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vliet.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross entertained friends from Elizabeth Sunday.

William Giles spent Sunday with relatives at Perth Amboy.

Mrs. John Heil, of Raritan, is visiting borough relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, Jan. 8.—James Crosgrove is slowly recovering from his recent illness.

The prayer meeting at the Seventh-day Baptist church last night was largely attended. This evening's meeting will be of special interest and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Earl Fulton has returned to Newark after spending the holiday vacation with his grandmother, Mrs. Rachel Fulton.

Skating was fine Sunday. Quite a number of Plainfielders indulged in a hockey game.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Carter, of New York, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Batchelor.

Edward Reusch, of Cranford, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Otto Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Whycoff Vorhees entertained friends from Trenton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Laire were the guests of New York friends yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 8.—The annual election for a chief, first and second assistant for the Fire Department will be held this evening in the two companies' headquarters. No regular ticket has been placed in the field and very little interest is manifested in the result. The retiring officers are Chief Geo. A. Clark; Assistant Geo. H. Johnston.

The recently elected officers of Fanwood Council, No. 744, R. A., will be installed at the semi-monthly meeting of the Council this evening. A large attendance of the members is desired.

Clarence Lambert started harvesting his crop of ice yesterday afternoon at the Back Pond. Two gangs of men will be kept at work night and day until the large ice house is filled.

The subject for the Tuesday evening Week of Prayer meetings being held this week in the Baptist church will be "Our Divine Credentials."

George Blinne, a former resident of Washington valley, but now of New York, was the guest yesterday of John H. Thys.

Miss Jennie Johnston led the weekly meeting of the Epworth League in the Methodist church Sunday evening.

John Falmey, who has been spending a week with relatives at Welden, N. Y., has returned home.

The trustees of the Baptist church held their regular monthly meeting in the church last evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, Jan. 8.—There is some talk among the coal storage people of moving their plant to Perth Amboy. The change of owners on the Lehigh Valley railroad may have something to do with this. Work at the storage is at present very slack.

Mrs. Thomas Linabury spent yesterday in New York, where she was called to witness in a suit for damages, instituted by her sister-in-law on account of an accident which befell Mrs. Linabury's nephew, who was struck by a trolley car.

The topics for the prayer meeting tonight are "Prayer for a better realization of spiritual truth and a better estimate of spiritual realities," and "A clearer vision of the redeeming Christ."

Harry Clinger took J. S. Thomas' place at the depot today. Mr. Thomas went to New York on business.

McDonoug Bros. are making preparations to harvest the ice crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Faulks are suffering with the grip.

time as the annual appropriation is made. The same was adopted. A resolution by Mr. VanHerwerden provided for a revision of the city ordinances so that the committee can have such ordinances as are necessary published.

At this time the inaugural message of Mayor O. L. Jenkins was received and read. The full text of the message will be found in another column.

Mr. Tolles offered a motion to the effect that the proposals, maps, specifications, etc., regarding the proposed improvements to the sewage beds, be approved and filed. Mr. Coriell and Mr. Lee objected vigorously to the motion, stating that they did not fully understand the matter. Mr. Craig also objected. They were under the impression that it would bind the city to adopt certain methods and obligate the Council to make the suggested changes. Mr. Tolles explained that such was not the case, instead it would place matters in such shape that bids could be asked for doing the proposed work.

It was finally agreed that the motion should be withdrawn, and Mr. Tolles offered another motion providing for the printing of fifty copies of the specifications for the enlightenment of the members and all interested.

Another resolution by Mr. Tolles provided for the borrowing of $1,500 from the general fund for sewage improvements, the same to be paid back when the annual appropriation is made.

Mr. Gloak from the license committee offered an amendment to the ordinance to license inns and taverns which provides that the wholesale liquor license be increased from $250 to $500 for each place. The amendment was read twice and ordered advertised.

This concluded the business of the evening and the Council adjourned to Monday evening, January 21.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The great Klaw and Erlanger brilliant success, the strange adventures of "Jack and the Beanstalk," will be offered at Music Hall, Thursday night, when with all the famous novelties, gorgeous costumes and wonderful effects which has characterized the presentation elsewhere, will be given together with an exceptional cast of many favorites. The score of Mr. Barnet is one of the important features, furnishing delicious music running through each of the acts, while Barnet's book introduces many characters familiar to us in nursery rhymes and fables dear to us in childhood in "Mother Goose" and the "Arabian Nights," including Mother Hubbard, Miss Muffett, King Cole, Sinbad, Jack, the giant and a host of others. There are the pretty maids, the good fairies, fascinating marches and ballets, forming in all a series of almost bewildering attractions and wonder to the auditors. It is generally conceded that "Jack" has more actual merit in its cleanliness of story and perfection throughout than any other extravaganza heretofore offered, and its career of continued triumphs is one of the best proofs of what it is. This is not a juvenile work, but a big scenic production, with over fifty people in the cast.

INAUGURAL MESSAGE OF MAYOR JENKINS.

fair share of the public burden of taxation. The City's duty extends further than to receive taxes from those who voluntarily make payment when the taxes fall due. Every tax payer who promptly pays his taxes has a right to insist that the City shall make use of all the powers conferred upon it to make all persons and all property share equally and justly in the expenses of government. With respect to taxes assessed against real estate, your Honorable Body and your predecessor have clearly recognized the duty referred to and by your proceedings under the Martin Act, the City has already realized many thousands of dollars and has taken the necessary steps to make sure that it will, in the near future, collect every dollar of delinquent real estate taxes, assessed during the last twenty-two years, with interest and costs, and will moreover, in the future, compel every piece of land in the City of Plainfield to promptly contribute its fair share of public tax, to be hereafter assessed. In the instances in which the City became the purchaser of real estate under the Martin Act tax sales, the matter of searching the records and ascertaining the names of heirs, mortgagees, etc., and the service upon all such persons of notices to redeem within the six months allowed by law after service of notice, have nearly been completed. It will remain, however, for the City to take possession peaceably, if possible, otherwise by action at law or suit in equity, of any of such properties as are or may readily be rented. It also remains for the city to make sales either of the certificates of sale already delivered, or sales of the property itself after the time for redemption shall have expired. All these matters are, of course, regulated by statute, and while large powers are given to the Common Council and also to the Mayor, in conjunction with other city officers not members of your Honorable Body, yet it is manifestly important that every step in the future should be taken with the same caution and careful consideration as in the past.

The city's record in the matter of collecting personal property taxes and poll taxes is not so commendable. It was brought to public notice through the initiative of one of your Honorable Body during the last year, how large an arrearage there is in the matter of poll taxes alone. The arrearage in personal property taxes is still larger. After careful consideration of the question, I have no hesitancy in saying that it is within your power to collect, during the present year, a great portion of these delinquent poll and personal property taxes. If it is in your power, plainly the duty to exercise that power has arisen. The city long ago in the Hetfield Tax case established its right to levy upon and sell personal property under the ordinary tax warrants which are regularly issued by the City Judge to the Collector. But a more potent method has been provided by later legislation. This also was recognized by the last Common Council, and an appropriate resolution was passed directing proceedings to be taken under the act in question, viz: Chapter 311, of the laws of 1890. Under that act the Collector of Taxes is authorized to issue to a constable the Collector's warrant under which the constable may sieze and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, after five days public notice, any personal property of the delinquent which he may find; and if the delinquent has no personal property, then the constable may take the body of the delinquent and lodge him in jail, to remain there until the tax is paid with interest and costs. Inasmuch as the term of office of the Collector who was in office when the resolution referred to was adopted has expired, although the same gentleman has been re elected, I recommend that a new resolution of substantially the same purport as the one referred to be promptly adopted by your Honorable Body, and that the Collector be urged to take immediate action and to report from month to month to the Common Council the result of his proceedings.

Through the efforts of the Common Council of 1899, the Legislature was induced to enact Chapter 201 of the laws of that year, authorizing cities to allow a discount on taxes paid prior to the day on which they legally fall due. This city has found it necessary in most years to borrow money in anticipation of the collection of taxes. A substantial saving in interest charges for borrowed money would, in my opinion, be effected if the Common Council should take action under the law just referred to, and authorize the Collector to allow a proper discount on all taxes paid prior to the 20th day of November of the year in which such taxes are assessed.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Whether Chapter 96 of the laws of 1900 has effected any changes in our local public school system; whether in particular, the Board of Education has had conferred upon it the new powers specified in that act, or will possess such powers only upon being reorganized under the term of that act; whether the board of school estimate in the city is a legally constituted body; and under what system school taxes shall be assessed, are some of the perplexing questions which the Common Council of 1900 were confronted with and many of which remain to perplex the present administration unless relief can be had by appropriate State legislation.

Another most important question arises under section 203 of the school law referred to, namely, whether under the peculiar phraseology of that section the City Treasurer is required to pay, on or before the fifth day of January next succeeding the assessment of school taxes, the amount already assessed exclusive of the State School Tax, whether the city shall have collected such school taxes or not. In my judgment, the proper method is that which has heretofore obtained in this city, whereby the city turns over to the Board of Education all local school taxes as fast as collected, and receives from the Board of Education its pro rata contribution toward the actual expense of the city in assessing and collecting taxes.

These questions and others connected with the law of 1900, above referred to, should receive the earliest attention of the Common Council, and I recommend that a special committee be appointed to consider such questions, and to seek to obtain such legislation as will relieve the city from its present embarrassment, and at the same time be fair and just with reference to that system of public instruction of which Plainfield has for so many years been justly proud.

SEWERAGE SYSTEM.

Your Honorable Body is familiar with the fact that numerous suits against the city were threatened when it was discovered that the maintenance of the sewerage beds had, as alleged, diminished the value of certain contiguous property. The energy with which the test case was prosecuted by the many lawyers engaged on the side of the plaintiff, and the large damages claimed, made it clear that much depended upon the city's success or failure in that cause. As you already know, the great principles of constitutional laws on which the city based its defense, were decided in the city's favor after the case had been certified to the Supreme Court. The main point decided and the one to which it is important to draw your attention now, in view of the contemplated changes in the disposal beds and appurtenances, was, substantially, that the system having been constructed and operated by the city under a valid act of the Legislature with all due care and skill, and without causing unnecessary damage, the city is not liable for the incidental or consequential damages resulting from the adoption or operation of such system, the reason being, that incidental or consequential injury to property is not a taking of property within the meaning of either the State or Federal Constitution, since the improvement is a matter of public concern and each individual member of the community while he is entitled to its benefits, must submit to its burdens.

The report of last year's Committee on Streets and Sewers, submitted to the Common Council on December 27th last, respecting proposed improvement in the sewerage system, is most valuable and clearly shows the hard and conscientious work done by the committee and those of whose services they availed themselves. If the radical changes proposed are adopted by the Common Council, it will be seen at once how necessary it is that they should be introduced under valid acts of legislation and the work done with due care and skill, in order that the city in any future litigation may be as well prepared for defense as in the case already begun. Both in the matter of making any changes, and the matter of providing for the expense of any contemplated change, I am confident that a Common Council, with the record for painstaking care established last year, will move cautiously and accurately at every step.

We are about to enter upon the discharge of our respective duties with the determination, to quote the language of our official oaths, that we will faithfully and justly perform all the duties of our offices to the best of our ability. Those duties are not as divergent as they were in earlier years, but have become more nearly assimilated to those of a President and Board of Directors of a great business corporation. The Mayor is required not only to approve ordinances, but to concur in the more important resolutions and appropriations of money. In the spirit of this more modern legislation, and with a keen appreciation gained during my service as a member of the Common Council, of the arduous work which your committees will be called upon to perform, I pledge you hearty cooperation in all that shall tend to the public welfare. We make no boasts that the impossible will be accomplished, nor that unlimited public improvements shall be made with limited appropriations, but, if at the end of the present year, we shall have preserved the high character and maintained the prestige already gained for the City of Plainfield, we shall have done well. Your obedient servant,

O. L. Jenkins, Mayor.

An Unusual Opportunity.
SUBSCRIPTION PLAN FOR 200,000 SHARES of the Treasury Stock of the BROWNLOW MINING AND MILLING COMPANY.
THE BROWNLOW GOLD MINES.

DESCRIPTION
This property is located at the entrance to Mosquito Gulch Park County, Colorado, and comprises 83 acres mineral ground, and is equipped with a complete plant of heavy machinery for hoisting, pumping, drilling and milling. The development work consists of about 3 000 feet of shafts and levels, and the production to date has been about $150,000. It is three miles from Alma and twelve miles from Leadville, and is in the heart of one of the largest mineral producing regions, with a record of $260 000,000 in the past twenty years.

HISTORY
The ore chute on this property was discovered in 1878, and in the following years over $150,000 was taken therefrom and expensive buildings, machinery and development constructed. Owing to heavy operating expenses and high smelting charges, the net production was but $50,000; while the mill was found unequal to the task of reducing the very large bodies of low grade sulphide ore found with depth. The owners thus got into financial difficulties and the property was foreclosed on a mortgage, passing into the hands of the present owners in 1896.

PROFITS
The upper half of the property has been most thoroughly explored and it is estimated that at a profit of but $2 per ton this ground will yield a net profit of $709 600, sufficient to pay annual dividends of twenty per cent for over fifteen years. What the lower half will yield is unknown, but it will greatly exceed the above estimate.

TITLE
Of the 83 acres about twenty-six are patented and the balance are in process of patenting. There are two adverses involving about thirteen acres and a compromise has been offered by adverse claimants, which is favorable to the Company. There is an indebtedness of about $11,000 against the property.

SUBSCRIPTION PLAN
For the purpose of clearing up this indebtedness and providing working capital to operate this valuable mine on the scale it deserves, this Company will place in their treasury 45 per cent. of the entire capital stock, amounting to 450,000 shares, and of this they offer to the public by subscription 200,000 shares at thirty cents per share, in blocks of 5,000 shares each, at $1,500 per block. Terms of subscription, 10 per cent. to be paid down and the balance when allotted by the STANDARD TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK.

CAPITAL STOCK
The capital stock of the BROWNLOW MINING & MILLING COMPANY is one million fully paid and non-assessible shares, par value $1. The $60,000 reliased from the sale of the 200,000 shares will be applied as follows:
To discharge indebtedness, $11,000 — Water power, $10,000
50 ton pyrite smelter, $25,000 — Working capital, $14 000
It is estimated that an expenditure of $5,400 for development will put the mine in paying ore in about thirty to sixty days from time of starting the air drills in fourth level, and that the mine will pay all further expenses of development from that time on; so that the above allowance of $14,000 seems ample for all requirements. In addition to this, however, the Company will have a reserve fund of 250,000 shares in its treasury, which, in case of necessity, can be sold to realize $75,000.

A GREAT FUTURE
The property is endorsed by the leading press of Colorado and every mining man, miner and prospector who is familiar with it or has worked in it believes it has a great future

OFFICERS
The officers of the Company are as follows:
President, EDWARD BARR, ex-Treasurer Brooklyn Bridge, Treasurer of the Storage Power Co., New York, and dealer in machinists' and mining supplies for the past twenty-five years at 73 John Street, New York.
Vice-President, SAMUEL R. ZWETOW, for nine years of the banking house of Greenebaum Sons, Chicago, and now a wholesale jeweler of Denver.

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Der Minister des Innern hat zu den Kosten der im Jahre 1901 dahier abzuhaltenden Internationalen Ausstellung für Feuerschutz und Feuerrettungswesen einen Staatszuschuß von 25,000 Mark bewilligt.—Der Kaiser machte dem von seiner Rundreise an die Höfe der größeren deutschen Bundesstaaten zurückgekehrten Reichskanzler Grafen Bülow einen Besuch und überreichte ihm eigenhändig die Insignien des Schwarzen Adlerordens.—Auf dem Hamburg-Lehrter Güterbahnhofe überschritt der 34 Jahre alte Güterarbeiter Julius Wills einer ausdrücklichen Vorschrift entgegen Geleise. An einem Wagen, der auf den Schienen angebremst stand, dicht vorbeigehend, sah er nicht, daß ein anderer Wagen, der zum Rangiren abgestoßen war, auf ihn zu kam. Wills bückte sich schnell, um noch zwischen beiden Wagen hindurchzuschlüpfen. Dabei gerieth er jedoch mit der Brust zwischen die beiden Puffer, die ihm den Brustkasten zermalmte. Der Unglückliche war sofort todt.—Der von den hiesigen Behörden wegen Heirathsschwindeleien, Bigamie und unbefugter Beilegung des Adelsprädikates steckbrieflich verfolgte amerikanische Architekt August Gravenhorst ist in Gemünden in Bayern verhaftet worden. Er heirathete 1896 in Amerika die Tochter des Bauern Dressel aus Gemünden.

Charlottenburg. Wegen Brandstiftung wurde das 15jährige Dienstmädchen Marie Droehmel, das bei dem Hauseigenthümer Müller in Stellung war, verhaftet. Innerhalb 14 Tagen fand man in dem Hause ihres Dienstherrn wiederholt Brandherde, das Feuer wurde aber immer noch im Entstehen gelöscht. Die angebrannten Sachen waren stets mit Petroleum getränkt. Das Mädchen beschuldigte den eigenen Vater der Brandstiftung. Dieser habe von ihr Geld verlangt und, als sie ihm nichts geben konnte, gedroht, das Haus anzünden zu wollen. Die Anschuldigung erwies sich als ganz haltlos, während die Schuld des Mädchens festgestellt wurde.

Eberswalde. Seinen 98. Geburtstag beging bei geistiger und körperlicher Frische unser Stadtältester und Ehrenbürger Rentner G. Schreiber. Unsere Stadt kann sich rühmen, in ihm den ältesten Stadtverordneten nicht nur in Preußen, sondern im ganzen deutschen Reiche zu besitzen.

Provinz Hannover.

Hannover. Wegen Verdachts der Verleitung zum Meineide wurde der besonders in Börsenkreisen bekannte Kali-Bohrunternehmer Dehnhardt verhaftet. In Haft genommen wurde ferner der frühere Sekretär des Vereins zur Förderung der hannöverischen Landespferdezucht, Julius Roethge, ein ehemaliger Offizier. Er hatte gefälschte Wechsel in Höhe von ungefähr 20,000 Mark in Umlauf gesetzt, war darauf nach Holland entflohen, kehrte aber freiwillig wieder zurück.

Göttingen. Die im Jahre 1871 begonnene Aufforstung des Hainberges und der angrenzenden Höhenzüge wird in jedem Jahre energisch weitergeführt. Demnächst wird die Aufforstung eines 41 Hektar großen Areals in Angriff genommen, das früher zu dem jedem alten Göttinger wohlbekannten Hainholzhofe gehörte.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Frankfurt. Mit Ausnahme der Strecke Bockenheim-Rödelheim wird seit Kurzem der gesammte Verkehr der Straßenbahn der Stadt Frankfurt elektrisch betrieben. Die Umwandlungsarbeiten haben 2½ Jahre in Anspruch genommen. Im Jahre 1872 wurde die erste Pferdebahnlinie hier eröffnet. Heute werden bei der elektrischen Straßenbahn über 1000 Angestellte beschäftigt.

Hanau. Der Minister für Handel und Gewerbe hat für die hiesige gewerbliche Fortbildungsschule die Erhöhung des Staatsbeitrags bis auf 12,000 Mark in Aussicht gestellt. Der bisherige Staatsbeitrag betrug 6000 Mark.

Hohenzollern.

Hechingen. Der Müller Keim gerieth bei dem Versuche, das Wasserrad durch Stroh vor Kälte zu schützen, in das große Rad und wurde so schwer verletzt, daß er nach wenigen Stunden starb.

Provinz Pommern.

Stettin. Der Arbeiter Franz Gubbe aus Grabow, der Arbeiten auf dem „Vulkan" auszuführen hatte, stürzte in den Kohlenraum eines Schiffes und zog sich so schwere Kopfverletzungen zu, daß er bald darauf verstarb.

Gollnow. Auf Veranlassung der Staatsanwaltschaft ist der Kaufmann Gotthard Zaude von hier, der sich zum Besuch bei seinem Sohne, einem im Posen'schen angestellten Juristen aufhielt, verhaftet worden. Der Grund der Verhaftung ist in Unregelmäßigkeiten zu suchen, die sich in der von Zaude lange Jahre hindurch verwalteten Kirchenkasse herausgestellt haben.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

NICE WORK FOR WOMEN.

New York Girl Has Worked Out a Fine Little Business for Herself as Visiting Jeweler.

"My little leather bag contains all the materials and implements necessary to clean and repair jewelry," Miss Sara Morton explained. "I go from house to house in New York and have all the work that I can do.

"You have no idea how many sensible women there are who will not allow their favorite pieces of jewelry to be repaired by the best houses simply because they fear that some of their best stones will be changed. I have many customers who watch me closely the entire time that I am at work on their property. It was the discoverey of this peculiarity in a friend of mine that gave me the idea of my work. Before actually beginning my work I entered a good establishment as an apprentice, where I learned not only how to clean and repair jewelry, but also old watches, of which I make a specialty.

"I had absolutely no trouble in getting work. My method is very simple. I call, ask for the lady of the house, explain my business and as a rule get some work. By this method I soon had as many regular customers as I could manage, and now I have many calls that I am obliged to refuse simply for lack of time. Nearly every woman of liberal means has a good supply of jewelry, and few of them keep it in such condition that it does not need repairing and cleaning at least every six months. Few of them are willing to trust the cleaning of their finer pieces to their maids and as it is more convenient for them to let me come in to clean it than it is for them to collect it and send it to the jeweler, I get the work.

VISITING JEWELER AT WORK.

These are my regular customers. Those who fear to allow their treasure into the hands of anyone where they cannot watch them belong to another class. As a rule, the articles they prize so highly are of little value to anyone besides themselves.

"My charges are less than those of a regular jeweler, and I am particular to have my work as good. I average five dollars a day above the cost of all materials used and my transportation expenses. That I consider good earning for a woman doing, as you might say, mechanical work in New York city. No, I never take work home. My evenings are all free, and so are my Sundays I need rest, particularly my eyes. I often buy articles of my patrons and also act as agent in bringing purchasers to those who would like to sell. Many women admire only the latest fashions in jewelry just as they do in gowns. When an article is no longer what they consider stylish they become very anxious to get rid of it in order to use the money to get something more to their taste. Knowing that I keep in touch with the taste and desires of my patrons they appeal to me to act as agent. The majority of these women keep the jeweler's boxes in which they buy the articles, and when they are cleaned and snugly wrapped in their colored cottons it is hard to distinguish them from new. I have sold many such as wedding presents and I cannot see the slightest objection to their being used in this way. They are always just as represented and cost about half as much as they would if bought new from the jeweler. Of course, I have many bargains, for as a rule such ultra stylish women are exceedingly extravagant. As they wear only the latest designs and the most fashionable stones they are often glad to let things go for a much smaller sum than they originally cost.

"My work is pleasant, I might almost say dainty. There is nothing heavy or laborious, so I cannot see why other women should hesitate to undertake it. I am the only one in the field so far as I can learn, but I am sure that there is room even here in New York for many more."—Lafayette McLaws, in Chicago Record.

SELECTING A CORSET.

It Is an Important Task and Requires the Exercise of Great Care and Ripe Judgment.

Comfort and beauty both considered, a woman's corset is her most important article of apparel. A good corset will accentuate the good points in her figure, and help to conceal imperfections.

There has been a great deal of nonsense written and spoken for and against the corset. This being a free country, there is no reason why a woman who prefers to go about without stays, whether from physical reasons or personal convictions in the matter, should not be allowed to follow her own sweet inclination.

Personally, I consider a well-fitting, properly constructed corset a blessing. There are, of course, some slight, willowy figures which can do wthout the support of a corset. But they are very rare exceptions. Take, for example, Mrs. Leslie Carter. Mrs. Carter wears a little girdle about her waist, which is all she requires, her figure being naturally slender, and the physical culture she has received in her years of hard training having given her extraordinary litheness and poise. But the average woman has not the advantage of Mrs. Carter's figure, nor the benefit of long and harmonious physical training. This everyday woman requires a corset, and not any or every corset which she may chance to discover that happens to have a certain number attached to it. There are two things which she must observe with the greatest care. First, whether the corset itself is made in the proper form and well-constructed. Secondly, whether it fits her. How many women, who are so careful about the way their gowns or coats fit, when purchasing corsets ignore either one or both of these precautions!

There are many good ready-made as well as custom-made corsets in the market, and before making her purchase she should first decide which form is more suitable for her figure. There are corsets for slender figures and others adapted only to over-stout women; there are some for long waists and some for short waists.

Having selected her corset, she should insist upon trying it on, and, above all, she should never select a cheaper corset just because it is cheaper. In stays, as in toilet soap, a woman cannot afford to economize, for health and comfort as well as personal appearance are vitally concerned. No matter how handsome a gown may be, if it is fitted and worn over a badly-made corset the effect will be ruined.

To show just how great a factor her corset is in a woman's appearance, I induced a lady who was wearing a most hideous corset to allow me to make two little sketches of her.

In No. 1 she is wearing the corset of her own selection, while No. 2 shows the same figure in a well-fitting corset. Everyone who sees these pictures will recognize the first figure as one she knows very well. The second corset is not heavily boned, but is so cut that the ugly curve at the waist is entirely suppressed and objectionable embonpoint, caused by the wretched shape of the old corset, has entirely disappeared.—Gertrude M. Anderson, in Detroit Free Press.

BOB BURDETTE
Takes a Trip Abroad

He Visits Oberammergau and Pronounces the People "Harmless as Doves and Wise as Serpents."

Copyrighted, 1900, by Robert J. Burdette.

A LITTLE village, high up in the Bavarian Alps, close to the watershed—"a simple, unspoiled, homely village," all the guide books tell us. Well, I don't think it is spoiled. It looks to be in a state of most excellent preservation. Portions of it appear to be about 1,000 years old. The rest of it, which is the working majority in both houses, is as new as unseasoned pine and new paint—not yet quite dry—can make it. New as though a section of the world's fair, devoted to the sale of charms, trinkets, talismans, copyright photographs, exclusive editions of the play, wine and beer, had been dropped here in these picturesque mountains. "Homely" the village of Oberammergau undoubtedly is; homely as a room with six feather beds and a cowshed on the other side the partition can make it. "Simple" as a mountain village can be that in its decennial harvest makes hay while the tourist lasts and rakes in a harvest of $20,000 per day. "Simple," but wise enough to sell exclusive copyright privileges to the right people. Not so simple as it used to be, maybe, but rather "fervent in spirit, diligent in business, serving the Lord."

When last March we bought our seats for a play and lodgings at an inn for a performance to be given seven months and 7,000 or 8,000 miles away, with the positive certainty that we would—as we did—get exactly the seats and the "billet" we had bought, I thought then that these "simple-minded mountain folk" might be—and they are—as harmless as doves, but they are also as wise as serpents, and it is one of the traditions of our family history that the first time my old grandfather, who was in his day about the smartest man on earth, had dealings with a serpent the snake "done him." For I also have been made a man under a good manager for some 25 years, and some thumbmarks of the show business I seem able to recognize by the sound.

THE THIRSTY MULTITUDE THRONGS AND DRINKS.

In Touch with Nature.

Many features of the ancient simplicity of the village still abide unchanged, but the carriage fares are distinctly modern. I am not sure but that I rather enjoy the growing touches of modernity in the "homely little unspoiled village." I do not like to sit at my frugal continental breakfast—which isn't worth a continental—breaking my teeth as I try to gnaw the petrified bread which is used throughout Europe as food, when it could be so much more profitably polished and sold in slabs as Arizona onyx—while a patient, toil-worn cow at my elbow, having finished her clover, looks in through the window at the stranger guest, contemplating him with moon-eyed wonder. The cows of Oberammergau are friendly and domestic. Near by us in the village dwelt two distinguished children of song—Mme. Patti and Mme. Ginevra Johnstone-Bishop, of the United States. Our distinguished compatriot was missed one morning, and inquiry was made for her. "Mme. Johnstone-Bishop?" replied a friend. "I just met her; she has gone walking down the street with a cow." I am fond of cows, but I love them on my breakfast table rather than beside it.

But then, what is the use of finding fault? I have nothing but admiration for these people, when a little town of about 2,000 souls meets an inundation of 6,000 strangers, houses them all somehow, and in the main comfortably, feeds them well, treats them with unfailing courtesy, and is good humored all the time. The only people I ever saw out of temper in Oberammergau were the tourists. The people are shrewd, sensible folk. They do not know what a "trust" is, technically, they understand it is some kind of a hideous monopoly that is eating the life out of everything and everybody in the United States. But they have an intuitive comprehension of the underlying principles and the unmeasured benefits of a monopoly. Can't imagine where they found it out. Must have learned it from the worldly-wise serpent, I reckon. They are not exorbitant, they do not grind the face of the tourist, who everywhere pays daily and hourly tribute to Caesar, sultan, shah and Barabbas for being a tourist. They are not a greedy folk. The prices at Oberammergau for anything—everything—are as a friendly gift to open hospitality when one remembers the cost of a sandwich—and, oh, bitter memories of white oak sawdust—such a sandwich!—at the Columbian exposition, and as a pension, when one compares them with Parisian prices of this year. The longer you stay among these people the better you like them. But it costs more to stay at the house of a disciple than to sleep at an ordinary pension. It is worth something to abide in the house of Philip or Peter or John. And there are some people who come to Oberammergau who pay rarely for these inestimable privileges, who really believe that the host is the identical Bartholomew or Andrew or James mentioned in the gospels. "Ignorant peasants?" Bless your simple souls! no! Americans, some of them; some of them English. You learn that by talking with them. There are people come here who think this was where the Lord was crucified, and that this Passion Play has been performed here annually ever since. But this is an error.

So you see that while with the cordial cooperation of the tourist agencies and publishers of books and photographs and hotel managers and other people used to this sort of thing, there is growing to be a misty, business-like, "trust-seeming" atmosphere shimmering about the pristine "simplicity" of the play. Well, what of that? Have you no friend whom you admire, respect, esteem, love, who is stockholder or director in some trust? Easy, now! Don't speak too loudly nor too quickly; there are lies enough floating around already. In the Passion Play, as it is here presented, the opening scene is the entry into Jerusalem, and Jesus scourging the money changers out of the temple. As we enter the theater, the last booth for the sale of copyright photographs, charms, trinklets and things is a hundred paces or so from the door. Still, it's on the outside.

Born of Terror.

War, that always strikes its most terrible blows after the declaration of peace, struck at Oberammergau with its favorite weapon, the pestilence, after the ravaging of the Thirty Years' war, and in one month the terror that strikes at midnight where the sword cannot smite by day, slew 84 people in this little village. The horror-stricken survivors did as men always do, after they have tried everything and appealed to everybody else—they turned to God, and doubtless considered it righteousness in themselves that they did. Even as men unto this day honor the Almighty as a forlorn hope, saying: "You can't do any worse for me than anyone else, and you may do better." I wouldn't feel complimented by such patronage—well, call it "service," then, if you prefer; neither would you. But God is different, which is all the better for us. Well, the villagers vowed that if God would remove the plague they would every ten years perform "The Passion Play" as an act of thanksgiving. As it is written in the Second Book of Samuel, "And when the angel stretched out his hand upon Jerusalem to destroy it the Lord repented Him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed the people, It is enough, stay now thy hand. And the angel of the Lord was by the thrashing place of Araunah, the Jebusite." So they tell us that after this vow was made not one person died in Oberammergau, and those who were already smitten of the plague recovered. Thus "The Passion Play." At first and for many years it was given with all the grotesque crudities and the vulgarities that so often mark such things. The devil was the "funny man," the comedian of the play, and his antics made mirth for the crowd, especially when, after the suicide of Judas, he tore open the traitor's body and drew from thence long strings of link sausages, to the unrestrainable delight of the roaring audience. But from all this coarseness Daisenberger, the village priest, has denivered the play. With good taste, with a reverent sirit and poetical temperament, he has lifted the play, as nearly as a dramatic representation could be, to the dignity and pure simplicity of the Gospel story.

A Human Picture.

"The Passion Play" portrays exclusively the human side of Jesus in the closing week of His life, preceding the crucifixion. But it does not present the Christ who is ever present in the Gospels. It is vividly realistic, impressively tender, beautiful beyond the measure of words, but it is only the story of a teacher and a reformer far in advance of His times, going to His death at the hands of the men whom He sought to help. So died Socrates, John Huss, Savonarola. "Jesus of Nazareth, the Son of Joseph," we see as plainly as Philip saw Him. "The Christ, the Son of the living God," whom Peter confessed, is not revealed at all. Jesus the sufferer is always present—that is all. Christ the Saviour cannot be dramatized, and is not seen in the Passion Play at Oberammergau or anywhere else. There is in the "play" all the power, all the inspiration, all the moral uplift to noble purpose that there is in any play of high moral purpose and principle. And you know what and how much that is.

But the power of this play to draw people from the ends of the earth and to hold an audience in deep, intense, unwavering interest for eight hours is not equaled. It is not shadowed by anything else that can be "staged." These "simple mountain folk" have constructed an auditorium that will seat 4,000 people. I do not suppose it is constructed on the principles of advanced architectural science. Indeed, I know it is not, because you can hear in it. One entire end of the auditorium opens toward the stage, which is out of doors. The Alps are the background of the stage; the sunshine and the shadows drift and fall across it from the skies. The restless swallows flit to and fro above the heads of the actors. There is a little out-of-door space between the stage and the auditorium. And across this space, into every part of the great hall, without an echo, clear and distinct, fall the words—not merely the voices—of the players. I have suffered so much and so many things of echoing churches, cavernous courthouses, resonant "opera houses" and ventriloquial auditoriums, that if they had told me this Oberammergau auditorium had been miraculously reared in a single night by angels I was ready to believe it.

Crowding this room to its capacity and occupying the standing room the audience looked and listened four hours; then an hour of intermission, and four hours again. Not a ripple of mirth in all this play, not a ray of the lightest humor, not a suggestion of a smile. Every line as earnest as life, as serious as death. Let some "manager" of modern drama undertake to parallel this with all the appliances and effects at his command. Let him try to arrange an "entertainment" that will hold 4,000 people for a day as this one is held—no talking, no whispering, very little movement; comparatively no going out; listening eagerly, reverently, intently to every word, to every line and phrase of the music. Society drama could not do this; vaudeville cannot. People will not go to hear Shakespeare. But this tragedy of the ages? All peoples come to see it. As it is written, "Are not all these which speak Galileans? And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?" People do not and will not travel 10,000 miles to see an "amusing play." There is nothing that holds people like the earnestness of life, and there is no life in song and story, in history or fable, that has the power over the hearts and intellects of men like the life of Jesus.

These actors are wood carvers, ordinary workmen, peasants, tradesmen. But they move and speak on the stage with a grace and dignity that you will rarely see surpassed—seldom equaled. They do not play to the audience. They do not look at it. There is no maneuvering to get "the center of the stage." There is no mannerism, no apparent self-consciousness. For the actors, at least, the play is a real thing. So perfect is the acting that you forget that it is acting.

Redeeming His "Part."

Far and away the best actor is Judas. This is one of the curious "human" features of the play. After his final appearance before the chief priests, when the remorseful traitor casts at their feet the price of his soul, the sympathy of the audience sensibly sets toward the lonely, forsaken outcast, and when the curtain is drawn on his despair as he rushes madly to his doom, you can feel the pity for the wretched man in every breast. Judas, playing an ungrateful and abhorrent part, by the very power and art of playing it well, has virtually "won his audience." There is a little sermonette for you right here, my boy, but you can preach it a great deal better than anyone else can.

More than Judas, the high priest, the chief priests and the scribes and the traders in the temple are the villains of the play. From first to last the heart of the audience burns with anger against them. From first to last they are despised and hated. There is never one throb of pity for them as misguided men. They are wholly "villainous." All the democracy of the audience rises in hot indignation in restless resentment, against the aristocracy of the church as it leagues itself with all the powers of darkness against the meek and lowly "street preacher" and his humble disciples. You can feel it all through the play; you can hear it when the audience disperses. It is the pillars of the church and state on the one hand and "the common people who heard him gladly" on the other. And all the sympathy is with the "common people."

Now, how long does that feeling last after the play is over? Oh, well, about as long as the feelings wrought up by almost any dramatic performance do, say an hour and a half. These same people will go to a service in a day or two in one of their churches—a cathedral; may be. They will see the officiating priests with numberless distinction of titles and station, clad in the stiff, ungainly, ungraceful ecclesiastical vestments, in which the only design seems to be to get as much wealth of gold and silver embroidery and setting of precious stones as possible on so many square feet of cloth; they will see the heavy gorgeousness of color and splendor of robing they noted in the Sanhedrin; they will see on the walls and in the windows the painted pictures of these Galilean peasants whom they saw grouped around the Christus in their coarse, homely, graceful garb, depicted in the gold and blue and crimson stiffness of the medieval bishop, crowned with the ungainly grotesqueness of the miter which is the most hopeless artistic absurdity ever conceived by man, and will they contrast all this with the peasant group they saw presented on the stage at Oberammergau? I doubt it very much. You and I, dear madam, would think of it because you and I are very simple, plain Protestants. Do we, when we see our own beloved and orthodox pastor come into the pulpit Sunday morning, dragging after him a string of titles longer than his gown, do we think of his Master who commanded His disciples: "But be ye not called rabbi—neither be ye called master." Indeed we do not. We are even prouder of our pastor's many titles than he is himself, and we give him a dinner and put it in the papers every time he gets a new one to his string. Ah, beloved, all the ecclesiastical mummery in the world isn't in the cathedrals; not by seven verses and a doxology it isn't.

I TRY TO GNAW THE PETRIFIED BREAD.

And Finally, Brethren.

Well, the play is over; it is 5:30 p. m., and the audience, that has spent the Sabbath day in listening to the play, greets the closing curtains with applause—not unanimous, but about as general as it is in some Chicago or Boston Protestant churches—or occasionally in London—and the crowd pours out of the many exits. And in every cafe, in all the little shops, at all the little tables and clustered chairs on the sidewalks, wherever beer glasses and wine bottles can be stood, the thirsty multitude throngs and drinks wine and beer until the supply is exhausted, which is absurd, or they can hold no more, which is impossible. Anyhow they keep it up for three hours. The Christus and the Twelve Disciples—for Judas is a very popular man in the village—have gone to a dinner given them by an English gentleman, the band has paraded the streets, discoursing most excellent music, and all the village is happy.

Well, what would you? The play is over. What do you usually do in America after the play? Especially after a "good play?" Well, this was "a good play."

ROBERT J. BURDETTE.

SPICES THAT GRATIFY.

The Uses of Some in Other Lands and in Our Own Country.

Wholesome spices are used on a large scale in this country. Time was, says the Philadelphia Ledger, when many of them were worth their weight in gold, but to-day they are all cultivated so that they cost only a fraction of what they did in ancient days. It is said that Pliny paid at the rate of five dollars per pound for pepper. Now black and white pepper is so cheap that we use it in everything. There are some queer uses to which spices are put in some countries. In many hot lands a pepper tea is made and consumed in great quantities, and the spice is liberally mixed with all foods to stimulate the appetite. In the cold northern woods the logmen use it as a stimulant, mixing it with water and drinking it hot. It is said to be an antidote for colds that takes the place of more harmful stimulants.

Cloves when properly used are wholesome. The oil of cloves is used for medicinal purposes, and its pungent, aromatic flavor makes it an exceedingly pleasant remedy for the toothache. Like pepper, the oil of cloves is used to ward off a cold in some climates. A few drops of it in warm milk are mildly efficacious. The scent of the oil of cloves is disliked very much by the small vermin which live in old wooden furniture, and a few drops on the woodwork will generally drive them out. In early days hams were always cooked full of cloves, and this practice is still kept up in parts of the south. The spices give to the meat a delicate flavor.

TROLLEY MEN MAY STRIKE.

MUCH DISSATISFACTION OVER NEW RULES ON THROJGH-LINES.

Motormen and Conductors Claim That They Are Overworked and Underpaid—May Strike.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, January 8.—The new management of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central New Jersey Street Railway Company is trying to check a strike movement which, it is said, the motormen and conductors on the Plainfield-Elizabeth line are contemplating. Although the men claim they are poorly paid, they say they were willing to work for low wages, the road being a new one and under big expenses. But last week when two cars were taken off and the men ordered to make an extra trip between the two cities, complaints from both ends of the car were heard.

They even claim they are made to work more than twelve hours a day, but receive no extra pay for the overtime. It is said that some of the men were in favor of leaving the cars at once, but the advice of the more conservative ones prevailed and the strike, for the time being, was averted.

The officials of the road at the Westfield office deny that any change has been made in the running time or any trouble is looked for. A strike at this time would mean a big loss to the company, the complicated transfer system making it impossible to fill the places of the conductors by green hands. Col. E. W. Hine, the secretary of the company, was in town yesterday, but what his mission was could not be learned.

Should the road be tied up by a strike the people of Westfield would probably stand solidly with the strikers, the company's treatment of passengers as regards transfers, making a sore not easily healed. Cars were running on any old time Sunday, many of them being late.

Will Close Tomorrow.

The office of the Union Beef Co., one of the branch establishments of Armour & Co., of which R. I. Tolles, of this city, is manager, will be closed tomorrow afternoon during the funeral of the late Philip D. Armour.

Hurt While Skating.

DATES SETTLED.

Times Fixed for "The Private Secretary" and the Oratorio "Elijah," at Music Hall.

It has now been definitely decided that the oratorio of "Elijah," is to be given at Music Hall Tuesday evening, February 19, by the Plainfield Choral Society, with full orchestra and prominent soloists. Tickets will be at the box office of Music Hall on Tuesday, February 12, where subscribers can make their selections. First come first served.

It has also been decided that "The Private Secretary," will be given at Music Hall Friday and Saturday evenings, February 15 and 16. The first evening will be a dress rehearsal.

Two Losses This Year.

Elston M. French, the insurance and real estate agent, has had two fire losses since the new century began, having had the insurance on the Plainfield Photo and Supply Company's stock, which was slightly damaged last Saturday night. The loss on John Johnson's barn, which was burned New Year's day has been adjusted in a satisfactory manner. This is the third loss which Mr. French's company has paid on this same barn, and yet he still continues to carry the risk. He says, however, that he feels safer now that the incendiary is behind the bars.

Exposure to a sudden climatic change produces cold in the head and catarrh is apt to follow. Provided with Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh. Price 50 cents at Druggists, or Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York, will mail it. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation, cleanses and cures. Cream Balm quickly cures the cold.

Getting Ready for Fair.

At the regular meeting of the West End Hose Company of the borough last evening the various committees appointed for the purpose of soliciting donations for the firemen's fair soon to be held, reported that the citizens had offered to contribute quite liberally. The fair will be held at Saengerbund Hall from the 4th to 11th of February.

Week of Prayer at Warren Chapel.

The Week of Prayer will be observed at Warren chapel every evening this week except Saturday. The meetings will begin at 8 o'clock. This evening Francis C. Harder will be the leader. The topic will be "Our Christian Calling." Tomorrow evening J. H. Manning will lead the meeting. The subject will be "Our Credentials."

Week of Prayer Topics.

The Week of Prayer will be observed at the Park Avenue Baptist church this week as follows: Tuesday evening, "The Man With a Purpose," Rev. J. W. Richardson; Wednesday, "Dropping the World," Rev. A. E. Main; Thursday, "What Makes a Church Vanquish," Rev. B. W. Hand; Friday, Young People's Service.

Evangelistic Service.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church will hold an evangelistic service next Friday evening in connection with the Week of Prayer services being held at the church this week. Each member is urged to bring an unconverted friend.

Handsome Residence in the Park.

Architect E. V. French is superintending the construction of a handsome house that is being built by the Cadmus estate in Washington Park. It will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brooks when completed.

Mrs. M. E. Bardell, who lives with her son, A. T. Runyan, of LaGrande avenue, is very ill, having recently sustained a third stroke of paralysis.

LEGISLATURE OPENS TODAY.

WILL CONVENE AT STATE HOUSE THIS AFTERNOON.

Will Organize, Appoint Committees, and Then Adjourn Until Next Week—Plainfielders Present.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Trenton, January 8.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon the State Legislature will convene for the 1901 term. The organization will be made in both Houses, committees appointed and a few preliminary matters attended to, and then the Legislature will probably adjourn until next week.

Governor Voorhees' message will be received and one of the first happenings in either House will be the reading of it. It is understood that the Governor made a number of recommendations regarding legislation.

The law-makers and the members of the lobby have been in Trenton for nearly two days and there has been activity at the Trenton House, where the politicians gather. General Sewell did not arrive until today and was immediately the centre of interest.

One of the first acts of the new Legislature will be to elect General Sewell to succeed himself in the United States Senate. The minority nominee will be Hon. Alvah A. Clark, of Somerville, and there seems no doubt but that he will receive the full Democratic vote despite the opposition against him in South Jersey.

Senator Charles A. Reed, of North Plainfield, is here. Mr. Reed will play an important part in the session as leader of the Republican forces in the Senate. Charles S. Foote, of Plainfield, will probably be one of the most prominent members of the Assembly, and is looked upon as one of the strongest debaters on the Republican side of the House.

MRS. SEBRING'S FUNERAL.

Took Place Privately This Morning From Her Parents' Home.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Edward Sebring were held this morning at 11 o'clock from the residence of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Voehl, on Somerset street, and were private. Rev. G. W. Gardner, pastor of Grace M. E. church, where the deceased was a member, conducted the services, and was assisted by Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, of the borough.

Tender words of eulogy were spoken by the clergymen regarding the Christian life of Mrs. Sebring and of her devotion to God and her church. Always willing to assist in advancing the cause of religion she was ever active in the various departments of work at her church. During the services several selections were sung sweetly by the Misses Alice and Grace Carroll.

There were floral tributes from Unity Lodge, No. 101, K. of P., Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church, the Primary and Junior Teachers' Union.

The interment took place at Bound Brook, and those who acted as bearers were Frank Putnam, E. P. T. Smith and J. F. Buckle from Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P.; E. H. Bird, John Becker and Andrew Carpenter from Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I.O.O.F.

Death of Mrs. Graber.

Mrs. Charles F. Graber died at her home on Clinton avenue at 2 o'clock this morning. She had been suffering for several weeks and recently underwent an operation for the removal of a tumor. Complications ensued which caused death. The deceased came to this city with her husband from Newark six months ago. She was in her forty-fifth year and in addition to a husband leaves one son and two daughters.

Successful Operation.

John Tschutter, aged 12 years, of 50 Race street, was taken to the hospital last evening and at 9 o'clock underwent an operation for appendicitis. Today the patient is doing fairly well. It is not known how long he has been ill, but Dr. Pittis was called in for the first last evening, and an operation was decided upon at once. Dr. Hedges performed the operation.

Car Collided With Brewery Wagon.

One of the large cars on the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central New Jersey Railway, collided with a heavily-loaded brewery wagon at Cranford last night. The motorman and driver escaped injury. The wagon was wrecked and the front end of the car badly damaged. The latter was brought to the car stables in this city for repairs.

Burning Grass.

Sparks from a locomotive set fire to the high grass on South avenue, below Leland avenue, early last evening. Nearby houses became endangered and it became necessary to summon the fire department by telephone. The flames were soon extinguished to the great relief of the residents.

Case Dismissed.

The case of the State against John Stevens, the young man charged with stealing several articles from Music Hall, was dismissed in Justice Huff's court this morning for lack of evidence.

RESPECTED CITIZEN GONE.

George W. Moore Died at His Home on Elm Place Early This Morning.

George W. Moore, one of Plainfield's well-known and respected citizens, passed away at his home on Elm place early this morning. He had been suffering for the past two months from heart trouble and dropsy and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Moore was born in Newark fifty-eight years ago but has lived in Plainfield since 1870. He was a wheelwright by trade and located on East Front street in the shop which he has occupied ever since. In addition to the wheelwright business, he engaged in the cigar trade. During his residence here Mr. Moore made a host of acquaintances, by all of whom he was well liked for his many acts of generousness and genial companionship.

The deceased is survived by a widow and one brother, Edward Moore, of Newark. No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral services. This will probably be held Thursday under the auspices of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., of which he was a member.

Bank Elections.

The annual election of directors of the City National Bank was held this afternoon and resulted as follows: Chas. Hyde, J. F. Hubbard, Jas. T. Closson, H. G. Runkle, Walter Scott, W. F. Arnold, J. K. Myers, J. F. MacDonald, J. B. Coward. 1,389 shares out of 1,500 voted.

The annual election of directors of the First National Bank took place this afternoon and resulted as follows: Isaac W. Rushmore, Wm. M. Stillman, J. A. Hubbard, J. A. Smith, F. S. Runyon, J. W. Johnson, Wm. R. Codington, P. M. French, R. M. Stelle.

J. W. Johnson was elected president and J. A. Smith vice president.

LIFE IN PLAINFIELD MANY YEARS AGO.

More Facts From L. E. Barkalew's Sketch of Early History of This City.

ABOUT FIRE COMPANIES.

FEW LEFT OF THE MEN WHO USED TO RUN WITH MACHINE.

Transportation in the Early Days—How the First Train Came Into Plainfield—Postal Service of Early Part of Last Century.

In regard to the early days of the Plainfield fire department, L. E. Barkalew's narrative of the early history of the town, presented at the New Year's Eve reception of the Exempt Firemen's Association, contains some interesting facts. In the early part of the first half of the Nineteenth century there were but two fire companies in the town. Engine Company No. 1 had a double decker hand machine. It was bought by a few of the citizens at New Brunswick. All the members of that company have passed away. The headquarters of No. 1 was in a building on West Front street, where the store of Crosby & Hill is situated. As the town grew and improvements were made the engine was moved to Park avenue at a point near where Doane's jewelry store is. The machine remained there until the building was sold, some years later, to a citizen who moved it to Third and Church streets, where it did duty for many years as a paint shop.

Some years afterwards another fire company was organized. It was known as Harmony Engine Company No. 2. This company was formed by some of the older citizens of the town, who bought a very handsome double decker hand engine in Philadelphia This was the engine that formed the commencement of the present excellent fire department. It is believed that Daniel Ayers is the only member of the old original fire company who is alive at this time. Mr. Ayers, who is a brother of the late William C. Ayers, also a member of the old original Harmony Engine Company, is still living in Philadelphia.

The building that housed Harmony No. 2 was originally built and located on Second street on ground now occupied by the Elkwood building, the use of the ground having been given for the location of the building.

From time to time the building, which stood on rollers, was moved to different places owing to the march of improvements. It occupied several locations before it finally arrived at its destination.

The building that was afterwards erected for housing Harmony engine is now located on Somerset street in the rear of the French residence and among the French outbuildings. It has been on its present site for about fifty-one years. On the front of the building the name of "Harmony Engine Company, No. 2," is plainly desernable to this day.

Continuing his reference to the business places, Mr. Barkalew says he distinctly remembers when there were but two drug stores in Plainfield. One was located at the corner of Front street and Park avenue, being kept by Drs. J. W. & L. Craig. The late Alex Shotwell was the principal clerk for many years. The other drug store occupied ground adjoining the First Baptist church and was owned by Dr. Wilson. These drug stores have long ago passed away and in their places are twelve others situated in various parts of the city.

In compar'son with the splendid postoffice and excellent postal service of today in Plainfield, the historian calls attention to the fact that sixty years ago the postmaster was also a hotel keeper. If you received a letter you would have to call at the hotel for it. In contrast to the cheap postage of today Mr Barkalew says that postage on a letter from Plainfield to New York cost six cents. In later years the postage was reduced to five cents, then to three cents and finally after the war of the Rebellion to two cents. In those days nearly all letters were sent through the mails without being prepaid, postage being collected by the postmaster at the receiving station.

The principal hotel in Mr. Barkalew's boyhood days was in a building that is now located on Grove street, adjoing the First Church of Christ, it having been moved to that point and converted into an apartment house. This hotel stood for many years where the handsome Babcock block is

FELL ON HIS HEAD.

John H. Tier Injured While Assisting in Harvesting the Ice Crop at Tier's Pond.

While assisting in the work of gathering ice at Tier's pond Monday night, John H. Tier, Sr., was severely injured It is his duty to handle the guide ropes connected with the tramway. In some way the rope slipped and in attempting to catch it he fell from the platform, striking on his head and shoulders on the ice. Mr. Tier's head came in contact with a post and he was rendered unconscious for a few moments. Some of the workmen picked him up and he was soon revived. Mr. Tier's head was severely cut. He was able to resume work again yesterday.

HARVESTING THE ICE CROP.

WORKING EARLY AND LATE AT TIER'S POND TO GATHER THE ICE.

How the Ice is Cut and Then Transferred to the Big Ice House for Storage.

Gathering the annual crop of ice is in progress at Tier's pond. Monday morning a gang of men was set at work and several hundred tons of ice have already been harvested. The ice is about nine inches thick and as clear as an African diamond. The large icehouse holds about 2,000 tons, but not more than 1 500 or 1,800 tons will be housed this year. This ice is only used in the manufacture and keeping of ice cream.

When a reporter for The Daily Press dropped around to the pond yesterday afternoon, there was a busy scene. More than twenty men and two horses were at work gathering the ice, which is of excellent quality. Two horses were used to pull the markers, while nearly fifteen men were engaged sawing, cutting and poling the large blocks of the congealed liquid. As fast as the ice was cut into small blocks it was shoved along towards the tramway, where it was quickly hauled out of the water and up into the large house where several men were ready to sort and pack it. The hoisting is done by a steam engine.

The labor of gathering this immense crop of ice was begun by the Messrs. Tier Monday morning. The men were worked in gangs till nearly 11 o'clock Monday night and again last night. The bright moonlight proved of good advantage and work could be prosecuted without the aid of artificial light. Then, too, the ice handles much better at night when it is colder, slipping about more easily.

Notwithstanding that there has been a large surface of the ice cut away, leaving exposed half of the water in the pond, the young folks are still enjoying themselves skating upon the upper half. As fast as the ice is cut away the skaters are compelled to keep toward the upper end of the pond. In a day or two, unless it freezes hard, the boys and girls will have to seek other quarters if they wish to skate.

Mr. Tier told a reporter for the Daily Press that if the weather continues fair all the ice he cared to harvest would be gathered by tonight or tomorrow morning.

REPUBLICANS MEET.

Annual Meeting of the Second Ward Republican Association Held Last Night.

The annual meeting of the Second Ward Republican Association was held at the Bryant School building last evening. The president, City Judge Wm. N. Runyon, was ill and unable to be present. The vice-president, Assemblyman Charles S. Foote, was at Trenton, and the treasurer, Councilman John B. Dumont, in New York. So the secretary, Charles B. Morse, called the meeting to order.

Thomas A. Cuming was made chairman pro tem. After the report of the treasurer was received the following members of the Board of Managers were unanimously elected: Stephen A. Ginna, John B. Dumont, John E. Keely, Charles S. Foote, William N. Runyon, John vanHerwerden, Charles C. Davis, Charles H. Hand, Thomas A. Cuming, Charles B. Morse, James E. Kimball, Edwin H. Frost, George P. Mellick, J. Hervey Doane and John Johnson.

A meeting of the Board of Managers will be held later in the month, when the officers for the year will be elected.

Foot Crushed by Wheel.

John Gill, a driver for John E. Keeley, is confined to his home with a badly injured foot. He attempted to fix something on a coach yesterday morning when the horse started and a wheel passed over his right foot. He was assisted to Dr. Van Horn's office where on examination one of the small bones was found to be broken.

John Peterson, of Arlington, is confined to his home by a serious illness.

OPENING DAY FOR JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

After Organizing and Receiving Governor's Message, Both Houses Adjourned.

TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT.

UNION AND SOMERSET COUNTIES WELL REPRESENTED.

Local Member Received Floral Gifts With The Others—George J. Coe Appointed Journal Clerk—Other Appointments.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, January 9.—The hundred and twenty-fifth session of the New Jersey Legislature was convened at the State House yesterday afternoon. According to schedule, both Senate and Assembly organized, appointed committees, listened to the Governor's message, and then adjourned until next Monday evening.

There was a large gathering of politicians from all over the State for the opening of the Legislature. Most of them arrived the night before and Senator Kean and several others of the prominent Republicans gave receptions to the throng of their friends who had assembled.

Nearly every member of both houses was remembered with floral gifts of more or less elaborateness and the legislative halls were temporarily converted into floral bowers. Both Senator Charles A. Reed and Assemblyman Charles S. Foote were well remembered.

In the Senate, Senator Mahlon Pitney, of Morris county was elected President of that body.

On taking the chair, President Pitney called attention to the fact that Legislatures are often criticised for wasting time at the beginning of the sessions. He considered, however, that a proper amount of time spent in the framing of laws and eliminating objectionable features was equally as important as concluding the work of the session when the measures actually come up for passage. Few new laws, he believed, are indispensably needed at the present time. He urged the need for a reconstruction of the higher courts, and, without desiring to anticipate the work of the session, expressed the hope that the proposed judiciary amendments would receive favorable consideration.

The organization of the Senate was completed by the election of the following officers: Secretary, Walter E. Edge, Atlantic City; assistant secretary, J. Frank Lindsley, Morris county; journal clerk, Robert A. Waterbury, Union county; sergeant-at-arms, John T. Garwood, Salem county; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Arthur Bedell, Camden, and supervisor of bills, Jesse R Salmon, Essex.

The only bill introduced was by Mr. Hutchinson, of Mercer, increasing the annual appropriation for stone roads from $150,000 to $300,000.

In the Assembly, William J. Bradley, of Camden county, was elected Speaker, over the Democratic candidate, George C. Tennant, of Hudson. After Mr. Bradley's election to that office, James Parker, of Passaic, was re-elected clerk. The following additional officers, all Republicans, were then elected: Assistant clerk, George E. Poole, of Morris; journal clerk, Geo J. Coe, of Union; assistant journal clerk, William J. Kammerer, of Passaic; supervisors of bills, Charles H. Folwell, of Burlington; George R. Grover, of Essex, and Solomon H. Rogers, of Mercer; sergeant-at-arms, Frank Tantum, of Monmouth; assistants, David O. Parker, of Ocean, and J. F. Barrington, of Somerset.

In the appointment of committees, both Union and Somerset counties were well taken care of. Senator Reed, of North Plainfield, was made chairman of two very important Senate committees, those on boroughs and townships and on judiciary. He is also a member of the committee on the revision of laws which promises to be a particularly important one if the recommendations of the Governor are followed. Senator Cross, of Union county, is chairman of the committees on the revision of laws and elections, and a member of the committee on appropriations and the Senate joint committee on the Reform School for Boys.

In the House, Assemblyman Foote, of Plainfield, is chairman on the committee on the revision of laws, chairman of the joint House committee on the Industrial School for Girls, and a member of the committee on appropriations. Assemblyman Meeker, of Elizabeth, is chairman of the commit-

WORK AMONG THE CHILDREN

SOMETHING ABOUT THE LABORS OF MISS SARA CURRY.

Well Known in Plainfield as Matron of Westfield Fresh Air Camp—Has Many Friends Here.

In a recent number of Christian Work" there is an article telling of the work of Miss Sara Curry, the manager of the Little Missionary Day Nursery, at 612 East Ninth street, New York, who is well-known to residents of Plainfield and vicinity as the matron of the Westfield Fresh-Air Camp. The article in substance is as follows:

Miss Curry was engaged in mission work eighteen months before she began her special work for children. The needs of the little folk on the streets were, however, always before her, and at last, after much prayer respecting the matter, and after seeing a tiny child run over and fatally injured by a heavy truck, she decided to open a refuge for the helpless little ones.

She had fourteen dollars with which to begin her work. However, trusting God with the result, she hired rooms and opened them and the first morning sixteen mothers brought their children to leave with her while they went to their work. The work has ever since been supported by voluntary assistance and while it has had its dark days, friends and means have come to the rescue in every hour of need.

On one occasion, when the prospect for the day nursery looked unusually dark, nearly two hundred dollars was sent to Miss Curry, the proceeds of a lawn party given by a little girl, the daughter of a wealthy and benevolent man, who had become interested in the work.

Last winter, on the fifth anniversary of her service among them, the mothers gave Miss Curry a reception, decorating the church in which the affair was held, and in many ways showing their appreciation of what she had done for them and their children.

Miss Curry is also on the alert to look after the welfare of the poor, the friendless and the unfortunate in her field of work. One day while out on a visiting tour, she saw the scanty household effects of a poor family set out on the street. She entered the house to investigate the matter, and found a mother crying, and the rooms destitute of any furniture except a bed, on which lay the woman's only child, seriously ill.

The mother said that the landlord had turned her out for not paying her rent. Miss Curry told her that he had no right to do that, as the child was ill with an infectious disease. Seeking the landlord, she said to him, "Don't you dare to put that woman on the street!" "Who are you?" he answered. She told him that she would show him who she was; she went to a telephone office, called up the Board of Health, and reported the man as spreading a contagious disease.

It was subsequently discovered that the man had bribed the physician to give him a certificate that the disease was not contagious. The result of her action in the matter was that the landlord was obliged to put the poor woman's effects back into the empty rooms, while the physician who had given the false certificate was suspended for two years from the privilege of practising his profession.

MISS FELLOWS' FUNERAL.

Rev. C. E. Herring Officiated at Service Which Was a Private One.

The funeral services of the late Miss Blanche Fellows were held Monday afternoon from the home on Westervelt avenue. Rev. Charles E Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated, and spoke words of the highest praise and eulogy concerning the devoted Christian life of Miss Fellows. He referred to her earnest and constant work in the church and Sunday-school.

Although the services were private a great many beautiful floral tributes were received. One was from the Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union, of which she was a member, and the first one to die since the organization, five years ago. The remains were taken to Albany Monday afternoon where they were interred in the family plot.

Plainfield Included.

The first and fourth divisions of the United States Express Company have been consolidated and placed under the charge of C. E. Topping. These divisions include the Central, Lehigh Valley and D. L & W. railroads.

Chosen Director.

At the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation held on Monday, Frank O. Herring was elected one of the twelve managing directors to serve three years.

SUIT AGAINST DUKE GOES TO THE JURY

Trial Was Continued Yesterday and This Morning at Somerville.

MR. DUKE ALSO TESTIFIED.

INDICTED PRISONERS ARRAIGNED AND PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

Their Trials Set Down for Thursday and Friday—Many Present to Hear Testimony in Osborne's Suit Against Duke.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 9.—The case of Charles Opdyke against James B. Duke, the millionaire tobacco magnate, was continued yesterday.

Mr. Drake was the first witness on the stand. He stated that he hired Opdyke for $100 a month and agreed to pay him 15 per cent. on the amount received from training outside horses; he said that he never hired Opdyke or anyone else by the year; that he hired them as long as they gave satisfaction to him and were satisfied themselves. He said that Opdyke did not give satisfaction, that he had the sorriest lot of horses he ever saw; some were blind, some had ringbone and in fact everything that horses could have; none of the horses turned out well. The stables cost him $5 000 a year and all he got out of it was about 85 per cent. on $800. Mr. Duke said that Mr. Opdyke did not keep the barn clean.

On cross examination by Mr. Dungan Mr. Duke stated that he was president of the American and Continental Tobacco Companies, with a capital stock of about $70,000,000; that he was a director in some cotton and woolen mills in the south, a director in the Morton Trust Co., of New York, and several other corporations. Mr. Dungan failed to shake Mr. Duke's testimony in regard to the bargain between him and Opdyke. Mr. Duke stoutly insisting that he never hired him or anyone else by the year. Mr. Duke said that he was disgusted with the horse business, and sold and gave away his horses after Opdyke left. He is now building a $50,000 barn and says he intends to get more horses when he can find them to suit.

Miss Maggie Smith, cashier of the Duke farm, was the only other witness on the stand yesterday morning. She proved checks paid Opdyke and amounts received from outside parties for training.

William Grogan, Walter Rarick and George Bolmer, employes on the Duke farm, testified that Opdyke kept the stables in a filthy condition; that that horses were blind, spavined and had thrush.

In rebuttal of this, the plaintiff introduced testimony of John Enk, Joseph TenEyck, Veterinary Dr. E. R. Voorhees, William Hiner and Thomas Donahue, who testified to the careful and conscientious work of Mr. Opdycke as a trainer; to the cleanliness of the stables and to the badly constructed quarters for horses.

The testimony was all finished yesterday afternoon, and today the lawyers summed up and the Judge charged the jury.

The case has attracted considerable interest, the court room being packed during the entire trial.

Yesterday afternoon the following indicted persons were arraigned before Judge Schenck and pleaded not guilty: Patrick Hickey, assault upon trolley conductor; Wm. Jester and John Eisen, stealing turkeys; Wm Mooney, assault and battery; Robert Burnet, atrocious assault and battery upon J. W. Jerolaman with a gun; Edward Sisser, assault and battery upon trolley inspector; Wm. Leupton, attrocious assault and battery upon Alfred Painel with a razor; Mrs. Reed, keeping disorderly house. The trials were set down for Thursday and Friday of this week.

Mayor Jenkins as Judge.

Mayor Jenkins made his initial bow as a magistrate this morning in police court. Owing to the illness of City Judge Runyon the Mayor was compelled to pass sentence upon a prisoner. Charles Williams was the unfortunate. He had been arrested at 6 o'clock last evening by Patrolman Vanderweg on West Front street. Williams was drunk and chasing little girls. Mayor Jenkins, when he learned that the prisoner was an old offender, sent him to jail for thirty days.

Forty Hours' Devotion.

FORESTERS' BIG TIME.

Will Install Officers and Then Have a Collation and Dance in Washington Hall.

Court Plainfield, No. 1,144. I. O. F., at their meeting Friday evening at 7 o'clock, will transact routine work and at 8 o'clock in Washington Hall the officers-elect willl be installed by Deputy High Chief Ranger A. G. Black, of Jersey City, assisted by High Counsellor Thomas J. O'Brien, of Morristown. Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger W. T. Bingham, of Elizabeth, will also be present, and a programme of vocal and instrumental music will be rendered. A collation will be served and the ceremonies will terminate with an informal dance to the members and their friends.

VETERANS WERE INSTALLED.

MANY FRIENDS WERE PRESENT TO WITNESS THE CEREMONIES.

Following the Installation an Informal Entertainment Was Given for the Guests.

The members and friends of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., including the Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans, gathered last evening at headquarters, on East Front street, to witness the installation of the post officers-elect. The installing officer was Past Department Commander William C. Smith, and the work was done in a first-class manuer. The officers installed were as follows:

Commander, J. F. Berg; senior vice-commander, Francis Whiteley; junior vice-commander, Augustus Runyon; surgeon, Israel Compton; quartermaster, John R. Naylor; adjutant, Homer C. Smith; sergeant-major, Andrew Cox; quartermaster-sergeant, Edward B. Townley; chaplain, John Goodwin; officer of guard, Albert Perry; trustees, William C. Smith, M. C. Dobbins and William Hand.

After the installation and the officers had taken their stations, Commander Berg took charge of the programme which followed. This consisted of well-rendered selections by an orchestra under the leadership of Martin A. Korff and recitations by Miss Josie Murphy. There were also vocal selections by Commander Berg and Miss Grace Berg and Joseph Berg. Intespersing these numbers there were phonograph selections by Cornelius Perrine. An excellent address was given by Rev. Dr. L. E. Livermore, of New Market, who has been absent from post meetings for three years. He gave a patriotic talk.

Another feature was the cake walk given by Lydia and Madeline Edgar, of Westfield, two little girls. Lydia Edgar also gave two or three popular songs. William C. Smith favored those present with a song entitled "The Naming of the Child." Every number was well received and heartily applauded. The Post was congratulated upon its fine showing and efficiency in every department.

NO NEW SCHOOL.

Somerville Citizens Voted Down the Project to Build a New Schoolhouse.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, January 9.—A meeting of the citizens of Somerville was held in the public school building last night to vote on the proposition of building a new school building costing $45,000. Rev. H. B. Wright presided. Considerable interest was manifested. Remarks favoring the proposition were made by James Brown Jr., Revs. F. A. Smith and M. Swick, Prof. Kiebs and J. T. VanFleet. Theo. J. Hoffman, Joseph Fitzga and Henry Reimers opposed the measure in speeches. The proposition was defeated by a vote of 141 to 93.

MR. ESTIL RESIGNED.

Refused to Serve Longer as Director of First National on Account of Ill Health.

H. M. Estil is no longer a director of the First National Bank, having resigned his position at the annual meeting of the board yesterday afternoon. For several years past Mr. Estil has intimated his desire to retire, but yesterday he insisted that his resignation be accepted. Ill health is the cause assigned. F. S. Runyon, cashier at the bank, was elected in place of Mr. Estil. The latter has made an efficient and careful official and his fellow members regret his action. His place will be filled to the highest satisfaction, however, by Mr. Runyon.

Big Government Order.

BOROUGH HEALTH LAWS HAVE BEEN REVISED.

New Ordinances are More Strict on a Number of Points Than Were the Old.

WILL BE ENFORCED, TOO.

NEW RULES PREPARED TO COVERN THE MILK SUPPLY.

Vital Statistics Must be Filed—Quarantine Must be Observed—Stringent Regulations in Regard to Other Matters of Importance.

Owing to the fact that the Plainfield Board of Health during the past year has experienced much trouble with certain citizens, who persist in violating the rules of decency and propriety, the Board has deemed it proper to revise the health ordinances, This was done at the last regular meeting of the Board Monday night.

Of late the local Board has had trouble with the State Board in regard to the failure in reporting marriages and births. This is particularly true in regard to the latter. Many physicians are very neglectful in this particular. It is imperative and incumbent upon every miniser, priest or magistrate to report all marriages performed by them. It is also the duty of physicians to report all births within a reasonable time to the secretary of the Board of Health, who is Rev. William E. Honeyman. This is a State law and must be enforced. The newly revised ordinances have been made to cover this provision.

The ordinances have also been revised in regard to the dumping of garbage and the mixing of ashes with the same.

In regard to the digging and maintaining of cesspools, the new ordinances prohibit the placing of a cesspool within five feet of a dividing line, within ten feet of a sidewalk or within fifteen feet of a house, well or a foundation wall. This ordinance will be strictly enforced hereafter. The Board of Health has had much trouble in this particular and it proposes to have the nuisance abated.

In regard to the dumping of the contents of vaults over laws, as has been the practice with certain citizens, and and of allowing liquid matter to flow into the premises of neighbors, is to be entirely stopped. This ordinance will be ridigly enforced.

The subject of quarantine was also thorbughly discussed by the Board. It was decided that some more stringent laws should be enacted in this matter. The new ordinance has been so drawn as to make it a violation of law for any person to remove a quarantine card from any house or building without permission from the health authorities. In regard to persons who make a practice of entering quarantined houses or buildings without a special permit from the health inspector or secretary of the Board of Health, the new ordinances have been so drawn that hereafter it will be illegal for any person, other than the attending physician or a trained nurse, to pass into or from any house or building that has been quarantined. This rule does not apply to an undertaker, who may enter a house or building for the purpose of removing a corpse, providing the undertaker has been issued a standing pass for this purpose.

Another matter, and a very important one, too, which the Board took up for discussion and afterwards incorporated in the new ordinances, was in regard to the storage of milk and the keeping of cows. The new ordinance makes it a violation of law to allow milk to be kept, stored or sold from any receptacle that is not maintained in a clean and healthy condition. This ordinance has to do also with the stabling of cows in the borough limits.

The newly revised ordinances have passed the third reading and will become a law at the expiration of thirty days as the State law specifies.

The members of the Board of Health purpose seeing that the new ordinances are strictly enforced.

Will Play Hockey.

Providing the ice is in proper condition, the High School hockey team will play a practice game this afternoon with a team from the Whittier School. It will probably be played on the New Market pond.

Inspected Temple Commandery.

Grand Captain General D. C. Adams, of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., inspected Temple Commandery, of New Brunswick, last evening. This is the youngest commandery in New Jersey.

LIFE IN PLAINFIELD MANY YEARS AGO.

In those early days there were few dwellings, except now and then a farm house, outside the line of Somerset street and within the present borough limits. There were only fourteen houses on Somerset street between the bridge and what was then the green valley mill, near Coddington's dam.

Fifty years ago slavery, it appears, prevailed at the North as well in the South. Mr. Barkalew tells of witnessing the flogging of colored people, the unfortunate creatures being stripped to the waist and publicly whipped upon their bare backs on the principal streets of Plainfield. This mode of punishment was for stealing.

Transportation in those early days was not up to the present excellent methods. There were no fast trains passing through Plainfield every hour or so as now. At that period there was no railway connection between Plainfield and the outside world. Private conveyance or stages were used entirely. Vincent Barkalew, father of the historian, ran a stage line from Plainfield to Elizabethport to connect with steamboats for New York city. Mr. Barkalew has in his possession the copy of a hand bill that was posted about this vicinity in 1835 by his father. The bill, which was printed by Isaac Cole, told the natives that good stage service would be maintained between Plainfield and Elizabethport, the stage leaving this town at about 5 o'clock each day and connecting with the boat giving shoppers five hours in New York. The fare to Elizabethport was 75 cents.

The educational advantages of Plainfield in those early days were not as extensive as today, where the youth of the city is provided with fine school buildings. In 1835, there were but two institutions of learning. One was located on West Front street where Manning's marble works stands; the other being on East Front street at a point where the Boice homestead stands. These schools were supported principally by the scholars from towns outside the place.

Again referring to the mode of travel Mr. Barkalew tells that he distinctly remembers the first railway train to arrive in Plainfield. The occasion was a most auspicious one for the town and many turned out to see the cars come into the station. The train was made up of a locomotive, tender and one small yellow painted car. A man named Smith was the conductor. He was so tall that he had to stoop to enter the car through the low door. One of his sons is at present employed by the Central Railroad.

At this time there is not a single person or the descendant of one of the old residents doing business in Plainfield who was in business when Mr. Barkalew was a boy. The old residents have passed away. There are but half a dozen persons living in this city or vicinity who were his schoolmates.

—The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. L. W. Randolph.

—Johnson & Barnes, 217 Park avenue, keep the most unique delicatessen store in the city. They keep a full variety of everything that is good, including salads, pickled goods, etc., and many indispensable household necessities. Give them a call.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

THE COLOMBIAN REVOLUTION.

Insurgents Said to Be Preparing to Attack Panama.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The state department has received advices from Consul General Gudger at Panama indicating that the Colombian revolution had again assumed a serious aspect. He states that the Colombian government announces that the revolutionists are approaching Panama and are making preparations for a fight, which is likely to occur soon.

There is reason to believe that the United States government will adopt a vigorous line of action in case the city of Panama is attacked or there is any interruption of the transit facilities of the isthmus. According to a treaty arrangement with Colombia, the United States has been given a certain measure of protection over the peaceful conduct of this traffic across the isthmus.

When Consul General Gudger a few months ago reported that the revolutionists would bombard the city of Panama, Acting Secretary of State Hill promptly sent a dispatch to Mr. Gudger announcing in unusually vigorous terms that this government would not tolerate any action likely to prejudice American interests or interfere with the rights which this government had assumed. The dispatch became public in Panama and had the effect of putting an end to the plans of bombardment.

Mr. Gudger's present dispatch does not indicate that the city itself is about to be attacked, but if it develops by later information that there is any prospect of bombardment the vigorous procedure of a few months ago will be repeated.

At present the gunboat Ranger is at Panama, and the Philadelphia and Iowa are on the way to that locality.

NEW JERSEY OUT OF DEBT.

Governor Voorhees So Declares In His Annual Message.

TRENTON, Jan. 9.—The one hundred and twenty-fifth session of the New Jersey legislature opened at 3 o'clock yesterday. The lobby and galleries of the two houses were crowded with spectators, and the members' desks were loaded down with flowers.

The senate was called to order by Senator Charles A. Reed, and Senator Cornish, the only "hold over" Democrat, was made temporary president. Organization was effected by selecting Senator Pitney, Republican, of Morris county as permanent chairman and Walter Edge of Atlantic county as secretary.

Senator Pitney made an address of thanks, in which he declared himself in favor of a constitutional amendment for a separate court of appeals.

The house was organized by the election of William J. Bradley, Republican, of Camden as speaker.

In his message to the legislature Governor Voorhees declared New Jersey in a flourishing condition and practically out of debt. Its indebtedness is $119,000, and to meet this the state has funds the market value of which is $505,716 and further assets valued at $207,526.

He could suggest no legislation beyond an amendment to the building and loan association laws. Some of the loan organizations, he declared, were run for the benefit of the officeholders.

The Girls' Reform school, over which there was a scandal not long ago, he asserted, was in good standing. He had something more to say of almost every branch of the state service.

Returning Soldiers Welcomed.

HALIFAX, Jan. 9.—A salute of cannon roared a welcome to the Canadian soldiers returning from Africa. The overdue transport with 800 volunteer troops on board was reported off Camperdown at 8 o'clock last night and reached quarantine an hour later. The steamer left Table Bay Dec. 13. This morning the soldiers disembarked and paraded the city and afterward attended a public banquet. The forces on board comprise both battalions of the Canadian mounted rifles and the Canadian artillery who took part in the relief of Mafeking. These constituted the Second Canadian contingent and left Halifax nearly a year ago of a total strength of 1,320 of all ranks. The regiment returns 800 strong. Many were invalided home sick, 28 were killed or died of disease, and 48 were wounded in action.

Governor Thomas Parolles Packer.

DENVER, Jan. 9.—The last official act of Charles S. Thomas, who retired as governor of the state, was to grant a parole to Alfred Packer. The release of the famous prisoner was the result of efforts urged in his behalf for two years. Packer has been in prison over 17 years. He was sentenced to a 40 year term in 1883. Packer's alleged crime was the murder of a party of five prospectors in the wilds of Colorado. He admitted that he killed one of the men, who, he said, was insane and had assaulted him after murdering the other four with a hatchet. Packer was 100 miles from civilization at the time and was compelled, he said, to eat the flesh of the murdered men to keep from starving.

New York Legislature.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Tonight at 8:30 o'clock the state legislature will reconvene after an adjournment of a week. The committee appointments in both houses, together with the names of the clerical forces, page boys and committee clerks, will be announced, and then the legislators of 1901 will be ready for active work.

FOR A LARGER HOUSE

Burleigh Reapportionment Bill Passed.

PRESENT MEMBERSHIP INCREASED 29

No State Loses a Representative. Where the Gains Fall—Senators Discuss Army Canteen and Virtually Approve Its Retention.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—By a vote of 165 to 102 the house yesterday accepted the reapportionment plan proposed by the Burleigh bill, which increases the membership of the house during the next decade from 357, the present membership and the membership proposed by the committee or Hopkins bill, to 386. The result was largely brought about by the influence of certain senators from several of the larger northern states who threw the weight of their influence into the scale in favor of the larger membership.

When it became apparent that these factors were at work against his bill, Mr. Hopkins attempted to compromise by giving an additional representative each to North Dakota, Colorado and Florida, but his adversaries refused to compromise after complete victory was assured.

The Crumpacker proposition to recommit the bill for the purpose of ascertaining what states abridged the right to vote to an extent which would entail reduced representation was defeated—130 to 110. There was no roll call on this vote, but a number of Republicans voted with the Democrats.

Under the bill as passed no state loses a representative, and the following make gains: Illinois, New York and Texas, three each; Minnesota, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, two each; Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, North Dakota, Washington, West Viriginia and Wisconsin, one each.

The bill provides that whenever a new state is admitted the representatives assigned to it shall be in addition to the number provided in the bill. It also adds a provision never hitherto incorporated in a reapportionment bill to the effect that congressional districts, in addition to being "contiguous," shall also be "compact." States which are allowed additional representatives by the bill shall by its terms elect them at large until the legislature shall redistrict the state.

During the legislative session of the senate the much mooted canteen question was under consideration in connection with the army reorganization bill. The senate committee in effect restored the provision for a post exchange or canteen which had been stricken out of the bill by the house. For nearly five hours the senate discussed the committee amendment, but a vote upon the proposition is not yet in sight. Senators Gallinger of New Hampshire and Hansbrough of North Dakota vigorously opposed the amendment, and in turn it was quite as strenuously supported by Senators Sewell of New Jersey, Hawley of Connecticut, Money of Mississippi and Carter of Montana. It is possible a vote will be reached this afternoon.

La Gloria Company In Trouble.

TRENTON, Jan. 9.—Application was made in the United States circuit court for the appointment of a receiver for the Cuban Land and Steamship company. The application is made by Benjamin K. Taylor, Orrin M. Lambert and Joseph H. Young, who charge that the company has been mismanaged and that it is now insolvent. The company was organized to develop property at La Gloria, Cuba, and to operate a steamship line between New York city and that place. It is charged that a steamship was purchased, that it made three trips which were conducted at a total loss of $17,000, that the trips were then abandoned, that $20,000 worth of lumber was purchased to erect a hotel at La Gloria and that the building was not put up.

Steel Company to Reorganize.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—The board of directors of the Pennsylvania Steel company has adopted the $50,000,000 reorganization plan. Notices will be sent to the stockholders asking them to deposit their stock in assent to the plan not later than April 1. It is stated that if by that time a practically unanimous consent is not obtained the plan will be abandoned. It is proposed to form a new company having an authorized capital of $25,000,000 preferred stock and $25,000,000 common stock, of which $4,500,000 preferred and $10,250,000 common will remain in the company's treasury as a reserve, making the actual amount of stock outstanding $20,500,000 preferred and $14,750,000 common.

New Hampshire's Senatorial Fight.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 9.—The Republican caucus for a United States senator willl be held tomorrow evening. There are 301 Republicans in the house and 23 in the senate, so that 163 votes will be required to nominate. Senator Chandler is a candidate for re-election, and those who aspire to succeed him are Henry E. Burnham of Manchester, Henry M. Baker of Bow, Congressman Cyrus A. Sulloway of Manchester, Henry B. Quimby of Lakeport and Henry W. Blair of Manchester. The contest is one of the keenest in the political history of the state.

Santiago's Mayor Removed.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Jan. 9.—Telegraphic orders were received yesterday afternoon removing Senor Isidro Grinon, mayor of Santiago, from office and placing Senor Giro, vice mayor, in charge of the affairs of the municipality. This action is the result of the investigation of a commission consisting of an army officer, an expert accountant and a member of the Chamber of Commerce into charges of irregularity in the conduct of municipal affairs.

The President Has the Grip.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The president's cold has developed into a well defined case of grip. His physician states that there are no complications and that everything is progressing favorably. The disease must run its regular course, and the president therefore is not likely to be out of his room for some days.

Secretary Symes Attempts Suicide.

RANGUN, British Burma, Jan. 9.—Sir Edward Spence Symes, chief secretary to the government of Burma since 1890 and a member of the legislative council of India, shot himself in the head in a carriage yesterday. He is lingering between life and death.

SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

Boers Overrunning Cape Colony and Seizing Provisions.

POLICY OF ENGLAND OUTLINED.

War Office Doing All In Its Power to Sustain Kitchener—Great Need of More Mounted Men.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A dispatch from Cape Town says:

"It is reported that the Boers have reached Sutherland and are within 28 miles of the village of Piquetberg.

"The country around Kimberley is being cleared of people, live stock and foodstuffs. A commando of 150 looted a cattle farm seven miles from Kimberley.

"It is reported that all residents of Vryburg who are unable to supply themselves with provisions for two months must be brought south."

Lord Raglan, undersecretary of state for war, in an interview regarding the serious trend of events in South Africa, the possibilities of peace and the action the war office is taking to mend matters, said:

"The condition of affairs in South Africa absolutely forbids prophecy. You cannot call it war, yet in some respects it is worse than war. It is well nigh impossible to fight in the ordinary way against a people who have no uniforms.

"The secret of the whole thing consists in horses. We have enough men there, but not enough mounted men. This is not due to the paucity of supply sent out, but to the difficulty of acclimatizing the animals. The trouble is that fresh horses have been sent up the country before they were hardened to the climate.

"The army is getting 8,000 horses a month now, and we are going to begin to commandeer horses throughout the disturbed regions. One would think the Boers would prefer to get a fair price for their animals from the British to giving them up to General De Wet for nothing. Personally I believe we should have begun this plan before now.

"What with depriving the Boers of mounts and transforming all our men into mobile bodies capable of pursuing detached commandos we trust the commandos may be run to earth, although it is arduous work.

"You cannot expect to end such a war as this in a day. The disturbances in Burma continued for more than four years. I believe that if the Boers now in the field knew the true state of affairs and were aware that the continuance of opposition could not possibly improve the terms offered them a majority would have sense enough to cease fighting.

"Meanwhile you may be assured of the fact that the war office is not guilty of inertia. Lord Kitchener is getting all he asks for. Lord Roberts has a perfectly free hand. What can be done is being done."

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The case of Major General Sir Henry Colvile, whose resignation was asked by the war office in consequence of the Lindley affair, has been left in the hands of Lord Roberts.

Crew and Passengers In Peril.

MARSEILLES, Jan. 9.—A terrible disaster threatens the mail steamer Russie, from Oran, which stranded on the coast near the village of Faraman during a violent storm, with 50 passengers and a crew of 40 on board. She has heeled to the starboard, and the waves are sweeping over her. Desperate attempts to rescue her company by lifeboats and steam tugs have been repeatedly made, but thus far the rough seas have prevented every effort to approach her. The wind is still blowing a hurricane, with no signs of abatement. A great crowd is assembled along the shores, excitedly watching the endeavors to communicate with those on board the doomed ship. The latest dispatch from the lighthouse keeper at Faraman describes the position of the steamer as hopeless. It is probable that the vessel and all on board will perish.

Bowlers Meet In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Bowlers from nearly every large city in the United States were present yesterday afternoon when the first national tournament of the American bowling congress was opened. Preceding the tournament a business meeting of the officials of the congress was held, nothing but routine business being transacted, however. The play opened at 3:30 in the Welsbach building at the corner of Lake street and Wabash avenue, which had been fitted up especially for the tournament, none of the alleys ever having been used before. The ladies met at a local alley on Madison street.

Eight Killed In a Collision.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Jan. 9.—An east bound engine with 23 empty cars collided with a west bound engine running light on the bridge crossing the mouth of Koon's run, above Everson section, on the Monongah division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, killing eight men and injuring three others, one fatally. Both engines were going at full speed to reach a switch, as the Pittsburg flier was nearly due. The heroic action of Brakeman O'Leary in running a mile to signal the flier saved the lives of many of its passengers.

Newfoundland Prosperous.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 9.—The colonial revenue for the six months ended Dec. 31 was $1,060,000, being $70,000 above the revenue for the corresponding period of 1899 and by far the best return in the history of Newfoundland. The colony had a surplus of $250,000 for the fiscal year which ended in June, and it is anticipated that there will be another large surplus for the current year. There is $350,000 in cash in the treasury available for emergencies, and the trade outlook is exceptionally favorable.

Congressman Neville Ill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Congressman Neville of Nebraska is very ill at his residence in this city. Mr. Neville has had several hemorrhages during the past few days, resulting from an accident he met with during the Christmas holidays which reopened a trouble he suffered during the civil war. Hope of his recovery is increasing.

Killed by a Train

WHITEHALL, N. Y., Jan. 9.—George H. Buel and M. G. Russell, two prominent residents of this place, were instantly killed by a light engine while attempting to cross the railroad tracks.

A SMALL EARTHQUAKE.

Carload of Powder Explodes With Terrific Force.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 9.—By a collision on the Central Railroad of New Jersey near Laurel Run a car filled with black powder exploded with such force that the report was heard a distance of 20 miles.

The car was attached to a freight train bound south and was the third car from the rear. When near Laurel Run station an empty engine following crashed into the freight. It plowed its way through the caboose, a car filled with beer and went half way through the powder car. The powder did not explode at once, as it was not subject to concussion, but hot coals from the fire box of the wrecked engine set fire to it. Then every pound of powder in the car exploded. The locomotive was bent and twisted into a shapeless mass, and five of the cars were crushed into kindling wood. The trucks of the cars were hurled hundreds of feet away, and underneath the powder car a great hole was torn in the ground.

The crew of the empty engine, seeing that a collision was unavoidable, jumped after the engineer had reversed the locomotive. This is the only thing that saved their lives. After the explosion the wreck caught fire.

The window glass in the houses at Laurel Run were broken. People living in Wilkesbarre township thought an earthquake had taken place, and they rushed out of their houses into the street. At Wilkesbarre, White Haven and Pittston houses were shaken on their foundations. The concussion was plainly felt at Scranton, 25 miles distant.

BRYAN IN CHICAGO.

Guest of Honor at Banquet of Andrew Jackson League.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—William J. Bryan was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Andrew Jackson league, which was held last night at the Sherman House. It had been planned by the local Democrats that a reception to Mr. Bryan should be made part of the day's celebration, but during the afternoon a telegram was received from him saying that it would be impossible for him to reach the city until late in the evening, and the reception was therefore abandoned.

Mr. Bryan was driven direct from the depot to the banquet hall, where several hundred of the members of the league and their friends awaiting his arrival greeted him in enthusiastic fashion.

Mayor Harrison acted as toastmaster, and it was long after 10 o'clock when he rapped for order and in a neat speech introduced Mayor Rose of Milwaukee as the first speaker of the evening. Mr. Rose responded to the sentiment "Party Loyalty," and his remarks were received with much favor. Samuel Alschuler, the Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois in the last campaign, was the second speaker. Some of the preliminary addresses were of considerable length, and it was after midnight before Mr. Bryan, who had the last place on the programme, rose to make his address.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Heavy snows are reported at Vancouver, B. C.

Dozens of trains were snow bound in southern Russia.

The transport Sherman was caught in a typhoon off the Japanese coast Dec. 18.

A New York state tuberculosis hospital is to be built at Raybrook, Franklin county.

The French Mediterranean fleet is to be equipped with wireless telegraph apparatus.

The Philippine commission has completed the code for the government of municipalities.

Death For a Kiss.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 9.—A special to The Times from Tacoma says: "Last week at Prescott, Walla Walla county, Frank Sloan in fun kissed Miss Ella Boone, whom he had blindfolded. She resented his action and, pulling a hatpin from her hat, stabbed him in the leg. The pin was broken off in his limb, and blood poisoning resulted. Next day the pain became so intense that Sloan went to the hospital at Walla Walla. An X ray machine failed to locate any sign of the remaining portion of the pin, and Sloan grew worse and died. Miss Boone had remarked in Sloan's presence that she had never been kissed. This innocent remark led to Sloan's death."

A Double Drowning.

COLUMBIA, Pa., Jan. 9.—A double drowning occurred in the Susquehanna river here, the victims being Samuel Swingler, aged 8 years, son of William Swingler, a Pennsylvania railroad conductor, and John Mehl, aged 10 years, son of William Mehl, Pennsylvania railroad yardmaster here. The boys were walking on the ice close to the shore, watching the skaters, when they broke through. Their bodies were recovered an hour later.

Bank Robbers Get $15,000.

SHILOH, O., Jan. 9.—Robbers entered the Shiloh Exchange bank and succeeded in opening the safe and securing $15,000 or more in cash, jewelry and negotiable papers. The robbery was not discovered until daylight, when a passerby saw the front door of the bank open. Tracks in the snow near the bank indicated that at least four men were engaged in the job.

Burglar Killed Six.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—According to a dispatch to The Daily Express from Vienna, a burglar named Wanyet, who had robbed a tenement on the Wilandstrasse, shot a woman dead whom he met as he was leaving. Pursued by the crowd, he shot five others dead, and he was not arrested until his revolver had been emptied.

West Point Improvements.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Estimates of appropriations aggregating $2,418,370 for enlarging the present plant of the West Point Military academy have been sent to the house of representatives by the secretary of war. The proposed enlargement is in conformity with the recommendations of a board of officers convened for the purpose.

Dropped Dead While Making Will.

ONEONTA, N. Y., Jan. 9.—While dictating his will in the office of Attorney Raymond at Franklin William Jackson of Treadwell said, "I sometimes think I won't live long," and when the sentence was finished his head dropped on his chest, and he was dead. Jackson was 74 years old and a retired farmer.

STEAMERS BURNED.

Serious Fire on South Brooklyn Water Front.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A fire which started in the excursion steamer Idlewild, which was moored on the western breakwater known as Beard's Winter Farm, at the foot of Richards street, South Brooklyn, at 1:05 o'clock this morning caught the transatlantic steamship St. Dunstan and threatened to wipe out Beard's stores.

About 5 o'clock the steamboat Idlewild was in flames close to the breakwater. There was a strong south wind blowing, which carried the vessel across toward the stores. On the south side of the breakwater the transatlantic steamer St. Dunstan, from Liverpool, was moored. The excursion steamer struck the St. Dunstan in the stern, the steamship immediately taking fire. On board at the time were Captain Forthay and a crew of 38 men. In the hurry to escape one man fell overboard, but was rescued by Policeman Thompson of the Hamilton avenue station.

Beard's stores are 500 feet long, roofed over and filled with nitrate of soda and jute. As soon as the flames reached the chemicals a series of explosions began which continued at intervals to a late hour.

The St. Dunstan is owned by Rankin & Gilmore of Liverpool. The Idlewild in summer runs along the north shore of Long Island.

THE ROCHESTER HORROR.

Twenty-eight Dead Bodies Recovered From Orphan Asylum Ruins.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 9.—Twenty-eight dead bodies lie at the morgue, and 12 others more or less seriously injured lie at the different hospitals in the city as a result of the terrible holocaust which early yesterday morning occurred at the Rochester Orphan asylum. Of the dead 26 were children of both sexes, ranging in age from 2 to 14 years, while the remaining two were adults. The fire, which was discovered at 1:10 a. m. and was doubtless caused by an explosion of natural gas in the boiler room, adjoining the west wing of the asylum, spread so rapidly that many of the 109 inmates of the institution were overcome by the flames and smoke almost without warning.

There was a joint meeting of the board of managers and the trustees of the asylum in City Assessor Pond's office. The meeting was hurriedly called, but the assessor's large room was filled to the doors with members of the board and those interested in the institution. While all sorts of excuses were put forward for the disaster, there was a unanimity in conceding that the managers had been derelict in that there had not been a better and more complete system of fire escapes provided. One, Thomas C. Montgomery, frankly expressed the opinion that the managers had been negligent in that they did not employ a night watchman at the asylum and that they had not had the building patrolled nightly.

INSURGENT CAMPS CAPTURED.

Arrests of Suspects Continue In Manila and Vicinity.

MANILA, Jan. 9.—Several insurgent camps have been captured and destroyed recently in various districts of Luzon and Laroe. One camp was captured in the mountains of Marinduque. The enemy is very shy and generally escapes.

A scouting party of the Forty-sixth regiment captured a score of ladrones near Silang.

Arrests of suspected insurgents continue numerously in Manila and its vicinity.

Paterno and other influential Independence Radicals are seeking to develop the two factions of the Federal party. Paterno contends that, while the declared principles of the party will do for the present, eventually the Filipinos will seek fuller independence. Although he will not admit believing America's sovereignty is undesirable, he says he wants the relations between the Philippines and the United States to be similar to those of Australia and Canada with Great Britain.

RAILROAD REFORM.

Plan to Do Away With 50,000 Officeholders.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The financial powers controlling the destinies of the great railway systems of the nation are reported to be planning one of the biggest economical reforms in the history of American railroad operations. The intention is to dispense with the vast army of traveling passenger and freight agents and other officials directly engaged in the solicitation of business for the lines.

Should the plan be carried out it means the discharge of more than 50,000 men, and the annual saving of millions of dollars to the carrying companies will be the result.

The intention of the railroads to bring about the new reform came as a result of the recent big deals engineered by J. Pierpont Morgan, James J. Hill, John D. Rockefeller and others.

Howard Indicted For Bigamy.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—George W. Howard was indicted for bigamy by the Kings county grand jury while he was awaiting arraignment in the Adams street police court, Brooklyn, on a charge of having contracted a bigamous marriage with Ella Hawkes, the daughter of Henry Hawkes, a Brooklyn politician. The grand jury's action took the case out of the police court. Howard was rearrested as a formality and taken before Judge Aspinall in the county court. Judge Aspinall fixed bail at $10,000, in default of which Howard was taken to the Raymond street jail.

Horse Stealing In Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 9.—When the Penn Malloy park case was decided and the city paid for a big block of land condemned for park purposes, the city came into possession of nearly 100 houses. Recently George Kessler, the park board engineer, visited the park grounds and was surprised to find that a number of the houses had disappeared. He learned that enterprising thieves had stolen the buildings. An officer is watching the houses that were not stolen.

Forgot to Say Thank You.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—A purse containing $4,800 was found on the seat of a passenger coach by William Hinkley of this city, a conductor on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad, between Harrisburg and Williamsport. Mr. Hinkley returned the purse to the owner at Williamsport. The owner was so rejoiced over the recovery of his purse that he even forgot to thank Hinkley.

MAY LEAVE PEKING.

Better Progress In Chinese Negotiations Likely Elsewhere.

WASHINGTON SUGGESTED TO POWERS

Minister Conger Confirms Reports That the Empress Dowager Is Working Against Acceptance of Demands Submitted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The negotiations which have been pending for some time relative to the removal from Peking of some of the subjects of international negotiations so that they could be taken up at Washington or at the capital of one of the other powers have now advanced to a stage where there is promise of a satisfactory understanding among the powers on this move. The plan originated through a suggestion of Minister Conger, cabled about a week ago, to the effect that there was little prospect of securing united action on the subject of indemnity and of new commercial treaties with China. Mr. Conger suggested that better progress in the negotiations were likely to result if these two phases could be removed from Peking and taken up at some point entirely removed from local influences.

Mr. Conger's idea met with favorable consideration here, and the suggestion was made to the other powers interested in China that the matter of Chinese indemnity and of commercial treaties be taken up at Washington or at one of the other capitals.

Minister Conger was heard from in a cablegram to the state department. The text of the dispatch was not given out, but it was made known that in substance Mr. Conger confirmed recent press reports to the effect that there was reason to believe the empress dowager was exerting her influence against the acceptance of the demands submitted by the powers. It is the feeling among officials here that the influence still wielded by the empress dowager may lead to serious complications in case she seeks to bring to a halt the negotiations now pending. The powers by stating their demands to be irrevocable made them practically an ultimatum, and while a refusal to sign by China would not result in a declaration of war to enforce the demands there would be a prolonged occupancy of Peking, and this might lead to fresh complications threatening to the integrity of the Chinese empire. The United States government is seeking to insist upon the signing of the treaty by the Chinese envoys on the ground that they presented credentials clothing them with complete authority to act without the necessity of first submitting their acts to the imperial court for approval. Based on these credentials, Mr. Conger and the other ministers at Peking are urging that the envoys should sign without reference to the attitude of the court, and in case the signatures are given they will be accepted as a complete expression of the will of the Chinese government.

DELAY, BUT NOT FAILURE.

Dr. Morrison Says China Will Accept Note Completely.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Peking Jan. 8, says:

"Yesterday 11 identical protocols, representing each of the powers, were handed to the Chinese envoys for signature and for the affixing of the imperial seal. As the formality of communicating with the court is a necessary preliminary to using the seal a delay of a few days is expected, but there is no reason to fear that the Chinese will fail to complete the acceptance of the note."

Great Britain has not yet replied to the circular of the United States government inviting the powers to confer in Washington. She is willing to agree to the proposal if the other powers will also agree, but the impression prevails in London that the other European powers are not likely to accept Mr. Hay's suggestion.

British officials generally are disheartened over the latest muddles in Peking and fear that a long time will elapse before matters are made straight. It is pointed out that a conference in Washington would be a cause of serious delay and inconvenience to many powers, who would be obliged to send special representatives.

American Policy Will Triumph.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Hon. John Goodnow, United States consul general at Shanghai, who is home on a leave of absence, is in the city. "In discussing the Chinese uprising," said he last night, "it should always be borne in mind that the rebellion was confined to three of the 19 provinces, while the other 16 were quiet, and in them foreigners were afforded protection. I am located 1,000 miles from Peking, where negotiations are being conducted, but I am near enough to know that throughout the east it is coming more and more to be realized that by following the course laid down by the United States and in no other way can the vexatious problems presented be solved with justice to all. The Chinese trust the United States thoroughly, knowing as they do that this country has no land grabbing designs, and while they do not hope to escape the payment of just retribution they know that back of all our demands there is a spirit of justice and fairness. The American policy will triumph in the end."

A Disastrous Blaze.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 9.—Wilkinsburg, a suburb of this city, was visited yesterday by the most destructive fire in its history, entailing a loss of $150,000, which is well covered by insurance. The fire, which was of a mysterious origin, broke out in the basement of the Penn building, occupied by Caldwell & Graham's dry goods and millinery establishment. The flames spread rapidly and in a very short time communicated with the adjoining building owned by George W. Black and occupied by quite a number of small business firms. Both buildings were entirely destroyed, and the occupants lost practically all of their belongings.

Street Car Line Tied Up.

READING, Pa., Jan. 9.—The street car traffic of the United Traction company, covering 50 miles of track, is completely paralyzed. Not a car is running. The men held a meeting last night, and all were reported firm and determined to remain on strike until the discharged hands shall be reinstated.

The Governor's Message.

Governor Voorhees presented his message to the new Legislature at the opening day of the session yesterday. There is much in the report that is of interest and the Governor makes a number of recommendations which will doubtless receive the careful consideration of the Legislators.

The progress of the country and State during the past century was briefly reviewed after which the present state of affairs in New Jersey was summed up. While the amount of the expenditures had somewhat increased, the Governor explained that the revenue had made a corresponding advance and was in excess of the disbursements.

In no uncertain terms, the Governor arraigns the management of many of the State building and loan associations and asks for a revision of the statutes relating to the organizations. He asks for legislation that will insure a safe, equitable and economical conduct of business and make impossible the abuses which have occurred in the past.

A decided change is recommended by the Governor in the apportionment of the State school moneys. At present the distribution is based on the figures of the school census. The Governor favors the doing away with the school census and the apportionment on the basis of the average days' attendance. This question has already been discussed in the State and a great difference of opinion seems to exist on the subject.

Attention is called to the fact that the Rahway reformatory is practically completed and the Governor recommends that the Legislature provide for its maintenance, and also pass a new and more comprehensive act providing for the conduct of the reformatory.

He commends the plan for the preservation of the Palisades, as reported by the Commissioners of the Palisades Interstate Park, and refers to it as practical and capable of accomplishment without excessive cost. He also favors a proper representation of the State at the Pan-American Exposition.

A recommendatton, which will undoubtedly find favor particularly among the legal men both in and outside of the Legislature, is for the revision of the general statutes. Already part of the work has been done by several commissions but the Governor believes that the present three volumes of 3,700 pages can be greatly reduced by a careful revision. He recommends the appointment of a commission to undertake the work.

The message also contains suggestions regarding the need of a Constitutional amendment providing for the reorganization of the higher courts and the advisibility of making annual appropriations from the surplus toward the payment of the State school tax The last refrence is to the pollution of rivers and streams and the necessity of securing united action toward that end.

C. W. Post, who spends half a million dollars a year for newspaper advertising, asserts that a well written advertisement which contains information, relates the Philadelphia Record will always finds readers. He says: "The manager of one of the largest industrial concerns in America told me that certain newspaper advertisements attracted his attention and interested him as much as the unpaid reading matter."

Failure on the part of the Common Council to provide for suitable street signs was probably due to the fact that the Councilmen desired to wait until after the appropriations for the year have been fixed and include a suitable appropriation for the year have been fixed and include a suitable appropriation for that end. It is a matter which deserves immediate attention and the Council should not neglect it.

---

There was not the slightest suggestion of any lack of harmony when the Council for 1901 held its first meeting and began its career with the same officers and the same committees as were in office last year.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The absolute domination of Boss Bob Davis, over the Democratic party of this State, is shown in the fact that Hon. A. A. Clark, of Somerset county, will get the full Democratic vote of the Legislature for U. S. Senator. Aside from the personal qualifications of ex Congressman Clark, there was strong disapproval of his candidacy on the ground that many of Democrats of the State did not know to which wing of the party he belonged. But Davis has simply squelched every such objection, and Mr. Clark is to receive the complimentary nomination. —Elinabeth Journal.

. . . . . .

The "Jersey City News" Thursday commented upon a state of affairs with which the Hon. Charles A. Reed, Senator from Somerset county, was reported to be confronted. It was stated that Mr. Reed was the counsel for the borough of North Plainfield, which had refused to grant a license to one James Sisser, and that Sisser had retained the Senator to bring proceedings in the courts to compel the Council to grant him the license.

Senator Reed wired "The News" yesterday to say that the report that he had been retained by Sisser was absolutely false, and, as Mr. Reed's reputation for veracity has never been questioned, even by his enemies, "The News" regrets that the report was circulated.

As counsel for the flourishing borough of North Plainfield, Senator Reed evidently exerts some influence among its officials, and it would be well if he disciplined the attache of the borough government who told a newspaper correspondent that the Senator had been retained by Mr. Sisser. This is the individual who is responsible for the erroneous report and for whatever pain the Senator has suffered on account of it.—Jersey City News.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

The predictions made by Devoe, the Hackensack weather prognostigator, early in the season, appear not to have been fulfilled as far as this vicinity is concerned at least. Not in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant" have the citizens of this State experienced such fine weather as has been seen all fall and winter. The climate has been all that one could desire. As for the winter, so far, no one could wish for better weather. Certainly no one will complain if the weather does not get any colder or more disagreeable than it is at present. Here are the predictions made by Devoe early in the fall:

"We are to have a very cold and early winter. The coldest weather, which will be at the zero mark, will be in December, and good sleighing will accompany it. Winter will start about November 8 and a succession of storms will visit us throughout the entire month. On December 5 and 8 there will be heavy storms which will give us fine sleighing and zero weather. Christmas will see a slight change, but beginning with January snow storms and zero weather will visit us."

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan. 9—At the Borough Council meeting, held Monday evening, no business of importance was transacted beyond the question of unpaid bills. That of Garretson & Gray, for the macadamizing of Madison avenue, was ordered paid, with the exception of $75 deducted for alleged unfinished work. It is said the contractors will at once begin suit against the borough for the full amount and added extras. Complications may also ensue from the unpaid bill of the Watchung Water Company. The bill of the electric light company was ordered paid.

The prayer meeting in the Presbyterian church this evening will be the last in this church for the week. The remainder of the meetings will be held in the Methodist church.

The Central Railroad section hands are placing a large number of ties on the ground opposite the depot, to be stored until spring when they will be placed in position.

"The Two M's," professional entertainers, will give a performance, consisting of monologues and impersonations, in Apgar's Hall this evening.

Lud Frazee has been engaged for the past few days in painting Theodore Kuldoshes' house occupied by Everitt Gordon.

The Misses Mary and Lizzie Hunt have gone to Newark for a visit with relatives.

It is expected that a meeting of the dancing class will be held tomorrow evening.

William Craig was able to be out yesterday for the first time in two weeks.

W. G. Holton Council met last evening and transacted routine business.

New Market, January 9.—Week of Prayer meetings are being held in the Seventh-Day Baptist church every evening this week. Rev. Frank Fletcher and Rev. L. E. Livermore are alternating as leaders. Rev. Mr. Fletcher was in charge of last evening's meeting, and Rev. Mr. Livermore will lead tonight.

The Piscataway Township Committee held a meeting a Hotel Nelson yesterday afternoon and transacted routine business. There was an informal discussion of several matters of interest to the township.

Charles Billings has returned from Newark, where he has been spending a few days with friends.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, January 9.—The annual election for chief, first and second assistant chiefs of the fire department was held in the companies' headquarters last night. But little interest was manifested in the result and a very light vote was cast by the fire laddies, Excelsior casting fourteen votes and electing the following ticket: Chief, Wm. B. Nobb; first assistant, Wm. H. Lake; second assistant, Phillip Blank, against the B. and E. Company ticket which was headed by the present chief, George Clark, and with George H. Johnston and John Roding. Only thirteen votes were cast by the B. and E boys.

The members of the Baptist Sunday-school held their annual election of officers at the close of the school session Sunday morning. Rev. G. M. Shott, who has been been serving as superintendent during the past year, and his staff of assistants were re-elected.

The installation of officers of Fanwood Council, R. A., which was to have been held this evening, was postponed, owing to D. G. R. Messeck being unable to be present until January 22.

A number of the young people from the village and Netherwood will hold a dance in the Fanwood Firehouse this evening. Admission will be by invitation.

Miss Hattie Wilcox, of Brooklyn, has been spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Nancy Wilcox, who is quite ill.

Mrs. Agusta Miller and daughter, Miss Cora, have returned from a pleasant visit with friends in Newark.

The subject for prayer-meeting in the Baptist church this evening will be, "Our Source of Power."

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, January 9.—The night of January 21 has been decided upon as the time for the opening of the new schoolhouse. The P O S. of A. will take part in the exercises and have secured for speakers Leslie Molineaux, of Metuchen, and F. L. Condit, of New Brunswick.

A business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society was held in the lecture room of the church last night.

James H. Cubberly has returned to business in New York after a slight illness of two days.

Miss Lydia Faulks spent yesterday visiting with Miss Laura Manning.

Daniel Randolph has returned from a visit in Newark.

TRAMP QUESTION.

Somerset County Freeholders Decided to Continue Present Arrangement.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 9.—The Board of Freeholders met yesterday, but transacted little business beyond passing bills. An effort was made to rescind the resolution passed at the last meeting giving the Sheriff the right to lock up tramps over night at 25 cents a head, but the vote was a tie and it failed to pass.

The justices of the peace and constables are losing money by the present arrangement, and they do not like it. Heretofore tramps have been arrested by constables, taken before a justice, who committed them, and both made a fee. This method cost the county more money and so many tramps were not taken care of as now.

SISTERS TO WED.

Announcement of Double Wedding of Interest to Many Plainfielders.

Mrs. Joshua Maris, of Trenton, announces the marriage of her daughters, Dela Howell to Elmer Stelle Blackford, and Elma Howell to Herbert Irvington Benward, Saturday afternoon next at 4:30 o'clock in Trinity church, Trenton. Both Mr. Blackford and Mr. Benward were former residents of New Market, and are now in partnership in the real estate business in Brooklyn. They are well-known in this city, where they have a host of friends who will be interested in the announcement.

PERSONAL.

Letter Carrier Charles B. Stephens and wife, of Duer street, are both confined to the house with the grip.

Mrs. J. Emmons Henry, of East Fifth street, has gone to New York for a three weeks visit with relatives.

Miss Gilmore, of New Brunswick, has been visiting at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Robert Strong, of East Ninth street.

Deputy Sheriff Peter V. Weaver, who has been confined to his home at West End Park by illness, is able to again attend to his duties.

Charles F. Sarson, traveling representative of the Cortland, N. Y., Standard Printing Company, is a guest of his brother, Samuel T. Sarson, of 203 Watchung avenue.

Jury Was Locked Out.

In justice to William L. Saunders, of Washington Park, who was the defendant in the recent suit brought by W. R. Brokaw, it should be stated that the case was given to the jury at 12 o'clock, at which time Judge Garretson adjourned court for one hour. The jury agreed on the verdict of no cause for action within fifteen minutes after retiring, but were obliged to remain out until the return of Judge Garretson at 1 o'clock.

A Wonderful Hen.

Mrs. Thomas King, of West Third street, possesses a wonderful hen. This same hen hatched thirteen chickens last Saturday and twelve are now living. She stole the nest under the stoop.

RUN DOWN BY TROLLEY CAR

CONTRACTOR PATSY CHRISTMAS INJURED AT SCOTCH PLAINS.

Alighted From One Car and Stepped Behind It Only to be Knocked Down by Another Car.

Patsy Christmas, the well-known contractor, was run down by a trolley car at Scotch Plains yesterday morning but fortunately escaped serious injury.

He alighted from an east bound car at Hunter avenue and started to walk toward East Front street. Unknown known to him a west bound car was approaching at a high rate of speed. The first car obstructed his view and as he stepped upon the outer track he was struck and knocked to one side. He was stunned and bruised but managed to gain his feet.

His escape from serious if not fatal injury was little short of miraculous as the momentum of the car was such that it was fully two hundred feet beyond before the motorman could bring it to a stop. Mr. Christmas thought at first he was not injured but last evening he was attacked by severe pains about the chest and he was forced to go to Dr. Fritts. The latter, however, found no broken bones.

Mr. Christmas claims the metorman was at fault as it is contrary to rules to pass a standing car at full speed. He is also indignant at the crew's action as he claims they laughed at him and then started off without offering any assistance.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Klaw and Erlanger's great scenic success—"Jack and the Beanstalk," that charming fairy spectacle will be seen at Music Hall tomorrow night. It is universally regarded as the ideal stage entertainment of the kind. It combines every quality required for a popular and successful extragavanza and even the most captious critics have failed to find anything at which to cavil. On the other hand they have warmly praised its sumptuous equipment, have commended it for its elevated tone, have given it the credit of being far and away the best effort of its class seen in many years. The management have taken pardonable pride in the favor that has been shown this attraction and in recognition of that favor, have endeavored to enhance the attractive quality of the performance, and are giving this season the best production of the piece that has been given yet. The nursery rhymes that have been a part of childhood's pleasure since time was young, have been woven into a delightful dramatic story, and given the embellishment of superb costuming, magnificent scenery, ingenius electrical display and melodious musical settings. A very large organization numbering sixty people take part in the performance.

. . . . . .

The old favorite "Fogg's Ferry" is to by given at Music Hall, Tuesday, January 15, in a new version which has the warm endorsement of Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and other cities where it has already been seen. It is put on with new scenery, and will have as extra features the assistance of a troupe of dancers and a vocal quartette. The torpedo sensation in Fogg's Ferry is as realistic a mechanical climax as has ever been seen upon the stage.

Skilled Performer Resides Here Now.

Plainfield now has the honor of having as a resident one of the best known and daring performers on the vaudeville stage. He is Lionel Legare, who has taken up his residence on Belvidere avenue. Mr. Legare is the original performer of the spiral tower act, which consists of descending a high spiral tower balanced on a sphere performing difficult feats of jugglery all the while. Plainfield's fame as a residential city reached Mr. Legare, and when not traveling he will make himself acquainted with its varied attractions.

It Girdles the Globe.

The fame of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, as the best in the world, extends round the earth. It's the one perfect healer of Cuts, Corns, Burns, Bruises, Sores, Scalds, Boils, Ulcers, Felons, Aches, Pains and all Skin Eruptions. Only infallible Pile cure. 25c a box at L. W. Randolph's.

Will Resume If Wanted.

If a sufficient number of persons so desire the Bible study class will resume its sessions at the Crescent Avenue church after the Wednesday evening prayer meeting. Those desiring to join the class are requested to signify their intentions this evening at the church meeting.

THE WAR IN CHINA.

Count Waldersee May Be Appointed to Lead the Allies.

Recognized by Military Authorities as One of the Foremost Strategists of the Age—His Career in the German Army.

Count von Waldersee, field marshal of the German army, will rank all the commanders of the allies in China if the emperor has really decided to send the famous strategist to the scene of the fighting over sea. That the kaiser intends to do so appears probable from the cable dispatches coming from many sources.

Germany's field marshal is a soldier of the first magnitude. He is a veteran of two wars, the legitimate successor of Von Moltke, and was selected by that great general, it is said, as the most promising candidate for military honors in the empire. For more than 2,000 years Count Waldersee's family has been conspicuous in the military affairs of Prussia. His grandfather was the author of a standard work on the regulations in the German army. There are two editions of this book called "The Big" and "The Little Waldersee," and into the hands of every new German recruit was placed a copy of the latter. In 1868 half a dozen Waldersees were officers in the Prussian army. A brother of the count was killed at the battle of Bourget. Another brother was a commander in the navy, and other members of the family were well known for their patriotism.

While yet a captain the count was honored with a position on the staff of the general of the army, and he distinguished himself in Berlin as an earnest student and a thoroughly competent and scientific officer.

COUNT WALDERSEE.
(May Be Chosen to Lead the Allied Forces in China.)

Few of the prominent military men of Europe are as distinguished in bearing and appearance as the field marshal. Tall and commanding as he is, he has little of the imperious style which is common to the European officer, and, oddly enough, he has passed through all the grades of the German army without acquiring that brusquerie almost inseparable from the military idea. The count, on the contrary, is suavity personified, but behind all his polish of manner and apparent complacency is a force which those best know to gauge who have met it in opposition to their own wills.

It is not surprising that such a man should be a brilliant courtier as well as an illustrious soldier. This was the impression which Lord Roberts took with him from Hanover, where he met Waldersee in the military maneuvers there several years ago and was the recipient of much admirable hospitality from the German officer.

Just before he was raised to his present high rank Count Waldersee distinguished himself at the Stettin maneuvers and so outgeneraled the kaiser himself as to win the unstinted praise of Bismarck, King Humbert of Italy and others. The emperor did not confine his admiration to words, but promoted Count Waldersee at once to the rank of field marshal.

The general's wife is as much a favorite with the emperor as is the great soldier himself. She was formerly Miss Mary Lea, daughter of a wealthy New York merchant. At 26 she was married to Prince von Noer, who at his death, six months later, left his widow an estate worth $4,000,000. The emperor of Austria created her a princess in her own right, and after two years of widowhood she married the dashing Waldersee. She is said to be even more brilliant than her husband as a courtier, and her influence in German politics is proverbial.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Schweiz.

Bern. Aus dem Legate des verstorbenen Alt-Nationalrathes Feller sind dem Bernischen Kunstmuseum 130,000 bis 140,000 Francs zugefallen.—Der Gemeinderath von Langenthal hat das Weihnachts- und Neujahrssingen untersagt. Als Entgelt hat die Armenkommission 300 Francs auf ihr Budget genommen, um den ärmsten Kindern der Gemeinde ein passendes kleines Neujahrsgeschenk zuwenden zu können.

Zürich. In einer Versammlung der gemeinnützigen Gesellschaft des Bezirks Zürich wurde mitgetheilt, daß mit einem Kostenaufwand von 200,000 Francs der Bau einer Anstalt zur Versorgung geistesschwacher Kinder so bald als möglich an die Hand genommen werde.

Luzern. Der verstorbene Musikdirektor Arnold in Luzern hat, nebst einer Reihe anderer Vergabungen, für das Kantonsspital ein Legat von 20,000 Francs ausgesetzt.

Basel. Die jüngste Volkszählung ergab für den Kanton eine Bevölkerung von 112,309 Seelen, wovon auf die Stadt Basel 109,093 und auf die Landgemeinden 3216 Seelen entfallen.

Waadt. Als jüngsthin der Wirth Rochat in Pont die Hochzeit seiner Zwillingstöchter feierte, erhielt er von seinem Neffen, dem Lehrer Rochat in Lovallens, ein Telegramm des Inhalts, daß seine, des Lehrers, Gattin ihn eben mit Zwillingsmädchen beschenkt habe.

Neuenburg. Die verstorbene Fräulein Mathilde Jeanrenaud hat die Stadt Neuenburg zur Universalerbin ihres auf 350,000 Francs geschätzten Vermögens eingesetzt. Außerdem testirte sie 78,000 Francs für verschiedene philanthropische Zwecke.

Genf. Das Gedeihen der Aarberger Rübenzuckerfabrik hatte zur Folge, daß sich auch in Genf eine Gesellschaft gebildet hat, welche mit einem Aktienkapital von 1,500,000 Francs eine Rübenzuckerfabrik gründet.

Provinz Posen.

Posen. Der 23jährige Handlungsgehilfe Tucholka aus Priment erschoß im Gebäude der hiesigen Polizeidirektion seine Geliebte Zrodowska und dann sich selbst in Gegenwart der Eltern des Mädchens. Tucholka sollte polizeilich vernommen werden, da er gedroht hatte, er werde sich und die Zrodowska erschießen, weil die Eltern des Mädchens die Verbindung Beider verhinderten.

Buk. Der Kaiser schenkte zum Bau der dreiklassigen katholischen Schule in Nieprusze wo 30,000 Mark.

Provinz Ostpreußen.

Gumbinnen. Auch im hiesigen Regierungsbezirk macht sich der Lehrermangel bereits fühlbar. Es ist in vielen Fällen nicht gelungen, für die seit dem 1. Oktober zur Ableistung ihrer einjährigen Militärdienstzeit einberufenen zweiten Lehrer Vertreter zu bestellen. Die Regierung geht nun damit vor, an mehrklassigen Schulen, wo es irgend angeht, Lehrerinnen anzustellen.

Memel. An einem Samstage befanden sich eine größere Anzahl Wirthssöhne und Knechte im Kruge zu Schnaugsten. Hier kam es zwischen ihnen zur Schlägerei, die später auf der Chaussee fortgesetzt wurde, wobei der Kätnersohn Albert Weiß aus Pictaszen derart mißhandelt wurde, daß er auf der Stelle verstarb. Drei der Betheiligten wurden verhaftet.

Provinz Westpreußen.

Konitz. Der verstorbene Kreiswundarzt Kaufmann hat sein Vermögen der Stadt vermacht, dabei aber folgende letztwillige Bedingung gestellt: Das zur Verwaltung der Hinterlassenschaft einzusetzende Kuratorium soll sich alljährlich am Sterbetage des Testators versammeln und eine Predigt des ersten Geistlichen der Stadt hören. Darauf soll ein Festmahl, wenig gesalzen, folgen und die Bedienung der Theilnehmer von—einem Todtengräber und einer Hebamme ausgeführt werden. Der dann verbleibende Rest der Zinsen soll für gemeinnützige Zwecke verwendet werden.

Marienburg. Der Verein zur Wiederherstellung und Ausschmückung der Marienburg bewilligte die Mittel zur Ergänzung des Hochschlosses, ferner die Kosten für ein Bronzegitter des Altars der Schloßkirche im Betrage von 30,000 Mark. Bewilligt wurden ferner 2000 Mark für die Wandmalereien im Schlosse zu Lockstedt.

Rheinprovinz.

Bonn. An der Universität Bonn sind im heurigen Wintersemester 1917 Studirende eingeschrieben. Mit 191 Hospitanten, davon 100 Damen, stellt sich die Gesammtzahl der Hörer auf 2108. Im vorigen Wintersemester belief sich die Zahl der Eingeschriebenen auf 1886. Die Damen stehen im Alter von 17 bis 76 Jahren; elf sind verheirathet, zwei verwittwet, eine geschieden, die übrigen unverheirathet. Mit Ausnahme von drei gehören sie sämmtlich dem deutschen Reiche an.

Duisburg. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Händler Johann Beels aus Schaephuisen zu 12 Jahren Zuchthaus. Beels hatte seine Frau auf dem Duisburger Wochenmarkte erstochen.

R·I·P·A·N·S TABULES

by a business acquaintance who expressed a high opinion of them. He had been a good deal troubled with what he described as nervous, bilious condition that approached nervous prostration. He had taken various medicines without benefit. He was induced to try R·I·P·A·N·S. A favorable result was invariably apparent within twenty minutes. The only notice able effect was that he always felt right in twenty minutes if he took the Tabules. It became his practice at such times to take a Tabule—just one—at the moment that he observed the difficulty approaching. It made no difference when. A dose taken in the morning approaching, as would be common at periods of unusual nervous tension, would carry him through an ordinary occasion as well as at the most active or exciting, such as would be common at periods of unusual nervous tension. It became his practice at such times to take a Tabule—just one—at the moment that he observed the difficulty approaching. It made no difference when. A favorable result was invariably apparent within twenty minutes. The only noticeable effect was that he always felt right in twenty minutes if he took the Tabules while it he did not, the nervous, uncomfortable feeling intensified and led to a bad afternoon and tired evening. He now carries them with him all the time, but doesn't have occasion to apply to them anything like as often as he did at first. Nowadays there are frequent periods of from a week to ten days, or even two weeks, during which he finds that he has no occasion whatever to make use of the Tabules, but still carries them in his pocket just the same, so that they may be ready if an occasion occurs.

A lawsuit which is one of the most important to women that have ever been on in Connecticut is now pending in the courts of that state. Nearly a generation ago Connecticut passed a married woman's property act giving to wives all real or personal estate inherited by them after marriage. Up to that time a wife's inheritance belonged by law to her husband. A law giving a wife her own would have disturbed the existing status of vested rights if it had applied to wives whose husbands had taken possession of their property previous to the passing of this act. In order, therefore, not to disturb vested rights the new law stipulated that its provisions should apply only to women married after 1877. Three or four years ago, full 20 after the passage of the married woman's property act, a wife inherited some money. The property had not been hers or in consequence her husband's at the time of the passage of the law. There was no reason at that time to believe it ever would be hers. Undoubtedly by right it was hers absolutely. But she had been married previous to 1877, hence under the law there seemed a reasonable claim that her husband could put forth to the inheritance. It brought a new question up in the courts, a question of interpretation of the law as between equity and legal technicality, and that is the point now being argued in the Connecticut courts. The suit is more interesting from the fact that the plaintiff, who is the wife suing for her own inheritance, has employed women lawyers to defend her case, thus presenting a unique situation, which only a woman judge is wanting to make complete. The leading attorney for the plaintiff is Miss S. C. O'Neill of Waterbury, who is a member of her father's law firm. Her associate counsel is Miss Isabella Mary Pettus, a lecturer in the women's law class of the University of New York.

Educated, experienced and level headed women seem especially to be appreciated in the west as state superintendents of public schools. Mrs. Helen M. Greenfell has been re-elected to this post in Colorado and Miss Permeal French in Idaho. Speaking of Miss French, the governor of Idaho says, "She is the best superintendent the state ever had." It is safe to say these two ladies do not sit like mummies or dummies at the annual meeting of the State Teachers' association and let 15 men do all the talking and transact all the business for 300 women.

The Colorado house of representatives has one women member this time, Mrs. Evangeline Heartz. You and I will yet live to see women members in the congress of the United States.

An omnibus drawn by two powerful horses was conveying home a party that had been to an evening entertainment. All at once the vehicle began to roll on at fearful speed and to sway from side to side as though it was about to be dashed to pieces. The party inside looked out through a window in front and saw that the coachman had been thrown from his seat, that the horses were running away and the reins which had controlled them were dragging upon the ground. They were bound to be dragged and dashed to death, it seemed. There was a man inside, but he could not do anything. All the women began to screech like idiots—all but one, that is. She was Miss Railey, a Kentucky blue grass girl, who had been accustomed to horses all her life and feared nothing equine. She crawled through the window of the omnibus in front, braced herself against the footboard, leaned far out over the horses at the risk of her life and caught one of the trailing lines. This she pulled on with all the power of young blue grass muscle and drew the horses up short against a bank, saving all the people's lives. Then the women who had screeched and frightened the mad horses still more crawled out in safety.

Robert Grant promulgated the theory that all the old type of women who lived in their affections were liars, that they would falsify any time to save those they loved and consider it a virtuous credit to them. He did not believe the new woman would go so far as this, but he thought even she could not resist the temptation to smuggle and think it no harm. He says: "Even today, when woman is the cynosure of an attentive world, it is well recognized that five out of six of our wives and sisters would take a false oath, if tempted, in order to escape the payment of custom house duties on smuggled fineries." Do you suppose this is true?

"To love, to suffer, to devote herself, to sacrifice herself for those she loves, such is the lot of woman and will be while the world lasts," wrote a famous romancer. Well, hardly, not in our time any more. Woman begins to find out that it is not wise or righteous to sacrifice herself too far even for her own children, after she has got them beyond the measles and school days. She has a soul of her own to save, powers of her own to develop. If she does not do it here and now, she will have to do it elsewhere, some say in another incarnation upon this planet.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly:

The legislative session upon which you now enter is the first of the new century. The result of your labors will equal in importance that of the men who met to make the laws for the state a hundred years ago. In many ways your duties are more trying. Affairs of larger import invite your attention. In number the people have increased nearly ten fold. Their wants are more numerous, their interests are more conflicting. Problems equally delicate, if not more important, demand consideration and solution at your hands.

The Union then comprised sixteen states. Our state was thirteenth in point of area and ranked tenth in population. Now the forty-second in size, it is the sixteenth in number of its people, and in density it is third. Its people then were mainly engaged in the pursuits of agriculture. Governmental needs were few and simple. The thirteen counties, sparsely settled, were divided into 110 townships, with a government common to all, simple in form and differing only slightly in details. Few were the cities or towns, and, such as they were, they were not large in population. Now two of our cities each outnumber in population that of the entire state at that time. The counties have increased to twenty-one, and the municipalities now number 425.

The varying forms of government have each their peculiar needs or interests and preferences demanding your special consideration. The laws for 1801 were 52 in number. In 1900 they were 198, notwithstanding the exercise of a watchful care against all useless legislation.

At the beginning of the century the needs of the state government were limited and the number of officers and departments small. Only $25,000, or thereabouts, were sufficient for the needs of the state. This came from taxes directly imposed on the people, the only method then known. We find our supply in other sources. Direct taxes are now levied only for the support of free public schools. How vastly in amount the revenues have increased will appear from the following table:

RECEIPTS OF STATE FUND, 1900.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Board of fish and game commissioners | | $125 00 |
| Clerk in chancery | | 45,749 23 |
| Clerk of the supreme court | | 44,115 99 |
| Collateral inheritance tax | | 177,074 54 |
| Commissioner of banking and insurance | | 60,576 12 |
| Commissions | | 9,330 00 |
| Delaware bay and Maurice river cove oyster commission | | 14,757 71 |
| Discharged convicts | | 238 50 |
| Dividends | | 18,870 00 |
| Geological survey | | 303 72 |
| Judicial fees | | 22,829 54 |
| Secretary of state | | 404,429 94 |
| Sinking fund account | | 35,000 00 |
| State board of health | | 316 89 |
| State dairy commissioner | | 4,131 40 |
| Statehouse commission | | 314 69 |
| State prison receipts | | 91,634 40 |
| Supreme court | | 200 00 |
| Spanish-American war | | 120,018 23 |
| State tax from railroad corporations | $1,112,449 49 | |
| Less amount allotted to taxing districts pursuant to act approved March 31, 1897 | 203,619 39 | 908,830 10 |
| Tax from miscellaneous corporations | | 1,494,719 70 |
| A total for the year ended Oct. 31, 1900, of | | $3,453,295 71 |

With an increase in number of the different departments of government, each requiring its quota of officials, and with a rapid growth in the number of objects for which expenditures are demanded by a higher and more complex form of government, the amount annually expended to meet the needs of the state has enormously increased. Last year the public moneys were paid on 105 different accounts, comprising 460 different items, all connected with the orderly management of the state's affairs.

The ordinary disbursements of the state fund for the year ended Oct. 31, 1900, amounted to $2,102,113.85.

Besides these disbursements there were special and unusual expenses, which were first anticipated in the year preceding, or were incurred in the erection of new or the improvement of old buildings and property of the state. The amount of these expenditures and the purpose for which devoted will appear in the following statement:

DISBURSEMENTS, 1900.

|---|---|
| Rahway reformatory | $260,000 00 |
| Morris Plains hospital (new building, etc.) | 132,801 76 |
| Newark armory | 50,000 00 |
| Statehouse extension | 46,000 00 |
| Village for epileptics | 34,496 57 |
| Riparian lands | 20,575 52 |
| State Home For Girls (new building, etc.) | 15,000 00 |
| Home For Disabled Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Their Wives (improvements) | 12,996 30 |
| Delaware bay and Maurice river cove oyster commission (survey) | 8,299 34 |
| Home For Feebleminded Women (new building) | 7,002 25 |
| State Home For Boys (new building) | 5,000 00 |
| Assembly committee of investigation | 2,941 38 |
| Palisades | 2,500 00 |
| Bradley's New Jersey citations | 1,500 00 |
| Total | $599,115 12 |

Notwithstanding the large amount of money so paid, the income of the state exceeded its outgo.

RECEIPTS OVER DISBURSEMENTS.

|---|---|
| The gross receipts for the year ended Oct. 31, 1900, were | $3,453,295 71 |
| The gross disbursements for the same year were | 2,701,226 97 |
| Showing an excess of receipts over disbursements for the year of | $752,068 74 |

This excess, together with the previous balance which the state fortunately possessed, forms a large fund with which it may meet its future liabilities. The size of the fund may be understood from the next statement and the remarks that follow.

THE STATE FUND

|---|---|
| The receipts during the year ended Oct. 31, 1900, were | $3,453,295 71 |
| The balance in bank Nov. 1, 1899, was | 1,253,153 42 |
| The total was | $4,706,449 13 |
| The disbursements, ordinary and extraordinary, for the same time were | 2,701,226 97 |
| Showing a balance in bank Nov. 1, 1900, of | $2,005,222 16 |

The comptroller estimates that the receipts during the coming year will be $3,009,370. This amount, added to the above balance, will furnish the fund from which to pay the appropriations for 1901, made at the last session, and amounting to $2,234,940.32, and the supplemental appropriations, if any, which you may make.

STATE'S OUTSTANDING INDEBTEDNESS.

Aside from the liability last mentioned, the indebtedness of the state is only $119,000. To meet this it has funds the market value of which is $505,716 and further assets valued at $207,526.45, which constitute a sinking fund.

The comparison of the state's present financial condition with that at the beginning of the century will afford some degree of satisfaction. In due time, when the policy adopted by it is understood, and ignorance and prejudice give way to a clearer and less passionate consideration, the full measure of praise will be accorded to those who have directed and shaped its policy in this regard and judiciously husbanded its resources.

SOME ITEMS CAUSING INCREASE.

As will be seen, the increase in cost of state government has been great. But we are not justified in hastily concluding that there has been an extravagant or unwarranted expenditure. Some explanation for the larger amount required is found in the increase of people, in the greater number of officers now necessary for the efficient conduct of affairs and in the gradual growth in number of multiplying objects calling for payment. Many of these were unknown at the beginning of the century and found no place in government. Now they are accepted as necessary for the safe and orderly administration of a progressive state. To abolish some would meet with general disapproval; to discontinue the support of others would either be impossible or result in disorganization. Enlightened selfishness demands their continuance.

A few may be used to illustrate the proposition and at the same time indicate how steady has been the progress of the state in all that characterizes a humane, a generous and an enlightened people. The work done, the expense thereof to the state and the condition of the departments chosen for this purpose will at the same time be seen.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Free common schools throughout the entire state were first established in the year 1871. Today all children, of parents foreign or native, may (and between the years of 7 and 12 must) avail themselves of the education there accorded. Three hundred and twenty-two thousand five hundred and seventy-five children attended these schools during the year, and $2,333,550 were raised and spent for their education. Nearly $50,000 were spent for the normal and model schools, where those intending to teach are taught. The fund—the income of which is used for school purposes—derived from various sources, amounted to $3,690,682.62 at the close of the year.

The School For the Deaf was founded in 1882. At the close of the year 133 pupils were receiving the special training there given, at a cost to the state for the year of $43,000.

For the purposes of industrial education the outlay was $43,192.80.

When the century began the insane were housed in hovels and huts, with little and insufficient care for their well being and physical comfort. Slight or little regard was had for their restoration. They were not then the wards of the state. Now they are confined in asylums and are given the care which humanity demands. The state maintains the indigent. They numbered in October last, in both the state and county asylums, 4,423 and cost the state the sum of $357,216.79. The buildings where they find shelter and comfort were improved or repaired at the expense of $132,801.76.

In 1801 convicted criminals were, happily, few in number. Whether those confined and unconfined are now greater in proportion to the population is a matter about which opinions differ. Whatever may be the truth, the state then paid less than $6,000 each year for keeping those who were confined. The total number of prisoners last year was 1,591. During the year 500 were discharged, and 1,091 remained at its close within the prison walls. For the support of those convicted there were spent $193,065.65 and for furnishing and repairs to the prison buildings $11,880.28. The cost was reduced by $91,634.40, which sum represents the earnings of the inmates under the wise and careful management of the prison officials.

HUMANE TREATMENT OF CRIMINALS.

The gradual introduction of a more rational and humane treatment of its criminals strikingly indicates the advance of the state along the lines of progress. Now the purpose of confinement is twofold, protection with punishment, and reformation, if possible. The state separately confines its younger criminals and incorrigibles of both sexes in institutions especially provided. It established the State Home For Boys in the year 1865 and the State Home For Girls in the year 1871. At the close of the year the inmates in the home for boys numbered 378, and in the home for girls 115. For the maintenance of the former the state paid $57,194.97, and spent $5,000 for improvements. The home for girls cost $24,735.90, and a new and much needed building required $15,000.

For the completion of the reformatory at Rahway it gave $260,000.

On account of the feeble minded children and the feeble minded women, and for the support and education of the blind, the payments during the fiscal year amounted to about $90,000.

One of the largest items of expenditure was that in aid of state roads. Annually $150,000 are spent on this account. The money so used insures comfort in travel and an ease of communication in marked contrast to that which prevailed at the commencement of the century. Few states have shown equal progress in this respect. The example shown by New Jersey has encouraged a movement for better roads throughout the Union, and its plan is being widely followed. The state first loaned its aid in 1892, and its contributions amount to $865,318.55. With the help so given there have been built 520 miles of roads. In the year just closed 83.29 miles were built, and 64.99 miles were in process of construction or under contract for building. Application has been made for aid in the construction of 136 additional miles.

Mention may also be made of the payments on account of the homes for the veteran soldiers, amounting to a little more than $40,000; for the treatment of epileptics, amounting to about $47,000, and to payments more especially in the interest of those engaged in agriculture, on account of the agricultural experiment station and the state board of agriculture, which amounted to about $24,000.

The foregoing are a few only of the many objects which did not exist at the beginning of the century, and for which large annual payments are now necessary and, in most instances, desirable. They are not presented as excuses for a reckless or extravagant disposition of the public funds, but as illustrations of the nature and growth in amount of some of the disbursements. They serve at the same time as a warning. An income so great and so easily collected encourages a tendency to liberality in expenditure. Claims, fancied or real, keep springing up and are urged with a persistency hard to withstand. An abundant surplus makes extravagance easy. Prudence and a wise foresight demand, in this hour of plenty, a regard for the future. We cannot safely assume that the sources of our income will be always so bountiful. The liberality of the state should be measured by actual wants. Wisely generous it should be, but only in directions strictly limited to the legitimate needs of government.

REDUCING BURDEN OF LOCAL TAXATION.

A balance reasonable in amount and of such size as a conservative policy demands should be retained by the state. All beyond this should be wisely used in reducing burdens of local taxation. The manner in which this can be done is hereinafter indicated, and your favorable action in accordance with the suggestions made with reference thereto is asked.

The purposes and field of work of the various departments of governments of the state, and of its boards and commissions and institutions, have been described with minute detail in messages previously communicated. With these you are sufficiently familiar, and a particular description thereof at this time is for that reason deemd unnecessary. A full account of what has been done, and of prevailing conditions and requirements, are fully set out in the several reports which will be laid before you. They furnish all information necessary for your guidance. In the main, they disclose an excellent state of affairs and good results accomplished. This condition is due to the zeal and efficiency of those who are charged with the duty of administration. The promotion of public, rather than partisan, interests seems now to be the standard of conduct in public service, and as a result thereof great benefit has come.

Beyond what will be required to provide for the ordinary affairs of the state, there seems to be no pressing need for any great amount of legislation. From one point of view, this is a condition upon which we are to be congratulated. A people prosperous and satisfied with things as they are do not ask for many laws. Preceding legislatures seem to have established nearly, if not quite, all of the reforms and changes for which there has been any urgent demand.

It is best to let well enough alone. Policies and methods of government which have been recently inaugurated are entitled to a fair trial in order to test the wisdom of their adoption. They should not be abandoned until it be conclusively shown that better can be substituted.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

There are, however, some matters touching the welfare of the state which may well be the subject of your deliberations. Your attention to these and to the recommendations respecting the same is invited, and your careful thought and favorable action thereon is urged. It is gratefully remembered that the suggestions made to the preceding legislature were accorded a generous consideration by that body.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Wisely conducted, these associations encourage and make possible the building of many homes, promote habits of thrift and economy and afford to the 129,131 shareholders—mainly persons of small means—an opportunity for the profitable investment of their earnings.

These associations are 342 in number, and their net assets or net worth was $47,561,890, of which more than $9,500,000 represented profits to the shareholders. The so called local associations were paid last year on account of stock more than $8,000,000 and the state and nationals nearly $1,500,000. In addition to these sums nearly $3,000,000 were paid to both classes for premiums, fines and fees, making the total amount received by them in one year more than $12,500,000.

In the 16 state and national associations the payments for salaries, commissions, etc., were $198,637, and in the 326 local associations they were $147,099. The ratio of such expenses to the total receipts in the former was slightly over 19 per cent and in the latter about 1.4 per cent. Payments on account of interest, premiums, fines and fees constitute practically all the items of earnings.

Based upon these, the expenses on salary and commission account average about 6 per cent in the local and over 54 per cent in the state and nationals.

It is not herein intended to adversely criticise associations which are conducted fairly and honestly and with a due regard to the safety of their members, but it is apparent that any system which involves heavy expenses works to the disadvantage of the shareholders. Their just returns are diminished, and the burdens which they have assumed are unjustifiably increased.

The employment of paid agents to solicit business and the maintenance of costly establishments, with a corps of high salaried officers and managers, are features of some of the associations. These clearly have no place in the true building loan scheme.

In some of these associations there are so called "expense fund contracts." These are contracts made between the associations and one or more of its officers or managers whereby, in addition to their stated salaries, the latter receive a certain proportion of the payments made by the members.

In one instance the contract provided for the payment to the president of all premiums paid on the sale of a certain class of stock and a commission equal to 3 per cent per annum on all stock payments made by the members on all classes of stock.

Not only have the earnings been exhausted in expenses, but the stock payments have been drawn upon to meet the drain. Consequently when a member has desired to withdraw or apply the value of his shares in part payment of his loan he has found that the amount to his credit has been reduced by expense deductions to a sum much below even what he has paid in as dues on his stock. This has been done apparently by authority of the bylaws or articles of association, the true meaning and effect of which have been misunderstood or intentionally misrepresented to the joining member in the zealous effort to increase membership.

As a result of these methods there are frequent instances of hardship and injustice. They are so clearly wrong in principle and injurious in their consequences that legislation ought to be enacted to effectually break them up.

Three associations have already been placed in the hands of receivers for insolvency, the result of excessive expenses for salaries, etc., coupled with bad investments.

Again, the shareholders' meetings in the state and national associations cannot, in the nature of the case, be truly representative. The members are scattered throughout the state (and elsewhere in the national associations) and as a rule cannot afford to take the time or incur the expense of attendance upon the home office, where these meetings are usually held. A large majority of the shareholders are there represented only by proxy, usually held and voted by a director or officer. Some associations have what is generally termed "permanent capital stock." This is only held by members of the board of management and such other persons as they may approve, and only those who hold the stock can be elected directors. An easy method is thus afforded to the directors and officers to perpetuate themselves in office, and the associations become in the full sense "close corporations," the main body of the members being practically shut out from any participation in the management. The principle of mutual association underlying the building loan scheme is thus entirely lacking.

EXORBITANT RATES.

The exorbitant rates of premium charged borrowers in some associations is a just cause for criticism. The borrower pays not only a gross premium—which is "deducted from the loan," included in the mortgage, and is to be liquidated when his shares reach their full par value—but he pays an installment premium also. Thus premium is charged on premium.

Such a contract, if not usurious, is something very closely akin to it. In any event, it is a most expensive and burdensome arrangement for the borrower. No individual would knowingly enter into it unless his necessities were great. Unfortunately for their sakes a great number of shareholders do not and cannot understand the nature of this undertaking and of necessity rely upon the specious and misleading representations of the willing agents of those who promote these associations for their own profit.

Manifestly the statutes under which these corporations are formed are in some instances being perverted, the powers conferred abused and the interests of the shareholders subordinated to those of the managers. The present laws are loosely drawn and appear to permit the formation of every variety of such association, with few restrictions of any value. As a result concerns of doubtful utility and possessing but few of the characteristics of the genuine building and loan associations have been organized for the sole purpose of enriching their promoters at the expense of the unfortunate shareholders.

These abuses should be remedied at once and the provident and thrifty of our state protected. The present statutes should be repealed and in their stead a new law enacted which will insure a safe, equitable and economical conduct of business and make impossible the abuses above complained of.

PUBLIC LIBRARY COMMISSION.

The last legislature passed an act to promote the establishment and efficiency of free public libraries in accordance with the provisions of which Dr. Ernest C. Richardson, William C. Kimball, M. Taylor Pyne, Dr. Everett T. Tomlinson and Frank P. Hill were appointed members of the New Jersey public library commission. The first report of the commission has been received and will be transmitted to you.

The legislature failed to provide funds to meet even the incidental expenses for stationery and printing, and the commission are "unable to make such a report of results accomplished as should be possible in view of the field that is before them and condition of public library affairs in New Jersey." In the cities of the state great interest has recently been shown in the subject of public libraries. The work projected by the commission lies within the smaller towns, of which New Jersey has 129, with a population exceeding 750, that are without a public library of any kind. The financial aid to be extended under the act of 1900 is by no means the most important. The commission will give advice as to the organization of public libraries, the selection and purchase of books and to library administration generally.

The suggestion of the report that the financial aid to be given to the towns may be limited to $1,500 a year and be extended over a number of years will make the expense so small as scarcely to be felt, and if the commission shall succeed in approaching the record made by Massachusetts and New Hampshire the benefits to the state cannot fail to be great. If it is to be continued, a small appropriation is recommended for incidental expenses to enable it to begin work during the present fiscal year, and consideration should be given to its further needs.

THE SCHOOL LAW AND APPORTIONMENT OF SCHOOL MONEYS.

The revised school law has proved generally satisfactory. Unfortunately, however, it was passed after the appropriations for the then coming year had been made in many districts, and for this reason its provisions in this respect have not had a trial in all of the districts of the state. There seems to be a diversity of opinion as to the operation and correct interpretation of the sections relating to the selection of members of boards of education in municipalities divided into wards. The law should be so amended as to make its language more explicit. The state superintendent reports that wherever the law has been duly executed in its entirety it has worked smoothly and is giving complete satisfaction.

The present method of apportioning the state school moneys is unsatisfactory. The commission on revision of the school law, in its report presented to the legislature at its last session, recommended that the taking of the annual school census be abandoned and that the portion of state school moneys now apportioned among the districts on the basis of school census be apportioned on the basis of actual days' attendance of the pupils enrolled in the public schools.

The school census is expensive and unreliable and is not an equitable basis of apportionment. That proposed by the commission is inexpensive and reliable and would give to each district the money to which it was justly entitled for work performed. A most important reason for apportioning the school moneys on the basis of actual days' attendance is that it would prove the best compulsory attendance law that can be devised. The recommendation of the commission is commended to your favorable consideration.

STATE HOME FOR GIRLS.

Present accommodations at this home for school purposes make impossible a division into classes such as that adopted in the public schools of the state. Such a gradation is necessary in order to obtain good results. Inmates are now assembled for instruction in two rooms only.

The erection of the school building for which the trustees ask ought to be authorized. It would enable those in charge of the home to establish grades and permit the promotion of the inmates as progress in their studies warranted.

The report of the board of managers discloses the fact that good work is being done at this school and that the conditions now prevailing there are most excellent. The course pursued by the management and those in authority in withstanding the unreasonable and unreasoning clamor of a year ago has been fully vindicated.

RAHWAY REFORMATORY.

In 1899 the legislature appropriated a sum sufficient to make the reformatory at Rahway available for the reception and care of not less than 240 inmates. The commissioners report that this has practically been done and that the institution is now ready for occupancy.

Provision must be made by your honorable bodies for the employment of necessary officers if the buildings are to be used before the close of the year. If nothing be done at this session, the opening will be delayed for at least 18 months, and the beginning of the new method here to be tried in treating juvenile and first offenders will be put off for the same length of time. The proposed plan has been in operation elsewhere and has shown results most surprising in the work of reformation.

The law under which the commission has acted has been sufficient for its purposes, but it needs revision in order to insure a practical scheme. It is crudely drawn, lacks the necessary provisions and is obscure and conflicting in details. A new and more comprehensive act should be substituted.

PALISADES INTERSTATE PARK.

Grateful acknowledgment is due to the gentlemen who have acted as "commissioners of the Palisades Interstate park" for the very sensible and efficient discharge of their duties.

Those appointed on behalf of the state of New York were Nathan F. Barrett, George Walbridge Perkins, D. McNeely Stauffer, Ralph Trautman and J. DuPratt White, and those on behalf of this state were Abram DeRonde, Abram S. Hewitt, Franklin W. Hopkins, William A. Linn and Edwin A. Stevens. They have labored with energy and discretion, and a measure of success gratifying and unexpected has attended their efforts. They now present a plan for the preservation of the Palisades which recommends itself as practical and capable of accomplishment without excessive cost.

The subject has aroused widespread interest in the past and has received repeated consideration at the hands of previous legislatures. Nothing practical or feasible was suggested or accomplished until the present commission undertook the work. Now for the first time the project seems capable of realization if reasonable aid be given by the states especially interested.

On the part of New Jersey I respectfully urge such legislation and assistance as will facilitate the work so auspiciously begun.

PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

In accordance with the request of the authorities in charge of the Pan-American exposition to be held at Buffalo during the year 1901 I have appointed as commissioners for New Jersey Mrs. Henry Elliott Mott, Dr. Mary J. Dunlap, Mr. Richard C. Jenkinson and Mr. Oberlin Smith.

Representatives of the exposition urged co-operation and assistance on the part of the state before the legislature at its last session. No action was then taken because the character and success of the undertaking was not fully assured, and it seemed to be one largely local in interest and purpose. Since then, however, a progress has been made such as to justify its friends in the belief that the exposition will equal and in many respects surpass all those previously held.

The enterprise is purely American in purpose and scope and has received substantial aid and encouragement from the governments of the United States and other countries of the western continent. Several states have signified their intention to take part therein.

The advantages to our own state in having a suitable exhibition of its resources and products are manifest, and to defray the expenses thereof a suitable appropriation is recommended.

REVISION OF THE STATUTES.

A recommendation for the revision of the general statutes, which is so necessary, has heretofore been withheld because the codification of laws relating to various subjects was in progress. Many of these have been prepared and enacted into laws by preceding legislatures.

The gentlemen comprising the several commissions have done excellent work. They have harmonized conflicting statutes, caused needless or obsolete laws to be repealed and combined similar acts with slightly differing provisions. They have secured a clearness and directness in style of expression which is highly commendable.

These condensed and tersely stated acts have been prepared and put into the form of laws since the volumes containing the general statutes were published. Much contained in those volumes is now useless or misleading, and the time has come when a new revision of the laws should be made.

Judging by the work already done, it is believed that the three volumes, on the 3,700 pages of which are to be found many laws now obsolete, repealed, conflicting or declared unconstitutional, could be reduced to a single book. The republication would afford accuracy and convenience.

It is therefore respectfully recommended that a commission be appointed with full power to do this work and that a suitable compensation be authorized.

It would be well to start on the twentieth century with a creditable digest of the laws of New Jersey.

JUDICIARY AMENDMENTS.

Repeated efforts have been made during the last few years to adopt amendments to the constitution providing for the reorganization of the higher courts. These attempts have, unfortunately, failed, because of differences of opinion as to the manner in which the reorganization should be accomplished. Proposed amendments, intended to bring about this result, will be laid before you. The need of reorganization is generally admitted. It is not intended to suggest what form the amendments should take, but it is important that the changes should be made without lessening the dignity and influence of the courts. At the same time the proposed system should insure methods less cumbersome and more expeditious than those now prevailing. It is earnestly hoped that amendments in some form, and embodying in the main these features, will be adopted.

DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS.

Your attention has already been called to the condition of the state treasury and the balance therein at the close of the fiscal year. It is difficult to tell exactly how much of this may be strictly termed a surplus, as it is subject to the charges for appropriations made by the legislature for expenses of the state government. After deducting these appropriations, however, there is still a balance left in the treasury. Opinions differ as to the best way of disposing of this surplus.

Under chapter 69 of the laws of 1897 we are distributing to the municipalities annually about $205,000 of the moneys received from railroad taxation, which used to form part of the state's income. Under chapter 195 of the laws of 1900 we shall this year begin to remit between $150,000 and $200,000 of the revenues formerly received from the tax on franchises of quasi-public corporations. The annual amount appropriated for school purposes has been increased $100,000.

It is doubtful, however, if any of these methods have relieved the burdens of local taxation. This result, it is believed, can be best accomplished by distributing the surplus in the treasury in accordance with the provisions of section 190 of the act establishing a system of public instruction passed last year. Under it the legislature may appropriate, from year to year, any sum not less than $100,000 toward the payment of the state's school tax. Whatever amount it may thus appropriate will be actually deducted from the tax bill of every individual taxpayer. He will receive an immediate and direct benefit therefrom. When it is considered that in some of the rural districts the state school tax amounts to one-third of the actual taxation, the wisdom of reducing this item is at once apparent.

You are therefore respectfully urged to make as large an appropriation for this purpose as you may think the condition of the treasury will warrant.

THE POLLUTION OF RIVERS AND STREAMS.

Within the past few years the attention of the legislature has been called to this subject frequently. The condition of the rivers and streams in several localities demands attention. Especially is this true of the valley of the Passaic. The citizens and property owners in that valley have become alarmed at the foul and polluted condition of the waters of the river. These are now the receptacle and conduit of all of the sewage of the cities, towns and villages in the territory which it drains, and of all of the refuse of the numerous factories and manufacturing establishments along its banks.

The valley teems with population and is by far the most important manufacturing district within the state. The foul condition of the river affects the value of property and threatens the public health. Alarmed by existing conditions, the board of trade of the city of Newark has recently selected a committee of representative men from that organization to suggest additional legislation and present the matter for your consideration. Similar action has been taken by other bodies of like character. The subject is worthy of your most earnest consideration.

Under the limitations of our constitution it is impracticable for the state to give financial aid to any local improvement of this character.

The state sewerage commission, established under the act of March 24, 1899, has general supervision of this subject within the state. Its powers were extended by the amendments to the act, approved March 21, 1900, but they are not broad enough to meet existing conditions.

The inefficiency of the present legislation seems to arise from two causes:

(1.) The impracticability of securing united action by the different municipalities constituting a single drainage or sewerage district.

(2.) Inadequate provision for obtaining the necessary means to carry out a work of the required magnitude.

To remedy these defects additional legislation is advised, authorizing the creation of sewerage and drainage districts with quasi-municipal power, the appointment within such districts, when created, of commissioners with ample authority to investigate methods, adopt plans and perform the work—giving the state board the power of supervision and approval—authorizing the bonding of those municipal divisions for the purpose of providing the necessary means to carry the work into execution and providing for the payment of the bonds by the imposition of a tax upon the property within the districts created.

Permit me to ask for the suggestions herein contained your careful consideration, believing, as I do, that favorable action thereon will advance the common good.

Recalling with pleasure the harmonious relations that have existed between this department and preceding legislatures, I beg to extend to you my best wishes for the satisfactory and successful discharge of your duties, assuring you of my willingness to render assistance in every proper way whenever such help may be invited.

FOSTER M. VOORHEES.

BECAME SUDDENLY INSANE.

HURLED LIGHTED LAMP THROUGH WINDOW OF DAUGHTER'S HOME.

Mrs. Fred Casper Grew So Violent That She Had to be Confined—Will be Examined by Physicians.

Mrs. Fred Casper, who has been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Keller at West Fifth and Liberty streets, became suddenly insane last night. The unfortunate woman grew so violent that she caused a panic among the inmates of the house. Before Mrs. Casper could be restricted she picked up a lighted lamp and hurled it through the window. Her screams attracted the attention of the neighbors and the police were sent for.

Roundsman Flynn and Patrolmen Watson and McCarthy, who hastened to the house, had difficulty in getting the unfortunate woman to the station house, where she was confined in a cell. All last night and this morning Mrs. Casper raved and talked to herself in German. To pacify her to a certain extent a messenger was despatched for the family Bible, which appeared to calm her.

Mrs. Casper appears to have an idea that she is being persecuted by her relatives. She says that she was robbed of a sum of money while her husband kept a hotel on East Front street. Drs. Carman and Hedges will examine Mrs. Casper to determine her condition.

Drs. Carman and Hedges, after a thorough examination of Mrs. Casper as to her mental condition, decided that it would be best to have the unfortunate woman confined in an institution for the present. Mrs. Casper was taken to the State Hospital at Trenton this morning.

HOUSE WAS FILLED.

Peter V. Saums Found Crowd of Guests at His Home When He Returned Last Night.

When Peter V. Saums, of Summit avenue, returned home last evening from P. H. Currin's grocery store, where he is employed, he was greatly surprised to find his home filled with friends, about thirty being present. He was speechless for several minutes, until it was explained that the gathering was in his honor and that the friends had called to spend a pleasant time with him.

The affair was arranged by Mrs. Saums and it was complete in every respect. During the evening there was vocal and instrumental music, dancing and the playing of games, all of which helped to pass a pleasant time. Refreshments were served and at an early hour this morning the guests departed leaving their best wishes with the host and hostess.

Domestic Caused Trouble.

A domestic who has been employed a few days by Mrs. Robert S. Miller, of 31 Fairview avenue, and who had been dismissed, caused a disturbance at Mrs. Miller's home last evening. Marshal Campbell finally succeeded in inducing the woman to leave the place. Later Mrs. Miller called upon Justice Mattison for a warrant for the woman's arrest, but it was refused.

Will Install Central's Officers.

WANT POLICE PATROL WAGON

CITY POLICE FOARD HAS A NUMBER OF IMPROVEMENTS IN VIEW.

Want to Fill Three Vacancies in the Force and Add One Extra Man at Once.

There is, at present, some substantial talk of the city purchasing a patrol wagon for police service. While the matter has not been definitely decided upon, there is in prospect a plan to secure such an improvement. The members of the Police Board realize more strongly every day the necessity of a police patrol, as it will facilitate matters very much. Under the present order of things a policeman is obliged to leave his post to bring an offender of the law to the station house, while under the proposed order it would only be necessary to send for the patrol and the officer would still remain on his beat.

When all things are considered, it is a primitive way now in vogue of doing police business, and one not to be found in places similar in size to Plainfield. There are several improvements needed to bring the police department up to a desired state of efficiency, and the Police Board have under consideration some of them which they will no doubt make every effort to have adopted.

It is intention of the Police Board to ask for at least three new regulars and probably four. The three new men are absolutely necessary as there are three vacancies to be filled, besides the Board are desirous of securing another man to better protect the city. At present some of the officers have beats to cover that are far too large and it is impossible for them to cover them as they should be. If the appropriation given to the police department is sufficient a number of substantial improvements will be made to increase the efficiency of the department.

BLINDED WITH BLANKET.

Alleged That Jones Then Robbed Companion—Jones Arrested Here Last Evening.

Wade Jones, a colored man was arrested yesterday in this city by Constable Hann, of Flemington, charged with highway robbery. Last Saturday Jones and a farmer were playing pool in a saloon at Flemington. When the farmer started for home he gave the negro permission to ride with him, the farmer living some distance in the country. A short ways out of Flemington, it is alleged that Jones threw a horse blanket over the farmer's head and then robbed him of a considerable sum of money, nearly $50.

Jones was traced to this city, where he was arrested yesterday afternoon in Simmons' pool room on Madison avenue. Officer Hann took his prisoner back to Flemington this morning on the 8:19 train.

Made no Defence.

In Justice Mosher's court this morning a contract case was tried, the plaintiff of which came from Whitehouse and defendant from Linden. The former, Peter D. Rockafellar, sued John Edgeworth for $111.22, the amount of a protested note given in payment for some cattle. Edgeworth made no defense and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount and costs. Edgeworth immediately gave notice of appeal.

At Court Watchung.

The installation of officers of Court Watchung, No. 3871, I. O. F., will be held tomorrow evening at the court's chambers. Visitors will be present from Courts Plainfield and Dunellen. The installating officer will be L. T. Titsworth, of Dunellen. After the installation exercises refreshments will be served and a general good time enjoyed by the members and their friends.

FIVE INJURED IN A WRECK.

LEHIGH VALLEY ENGINE STRUCK JERSEY CENTRAL TRAIN.

Accident Occurred This Morning at Perth Amboy—Five Seriously Injured and Cars Wrecked.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Perth Amboy, Jan. 9.—A Lehigh Valley locomotive crashed into the Long Branch express on the Jersey Central Railroad at the Washington street crossing this morning, seriously injuring five persons and completely demolishing the cars in the express train.

The wreck was caused by a mistake in displaying or reading the signals. Both locomotives tried to make the crossing at the same time. The locomotive of the passenger train had crossed the Lehigh Valley track when locomotive No. 758, drawing a heavy freight train, struck the passenger coach, turning it over on its side and smashed it into small bits.

Wrecking crews were immediately summoned and the injured were cared for by railroad physicians called by telephone and messenger. None of the injured will die.

ONE SOLOIST SECURED.

Joseph S. Baernstein will be the Basso Soloist in Rendition of "Elijah."

The subscribers to the concert of the oratorio of "Elijah" will be pleased to learn that the music committee has secured the services of Joseph S. Baernstein, basso.

Mr. Baernstein is unexcelled as an oratorio singer and is especially strong in the part of "Elijah." The remaining soloists have not as yet been selected, but no effort or money will be spared in having the other parts represented by fit company to so renowned a bass as Mr. Baernstein. There still remain a few seats unsubscribed for, and those desiring them should send their subscription applications to Geo. T. Rogers, treasurer, 44 Myrtle avenue, at once.

The next rehearsal of the chorus will occur Thursday evening, January 10, at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

HEARTS AT PARK CLUB.

Pleasant Evening at Cards Spent By the Members of the Borough's Club.

A pleasant event of last evening was the card party given at the Park Club under the auspices of the entertainment committee. "Hearts" were played and proved to be very enjoyable. There were six tables and the playing throughout was spirited and full of interest. The prize winners were Mrs. Richard Williams and Mrs. E. M. Laing for the gentler sex, while Ralph Willis and Miss Van Deventer, who played in place of a man, were awarded the men's prize. At the conclusion of the games refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

WILL OPEN MONDAY.

Repairs at the Scott Press Works Will Necessitate a Longer Shut Down.

The Scott Press Works, which closed down last Saturday to allow repairs to be made, will not resume operations until Monday morning. It was thought at first the repairs would be completed today but on taking a large engine apart it was found that additional repairs were necessary which would require more time. A section of shafting was also found to be badly bent and will have to be straightened. Of late the factory employes have been working overtime, a large number of orders being on hand.

BURNED WITH GREASE.

Painful Injury Received By a Young Son of Warren Townley.

Shortly before noon today an 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Townley, of Grandview avenue, was badly burned about the head and body in a peculiar manner. Mrs. Townley was removing a pan of meat from the range when the boy, in play, ran against her. The pan was knocked from her hands and the contents spilled upon the child. Dr. Davis was called and made the sufferer as comfortable as possible, but being so young the real extent of his injuries cannot be ascertained.

Change of Meeting Place.

The Woman's Parliamentary Club will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. M. McNaughton, 539 West Front street, instead of at the Y. M. C. A. building, as usual.

Thanks His Friends.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Will you kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to extend my heartfelt thanks to the many who so kindly remembered me in my hour of sorrow. Edward H Sebring.

City Judge William N. Runyon is confined to his home on Ninth street with a attack of false pleurisy.

PERSONAL.

James B. Guttridge, of Netherwood, is slightly improved from a severe illness bordering on pneumonia.

Former Plainfielder Dead.

Gabriel Brown, who resided in this city for the past five years, but removed recently to Roselle, died at the latter place Sunday after less than one day's illness with pneumonia. Brown was in this city Saturday calling on friends and appeared to be in his usual health. He was very well known in town having carried on a general contracting business on a small scale. The funeral services will be held at Roselle today.

New Rule Must Be Revoked.

It was announced in the city public schools by Superintendent Maxson this morning that the Plainfield Street Railway Company would have to rescind its new rule concerning school tickets, as the company's franchise compelled it to sell school tickets to all pupils and teachers for three cents each.

Ran Over a Cat.

Emil Woltmann, of West Seventh street, while returning to his home on his wheel Monday evening, ran into a cat and was thrown from his mount. A few scratches and cuts about the face resulted. The injuries are not serious.

Pneumonia Caused Death.

Gabriel L. Miller, colored, 26 years old, whose parents live at 306 Plainfield avenue, died yesterday of pneumonia at Roselle after a few days' illness. A widow and one child survive. The funeral will be held Friday morning.

Discharged Improved.

Andrew Wahl, of Manning avenue, who has been at the hospital since October 13 of last year, under treatment for empyema, was discharged today greatly improved.

Death of James Person.

The death of James Person, aged 22 years, occurred last evening. The funeral services will be held from the Filmore Baptist church on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Carroll Led Meeting.

Dr. H. K. Carroll led the Week of Prayer meeting at the First M. E. church last evening. There was a large attendance.

Fell on the Ice.

G. D. Patten, of LaGrande avenue, now carries his arm in a sling, the result of a fall on the ice in New York a few days ago.

Wilhelmina's Dramatic Power.

Many say that the loveliest voice in Holland belongs to the young queen. Indeed, people who have once heard her speak will never forget the impression. Her voice is soft and silvery, and at the same time it can be firm and resolute. When the queen at her coronation two years ago delivered her speech everyone was loud in praising her. Some said that Queen Wilhelmina would have been a grand actress if only fate had not placed her on a throne. Julius Claretie, who was present, said that he would engage her on the spot for his theater. It is a fact that never a public speech has been delivered so well, so beautifully so feelingly. Every word was spoken exactly as it should be spoken. And she was only 18 years of age. It is true that the queen has done much amateur acting, of which she is very fond. She often takes principal parts which she plays wonderfully well. No doubt this has been of great use to her, to facilitate her difficult task.—London Gentlewoman.

American Salesmen Best.

Consul Hossfeld, of Trieste, after announcing that cheap lamps could be sold in southern Austria to great advantage if American manufacturers would imitate the tactics of Viennese lamp makers and open stores of their own, continues his report as follows: "No native can sell American wares in a foreign country as successfully as an American who is familiar with the language and the customs of the country. This has in recent years been demonstrated in every large city of Europe. The American knows what most retailers in southern Europe, at least, still have to learn, viz., how to advertise, how to display goods, how to meet competition, how to gratify and at the same time to educate the popular taste, and, above all, he knows how to 'hustle.' It is, moreover, difficult to induce a native retailer to buy foreign wares as long as their sale is still in the tentative stage."—N. Y. Sun.

He is also a member of the committee on corporations and the joint committee on passed bills.

Assemblyman Hoagland, of Somerset county, as a new member, was not given very important places. He is a member of the committees on agriculture and the public health and of the joint committee on the sinking fund.

MORE ILLNESS.

Home of H. E. Gayle is Again Quarantined, A Son Now Having Scarlet Fever.

The family of H. E. Gayle, of 18 Vine street, appear to be having more than their share of sickness. It was only a few days ago that the quarantine was removed from Mr. Gayle's home and all members were thought to be entirely well. Yesterday their eldest son, Elwood Gayle, was stricken with scarlet fever and the house has again been quarantined. This is the third member of the family to be afflicted with this disease, Mrs. Gayle and an infant child having been previously been ill.

WANT TO RUN LINE OF AUTO-OMNIBUSSES.

Officers of New York Motor Vehicle Company Visited Plainfield Yesterday.

WERE SHOWN THE CITY.

LOCAL PROMOTERS TRIED TO INTEREST THEM IN THE PLAN.

Where Such a Line of Horseless 'Busses Would Be Likely to Run—They Believe it Can Be Made a Profitable Investment.

Those interested in the establishment of a line of auto-omnibusses in Plainfield appear to be so much interested in the project that they have been giving the matter considerable attention. Yesterday morning President P. H. Dunn and General Superintendent Thomas F. Flynn, of the New York Motor Vehicle Company, visited this city and looked over the field with a view of at once establishing a motor omnibus service in Plainfield and its suburbs.

Messrs. Dunn and Flynn were met at the North Avenue railway station by S. D. Drake, Mayor N. B. Smalley and Assessor Elston M. French, of the borough, and James E. Martine. The visitors were driven over the proposed route and throughout the city generally. The promoters of the enterprise were highly impressed with the splendid streets and roads hereabouts. They expressed themselves as being satisfied that a line of automobiles could be run in this city and made to pay. The streets are so well paved and so nicely maintained that they considered that it would not be difficult to operate a system of motor omnibusses in the streets of this city.

Messrs. Dunn and Flynn were also charmed with the handsome appearance of the city generally. They look with favor upon the proposition as presented to them.

If established, the motor omnibus line will run through such streets of the city as are now taken up with trolley cars. One line will probably start from the North avenue railway station and run out Park avenue to some of the streets on which many of the fashionable residences are located, around Martine avenue to Watchung avenue and so back to the station or possibly through the shopping portion of the city.

Another line may run over into Washington Park and in the summer months as far out as Mountain Park Inn and around to the Park golf grounds. While there have been no definite plans made as to routes, it is possible that the routes mentioned may be selected.

The establishment of this auto-omnibus line might play havoc with the business of the hackmen. Nevertheless it would supply a cheap means of traffic not enjoyed by another city in the State.

There are many people in Plainfield who believe that a line of 'busses, running through certain portions of the city at present not touched by the trolley roads, would receive liberal patronage, prove profitable to the promoters of the enterprise, and a source of much convenience to the citizens.

After the visitors had been allowed to enjoy the beauties of the city, and were advised of the many advantages which Plainfield possessed over any other city on the line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, they were taken to the Kensington Hotel where they were hospitably entertained at dinner.

It is safe to say that Messrs. Dunn and Flynn left Plainfield with not only a good opinion of its business advantages, but also of the enterprise of its citizens.

This project is being pushed by the Plainfield Automobile Company, a meeting of the board of directors being held this morning. J. Wesley Johnston was elected a member of the board. The other directors are S. D. Drake, E. M. French, Charles H. Hand and Frank S. Runyon. The latter is treasurer of the company.

Taken to State Hospital.

Captain Kiely and Roundsman Flynn yesterday took Mrs. Fred Casper, who became suddenly insane on Tuesday night to Trenton, where she will receive treatment at the State hospital. Mrs. Casper went quietly with the officers and they had no trouble whatever with her after leaving Plainfield.

SEWER SYSTEM FOR BOROUGH

SOME NORTH PLAINFIELDERS ARE AGITATING THE SUBJECT.

Want to Connect With the Plainfield City Sewerage System—Consider It Economical.

Many prominent and influential citizens of the borough are considering seriously the question of sewers for the borough. That municipality has been able thus far to get along without a sewer system, but it is more good luck than management that the sickness has been so slight in that community. The time has now arrived, it is thought by these progressive citizens, to seek the introduction of some system of sewerage.

The one plan thus far considered is that of connecting with Plainfield's system and using her sewage beds. This they say is feasible, and practical, especially at this time, when Plainfield's Council has under consideration the improvement of the sewer system now being used. It would be a comparatively easy matter, they claim, for the borough to connect with Plainfield's pipes and thus be rid of all further trouble. The expense would be nominal for the reason that the borough would not have to pay any of the original cost of construction, and this is a large item in favor of the borough.

The citizens who are discussing the improvement have laid aside all feelings of prejudice in the matter regarding Plainfield and are willing to sacrifice a few selfish feelings in order that the health of the borough can be maintained at a high standard. They reason that there is no reasonable hope of installing a sewage system in the borough, whereby the borough can take care of the same and if possible it would be far better to connect with Plainfield's system.

No doubt there are some who would seriously object to the improvement for the reason that they think the city and not the borough would profit by it. However this might be, the men who are considering the matter hope to turn public sentiment in favor of the scheme and thus inaugurate a needed reform for the borough.

WALKS THROUGH STATE.

Solicitor for Trenton State Gazette Covers New Jersey Afoot And Likes It Too.

A. S. Doughty, who for the past twenty-five years, has held the position of solicitor for the Trenton State Gazette, was a visitor in Plainfield yesterday. Mr. Doughty has made many friends throughout New Jersey during his long service and they are always glad to see him. He has adopted a peculiar modus operandi, that of going about from place to place on foot. He does this for his health and he finds it more agreeable than riding in cars or a carriage.

Will Build Fine Residence.

Mrs. Lincoln, widow of the late Dr. Lincoln, of New York, has purchased from E. M. Daniel a lot on the corner of Plainfield avenue and Eighth street, and will have a handsome residence built there. It is understood that the dwelling Mrs. Lincoln is to have constructed will be the largest and finest of any in the city. She is a friend of the family of Col. Mason W. Tyler, of West Seventh street. Mrs. Lincoln purposes making her home in Plainfield in the future.

A Fine Calendar.

One of the prettiest calendars that have come to The Daily Press office this year is the one sent out by the Lawrence Cement Company, of which Ernest R. Ackerman, of this city, is the president. It is styled "American Beauties," and represents a woman inhaling the sweet perfume of the American Beauty rose, while she, of course, is a true type of American beauty. The picture is a steel engraving and a very fine piece of work.

Popular Here.

Rev. F. E. Taylor, of Brooklyn, who has been secured to address the Y. M. C. A. rally next Sunday afternoon, conducted a series of evangelistic meetings at Hope chapel some time ago. He also filled acceptably at one time the pulpit of the First Baptist church at both morning and evening services. Although a young man, Mr. Taylor is an excellent speaker and a great favorite in Plainfield.

Hospital Report.

The following is the hospital report up to January 1, as presented at the last regular meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital: Total number of patients admitted, 29; received since last report, 23; discharged cured, 23; discharged improved, 6; died, 4; total treated, 52; remaining, 19; dispensary patients, 66; total number of visits, 227.

TEACHERS AND PUPILS TO PAY THREE CENTS.

Railway Company's Franchise Makes School Tickets Compulsory.

SUPT. SMITH INTERVIEWED.

SAYS HE WILL REPEAL RULE IF HE IS IN THE WRONG.

Will Put Tickets on Sale at Some Central Place—How the Franchise Reads—North Plainfield Has One, Too.

It is highly probable that the Plainfield Street Railway Company will rescind its recent order with reference to the abolishment of the three-cent ticket rate to pupils and teachers of the public schools.

The new order of the trolley company is to the effect that only pupils under 16 years of age are allowed to purchase school tickets at the three-cent rate and then only in quantities of 33 for one dollar, and that school teachers were not to be allowed this reduction, being compelled to pay the same fare as other adults.

It is perhaps not known to General Superintendent Smith, but it is nevertheless true, that by the provisions of the valuable franchise which has been granted to the Plainfield Street Railway Company it makes it compulsory for the trolley road to not only carry at a three-cent rate all children attending the public schools of Plainfield, but it also compels the said company to carry every teacher engaged in teaching within the city of Plainfield at a three-cent rate of fare.

For the purpose of enlightening those interested in the matter, the Daily Press refers to "An ordinance locating the tracks of the Plainfield Street Railway Company and respecting the construction and operation of the same and granting permission to said company to use electric motors as the propelling power of its cars." This ordinance was passed April 21, 1891, and approved by the Mayor, April 27, 1891. Section 14 of this ordinance reads:

"That the fares charged for transportation of passengers over the said railway, within the city of Plainfield, shall be as follows: Children under 4 years of age, free; children over 4 and under 10 years of age, not occupying seats required by other passengers, three cents. All others five cents. School tickets shall be sold for three cents to all children actually attending school and to all teachers engaged in teaching school in the city of Plainfield."

There is also a similar ordinance in the borough of North Plainfield in reference to school children and teachers being carried at a 3 cent rate of fare.

Superintendent Smith was a caller at the office of The Daily Press yesterday afternoon and said that when he issued the order in regard to the change in the ticket system, he had no knowledge that the proposed change in rates was in violation to the city's franchise. Mr. Smith said that he was not familiar with the franchise in this particular. If it is the company's error, he would at once give orders rescinding the order prohibiting the sale of three-cent tickets to teachers and pupils.

In regard to pupils being compelled to visit the car barn to buy these tickets, Mr. Smith told a reporter for The Daily Press that the trolley company would be pleased to place the tickets on sale in any place that was considered convenient.

In respect to Superintendent Smith it is evident that he wishes to treat the public fairly in the matter.

Welcomed New Members.

A reception and tea was given yesterday afternoon at the W. C. T. U. rooms to the newly-elected members. A goodly number of members gathered and enjoyed a pleasant hour. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, county superintendent, gave a brief synopsis of the National W. C. T. U. convention held in Washington a few weeks ago. The speaker gave the most interesting portion of the proceedings, yet she was unable to tell all that she desired. The members hope to hear more of her report later. After the report tea was served and a social time was enjoyed.

Manager of Baseball Team.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the High School Athletic Association held Monday, Cyrus H. Kinsman was made manager of the baseball team. Howard Mosher was made assistant manager.

VERDICT WAS FOR DUKE.

JURY AGREED LAST EVENING IN CASE OF OPDYCKE VS. DUKE.

After Being Out Six Hours, They Brought in a Verdict of No Cause For Action.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 10.—The case of Opdycke against Duke was concluded last night with a verdict for Mr. Duke. The closing arguments of ex-Prosecutor Nelson Y. Dungan and Hon. Alvah A. Clark yesterday morning were listened to with the closest attention. Mr. Dungan drove his arguments home with telling force, and Mr. Clark was particularly severe in his denunciation of Mr. Opdycke's management on the Duke farm, and eloquent on behalf of his client, who represents a hundred millions. The lawyers consumed all the morning.

Immediately after dinner Justice Garretson charged the jury. He explained the law bearing on this case, reviewed the evidence and seemed to lean a little towards the defendant. The case was given to the jury at 1:50 o'clock and they retired in charge of Constable Stewart.

At 6 o'clock last night the jury failed to agree, standing six to six. They retired again and at 8 o'clock came out, having been out six hours. They brought in a verdict of no cause for action.

JUST ESCAPED DEATH.

Elsworth Bennett Skated Into Hole in the Ice and Was Rescued With Difficulty.

Elsworth, familiarly known as "Worthy," the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Bennett, of Vine street, had a narrow escape from drowning while skating on Tier's pond Tuesday afternoon. Young Bennett and a boy named Raymond McDonald were playing hockey. In some manner Bennett slid into a hole in the ice. He immediately sank up to his neck and his efforts to draw himself out appeared to be futile.

His young friend, McDonald, hastened to his assistance and reaching him a hockey stick tried to rescue the drowning lad. He was only partially successful, however. Bennett had gone down for the second time and was crying lustily for help when some older boys skated to the spot and succeeded in pulling the half-drowned boy from the water. He was quickly revived and none the worse for his thrilling adventure.

Trolley Wire Broke.

The main trolley wire running on the line between this city and Elizabeth broke Tuesday night about 12 o'clock. The point at which the fire snapped was Scotch Plains and a considerable length of wire fell on the ground threatening injury to any one who came in contact with it. Word was sent at once to the car house in this city and the break was quickly repaired by the electrician. The delay to the cars was very slight.

Ran Into Mr. Ladd's Carriage.

A horse attached to a farm wagon, the owner of which is unknown, ran away on Park avenue early last evening. The animal ran southward on Park avenue, and near Sixth street ran into the carriage of W. H. Ladd, Jr., of Stelle avenue. James Miner was the driver. The damage was slight and the runaway continued on its way.

Was An Excellent Toastmaster.

At a banquet of the Rutgers College Sophomore class, held in the Mansion House, New Brunswick, Monday evening, Arthur C. Smith, of this city, filled the place of toastmaster very acceptably. Mr. Smith is a graduate of the North Plainfield High School.

To Celebrate Anniversary of Dedication.

A large time is being planned for next month at Grace M. E. church, at which time the anniversary of the dedication of the church will be observed in an appropriate manner. A committee is now arranging for the event.

Regulation Globe.

The Police Board has ordered a regulation green globe to be placed on the gas lamp in front of police headquarters, in place of the other one which was a poor imitation and did not answer the purpose.

ONE WRECK VICTIM IS FATALLY INJURED

Dr. Meinzer, of South Amboy, Crushed Beneath Truck in Railroad Accident.

HOW ACCIDENT HAPPENED.

TRAFFIC ON THE COAST LINES WAS TEMPORARILY STOPPED.

Four Others Seriously Injured—Signal Tower Was Upset But Operator Escaped—Engine Plunged Into Central Train at Crossing.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Perth Amboy, Jan. 10.—As a result of injuries received in the railroad wreck at this city yesterday morning, Dr. L. M. Meinzer, of South Amboy, lies at his home with injuries which will probably cause his death. He was just about to start a game of whist with a party of friends when the Lehigh Valley Engine crashed into the Jersey Central express, on which Meinzer was a passenger, and the young dentist was thrown beneath one of the heavy trucks. Both legs were crushed and it is believed that it will be necessary to amputate them both. There is very little chance that Meinzer will be able to survive his injuries.

A list of the others injured follows:

O. M. Randolph, of Freehold, N. J.; injured about legs and body.

Elmer H. Gearing, a lawyer, address unknown; badly cut about head.

Thomas Casini, an Italian fruit vendor, of Matteawan; head cut and legs bruised.

Harry Bordge, of Atlantic Highlands; cut about the face by flying glass and bruised bout the body.

The Lehigh locomotive, in charge of Engineer Driesbach, was backing rapidly toward the yards when, at the crossing, it struck the second car of the Jersey Central train. The latter was gaining speed from its start, and had almost reached full headway. The locomotive struck the second car with great force, knocking it off the track over on its side, and practically demolishing the car. The third car was also jolted off the track and one end of it was smashed to bits.

A watch tower, twenty-five feet high, which stood at the crossing, was overturned when the Jersey Central car toppled over and crashed to the ground. John Fox, an operator, was in the towerbox at the time, but strangely enough, he was not injured in the fall.

Trains were blocked on the Lehigh road and the Jersey Central, and also all trains of the Pennsylvania road, which uses the Jersey Central tracks past Perth Amboy, were held up, so that the service along the coast towns was paralyzed.

It was said that the engineer of the passenger train did not see the Lehigh locomotive at all and only knew that there had been a collision when he was thrown suddenly from his seat as the locomotive lurched violently to one side. He and his fireman jumped from the cab, as did the engineer of the Lehigh locomotive.

Will Repair Bridge.

The Boards of Freeholders of Union and Somerset counties have decided to repair the Washington avenue bridge by putting in new planking where needed, and making such other repairs as the members deem necessary. This was decided at a meeting held Tuesday.

Rutgers Glee Club Secured.

February 11 has been decided upon as the date on which the Plainfield High School Athletic Association entertainment will be given in the Y. M. C. A. hall. The Rutgers College Glee Club has been secured for the occasion and will render a number of their best selections.

Much Interest in Meetings.

Continued interest seems to be manifested in the weekly prayer meeting at Hope chapel, the attendance each evening being very large. Rev. G. Kennedy Newell led a very interesting meeting last evening during which several excellent talks were given.

Will Tell of Her Life.

Mrs. M. Hhair Allah, a native of Jerusalem, at present visiting friends in Plainfield, will give a brief outline of her life and conversion, during the latter part of the hour for prayer in Trinity Reformed church tonight.

Miantonomo's Chiefs.

The chiefs of Miantonomo Tribe, I. O. R. M., will be raised up tomorrow evening by Deputy Holstein and staff. A number of visitors are expected to be present to witness the ceremonies.

WILL FIGHT FOR CHAIRMAN.

BITTER FACTIONAL TROUBLES IN REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Will Hold Annual Meeting This Evening—Current Gossip Concerning the Fight.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, January 10.—There is the prospect of a bitter contention at the annual meeting of the Republican county executive committee which will be held at Republican headquarters in the Dix building tonight. Concerning the fight the Elizabeth Journal says:

"There is a great deal of gossip in newspapers and political circles over the contest for chairmanship of the Republican county committee.

"The result of the fight for postmastership has revived the talk, and it is said by some has embittered factional feelings, and that a battle-royal may be anticipated between the Kean and the Fowler-Rankin wings of the party.

"Those who are looking for a fight of more than passing importance say that the selection of Palmer H. Charlock for the appointment of postmaster is a victory for the Kean faction that hits the other side very hard, and a determined effort to retrieve past prestige must be made. The opportunity is thought to be at the county committee meeting, when the contest will be between Hamilton Fish Kean, brother of Senator Kean, and Hon. Charles N. Codding, the present chairman.

Some of the political gossipers are mentioning Governor Voorhees and Senator Kean as interested and they say that the chairmanship fight is a part of an old feud between the Voorhees forces and the Kean contingent. Mr. Codding is to be put forward as the candidate of the Voorhees-Fowler contingent, and Hamilton F. Kean's candidacy is for the purpose of getting the Kean followers in control of the county.

"They say also that Mr. Codding has many enemies in Essex county, and of these none are more anxious to have him 'laid on the shelf' than Major Carl Lentz, of Newark. They allege, as the leader of Essex county Republicans, Major Lentz has come in personal contact on many occasions with Codding over certain affairs of the Eighth Congressional district, and it is said the Newarker has very often come out second best. Anyway, they say, Lentz is mightily interested in seeing the anti-Codding forces win in the fight in the county committee."

LINEMAN HURT.

Grasped Live Wire While Working on a Pole in Elizabeth Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Jan. 10—Charles Beatty, a lineman in the employ of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, had a thrilling experience yesterday which nearly resulted in his death.

He was on a pole at corner Seventh and East Jersey streets, repairing a wire, when he took hold of a live electric wire and received a shock so severe that he was rendered unconscious.

Fortunately he had his leg over a cross arm, and was held in the position until his terrified companions, who saw that something had happened to him, could reach him. His hand was badly burned.

He was lowered by means of ropes, and the repair wagon of the company. He was taken to the Alexian Hospital, where his injuries were attended, and he revived sufficiently to be able to go to his home later.

Three of his fingers were burned to the bone.

Division Encampment.

The Sons of Veterans of New Jersey will hold their annual division encampment at Trenton next month. It promises to be one of the most interesting meetings ever held. The regular delegates and past captains from this city will attend.

First Annual Ball.

The First Ward Social Club will give its first annual ball in Saengerbund Hall Easter Monday night. The committee has engaged a well-known orchestra leader from Elizabeth and his full orchestra to furnish the music.

Haven't Found Litten Yet.

Despite the earnest efforts made, as yet the police have been unable to locate "Prof." Litten, the wonder-worker, who left Plainfield suddenly, taking many dollars belonging to several citizens.

Robert Cook Re-elected.

At the election of bank directors at Westfield on Tuesday last, Robert Cook, of this city, was re-elected a director.

NEW SYSTEM APPROVED BY BOARD OF HEALTH

Inspected the Watchung School Where Fixtures Were in Place and Were Pleased.

NO ODOR OR GAS APPARENT.

INSTALLING COMPANY WILL NOW GET PAY FOR IT.

Mr. Stone, Representing Magee Furnace Company Which Put in Closets and Furnace, Was Present to Explain—Board was Satisfied.

The Borough Board of Health yesterday afternoon paid a visit to the Watchung School building for the purpose of inspecting the toilet closets, which some of the members have deemed not to have been properly constructed and therefore unhealthy.

Mr. Stone, a representative of the Magee Furnace Company, of Boston, the firm which put in the furnace and closets, was also present together with Andrew Love, president of the Board and Secretary Honeyman, L. E. Barkalew, Mayor Smalley and Dr. Carman, the school physician.

The operation of the system was thoroughly explained by Mr. Stone and the Board had an opportunity of inspecting and determining for themselves its worth. It was noticed that the method employed to dispose of the excrement was the best that had yet been devised. There is no odor and no noxious gases are apparent at any time.

There has been some complaint that the air used to operate the system was occasionally forced back into the school rooms to the detriment of the health of the pupils. This was found not to be true.

The system appears to work in a proper manner and it was found quite satisfactory to the members of the Board of Health, who are unanimous in its approval.

The complaint that the system in use in use in the Watchung school was not satisfactory came from a report that an inferior system had been taken out of one of the public schools of Orange. The system in use in the Watchung school at present is entirely different from the one removed from Orange school.

It is probable that the Magee Furnace Company will now be paid the balance due them on the contract for the furnace which had not been entirely paid for, owing to the belief that it was not going to give satisfaction and do the work that had been claimed for it. The Borough Board of Health is unanimous in the belief that the system is all that is claimed for it and entirely satisfactory in every particular and therefore not detrimental to the health of the pupils.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

Wade Jones, Who Was Arrested Here for Highway Robbery, Was Arraigned in Flemington.

Flemington, January 10—Wade Jones, the colored man arrested in Plainfield Tuesday night by Constable Hann, of Flemington, charged with robbing Charles Case, a well-to-do farmer, was yesterday committed by Justice Hulsizer, of this town, to await the action of the Grand Jury.

It appears that Jones met Farmer Case on a lonely road near Copper Hill, not far from here. The highwayman climbed into the wagon and watching his opportunity threw a blanket over Mr. Case's head. He then rifled his pockets of about $40. The robbery took place after dark and Mr. Case had no means of defending himself. Jones is said to have a bad record.

To Help Jeffries Train.

Champion James Jeffries, who is in training at Asbury Park for his coming fight with Gus Ruhlin, has selected for one of his many assistants, Henry Ackerman, of this city. Mr. Ackerman has been traveling with Jeffries' theatrical company as stage carpenter since the pugilist appeared here some time ago.

Bitten by Dog.

A young son of Jule Stephany, while playing with a small dog belonging to Edwin Smith, was bitten on the leg yesterday afternoon. The boy was not seriously hurt but the parents desired to have the animal killed and Marshal Campbell shot the dog this morning.

No Quorum Present.

There was no quorum at the Seventh-Day Baptist church last evening and the Christian Endeavor Society could not hold the regular business meeting. It will be held within a few days.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The famous extravaganza "Jack and the Beanstalk," the great Klaw and Erlanger's scenic success is to be shown in all its splendor and glory at Music Hall tonight. This production has had so remarkable a career of success that the demand for it is such as could only be met by a half dozen companies, but the management hold to their fixed principle of sending out but one company and keeping it well up to the high standard fixed by them when they decided to give to the stage its finest example of modern extravaganza. The production is a constant succession of surprises and wonders.

The intermingling of the characters made famous the world over in the good old nursery rhymes, affords endless enjoyment. "Jack," the son of Old Mother Hubbard, whose wonderful "poor dog" has acquired a number of wonderful tricks; "Jack's" boon companion is happy Sinbad the sailor, and these youngers are in love with Princess Mary and little Miss Muffet, respectively, while King Cole becomes smitten with Mother Hubbard. The forty theives are the henchmen of the giant whose principal repast consisted in eating the "four and twenty black birds baked in a pie." The pie is brought on all right, but the four and twenty blackbirds prove to be as many young and beautiful ladies dressed to resemble blackbirds, and who immediately proceed to dance one of the most picturesque ballets ever conceived. Jack and Jill, Mary of the lamb lyris, Johnnie Horner, Red Riding Hood, and many other nursery characters are pressed into service to provide a highly delightful and altogether diverting entertainment.

* * * * * *

Great success has met "The Burgomaster" ever since it opened at the Manhattan Theatre, New York city, New Year's Eve. It is a musical comedy, alert with life and gayety, peopled with clever comedians and pretty girls, and containing over twenty-five musical numbers that are tremendously bright and catchy. The story is fantastic and full of fun. In the prologue is introduced the grumpy, one-legged old Peter Stuyvesant in the ancient village of New Amsterdam When he is dug up in Painting House Square of today after a sleep of 250 years, he is introduced to all sorts of up-to-date gayeties, in which he shows his ability to go the pace as swiftly as any of his soubrette and man-about-town acquaintances. There are also scenes at Coney Island, a masked ball and the Paris Exposition. There is a remarkable special cast, headed by Henry E. Dixey in the title role.

* * * * * *

The popular comedy-drama, Fogg's Ferry, which has been continuously before the public for nearly twenty years, and which is famed for making several well-known stars—Minnie Maddern, now Mrs. Fiske, being one of them—is to be given in a new dress at Music Hall next Tuesday night The new version has the commendation of the large western cities like Chicago, where it has recently been played, and is given a very handsome scenic presentation, with such added features as a quartette and troupe of plantation dancers. A strong cast will interpret the characters. Particular attention will be given to the sensational scenes, such as the torpedo explosion under the bows of a steam boat. A number of specialties will likewise be introduced.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L W. Randolph's drug store.

Charles L. Brownell, of Elmwood place, has returned from Worcester, Mass., where his mother has been dangerously ill. Mrs. Brownell will remain at Worcester for a time.

—The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. L. W. Randolph.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Noe, of Crescent avenue, is ill with pneumonia.

Harold Vanderhoff, of West Front street, is much improved from a recent attack of the grip.

Joseph Martin, of Woodhull & Martin's store, has returned to his position after a severe attack of the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hand, of West Second street, are detained at home with the grip. Dr. Adams is in attendance.

Here is a case of it:

Mr. Jos. VanArsdale, carpenter and contractor, living at 213 Spooner avenue, says: "For several years I suffered from severe pain in my back, hip and loins, so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it, and if I contracted a cold it always settled in my back and at such times my suffering was something intense. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape, and procuring them from L. W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses, when I found they were helping me, and completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so as to have a sure remedy close by if the trouble should ever return."

WILLIAM P. DILLINGHAM.

Former Governor Elected United States Senator by the Legislature of Vermont.

Former Gov. William Paul Dillingham is the new United States senator from Vermont. He was elected recently by the legislature on the third ballot. C. A. Prouty, one of the four republican candidates, withdrew in favor of Mr. Dillingham, and the democrats, who had been casting their votes for Seneca Hazelton, went over to the successful candidate. Mr. Dillingham was born in Waterbury, December 12, 1843. His great-great-grandfather, John Dillingham, was killed at Quebec while serving under Wolfe, and his grandfather served three years in the war of the revolution. The new senator was educated in Newbury seminary and Kimball Union academy, read law with his brother-in-law, Matt H. Carpenter, in Milwaukee from 1864 to 1866, and then with his father, Gov. Paul Dillingham, in Waterbury, being admitted to the bar in 1867. He was in 1866 appointed secretary of civil and military affairs, a state office, and served in the same capacity under the governors of 1874 and 1876. He was elected state's attorney for Washington county in 1872 and reelected in 1874. He represented Waterbury in the state house of representatives in 1876 and 1884, and was senator from Washington county in 1878 and 1880. In 1882 he was appointed state commissioner of taxes, and held the office six years. In 1888 he was elected governor of Vermont, having the largest plurality of any republican candidate for that office up to that time. In the year of his election to the highest state office he did effective campaign work for Harrison and Morton, and extended his fame as a stump orator all over the country. He was married in 1874 to Mary E. Shipman, daughter of Rev. I. H. Shipman, of Lisbon, N. H., and they have one son. Mr. Dillingham is a Methodist and prominent in church work.

REV. FREDERICK BROWN.

The Intrepid Missionary Who Guided the Allied Forces from Tientsin to Peking.

Rev. Frederick Brown, under whose guidance the allied forces marched from Tientsin to Peking, is a missionary and the presiding elder of the Tientsin district of the Methodist Episcopal mission in North China. Mr. Brown has labored in the land of the Manchus and Tartars for upward of 17 years. In that time he has traveled much between Tientsin and Peking, and, thoroughly familiar as he was with every foot of the way, no better guide for the forces in their march of relief could have been found. When the outbreak of the Boxers occurred in Peking Mr. Brown was the last foreigner to get safely away. Later he went to Chefoo, from which point he sent nearly all the unofficial cable dispatches that came to America describing the situation in China. He stood upon the wall of Peking during the first engagement, and was within a few feet of Capt. Reilly when that brave officer was killed. He refused all compensation for his services.

Hen and Cat Friendship.

A Pennsylvania farmer proudly points to a singular friendship between a hen and a cat. The hen had a brood of eight fluffy chicks, and the cat was the mother of four downy kittens. Shortly after the latter had their eyes opened the mother cat carried them to the chicken coop and introduced them to the hen, who received them kindly. Pretty soon they got into the habit of going there of their own accord, and when the mother hen settled down over her little ones, the four kittens huddled up close to her. The old cat viewed this action without any jealousy, and after awhile only visited them at meal time, while the kittens rambled around with the hen and her chicks. Naturally, this strange friendship will be disrupted when the chicks and kittens grow to maturity.

THE BELLEVUE SCANDALS.

More Mills School Training Nurses Resign Because of Keller.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—More sensational developments occurred yesterday in the investigation of the Bellevue scandals. It is reported that eight of the Mills Training school nurses have resigned, and 12 more are to follow. The nurses give as their reasons for resigning the attitude of Commissioner Keller toward them. If the latter resignations occur, this will make a total of 41 nurses who have left the training school since the investigation started.

Commissioner Keller says that it is his intention to call Dr. Fitch before him and question him as to certain accusations made by Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton. The commissioner stated that Dr. Fitch was ill at present and was unable to appear at Bellevue.

Mr. George Blair, superintendent of the outdoor poor department, was summoned before Mr. Keller to answer certain charges regarding the disposition of the case of Riva Baron. The Baron woman was supposed to have been sent to Montreal four months ago, but was found deserted in the streets of Philadelphia on the same day she had left Bellevue hospital. After explaining to the commissioner his stand in the matter Mr. Blair said that he had all the necessary evidence which would exonerate him.

It was learned at Bellevue hospital that another complaint of ill usage on the part of a patient named Joseph Lieberkash would be investigated. Lieberkash was taken to Bellevue hospital on June 15 and died on June 16 of last year. This is alleged by the widow, who has begun suit against the city for $50,000. The Bellevue records, however, show that Lieberkash entered the institution on June 27 and that he died five minutes after his admission to the institution.

Husband Caught at Last.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—After a chase that lasted nine years Mrs. Rebecca Steinberg has found her husband in this city, and he was arrested for failure to provide. Mrs. Steinberg says that she was married in Russia nine years ago to Samuel Steinberg. Directly after the marriage he came to this country to found a home. Shortly thereafter she followed, and the couple lived together in New York. After three months Steinberg deserted his wife, left New York and became a wanderer over the earth. Mrs. Steinberg commenced a relentless pursuit of her husband. She traced him everywhere and followed him even to the Philippines and Gibraltar, but he was wary and never remained long in on place. She learned recently that he was in San Francisco and was employed as a cloakmaker. She hurried hither from New York, arrived last night and today the long pursuit ended in the arrest of Steinberg.

To Raise Tea In South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 10.—The experiments of United States Commissioner of Agriculture LeDuc, followed by the successful planting and manufacture of tea at the Pinehurst farms, Summerville, near this city, has attracted northern capitalists, who will go into the business on a large scale and who expect to raise 300,000 pounds annually for the American market. Colonel A. C. Tyler and Major R. D. Trimble of New London, Conn., and the Baron J. A. von Brunig, formerly of the German legation at Washington, are the leaders in the enterprise and have bought 4,000 acres of pine land along the line of the Charleston and Savannah railroad 15 miles from here. Messrs. Tyler and Trimble were in camp at Summerville during the war with Spain and saw the tea culture at Pinehurst. Major Trimble, it is said, will be the active head of the company.

Escaped From Sing Sing.

SING SING, Jan. 10.—Otto Schaefer, 35 years old, a prisoner at Sing Sing prison serving a sentence of eight years for burglary, escaped from the prison yesterday. Schaefer had been in Sing Sing since Jan. 14, 1897, and he had 20 months yet to serve. He was assigned to the cook squad this morning and was working with the other three men who make up the squad when he made his escape. The authorities all over the country have been notified, whistles were blown and the usual measures taken to recapture the man. So far as is known Schaefer had nothing in which to disguise himself when he got away.

Queen's Health Uncertain.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The queen's health is so uncertain that the fear is growing in court circles that the break up of her wonderful constitution is imminent. It is this fact, and not the poor health of the Dowager Empress Frederick, the queen's oldest child, which causes the arrangements for the trip to southern France to be made only conditionally. Her visit to Cimiez next spring is only a very shadowy possibility.

Marconi Hopeful.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—In an interview Signor Marconi said he did not consider communication with Mars impossible, provided the planet is inhabited. The matter of distance could be overcome. He denied that Professor Popoff, the Russian inventor of a system of etheric telegraphy, was interested in his (Marconi's) company, but said he hoped to meet Professor Popoff.

YELLOW FEVER GERM

Propagated and Spread by Mosquitoes Alone.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENTS IN CUBA

No Contagion From Infected Clothing or Bedding, but a Bite From the Little Bloodsucker Was Sure Fire.

HAVANA, Jan. 10.—The American commission, under the superintendence of Dr. Reed, which has been making experiments at Quemados as to the propagation of the yellow fever germs by the mosquito, has obtained extremely satisfactory results.

Dr. Reed says the experiments show beyond a doubt that there is no contagion from an infected person or from infected clothing, but that the mosquitoes alone are responsible for the spread of the disease. In the course of the commission's investigations six nonimmune persons were infected direct by the bite of mosquitoes which had previously bitten yellow fever patients, and five of these developed yellow fever.

The last experiment made proved conclusively, Dr. Reed contends, the theory of propagation by mosquitoes. A special building was constructed of disinfected material, and one of the rooms was divided into two sections by a wire mosquito screen. In one section were placed disinfected bedding and clothing, and in the other bedding and clothing from the yellow fever hospital which had not been disinfected. Two nonimmunes occupied the two sections. In the former were put several infected mosquitoes. The patient remained in this room only long enough to be bitten, and in four days a pronounced case of yellow fever developed. The patient is now convalescent.

The other subject slept in the infected bedding for many nights and has not contracted the fever.

Both patients have been sleeping for 20 nights in garments worn by yellow fever victims and in bedding from the yellow fever hospital.

Dr. Reed says they are growing fat and that in no instance in the course of the commission's investigations has a case of yellow fever developed from exposure to infected bedding or clothing.

Mr. Alexis E. Frye, having resigned his position as superintendent of Cuban schools, left Havana yesterday with Mrs. Frye on board the United States transport McPherson. In accepting the resignation Governor General Wood said the post would be open for Mr. Frye should he desire to return to it.

Mr. Michael J. Dady, the contractor, has begun legal proceedings against Senor Coronado, editor of the Discusion, alleging libel and injury in consequence of a caricature in that journal representing Mr. Dady as buying up members of the municipal council. Mr. Dady also sues to recover $750 lent last summer to Senor Coronado. He left for the United States today and will return here in two weeks to sign the sewer contract.

A Wedding In High Life.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Jan. 10.—General Whitside and his family have gone to Manzanillo to attend the wedding today of General Whitside's son, Lieutenant Warren W. Whitside, and Miss Lillian Rigney, only daughter of Mr. Joseph Rigney, the millionaire proprietor of Ceibahueca, near Manzanillo, the largest sugar plantation in the province. Several officers and their wives accompanied the Whitsides. The function will be a brilliant affair. The band of the Tenth United States cavalry, which has been stationed here for two months, has returned to Manzanillo for the ceremony. The Rigneys are well known Americans, famous for their hospitality, and the plantation is one of the show places of the province. The house party following the wedding will last four days, after which Lieutenant Whitside and his bride will go to New York for their honeymoon.

Will Renominate Hoar.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Contrary to the usual custom as regards the United States senatorial nomination, the Republicans of the two branches of the legislature this year will hold separate caucuses, but both will nominate Senator Hoar to succeed himself without opposition. It has been usual for the Republicans to hold a joint caucus. Both bodies will vote for senator on Tuesday afternoon. The Democrats will also hold a caucus on Monday, and it is expected that Hon. Richard Olney will be placed in nomination, although of course without hope of success.

Earl Cadogan to Retire.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Earl Cadogan, lord lieutenant of Ireland, when distributing prizes to pupils of the Dublin Art school, announced that it would be the last time he would be able to attend the annual celebration of the institution, thus casually confirming the belief that he has retained the lord lieutenancy chiefly for the purpose of entertaining the Prince of Wales during the latter's visit to Ireland.

Robbers at Nyack, N. Y.

NYACK, N. Y., Jan. 10.—During the absence of several wealthy residents of Grand View, near Nyack, who are spending the winter in the city the discovery has just been made that their handsome residences have been entered by burglars and robbed of all the valuables the thieves could lay their hands on. The heaviest losers are H. E. Wagner, Mr. Whiting and Mr. Reade.

Benefit Association In Trouble.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Morris and Essex Employees' Mutual Benefit association held its regular annual session in Newark, N. J., yesterday, and a committee of five was appointed to wind up the affairs of the organization, which is in financial difficulty. The organization had recently a membership of 2,600, but now only 500.

Change In London Daily News.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Daily News announces this morning that today's issue is the last to appear under the editorship of Mr. Edward Tyas Cook and that Mr. Rudolph Chambers Lehmann, the well known rowing coach and a member of the staff of Punch since 1890, will succeed Mr. Cook.

Smallpox In Kansas.

TOPEKA, Jan. 10.—Dr. W. B. Swan of the state board of health reports 267 cases of smallpox in the state. "The type of the disease is more severe than it was last winter," the doctor says, "and I think there will be a number of fatalities."

READY FOR BUSINESS

New York Legislature Announces Committees.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR.

Many Bills Introduced to Bring About the Money Saving Changes Recommended In the Governor's Message.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—The principal feature of the assembling of the two houses of the legislature last night was the appointment of committees and clerks and the reception of a list of appointments by the governor.

Governor Odell made the following nominations to the senate:

Member of the state board of mediation and arbitration, Bernard Stark of Albany county.

Trustee of the New York State Soldiers and Sailors' home, Thomas W Bradley of Orange county, to fill the vacancy created by the failure to qualify of Thomas R. Prestor.

Manager Binghamton State hospital, G. W. Fairchild of Otsego county, to succeed John W. Stanborough, whose term of office as such manager has expired.

State tax commissioner, J. Edgar Leaycraft (reappointed) of New York county.

Superintendent of public works, John N. Partridge of Kings county, reappointed.

Managers Buffalo State hospital, Thomas Lathrop, M. D., of Erie county, reappointed; Walter Platt Cooke of Erie county, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Daniel H. McMillan.

Manager Hudson River State hospital, George M. Hine of Dutchess county, vice Eugene N. Howell.

Manager Manhattan State hospital, Louisa Pierpont Satterlee of New York county, whose name has been thus changed from Louisa Pierpont Morgan by marriage.

The legislature took cognizance of the important recommendations made by Governor Odell in his first annual message in very prompt fashion. Bills relating to the most drastic changes advised by the governor were introduced in both houses. Chief among them were the bills carrying out the plan of "economy" providing a substitution for the fish, forest and game and forest preserve commissions of a single commissioner, who will have the advice of two state officers to serve without salary, and for the consolidation of all the labor bureaus into a single headed commission. A police and elections bill for New York city drafted in accordance with the governor's ideas was introduced. Oddly enough, a similar bill was presented for the improvement of Buffalo's police system. The police bills abolish the present partisan boards and provide for the appointment of a commissioner by the mayor, who shall be superintendent of police, to be vested with all the powers of the old board.

Root and the Booz Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Secretary Root states that he is not yet prepared to say what action he will take as a result of the disclosures made in the investigation of the case of ex-Cadet Booz by the Brooke court of inquiry, nor is he yet ready to make public the findings of that court. Speaking generally, he said that the rules of the Military academy were very strict against hazing—more so now under Colonel Mills than ever before—and that every cadet found guilty of that practice had been dismissed. Since his administration began he had dismissed two cadets for that offense. The officials of the academy always have experienced great difficulty in securing evidence in cases of hazing, the cadets—even those who had been the victims of the practice—usually refusing to give material evidence on the ground that it "might tend to criminate the witness."

More Asylum Fire Victims.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 10.—The list of dead as a result of the terrible conflagration at the Rochester Orphan asylum Tuesday morning has reached a total of 30. Two more of the unfortunate inmates died yesterday. Allan Bellmore, aged 2, died early yesterday morning at the City hospital. He was terribly burned about the head and upper portion of the body. Miss Mary Brad, one of the nurses in the hospital ward, was the thirtieth victim.

Ex-Governor Lind Smites an Editor.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—Governor John Lind retired from office at noon yesterday. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon he visited the office of the St. Paul Dispatch, which had criticised him bitterly during his term, told Managing Editor Harry T. Black, "I am now a private citizen," and struck Mr. Black a sharp blow between the eyes. The men clinched, but were immediately separated, and Governor Lind left the office.

Li Hung Chang Recovering.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—It is asserted here that Li Hung Chang is recovering and has visited the German legation in Peking. The customs revenue for 1900 was only 4,000,000 taels short of that for 1899 and equal to that of any previous year. The shortage was much less than had been expected, and the loan security is not diminished.

Changes In Ocean Records.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—During the year 1900 there were 38 changes in records of passenger liners in speeding across the Atlantic, of which one was the taking of the first place for speed by the Deutschland from the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and 37 made by steamers in lowering their own best previous record.

Blood Poison From a Tooth.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Miss Mamie Farrell, aged 21, living near this city, is dead from blood poisoning. In last July she had a tooth extracted, and several pieces of the tooth which were broken off at that time have since given her considerable pain, and a few days ago blood poisoning set in.

Policeman Discharged.

ROME, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Officer Wallace E. Carpenter, who eloped with Officer Warner Conley's wife from Utica last Friday, was discharged from the police force by the board of fire and police commissioners.

The Plague In Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 10.—One death from bubonic plague is officially reported here. Precautions are being taken, and all arrivals are medically examined.

ANOTHER VICE CRUSADE.

The Quaker City Follows the Example of New York.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—A mass meeting of citizens of which Bishop Henry C. Potter of New York was the central figure was held in the Academy of Music last night for the purpose of taking preliminary steps in starting a general crusade against vice in this city. The big building was crowded, most of those present being women. Bishop Potter had been invited by a committee of clergymen to address an audience on crime in large communities. The bishop, when introduced, was enthusiastically welcomed. He refrained from saying much of the conditions of vice as they prevail in this city, leaving that for local speakers to tell. The bishop touched briefly on his boyhood days which were spent here and then discussed in a general way the centralization of power which he said exists today in many walks of life. He said there is in the popular mind a belief that judges on the bench, men in the legislative halls and the smallest politicians are purchasable. That such a condition should exist, he said, was a dishonor.

Bishop Potter then spoke of the great movement for better government started in New York and said the conditions that exist in Philadelphia are no different from those prevailing elsewhere. Spoilsmen and public officers who betray their trust should be given no peace. If Philadelphia would take up the work, he said, the two cities could go forward hand in hand in the right direction.

The Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt of this city delivered a strang address against the alleged immorality of the city. He severely criticised the present municipal administration.

A resolution was adopted by the meeting to the effect that the citizens of Philadelphia "recognize that our city has fallen under the sway of its worst elements, organized into a political machine, which by its control of vast revenue, the spoils of office, unwarranted use of police power and other agencies afflicts us with almost every form of misgovernment." The resolution also provides for the appointment of a committee to begin a movement for the betterment of the prevailing conditions.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

Twelve Killed at Naauwpoort—Reported Engagement Denied.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The British casualties in the fighting Jan. 5 between Colonel Babington's forces and the Boers under General Delarey and General Steenkamp at Naauwpoort, when the burghers were forced to retire, were 12 men killed and 33 wounded.

Late advices from Cape Town state that it has been ascertained that the reports of an engagement between a cyclist corps and the Boers at Pickaner's Kloof Sunday were without foundation.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Railroads in Colorado were blockaded by snow.

Nebraska senate expressed sympathy with the Boers.

Fresh outbreak of plague was reported in southeastern Russia.

Mr. William Waldorf Astor has given £1,000 to the Prince of Wales' hospital fund.

Twenty-one variable stars were discovered at Harvard college observatory during the year.

Four people were seriously hurt and a score more bruised and cut in a train wreck at Perth Amboy, N. J.

Representative Clarke Dead.

PETERBORO, N. H., Jan. 10.—Hon. Frank G. Clarke, representative in congress from the Second New Hampshire district, died at his home here last night of quick consumption, aged 50 years. He took an active part in the campaign of last November, speaking from the platform nearly every night, and, not being very strong, suffered physical exhaustion when his labors ended. After election he commenced working on his candidacy for the United States senate to succeed Senator Chandler. Two weeks ago he was taken sick and this week withdrew his name as a candidate. Tuesday night he experienced a very severe choking spell, but appeared slightly improved yesterday morning. He had a second attack of choking early last evening, which resulted in his death.

Naval Movements.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Hartford has left La Guayra for Trinidad in pursuance of the navy department's instructions to proceed on her cruise with the landsmen brought over to Venezuela by the Buffalo. The Vicksburg, en route to the Asiatic station, left Colombo yesterday for Singapore. The Saturn has arrived at Cavite. The submarine boat Holland, in tow of the Standish, left Annapolis for Norfolk.

Indian Commission Not to Report.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—The commission appointed by former Governor Roosevelt to investigate relative to elevating the New York state Indians to citizenship and the apportionment of their lands within and without the reservations will not submit any report. The committee finds that the scope of the subject is too momentous for them to handle and suggests that the legislature take the matter in hand.

Kansas Miners Strike.

TOPEKA, Jan. 10.—Most of the miners in the Weir City zinc mining district are on strike. The trouble resulted over wages and the introduction of nonunion miners. There has been a riot at one of the mines in which an attempt was made to hang one of the superintendents.

The President Improving.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The president is progressing favorably. Dr. Rixey, the attending physician, is satisfied with the manner in which the grip is responding to treatment. It is said at the White House that the president has no fever now and is steadily improving.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Two men were fatally injured and several seriously injured by a terrific explosion at the works of the Standard Oil company at Meserole and Kingsland avenues, Williamsburg. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Curfew at Norwich.

NORWICH, N. Y., Jan. 10.—The city council of Norwich has voted to adopt the curfew ordinance.

Relentless Rheumatism Conquered.

Up to recently it could have been said that science had advanced no positive cure for rheumatism, but a hospital specialist, delving after a cure for this tormenting disease, one day hit upon just the right formula, and in Dr. Holtin's Rheumatic Remedy to-day the medical world recognizes at last a cure.

No matter how bad your pains may have been or are; no matter of how long standing; no matter how many remedies you have tried, Dr. Holtin's Rheumatic Remedy will not only help you at once, but it will cure you for ever and ever. This magnificent remedy will cure all forms of rheumatism, muscular, acute, articular, gout, neuralgia, or sciatica, because it drives out of the system at once the uric acid that makes all the trouble and brings the muscle fibers back to their normal condition.

Don't be induced to take a substitute, but insist on having

HILL IN WALL STREET.

President of Northern Pacific Railroad Explains His Purpose.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—James J. Hill again yesterday was the central figure in Wall street. In an interview Mr. Hill outlined what he and his associates in the giant railroad "community of interests" are trying to accomplish. Instead of a combination of great railroads under one system he said he was trying to bring about an agreement between certain big systems of the northwest by which "friction" would be prevented and the roads operated more economically. He denied that he was here to see J. Pierpont Morgan and John D. Rockefeller.

The day brought no development in the unfolding of the plans of the Hill-Morgan-Rockefeller combine. The meeting of the Northern Pacific directors did nothing more important, it was announced, than declare the regular 1 per cent quarterly dividend. Vice President Daniel S. Lamont was in close conference until after dark with several directors of the Northern Pacific and associates of Mr. Hill, and developments are expected soon.

Mr. Hill was in Wall street all day—the busiest man there. Although he asserted he did not see J. Pierpont Morgan James Stillman, president of the National City bank, the depository of the Standard Oil company, was one of his many callers.

"My plans have been greatly exaggerated, and a great deal that is untrue has been published about what I intend to do," said Mr. Hill. "I do not contemplate any great deal such as has been attributed to me. I did not come to New York to see Mr. Morgan. I have not seen Mr. Morgan today and have no engagement either to see him today or tomorrow. Mr. Morgan and I are friends, but I did not come here to consult him.

"One of the main objects of my trip is to consult with the contractors who are building two steamships at New London for my line. We need a large fleet for our lake traffic, as it is growing very rapidly, and we are having two splendid vessels constructed. I am trying to bring about agreements between the western roads which will prevent friction and make the operation of the lines more economical. In other words, an understanding by which they may save money. I want to produce harmony among them and stop friction. The less friction there is among railroads the better it will be for all of us.

"I am a believer in railroad consolidation when it is advantageous. It is the inevitable policy of the roads sooner or later. Railroads, just like all other lines of business, should be run as economically as possible. However, my plans have been so greatly misrepresented that I have made up my mind that silence is the best policy."

STRONGHOLD STORMED.

Fortress of Ho-pu Was a Boxer Rendezvous.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Count von Waldersee, dated Peking, Jan. 8:

"The fortress of Ho-pu, which was stormed Jan. 3, was the headquarters of newly organized bands of Boxers. Over 1,000 had terrorized the district, and they were planning to march on Yenking and Chau-ping."

Wiring from Peking under date of Jan. 6 Count von Waldersee says:

"Colonel Pavel's column is marching to Tsi-ngan-fu, on the Pei-ho, to co-operate with Colonel Madai's column from Yen-king, 72 kilometers northwest of Peking. Colonel Pavel, after extremely severe marches over bypaths and through high mountains, stormed the fortifications Jan. 3. These were defended by ten guns and from 600 to 1,000 men. Having protected the mines, the column is returning in extended order through Yen-king."

Germany Not Decided.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Germany is not yet willing to define her position with reference to Secretary Hay's proposal to transfer the Peking negotiations to Washington, according to a statement made by a high foreign office official, because an exchange of views between the cabinet on the subject is now proceeding. The German foreign office, however, believes that Mr. Conger's view of the attitude of the empress dowager is correct and that the position of the Chinese court at Sian-fu is growing more and more untenable.

Russians Distribute Rice.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—The Russians in the province of Chi-li, according to a dispatch from Peking, distribute 10,000 rations of rice daily in behalf of Emperor Nicholas.

Prussia's Bicentenary.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The bicentenary of the Prussian monarchy, which will be celebrated Jan. 18, will be marked by a special solemn service ordered by Emperor William in the garrison church. There will also be a special service in the castle chapel, after which a battery in the Lustgarten will fire 101 guns. Among the foreign visitors expected are Prince Vladimir of Russia and Crown Prince Franz Ferdinand of Austria. An illumination of the public buildings has been ordered.

Deadly Coal Gas Explosion.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Jan. 10.—An explosion of gas in a coal mine at Honda, Coahuila, Mexico, caused the death of four men and the injury of upward of 20 others, among the latter being three brothers named Sullivan, maimed beyond recognition. General Manager Johnson left Ciudad Porforio Diaz promptly by special train and is on the ground with medical and other aid for the sufferers.

Alleged Bigamist Arrested.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Edward Harris has been arrested by the harbor police on board the barkentine Hector, as a fugitive from justice. It is believed that he is wanted in New York on the charge of bigamy. Harris admitted to the officers that he had been married twice, but said that he got his wife to sign a paper before he married his present wife.

Steamer Disabled.

QUEENSTOWN, Jan. 10.—The German steamer Frisia, Captain Schmidt, which sailed from Hamburg Dec. 29 for Boston, is heading for Queenstown, a dispatch from Fastnet announces, in a disabled condition and under reduced steam. Two tugs have gone to her assistance.

Blizzard In Iowa.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Jan. 10.—A blizzard is sweeping this section. Snow is drifting badly and train and street railway traffic service is impeded.

ARMY CANTEEN TO GO

Senate Decisively Concurs In House Measure.

ONLY FIFTEEN VOTES FOR RETENTION

House Makes Slow Progress on the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill—Many Dissatisfied Members Oppose It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The army canteen is to be abolished, as the senate yesterday by a very decisive vote concurred in the house provision relative to the army canteen. Only 15 votes could be mustered in the senate in favor of the canteen, while 34 were cast against it. Most of the time was occupied by Senators Teller of Colorado, Pettigrew of South Dakota and Butler of North Carolina, who all opposed the adoption of the senate committee's amendment, which provided for a continuance of the canteen.

Beyond disposing finally of the canteen question the senate accomplished little, and it seems doubtful whether a final vote upon the measure will be reached before Friday or Saturday.

The house considered the river and harbor appropriation bill. Little progress was made. In a bill carrying such a vast sum for local improvements many are bound to be disappointed, and there is considerable soreness among the members who fail to get what they want. This soreness outcropped in several places, the disappointed members refusing to allow any limit to be placed on the general debate. It extended throughout the day, being seemingly no nearer conclusion at adjournment than when it started. Mr. Burton, chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, who is in charge of the bill, made an elaborate explanation of its provisions. Several western members assailed it for not containing provision for irrigation reservoirs, and Mr. Corliss of Michigan attacked it for not giving proper recognition to the great lakes deep waterway project.

Senator Morgan of Alabama offered an amendment to the pending army bill providing that whenever in the judgment of the president it shall be impracticable to enforce the laws of the United States by the ordinary judicial proceedings he shall have authority to call forth the militia of any or all of the states and to employ such part of the land and naval forces of the United States as he may deem necessary to prevent a forcible obstruction of the laws of the United States either within the confines of the United States or elsewhere.

Convict Murders Keeper.

AUBURN, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Inspired by a spirit of revenge Clarence Egnor, a convict in the prison in this city, overpowered and killed his keeper, Archibald W. Benedict. The tragedy occurred in the washroom of the cloth shop, which is in the basement of the new brick building at the west end of the prison yard. There are 17 convicts employed in the room, and they were all present when the guard was murdered. The crime was committed so quickly that no one had an opportunity to interfere. The murderer had been several times punished for infractions of the prison rules, and he had formed an antipathy for Guard Benedict, whom he regarded as the cause of his trouble.

The Grip Raging.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The dread epidemic of grip, that caused 52,000 deaths in this state in 1889, is again raging here and throughout the United States. It is estimated that from 150,000 to 200,000 persons in New York are stricken with the disease and at least a million in the country at large. In Chicago 100,000 persons are laid up with it and in Cleveland about 70,000. According to the records of the board of health, 60 persons have died of grip in this city since Jan. 1. Dr. Billingham of the board of health says grip is a more deadly disease than smallpox.

Connecticut Legislature Meets.

HARTFORD, Jan. 10.—Connecticut changed governors yesterday, and the official ceremonies were attended with much display. The two houses of the general assembly organized and went into joint session to listen to the governor's inaugural message. Governor McLean had much to say regarding the agitation for a revision of the constitution and argued in favor of careful going in that respect. He thought the ills complained of might not be so bad as those which would follow a complete and radical revision.

A Slight Earthquake.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Residents of Manayung, Roxborough and Wissahickon felt a distinct earthquake shock at 9:12 yesterday morning. The vibrations lasted more than 15 seconds and traveled from northeast to southwest. James T. Pond's house on Walnut lane and several other residences had window panes broken by the shock, which was also felt in the Falls of Schuylkill, where every building was shaken, although no serious damage was reported.

Wagon Loads of Carp.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Farmers are catching wagon loads of carp in the canal just east of this city in a deep hole near Schermerhorns. Carp have abounded in the canal for the last five years, driving other fish out. The fishermen cut holes in the ice, and the fish come to the surface and are thrown out with pitchforks. One farmer this morning captured 200 pounds this way, one carp weighing 12 pounds.

American Police For Manila.

MANILA, Jan. 10.—The Philippine commission has decided to organize an American police force of 300 men for service in Manila. The force will be recruited from among the volunteers only. Many of the Thirty-seventh regiment who have decided not to return to the United States are applying for positions on the force.

A Gas Gusher.

FINDLAY, O., Jan. 10.—The largest gas well since the famous Karg well of 15 years ago has been struck east of this city. By actual measurement its capacity is 10,000,000 cubic feet. The gas company has shut off all other wells, and this one is furnishing the gas for all the city factories.

Kirk B. Armour Critically Ill.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 10.—Kirk B. Armour, nephew of the late Philip D. Armour and head of the Armour interests in Kansas City, is critically ill at his home here with pneumonia.

The Palisades to Stay.

Lovers of nature must rejoice over the preservation of the Palisades, which is practically secured by the action of the commissioners whose report has brought satisfaction to a waiting public and has won for themselves golden opinions on every side. The citizens of New York and New Jersey, on whom would rest the blame for their demolition and who may justly claim the honor for their preservation, may well congratulate themselves on the appointment of commissioners who have secured such satisfactory results. The possession of the Palisades by owners who looked upon the mighty bulwarks as so much stone for quarrying purposes, and who had a right to convert their own property into dollars and cents, either from necessity or inclination, has made the outlook for preserving them a doubtful one.

The joint commissioners appointed last spring by New York and New Jersey have ignored self-interest and in a quiet, business-like way have worked for the accomplishment of a result that to many seemed impracticable. Their report shows that the $10,000 appropriated for expenses was used to bind the contract in the purchase of the property where quarrying is in process. Options have been secured from the property owners for the purchase of the steep faces of the cliffs and the land lying between the cliffs and the water's edge for a distance of fifteen miles, and riparian rights for the same distance.

The estimated cost of this property and the building of a driveway from Fort Lee to Sneden's Landing is less than one and a quarter millions of dollars, where former estimates have been four and five millions.

Without doubt the legislatures of New York and New Jersey will take advantage of the negotiations so skillfully managed by the Commissioners who will always merit the thanks not only of citizens of the two States interested, but of all lovers of nature and admirers of the wondrous creations of infinite power.

Governor Voorhees has taken a favorable view of the plan presented and has advised the Legislature in his annual message to act on the report of the Commissioners.

A successful merchant is quoted by a New York contemporary, says the Philadelphia Record, to the effect that the time can never come in the career of any business man who depends on the patronage of the general public when he can afford to cease advertising or to advertise only at long intervals. "The custom which he has won by the aid of advertising, says the authority referred to, "can be wrested from him by a competitor who will use newspaper space liberally and constantly."

Mayor Jenkins' first message has been received with favor by the citizens generally. Nearly every day since it was made public comments of a favorable nature are heard. As one citizen said: "It was right to the point, free from verbosity and logical in its conclusions." The Mayor's reference to taxation was to the point and is concurred in by the taxpayers, irrespective of party affiliation.

The first bill to be introduced into the State Senate was one providing for increasing the State appropriation for good roads from $150,000 to $300,000. It also provides that the State is to pay two-thirds instead of one third of the cost of building macadam roads, approved by the State Road Commissioner.

The new rule of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central New Jersey Street Railway Company, regarding school tickets, was not according to the franchise granted the Plainfield line. General Superintendent Smith didn't know that and he says that it shall be repealed immediately.

Both Union and Somerset counties promise to figure quite conspicuously in the proceedings of the State Legislature this winter.

It is not likely that Mayor Jenkins will make any important changes when he comes to appoint the various city officials.

A line of automobile stages for Plainfield would certainly add to the reputation of this city for being up-to-date.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

If a certain young man, who persists in visiting a certain portion of the Fourth ward to see his sweetheart, would only leave his whistle home no one would object to his hourly calls. He is a very ambitious youth and one part of his continuous performance is to walk up and down the street near "his friend's" house and whistle all the latest popular tunes of the day. As a rule they eventually bring him the knowlege that "she" is home, but it generally takes a half hour for this little act.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

TO VOTE MONDAY.

Republican Electors Will Gather in Trenton to Cast Vote for McKinley and Roosevelt.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, January 10.—The Republican electors for President and Vice President of the United States chosen at the election held in New Jersey last November, will meet in the Supreme Court room at the State House Monday afternoon and officially cast their ballots for McKinley and Roosevelt.

The meeting of the electors will be a very perfunctory affair. The official returns will be presented to them by the Secretary of State and they will go through the formality of having the returns canvassed. Then a messenger will be chosen to take the vote to Washington.

The members of the Electoral College from New Jersey are: At large, John F. Dryden, of Newark, and David Baird, of Camden; First district, John M. Moore; Second district, Washington A. Roebling; Third district, Frederick P. Olcott; Fourth district, DeWitt C. Blair; Fifth district, William McKenzie; Sixth district, George E. Halsey; Seventh district, Elbert Rapleye; Eighth district, Wilberforce Freeman.

Shepherds Installed Officers.

The officers of Star of Plainfield Lodge, Shepherds of Bethlehem, were installed last evening by Mrs. W. J. Ford. The work was performed in a satisfactory manner to all. After the business of the evening there was a social time and refreshments were served by a committee appointed for that purpose. There was a large attendance of members and everyone had a good time.

SALE OF BEER IN THE ARMY

ARGUMENTS PRESENTED AGAINST U. S. SENATE AMENDMENT.

Communication From Mary H. Hunt, W. C. T. U. National Superintendent.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The Lower House of our National Legislature has just passed by an overwhelming majority an amendment to the Army Reorganization Bill, which reads: "The sale of or dealing in beer, wine, or intoxicating liquors by any person in any post, exchange or canteen, or army transport, or upon any premises used for military purposes by the United States is hereby prohibited. The Secretary of War is hereby directed to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect." The Senate Committee on Military Affairs has reported it to the Senate with the recommendation that it pass, but with the word "beer" stricken out, and the words "or any distilled spirit" substituted. This would permit the sale of beer and any fermented liquor, except wine, on all premises and transports used for military purposes by the American Army. If beer drinking helps our soldiers morally, mentally and physically, thereby fitting them better to defend our country and to represent its principles, then this Senate amendment should be accepted.

Chemical analysis shows that beer contains from three to five per cent., sometimes more, alcohol. It is undisputed that alcohol has the power, when taken even in small amounts, to create an uncontrolable and destructive appetite for more; therefore beer is a dangerous drink that invites to an increased use of alcohol, which may lead to drunkenness. The effect of the use of beer is briefly stated in the London Lancet, of April 1, 1899, the foremost medical journal of the world, which says: "Any increased consumption of beer, however, good for the brewers and the national exchequer, will not conduce to sobriety or to a diminution of the disease and misery produced by alcoholism.

Nearer home testimony from the Scientific American says: "Beer not only creates an appetite for something stronger, but its immediate influence and effect upon crime are more dangerous to the community than the stronger liquors, in this way: The excessive use of the stronger drinks is liable to make men drunk and helpless, unable to do much harm, while beer excites men to acts of violence, desperation and crime.

"The use of beer has been found to produce a species of degeneration of all the organs. In appearance the beer drinker may be the picture of health, but in reality he is most incapable of resisting disease."

The suggested Senate amendment assumes, on the part of the people's representatives, an ignorance of scientific facts about the nature of beer that are familiar to school children, or else an indifference to the welfare of our army and to our mission as the evangels of liberty to the Nations of the earth. Such an amendment would misrepresent the intelligence and sincerity of purpose of the people of the United States concerning the undeveloped races which have providentially come under our care.

Mary H. Hunt,
W. C. T. U. National Superintendent of Scientific Temperance Instruction.

OFFICE ALARMS.

Proposed Improvement Which Will Aid In Calling Out Firemen Quickly.

Among the improvements which Chief Doane, of the fire department, hopes to have made during this year, is the establishment of a switch at headquarters, whereby he can send in an alarm of fire from his office with the number of any alarm box in the city. The advantage in this is great. Many fires are located by aid of the telephone, and very often alarms are given in this way. With the improvement as soon as the alarm arrived at headquarters, the man on duty could sound the fire gong by pulling the box nearest the fire, if it was necessary. Thus the department could respond in the regular way. The fire committee looks upon the scheme in a favorable light and the chances are it will be adopted.

Raised Up the Chiefs.

The officers of Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe, I. O. R. M., were installed last evening by Deputy Charles Holstein and staff. The work was done in a most satisfactory and commendable manner by the installing officers and they received the thanks of the Red Men for it. After the installation exercises there were addresses by the officers and members of the Tribe.

LOSS TO HOME RULE.

Hon. Justin McCarthy's Retirement from Political Life.

His Zeal in the Promotion of the Rights of Irishmen Made Him a Power in Parliament—Books He Has Written.

The retirement of Justin McCarthy from political and parliamentary activity, just announced, on account of failing health, takes out of British public life one of its ablest and worthiest men, and is a distinct loss to the Irish home rule cause.

Mr. McCarthy was born in Cork November 22, 1830. From 1846 to 1853 he was on the staff of the Cork Examiner, and then joined the staff of the Northern Times, of Liverpool. In 1860 he became reporter in the house of commons for the London Star, of which he was afterwards foreign editor, and then chief editor in 1864. Mr. McCarthy resigned this post in 1868 and came to the United States. Here he traveled for nearly three years, visiting 35 states. He then lived in New York for some time.

In 1879 Mr. McCarthy entered political life, being elected member of parliament for Longford, Ireland. He was reelected when the dissolution took place in 1880, in both instances without a contest. At the general election in 1885 he contested Derry, and was defeated by a majority of 29, but was immediately elected for Longford by an immense majority. In 1886 he contested Derry again, and was defeated by a majority of three, while at the same time he was returned for Longford unopposed. He claimed the Derry seat, and obtained it on petition, and then elected to sit for Derry.

Mr. McCarthy's activity in parliament has been chiefly known by his zeal for the home rule cause. He was vice president of the Irish parliamentary party in the house before the rejection of Parnell by the majority, when Mr. McCarthy was elected president, and has since been the head of the faction known by his name. He several times revisited America, chiefly in the interest of the home rule cause, for which he delivered many lectures.

JUSTIN M'CARTHY.
(Famous Irish Historian Who Has Just Retired from Politics.)

Mr. McCarthy's literary work has been important. He is the author of several novels, including "The Waterdale Neighbors," 1867; "My Enemey's Daughter," 1869; "Lady Judith," 1871; "A Fair Saxon," 1873; "Linley Rochford," 1874; "Dear Lady Disdain," 1875; "Miss Misanthrope," 1877; "Donna Quixote," 1879; "The Comet of a Season," 1881; "Maid of Athens," 1883; "Camiola," 1885; "The Dictator," 1893; "Red Diamonds," 1893; also, in collaboration with Mrs. Campbell-Praed, "The Right Honorable," 1886; "The Rebel Rose," 1887, and "The Ladies' Gallery," 1888. He has also written "Con Amore," a volume of critical essays, and "Prohibitory Legislation in the United States." His most important work, however, is "A History of Our Own Times," 1878-'80, extending from the accession of Queen Victoria to the general election of 1880. Other historical studies by Mr. McCarthy are "A History of the Four Georges," "The Epoch of Reform" and a life of Sir Robert Peel. Mr. McCarthy has been in recent years a political writer on one of the London daily papers.

Have Not Cut Ice as Yet.

The Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company has not yet cut an inch of ice for their houses. Some ice has been cut from the small pond to fill the beef houses. The company believe that they will get thicker ice by waiting a little longer and therefore are in no hurry to cut from the large pond.

Treatment of Indian Rajahs.

The rajahs of India, of whom there are over 100, are classed in divisions, each of which is entitled to a complimentary salute of a certain number of guns, ranging from 9 to 19 per rajah. The greatest punishment the government of India can inflict on a native prince short of deposing him is to dock him a gun or two on his salute. On the other hand, a couple of guns extra is a promotion as much prized as a step in rank bestowed on the field of battle. Strange though it may seem, a rajah need not necessarily be a high caste man. Several Indian kingdoms are ruled by princes of very inferior caste. —N. Y. Sun.

Evolutions of the Warship.

A whole fleet in the days of Nelson could be built and fitted out at little more than the cost of a single ironclad; the coal expended on a single cruise would pay for the refitting of his whole battle line, while the immense shells required to make any impression on the modern armor plate cost more than his whole armament. But the modern line of battleship could neither be built, armed nor fought without the use of steam and its evolution may be said to have commenced with the first application of the steam engine to navigation.—Chicago Chronicle.

Simple Price Reasoning.

A dentist's office expenses are the same whether he serves few or many patients. If he serves few he wastes time and must charge higher prices to make good the waste. ### Notre Dame Church at Montreal Said to Be Unparalleled.

Its Architecture Is Rich, Its Paintings Superb and Its Wood Carving Exquisite—Seats 15,000 Persons.

[Special Montreal (Can.) Letter.]

THE province of Quebec is a country of churches. Wherever you may go, in city or country, the church steeple is the most prominent feature of the landscape. And wherever ten or more little whitewashed cottages are clustered together they form a setting for what many a Protestant congregation in the United States would call a handsome house of worship.

The Catholic church has no more devoted children in the world than the French-Canadian farmers and laboring men. Certain it is that the average "habitant" contributes more than the Biblical tenth to his church; otherwise the clergy of French Canada could not maintain itself in the affluent style of which pretty parsonages and well-tilled parochial fields give ample evidence. The "cure," or priest, is not only the spiritual leader of his flock; he also exercises control over the temporal affairs of his congregation. He is in every sense of the word the "father" of every man, woman and child in the parish, and his authority is recognized with a cheerfulness and submissiveness incomprehensible to the American mind. If they ever have "church quarrels" in the province of Quebec the deplorable fact is not allowed to leak out.

Handsome church buildings are the outward manifestation and testimony of denominational prosperity, unity and power, and beautiful surroundings appeal to the religious fervor of worshipers. The Catholic church has recognized the value of these auxiliaries for centuries, and has always encouraged architects, painters and sculptors to devote their talents to the beautifying of cathedrals and lesser houses of worship.

The province of Quebec has many churches of rare beauty and historical interest, but none can rival in architectural and artistic perfection the Church of Notre Dame at Montreal, an edifice grand and imposing in the highest degree. The parish of Notre Dame is the oldest in the Canadian metropolis. It was founded on May 18, 1642, when Maisonneuve and his band of French colonists reached the island of Mount Royal and founded Ville-Marie, now Montreal. The settlers erected a fort and a temporary chapel of bark, in which they worshiped until the following year when a wooden edifice was constructed. In 1654 a still more commodious chapel was constructed, and in 1672 a spacious parish church was built. The building was used for a century and a half, or until 1829, when the present church was opened to the public by Mgr. Lartigue, the first bishop of Montreal.

STATUE OF ST. PETER.

The beauty of Notre Dame church baffles description. Its front is perfect in symmetry, its bold and lofty towers attract attention from every point of the compass, and are visible from the south at a distance of over 30 miles. The grand portico between the two towers is 60 feet in height. Three colossal statues placed over the arcades represent the Virgin Mary, St. Joseph and St. John the Baptist, the patrons of Lower Canada and the city of Montreal. Measured from foundation to pinnacle the towers are 227 feet high. Architecturally the church belongs to a branch of the Gothic, or pointed arch order, a school made familiar to the public by the ancient cathedrals of Europe, and a style which church authorities consider in perfect harmony with Christian thought and calculated to elevate the soul to God.

But imposing as is the outside of Notre Dame it pales into insignificance when contrasted with the richness of the interior. Paintings, gildings, sculptures and stained glass—every piece a master work—almost confound the senses, but fill the heart and mind with sublime reflections. The vastness of the auditorium, which is capable of accommodating 15,000 persons, inspires admiration which is heightened when the eye slowly travels from altar to altar, from chapel to chapel, and finally rests upon the grand main altar, the richest of its kind in the western hemisphere. One is oppressed by the grandeur of his surroundings when entering this noble temple of the Lord for the first time; and that this feeling is experienced not by adults only, but by children as well, came home to the writer most forcibly when he heard a red-headed youngster from St. Paul remark to his mother: "Say, ma, this makes me feel like 30 cents." Little Redhead might have couched his reflection in more elegant, certainly not in more effective, language. In the slang of the day he translated the thought which possessed his grown-up companions.

To describe the beauties of the various altars and chapels which adorn the western and eastern side aisles of the church in a newspaper article would be impossible; but a few words about the new chapel of Notre Dame of the Sacred Heart, which is one of the choicest monuments of art in America, are almost indispensable. It is nearly 100 feet in length, 60 feet in width, and 65 feet in height, and its sculpture, paintings and decorations can be studied for hours in the smallest details. In the harmony of its lines and splendor of ornamentations this chapel rivals the church proper, and its numerous paintings are considered the finest in Canada, probably North America.

The confessionals, placed between altars, are triumphs of the wood carver's art, and the visitor who is chaperoned by a guide is treated to a lesson on the duty of confession while admiring their richness. Confession, practiced since the earliest days of the Catholic church, we are told, is based on John 20:21, 22, 23. On the evening of the resurrection Jesus entered the chamber where His disciples were assembled, stood in their midst and said: "Peace be unto you, as My Father has sent Me, even so I send you. Having said this He breathed on them and saith unto them: Receive ye the Holy Ghost; whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted, and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained." This text, our Catholic guide explained, clearly indicates that unless the penitent sinner confides his transgressions in detail to his spiritual adviser he cannot obtain remission, for how could a priest remit offenses of which he has no knowledge? This explanation is interpolated merely as a matter of general information. It was new to the writer, and may not be known to all readers.

Among the statuary in Notre Dame no piece is more admired than a little statue of the Virgin, carved from the purest white marble, standing on a pedestal of the same material, which was presented to the church by Pope Pius IX., in 1872, together with a small golden cross which the pontiff was in the habit of wearing on his own person. Second in general esteem is a bronze statue of St. Peter, a copy of the one in Rome. Its feet are kissed by worshipers who desire to gain 50 days of indulgence. But interesting as all these statues are, in impressiveness they are far behind the grand main altar with its six groups of statues and bas reliefs, all of which are magnificent masterpieces of sculpture in wood, the work of Bouriche, the famous artist of Angers, France. Most notable among these figures are "The Sacrifice of Isaac" and "A Priest of the Son of Aaron Offering Up the Sacrifice of a Spotless Lamb." The grandest group is one entitled "The Bloody Sacrifice of Christ." The Virgin is there standing at the foot of the cross, a sword of agony piercing her very soul, while she offers herself up as a victim with her Divine Son. St. John, overcome by sorrow, has turned away his face, unable longer to look upon the Saviour, and Mary Magdalen is weeping over the sins she has so generously expiated.

"Le Gros Bourdon," the great bell of Notre Dame, is famed for the richness of its tone. It weighs 24,780 pounds, is six feet high, and at its mouth measures eight feet and seven inches in diameter. It hangs in the western tower. In the eastern tower are . ng ten smaller bells, toned in such p . ct harmony that almost any sacre . ir can be executed while they peal. he great organ is also an object of ge . al interest. It has 5,772 pipes, from . e size of a quill to huge tubes more . n 30 feet long. Six years were requ . d to build it, and Fred Archer, the . mous organist, who inaugurated i . n Easter day, 1891, pronounced it . e finest instrument then in existen . n America.

G. W. WEIPPIE.

INSECTS IN WINTER.

Many Show a Wonderful Instinct in Caring for Their Eggs During the Cold Months.

A little boy once asked his father if the house flies went south for the winter, like the birds; and then his father told him a long story about different insects and what became of them during the cold months.

He told the boy that when the autumn comes the death knell of millions of flies has sounded. They do not prepare for winter as many other insects do. The majority die, and their little bodies are blown away by the passing breeze. A few hardy flies will linger in the cracks in the walls, creep under the door frames or into crevices in the woodwork, and some naturalists believe that these few lingering flies are the parents of the multitude that appear in the warm days of June, for they lay thousands of eggs.

Katydids, grasshoppers, crickets and beetles are killed by the frost, and the eggs which they hide in the ground or conceal in the bark of trees furnish the supply for the next year. These hatch out in the warm days of spring.

Beetles exhibit a wonderful instinct in caring for their eggs during winter. Among some species the eggs are rolled in balls of material suitable for food, and then the balls are packed away in a nest until the infant beetle wakes up and eats its way out.

Then there are "sexton" beetles, which deposit their eggs in the bodies of dead birds or field mice, after which they set to work and perform the proper rites of burial, heaping the earth upon the body of the dead. The young beetle, when hatched from the egg, finds a store of food awaiting its arrival in the world.

It is said that spiders store away no food supply in winter quarters. Quantities of eggs are laid and carefully sheltered in velvety cobweb sacks that defy the weather. These sacks may be found swinging by silken robes from the goldenrod and milkweed, and hidden away in crevices and corners of board fences and stone walls. The little spiders creep from their cozy sleeping bags which the wise mother has provided for them, and if they escape their cannibal brothers and sisters they enter at once on a career of trapping and hunting.

Bees and wasps lay up stores for the winter, the wasps not as carefully as the bees, but in the center of the cone shaped nest of the paper making wasps may be found goodly stores of honey.

The thrifty ant deserves much sympathy, in that it is a dainty morsel for spiders, beetles, crickets and other insect hunters. A few ants may survive and feed on accumulated stores during the winter, but it is chiefly the eggs and cocoons hidden away in the secure underground chambers of the ant hill that furnish the ant population of the following summer.

The ant's care of its young; the management of its slaves, and the tiny insect cows which they capture and from which the honeydew is milked, all would furnish a tale as interesting as the customs of any wandering tribes of the desert or any lost nation of darkest Africa.—N. Y. Tribune.

BOY'S FUNNY TURNOUT.

Illinois Youngster Drives a Trained Pig Hitched to a Trap Built for the Purpose.

Here is the picture of a funny little turnout in which a little boy, a son of John Wraight, of Ashford, Ill.,

THE PIG IN HARNESS.

drives about the town. He has a trained pig and hitches it up to a small wagon built to order for the animal. Many little boys have goat carts, but a pig cart is certainly a novelty. The pig makes a fine horse, and seems to enjoy the proud distinction of trotting around the town with his young master in the cart behind him.

CAPTURING MONKEYS.

The Manner in Which the Brazilian Negro Takes Advantage of Jocko's Appetite.

Once, while I was a cabin boy on a merchant ship, we stopped for several days at Rio Janeiro, which gave me a splendid chance to look around that very interesting South American city. But, being a true American boy, I didn't think anything there was as good as my home in New York, except the monkeys and the parrots. About a dozen peddlers swarmed about the wharfs selling monkeys and parrots to the many travelers who came and went from that port. They had so many young monkeys and sold them so cheaply (I paid 25 cents for a little monkey and five cents for a young parrot) that my curiosity made me ask: "Do they raise them?" which question greatly amused a dark-skinned old Brazilian who spoke very good English. He then told me how these people got the immense number of monkeys they brought to the wharfs.

The natives make a fermented liquid, one of the ingredients of which is sour milk from cocoanuts, of which the monkeys are very fond. They take this beer to parts of the forest frequented by monkeys and set it on the ground in big calabashes, as the vessels are called, and then hide. As soon as the monkey sees and tastes this enticing liquid he utters loud cries of joy, calling his companions. Then they begin a "jamboree," the beasts showing all signs of exhilaration.

While the animals are having a good time the dark-skinned natives appear. Some of the monkeys escape, but the others are too joyful to mistrust anything, and appear to take the negroes for larger species of their own family. The negroes catch one or two and begin to pet them and lead them away. The monkeys take the hands of other monkeys and form a line of ten or a dozen monkeys, being led by a negro. They are led in this manner some distance away, where the negroes have been hiding and have cages awaiting them, always on the outer edge of a negro village.

For two or three days a little of the liquid is given the monkeys to reconcile them by degrees to their captivity. The men feed and tame them and take them down into the city and to the wharfs to sell them, and, as the Brazilian lives in a land where food and drink are easily found, he lives very cheaply, so by selling a monkey for 25 cents he makes a handsome profit.

He has even less trouble catching parrots in many traps and raising them, so he can be said to live a lazy man's life.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

This Cat Was Intelligent.

Cats are not usually given credit for as high an order of intelligence as that of a dog, yet they sometimes show wonderful cleverness. In Brighton, England, is a cat that holds a fire-brigade medal. After its mistress had retired one evening, the cat went to her door and scratched to be let in. So soon as the door was opened, the cat immediately turned and walked downstairs. Her mistress knew that the cat wished her to follow, and upon doing so she discovered that a tablecloth in the sitting room had caught fire from some sparks in the grate. The engine came and extinguished the flames, and the fire department presented the medal which the cat now wears around its neck.

His Patience Was Exhausted.

Little four-year-old Willie had been told repeatedly that he must never ask for anything at the table, but should wait patiently till he was served. One day while dining at a neighbor's with his mother the little fellow was accidentally overlooked. Patience finally ceased to be a virtue, and in an audible whisper he said: "Mamma, do little boys go to Heaven when they starve to death?"

AN EGGSHELL ENGINE.

How to Make a Scientific Toy Which Affords Amusement as Well as Instruction.

A pretty, scientific toy, the construction of which will perhaps afford as much pleasure as its operation, is an eggshell steam engine.

Take two eggs, make a small hole in one end of each, and if you have a friend who has the bad taste to like to suck eggs (of course, you wouldn't think of doing such a thing yourself), get him to extract the contents.

Or you may make a second hole in the opposite end of each egg, blow out the contents and then close the second hole with a drop of sealing wax.

Next you bend a piece of thin wire around each shell to form a holder like a shawl strap.

Two thimbles are also to be fitted with wire supports, twisted around them just under the raised rim and ending in two little rings, which can be slipped over two little hooks which you have made at the bottom of each eggshell holder.

THE EGGSHELL ENGINE.

The rest of the apparatus consists of two forks stuck into a cork, which is balanced on a needle fastened in the cork of a rather heavy bottle.

To make the engine go the first thing is to fill the boilers, or eggshells.

This is easily done by warming them and plunging them into cold water. The contraction of the heated air in the shells will give room for the entrance of sufficient water if the shells have been heated to the right point.

The shells should be about half full of water. Then fasten the shells to the handles of the forks, put a little alcohol in the thimbles and hook them on.

If the apparatus does not balance, a few shot dropped in one of the thimbles will make it do so.

Now light each of the little alcohol furnaces and await results.

Soon the water in the shells will begin to boil, a jet of steam will issue from each of the holes and the engine will begin to revolve, very slowly at first, but at a lively rate when "steam is up."

Of course, the shells should be fastened to the forks so that the holes point in opposite directions. It should be added that though this engine is not likely to "blow up" or to do any damage if it does blow up, alcohol and matches are dangerous playthings and should not be put in the hands of careless or very young persons.—Philadelphia Press.

Bees Evicted by Wasps.

A singular battle was witnessed recently in an English apiary. A hive of bees was besieged by a large swarm of wasps. The bees made valiant sorties to try to drive away the besiegers, and the wasps made furious assaults to drive out the bees. The battle raged for two days, at the end of which time the bees evacuated the hive and the wasps took possession. They are now the undisputed masters of the hive, and are reveling in the stores of 20 pounds of honey which the bees had gathered there.

MINISTER WU'S SON.

Chinese Youngster of High Degree Who Is Liked by the Boys and Girls of Washington.

Wu Chaochu, son of Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister to this country, is a delightful combination of man and child, and is really a remarkable boy. But, after all, "boys will be boys," whether they are born amid the superstitions and restraints of the Chinese empire or under the liberal protection of the stars and stripes, and Chaochu is in many ways the everyday boy, though in some respects he differs sufficiently to make him interesting.

When Minister Wu came to America with his family three years ago and made his home in Washington, he placed his son, then 11 years of age, in a public school there.

Chaochu's success at school is something he may well be proud of. At first he was handicapped by a strange language and customs and surrounded by unfamiliar things and people, but he finally succeeded in overcoming these difficulties, and by unusual energy and application condensed a four years' course into three, so that he was able to enter the western high school upon its opening in September. Chaochu has in a high degree that "get there" quality erroneously supposed to belong exclusively to the American boy. He is blessed, too, with a keen sense of humor and an infectious laugh that is good to hear. He is of sturdy build and his face is characterized by a bright, winning expression and strong, white teeth. Except for American shoes, he wears the native costume. He is an athlete of no mean accomplishments. Just now he is giving a good deal of time to running his father's automobile. During the last summer he spent several weeks at Cape May with his mother, and while there learned to swim. He rides back and forth to school on his wheel, jokes, teases, shouts, runs and plays games with the boys in the neighborhood of the Chinese legation.

YOUNG MR. WU CHAOCHU.

Chaochu says that he loves American boys, and without a blush admits that he loves American girls, too.

There is a strong spirit of comradeship between Chaochu and his father. The minister affords every opportunity for his son's progress and enjoyment, and Chaochu exhibits a wholesome respect and warm affection for his father and for the tiny, pretty Mme. Wu, whom he addresses as "mother" just as American boys do.—N. Y. Tribune.

Removable Teeth for Baby.

Some years ago a lady was visiting a niece with whose three-year-old son she had become great friends. He would come frequently to her room. One day at luncheon when the little boy was at dinner a visitor asked how the baby was. The answer was that he was well, except for being troubled with teething. Presently, during a pause, the little boy said: "Muddie, why don't you get baby's teeth to come out like auntie's? Then they would never ache."

NEW LODGE WAS FORMED.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING OF CAREER OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Watchung Council Was Instituted In Plainfield Last Night—Many Visitors Present.

A branch of the Knights of Columbus was organized in this city last evening, when three hundred members of the order from nearly every part of New Jersey were present to witness the interesting exercises. A special trolley car brought a large delegation from New Brunswick, and another special car brought a similar delegation from Elizabeth, while there were members who came by train from Brooklyn, New York, Newark, Trenton, Camden, Jersey City and many other places.

The institution took place in the Camera Club rooms in the Babcock building, and this room proved to be too small, so other rooms adjacent were used. State Deputy J. A. Burns, of Orange, instituted the new branch, which will hereafter be known as Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus. The new council starts with a charter membership of fifty, which it was very easy to secure. Many wanted to join at the opening, but the list being filled, they will be obliged to wait until other meetings are held.

As yet the officers have not been selected to govern the new council, but in the meantime A. E. LaPorte will act as temporary secretary, until such a time as the officers are chosen. The members have not yet decided upon a meeting night, but this will be determined very soon.

After the institution supper was served. An excellent menu was provided by the committee in charge and the affair was every enjoyable in every detail. The Watchung Council starts out under most promising conditions and it will not be long before it will be one of the most flourishing in this city and State.

FRED ROSS' FUNERAL.

Held This Afternoon and was Largely Attended—Beautiful Floral Tributes.

The funeral of Fred Talmage Ross, who died after a long illness Tuesday morning, took place this afternoon at the home of his parents, 45 Prospect place. There was a large attendance, many members of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church being present.

Many beautiful floral tributes were sent in by the friends of the deceased. Besides a number of individual offerings there was an anchor from the Christian Endeavor Society and a wreath from the employes of the Great Atlantic Tea Company in this city.

The services were conducted by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, who spoke in tender terms of the beautiful Christian life of this young man whose career was so untimely ended at the very threshold of manhood.

The pallbearers were James Love, John S. Johnston, Edgar Shepard, Clifford Braider, Chauncey F. Colthar and Charles Dolliver, members of the Christian Endeavor Society. The interment was at Hillside.

Blown to Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. ## CYCLING COMMENT.

Beginning Saturday night and ending on the following Saturday, Madison Square Garden, New York, will be occupied by the Sixth National Show given by the National Cycle Exhibition Co. Interest in the event each year increases, and the showing of cycles, motor cycles and automobiles in the coming exhibition will give some entirely new improvements, which every rider of a wheel, and every admirer of an auto will desire to see. The chainless wheel was an experiment a few years ago, now it is a certainty in its accomplishment and every manufacturer is trying to improve upon it. The 1901 models will be a revelation. Expert riders on the motor cycles will show them in action at the Madison Square Garden. The automobile takes its place in the exhibition by popular demand, and the motor tricycle will be a novelty worth seeing. A hydro-car and an autoette will also be novelties, and the exhibition will be complete in everything that appertains either to cycles, motor cycles, autos and accessories.

MRS. TYLER'S "AT HOME."

First of Two Receptions in Honor of Her Sister, Mrs. Wright.

The first of a series of two "at homes" was given yesterday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock by Mrs. Mason W. Tyler for her sister, Mrs. Wright, of New Milford, Conn., who is visiting her. The affair, while a delightful one, was not a large one and the invitations were limited to those who know Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. Tyler and Mrs. Wright were assisted in receiving by Mrs. George W. VanBoskerck. The floral decorations were very beautiful and consisted chiefly of roses. In the dining room the prevailing color was red. Those who presided in the dining room were Mrs. William Tyler, Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, Mrs. W. T. Kaufman and Mrs. Charles E. Brooks.

The young women who assisted those in the dining room were Miss Schoeder, Miss Reinhart, Miss Maude VanBoskerck, Miss Katheryn Stewart, Miss Edith Clapp.

The second "at home" will be given next Wednesday afternoon.

IVINS IS OWNER.

Has Purchased Interest of W. H. Freeman And Will Continue the Business Alone Under Old Name.

Announcement was made in the Daily Press sometime ago of the contemplated dissolution of the firm of D. C. Ivins & Co. The firm owns one of the largest coal and lumber yards in the city, which is located on Watchung avenue, just south of the railroad. This morning Mr. Ivins announced that the partnership had been dissolved and that he had purchased the entire interest of Walter H. Freeman and would continue the business under the old firm name of D. C. Ivins & Co. Hereafter, Mr. Freeman will have no connection with the firm.

To Arrange For Union Services.

Rev. T. S. Henderson, a leading Methodist pastor of Brooklyn, is to preach in the Seventh-Day Baptist Baptist church Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Mr. Henderson is coming to complete arrangements for a series of union evangelistic meetings to be conducted by William Phillips Hall, the evangelist, in this city in March, under the auspices of Plainfield Ministers' Association. All interested are invited to attend this preaching service.

Death of a Young Man.

The death of John D. Hall, aged 19 years, son of George C. and Anna E. Hall, of 231 LaGrande avenue, occurred this morning after a long illness with bright's disease. The funeral services will be held from the late residence tomorrow morning at 9:15 o'clock, and interment will be at Springfield, Ohio.

Funeral of Gabriel Brown.

The funeral of Gabriel L. Brown, who died Tuesday at Roselle aged 26 years, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his parents' residence, 306 Plainfield avenue, and from Mount Olive Baptist church at 3 o'clock. Interment will be at Hillside cemetery.

Preaching Service.

There will be preaching in the Seventh-day Baptist church tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock by Rev. F. L Rounds, of the Bound Brook M. E. church. All persons not having other church appointments are cordially invited to attend. Subject: "The Heavenly Vision."

Summons Issued.

Justice Nash has issued papers in the contract case of Coyne against Huested, returnable January 17; also in the contract case of Deckel et als against Benner, returnable Wednesday, January 16.

Collector Frank H. Smith is one of the latest victims of the grip and is detained at home in consequence.

PERSONAL.

Miss Smith, of Montclair, is the guest of her friend, Miss May Rodman, of East Seventh street.

Mrs. Emmor, of Salem, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Reuben Knox, of Washington avenue.

Dr. Rolland Tomlinson, of LaGrande avenue, has been detained at home for some time past by illness.

Joseph Miller, a former well-known resident of Plainfield, but now of Elizabeth, has been visiting friends in town.

The Misses Madge and Victoria Martin, of New York, have returned home after a visit with Miss Gertrude Tier, of Bank place.

Among the guests registered at the Piney Woods Hotel, just opened for the season at Thomasville, Ga., are Mr. and Mrs. Stover, of Plainfield.

Rev. Michael Brennan, formerly assistant to Rev. Father Miller, of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, who is now stationed at Lakewood, has been visiting friends in town.

Will Not Be Able to Lead.

Owing to a slight attack of illness Peter G. Wyckoff, of Sandford avenue, will be unable to lead the meeting at Trinity church this evening.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. Parker, the famous Congregation preacher of City Temple, London, who is 70 years old, expects to retire next year.

The students of the Yale divinity school have decided by vote to undertake mission labor in return for benefits received from scholarship funds.

A great institutional church, modeled after the famous Metropolitan tabernacle of New York, is planned by the Methodists of Chicago, as a result of recent consolidations.

The University of Bonn prides itself on having been the alma mater of the Hohenzollerns and other German reigning houses. Some of the English princes have also studied there.

It is said of Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon that often on Saturday evening he had not even selected his texts for the sermons of the following Sunday. But so richly was his mind stored that a few catchwords on a bit of paper were sufficient for his use in the pulpit.

The Interior (Presbyterian) says: "The theological seminaries of the various churches report a large increase of students over the previous or any other former year, and yet the Methodist bishops are complaining for the first time that they have not enough churches to afford employment to all their preachers. This increase of candidates in the face of a pause or retrogression in the churches is somewhat remarkable."

Among 500 boys in Vienna public schools, 70 were found to be named Karl, 46 Franz Joseph, 44 John, 26 Rudolph, 24 Leopold, 19 Otto, 16 Friedrich, 13 Ferdinand, 12 each Alfred, Anton, Ludwig, Gustav, Henry, Robert, Wilhelm. Among 550 girls, 91 were named Marie, 52 Anna, 23 Leopoldine, 21 Hermine, 19 each Katharina and Rosa, 13 Helen, 17 Therese, 16 Josephine, 15 Johanna, 14 Margaret, 13 Caroline, 12 Emma, etc.

Germany is beginning to take an active interest in laboring men according to trades. The little principality of Lippe is the center for reaching brickmakers. Here some years ago Pastor Zeiss, of Schwalenberg, started a Brickmakers' union on Christian principles, and was cordially supported by the government. He also organized a committee for the religious care of brickmakers, which, supported by the churches, sends out pastors, to go during the summer from place to place preaching to these workmen. These preachers go as far as Poland and Russia caring for their people.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN BASKET BALL CIRCLES.

Games Being Scheduled by Fanwood A. C. and Business Men's Team.

SEVERAL GAMES NEXT WEEK

FANWOOD A. C. AND BUSINESS MEN TO MEET AT Y. M. C. A.

Business Men Scheduled to Go to Somerville Tuesday—Fanwood A. C. Will Play Another Local Team Thursday at Fanwood.

Despite the fact that the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. has no basket ball team in the field this winter, the active season for that sport in Plainfield promises to be a very successful one. There are now two teams in this city which are planning to play regularly through the winter, and several other informal organizations have been formed to play an occasional game.

With four of Plainfield's original "five" in its membership, the Fanwood Athletic Club will undoubtedly make an excellect showing. Then the young men from Fanwood who have taken up the game, have shown excellent progress and will, with more practice, develope into first class players. Kieb and Hall have both played in a match game and made a good showing considering it was their first game.

George Proctor Smith, who captains the Fanwood team, is probably the most accurate goal thrower in the city. In the game with Business Men last week, he made some wonderful throws which had much to do with the general result. Walter L Long, who is manager of the team, has been prevented from playing on account of recent illness but will get back into his old form with a little practice. Fred Bonny and Max Moraller are both strong players and understand the very essential parts of team work.

The next game scheduled to be played at the Fanwood Club house will be against the Crescent Athletic Club, of Plainfield, an organization of local basket ball enthusiasts, Thusday evening, January 17. The game will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

In their game against the Fanwood team, the Business Men, of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., showed up unexpected strength. With only two experienced players on the team, they gave the Fanwood boys a hard tussle. Eric Moraller, in particular, distinguished himself. The return game between the two teams, the Business Men and the Fanwood A. C., will be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in a few days. While the Business Men's team is composed only of those who attend the business men's class at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, it is an independent organization of which John H. Doane is captain and manager.

Tuesday evening, the Business Men are scheduled to go to Somerville to play the basket ball team from Company M, in the latter's gymnasium A strong team will probably be sent to Somerville and the result will be watched with interest as it will be first chance of comparison of the local and the Somerville players. Other games are under consideration by Mr. Doane.

A DEVOTED CHRISTIAN.

Mrs. M. E. Bardell Passed Away at Home of Her Sons on LaGrande Avenue Yesterday Afternoon.

Mrs. M. E. Bardell, aged 64 years, died yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of her sons, A. T. Runyon and R. O. Runyon, 629 LaGrand avenue, after three strokes of paralysis. Mrs. Bardell's illness dated from July of last year. Last Labor Day she came from the home of her birth, Millersville, Pa., to live with her sons. During her stay here everything possible was done for her comfort.

Mrs. Bardell was a faithful and devoted Christian and for many years was an active member of the M. E. church at Millersville. The only relatives she leaves are the two sons with whom she lived.

Visited Temple Commandery.

Among the Sir Knights from this city who attended the annual inspection and review of Temple Commandery, No. 18, K. T., held in New Brunswick Tuesday night, were Grand Captain General D. C. Adams, Grand Standard Bearer Jacob Kirkner, Eminent Commander Asa Collier. After the inspection a banquet was enjoyed by the Sir Knights.

ANOTHER MAN FOR MAYOR.

NAME OF J. K. ARNOLD HAS BEEN PROMINENTLY MENTIONED.

His Friends Explain Why He Would be a Strong Candidate For Borough Executive.

Although the borough spring election is yet two months away, there is already some talk in regard to who will succeed N. B. Smalley as Mayor. Several names have been mentioned for the honor, among them being Former Mayor John F. Wilson, Councilman John Valiant, Councilman Robt. Clark, Jr., and possibly the renomination of Mayor Smalley. These names have been on the tongues of the politicians for several weeks.

Of late, however, the name of another well-known citizen of the borough has been mentioned for the chief executive of the municipality across the brook. It is none other than Jas. K. Arnold, former clerk of the borough at the time of Mayor Wilson's administration.

Mr. Arnold was one of the most efficient clerks North Plainfield has had in many years. He is thoroughly posted in the affairs of the borough and capable in every particular. While it is not known whether Mr. Arnold can be prevailed upon to accept the honor, there are a number of the citizens who would like to have him consider the matter in a favorable light. It is not believed that Former Mayor Wilson could be induced to again assume the duties of that important office, complicated with many petty annoyances and involving much valuable time.

As to Mayor Smalley, it is possible that he may be a candidate for Sheriff. In that event he would not be a candidate for renomination.

The friends of Councilman Valiant are pushing his claims for the office quietly but firmly. As a member of the Borough Council, Mr. Valiant has been a valuabte and painstaking representative of the citizens. He is thoroughly at home regarding the needs of the borough. If Mr. Valiant has time to devote to the office, he would no doubt prove satisfactory to the citizens. Councilman Clark has given his friends to understand that he is not a candidate for the office, and has no time to devote to its duties.

It is believed by many that Mr. Arnold is the most available candidate thus far presented for the very important office of Mayor of North Plainfield. His business affairs are not as pressing as some of the other citizens whose names have been mentioned, and he could give the office the attention it deserves.

PRINCETON'S ENROLLMENT.

New Jersey's Leading University Has 1,247 Students, a Marked Increase.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Princeton, Jan. 11—The new catalogue of Princeton University has gone to press, and the facts about the enrollment of students are made public by the registrar. The total number of students enrolled is 1,247, against 1,194 last year. The increase is great in both the academic department and the School of Science, but the falling off in the graduate school is remarkable.

The university has gained in the number of students from neighboring States, but has lost in attendance from the States of the middle, west and south. Pennsylvania leads the list with 345, New Jersey sends 279, and New York 239. The increase over last year in the academic department is 53 and in the School of Science 57. The graduate school numbers only 84, a falling off of 67 since last year.

The recent gift of $5,000 to the Theological Seminary from W. J. McCahan, of Philadelphia, will be used to start an endowment for a chair in memory of the late president of the seminary, Dr. Green. The new professorship will be known as the William Henry Green memorial chair.

Guests at a Society Dinner.

Miss Edith Hyde, of East Front street, and Mr. and Mrs. Osborn W. Bright, of New York, were among the guests at a dinner and dance given Tuesday evening in the annex of the Metropolitan Club, New York, by Major and Mrs. T. K. Gibbs for their niece, Miss Sarah Gibbs Thompson, and her fiance, Stephen Pell. Miss Thompson was one of the bridemaids at the recent marriage of Miss Joanna Hayes Shepard to Osborn W. Bright in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

Last Meeting Tonight.

The last of the Week of Prayer meetings in the Congregational church will be held this evening. The subject will be one of special interest and all are invited to be present.

—Best in quality and lower in price than usual is the Rockdale print butter to be had at Neuman Brothers.

FINE MUSIC GIVEN BY TALENTED ARTISTS.

Second Subscription Concert at the Casino Last Evening was a Success.

STORM KEPT SOME AWAY.

EXCELLENT PROGRAMME WAS CREDITABLY RENDERED.

Those Who Took Part Were Mrs. Griffin, Soprano; Mrs. Hall, Contralto; Mr. Young, Tenor; Mr. Miles, Basso—Mr. Smith was Accompanist.

The second subscription concert, given under the auspices of the society people at the Casino last evening, proved to be another musical treat. Though not as well patronized as the first one, there was a fair attendance. The artists who delighted the cultured citizens and music loving people by their well trained voices were Mrs. Minnie Fish Griffin, soprano; Miss Marguerite Hall, contralto; John Young, tenor, and Gwilym Miles, basso. Miss Hall was heard at the first concert, where she sang her way into the hearts of the audience. The conductor was Frank J. Smith, well-known as a musician of ability, and to whose efforts much of the success of the concert is due.

The first number on the programme, "The Blue Danube," by the quartette, at once placed the singers on good terms with the audience and the generous applause received was deserved.

Mr. Miles came next. He sang a base solo. "The Two Grenadiers," in such excellent voice as to invite enthusiasm. He was rewarded with vociferous applause. Mr. Miles was compelled to respond to an encore.

Miss Hall's contralto voice was as sweet as it was powerful. She was the recipient of merited applause that proved her a favorite. Miss Hall's solo, "Oh, That We Two Were Maying," was one of her best efforts and she continued to please the audience which was liberal in its appreciation.

Mrs. Griffin's singing was well received by all, and she shared with Miss Hall the honors of the evening.

Mr. Young has a sweet though not particularly strong tenor. His best effort and one that was highly appreciated was the solo, "Open Thy Lattice," which gave him full scope and brought out the higher notes to good advantage.

One of the best things of the evening was the duet by Mrs. Griffin and Miss Hall, who rendered in a most finished manner "Juanita," an old but familiar song to nearly every one in the audience.

Mr. Miles appeared to find especial favor with the audience. His voice, while not equal to that of Dr. Carl E. Duffi, who was heard at the first subscription concert, was nevertheless to be admired. His singing of "Danny Deever" fairly captivated the audience. Mr. Miles was compelled to appear frequently to encores.

Taken together the concert was a splendid success. The disagreeable weather had much to do with the comparatively light attendance.

The same excellent arrangements were to be found at last evening's concert with reference to the conveniences for those who patronized the affair.

ICE IS SPOILED.

Harvesting of Ice on Tier's Pond Has Been Ended By the Warm Weather of Last Two Days.

The warm weather which made its appearance yesterday, accompanied by a heavy rain, has been the means of spoiling the fine ice that was being harvested by John H. Tier, Sr. It is believed, however, that Mr. Tier succeeded in gathering all that he required for use in the manufacture of ice cream before the thaw set in. The Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company has not yet begun harvesting, not deeming the ice of sufficient thickness to house. It will require a good, hard freeze before the ice is thick enough for the latter company to begin work at their ponds in Watchung. This company wishes ice at least ten inches thick before they begin to cut it.

Attended Annual Banquet.

Deputy Supreme Archon John V. E. Vanderhoef, accompanied by a number of members of Protective Conclave, No. 595, Improved Order of Heptasophs, of this city, went to Somervlile last evening to assist the Heptasophs of that place celebrate, it being the annual banquet of that conclave. There were addresses by a number of the State officers from various places of prominence. During the evening music was furnished by Prof. Kelly's orchestra, and a general good time was had by all.

FORESTERS WERE INSTALLED

BIG TIME AT THE MEETING OF COURT WATCHUNG LAST NIGHT.

Recently Elected Officers Were Installed and Speeches and a Collation Followed.

The public installation of officers of Court Watchung, I. O. F., took place last evening. There was a large attendance, notwithstanding the rain. These officers were installed by L. T. Titsworth, of Dunellen Court: Chief Ranger, Thomas H. Stafford; vice chief ranger, John W. Daub; recording secretary, John M Lewis; financial secretary, Asa F. Randolph; treasurer, Andrew M. Vanderbeek; orator, Charles L. Vanderbeek; senior woodward, George G. Townley; junior woodward, Daniel L. Hullick; senior beadle, Peter C. Saums; junior beadle, William H. Forestel; court deputy, John R. Naylor; court physician, Marcus L. Clawson; trustees, Charles L. Vanderbeek and Asa F. Randolph.

Representatives were present from Dunellen and Elizabeth Courts besides many from the Plainfield Court. Speeches were made by L. T. Titsworth, State Organizer W. T Bingham and James Patterson, together with the old and new members.

During the evening music was supplied by Mr. Humpston, who presided at the piano. There were refreshments and a general good time enjoyed.

WITH MILITARY HONORS.

Grand Army in Charge of Services at Grave of George W. Moore Yesterday Afternoon.

Sorrowing friends and relatives from all parts of the city gathered at the home of the late George W. Moore yesterday afternoon to pay their last respects to his memory. A most impressive service was conducted at the house at which Rev. C. E. Herring was the officiating clergyman.

His remarks were of a eulogistic nature referring to the upright character and generous nature of the deceased. In closing he offered comforting words to the bereaved wife and relatives and bade them bear up under their sorrows.

A large number of handsome floral tributes placed about the casket attested to the manner in which Mr. Moore had endeared himself to the donators. There were large pillows from Winfield Scott Post and the Women's Relief Corps in addition to numerous individual pieces.

At the North Plainfield cemetery where interment was made, the members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., took charge and laid the remains to rest with impressive military honors. Chaplain John Goodwin offered prayer and the customary salute was given by a firing squad composed of James Baglin, Alexander Sergeant, John Wagner, Christopher D. Pope, Israel Compton, John R. Vail, Charles Rothenhausen and James Lewis, commanded by A. G. Perry. Those who acted as pall bearers were William C. Smith, James Huntington, Preston Goodfellow, T. O. Doane, James Finck and Josiah Unangust.

UNION MEETINGS.

Ministers' Association Will Arrange for Series of Union Evangelistic Meetings in Plainfield.

The Plainfield Ministers' Association will meet at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening to arrange for a series of union evangelistic meetings in March to be conducted by William Phillips Hall, a noted evangelist. The exact date for these meetings has not been definitely settled but will be at the meeting Saturday evening.

It is expected that these meetings will be participated in by all the Protestant churches in the city. Rev. T. S. Henderson, a leading pastor of one of the Brooklyn churches, will be present at the meeting and assist the Ministers' Association in forming their plans.

To Give a Tea.

Invitations have been sent out by Miss Pierson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Pierson, of Watchung avenue, for a tea to be given Wednesday afternoon, January 15, in honor of her friends, Mrs. Howard H. Williams and Miss Welles, both from out of town.

Will be Thoroughly Up-to-Date.

After taking account of stock, the store occupied by Crosby & Hill is to be thoroughly renovated, painted, papered and fixed in an up-to-date manner, making it one of the most attractive stores in the State.

Out of Danger.

John Tschutter, the young lad who was operated upon a few days ago at the hospital for appendicitis, is doing well and he is now about out of danger.

"PRIVATE SECRETARY" CAST MADE PUBLIC.

Sale of Tickets for Amateur Dramatic Performance Will Begin Tuesday Morning.

OTHER DETAILS ANNOUNCED

REHEARSALS FOR THE PLAY ARE PROGRESSING VERY WELL.

Those Who Are to Take Part in That Very Funny Farce—The Sale of Tickets Will Be at Armstrong's Pharmacy.

Arrangements for the production of "The Private Secretary," at Music Hall, Saturday evening, February 16, are gradually being completed. The rehearsals for the play are progressing favorably under the direction of Alfred Young, of Brooklyn, and a first-class finished performance is assured. The success attending previous efforts in "A Night Off" and "Caste," is so well-known that no doubt the proposed play will be even better and more enjoyable, if that is possible. "The Private Secretary," is one of the funniest of the farce comedies, written by C. H. Hawtrey.

The play will be given at 8:15 o'clock Saturday evening, February 16, and as stated in the advertising columns, the sale of seats will begin Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at Armstrong's drug store. The price of seats have been fixed at figures from 50 to $1.50, according to location. Below is the cast of characters that will give the play:

Mr Cattamole, a rich East Indian, Wm. R. Cock.

Douglas, his nephew, Fred W. Goddard.

Mr. Marsland, a country squire, Wm. T. Pelletier.

Harry, his nephew, Laurens H. VanBuren.

Gibson, a Bond street tailor, Harry M. Curtis.

Robert Spaulding, private secretary to Mr. Marsland, W. L. Saunders.

John, a footman, A. E. Faber.

Knox, a bailiff, F. W. Iredell.

Thomas, a gardener, Frank Curtis.

Edith, Marsland's daughter, Miss Sadie Mae Howell.

Eva, her friend, Miss Elsie Martin.

Miss Ashford, a spinster and chaperon, Mrs. W. L. Saunders.

Mrs. Stead, a landlady, Mrs. F. W. Iredell.

"The Private Secretary" was first produced in London in 1884, and was shortly afterwards brought to New York, running continuously in both cities for nearly a year. It is a "howling farce-comedy," full of fun and just what people delight to see on the stage. Alfred Young is the directing the play and this insures a performance worth witnessing.

RECEPTION AND TEA.

Charming Affair Given by Mrs. Wm. A. Garrigues in Honor of Her Sister, Miss Maxwell.

Mrs. William A. Garrigues and her sister, Miss Maxwell, of 721 Watchung avenue, gave a delightful reception and tea yesterday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock, during which time the house was thronged with many society people of Plainfield.

Those who assisted Mrs. Garrigues and Miss Maxwell in receiving were Mrs. Walter Gaston and Mrs. T. S. Davis. The young woman who assisted in the dining room were Miss Helen Davis, Miss Anna Davis, Miss Elsie Martin, Miss Helen Martin, Miss May Tracy and Miss Harriet Halloway.

The decorations were elaborate and the prevailing colors were pink and green. There was a profusion of roses and smilax both in the reception and dining rooms. Supper was served by an out-of-town caterer. A feature of the affair was the music furnished by P. Ludwig Conde's orchestra.

Many of the youger set remained during the evening and enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess still further by indulging in a dance. The whole affair was marked by many pleasant features and it was really one of the events of the winter season.

Fingerhuth Case Dismissed.

The landlord and tenant case of Murphy against Fingerhuth was to be tried in Justice Mosher's court this morning but owing to technical errors in the papers served on the defendant, the case was dismissed. New papers were immediately issued and a new trial will be held. William Sweeney represents Murphy and W. S. Angleman represents Fingerhuth.

MANY HONORED HIS MEMORY

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICES OF LATE FRED T. ROSS.

Many Beautiful Floral Tributes—High Praise From His Pastor—Sang His Favorite Hymns.

There was a very large attendance of relatives and friends at the funeral services of the late Fred Talmage Ross, which were held yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield, as was told in yesterday's Daily Press.

Following the prayer by Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, where the deceased was an active member, read appropriate Scripture selections and preached the sermon. He took no text and spoke directly from the heart. His words were filled with praise and eulogy concerning the life and character of the young man who had been called so suddenly. He referred to the activity, devotion and earnestness of the departed in the church and his home. He praised him for his many excellent qualities, and referred tenderly to the young wife who has been bereaved, and to the bereaved parents, brothers and sisters.

Mr. Schenck also made mention of the fact that at one time during Mr. Ross' early life he had serious intentions of preparing for the ministry.

Following Pastor Schenck's remarks, Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, offered prayer. Then the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Spirling, of South Branch, who baptized Mr. Ross at the age of twelve years.

During the services two favorite selections, "Sometime We'll Understand," and "The Christian's Good Night," were sung by a quartette composed of Miss Etta Raybert, Mrs. Hinman, William Holmes and E. E. Runyon.

The floral tributes were profuse and very beautiful. There was a wreath from the wife bearing the words, "Husband;" a pillow from the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church; a pillow from the brothers and sisters, bearing the word "Brother;" a wreath from the clerks in the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company store; an anchor from the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church and a great many tributes from individuals.

The remains, which rested in a beautiful grey cloth covered casket, were interred in the family plot in Hillside Cemetery. The bearers, members of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church, were as follows: James Albert Love, John S. Johnston, Edgar Sheppard, Clifford Braider, Chauncey F. Colthar and Charles M. Dolliver.

HARD LUCK STORY.

Ill Fed Man With Broken Wrist Wanted Lodging in Police Headquarters.

A poorly dressed young man, who claimed to be suffering with a broken wrist, applied to Roundsman Flynn late Wednesday night for lodging. The unfortunate fellow had every appearance of being in hard luck and thoroughly honest. He told the Roundsman a pitiful tale.

He said his name was Charles Welsh and that he recently landed in this country from England, having worked his way over on a cattle steamer. Welsh said he had worked for a farmer near Summit, who had agreed to give him $4 a month and his board. The food was so poor, however, that he decided to make a shift. The day before Welsh left he says he fell from a ladder upon which he was standing while painting the farmer's barn and broke one of his wrists.

Welsh had a woe begone look and was very thin. He said that he had not tasted food in many hours.

Roundsman Flynn took compassion upon the unfortunate foreigner and allowed him to sleep in the station house.

Funeral of Mrs. Ferris.

The funeral services of Mrs. M. J. Ferris were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. O. Herring, on Park avenue. There was a large attendance of friends Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector of Grace P. E. church, officiated at the service. There was a beautiful display of flowers. The interment took place in Hillside Cemetery.

Slightly Improved.

The condition of Miss Gertrude Andrews, of Central avenue, who is ill with typhoid fever, is considered slightly improved today. Her temperature remains about 102 and she had a very comfortable night.

SENATOR KEAN GETS CONTROL OF MACHINE.

His Younger Brother, H. F. Kean, Made Chairman of Republican County Committee.

DEFEATED C. N. CODDING.

FORMER CHAIRMAN WAS DEFEATED BY FOURTEEN VOTES.

Five of Plainfield's Seven Votes Went for Codding—William N. Runyon Elected Vice Chairman of County Committee.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, January 11.—Not since last November has there been such a gathering of the Republican clans as there was about the Republican headquarters in the Dix building last evening. The two factions which form the Republican party in Union county were arrayed in hot conflict and the forces of Senator John Kean came out victorious. The fight was over the chairmanship of the Republican county executive committee and ended in the deposing of Charles N. Codding, of Westfield, and the election of Hamilton Fish Kean, brother of the Senator, to the office of chairman.

Last evening was the time set for the annual meeting of the new county committee, the members of which were elected last fall. For years, Charles N. Codding, of Westfield, has been chairman of the committee and has directed the campaign in this county. He has worked hard and is generally given credit with being very successful in his work, having considerably increased the Republican majority here since he took command of the Republican forces in the county. Some time ago, it was announced that Hamilton Fish Kean, of this city who is a banker in New York, desired to head the committee. As brother of Senator Kean, it was generally understood that the Senator was in favor of his election. Mr. Codding has always been a particularly close friend of Congressman Charles N. Fowler and Governor Voorhees. Gradually the fight assumed considerable importance until in the last few days preceeding the meeting, a very active campaign was in progress.

There was a very large representation of the committee on hand last evening. Then the Republican leaders from all over the county turned out to witness or assist in the fight. Before the meeting opened there was much button holing going on. The general impression was that the Kean forces had gained ground, but that the Fowler-Voorhees faction would put up a stiff fight.

Assemblyman Ellis B. Meeker, of this city, was made temporary chairman and Roger F. Murray, of Plainfield, temporary secretary. Nominations for permanent chairman were then called for. The name of Hamilton F. Kean was presented by an Elizabeth committeeman. Wm Newcorn, of Plainfield, nominated Charles N. Codding. The balloting then began. The result showed that Kean had been elected by 37 to 23.

All but one of the members of the committee from Plainfield were present. Councilman James F. Buckle and D. C. Smalley, of the First ward, John E. Keely, of the Second ward, and William Newcorn and Frank H. Smith, of the Fourth ward, all voted for Mr. Codding. Former Assemblyman Roger F. Murray and Former Sheriff William T Kirk, of the Third ward, supported Mr. Kean. City Judge William N. Runyon, of the Second ward, was ill and unable to be present.

City Judge William N. Runyon, of Plainfield, was then re-elected vice-chairman, Charles E. Reed, of Rahway, was re-elected secretary, and County Collector Edward M. Wood, of Elizabeth, treasurer.

It was announced that a special train would be run to Washington March 4, and the members of the committee were requested to find out as soon as possible the number from their respective districts who intended to attend the inauguration.

William Newcorn, of Plainfield, offered an amendment to the by-laws and constitution, which provides that hereafter there shall be one representative on the committee from each election district.

The importance of the factional struggle which reached a climax at the meeting of the Republican county executive committee last evening may be judged by the following which appeared in last evening's Elizabeth Journal from its Trenton correspondent:

At this distance from the scene of

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The new "Fogg's Ferry," which is to appear at Music Hall next Tuesday night, has been played on the road over five thousand times in the past sixteen years, since its original production in New York. It is a high-class comedy, whose scene is located in a romantic portion of the South, and was called by the New York Herald "A Kentucky Old Homestead." It will be presented here by a company of more than average ability, including several of the original cast. There are besides a vocal quintette and a troupe of Pickaninny dancers, whose antics alone are a feature. We have noticed the press comments upon the play during its many tours, and they are uniformly enthusiastic in praise of the entertainment. "Fogg's Ferry" is an attraction that all will desire to see. Another feature is the fact that Miss Betty Woodward, has been especially engaged to appear as as Chip the Ferry Waif.

* * * * *

Mlle. Theresa Dolbosq, the famous European equestrienne, who has been imported by F. F. Proctor especially for the Proctor circuit, will make her first appearance at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre Monday. With the assistance of two thoroughbred horses she gives a most sensational performance. Clayton, White and Marie Stuart will offer the society playlet, "Dickey," and Cushman, Holcombe and Curtis will present their laughable skit, "The New Teacher." Others are: Jane Whitbeck, a dainty comedienne; Johnie Carroll, a versatile entertainer; Press Eldridge, the blackface "shirtwaist" man; Winona and Banks Winter, in a singing specialty; Jesse Vernon, ventriloquist, and twelve others.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

LITERARY NOTES.

Scribner's Magazine has many projects for the year 1901 and several of the most important have their beginning in the number for January, which has just been issued. In fiction readers will welcome the half dozen Amateur Crackeman stories by E. W. Hornung, each of which is complete in itself; but the ingenious Raffles and his accomplice, Bunny, appear in all of the adventures. The one in this number is entitled "No Sinecure," and it is illustrated by F. C Yohn, who will make the pictures for the whole series. Raffles has already taken his place among those distinguished characters in fiction which everybody knows about.

There will be five more articles on "Russia of Today," by Henry Norman, M.P. The present issue describes a romantic journey in "The Caucasus," which Mr. Norman believes is the most attractive vacation trip in the world.

Thomas F. Millard, who has been in five wars and whose articles on the Boer Army attracted so much attention in Scribner's last year, gives "A Comparison of the Armies in China," which is the best critical summary that has yet appeared of the excellences and defects of the various armies in the field, with particular application to the weaknesses revealed by the United States troops.

—The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. L. W. Randolph.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Good Roads and the Abolition of Direct Taxation to Be Considered.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—The legislature will take up in right good earnest shortly the question of good roads. A number of amendments to the law that will cover the recommendations made to the legislature by Governor Odell in his message will be adopted. One of these amendments will provide that the state pay through the issue of bonds the entire expense of constructing the roads, levying the proportionate cost upon the counties which receive the benefit, thereby expediting matters very much, as the state could borrow money much cheaper than the counties. The appropriation to be asked for this year for good roads will probably be $800,000.

A proposed amendment to the constitution providing for a new section would seem to indicate that the Republicans in the legislature believe that the direct tax will soon be a thing of the past. Senator Brown has introduced a bill providing for a new section, No. 30, to article 3, declaring that there shall be no direct tax levied except in time of insurrection or war. It takes three years to pass such an amendment.

The senate convened promptly at 11 o'clock yesterday.

Following the introduction of bills Senator Higgins asked that his bill to amend the charter of Olean be ordered to a third reading because of the fact that an election will soon be held in that village.

Senator Hill asked that the Buffalo grade crossing bill be ordered printed promptly so that fuller action may soon be taken, the commission desiring to complete the work before the Pan-American exposition. Senator Ellsworth not being present and there being a lull in the business, a recess of three minutes was taken.

Senator Brown received unanimous consent to introduce a bill amending the fish and game law, consolidating the two commissions, the forest preserve board and the fish and game commission. On motion of Senator Ellsworth the senate adjourned.

The only business transacted in the assembly was the first reading of bills, the session lasting about ten minutes.

NEW CONSUMPTION CURE.

Decomposed Light Treatment Said to Yield Good Results.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—A new cure for consumption, the patient undergoing a 15,000 candle power electric light bath daily, is being tried for the first time in America by Dr. George G. Hopkins of 296 Ryerson street, Brooklyn borough.

The results are marvelous, the doctor says. A patient who came to him six weeks ago in the last stages of consumption is now at work.

The cure is known as the "decomposed light" treatment. The principle was discovered by Dr. Finsen of Denmark. Dr. Hopkins visited him and learned of it.

Dr. Hopkins has a small room fitted up in his house. Into this the patient enters and disrobes.

A 15,000 candle power arc light is turned on, but only three of the rays—the violet, blue and light violet—are allowed to reach the patient.

Blue glass deflects the other rays.

No medicine is used.

Burnham to Succeed Chandler.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 11.—Judge Henry E. Burnham of Manchester was nominated in the Republican legislative caucus to succeed Senator William E. Chandler, whose term of service will expire March 3 next. The nomination was made on the first ballot, which was as follows: Whole number of votes, 320; necessary for a choice, 161; Henry W. Blair, 1; Henry B. Quinby, 22; Cyrus A. Sulloway, 23; Henry M. Baker, 29; William E. Chandler, 47; Henry E. Burnham, 198. Judge Henry E. Burnham was born in Dunbarton, N. H., Nov. 8, 1844; was graduated from Dartmouth in 1865, studied law, was admitted to the New Hampshire bar in 1868, was probate judge for Hillsboro county from 1876 to 1879 inclusive, a member of the house of representatives in 1873-4 and of the constitutional convention of 1889.

Paterson's Murder Trial.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 11.—Judge Dixon announces that the murder trials of McAlister, Kerr, Campbell and Death will be taken up on Monday. As it is expected that there will be a large number of spectators he directed the sheriff to provide a sufficient number of constables to preserve order; also that the sheriff take precautions to exclude from the courtroom all persons under age.

Tried to Kill His Family.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—Svante Anderson of Jamaica Plain attempted to annihilate his family of four. As a result Svante and his wife are dead, and his mother and 3-year-old boy are at the hospital for treatment of pistol wounds. It is supposed that Svante killed his wife and then attempted to kill his mother and boy, afterward killing himself.

Judge Went Insane.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—During the lawyers' convention at Strassburg, while Dr. Petri, undersecretary of state for justice, was delivering an address, Judge Werner, one of the delegates, suddenly became violently insane, interrupting the speaker with cries of "To hades with the law!"

Earthquakes in Germany.

PORTO RICO'S STATUS

Attorney General Griggs Before the Supreme Court.

A TERRITORY TO BE GOVERNED,

Belonging to but Not a Part of the United States—The Right to Govern Territories Inherent, Not Implied.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Before the supreme court Attorney General Griggs delivered his argument in the Porto Rican cases. He said that his remarks were intended to be supplemental to those submitted in the cases involving similar questions which have heretofore been argued. His remarks would apply especially to the construction of the clause of the constitution which requires duties, imposts and excises to be uniform throughout the United States. In the course of his address the attorney general said:

"Barring the stipulations of treaty and the construction of personal rights there is no difference between the status of Porto Rico and Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. Congress has the right to govern and tax and alienate any of its territory, and should this country be overcome by war it might be the wisest course and no one could criticise the right of the United States to withdraw its sovereignty from any of its territory.

"It must not be taken that every act may be repealed by another act; that every treaty may be repealed by another treaty. An act which grants vested rights cannot be repealed by the simple passage of another act. No one will contend that congress may pass an act admitting a state and then may repeal that law and cast out the state.

"How congress may deal with the territories is a political question under the constitution. Under such widely varying conditions as exist in this vast country congress must have discretion to create a government which will meet the varying conditions.

"There is a vital question here. If we cannot govern the people of new territories according to their customs then this country will not take any territory which is not capable of government except under the laws of the Union as it now exists.

"The right to govern territories is an inherent right, not an implied one. It is in the constitution. So is the power of congress to tax with the three limitations which are provided. Congress may even choose the articles which may be taxed. Porto Rico's tariff is of the local kind, for all revenues derived from imports are allowed to be taken by the people for the support of the government. Never before was there such liberality on the part of a government."

The attorney general argued that since the terms "throughout the United States" were used, both as providing for the election of presidential electors and for uniformity of taxation, the same interpretation should be given to the expression, thus showing that congress intended that there should be uniformity between the states alone.

While the attorney general was discussing the rights of congress to levy taxes Justice Brewer interrupted to ask if in the opinion of the attorney general it was in the spirit and letter of the constitution to have one tariff rate in the states and another in the territories. Mr. Griggs was emphatic in his belief that it was.

Highway Signs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—A meeting of representatives of automobile clubs of this city, Philadelphia and Baltimore and several New England clubs was held here to consider the matter of placing signposts upon the highways. A sum of money was raised, and as a beginning it is proposed to mark the route from New York to Boston, going by way of Bridgeport, New Haven, Springfield and Worcester, and from Boston to Providence, Providence to Newport. It is also proposed to place signs on the road from New Haven to Providence. Another route will be from New York to Philadelphia, which will probably be by way of Princeton and Trenton. Another route will be from New York to Albany, another from New York to the principal points on Long Island, and later on in the summer it is hoped to extend these signposts from Buffalo to Albany and from thence to Worcester, so that it will be possible to travel quickly and with certainty from Niagara Falls to Boston.

Shot by Her Brother.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Jan. 11.—At New Germantown, six miles from here, Alice, the 12-year-old daughter of George Carter, was accidentally shot and killed by her brother, Arthur Carter. The boy was handling a shotgun, when the weapon was accidentally discharged, the charge entering the sister's neck. Arthur surrendered himself to the authorities and was brought to jail here.

Grip at Albany.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Grip is epidemic in Albany, 300 cases having been reported this week. The disease is of a mild type and thus far has had but little influence on the death rate. Health Officer Joseph D. Craig claims the disease is not contagious, but, like typhoid, is infectious. Several of the legislators are afflicted with the influenza, and heroic remedies are being resorted to.

Prize Women Bowlers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—In the women's bowling tournament Mrs. L. C. Wachsmuth and Mrs. Stebbins, with a score of 811 points, won first prize in the two team contest, which was finished yesterday. Their nearest opponents were Miss Flora B. Thompson and Miss Jeschke, with 759 points. Miss A. Fudgraff and Mrs. A. Fuelgraaf got third place, with 728 points.

King Oscar to Resume.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Daily Telegraph publishes the following from its Copenhagen correspondent: "The king of Sweden is better and will resume the reins of government Jan. 19. Queen Sophie, who has been continuously ill, is now suffering from a serious inflammation of the shoulder, but Prince Eugene is much better."

CAPE TOWN IN FEAR.

Approach of Boer Invaders Causes Terror.

SEVERAL COMMANDOS NEAR CITY.

Fierce Night Attack on British Garrisons at Five Different Points. Burghers Repulsed With Heavy Losses.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—"Five thousand Boers, supposed to be trekking west from Vryburg," says the Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, "are now making their way into the heart of Cape Colony. The supposition is that they have captured several small garrisons on the way."

Lord Kitchener reports from Pretoria:

"The Boers on the night of the 7th made simultaneous and determined attacks on our posts at Belfast, Wonderfontein, Nooitgedacht, Wildfontein and Pan. A dense fog helped them in creeping close to our lines.

"There was a heavy fire till 3:40 a. m., when the Boers were driven off.

"The British loss was 1 officer killed and 3 wounded and 20 men killed and 59 wounded. The Boers lost heavily, 24 killed being counted."

Cape Town advices say that there is tremendous excitement there in the fear of an attack by Boers, several commandos of whom are reported in full advance within less than 100 miles.

The cyclist corps has been rushed out to ward off the attack and has arrived at Clanwilliam. The mounted infantry has occupied Pickaneerskloof without opposition. No Boers are in sight from either post.

The docks are being guarded by bluejackets and marines. Convalescent soldiers are taking their places in guarding the Boer prisoners on shipboard.

Already intrenchments have been thrown up across the Cape flats from False bay to Table bay. Drilling among the local volunteer bodies goes on steadily.

The Boers have just been repulsed in a desperate raid on the railroad east of Middleburg, attack being made at five points simultaneously. The British loss was 21 killed and 62 wounded, the Boers 24 killed and many wounded. The raid more nearly approached a battle than any affair since formal war ceased.

Hopes For British Defeat.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—Addressing a meeting of the United Irish League in this city, Mr. John Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, spoke most hopefully while appealing for funds of the prospect of the Irish cause. The Liberal party, he said, had gone to pieces because a large proportion of its members had been false to Ireland. The Conservative government was engaged in perilous enterprises in China, South Africa and elsewhere, and he added: "I hope to God that the government will be overwhelmed by military and financial disasters at Cape Town. Ireland has at last an independent and united parliamentary party, with a programme of practical reforms, including compulsory land purchase."

Roosevelt Off For Hunting Grounds.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Jan. 11.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt arrived in this city yesterday, accompanied by Philip B. Stewart and Dr. Gerald B. Webb. After a brief stop the party continued westward to the hunting grounds, where Governor Roosevelt will seek sport with mountain lions and bears. The party will leave the train at Rifle, Colo. They will ride to Meeker, Colo., where a guide awaits them with horses, hounds, guns, ammunition, provisions and cooking utensils. A crowd was assembled at the station to witness the departure of the hunters, and it made a noisy demonstration in honor of the vice president elect.

Economical Odell.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Governor Odell in his economy crusade has turned his attion to the state regents' department and the state library. Yesterday the governor, accompanied by J. R. Parsons, secretary of the board, inspected the library and made careful note of the clerical force employed there. The governor is of the opinion that the appropriation for library purposes is entirely too large. Secretary Parsons called the governor's attention to the fact that the expense of maintaining the New York state library was far below that of the library at Washington and of libraries in other states.

Commander Quackenbush Dead.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Commander John W. Quackenbush, U. S. N., retired, is dead at his residence in this city Commander Quackenbush was born in New York and was appointed to the navy Sept. 24, 1847. He served on the frigate Cumberland during the Mexican war and later saw service in the Pacific squadron. He was commissioned as lieutenant commander in July, 1862, and was actively employed during the entire period of the civil war. He was retired in 1869.

Roger Wolcott's Will.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The will of the late Roger Wolcott was admitted for probate by Judge McKim. An appraisal of the estate shows personal property valued at $1,500,000 and real estate valued at $130,000, making a total of $1,630,000. The executors are Francis C. Welsh, Roger Wolcott and Philip Dexter. Each of the executors has filed a bond of $2,000,000.

The Fight Not Declared Off.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 11.—The Jeffries-Ruhlin fight on Feb. 15 has not been declared off by the Sangerfest Athletic association of Cincinnati, notwithstanding reports to the contrary, but more formidable opposition than ever heretofore has developed against having the fight pulled off in Cincinnati.

Returns From Futile Search.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Charles Bellinger, who recently accompanied Wilson Wright to San Francisco to search for $190,000 worth of buried treasure on the advice of a clairvoyant, has returned to his home near this city. Wright did not find any treasure.

Ocean Liner Ashore.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Anchor line steamship Ethiopia, Captain McKenzie, which left Glasgow for New York via Moville, Ireland, is ashore on Holy island, in the firth of Clyde. She is in a bad position.

AN INSURANCE SWINDLE.

Alleged Conspiracy Charged by Colonial Company.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Believing that they were the victims of "graveyard" insurance swindles, officers of the Colonial Life Insurance Company of America, located in Jersey City, caused the arrest of Thomas Martin, editor of a Union Hill (N. J.) newspaper; William Necker, an undertaker in Union Hill, and Thomas J. Kelly, a pugilist, whose right name is said to be Thomas Waldron, who until recently was an agent for the company. Dr. Richard Jahr, a West Hoboken physician and formerly the medical examiner in Union Hill for the company, went to police headquarters, but after making a statement was not placed under arrest. Secretary and Manager Ernest Heppenheimer of the insurance company said he did not think Dr. Jahr had been guilty of a criminal intent, but had been careless in signing papers presented by Kelly. Martin, Kelly and Necker were each released on $1,000 bail. An indictment had been found against the four men on the charge that they had conspired to secure a life insurance on Robert Brenner, a boy of 17, who was the brother of Martin's wife. The insurance was secured in August last when Brenner was an inmate of Bellevue hospital. Martin was the beneficiary. Brenner's application had been secured by Kelly as agent, he had been examined and passed by Dr. Jahr, and his body had been buried by Necker, the undertaker. It was charged that Brenner was dying with consumption when the policy was granted.

Secretary and Manager Heppenheimer said that Kelly while an agent of the company had taken very bad risks on which the company had paid money to Necker and Martin as beneficiaries. Dr Jahr was the examining physician of the company who certified to the good health of the persons Kelly insured.

Mr. Heppenheimer said that three cases had been found in which Kelly and the others had defrauded the company. It was believed there were other cases.

NEW IRON AND STEEL COMPANY

American and English Capital Unite In Strong Combination.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The negotiations toward the formation of another American iron and steel combination which have been carried on recently in London have reached a point where their culmination has been practically assured.

The companies intending to amalgamate are the Canadian Steel company, the Lake Superior Power company, the American Sheet Steel company, the Otis Steel company, the Pittsburg Steel company and the Wellman-Seaver company of Cleveland. Combined with these if the deal is completed will be several English firms who will take part in the enterprise financially and commercially.

It is the intention of the projectors to erect plants at various places, with the Welland canal as an outlet. The object is to minimize expenses and, acting with the English co-operators, to secure markets here and elsewhere.

The project may be termed an English-American-Canadian combination to take advantage of existing opportunities. It is freely discussed in the English press. The reason for holding the meeting in London was that English capital and trade are desired. The capitalization has not yet been decided upon.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE.

Cuban Constitution to Declare In Its Favor.

HAVANA, Jan. 11.—The Cuban constitutional convention in secret session decided by a practically unanimous vote to insert in the draft constitution a clause providing for universal suffrage in the future republic. Only one vote, it is understood, was cast against the proposal. Several Conservative members who are known to be opposed to it were absent, but the advocates of universal suffrage claim a clear majority and say there will be no opposition when the question comes to a vote in public sessions.

Heretofore this subject has been delicately handled, and it was thought the convention would leave the settlement of the matter to future legislation.

The friends of General Maximo Gomez, who assert that he is the popular candidate for the presidency, are elated over the prospect of an unrestricted vote.

The convention has made several modifications in the original draft submitted by the central committee. Many members say that the public sessions will begin next week and that a constitution will be accepted and presented to congress immediately.

Many Horses Burned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Many horses perished in a fire that destroyed the car stables of the Metropolitan line in Fifty-third street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues. The blaze started in the hay storage room and spread rapidly.

Many Ill In Elmira.

ELMIRA, Jan. 11.—Fifteen hundred persons are ill of the grip, 100 of pneumonia and 50 of typhoid fever. There have been six deaths from typhoid within the past ten days.

STILL IN PERIL.

Efforts to Rescue Stranded Steamer's Passengers Unavailing.

MARSEILLES, Jan. 11.—A message from Faraman says that in spite of the heavy sea still running a lifeboat succeeded in reaching the French steamer Russie yesterday and attached a line to her by which food can be furnished to the passengers and crew, who have all been cooped up in the forecastle of the stranded vessel since Monday evening and are famishing.

It is hoped that the rescue of the endangered persons is possible, now that communication with the Russie is established.

Dawn found the situation of the steamer unchanged. The wind blew with terrific violence all night long, but the rain had ceased. On the bridge and forecastle of the steamer some of the crew and passengers could be plainly seen. The first signal in the morning said:

"Hasten or we die of hunger."

A few minutes later the following message was signaled:

"We are constructing a raft, which we will try to launch with a sail."

The attachment of the line was due to the heroic efforts of 20 fishermen who attempted what appeared to be a foolhardy task. Their flat bottomed craft was tossed about like a straw on the waves. The spectators watched it with bated breath. Several times they thought the small craft was lost, but it finally got into a current which carried the boat to the starboard side of the Russie's bow. A line was then thrown on board the wreck.

The captain of the Russie, standing on the bridge, shouted:

"We have not lost heart and have confidence in you, but be quick."

A moment later, amid great excitement among the spectators ashore, the line was seen to part. But the fishermen made another effort and again got the line on board the stranded vessel. Then they returned to the beach, where hundreds of willing hands pulled their boat high and dry, while a thrilling scene of enthusiasm ensued. The fishermen were carried in the arms of the people out of reach of the waves.

Later the line again parted, causing much anxiety, as the sea was becoming rougher. Then the same fishermen made another attempt to reach the Russie in their flat bottomed boat. On the first attempt they were capsized into the surf, and the men were thrown back on the strand. They made a fresh effort, with a few newcomers aiding, and the same boat's crew again succeeded in getting a line on board the Russie. This time its security was enhanced by the line being attached to several rafts between the wreck and the shore.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Slow Progress on Army Reorganization In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Considerable progress was made yesterday by the senate with the army reorganization bill, but the final vote upon the measure seems to be as far off as ever. The proceedings were characterized by several sharp colloquies, some of which were of a decidedly personal character.

An appeal was presented by Mr. Teller of Colorado from more than 2,000 persons in Manila urging the United States government to cease its operations against the Filipinos. The appeal is sensational in its statements and so unusual in form that Mr. Hawley of Connecticut made a vigorous objection to its publication as a document. He declared that it was a treasonable denunciation of the government and an attack upon our soldiers.

Consideration was concluded of the committee amendments to the army reorganization bill, and the senate took up the amendments proposed by individual senators. The amendments providing for the appointment of Generals James H. Wilson, Fitz-Hugh Lee and Shafter to be major generals of the regular army and retired precipitated an extended and on the part of Mr. Pettigrew a bitter debate. The amendments prevailed, however, despite the opposition.

The general debate on the river and harbor bill continued in the house until 4 o'clock, when the death of Representative Clarke of New Hampshire was announced, and the house adjourned out of respect to his memory.

The features of the debate yesterday were the speeches of Mr. Cushman of Washington and Mr. Hepburn of Iowa. The latter has been a persistent opponent of river and harbor bills for years, and he attacked the bill all along the line in his usually vigorous fashion. Mr. Cushman's speech was unique in many particulars. He was in favor of river and harbor appropriations, and his complaint was due to the fact that the members of the committee, according to his ideas, had located the bulk of the appropriations in their own states and had given scant consideration to the needs of other states, especially to the Seattle ship canal in his own state.

Morgan Still Buying.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—J. Pierpont Morgan has secured a large block of the International Navigation company's stock, and it is said that he is planning to secure control of the company. While the amount of stock secured by him is not known, it is understood to be several million dollars. The control of the International line is in connection with the recent gigantic railroad deal with J. J. Hill and John D. Rockefeller. This will give the syndicate a line from England to China and enable them to cut freight rates.

Bringing Our Exhibit Home.

HAVRE, Jan. 11.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Prairie, bearing the American exhibit at the Paris exposition, left Havre yesterday, exchanging salutes with the batteries as she departed. She will touch at New York, leaving the fine arts exhibition there, and will then proceed to Baltimore, where she will unload the rest of her cargo.

Large Order For Locomotives.

RICHMOND, Jan. 11.—The Richmond Locomotive and Machine works has received an order from the Wabash railroad for 50 locomotives, the contract price of which will aggregate about $650,000. The works are now and have been for some time running day and night to fill their orders.

Better Pay For Judges.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Senator Hoar gave notice of an amendment he will offer to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill increasing the salary of the chief justice of the United States supreme court to $15,500 and that of the associate justices to $15,000 each.

JOINT NOTE SIGNED.

Preliminary Stage of Negotiations Concluded.

NOW COMES THE TUG OF WAR.

Antagonistic Interests of the Several Powers Will Make Settlement a Difficult Problem—United States' Proposal Is Not Favored.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—As a result of inquiries in authoritative quarters the following statement in regard to the Chinese situation is given out:

"The Chinese plenipotentiaries signed the joint note Wednesday, thus concluding the preliminary stage of the negotiations."

It is added that this important step is insignificant compared with the difficulties to be met with between the powers themselves, whose clashing interests will have full play in the coming discussions. The United States' proposal to shift the seat of the negotiations finds no favor in the European chancelleries.

The feeling here favors Shanghai if any change is made, as it is pointed out that Shanghai is the most important trade center in China and, moreover, that the southern viceroys, who are favorable to foreigners and anxious to further trade, could make their influence felt. Failing Shanghai, Berlin or Paris is more likely to be chosen. The enormous British interests are in favor of the choice of London, but it is improbable that the other powers will agree to this.

There is no reason to suppose that Russia will withdraw from the joint negotiations. The treaty she has concluded with China concerns her special interests in regions contiguous to her territories, but she has great political interests to defend and further in the joint conference, which will bristle with obstacles to a speedy settlement. Russia aims chiefly at a wide expansion of her political influence. Great Britain wants to, roughly, open the Chinese empire to her commerce and at the same time strengthen her political foothold. The United States' efforts, apparently, will be devoted to securing commercial advantages, while France and Germany will desire to increase their trade generally and their political influence in certain provinces.

The struggle between these conflicting designs will be bitter and in any case will greatly protract the negotiations.

One thing which Great Britain and the United States wish secured is the raising of the prohibition which now exists in China against foreigners acquiring landed interests.

American Proposal Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The proposition submitted by the president to transfer the negotiation of the questions of indemnity and revision of commercial treaties to some other place than Peking was designed to facilitate the conclusion of the Chinese negotiations as a whole by separating those still requiring considerable deliberation from those already determined. As some of the powers do not look with favor upon this separation and others hesitate to decide the question the president has deemed it advisable to withdraw the proposition and has directed the diplomatic representatives of the United States so to inform the governments to which the proposition was addressed. At the same time, desiring above all else to avoid delay in the progress of the negotiations, the president has directed Mr. Conger to urge forward their completion at Peking. The other governments also have been urgently requested to avoid all unnecessary delay in completing the settlement of the Chinese question.

Some Conditions Impossible.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 11.—A dispatch from Sian-fu, where the Chinese court is located, to a native newspaper says:

"Some of the clauses of the conditions for peace are impossible of acceptance, consequently the emperor and empress and the much troubled court have telegraphed to Liu Kun Yi, the viceroy of Nankin, and Chang Chih Tung, the viceroy of Hankow, to proceed to Peking immediately and confer with the foreign ministers and Chinese commissioners in an attempt to secure a modification of the obstructive conditions. They have been instructed if they are unable to proceed to Peking to propose a suitable meeting place for the ministers elsewhere."

Liu Kun Yi, viceroy of Nankin, has memorialized Emperor Kwang Su to abolish the distinction between Mantchoos and Chinese.

Sen Wen Pao, heir apparent, was given 40 bamboo strokes for not paying due respect to the emperor. The empress dowager acquiesced in the punishment.

Dinner to Harmsworth.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—A dinner in honor of Alfred Harmsworth, the London journalist, was given at the Union League club last night by Frank Munsey. There were about 25 guests present, among them being Senator Beveridge of Indiana, ex-Governor Black, President Perkins of the Bank of North America, Vice President Perkins of the New York Life Insurance company, President Hadley of Yale, Augustus Thomas, John A. Sleicher, Charles R. Flint and E. Mallory. Short addresses were made by Mr. Harmsworth, Senator Beveridge, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Sleicher and President Hadley.

A Southern Forest Reservation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Senator Pritchard has introduced a bill authorizing the establishment of a forest reservation of 2,000,000 acres in the southern Appalachian mountains in the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. The bill provides an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the purchase of the land.

Brought Back to Canton.

CANTON, O., Jan. 11.—The body of Lieutenant James S. Barber, nephew of the president, reached Canton yesterday, accompanied by the young widow, who made the trip from Hongkong. The funeral services and interment were held this morning. President and Mrs. McKinley sent a beautiful floral tribute from the White House conservatories.

Mrs. Mackay Saves French Church.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Mackay has paid 20,000 francs, arrears of taxes since 1898, to save from sale by the government the Church of St. Joseph, on the Avenue Hoche, the Passionist Fathers and chaplains having appealed to American and British Catholics for assistance.

Mr. Codding Defeated.

Despite the attempts of the leading Republicans of the county to give out the impression that the fight for the chairmanship of the Union County Republican Executive Committee last evening was not the result of factional differences, such is and undoubtedly will be the opinion of the general public. It has long been known that there were two factions arrayed against each other in the ranks of the Republicans of Union county. Nearly every county convention shows evidences of that fact. Sometimes the struggle has been so bitter that it has been continued right on the floor of the convention and again the workers in the interests of harmony have managed to temporarily settle the troubles and secure harmonious action in public.

That there was a fight over the postmastership of Elizabeth everybody knows. The faction of which Senator Kean is currently looked upon as the leader, won in that meeting. Last evening's battle showed a similar result.

Of course, Senator Kean was not on the scene last evening, but two of his most prominent lieutenants were and they were conspicuously active in the contest to secure the votes of the members of the county committee. As a result, Charles N. Codding, who has been chairman of the county committee for many years, has stepped out of office and Hamilton Fish Kean, a brother of the Senator, has been raised to the head of the committee. While the fight for the chairmanship is ended, that does not mean that the two factions have settled their differences.

At the meeting of the Republican county committee last evening, City Judge Runyon, of this city, was again honored by being elected to the office of vice-chairman of the committee. Although City Judge Runyon is a young man, he has become wonderfully popular with the Republicans throughout the county and the day may not be far distant when they will select him to fill some office of importance in the community. Mr. Runyon has made a good City Judge, one of the hardest of municipal offices to fill, and is fast advancing to a prominent position among the legal men of Union county.

The Repppblican politicians from all over the State are figuring on the probable method of redistricting the State to provide for the two new Congressmen, which are allowed under the terms of the Burleigh bill, now before Congress. It was generally supposed that New Jersey would get but one extra Congressman, and everybody was figuring how the State might be redistricted to give the extra Congressional district. Now that there is to be two additional Congressmen, there is some talk of electing one of them at large and having nine districts.

There have been standing advertisements that have proved to be profitable as a means of publicity, says the Philadelphia Record, but there is no doubt that frequent changes in the style and matter of an advertisement will also increase its pulling power. There is no business in the world about which something new and interesting cannot be said every day of the year.

A petition urging the adoption of an amendment to the Federal Constitution prohibiting bigamy was prepared at several of the local churches some time ago. Yesterday U. S. Senator Kean presented the petition to the Senate, and it was referred to the committee on judiciary with countless others of the same nature.

If there is to be a line of auto-omnibusses running through the city streets, it will be well to provide street signs first so that strangers riding on the busses can tell where they are.

Elizabeth was decidedly the centre of interest last evening for the Republican politicians from all over the State.

Rutgers College will receive $25 000 from the Government next year for being the State Agricultural College.

The first bill introduced at the present session of the Legislature would make a goodly sized hole in the treasury surplus. The bill, for which Senator Hutchinson, of Mercer, stands sponsor, increases the State appropriation for road improvement from $150,000 to $300,000, and also provides that the State shall bear two-thirds the cost of construction of stone roads, instead of one third, as at present. Even admitting the advisability of increasing the appropriation, the wisdom and fairness of doubling the percentage of cost to be paid by the State is from some points of view questionable. It would enable those counties which have stubbornly refused to tax themselves for road improvement under the present law, to secure the same benefits as the more liberal and progressive counties, and at only one-half the cost. If the bill is to be passed, its advantages should be limited to those counties which have already taxed themselves heavily for good roads constuction. It is unfair to put a premium on fogyism, lack of enterprise and conservatism that is bred of sordid selfishness.—Newark News.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

The substantial sidewalk that has been constructed by the railroad officials and which leads from Park avenue to the new railway station is being used extensively already. Every morning many of the commuters avail themselves of the convenience this walk has made possible in reaching the trains. There is a gradual ascent that is pleasant to pedestrians. Speaking of the new station, reminds the writer that perhaps no other railway station in the State is so easy of access as the one at North avenue. It is approachable from either Park, North and Watchung avenues or Fourth street. In fact one can reach it from almost any desired point.

Since the dawn of the new century and the consequent "turning over of a new leaf," many young men have sworn off smoking and imbibing too much in that which cheers as well as intoxicates. The large number of young men in this city who have resolved to "touch not, neither taste," has been the means of greatly reducing the number who frequent Plainfield saloons. One saloon keeper's trade has fallen off so perceptibly that he was recently heard to remark that "if some of those guys that swore off on New Year's didn't break their pledge I'll have to get out of business." It is to be hoped that the young men who made the good resolutions not to drink during the year just begun will have the stamina to stick, even if it succeeds in compelling certain saloon keepers to give up their business.

Opening Spring Wash Goods.

Dainty, Cool, Stylish, The Latest, Bewitching.

Fast Colors, Durable, Reliable, Exclusive, Immense Variety

SATURDAY, JANUARY 12th, 8 A. M.

All Fashion Authorities agree that the coming season will be memorable as a "Wash Goods Season." Anticipating an unusually heavy demand for these goods we have exercized the greatest care in making our selections. Carefully choosing from the numerous lines offered us, only the choicest styles, and rejecting such as did not measure up to the high standard we insist upon. We have succeeded in bringing together an assortment of Wash Fabrics which for variety, reliability and general attractiveness far suspasses the showing of all former years, and which, when carefully inspected, will deeply interest the refined tastes of the cultivated shopping public.

"A. F. C." CORDED NOVELTIES, 27 in wide, in fine styles permanent colors, strong and serviceable.

"RED SEAL ZEPHYRS," 27 in wide, equally pretty and durable.

"CALEDONIAN ZEPHYRS," 32-in wide, quite sheer with lace effect, lightly shot through with constrasting color, exceedingly pretty and entirely original.

"ROYAL FABRIC," slightly heavier, 32 in wide in corded and Jacquard effects, especially to be commended for hard service.

"EGYPTIAN TISSUES," 32 in wide quite sheer, as name suggests, but woven in corded effects in such way as to add strength to daintiness. There are 38 perfect styles and we predict a large sale

"SILK ZEPHYR," 27-inch wide. A mercerized fabric in wash silk effects, and one of striking beauty.

"SILCOTE," 27 in wide, also a mercerized fabric closely resembling silk which it exceeds in beauty and wearing quality and illustrates in remarkable degree the wonderful skill acquired in cotton weaving.

"CISMAROSA DIMITY." A wonderfully dainty fabric in the most equisite colors, and marvelous designs, each pattern a dream of beauty.

This is a brief sketch outlining the character of our showing. We have not overdrawn the picture. Cold Type cannot do the subject justice. You are cordially invited to attend our "Opening" and if you can't attend—write for samples.

A WHITE GOODS SHOWING. At the same we shall display our advance styles in new white goods. Everybody will be interested in white goods for they will be generally worn. Lace stripe lawn, satin stripe lawns, corded lawns, plisse stripes, plain lawns, piques, nainsooks, Persian lawns, swisses, organdies, etc. New, exclusive and fair priced.

NEW HAMBURG AND LACES.

The new goods are here and on exhibition and a fine exhibit they make. The rigid rule of "only the newest—only the best" is applied to the selection of these goods and the display commen is the application of the rule. All overs in cambric, nainsook, lace s ripes, all over lace tucked suisses, hemstitch effects and all the new conceits. Cambric, nainsook and suisse edges in variety. Dainty edges selected for turn over collars. Point de Venise edgings, insertings and all overs to match. Net top orientals in white, butter and feclile. Point de Paris laces with insertings to match. Italians, valenciennes, platt, vals, torchons, reminaissance, braids, threads, buttons, patterns.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, January 11.—Contractor Henry Garrettson has served notice upon the Mayor and members of the Borough Council that unless his bill for the macadamizing of Madison avenue is paid within fifteen days he will bring suit against the borough. A special meeting of the Council has been called for Monday evening, when the matter will be acted upon.

The prayer meeting at the Methodist church last evening was led by Rev. S. K. Doolittle who will probably lead for the remainder of the week owing to the illness of Rev. N. J. Sproull. The latter is now somewhat improved.

The item in yesterday's Press in regard to the running of stages to New Market should have stated they would run from 1 until 11 o'clock.

The Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club will hold a practice meeting at the residence of Charles Coriell, Jr., Monday evening.

Miss Mabel Palmer, of Bloomfield, and Miss Edna Smalley, of Orange, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Kinsey, of Staten Island, are spending a few days with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. George Trimmer have gone to Roselle, where they will reside in the future.

John Barick has returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives at Chester.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kuhns have been entertaining relatives from out of town.

Herman Pultzer, of Elizabeth, was the guest of Bernard Sirisky yesterday.

Mrs. A. B. Ayers is entertaining Miss Hattie Crawford, of Honedale.

Mrs. W. H. Terry has returned from a visit with Westfield relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, January 11.—The annual inspection of the township poor farm was made by the Township Committee yesterday. Everything was found to be in excellent condition and Superintendent Harry Hummer was highly complimented.

Drs. Murray and Zeglio, of Plainfield, held a consultation yesterday in regard to the condition of Mrs. Bertha Moody who is seriously ill. The result was not made known.

Mrs. David Blackford is making preparations to leave in a short time for Honduras, where Mr. Blackford has been for sometime erecting machinery in a mine.

George Jenner has gone to Rutherford, where he expects to remain for three months.

W. B. Smith has resigned his position in New York and resumed his bakery route.

Mrs. Hannah Nelson has returned from a visit with Newark relatives.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, January 11.—The subject of the prayer meeting to be held in the parlors of the Baptist church this evening will be "Triumphal Entrance." The meetings during the week have been fairly well supported and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the last of the meetings tonight.

Rev. J. S. Braker, who has been spending a week as the guest of the Misses Hayes, of Fanwood, left yesterday for his home in Waltham, Mass. Mrs. Braker will remain for several weeks, part of which will be spent with friends in Philadelphia.

The storm of Thursday has put an end to the cutting of ice for the present. Nearly all the houses have been filled during the past two weeks, so there will be no scarcity of ice during the coming summer.

Miss Mamie Miller has resigned her position with the Union News Company. The stand at the depot and the Sunday paper route are being taken care of by Amzi Hatfield, Jr., of Fanwood.

Miss Madeline Robinson, who has been spending a pleasant visit of several days with Miss Mary Wescott, of Fanwood, has returned to her home in Brooklyn.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M. held an interesting meeting in their rooms in Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company building last evening.

Stites M. Parse, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the village, is confined to the house with a severe attack of the grip.

The production of "Jack and the Bean Stalk" at Music Hall last evening was attended by a number from the village.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, Jan. 11.—As a result of the visit of Rev. Thomas Houston and of the special meetings which have been recently held, seventeen members have been received into the church. Fourteen were baptized on the last Sunday of the old century and three the first Sunday of the new. A number of others are expected to join soon. The Baptist church here is one of the oldest in the state having been organized nearly a hundred and ten years and celebrated its centennial anniversary in the early part of the year 1892.

Many of the residents of this place are anticipating the coming of the electric light wires and the consequent lighting of the streets and some of the residences and public buildings. Several have already expressed themselves as favorable to lighting up with electricity if it can be done reasonably. The new plant in Metuchen will furnish the power.

One of Hand's moving vans, loaded with stage furniture, for the Plainfield show held last night, became stuck in the mud and cobble stones near the mill dam. After considerable unloading and loading the team managed to pull the wagon out.

Tonight will be held the last meeting of the evangelistic series in the Baptist church. The topic will be "Christian character such as will be pleasant at home, honest in business, and welcome in the church."

Complaints are being made about the condition of the street on which the school house faces. Tin cans, boards and ashes are among the things found there.

The opening exercises for the new school will be held Monday afternoon, January 21, and not, as has been stated, in the evening.

PERSONAL.

Miss Annie Loyd, of Mercer avenue, is stopping for a time at Asbury Park.

Fred Bach, of the borough, is a sufferer with the grip and is detained at his home.

Mrs. A. K. Mattis, of Madison avenue, is quite ill at her home with pneumonia.

Miss May Duffy, of this city, who has been visiting friends at Raritan, has returned home.

Mrs. Vosseller, of North Branch, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. D. Holmes, of this city.

Miss Laura J. Runyon, of Madison avenue, who has been detained at her home by illness, has about recovered.

Miss Nettie Young, of Central avenue, who has been detained at her home with the grip, is able to be out again.

Miss Nellie Hahn, of this city, who has been visiting her cousin, Miss Mollie Pratzner, of Raritan, has returned home.

Mrs. William J. Ford, of East Fourth street, who has been kept at home for some time past with a severe illness, is able to be out again.

TOLD OF HOLY LAND.

Mrs. Allah, of Jerusalem, Addressed Meeting at Trinity Reformed Church Last Night.

Despite the very disagreeable weather last evening there was a good attendance at the prayer meeting in Trinity Reformed church and Mrs. M. Hhair Allah, of Jerusalem, was present and gave a very interesting talk concerning her life and work among her own people at both Jerusalem and Damascus. Mrs Allah is a very consecrated woman and expects soon to return to her native land and finish the erection of a building now in course of construction to be used as a home for women, where they can be treated for ills of the flesh and at the same time be instructed in the word of God and learn of the love of their unknown Saviour.

Eight Day Clearing Sale : : : : : :

UNRIVALED MARK-DOWN CLEARING-UP SALE.

Opens Saturday Morning, Jan. 12th, and Closes Saturday Evening, Jan. 19th.

.... To Run For Eight Days ....

AS AN EXPLANATION for this wonderful merchandising effort—this slashing of prices to low notch for eight days, making it more than a "seven days' wonder"—we have to say that stock taking time is near at hand. Preparatory to the annual inventory we want to clean up all of our Winter goods—heavy garments and fabrics that are desirable for the buyer but which it is not to our advantage to carry over to another season. And, of course, this means that if we clear our shelves and counters of them, the time to do it is now—ridding ourselves of the work of inventoring them. We intend to make this sale a marker for Plainfield. In nearly every department there has been a mark-down all along the line, as, for instance, some articles that we have cut in price are staple and standard in all that the words mean—in demand every day in the year. But we are bound to make it attractive for the trading public and advantageous to ourselves. Remember, the sale is inaugurated Saturday morning, January 12th, and will continue all through the following week and close Saturday evening, January 19th—eight days. It will be a sale in which there will be several attractions for many, and something for all.

BLACK DRESS GOODS.

We have a large assortment of patterns in this department that the prices have been marked way down on. To describe them all is unpracticable, but here are enough to give you a fair idea of what we offer:

Yard wide black sicilian, regular 25c goods ..... 19c
Yard wide cashmeres ..... 19c
45 in all wool Henrietta cloth, sold heretofore for 55c ..... 33c
45-in all wool Henrietta cloth, fine quality ..... 59c
A special number in black mohair .. 50c
A 45 in black mohair, worth fully 89c ..... 63c
Black Pebble cheviot that has sold for 75c, now ..... 59c
A special number of black Pebble cheviot, 54 inches wide, that was $1 25, selling for this sale $1.00
Black Zeline, heretofore selling for $1 25, now ..... $1 00

Colored Dress Goods.

A line of Henriettes that have been selling for 25c, now ..... 19c
A line of striped satin Berber, formerly sold for 39c, now .... 25c
A line of 52 inch all wool suitings, formerly sold for 59c. For this special sale ..... 50c
Gilbert cloth sackings, 54 inches wide, very desirable at 75c but for closing out at ..... 59c
A big lot of plaid dress goods of various kinds, bargains every one of them, sold heretofore for 50c, now ..... 29c

French Flannels.

In no department of our big store will the mark down prices prevail to a greater extent than in our stock of French flannels.

An assortment of plain colors and plaids, per yard ..... 50c

Silks.

500 yards of fancy stripes, spots and figures in taffeta silk, cut just half in price as a special inducement, that have been selling for $100, now .... 50c

650 yards corded taffeta silk, another big cut, formerly sold for 95c, now ..... 69c

Silk faced velvets—just a little lot to dispose of, but still enough to satisfy various tastes—that have been selling for 69c, now .. 39c

Laces.

At our lace counter are found some very dainty creations, three kinds of which we offer at big reductions in prices.

The first is black all silk Gimpuer laces, which have always sold at prices ranging from 35c to 75c. We make them for this sale at the uniform price, per yard, of ..... 15c
Remnants of narrow laces and embroideries, some very pretty designs, but ridiculously cheap at, per yd ..... 2c
Machine made torchon laces, good assortment, for, per yd ..... 2c

Handkerchiefs.

One of the unfortunate results of the holiday season for us is a stock of 200 dozen Swiss embroidered handkerchiefs, which we slightly mussed in window decorations. Absolutely perfect in other respects, and once in the laundry will correct the only defect. For this sale we have marked them down to, a piece ..... 10c

Another desirable assortment of handkerchiefs is a lot of manufacturers' samples of pure linen, prettily embroidered, worth from 39c to 50c, a piece, marked down to ..... 25c

Ribbons.

A line of fancy ribbons, selling heretofore for 35c to 40c a yard, cut for this sale to ..... 15c

Colored all silk Moire taffeta ribbon that has been selling for 15c and 18c a yard, now ..... 10c

HOSIERY.

Our hosiery stock is the largest of its kind in the city, and we pride ourselves on the fact that we can't be beaten in assortment or prices. For instance:

Fifty dozen women's full regular made cashmere hose slight seconds of the regular 50c brand, for this sale, 25c

Sixty dozen women's full regular made fast black cotton hose, regular 25c goods, but occasionally a drop stitch or some other slight imperfection in one of them, for ..... 17c

Women's seamless all wool cashmere hose ..... 17c

Three broken lines of cashmere wool children's hosiery, some ribbed and some plain. Formerly sold for 40c and 50c, now ..... 25c

Winter Jackets & Cloaks

The winter has been a mild one, but the prophets predict that we will see several weeks of extremely cold weather yet. For the buyer who desires to take advantage of this condition of affairs we offer some splendid inducements in women's winter garments. Here are some of them:

Sixty of one lot of all wool Melton Jackets black and other colors. These garments are substantially made in the prevailing shapes—styles that will be popular for several seasons, lined with mercerized sateen, a quality that have been costing $7.50, our price for this sale ..... $4 98

We have sold many Automobile Jackets this winter, but still have a few that must go at greatly reduced prices, as follows:

$19.98 reduced from $27 50
14.50 reduced from 22 00
13.98 reduced from 20 00
11.98 reduced from 18 50
8.98 reduced from 14 00

A desirable selection of Misses' and Children's Auto Jackets and Reefers are on sale at mark down prices. Also a selection of Walking Coats that have been reduced one-third in price. These garments, in many instances, are being sold by us for less than the manufacturers' price.

A case of light colored outing flannels, choice patterns, worth 7c, for this sale ..... 4½c
Plain colored outing flannels, sold in the past for 12½c, now ..... 7½c
Light colored dress ginghams, heretofore selling for 10c and 12c, for this sale cut to uniform price of ..... 8c
Yard wide percale, dark colors, sold before for 12½c, now ..... 8c

DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT.

Yard upon yard, roll upon roll of snowy white fabrics that are put upon the counter of sacrifice—quality the best all the way through. Here is the department in which our clearing sale finds great attractions for the careful housekeeper, for instance:

We recently bought 2,000 yards of heavy unbleached sheeting, 100 yards in a piece, that goes on sale, per yard for ..... 6½c

Now, to talk about such brands of muslin as Fruit of the Loom, Lonsdale and Hill would be a waste of words with women customers, but the point that we want to impress upon them is that even such standard brands as these come in the great slashing of prices, too. Any one of these three brands, for this sale, per yard ..... 7c

Good yard-wide bleached cambric that has been slightly soiled, worth easily 12½c, now ..... 7½c

Ready made sheets that are torn before hemmed, size 81x90, worth 50c, for ..... 39c

Utica Mills bleached sheets at these prices:

72 x 90 ..... 55c
81 x 90 ..... 60c
90 x 90 ..... 65c

Good hemstitched sheets as follows:

82 x 90 ..... 58c
81 x 90 ..... 58c
90 x 90 ..... 60c

Hemstitched pillow cases as follows:

42 x 36 ..... 13c
45 x 36 ..... 14c
50 x 36 ..... 16c
54 x 36 ..... 17c

Good hemmed pillow cases as follows:

42 x 36 ..... 9c
45 x 36 ..... 10c

Special good toweling, 19 inches wide, has been selling at 8c a yard, now reduced, per yard, to .... 5c

Five patterns of heavy unbleached Damask easily worth, per yard, 69c now ..... 45c

All linen stair crash—house cleaning time is coming and you will need it then, if not now—that has been selling for 15c per yard. Cut more than half, for now it is ..... 7c

Heavy unbleached Canton flannel worth 9c, now ..... 5½c

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Catering to purchasers of Gents' Furnishing Goods we make a special feature of our business, and to let this special sale pass without presenting a few special offers in this line would make our efforts incomplete. Our stock is made up entirely of stylish, substantial and moderately priced articles that has made this department popular with the large class of patrons who always find satisfaction here. A few of the best bargains we offer here are as follows:

A particularly good lot of men's cashmere wool hose, fast black, that are worth 39c. For this sale ..... 25c

A line of fancy half hose that contain extremely neat stripes, figures and plaids for ..... 25c

I am an oil well operator, and, in consequence, am exposed to all kinds of weather and subject to irregular hours of work, which has told on my health in many ways. I have had many forms of trouble, caused by dyspepsia, loss of appetite, kidney and liver trouble, and would take cold at the least exposure. In fact, my health was completely run down. I tried various remedies without avail, and, having noticed the persistent advertising of Ripans Tabules in the magazines, I decided to give them a trial, and in less than a week noted good results, and now, at the end of six months' rather steady use, am fully restored to health, and never felt better in my life, all of which is due to R·I·P·A·N·S. I can not speak too highly of them, and am glad to recommend them to any one whose condition of health is similar to mine some months since. I might add that during my stay in Pa. I was more or less troubled with rheumatism, and as that has left me entirely I feel it is owe it to R·I·P·A·N·S, as my blood is now in a healthier condition. My age is thirty-eight years.

A dentist's office expenses are the same whether he serves few or many patients. If he serves few he wastes time and must charge higher prices to make good the waste. If he serves many he can divide a fair profit above expenses into much lower prices for all. ## BODICES.

They Are Trimmed With Ingenuity and Elaboration.

Oriental embroideries in colored silks and metal threads on coarse linen are being utilized in some of the elaborate winter bodices. The natural color of the linen ground ranges from dull white through cream to ecru and even beige. These embroideries come in squares, in towel shapes and in strips and were originally employed for cushions and for other household decorations. Now, however, they appear as vests, revers, cuffs, collars and similar accessories on individual bodices of silk, satin and crepe de chine.

Fashion's ingenuity is expended on various subtleties of ornamentation this season. Ribbon velvet run through a series of buttonholes is the trimming of one novel bolero. Another is bordered with applications of flowers and lozenges, and the edge of the garment is cut to follow the eccentricities of the applications.

Boleros of tucked silk continue to be worn. They frequently form a complete costume in conjunction with a cloth skirt of the same color and a wide corselet of the same kind of taffeta worn over a chemisette of mousseline de soie.

Today's illustration shows a novel dinner bodice. It is of silk, with a closely fitting back and corselet front and a narrow draped belt. Across the upper part of the front is a sort of bolero of guipure, divided horizontally, with the two divisions gathered separately into jeweled buckles in such a way as to leave an open space between them. The bolero is bordered with silk fringe at the lower edge, and the top has a narrow ruche of mousseline de soie, with choux at the shoulders. The half length sleeves of guipure are finished with a silk drapery edged with fringe. JUDIC CHOLLET.

NEW MATERIALS.

Cloth of Various Kinds Still In the Ascendant.

It is impossible to write about present and coming fashions without referring repeatedly to cloth which in its innumerable varieties stands at the head of accepted fabrics. Two new sorts are shown. One has a satiny surface upon which are tiny, almost imperceptible, white points. The other has a canvaslike grain with regularly placed white dots, very small. These belong to the class of tailor goods and are used for practical gowns of the serviceable order.

A charming sort of dinner or evening bodice is that made of lace laid over colored silk and having a wide corselet belt of wrinkled silk with a wide buckle. The lace is sometimes much enriched by having the design outlined by the narrowest satin ribbon, gathered into a tiny ruche. The ribbon may be white or may match the color of the silk lining.

The picture illustrates a princess gown of black satin with an open design of embroidery laid over white satin. The circular flounce around the foot of the skirt and the double watteau plait are of plain black satin. The shawl revers are also of black satin and open over a full chemisette of white mousseline de soie. The sleeves of embroidered black satin over white satin have plain black cuffs, below which are full puffs of white mousseline de soie gathered into a band at the wrist. The hat of black velvet is trimmed with a black plume, a jeweled buckle and red roses. JUDIC CHOLLET.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 13—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Youthful consecration.—Eccl. xii, 1.

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not nor the years draw nigh when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them." These words were written by one who had failed to do what these words demand. He had spent his life in foolishness and selfishness, and with bitter remorse and regret he had learned in old age that he had made a mistake, and he tried to warn others against this mistake. He spoke from a bitter experience, and we should therefore hear his voice.

The wise man in these words calls upon us to remember God, to remember that there is a God and that He is our God, and to do this in the days of our youth. If we do not, evil days will come upon us, sickness, affliction and maybe death, and we may not have the opportunity; if we do not, years will draw nigh in which we have no pleasure, no desire either for the world or for God, and we will be incapable of remembering God and consecrating our lives to Him. Youth, therefore, is the proper time for remembering God and consecrating our lives to Him.

1. Youth is the easiest time for consecrating the life to God. This is the experience and testimony of all men. In the days of our youth the heart is easily touched, faith is easily aroused and service more gladly and willingly rendered. As we grow older all these things become harder. The heart is hardened, we become skeptical and distrustful, and our lives are often so engrossed with the things of time and sense that we feel that we have no time to remember or to serve God. There are many men and women in the world today who are anxious to serve God, but delay in the matter has made it a hard thing for them to do. They wish now that they had consecrated their lives to God in their youth. Let us profit by their experiences.

2. Youth is the right time to consecrate the life to God. What justice is there in spending the best and most years of our lives in the service of self and the world and then at the last moment, when they are worthless and useless, to bring them and offer them to God? Yet many have this idea of consecration. They want to be saved, but they want to serve themselves first. It is a dangerous principle to live upon and a most ungrateful and unjust one. Would you smoke a cigar and offer the ashes to a friend? No man would. Why, then, will we burn our lives into ashes and smoke and come and offer these to God? Will we treat God worse than a human friend? If we do, we will find that God is not to be mocked. God wants the best or nothing, the best love of our hearts and the best service of our lives. We cannot give Him these if we put off doing it until we are old.

3. Youth is the safest time to consecrate the life to God. Youth is the only safe time in which to consecrate the life to God. Who has any guarantee that he will live to be old? Who has any mortgage on the future? Who can say, "I will serve myself today and God tomorrow?" How do you know that you will have a tomorrow in your life? Good intentions for the future will not serve God or save the soul. The way to hell and not the way to heaven is paved with them. God demands present remembrance and present service. "Remember now thy Creator," not "Remember thy Creator tomorrow," but "now." It is the only time to do it. "Begin in the beginning of thy days to remember Him from whom thou hadst thy being and keep on according to that good beginning. Call Him to mind when thou art young and keep Him in mind throughout all the days of thy life and never forget Him. Guard thus against the temptations of youth and thus improve the advantages of it."

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a biographical meeting, studying the lives of men who have early consecrated themselves to God, such as Joseph, Samuel, Timothy, Martin Luther, Richard Baxter, etc.

BIBLE READINGS.

Opposition to Missionaries and Civilization In China.

When we come to examine the excuse put forward that the trouble is owing to the intrusion of western ideas and methods, which is undoubtedly the fact, it becomes at once apparent that, so far from it being an excuse, we find it constitutes a conclusive reason for the energetic introduction of those ideas. No nation has a right to place itself in opposition to such ideas, inasmuch as to do so is to hinder the preservation and growth of principles essential to human progress. Superstition, bigotry, intolerance, ignorance, incendiarism, murder, persecution of foreigners and all the ills of barbarism are represented by the Boxers, as by other mobs, and even in New Orleans. —Episcopal Recorder.

A Higher Christian Life.

A higher Christian life is more talked about than realized. It is regarded too often as a privilege rather than a duty. It is frequently a matter of emotion rather than of principle. What is needed is a steady and persistent movement toward Christ as our Saviour and pattern or a daily dying unto sin and living unto holiness.—Presbyterian.

The End of the Century.

Let us thank God that the nineteenth century is drawing to an end. It has been a century of material triumphs and ends, with the substitution of low ideals for great truths, but the reaction is sure to come and put an end to the apotheosis of dirt.—Jewish Times.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 13, "Youthful Consecration." Text, Eccl. x, 1.

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth." One who has been under Christian influences all through childhood, youth and into adult years and has become a true Christian in soul and life can easily recall the differences which the growth of years has brought. The thoughts and capacities of childhood are far different from those of after years, and youth is like neither childhood nor mature age.

But the peculiar value of youth is its power for fixing ideals. This is the time of conversion. The reasons for this are deep seated in the nature. There are psychological reasons for it. It is the rational process of unfolding the moral and spiritual powers. The physical frame has been nourished and developed until adolescence is attained. The mental powers have come into exercise and grown until judgment and will are maturing into self reliance and self assertion. The child must soon be left to walk alone. The moral and spiritual faculties have been awaiting birth into conscious self direction. Obedience and reverence have been taught, some force of habit has been acquired; all this is largely imitation and repetition and memory work. Shall there be personality and individual spiritual birth? is the pressing question now. Shall this soul know God? Shall personal conscious acceptance of Jesus Christ bring salvation to this nature and the Holy Spirit dwell in the heart and direct the future life?

The gravest mistake which can be made is to suppose that the youths from 12 to 20 are too immature to understand these things and too unstable to commit themselves decidedly. The fact is that the great majority of those who are Christians made their choice before they were 20 years of age. The vast majority of the ungodly, vicious and criminal had their turning point also in the years just before they reached their majority. The Bible leads us to expect this. Careful, scientific study of human nature demonstrates the naturalness of the case. Common experience testifies to the invariable nature of the rule that the life choices in religion are mostly made in youth. We decide while still boys and girls whether we will serve or reject Christ.

What of it? Much, every way. It means that the church must recognize this fact more clearly and take all possible precaution that the youth in our families be committed to Christ, or at least that all rightful means be used to present the claims of Jesus to our young people and persuade them to serve Him. Again, it means that more care must be taken to develop the religious life of the young people in lines of personal devotion, private and public, culture them in works of mercy and helpfulness to others, train them in habits of frugality and benevolence in money matters and direct their activities in social intercourse. Remember Christ in youth.

An Able League Leader.

At the organization of the Epworth League in Cleveland May 15, 1889, Mr. Willis W. Cooper was one of the representatives of the Young People's Methodist Alliance. He was a manufacturer of St. Joseph, Mich.; had for some years been known as a consecrated worker for Christ, and he at once took a prominent position in the new organization. In the position of first vice president he did much to forward the spiritual work of the League.

When the general conference decided on a commission to take charge of a twentieth century forward movement of revival, Mr. Cooper at once seemed the proper man for the position of corresponding secretary. He was appointed and entered promptly and with his usual energy upon the work of his office. From 57 Washington street, Chicago, he is sending out great quantities of printed matter to arouse and assist the workers of the church in the great effort for the salvation of souls. It is confidently predicted that the coming year is to see a wonderful turning to the Lord and a deepening of spiritual power among professing Christians.

Advice to Girls.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe's words to girls should be heeded by all who wish to be happy and make others happy also. She says:

"I would say to every young girl, rich or poor, gifted or dull, learn to make a home, and learn this in the days in which learning is easy. Cultivate a habit of vigilance and forethought. With a reasonable amount of intelligence a woman should be able to carry on the management of a household and should yet have time for art and literature of some sort. But surely no love of intellectual pursuits should lead us to disparage or neglect the household gifts and graces."

The Making of Billiard Balls and the Gentleman's Game

"PLEASE shut the door quickly, as the slightest draught of cold air might make hundreds of dollars' worth of my charges check and crack and become useless." This was my salutation as I sought the little cubby-hole "ivory room" of one of the largest billiard supply houses in the country, bent on having a talk with the veteran turner of ivory whose practiced eye and deft touch had been called into play to fashion all the billiard balls that have been used in championships in this country for nearly a score of years. It may be no exaggeration to say that if this noted manipulator of the chisel and chuck lathe does not actually turn into as perfect spheres as man can fashion, 80 per cent. of all the billiard balls you may see in public billiard halls and on the tables of the wealthy, he at least selects the rough spheroids of ivory that are passed to his chief assistants to be turned under his immediate direction.

George C. Britner is getting old. It was away back in 1844 that he began turning ivory balls in the shop of T. & D. Ford, in Philadelphia. Almost 74 years old, he acknowledges that it takes him longer than it used to study out "sisters" from the mass of ivory in the rough. But it is really a pleasure to a lover of fine mechanics to see the veteran, when Jacob Schaeffer or Eugene Carter, George Slosson, or some other leading light in the billiard world has give an order for a set of true billiard spheres, walk over to the lathe and run his hand over the bit of ivory revolving several hundred times a minute in the chuck of the lathe. He will take off a shaving of ivory so thin that it leaves a trace like the most impalpable powder on your hand. Yet that master workmen sense of touch, so acute and true, might be the means of deciding a great contest for skill between two great billiardists for $1,000 a side.

Obeying the injunction to close the door, I entered Mr. Britner's ivory-room, and was soon gloating over hundreds—aye, thousands—of dollars' worth of the beautiful product for which so many pachyderms in Africa and Asia have given up their lives.

Britner knows ivory as the physician knows the human body. He says that ivory is "50 times more cranky than an old maid," and swears that he can make a billiard ball true. Let a draught of cold air strike it and the ball will be twisted into a spheroid or checked so badly that it will be useless.

This veteran has letters from all the billiard champions of two or three decades, thanking him for the great care that he used in selecting the balls for championships. Perhaps no man in the new world is more trusted by the professional billiardists than "Old Man" Britner in the selection of ivory of the same density, "life," action, weight, etc., for a tournament set of balls. He has the intuitive faculty that must have come from over a half century of ivory carving, of selecting "sisters"—ivory sisters—that are as near alike in every respect as human prowess can get them. Britner will even permit a microscopic investigation to ascertain whether or not he has not taken the ivory that is nearest alike. Sometimes he even finds two rough blocks that came from the same tusk. In those cases the making of two billiard balls almost perfectly resembling each other is a comparatively easy matter.

Britner is a deep student of the ivory question. Bluntly he declares that no human being will ever invent a substitute for ivory for billiardists, because there will never be anything like ivory in the world.

Although surrounded by a perfect mint of money represented by ivory, Britner, with the true artistic spirit, sees only in the elephant product the "tournament," the "fancy set," the "ordinary set" and the pool ball blocks. He refuses to become worried over the destruction of elephants and their habit of bearing tusks suitable for ivory only after having reached a considerable age. "Mine the ivory when the supply of live ivory runs shy," said the student of ivory. "I can tell the ivory that is brought from the interior of Africa, where perhaps it has lain buried in the sand for many years. There is much more where that came from, and the shrewd ivory traffickers are not going to bear the market by sending to the coast too much at a time. Besides, there is a great supply of fossilized ivory—mastodon and mammoth ivory. That turns up well, but it is too heavy for billiard sets. Now, here is a tusk that was found, with plenty others, in the glacial drift in northern Alaska. I made a set of balls out of it, but the experts were not able to send them around the table accurately. Smaller balls made for pool table use would be almost indestructible. The animal that grew that tusk may have lived a million years ago. At any rate his ivory is still so good that it makes good billiard cue tips and I have made elegant cigar holders from it."

Clarence Green, the billiard-room keeper, who is known from San Francisco to New York as one of the most devoted friends the gentlemen's game has in America, sees great prospects for billiards this season. While Mr. Green, like all the other members of the national organization of room keepers of which Veteran Tom Foley is the executive head, is firm in his belief that the amateur championship of the United States at balk line billiards should be played in some public hall where admission would be by ticket only, and where no gate money would be expected, he declares that the game should not be injured by clashing over this point. If the roomkeepers of the country are not to get the honor of giving the amateur championship, the lovers of billiards should do all in their power to assist the organization which will conduct the championship.

GEORGE C. BRITNER,
Oldest Billiard Ball Maker in the Country.

In the east there are other friends of billiards, who, like Clarence Green, appreciate the plans of some "anarchists" who would have a clash of championships, now that the Knickerbocker Athletic club, of New York, has scheduled dates for the regular winter class A and class B balk line championships, under the auspices and control of the Amateur Athletic union. It may be palpable to many that the Amateur Athletic union has no more right to attempt to regulate and govern the sport of billiards than it has to try to run the United States mint, but the friends of billiards urge that the New Yorkers be permitted to give their championships. If the roomkeepers do not like the amateur standing of the men who play, let them set an adamantine rule governing amateurism and give their championship at some other opportune time. The public will form its own conclusions as to who are the real amateurs.

"All signs point to a great revival for billiards this season," said Mr. Green. "It is wonderful how well 'Wizzard' Schaefer holds his own in the game. He is just as good as he ever was—the same shrewd student of the game, and there is but one other like him—'Student' Slosson. Where are the 18-inch experts like this pair coming from to fill their places when they drop out? That is a problem. George Sutton might fall into such a place."

E. G. WESTLAKE.

FINE CAPE WINES.

How the Constantia Product Is Made in the Wineries of France.

The wines known as Constantia are obtained by stopping the natural fermentation of the "must" or juice, either by the addition of alcohol or sugar or by allowing the grapes to be so ripe when gathered as to contain a percentage of sugar sufficient to arrest fermentation. Red and white Muscatel, Frontignac and Pontac grapes are chiefly used in the making of Constantia. In some cases the grapes are allowed to become raisins before they are pressed. Although this class of wine is made in most parts of the colony, it everywhere bears the name of Constantia, from the district where it was originally made.

It is now admitted that the attempt to make wines from grapes more suitable for heavy sweet wines is a mistake; yet palatable light wines, both red and white, are made in many districts, says Chambers' Journal. For this the grapes are gathered when they contain about 18 to 20 per cent. of sugar, are then crushed and allowed to ferment. In making red wines the juice is allowed to ferment on the husks, in order to extract the color. Some of the most important colonial wine merchants make a practice of buying the "must" from the farmers ready pressed; then the racking, etc., after fermentation is done under their own surveillance. In the making of light wines the varieties of grapes used are Sauvignon blanc, Cabernet sauvignon, Pontac, Hermitage (French grape), Sirin, green grape and Haanepoot. The latter is a large, fleshy grape of the Muscat species, and is in much request for table use.

The amount of wine obtained per thousand vines in the coast district is from one to one and a half leaguers—a leaguer being 127 imperial gallons. Most of the brandy in this district is very rudely distilled from the doppen or husks of the grapes after the "must" has been extracted.

SPORTING.

GOLF.

The moderate weather which continued through most of the holiday week made it possible for a number of the local golf enthusiasts to play on both the local courses. There were a few who visited the Park Golf Club's links during the week. The course was in good condition. Temporary greens had to be used. There were also a number of informal matches at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club's course. Although the clubhouse was closed, the turf was in fair condition. Temporary greens were arranged.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

This evening on Conover's alleys, the second bowling match in the series arranged between teams from the Aluminum Plate and Press Works and the Pond Tool Works, will be rolled by the same men who took part in last week's game with one or two exceptions. The Pond team was defeated last week but have since indulged in considerable practice and have hopes of retrieving themselves. The "Klondyke" boys are just as confident of winning and a good game will no doubt be the result.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The first session of the ladies' class at the Y. M. C. A., was held yesterday afternoon. Quite a number of the former members were in attendance and it gives promise of becoming an interesting class.

BASKET BALL.

A basket ball game will be played at the Y. M. C. A. this evening between the Wasserpachers and the W. W. W. teams. They are both composed of members of the Y. M. C. A.

ORDER IS GROWING.

Great Sachem Newcorn Found Tribes in Southern New Jersey in Excellent Condition.

Great Sachem William Newcorn returned yesterday from South Jersey, where he had been visiting the Arasapha Tribe and Pequoid Tribe, I. O. B. M. He found these tribes to be in a flourishing condition and their work was of a superior order. A number of new members were taken into each tribe the night he visited them and the installation of officers was performed in a most creditable manner. It is confidently expected that the increase in membership this year in New Jersey will reach 1,800. This evening Mr. Newcorn will visit the tribe at Keyport where he expects to have a good time.

SENATOR KEAN GETS CONTROL OF MACHINE.

action the struggle is magnified into a State affair, that may in time involve the nomination for the next Governor of New Jersey.

Ex-Assemblyman Charles N. Codding, the present chairman of the Union county Republican committee, is clerk to Mr. Riker, the clerk in Supreme Court. He is a prominent participant in all the political activities that surge around the State House. He is a strong advocate of the Riker interests in Essex county, and is very anxious that Hon. Franklin Murphy shall be nominated for the next Governor.

In that event Hon. Charles N. Fowler would become a candidate for chairman of the Republican State committee, and if Mr. Codding is then chairman of the Union county committee he would exert a powerful influence in Mr. Fowler's behalf.

Mr. Codding is reported as having indicated that Mr. Fowler will not be content with this honor, if he should succeed, but has one eye turned on the gubernatorial chair, four years from now, and the other on the seat occupied by Hon. John Kean in the United States Senate.

As Mr. Pitney is yet a very strong candidate for Governor, and as Essex seems to be divided over the nomination, and Morris and Passaic are strongly in favor of Mr. Pitney, it will be seen that the Union county struggle between Mr. Codding and H. F. Kean is naturally viewed as of State importance.

As a side skirmish it is also stated here that Senator Cross is to be superseded, when his term expires by ex-Mayor Rankin, who will not vote to re-elect Senator Kean, but will do all he can to make Mr. Fowler United States Senator.

For these reasons all eyes in the State House are turned intently toward Union county tonight, for they see in the struggle there an augury of the great contest for the gubernatorial nomination.

TRADES' COUNCIL GROWS.

Officers Elected and Reports Made Showing Steady Increase in Membership of the Council.

At a meeting of the Building Trades' Council held last evening the following officers were elected and installed: President, John Moran, of Plumbers' Union; vice-president, Morgan Turton, of Tinners' Union; recording secretary, Frank McInerney, of Masons' Union; financial secretary, Charles Conover, of Painters' Union; treasurer, George Clark, of Tinners' Union; sergeant-at-arms, Charles Trotter, of Painters' Union; trustees, Howard Woolston, of Carpenters' Union; J. Newton Apgar, of Carpenters' Union; John Williams, of Masons' Union. At the conclusion of the installation very satisfactory reports were given by the treasurer and financial secretary, showing the council to be in a flourishing condition. A large increase in membership has occurred from month to month and the council now has representatives from nearly every union in the city.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. W. T. Campbell, wife of the borough marshal, is a victim of the grip.

B. A. Hegeman, Jr., of Washington Park, left last evening for Buffalo, where he was called on business.

Francis Edwin Whiteside, of the News staff, is confined to his boarding house on Central avenue by illness.

The entire family of J. V. Farlee, the local expressman, are ill with the grip at their home on Fairview avenue.

The infant son of J. M. Smalley, of Watchung avenue, is seriously ill with grip. Dr. Carman is in attendance.

Clarence E. Teel, of North avenue, for several years manager of the New York office of the Peters Cartridge Company, has resigned his position.

MANY OFFENDERS IN COURT.

JOHN ELSEN FOUND NOT GUILTY OF STEALING TURKEYS.

Policeman Mooney, of Bernardsville, on Trial Charged With Beating a Prisoner—Other Cases.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 11—Patrick Hickey and Edward Sisser, indicted for assault and battery upon a trolley inspector while riding in a car from Bound Brook to Somerville, retracted their plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult. They will be sentenced January 18.

The case of John Elsen, indicted for stealing two turkeys from the premises of Kenneth McKenzie, on the night of October 26, at Bernardsville, was taken up yesterday morning. John A. Frech represented the defendant, but he made his case out of the State's witnesses, and introduced no witnesses himself. The jury, after being out an hour, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case of the State against Wm. Mooney, indicted for assault and battery, took up the whole afternoon and was not then concluded. Mooney is a policeman at Bernardsville and in the course of his duties arrested a man named Bennett and took him before Justice Dunster. Bennett became noisy and after being sentenced to 20 days in the county jail he struck Mooney, who, it is alleged, retaliated by hitting Bennett several times in the face with his fist, drawing blood.

A large number of witnesses were examined and pretty near the whole village came down to hear the trial, S. S. Swackhamer, of Plainfield, represented the defendant, Mooney. The State was represented by Prosecutor James L. Griggs. Judge Schenck charged the jury this morning.

The case of the State against Wm. Lupton, the colored hack driver, who is charged with stabbing Alfred Paniel, Silas D. Drake's coachman, will probably come up this afternoon.

ANNUAL EUCHRE PARTY.

Given to Ushers, Members of Choir and Dramatic Society of St. Mary's Church.

The members of St. Mary's church choir, the church ushers and the members of the Dramatic Society were entertained at a progressive euchre party, given by Rev. Father Smyth, in the school hall last evening. An affair of this kind is given annually and always proves to be an important event in the social life of the church. There were forty present last evening occupying ten tables.

A large number of games were played. The successful ones were Miss Katherine Flynn, first prize; Mrs. Frank McInerny, second prize; Mrs. Michael Whalen, booby prize. For the men, Rev. Father Smyth won first prize, Charles Valentine booby prize.

After the prizes were awarded an hour was spent socially and in listening to an informal programme of vocal and instrumental music. The serving of refreshments brought the affair to a close.

A GOOD PRESS.

Shipped by Campbell Press Company for Use by the Atlantic City Review.

The Campbell Printing Press Company shipped a Multipress from its repair shop on South avenue yesterday to Atlantic City, where it will be used to print The Daily Review of that city. The press is one which is particularly adapted to the smaller city papers which are not large enough to have a stereotyping plant. It is a web press, but prints from a flat bed, the cylinders and not the bed moving. It is possible to print a paper of four, six, eight or ten pages at the rate of from 5,000 to 7,000 an hour. The papers are delivered all pasted and folded. The printing is done direct from type or plates.

This press was formerly in use in one of the large southern cities, but was substituted by one of the Campbell Company's big cylinder presses. The press was repaired and when shipped to Atlantic City yesterday was in excellent order.

GRAND OFFICERS THERE.

Installation of Recently Elected Officers of Central Lodge, A. O. U. W. Last Night.

The officers of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., were installed last evening at a regular meeting. Those who took part in the exercises were Grand Master Workman William Lambert, of Newark; Grand Overseer V. W. Nash, Deputy Grand Master Washington I. Tier, of Rahway; Past Master Workmen Nitschwitz and Mosher; Grand Trustee Clark Rogers, Deputy Grand Master J. W. A. Bauersachs and Master Workman C. R. Pearson.

After the installation refreshments were served by a committee in charge and excellent addresses were made by the officers. Central Lodge was complimented for its fine showing and good work of the members.

Carmen Sylva's First Book.

It was not until after the war between Russia and Turkey that the queen began to write for publication, although she had written verses secretly, and pasted them in a large scrap book from early childhood. Her first book was written in a peculiar manner. One day the national superintendent of schools came to her and said he wanted a book to offer as a prize at the end of the year to certain Roumanian school children, and suggested that her majesty write one. The queen entered into the plan with enthusiasm, and in three weeks had written a book of fairy tales, taking old Roumania legends as the foundation for her stories. The volume was such a success, and creating it gave the queen such pleasure, that she turned to writing in earnest, and volume after volume has appeared bearing the name "Carmen Sylva" on its title page. One day in each month is now devoted to reading the queen's books in the public schools of Roumania.—George T. B. Davis, in Woman's Home Companion.

TWO WOMEN HELD UP COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Judge and Jury Had to Wait For Important Witnesses in Criminal Case.

WAS HELD AT SOMERVILLE.

KNIFING AFFRAY BETWEEN COLORED MEN AT BOUND BROOK.

Verdict of Not Guilty in Case of Mooney, Bernardsville Policeman—Two Offenders Pleaded Non Vult and Will be Sentenced Soon.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, January 12—Two young colored women of Bound Brook, Ella and Fanny Giles, delayed the whole machinery of the Somerset courts an hour yesterday morning and caused the county an expense of about $100. They were the chief witnesses for the State in the case of Wm. Lupton, colored, indicted for atrocious assault upon Alfred Paniel, and the Prosecutor did not care to go on with the case until the witnesses arrived. So the court officers and jurors sat and waited, while a constable was detailed to watch the trolley cars and hustle the tardy witnesses into court as soon as possible. They arrived on the trolley between 11 and 12, when the case was begun.

Sunday night, Oct. 7, it was alleged that Ella and Fannie Giles were walking along Union avenue, Bound Brook, with Alfred Paniel, the latter pushing his wheel, when they met William Lupton, who asked the girls what they were doing with "that damned nigger." Lupton then pulled a knife from his pocket, it is said, and stabbed Paniel in the stomach and arm. Paniel pulled down a sign-board to defend himself, and ran, Lupton after him. Lupton caught up to Paniel and, according to the witnesses, stabbed him in the leg. Paniel was then arrested, taken to Dr. Robinson, who dressed his wounds, and then taken to the Somerville jail. He was subsequently removed to Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, where he remained three weeks.

Wm. V. Steele was the defendant's counsel, and he attempted to prove that Paniel was the aggressor, and that Lupton was stabbed by Paniel and that the latter chased the former and cut his coat several times. The claim was made that if Paniel was stabbed it was done in the tussle between the two men by Paniel's own knife.

Mrs. Helen Herbert, of Plainfield, the present employer of Lupton, testified to his good character, as did also J. J. Bach and L. C. Cook, of Bound Brook.

Lupton was put on the stand yesterday afternoon. He was at first very nervous, but soon became at ease. He was the last witness before court adjourned.

The case was continued today.

The jury in the case of the State against Wm. Mooney, indicted for assault and battery, rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Mrs. Reed, indicted for keeping a disorderly house in East Somerville, retracted her plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult.

Wm. Hahn, indicted for stealing coal, pleaded non vult.

Both of the above will be sentenced January 18.

Lectures on Dante.

Dr. Edward Howard Griggs, who gave several lectures in this city last year, has been engaged to give six lectures on "Dante of Medieval Literature," in Vincent chapel. The dates for the lectures have not been decided upon, but will be announced as soon as they are selected. The patronesses are Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. James W. Jackson, Mrs. Frank Curtis, Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, Mrs. Louis M. French, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Miss Luella A. Crowther, Mrs. William E. Lowe, Mrs. James B. Joy and Mrs. Weir Lewis.

Sons of Veterans to Install.

The officers of John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, will be installed Tuesday evening. The G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps have been invited.

Anniversary of Dedication.

The anniversary of the Grace M. E. church will take place on Sunday, February 24th. A committee is arranging for the event.

Acting Manager.

At present R. A. Frey is acting manager for D. C. Ivins at his coal and lumber yards on Watchung avenue.

WERE INSTALLED IN PUBLIC.

COURT PLAINFIELD, I. O. F. HELD FORMAL EXERCISES LAST NIGHT.

Four Hundred People Assembled in Washington Hall For It—Followed by Entertainment and Dance.

In spite of the steady downpour of rain and the disagreeable weather, fully four hundred people assembled in Washington Hall last evening to witness the installation of officers and enjoy the hospitality of Court Plainfield, No. 1,144, I. O. F. Those who did brave the storm were amply repaid as the affair was one of the most successful of its kind given in some time.

The early part of the evening was taken up with the installation of the recently elected officers. The presiding officers was Deputy High Chief Ranger A. G. Black, of Jersey City, who performed the work in a first-class manner. He was assisted by Past Chief Ranger W. J. O'Brien, also of Jersey City.

The officers installed were as follows: Court deputy, Francis Whiteley; chief ranger, William McCombe; vice ranger, Charles Jaegar; recording secretary, James Patterson; financial secretary, John F. Casey; treasurer, James McClinton; orator, William O'Connor; senior warden, George Whiteley; junior warden; Bernard Clark, Jr.; senior beadle, John Titus; junior beadle, Franklin Marsh; court physician, Dr. H. H. Lowrie.

After the installation the officers were escorted to their respective stations and an excellent musical programme followed. It was opened with a well-rendered vocal solo, "Asleep in the Deep," by Wm. O'Connor. It was followed by an interesting address given by Deputy High Chief Ranger Black, in which he explained the purposes of the Foresters and furnished statistics concerning its development and present condition.

The remainder of the programme consisted of vocal solos by Thomas Roddy, Miss Christina Sorensen, Thos. Comerford, Miss Annie Daley and Miss Smith. Every number was greeted with continued applause until the vocalists responded with an encore. An added feature was the pleasing selections by Naylor's full orchestra. Not a whit less pleasing was the collation served by the members with the assistance of the women.

The ceremonies terminated with an informal dance to the members and their friends, which lasted until long after midnight. In addition to the installing officers, delegations were present from courts at Elizabeth, Somerville, Dunellen, South Plainfield and Court Watchung, of this city.

WILL WAS READ.

Bequeathed Property to His Family and Gave Case of Medals to Sons of Veterans.

After the funeral of the late George W. Moore, Thursday, the will of the deceased was read in the presence of the relatives. It bequeaths to the widow the use of the estate for life, after which it goes to Mr. Moore's brother, Edward Moore, of Newark; a sister living in Florida and the children of a deceased brother.

Mr. Moore gives a large and handsome case of badges to the Sons of Veterans to be placeed in the meeting room, and a gold watch to Charles Dodd, Jr., who was a favorite of the deceased. The store is to be closed for a period of ten days, after which the executors, Former Comptroller J. S. Gibson, of Newark, and James Atwood, of Trenton, are to sell the contents. No provision was made by the will for the continuance of the business which was conducted on East Front street for many years.

Excellent Likeness of Mr. Clark.

The New Jersey Law Journal for this month, of which A. V. D. Honeyman, of this city, is the editor, contains an excellent half-tone engraving of ex-Congressman Alvah A. Clark, father-in-law of Senator Charles A. Reed. Mr. Clark is the candidate of the Democratic minority for United States Senator. He has many friends in Plainfield who will admire this excellent likeness of him.

Big Black Bass.

There is on exhibition at Harry Dreier's store on West Front street, a black bass that was caught by John James at Ten-Mile Run, near Bound Brook. The fish is stuffed and mounted in a handsome frame and attracts a great deal of attention.

Policemen Ill.

Roundsman William Mattox, who is seriously ill with typhoid fever at his home on Webster place, is doing as well as can be expected. All other members of the police force who have been ill are improving and will be on duty again in a few days.

HOBOES BUILT FIRE INSIDE OF FREIGHT CAR

Were Enjoying Its Warmth When Police Dropped In and and Arrested the Crowd.

NEAR PARADISE ALLEY.

ONE MAN CAME TO TOWN TO SEE HIS BRIDE OF LAST SEPTEMBER.

But Mayor Jenkins Believed Them All Knights of the Road and Sent Them to the County Jail For Ten Days.

Patrolman Myers saw a bright light in a freight car at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The officer at first thought the car was on fire. Before sending in an alarm he looked up Patrolman Totton and an investigation was made. The car with others stood on the track near Paradise Alley. When the officers entered the car to extinguish the fire they were surprished to find two young men, seated around a good sized blaze, warming their shins

The fire had been made from quantities of waste which the men said they had taken from the car boxes. The officers made their prisoners put out the fire and then marched them to the station house where they were locked up.

This morning they were arraigned before Mayor Jenkins. They gave their names as Charles Buschman and John Shimer and claimed to hail from Wilkesbarre, Pa. Shimer said he came to Plainfield to see his wife whom he married last September. He told Captain Kiely that he had married Maggie Killoran, who lived on West Third street. Shimer said he also had worked in this city about two months ago, being employed on the Hibbard-Rodman-Ely Safe Company's building.

Buschman said that he was on his way to New York, where he expected to secure employment as a coal passer. He fell in with Shimer a day or two ago. The accused said they had no intention of burning the car. They had simply started the fire to warm up.

When searched at the station house, Shimer had a number of small photographs and a few trinkets, including a pocketbook containing a quantity of bone collar buttons. Buschman had a mileage book on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, which he said had been loaned him by his uncle in Wilkesbarre, Pa.

The prisoners had every appearance of being typical hoboes. The police believe that there were others in the gang, who were out foraging when the officers arrested Buschman and Shimer. The Mayor sent the prisoners to jai for ten days.

NO OPPOSITION.

Robert Davis Says That All the Democrats Will Vote For Alvah A. Clark.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City Jan. 12,—The recent developments in Trenton confirm the belief current amon g local Democratic politicians to the effect that there will be no serious opposition to Alvah A. Clark for the complimentary nomination for U. S. Senator when the Senatorial caucus is held.

"The latest advices from Trenton," said Collector Davis yesterday "show that while there may one or two Democratic legislators who will not vote for Mr. Clark in caucus, they will abide by the caucus decision and not bolt. Gen. R. A. Donnelly will not cut any figure in the caucus. No other Democrat but Mr. Clark will be named in joint session."

Officers For Crescent Division.

Crescent Division, No. 13, U. R, K. of P., recently elected the following officers: Captain, J. E. Flannery; first lieutenant, Jacob Blimm; second lieutenant, J. S. Highm; recorder, Charles McGinley; treasurer, J. C. Blimm; chaplain, John Robison. The officers will be installed on Tuesday evening, February 12.

Nearly Completed an Automobile.

Andrew Thompson, of West Front street, has about completed the automobile which he has been constructing for his own use. The horseless wagon is thoroughly up-to-date and is complete in every detail. It will have electricity as a motive power and can be charged to run for a number of hours.

Burns Were Not Serious.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Townley, of Grandview avenue, who was severely burned on Thursday, is doing very well. At first it was thought the burns might prove serious, but the little fellow has appearances of an early recovery.

WEEK AT MUSIC HALL.

ATTRACTIONS BOOKED FOR PLAINFIELD'S THEATRE NEXT WEEK.

"Fogg's Ferry," an Excellent Production, Will be the First—Other Plays in View.

Perhaps it was that there was a surfeit of plays last week, that caused the light attendance at Music Hall last Monday night when "Hearts of the Blue Ridge" had its first presentation here, and the weather of course had great influence over the patronage accorded "Jack and the Beanstalk" Thursday night. Better performances and dramatic entertainment however, could not be desired and it is to be regretted there was not better patronage. "Jack and the Beanstalk" was a great show, one of the best seen here, complete in every detail, lots of pretty girls as chorus, funny comedians, operatic artists, beautiful scenery, accessories etc. Miss Underwood as "Jack," Miss Helene Salinger as "Old Mother Hubbard" and Theodore Lytle as "Fairy Queen," were especially good in their respective roles, and the incidental specialties were refreshing novelties.

Manager Maze Edwards had a good vaudeville company booked for appearance tonight, but troubles beset the organization and they failed to send their printing matter, and, in consequence, there will be no performances until Tuesday night when there is announced something really good, in a revival of the popular comedy, "Fogg's Ferry," a play first brought out by Minnie Maddern, now Mrs. Fiske, at the (then) Park Theatre, New York, in the spring of 1882. The theatre was destroyed by fire during the following fall, cutting off Mrs. Langtry's first American engagement, but the play has flourished ever since, still lives in the affections the public, and bids fair to run on like the proverbial brook. This is because it both interests and amuses, and because its pretty story is clean, wholesome and totally free of anything offensive. Beautiful new scenery makes the present production especially attractive, and besides a splendid company there are carried as extra features a noted quartette and a troupe of clever dancers in a plantation scene said to be unrivalled.

The musical farce comedy, "Grimes' Cellar Door," with lots of new specialties and novelties, introducing "Grimesey, Me Boy," Jas. B. Mackie, for years with Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys" as the original Bell Boy, will be seen next Thursday night. Mackie has achieved fame and fortune with his "Cellar Door." The cast includes Louise Sanford, who plays the leading female role of Pandora, the marble statue, and M. W. Douglass, the wonderful basso singer, who plays Josiah, also the celebrated Bernard Sisters, a strong team of singers and dancers, specially engaged by Mackie for this season's tour, and a host of pretty girls in all the latest songs, dances and costumes. Miss Louise Sanford heads a new specialty this season called Giesha, of Tokio.

The Nashville Students, a famous musical organization, make their first appearance here Tuesday, January 22d, and then will follow Marie Corelli's play, "The Sorrows of Satan," under direction of Wm A. Brady, a new and beautiful Irish play, "The Game Keeper," Carl Haswin with "The Lion's Heart," Lincoln J. Carter's very latest play, "The Eleventh Hour," and Denman Thompson in the original "Old Homestead," Saturday, February 9.

Evangelistic Service.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church held an evangelistic service last evening and the society from the East Third Street chapel met with them. The leader o' the service was L. W. Randolph, superintendent of the chapel Sunday-school and he made some excellent remarks after which the members responded by giving testimonies and offering prayers. There was a large attendance, notwithstanding the disagreeable night.

At the Cycle Show.

Victor Christofferson, of this city, is representing the Puritan Manufacturing Co. at the bicycle show, which opens tonight in Madison Square Garden, New York, where he is exhibiting an automatic gas lamp. Mr. Christofferson expects to travel in the interest of the firm after the close of the exhibition.

May be Two Months Before Opening.

There is no apparent anxiety on the part of the Jersey Central to open their new station, and it may be two months before the building is completed and ready for use. This is no doubt due to the delay on the part of the contractors who have frequently been granted extension of time.

GREAT SACHEM HAS CAPTURED TWO GOATS

He Arrived in Plainfield This Morning With One Under Each Arm.

CAPTURED AT KEYPORT.

WHILE RED MEN WENT TO FIRE THEIR COAT DISAPPEARED.

Great Sachem Newcorn Fed Him on Towels and Bedclothes to Keep Him Quiet—Ran for Train With Braves Pursuing.

When Great Sachem William Newcorn arrived in Plainfield this morning at an early hour, his friends were surprised to see him carrying two goats, a small one under one arm and a large one under the other, and then wondered why it was.

Mr. Newcorn paid an official visit to Chingarora Tribe at Keyport, last evening, and it seems that this tribe recently visited Narumsunk Tribe at Oceanic. The latter tribe was the owner of the large goat until that evening, when the Keyport Tribe succeeded in stealing him and taking him home. He was chained in the lodge rooms and no one was allowed to go near him.

The Great Sachem thought he would like to have that goat in Plainfield, but other eyes were upon him and the Great Keeper of Records succeeded in spiriting the animal away. After a pleasant time in the lodge room, the Great Sachem retired to the hotel for the night. About midnight a fire broke out in Keyport and the fire alarm called all the Red Men, who are members of the department, to the scene of the fire. In the meantime, some one had located the goat and brought him to Mr. Newcorn's room, asking if the animal belonged to him. Mr. Newcorn promptly said yes, and he took good care of the goat for the night.

This morning he arose early to take the 6 o'clock train, and some of the Keyport braves saw him running for the train carrying the goat under his arm. He had too much of a start and managed to get away without being caught. A smaller goat he also captured and brought to Plainfield, and they are both now in Mr. Newcorn's office. To prevent the large goat from crying out during the night and thus giving his presence away, Mr. Newcorn fed the animal on towels, soap, bed clothes, etc., and he is now expecting a bill from the landlord of the hotel for the missing articles.

MEDALS FOR VOLUNTEERS.

Dr. W. E. Probasco Received One From Delaware Sons of American Revolution.

Dr. Walter E. Probasco, of East Front street, has received a handsome bronze medal and a certificate, engraved by Tiffany & Co., from the Sons of the American Revolution of the state of Delaware. Dr. Probasco enlisted as a member of the First Delaware Volunteers when the Spanish War began and served in that regiment until it was mustered out from service at the close of the active campaign.

The Sons of the American Revolution voted to present a certain number of bronze medals to members of the volunteer regiments of that State and a number were chosen from each regiment to receive them. Dr. Probasco was fortunate enough to be one of the number chosen. The medals, each accompanied by a handsomely engraved certificate, were sent out a short time ago and Dr. Probasco had just recently received his.

In Honor of Great Sachem.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ragen, of 28 Hine street, South Paterson, have issued invitations for a dinner to be given by them in honor of Great Sachem William Newcorn. The dinner will be given Tuesday evening, January 22, when Mr. Newcorn holds a district session at Paterson.

Prudential's Annual Dinner.

It has been decided that the annual dinner for the employes of the Prudential Insurance Company in this district will be given at the Hotel Kensington Saturday evening, January 26. Superintendent C. E. Ball has charge of arrangements.

Installation Will Be Private.

The officers of the Women's Relief Corps will be installed next week Friday evening. The exercises will be private and not public as has been the custom for a few years past.

THE GRIP IS RESPONSIBLE.

MOST OF THE SICKNESS IN TOWN DUE TO THAT DISEASE.

Most Cases are Not Serious, But They Keep the Doctors on the Jump and the Pharmacists Busy.

The large number of people in this city who are ill is due largely to the prevalence of the grip, a disease which has invaded the towns and cities of every section of the Middle and Eastern States.

It is not definitely known just how many people are afflicted with the disease in this vicinity, but the number will possibly run into the hundreds. Every physician in town has been on the jump for nearly two weeks and the drug stores have been doing a land office business in the line of quinine and other nostrums used to counteract the effects of the malady.

While the disease, generally speaking, is not considered serious, it nevertheless sometimes assumes serious proportions and leaves the patient in a weakened condition.

There are said to be several remedies that can be taken with good results and which will check if not entirely put the grip to rout.

But, perhaps, there is none better than the old fashioned remedy, in use in the "Days of Auld Lang Syne," when the unfortunate would be put to bed and given an old fashioned sweat, often produced by taking a quantity of something hot, reinforced by a dose of quinine, herbs or boneset tea. Some physicians and nurses, however, recommend hot water and lemon juice, while others maintain that several grains of quinine washed down with liberal portions of rye whiskey, taken every hour, will effectually drive the disease from the system. In extreme cases, though, it may be necessary to call in a physician, who may advise a resort to something more stringent.

The condition of the patient has much to do with successful efforts to banish the grip. A strong, robust person is more able to withstand its inroads than a weak person. In any event the grip is liable to leave one in a weakened condition and recovery is very slow as a rule.

BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Charles H. Denman, of Westfield, Wants to Form One in Union County—Will Invite Plainfield.

Westfield, January 12.—Charles H. Denman, manager of the baseball team of the Westfield Baseball Association, is perfecting plans for a Union County League for the coming season. It is proposed to invite Plainfield, Elizabeth, Rahway, Springfield, Cranford and Summit to organize baseball teams and enter the league. As soon as the arrangements are completed a meeting will be called for the purpose of electing officers and appointing managers, umpires, scorers, etc. It is proposed to play two games with each out of town team, one at home and the other away.

To Visit Local Red Men.

Arrangements are now completed for the reception of Arasapha Tribe, I. O. R. M., of Atlantic City, which will visit Miantonomo Tribe in this city Friday evening, January 25. It has been arranged for the visiting tribe to work the natural adoption degree and as there is considerable interest manifested in this form of ceremony no doubt a large number of Red Men will be attracted. So far as known, the south Jersey tribe is the only one in the State that uses this form.

Will Sue Traction Company.

It is feared that Patsy Christmas, who was knocked down by a trolley car Tuesday, is injured internally, as he suffers greatly from pains about the chest. He is now under the care of a physician. Unless the company makes a settlement Mr. Christmas has announced his intention of bringing suit for damages.

Bloodgood Mills Closed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Jan. 12.—The large felt mills, known as the Bloodgood Mills, at Picton are closed down and it is not known when they will reopen. Some time ago there was a rumor that the mills would be closed down by the Felt Trust but it was denied.

Operator Will Leave Soon.

Miss Laura Ayers, one of the obliging and efficient operators at the local office of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, will resign her position within a few days.

To Install Officers.

Grand Overseer V. W. Nash and other Grand Lodge officers of the A. O. U. W., will go to Eastside Lodge, at Newark, Monday evening and install the officers elect.

REGARDING FACTIONAL FIGHT IN COUNTY.

Elizabeth Journal Denounces Those Who Have Forced This Bitter Contest.

OTHER PAPERS COMMENT.

IF CONTINUED IT WILL RESULT IN REPUBLICAN DEFEAT.

Official Republican County Organ Publishes a Strong Editorial Regarding the Factional Differences in Union County Ranks.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, January 12.—All over the State newspapers are commenting on the fight between the rival Republican factions in Union county. The general concensus of opinion seems to be that the fight, if continued, is likely to disrupt the party in this county and give the Democrats a chance to win.

Even such an authority as the Elizabeth Journal, the official Republican organ of the county, points out the dangers to the Republican ascendency if the present course of events is pursued much longer. In an editorial published yesterday, the Journal says:

"Twice the Republican factions in Union county have clashed within the past few weeks. Twice there have been contests which were marked by some ill-will and characterized by acts of an order not so high as should be credited to Republicans who have the party's interest in their keeping. It is now time this sort of thing should stop. There is no necessity for it. There is absolute danger to the Republican party in keeping it up. A rivalry is one thing; a continued, unremitting, ill-natured contest is another. Union county Republicans should not permit themselves to be divided into factions. There is no warrant for it. Union county Republicans have the United States Senator, the governor, the Member of Congress, the Chancellor of the State, besides many minor offices to divide among themselves. In all conscience, this should be enough to satisfy the ambitions of the leaders and the pride of the Republican constituency of the county.

"With such an award of political honors a struggle for supremacy and an incessant attempt to injure one official for the aggrandizement of others is wrong and should be frowned down. The Republicans have, to an extent, already taken the matter in hand. They have manifestly concluded that the men who keep up the contest, who are willing to split the party, who are determined to undermine others, who are ever plotting and scheming, and pulling wires, and keeping up factional animosities shall be relegated to obscurity. The Republicans of Union county are wise if they act on their evident conclusion. If they do not, the time will come when the factional fights will result in Union county just as they have resulted time and again in Passaic county, that is, in the election of Democrats and the ousting of every Republican. Perhaps some would carry their facttonal antagonisms to just such an extreme. All such should be taken in hand by the party and taught a much needed lesson. The outcome of the recent contests indicates that the party is getting ready to do just this thing."

A Benefit Entertainment.

The New York Musical Club has been engaged by the North Plainfield High School Athletic Association to give a concert at Y. M. C. A. Hall Monday evening, January 21, at 8 o'clock, for the benefit of the association. The club is composed of Miss Loretta Tappan Greene, reader; Miss Edith Hirschmann, soprano; Willard and Bartlett, instrumentalists; Harry Willard, violin soloist; Clarence Bartlett, saxophone soloist. A very fine programme has been arranged and a good time is promised to all who attend.

Will Change His Office.

J. Fred MacDonald will soon remove his office from its present location with the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company, to the office occupied by S. D. Drake on North avenue. He will have the front part of the office. S. R Struthers will still be associated with Mr. MacDonald in the real estate business.

Eick Will Play.

Clarence L. Eick, of Elizabeth, former organist at the First Presbyterian church, will play the organ at that church tomorrow morning and also at the evening service. Special singing in the evening.

Simple Price Reasoning.

A dentist's office expenses are the same whether he serves few or many patients. If he serves few he wastes time and must charge higher prices to make good the waste. If he serves many he can divide a fair profit above expenses into much lower prices for all. That's what my practice enables me to do, and that's why my prices are so little for work that's best—GUARANTEED BEST.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

All Staple Products Continue Firm. Structural Steel In Great Demand.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Only in the textiles is special hesitation shown. Staple products are firm, iron and steel prices are held without trouble, boots and shoes and wool are steady, and all with fair demand, so that manufacturers are busy. In textiles, however, the improvement which seemed to be promised with the new year is still delayed, and in cotton goods stocks are growing in some quarters, though still not oppressively heavy anywhere. Throughout the country distribution of merchandise continues on a good scale, and collections are unusually prompt.

Construction of bridges and buildings, together with contemplated track elevation, crowds the capacity of all concerns making structural shapes of iron and steel. Orders for locomotives, cars, rails and all forms of railway equipment are also abundant, and there is no sign of reaction in the industry. Plate and sheet mills have large business, and merchant steel is in brisk demand. The Carnegie company proposes to erect a pipe plant on Lake Erie, and many other concerns are extending facilities. Competition is keen, however, and increased operations fail to affect prices.

Investment of Wall street capital was rumored as supporting cotton and wheat, but the effect was not permanent. Wheat was agitated by reports of a corner in the May option and for a time exhibited strength. A sharp reaction followed, holders parting readily with their contracts. Despite the advance of about 10 per cent over the price a year ago Atlantic exports show an increase to 3,255,053 bushels, flour included, against 2,315,588 in 1900. Even more remarkable is the comparison as to corn, of which shipments abroad amounted to 4,543,149 bushels against 3,408,793 last year, while the quotation is nearly 15 per cent higher.

Wool has ceased to decline, and sales at the three chief eastern markets increased slightly to 3,308,700 pounds, against 3,121,000 in the week preceding. A year ago sales were considered remarkably small for that season at 5,188,000 pounds.

Failures for the week were 324 in the United States against 274 last year and 37 in Canada against 25 last year.

ARMY BILL DISCUSSED.

Senate Passes Appropriation Bill. House Considers Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—In the senate yesterday a vigorous attack was made upon that portion of the army reorganization bill which confers upon the president discretionary power to increase the strength of the army to the maximum limit fixed by the bill. Mr. Bacon of Georgia began the attack, and Mr. Platt of Connecticut, replying, maintained that discretionary power ought to be conferred upon the president and expressed astonishment that anybody should entertain a fear that the power ever would be abused. Mr. Bacon declared he would rather see his party condemned to universal and never ending banishment from political power than to see such authority placed in the hands of the president.

An amendment opening the way to the appointment of volunteer officers to grades as high as that of captain in the regular establishment was adopted.

Just before adjournment Mr. Carter of Montana called up the bill apportioning the representatives of the United States among the several states. Without debate it was passed precisely as it came from the house. It now goes to the president for his signature.

Not since the Fifty-first congress has the house passed as many private pension bills at a single sitting as it did yesterday. In all 170 special pension bills were passed at the session. The most important was one to increase the pension of General Americus V. Rice from $36 to $100.

Grand Jury Investigates Bellevue.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Dr. A. E. McDonald, superintendent of the Manhattan State hospital on Blackwell's island, was before the grand jury yesterday and gave testimony regarding the maltreatment of patients at Bellevue. He exhibited photographs of many patients taken on their admission to the island and showing the marks of their ill treatment. Dr. McDonald also produced the books of the state hospital, showing the number of persons transferred there and various other facts the grand jury was anxious to know. It is probable that the investigation by the grand jury into the conditions at Bellevue will result in a strong presentment, if not indictments, against those responsible for the alleged outrages.

A Southward Movement Now.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—"Expansion Under New World Conditions" was the subject of an address delivered last night at the Hotel Savoy before the Patria club by the Rev. Dr. Josiah Strong. "We have arrived at a condition," said he, "when the great races of the world must enter upon a new era of competition with each other. The great movement which heretofore has been westward with the 'star of empire,' must hereafter be southward toward the tropics, where the unoccupied lands of the world are. Indeed, both of these movements have already commenced, and in the last 15 or 16 years the European powers have laid hold of more than 5,000,000 square miles in the tropics—an area larger than all Europe by half."

PORTO RICAN CASES.

Carlisle Opens the Argument For Plaintiffs.

THE ISLAND NOT FOREIGN TERRITORY

Congress Has No Right to Levy a Tax Between States and Territories—Congress Subject to Constitutional Limitations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Attorney General Griggs closed his argument in the Porto Rican cases before the supreme court yesterday.

Hon. John G. Carlisle, chief attorney for the plaintiffs, followed Mr. Griggs. He began by saying that he would not discuss questions of policy, as they belonged to another forum. The questions were to be settled only on the constitution. He said he had been as yet unable to form an opinion as to the exact contention of the government. First, however, he believed the contention was that the island of Porto Rico did not become a part of the United States either on the signing of the protocol or the ratification of the treaty of Paris, that there was a condition existing which placed the islands under the general protection and jurisdiction of the United States subject to certain limitations, that during a period between the acquisition of the territory and the passage of laws by congress the island might be governed by the president subject to laws of war and that the island did not become a part of the United States until admitted by congress, and until such time congress may legislate for the islands. From this it is argued, he said, that, not being a part of the United States, congress has a right to say what taxes may be levied and collected.

Mr. Carlisle read the portions of the Porto Rican act establishing the rates of duty and disposition of the moneys collected as a basis for his complete argument and said the court would see that on all goods from the United States to Porto Rico there should be levied 15 per cent of duties on foreign goods, with the internal revenue of Porto Rico added, and that goods from Porto Rico to the United States enter upon the payment of 15 per cent of customs, with internal revenue only added when the goods are of Porto Rico manufacture, while goods from other countries paying the Porto Rico internal revenue may come into this country without other internal revenue tax.

"We insist," he said, "that this is not an import duty. We object to the form under which the government seized our goods and held them on their arrival at Porto Rico until we paid them tribute in the form of a tax. An import is something coming from a foreign country. Porto Rico cannot be a foreign country, for its courts send appeals to this body. This is therefore not an import tax but an export tax upon goods sent out of these states, and there are two specific prohibitions against such export duties."

Opinions of the court were read to show that that tribunal had held that no duty might be laid on exports from one state to another as to a foreign country.

Following this, Mr. Carlisle argued that there could be no export duty and said that there must be fixed some time when Porto Rico ceased to be foreign territory, and even with that point he urged that the tax must be considered unconstitutional. If congress could levy export duties, he said, there could be as many rates of duty as there are states or territories, for there is no provision for uniformity or export taxation.

Argument was made that the tax was an export tax and as such in direct violation of the constitution of the United States. This tax, said he, which under this law is just as general as a tariff law, is said to be a local tax. It is collected everywhere, in every state and territory. How can it be called local? Is the fact that proceeds of this tax are to be used for certain purposes of more consequence than that the tax is laid first and appropriated afterward in proving that this is a local tax? More than half the general duties are, he said, collected at New York, yet it is not a local tax, but a tax the proceeds of which may be used everywhere.

"We deny," he went on, "that congress has any right to impose any such tax upon the trade between the states and territories. Congress may regulate commerce and may govern the territory, but under the guise of governing that territory may not govern the states of New York and Pennsylvania. When it places a tax upon the goods taken to Porto Rico, it is governing the state, and limitation must follow every power." The power of congress to legislate must be subject to all the limitations of the constitution. "Had it not been that African slavery was involved," said Mr. Carlisle in conclusion, "there would have been no dissent from the decision in the Dred Scott case. Now we have a case with the negro eliminated. We have a case where citizens are taking their property into a territory of the United States, but in which there is no conflicting point like slavery. The conditions are changed. Then the unlimited power of congress was urged by the advocates of slavery; now it is urged by the advocates of freedom. If it is true that there lies this arbitrary power in the constitution, we should be delighted that it was not discovered for more than 100 years until we had a great country made up of free states and filled with free people." He did not believe that the framers of the constitution ever meant to give to congress unlimited power over the lives and property of the people.

ALL ON BOARD SAVED

Brave Fishermen Rescue the Russie's Passengers.

FOUR DAYS IN DEADLY PERIL.

Thrilling Account of the Terrible Experiences on Board the Stranded Steamer Off the French Coast.

MARSEILLES, Jan. 12.—The passengers of the French steamer Russie, rescued off Faraman light after four days of terrible suffering and anxiety, arrived here by rail at half past 7 last evening A great crowd was in waiting at the station to greet them. They were loudly cheered as they left the train, and many touching scenes ensued when the sufferers met their relatives. Admiral Besson, naval prefect of Marseilles, who was present, expressed his sympathy.

Lieutenant Guatherot tells the following story of the Russie's experiences:

"The steamer ran ashore at 5 o'clock Monday morning. Only the watch was on deck at the time. The passengers rushed up undressed when they felt the shock. and a panic ensued. The captain and officers finally succeeded in calming the people, and the boats were prepared for launching.

"It was found, however, that the sea was too rough. A signal gun was fired, and Bengal lights were burned, which were perceived from the lighthouse. During the day people could be seen dragging boats along the shore, but no attempt was made to launch these.

"As night came on the Russie began to sink. The after hold and the engine room were inundated, and the vessel, which rolled badly, heeled to the starboard. The passengers took refuge in the first cabin and the smoking room.

"Tuesday morning a violent wave burst in the door of the saloon. The passengers, who were again stricken with a panic, rushed on deck. We reassured them and barricaded the doorway with mattresses. All day we were obliged helplessly to watch attempts to reach us with rockets and lifeboats from the shore and by tugs.

"We passed the night in a state of the deepest anguish. The waves increased in fury and dashed over the vessel, which was thumping on her starboard side, until in the early morning the plates gave way, and the stern of the vessel went to pieces. The utmost consternation now prevailed among the passengers, who fled to the forecastle deck amidships and the foredeck, clinging to the rails and stanchions. Again we witnessed desperate efforts all day long to rescue us.

"When night fell without relief and with the tempest still raging, the scene on board was frightful. The passengers seemed heartbroken, the women weeping convulsively.

"Thursday morning the cruiser Galilee hove in sight. Hope revived as she was seen approaching us with engines reversed. The lamentations of the passengers changed to rejoicings. The women cried 'Bravo!' and 'Long live the French sailors!' But suddenly the Galilee stopped. The water was too shallow, and the waves threatened to engulf her. She made for the open sea, and the passengers were again plunged into the deepest despair.

"The efforts on shore with lifeboats and rockets were renewed, but without success. A rain of small shot from the rockets fell on the deck, endangering the seamen. Finally the crew of a lifeboat got alongside and gave us a line. This we hauled in in order to drag the hawser attached to it, but the hawser broke. Toward evening a big sea swept all the holds except the forehold.

"Our provisions now were almost exhausted. We had only a few biscuits and tins of preserves, with wine and some artichokes and oranges, a portion of the cargo in the forehold. All our solids were consumed at the last meal, Thursday evening.

"We passed an atrocious night, but were rescued this morning. All the cargo was lost, and only a part of the mail and the passengers' baggage was saved. The accident was due to mistaking the Faraman light for the Planier light, a mistake which has caused the loss and wreck of more than 20 steamers and given to the coast the name of 'the mariners' graveyard.'"

Baltimore's Hospital Horror.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 12.—The December grand jury in its report submitted to Judge Phelps flays the present management of the Female House of Refuge. It declares the institution a place of horrors, where inmates are outrageously treated and where the innocent are morally corrupted and ruined. An alleged instance is given where an inmate was knocked down by an enraged officer, dragged about by the hair and whipped with a horsewhip. She was afterward gagged, put in a straitjacket and locked in a dark cell. Another instance is given where an inmate was driven insane by such treatment. It is recommended that state and city aid be taken from the institution, that the inmates be taken away.

Tarrant Firm Held Responsible.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The coroner's jury investigating the recent explosion in the building occupied by Tarrant & Co., wholesale druggists, returned a verdict holding the members of the company criminally responsible. The members of the firm, Thomas S. Main and William G. D. Powers, were ordered to be produced before the jury today to be admitted in bail of $5,000 each for the action of the grand jury.

New York Legislature.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—The senate yesterday was in session for five minutes without a quorum and adjourned without doing any business except the introduction of six bills, three of which were previously introduced in the assembly. The assembly also adjourned very speedily, there being no quorum.

Hanna Writes For London Paper.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Daily Mail this morning publishes a two column article signed by Mr. Mark Hanna, discussing the aspects of the merchant shipping question in the United States and giving his reasons for supporting the bill now before the United States senate.

Rebels Driven Back.

COLON, Colombia, Jan. 12.—The few rebels who were outside the town of Panama have been driven back to the bush by the government troops. There is no extensive revolutionary movement.

LAST YEAR'S COINAGE.

Government Mints Did a Record Breaking Business.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Mr. George E. Roberts, the director of the mint, in his annual report shows that the coinage of the past year was in excess of that executed in any previous year in the history of the service, aggregating $141,351,960 as compared with $136,855,676 in the last fiscal year. The value of the gold coinage was slightly below that of the previous year, being $107,937,110 as compared with $108,177,180. The coinage of silver dollars was $18,244,984 as compared with $18,254,709 in the previous year. The chief increase was in the output of subsidiary and minor coins, which surpassed all records and, it is stated, may doubtless be attributed to the extraordinary activity of retail trade throughout the country. The coinage of subsidiary silver amounted to 57,114,270 pieces of the value of $12,876,849 and of minor coins to the extraordinary total of 101,301,753 pieces of the value of $2,243,017. The seigniorage, or profit, on this coinage was $5,477,525.

The deposits of gold bullion at the mints and assay offices of the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, exclusive of redeposits, were of the value of $133,920,119 against $143,497,190 reported the previous year.

The total deposits of gold were not so great as in the previous year, the imports of bullion showing a decline, but the deposits of domestic bullion again surpassed all records, amounting to $87,458,836 against $76,252,487 last year.

The seigniorage on the coinage of silver dollars, subsidiary and minor coins during the year amounted to $10,286,302.

At the highest market price for silver during the year the commercial ratio of silver to gold was as 1 to 33.01, at the lowest price 1 to 35.41, at the average price 1 to 34.44.

FARMER FIGHTS RAILROAD.

An Indiana Line Tied Up In a Legal Tangle.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 12.—Traffic on the Chicago and Southeastern railroad is blockaded southeast of this city, and government mails are at a standstill on the line. This is the result of a legal tangle, the outgrowth of an attempted condemnation proceedings against Wesley Grantham, a farmer. The fight has been in progress seven years.

Grantham obtained several years ago a writ of ejectment against the railroad company and, failing to secure a settlement, placed the writ in the hands of the sheriff, who at once took a force of men to the farm and tore up a lot of track. The company's representatives rushed into court and sought an ejection, but this was denied.

Hundreds of farmers, sympathizing with Grantham in his fight, gathered and established an armed guard over the land. During the night two railroad bridges, one of them 60 feet long, were dynamited by unknown parties.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Many east side bakers in New York city are reported to sleep on the dough they knead.

Pearson, the Prohibitionist sheriff of Portland, Me., has begun a crusade against the pocket flask.

All New York hospitals are overcrowded with grip victims. Thirty-six deaths were recorded during the week.

The Crouse block, one of the largest apartment buildings in Syracuse, was damaged by fire to the extent of $10,000.

Dr. H. H. McAuley of Chicago claims $100,000 indemnity from Portugal for alleged false imprisonment at Lourenco Marques.

New York bowlers captured first and second honors in the bowling of the two men team championship of the United States at Chicago.

Tramp Heir to a Fortune.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Jan. 12.—After drifting over the world for many years as a tramp George Gallaway, alias "Church" Gallaway, who is now in the Warren county jail on a charge of vagrancy, has received word that he has fallen heir to an estate of $75,000. The windfall has come too late, however, as Gallaway is already reaping what he sowed during his years of "seeing the world." When arrested on his last charge, he was sick and was removed to the Easton hospital. Later on he was returned to the jail as incurable. His mind, once brilliant, now fails him altogether at times. He lies in a critical condition and may not live many days.

Mormon Elders at Hudson.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Leander Robins, James A. Goulding and Delworth Woollen, Mormon elders from Utah, are in Hudson endeavoring to establish a church of the Mormon faith in that city, but disregarding the polygamy feature. It is said that they will visit other towns on the Hudson river for the same purpose. Their mission, they say, is to explain the faith and correct various erroneous ideas that the public entertains about it.

Site For Philippine Naval Station.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary Long has received a cable dispatch from Admiral Remey announcing that the board of officers convened to select the most suitable site in the Philippines for a permanent naval station has fixed upon Olangapo, on Subig bay. As a result of this recommendation Mr. Long has sent to congress a recommendation that $1,000,000 be appropriated for beginning the work on the proposed new naval station.

Burglars In Binghamton.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 12.—The number of burglaries in this city recently has been almost unprecedented. Thursday night three large business establishments were entered, and at one of these the miscreants were discovered. An alarm resulted in the capture of two of the men by the police after a hot chase, in which a fusillade of shots were exchanged.

Cudahy Home on Fire.

OMAHA, Jan. 12.—Last night the residence of Edward A. Cudahy was found to be on fire. The flames were quickly extinguished. The fire chief is not yet satisfied as to whether the fire was of incendiary origin or spontaneous. It originated on the outside and might have been due to either cause. The incident has renewed the excitement over the famous Cudahy kidnaping case.

EUROPE GRABBED TOO MUCH.

Prince Chun Says That Was the Cause of the Uprising.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Prince Chun, brother of Emperor Kwang Su, paid a long visit to Dr. Mumm von Schwartzenstein, German minister to China, which, according to a special dispatch from Peking, was a most unusual development of Chinese etiquette. Dr. Mumm von Schwartzenstein, in a dispatch to the foreign office on the subject, says: "Prince Chun created a sympathetic impression. He strongly resembles his brother, the emperor, but is more robust and more intelligent."

Prince Chun says the Chinese have a side question. The foreigners do not seem to realize that China objects to the maintenance of the legation guard as more than a purely temporary measure, because there is no necessity for it. The Boxer movement, he asserts, was a purely patriotic one, meaning China for the Chinese. For many years the nations begged for trading privileges, having obtained which and waxed rich from the profits thereof they forced undesirable treaties upon China with threats of confiscation of the choicest parts of the country. The slightest riot has been made the occasion to acquire territory and obtain valuable concessions. Naturally, even a peaceable people will turn at last.

The people of China, Prince Chun further declares, have been gradually worked up over the recent loss of territory at Wei-Hai-Wei, Port Arthur and elsewhere, and also over the granting of rights and honors to Catholic missionaries by officials.

The Chinese, he says, are the most peaceful race on earth, and such trouble as recently occurred is not likely to happen again for centuries. He believes the emperor is friendly to foreigners who desire to preserve the integrity of the empire.

ULTIMATUM TO INSURGENTS.

Native Filipinos Will Aid Americans. Religion In the Schools.

MANILA, Jan. 12.—The civil officers of several towns in Zambales province met at San Antonio recently and signed an ultimatum to send to the insurgent leaders notifying the insurgents that they will be paid 30 pesos apiece for rifles and liberated if they agree to keep quiet, setting forth that since General MacArthur's proclamation it is impossible to any longer contribute assistance and announcing that if the insurgents do not return to their homes by Jan. 30 they will be considered enemies of their people, who will then assist the Americans to pursue them.

The first day's public discussion of the bill to establish a department of public instruction yesterday developed a contest on the question of religion in public schools. Interest centers in the section permitting priests and ministers to teach religion for half an hour three times weekly outside of school hours provided the parents express a written desire for such instruction and prohibiting teachers from conducting religious exercises or teaching religion.

The directors of the federal party were represented by a committee who, although Catholics, argued strongly in favor of the elimination of the section. They declared that the use of schoolhouses for religious purposes is contrary to the United States constitution and also to the platforms of the American parties and the Philippine federal party and is certain to cause discord.

RUSSIA'S POSITION.

Minister De Giers Denies Rumors of Special Agreement.

PEKING, Jan. 12.—M. de Giers, the Russian minister to China, denies the current report that Russia is endeavoring to make a special agreement with China irrespective of the other powers.

"Had this been the case," he said yesterday, "I would not have signed the joint note, although probably so far as Manchuria is concerned Russia and China will make special arrangements which will not conflict with any treaties or agreements made by Russia and the other joint powers.

"I do not believe that Russia has any intention of keeping Manchuria. Indeed she is placing all the Chinese officials possible in office. Probably, however, it will be necessary to guard the railroad for an indefinite period. I do not believe that there are 250,000 Russian soldiers in Manchuria."

With reference to the claim made by some of the other envoys that Russia violated her word in taking a concession at Tien-tsin, M. de Giers said:

"Nothing of the kind. Tien-tsin is practically a foreign city, and Russia felt the necessity of having a certain portion of the land there for the benefit of her trade interests. The land granted had been virtually unused for any purpose and was almost worthless. Russia will make it a valuable property, benefiting herself and China. I do not consider this like an acquisition of territory."

Rewards For the Brave.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary Long has under consideration the appointment of a board of naval officers for the purpose of suitably rewarding the officers and men of the navy and marine corps who participated with distinction in the recent campaign in China. The board is to go over the papers and official reports of the various acts of gallantry that were performed. It is not limited as to what form the rewards shall take, whether in the shape of a brevet, medal or other method of recognition. A great number of acts of conspicuous bravery were performed by the marine corps, and the secretary is desirous that these shall receive their full measure of reward.

Won Suit For Death of Husband.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Mrs. Jennie Racine has secured a verdict of $6,000 against the Erie railroad in the supreme court at Goshen for the death of her husband, Touman Racine, who was killed at a grade crossing in this city last spring.

To Succeed Lord Seymour.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—It is rumored that Sir William Butler will be appointed lieutenant general commanding the troops in Canada in succession to Lord William Frederick Ernest Seymour.

Heavy Liabilities of London Firms.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The liabilities of the 16 Stock Exchange firms which recently failed aggregate £2,000,000, in one case the figures reaching £900,000.

MORE THREATENING.

Cape Colony Invasion Goes on Unchecked.

KITCHENER HOLDS THE RAILWAYS.

He Is Organizing a Force of Thirty Thousand Horse and Will Then Resume Offensive Operations.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—It is understood that Lord Kitchener now holds securely all the railroad lines in South Africa, having recovered possession of the Delagoa Bay line, which had been cut Jan. 7.

According to the Pretoria correspondent of The Daily Mail, Lord Kitchener is now organizing a force of 30,000 irregular horse, which will occupy some weeks. When this force is ready, he will resume offensive operations.

Meanwhile the invasion of Cape Colony looks more threatening. The news that Commandant Hertzog has two guns is rather startling, as it was formerly asserted that the invaders had no guns.

The defenses of Cape Town, including two 4.7 naval guns, are now completed, and the recruiting of volunteers is active throughout the colony. According to dispatches to The Daily Express, the admiral of the Cape fleet is prepared in an emergency to land a naval brigade of 2,000 men, with six Hotchkiss guns.

A Murraysburg telegram this morning says the Dutch there received the British troops sullenly, and it reports that there are rumors that the colonial rebels of the neighborhood are joining the invaders.

The Pretoria correspondent of The Morning Post wires that a member of the burgher peace committee whom he interviewed frankly confessed that there was no hope of many burghers surrendering.

May Destroy Express Companies.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Absolute control of the vast interests of the nation's express companies may fall into the hands of the railroad financial powers. Preliminary steps toward such an object are said to have been taken under the guidance of J. Pierpont Morgan, James J. Hill and others who are figuring in the recently reported railway deals, and that the general scheme has been outlined. The report has it that the powers intend to conduct the express business of the country as a regular department of railroad operation, strong provisions being made to have all roads act in harmony. While nothing definite regarding the plans is obtainable, it is claimed to be the intention of the railroad officials to refuse to renew contracts with the companies where the remaining life of the contracts is not long and to make outright purchases of franchises where the contracts still have long lives before them.

Ocean Grove Menaced.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Residents of Ocean Grove, N. J., believe the peril which threatens the very life and existence of the Ocean Grove association and its Methodist camp meeting resort, the greatest of its kind in the world, exists in the movement of property owners on the New Jersey shore to establish an ocean boulevard from Sandy Hook on the north to Sea Girt on the south, a distance of about 30 miles. There is now a drive the greater part of the way, but for a space of nearly a mile Ocean Grove squarely blocks the way. At the present session of the New Jersey legislature a bill will be introduced to have a state road made through Ocean Grove and Wesley and Fletcher lakes, at either end of the town, bridged. Under existing conditions a detour of nearly a mile must be made, part of the way over a traffic laden road.

Fight Over Possession of Gems.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Charles E. Mather of New Brighton, S. I., convicted of stealing a $3,500 diamond necklace and a $21,000 rope of pearls, is now awaiting sentence. A big legal fight over the possession of the gems, which are now in the keeping of McAleenan, a pawnbroker of this city, is promised. Mather got the necklace from Frederick R. Lewis & Co. Oct. 4 on memorandum. He pawned the jewels at McAleenan's for $1,500. Next day he got the $21,000 rope of pearls from Edward W. Smith & Co. and pawned them with McAleenan for $4,500. Then he went to Seattle, Wash., where he was arrested. After being convicted of the larceny of the rope of pearls he pleaded guilty to the larceny of the necklace.

Quay Confident.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—Colonel M. S. Quay has returned from Washington with United States Senator Penrose and will remain in Harrisburg until after the senate and house ballot separately on Tuesday for United States senator. Mr. Quay declined to discuss the senatorial situation except to repeat his previous declaration that he would be elected on the first ballot and that it would not be necessary for the two bodies to ballot jointly on Wednesday.

Snow Bound In Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 12.—Dispatches from Sevastopol depict the sufferings of 3,000 snow bound passengers on ten trains throughout the southwest as being extreme. One train was inaccessible for a whole week and others for two and three days. The passengers were largely school children and people going home for the holidays.

John Marshall Day.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Adolph Moses, secretary of the national committee to arrange for the celebration of John Marshall day, Feb. 4, stated that the celebration will be universal in the United States. There will be banquets, orations and addresses at public schools, universities and law colleges.

Much Sickness In Binghamton.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Health Officer Hix says that there are at least 2,000 cases of grip in the city and that the weather conditions are such that there is small hope of getting the epidemic under control. There are about 50 cases of typhoid fever also.

Compulsory Vaccination.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 12.—Health Officer Moore has issued an order for the compulsory vaccination of every scholar in the city, whether attending public or private or parochial schools.

Football Player Dead.

TAUNTON, Mass., Jan. 12.—Lawrence Martin, aged 20, who was hurt in a football game at Fall River Christmas day, is dead of his injuries.

Rural Free Delivery.

Judging from the report made of the work of the rural free delivery through Middlesex county, that innovation in the work of the postal service has proved a decided success. There are five carriers who leave New Brunswick daily and distribute mail matter through the rural districts of Middlesex county.

This plan was put in operation there beginning December 15. From that time up to January 1, nearly 2,800 pieces of mail were carried for distribution and over 400 were received. There was a very uneven distribution among the five routes, one carrying 870 pieces of mail matter while the other only amounted to 211.

It has, however, made it possible for the residents who live in the farming sections of the State to get their mail daily without a long drive or tramp to the postoffice. The small postoffices, like New Market, still continue on the old lines and the people of that immediate neighborhood go after their mail as usual, but the folk whose homes are scattered through the section some distance from any postoffice are the ones who receive the advantages of this new system.

So favorably has this plan been received that already the people of Hillsborough township, Somerset county, have prepared a petition with a long list of signers, asking that they be granted the benefits of a rural free delivery route. The petition was sent to Congressman Howell and has been filed by him with the postoffice department.

Tax on Corporations.

Because so many of the great corporations of the country have taken advantage of the liberal incorporation terms offered by the statutes of New Jersey, this State has often been termed the home of the trusts. The income from the tax on these combinations of capital amounts to a large sum which is annually turned into the State treasury.

According to the annual report of the State Board of Assessors, which has just been submitted to the Legislature, this tax last year reached the sum of $2,051,209. The corporation tax rate is one tenth of one per cent. on the paid-in capital stock of the corporations. The total paid-in capital of the New Jersey corporations would therefore amount to $2 051 209,000, which is divided among 6,065 different corporations.

The estimate of the State Corporation department is that the paid up stock is but twenty per cent. of the authorized capital stock. That would make the authorized capital stock of those 6,065 corporations $10 256 045,000.

It is evident that the citizens of Somerville have a problem before them which is going to trouble them considerably before it is answered. The present school house there is in very poor condition and is not adequate to accommodate the children who are entitled to attend it. The Board of Education wanted a new building, but the project was voted down at a meeting of the citizens. Now those people who defeated that project will have to find some substitute for the plan which they defeated. Something will have to be done very soon and it may be that the time will come when the citizens will see the wisdom of the Board and reconsider their action.

It has been predicted, says the Philadelphia Record, that in time the newspaper advertisement will be the universal and exclusive means of publicity, not only for business but for all other affairs. The existence of a tendency in that direction is proved by the appearance in the French newspapers in Canada of advertisements which offer thanks to the saints. In a recent number of the Montreal Journal were cards of thanks to St. Expedit for having aided the advertiser in securing a contract, and to other saints for various blessings.

The New Jersey Legislature will resume operations Monday evening. Now that the organization has been completed, the Legislators will begin to think about getting down to work. There are several important things that will be considered at this session.

One of the acts of the present Legislature will probably be to establish another Normal School in the northern part of the State.

Because the city has existed for several years without proper street signs is no reason why it should continue to do so.

Here it is well into January and not a real snow storm yet. Mr. Devoe's predictions for this winter were sadly out of gear.

There is promise of a number of indictments when the Union county Grand Jury finishes its labors.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

It is reported that Assemblyman Chester M. Smith, of this county, will introduce a bill at the present session of the Legislature to incorporate the townships of Fanwood, Westfield and Cranford, into a city, to be known as Westfield City. Cranford property owners, to whom the subject has been broached, are opposed to the consolidation plan.—Rahway Union Democrat.

* * * * * * *

The succession of Hamilton Kean to the chairmanship is looked upon as an ill omen by the leading Republicans. It has long been a saying among politicians that John Kean's money had made him more popular in every other county in New Jersey than anything he had ever done at home. Union county has suffered from his grasping tendencies and his unpopularity at home has been evinced on many occasions.

The Kean forces will, of course, control the party machinery of the county for some time to come; but it is a common secret that they will be helpless when it comes to rendering the party any assistance at the polls. From all of which it will be seen that the bitter war in the Republican camp in Union is by no means at an end.—Trenton True American.

Mrs. Fingerhuth, the woman who shot a man who was attempting to force his way into her house, suffers innocently from the consequences of her act. She was tried, convicted, given a sentence of a few months, only because of all the mitigating circumstances, and was then released. She went to her home, near Plainfield, and, a few days ago, constables were given papers to serve on her in a suit for rent. Acting under legal advice she refused to receive the papers, and the constables left. Instantly the story gets abroad that she raised a gun and threatened to fire on them, and all that. The papers took up the story and sent it broadcast, and editors with massive brains told what should be done with such a woman. There was no foundation whatever for the story, but Mrs. Fingerhuth, having been in trouble once, is remembered not for what she did, but for what was charged against her.—Elizabeth Journal.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Addison H. Clark, tax collector of Westfield township, had an experience on New Year's night which will, hereafter, probably keep him at home on that holiday. Mr. Clark, with one of Westfield's most charming young women, went to New York on New Year's night to hear the chimes at old Trinity church. They were standing in the old grave yard with about ten thousand other "countrymen" shortly before the hour of midnight when men in the rear began to push forward. The Westfield young woman was pushed over a chain fence which guards a grave of one of New York's illustrious dead, and a policeman helped her up and then turned his attention to Mr. Clark who stood by. The officer thinking that the tax collector had caused the trouble began to have a little stick practice when the young woman, called out, "Please Mr. Policeman, he is with me, don't hit him." Mr. Clark and the young woman are keeping mum but like all good things it had to come out.

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your GRAIN-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain-O every week. I am ten years old.

Opening Spring Wash Goods.

Dainty, Cool, Stylish, The Latest, Bewitching.

Fast Colors, Durable, Reliable, Exclusive, Immense Variety

SATURDAY, JANUARY 12th, 8 A. M.

All Fashion Authorities agree that the coming season will be memorable as a "Wash Goods Season." Anticipating an unusually heavy demand for these goods we have exercized the greatest care in making our selections. Carefully choosing from the numerous lines offered us, only the choicest styles, and rejecting such as did not measure up to the high standard we insist upon. We have succeeded in bringing together an assortment of Wash Fabrics which for variety, reliability and general attractiveness far suspasses the showing of all former years, and which, when carefully inspected, will deeply interest the refined tastes of the cultivated shopping public.

"A. F. C." CORDED NOVELTIES, 27 in wide, in fine styles permanent colors, strong and serviceable.

"RED SEAL ZEPHYRS," 27 in wide, equally pretty and durable.

"CALEDONIAN ZEPHYRS," 32-in wide, quite sheer with lace effect, lightly shot through with constrasting color, exceedingly pretty and entirely original.

"ROYAL FABRIC," slightly heavier, 32 in wide in corded and Jacquard effects, especially to be commended for hard service.

"EGYPTIAN TISSUES," 32 in wide quite sheer, as name suggests, but woven in corded effects in such way as to add strength to daintiness. There are 38 perfect styles and we predict a large sale

"SILK ZEPHYR," 27-inch wide. A mercerized fabric in wash silk effects, and one of striking beauty.

"SILCOTTE," 27 in wide, also a mercerized fabric closely resembling silk which it exceeds in beauty and wearing quality and illustrates in remarkable degree the wonderful skill acquired in cotton weaving.

"CISMAROSA DIMITY." A wonderfully dainty fabric in the most equisite colors, and marvelous designs, each pattern a dream of beauty.

This is a brief sketch outlining the character of our showing. We have not overdrawn the picture. Cold Type cannot do the subject justice. You are cordially invited to attend our "Opening" and if you can't attend—write for samples.

A WHITE GOODS SHOWING. At the same we shall display our advance styles in new white goods. Everybody will be interested in white goods for they will be generally worn. Lace stripe lawn, satin stripe lawns, corded lawns, plisse stripes, plain lawns, piques, nainsooks, Persian lawns, swisses, organdies, etc. New, exclusive and fair priced.

NEW HAMBURG AND LACES.

The new goods are here and on exhibition and a fine exhibit they make. The rigid rule of "only the newest—only the best" is applied to the selection of these goods and the display commends the application of the rule. All overs in cambric, nainsook, lace stripes, all over lace tucked suisses, hemstitch effects and all the new conceits. Cambric, nainsook and suisse edges in variety. Dainty edges selected for turn over collars. Point de Venise edgings, insertings and all overs to match. Net top orientals in white, butter and fecile. Point de Paris laces with insertings to match. Italians, valenciennes, platt, vals, torchons, reminaissance, braids, threads, buttons, patterns.

IN THE CARPET STORE.

The chief problem of a carpet business is to dispose of the short lengths. We solve the problem by selling them at greatly reduced prices. Lengths suitable for small bed rooms, halls, etc., as follows: 75c and 85c Tapestry Brussels at 45c and 50c. 1 00 and 1 10 Velvets at 75c. 1 00 and 1.10 Axminsters at 75c. 65c Best all-wool Ingrains at 49c. Rug Lengths of above at 35c and 50c and 75c each. Old carpets made over and relaid by skilled workmen.

Saturday in Our Basement---Bargain Day.

GYPSY GIRL HAS ELOPED.

POSEY HARRISON, THE NEXT QUEEN, DISAPPEARED FROM HER HOME.

Supposed to Have Run Away With Her Cousin—Was Selected as Queen's Successor Near Plainfield Last Year.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Madison, Jan. 12.—Posey Harrison, daughter of Nailor Harrison, the gypsy king, left her home in this place at midnight Thursday night under circumstances which cause her father to believe she went away and was married to her cousin, Morris Harrison. During the evening Posey was engaged in her usual work about the house and at 11 o'clock retired with her sister Daisy. At midnight she had left the bed and all trace of her whereabouts was lost. The front door was partially opened and carpet placed upon the steps, evidently to prevent her footsteps being heard by her father. Several of her best dresses were taken and other wearing apparel

It is thought that one of the local liverymen was engaged to meet the couple and take them to the midnight train. The supposed groom had been with the gypsy king for several months as a guest, and not the least suspicion was aroused that he was an admirer of the daughter or a suitor for her hand. It seems, however, he has been more or less devoted to her for four years. She is seventeen years of age and will succeed her grandmother as queen of the united gypsy tribes of the United States upon her death.

Last summer she was selected by her grandmother as her successor and went through the ceremonies preliminary to the actual crowning when the tribe was encamped near Plainfield. Hundreds of people were attracted to the place by the announcement of the ceremonies and Posey figured prominently in the public eye for a short time.

It is the general custom of the gypsies to run away and get married. The mother of Morris Harrison is a leader of the tribes now traveling in Pennsylvania and is a sister of the wife of the gypsy king. His father, who is dead, was an uncle of the gypsy king. Posey is very dark and beautiful, and is always gaudily dressed and wears not less than a dozen rings on her fingers. She had just returned from a trip to Buffalo with her mother, where they spent a month in fortune telling and selecting their quarters for the Pan-American Exposition.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, January 12.—From the number of victims that are being added to the list daily, it seems as though the grip, in proportion, is as prevalent in the borough as in other nearby places. It was estimated yesterday that from fifty to one hundred citizens of the borough are suffering from the malady, some of which are severe cases. So far, however, none of the cases have proved fatal.

The following is the list of the meritorious pupils of the Lincoln school, who have been present every day during the school month ending December 21, 1900: Gussie Brugger, Emma Conover, Lena Brugger, Ida Johnson, Annie Galuska, Lloyd Brokaw, Samuel Johnston, Frank Brugger, Arthur Johnston, Ruby Rippard, Percy Aller, Florence Rippard and Bertie Brokaw.

Henry Garretson went to Trenton today to attend the double wedding of Miss Dela Howell Maris to Elmer Blackford and Miss Elmer Howell Maris to Herbert Benward which takes place this afternoon in the Trinity church.

About sixteen pupils were secured at the first meeting of the dancing class held Thursday and nearly as many more are expecting to join before the next meeting. The afternoon class will probably be discontinued.

No prayer meeting is to be held this evening, but tomorrow evening a union service will be held in the Presbyterian church. It is expected that Rev. N. J. Sproull will be well enough to deliver the sermon.

The choir being formed for the Episcopal church will hold its first rehearsal with Miss Jennie Haynes at her home next Friday evening, beginning at 6:45 o'clock.

Miss Beidleman, teacher of the Greenbrook school, has gone to Trenton for a few days' visit with her parents.

Nathan Wade and family, of Bound Brook, have taken up their residence on Washington avenue.

The Whist Club will meet next Thursday evening with Mrs. A. W. Warden.

Alvah Gray has been confined to the house for the past few days by illness.

Mrs. Elam TenEyck spent yesterday with New York friends.

Mrs. Margaret Sutphen is recover- from a severe illness.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, Jan. 12—The following are the meritorious pupils of the school for the school month ending December 21, 1900: High School Department—Hazel Lord, Vera Nelson, Bessie Tappen, Frank Kelley, Ralph Eckert. Grammar Department—Emma Danz, Bessie Beetham, Mary Conover, Lona Becker, Grace Lecompt, Iva Dayton, Carrie Brower, Eddie Johnson, Arvid Johnson, William Piddington, Zirone Cline, Richard Meeker. Intermediate Department—Catharine Krause, Erna Siercke, Maud Rupell, Annie Winkler, Bertha Nelson, Annie Lund, Emma Elliott, Sadie Brower, Louise Schworer, Hilda Johnson, William Johnson, Lester Dutcher, Ethan Rogers, Claud Penrose, Alfred Becker, Leo Osborn, Lester Nelson, Edison Lord. Primary Department—Gertrude Giles, Annie Wingess, Grace Burdick, Joe Penrose, Ford Orben, Frank Corielli, Paul Whitford, George Corielli, Carrie Smith, Hannah Nelson, Ella Nelson, Raymond Whitford, Arthur Lutivise, Herbert Casterline, Emile Nelson, Louise Musa.

The Lehigh section men have commenced relaying the tracks between this place and South Plainfield, using heavier rails, made necessary by the increased travel on the road.

A large number of young people who had intended playing hockey matches on the pond today are greatly disappointed over the poor condition of the ice.

A business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society connected with the First Baptist church will be held this evening.

Several loads of cinders have greatly improved the condition of the sidewalk in front of A. G. Nelson's store.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 12—Mrs. John Archibold, of Washington Valley, was taken suddenly ill, while on her way home from the village, Wednesday evening. The attack was very sudden, and, before she was able to reach a house to get assistance, she fell in the street near the fur mill. The family of Mr. Bell kindly took her in and summoned Dr. Westcott, who is still attending her at their home, as she is too ill to be removed yet.

Rev. Mr. Bright will lead the last of the Week of Prayer meetings in the Methodist church tonight. The meetings have been well attended during the week and a most cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the final meeting this evening.

Mayor Henry L. Hall, of the borough, who has been seriously ill for the past two months with typhoid fever, is improving slowly, but it will be some time before he will be able to resume his mayoralty duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaloway have returned from their wedding tour, which was spent at Scranton, Pa., and are visiting at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Coddington, of Terrell road.

The Borough of Fanwood is still without a marshal, no successor having as yet been appointed to take the place of ex Marshal Tayner, who was removed by the Borough Council Saturdny night last.

The work of painting the exterior of the Baptist church building is nearly completed. The much needed improvement adds greatly to the beauty of the building. Henry Keuhn has the contract for the work.

Rev. G. M. Shott is one of the latest to suffer from the grip. Mr. Shott has been confined to the house for several days but expects to be able to occupy his pulpit on Sunday.

The subject of Rev. G. M. Shott's sermons for Sunday will: be in the morning: "Returning to the Almighty" in the evening, "Finding Water."

Owing to the illness of the pastor, Rev. G. M. Shott, Wm. VanValkenburg led the prayer meeting in the Baptist church last evening.

No change is noted in the condition of Stites M. Parse who is seriously ill at his home with a very severe attack of the grip.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, Jan. 12—The following is a list of the meritorious pupils of the South Plainfield school who have been present every day during the school month ending December 21, 1900: Grammar Department—Mabel Arrowsmith, Edna Eckert, Mildred Soper, Nellie Gage, Eddie Horn, Kittie Monahan, Clarence Hoffman. Intermediate Department—Mabel Cubberley, Joseph Miller, George Gage. John Geary, John McDonough, Patrick McDonough, John Nelson, Carl Nelson, Nellie Geary, Euna Eckert, Katie Gano, Marguerite McDonough, Jennie Bohl, May Bohl, May Gage. Primary—John Miller. Albert Bernasky, Stanley Weaver, Willie Bohl, Michel Saverd, Andrew McDonough, Delia Saverd, Norah McDonough, Nellie Hogan, Winnie Saverd, Henry Bernasky, John Reilly, Walter Poling, Joseph Horn, Leo Poling, Helen Bernasky, Rebecca Arrowsmith, Mary Phillips, Lillie Hogan, Annie Nelson, Gertrude Nelson.

Cormick McDonough has sworn out warrants against Harry J. Manning and Claude Cubberly who refused to stop skating on McDonough's pond when ordered to. They are charged with malicious mischief and the destroying of ten tons of ice. The alleged damage is fixed at $50. Bail has been furnished for their appearance before the Grand Jury in April.

The old school building is to be sold this afternoon at auction to the highest responsible bidder. The sale is at 2 o'clock. The committee in charge is John Meeker, William Randolph and John Morris.

A local freight while passing the South Plainfield depot broke a break hanger which hung down and ripped up several feet of the platform, doing considerable damage.

Mrs. Willsford has returned home after a week's visit with her parents in Easton.

Philip Smith will make a few days visit at his grandmother's.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Bayern.

München. Im Jahre 1899 waren im Königreich Bayern im Ganzen 170,261 Kinder impfpflichtig. Von diesen wurden 153,958 geimpft und zwar 152,075 mit Erfolg. Unter den 16,303 ungeimpft Gebliebenen waren die Meisten auf Grund ärztlichen Zeugnisses vorläufig zurückgestellt. Vorschriftswidrig der Impfung entzogen waren 1969 Impfpflichtige.—Bei der jüngsten Volkszählung hatte Rosenheim 14,216 Einwohner, gegen 12,196 im Jahre 1895; Lindau 5862 Einwohner, gegen 5629; Weiden 9950, gegen 6969; Mühldorf 3510 Einwohner, gegen 3357 im Jahre 1895.—Professor Dr. Bernhard Lierheimer, eine den älteren Bewohnern Münchens wohlbekannte Persönlichkeit, ist als Benediktiner von Muri Gries im Alter von 74 Jahren gestorben. Vor seinem Eintritt in's Kloster war Lierheimer Hofprediger bei St. Michael in München.

Altomünster. In der Nähe der Stadt hat ein wegen mehrfacher Einbrüche verfolgter Mann, Namens Kneißl, den Gendarmerie-Kommandanten erschossen und einen zweiten Gendarmen schwer verletzt. Zwei Tage vorher verletzte er durch einen Schuß einen ihn verfolgenden Dienstknecht.

Ansbach. Das hiesige Bezirksamt hat folgende distriktspolizeiliche Vorschrift erlassen: „Die Abhaltung von sogenannten ‚Leichenschmausen,' sei es im Sterbehause oder in anderen Privathäusern oder in Gastwirthschaften, ist verboten, wenn die Person, deren Ableben hierzu Anlaß gibt, zur Zeit desselben an Diphtherie, Masern, Scharlach, Dysenterie (eigentliche Ruhr), Unterleibstyphus, Kindbettfieber, Lungenschwindsucht, Genicktrampf oder Blattern erkrankt war."

Aschaffenburg. Der berüchtigte, lange vergeblich gesuchte Einbrecher Prüssel, welcher im September aus dem Zuchthause Untermaßfeld, Sachsen-Meiningen, entsprungen war, wurde hier verhaftet.

Augsburg. Dahier ist im Alter von 53 Jahren Freiherr Ludwig v. Hungen gestorben, der früher in Pittsburg, Pa., lebte.

Dachau. In der Pappendeckelfabrik Augustenfeld gerieth ein 20jähriger Arbeiter Namens Schneller in die Maschine. Es wurde dem Unglücklichen der Brustkorb eingedrückt und so sein sofortiger Tod herbeigeführt.

Ebern. In Rentweinsdorf wurde der Haltestellen Ullrich beim Rangiren von einem Güterzug todtgefahren.

Laufen. Die Arbeiten bei der Moorversuchskultur nächst Bernau durch Sträflinge aus der Gefangenenanstalt Laufen sind für den Winter eingestellt. Der Versuch ergab ein günstiges Resultat, weshalb im nächsten Frühjahr die Arbeiten wieder aufgenommen werden.

Naila. Der vormalige Stadtschreiber Pfann, 24 Jahre alt, hatte in den Jahren 1899 und 1900 Gelder im Betrage von 1499 Mark, die er vereinnahmt hatte, veruntreut. Er wurde neulich zu einem Jahr einem Monat Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Würzburg. Der Juwelier Riesing in Schweinfurt, früher in Würzburg, vermachte der Stadt Würzburg 50,000 Mark für Wohlthätigkeitszwecke.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Speyer. Während der Putzstunde schoß sich der Rekrut im 2. Pionierbataillon, Diehl, aus Ludwigshafen gebürtig, eine Revolverkugel in die Schläfe. Der Verwundete wurde in's Lazareth gebracht, wo er verschied. Gründe für die That waren nicht bekannt.—Bei Petersbächel erschoß im Streit der Tagner Bauer von Gebüg den Arbeiter Nagh und schoß sich dann selbst eine Kugel in den Kopf. Er war tödtlich verletzt.

Kaiserslautern. Der Geschäftsagent Peter Schick hatte etwa 12,000 Mark unterschlagen und die Flucht ergriffen. In einem Gasthause in Ludwigshafen beging er dann Selbstmord durch Erschießen.

Zweibrücken. In der sogenannten Franzosenklamm, etwa 15 Schritte von der Chaussee, wurde die Leiche des Stadtbaumeisters Scheyer gefunden. Er hatte sich einen Schuß in die Stirn beigebracht. Scheyer litt an Trübsinn.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Der König und die Königin von Württemberg haben dem schwäbischen Lyriker Christian Wagner eine Jahrespension von 400 Mark ausgesetzt.—Die Gesellschaft zur Förderung der Luftschifffahrt, „Zeppelinballon," hat sich durch Beschluß der Generalversammlung aufgelöst und ist in Liquidation getreten.—Bei der jüngsten Landtagswahl wurde hier ein Stimmzettel abgegeben, der neben dem Namen des Kandidaten die Bemerkung trug: „Jesaias 41, 24." Der Zettel wurde beanstandet, denn die betreffende Bibelstelle lautet: „Siehe, Ihr seid aus nichts und Euer Thun ist auch aus nichts und Euch wählen ist ein Greuel."

Beuren. Der 40jährige Bauer Doster wurde von dem 19 Jahre alten Fabrikarbeiter Nithing, dem Doster 3 Mark geliehen hatte, erschlagen. Nithing war von Doster einige Male um Rückzahlung des Darlehens angegangen worden. Der Thäter wurde verhaftet.

Möckmühl. Kürzlich wurde die Jagstthalbahn Möckmühl-Dörzbach dem Betriebe übergeben.

For years I have suffered with what I supposed to be dyspepsia and what has always been called so by physicians who have treated me. It is peculiar, inasmuch as it comes on periodically every year about October and lasts for two or three months in spite of all the medicines I take and then goes away, apparently having worn itself out. The symptoms are a sense of distress and heaviness in the chest amounting to agony at times, and while not exactly a pain, is more distressing even than pain, as all the time I suffer so my spirits become depressed and my appetite is poor or capricious, and even when I feel like eating the dread of the agony it will cause keeps me from it. During the spells I usually suffer also from constipation and flatulence. This year the attack came on earlier than usual about the middle of July, and feeling that I could not stand the combination of heat and dyspepsia I looked around for something that might relieve me. A copy of a pamphlet about Ripans Tabules happened to be brought to my notice, I thought I would try them, and after taking two-second boxes I find my trouble is much relieved, and while I still suffer somewhat at times the distress is neither so constant nor so acute, and I have no doubt that in a few days I shall have entirely recovered. I find the Ripans Tabules more agreeable to take than any liquid and can heartily recommend them to any who suffer from any form of indigestion or dyspepsia. I am twenty-nine years of age and have been troubled with the symptoms above described for at least six years at intervals. I am a stenographer and typewriter by profession, and my trouble is doubtless aggravated by the sedentary life I am compelled to lead.

USES OF CLOTH.

Wraps, Wrap Linings and Elegant Costumes.

Wrap linings of lace or open embroidery are applied over silk of the same color as the cloth composing the wrap or else of a very delicate tint differing from it.

Cloth is extensively fashionable in pale tones as well as deeper ones, and very elegant costumes are made of it—white, ivory, pearl, gray and ecru, lavender and whity pink, with all the dainty pastel shades. In simple, clinging forms, with a decoration of incrusted guipure or silk embroidery, no gowns could be more charming. Heavy silk embroidery appears also on rich evening wraps of cloth, an example being of ivory cloth embroidered with immense peonies in delicate shades of the natural colors, the embroidery being in high relief.
